Expansion of the County Jail could be coming soon

By FRED SWIFT
 A growing county population and changes in state criminal sentencing guidelines mean an expansion of the Hamilton County Jail soon. On Monday County Commissioners heard recommendations for additional jail space from the RQAW engineering firm. The firm, engaged by the county, specializes in jail design.
 Room to house an additional 120 inmates was recommended in addition to a complete rebuilding of the jail kitchen, laundry and dining facilities. Estimated cost is $11.9 million. The county is in the fortunate position of having the money in hand although specific financing plans have not been finalized.

 The addition of what is called a new "pod" at the 20 year old jail will begin this year if the County Council gives its approval by appropriating the funds. A pod is a group of cells into which the jail is divided. The new construction can be built on existing land without invading ground currently leased to the Noblesville Senior Citizens Organization.
 Senior citizens have expressed concern that they may lose their building immediately north of the jail property because of various needs the county may have for the ground. But, this expansion will not create that problem, commissioners said.

Current jail capacity is just short of 300. There are times when capacity is reached and officials say the time is rapidly approaching when the need will exceed capacity. The increase in the number of inmates is brought about partially because of a recent state mandate that requires counties to house convicts with no more than one year to serve behind bars. With a sentence of a year or more a person is sent to a state Department of Corrections facility.
 The county's huge increase in population is also a contributing factor to the jail expansion need. Only 37 years ago jail needs were met with the century old building on the Courthouse Square, now the county museum, which had a capacity of 24. In 1978 a new jail was built on Cumberland Road which met needs for only about 20 years until the present facility was opened.

Sheridan to discuss utility sale

The Sheridan Town Council will conduct a special meeting on Monday, June 27 at 6 p.m. to discuss the potential sale of the town's water and waste water utility.
 Currently the utilities serve as a major revenue source for the town.
 The meeting will be conducted at the Sheridan Community Center and the public is invited to attend.

Volunteers needed for SERVE Noblesville next week

SERVE Noblesville, the local community service initiative featuring more than 50 projects, kicks off June 22nd and runs through June 25th. Over 1,100 volunteers are needed over four days in order to accomplish the aggressive load of projects they have acquired for this year.
 "There are so many different projects, for so many different interests," noted Patrick Propst, one of SERVE Noblesville's Planning Partners. "We have high school sports teams volunteering. There are families, neighbors, co-workers all volunteering together. We doing projects at the Humane Society, the Boys & Girls Club, the County Fairgrounds just to name a few. There's something for everyone...literally!"
 The 2016 event features opportunities for community engagement through every age range and skill level. You can donate a few hours, serve a day, or help with projects on a daily basis.
 In addition to service projects, SERVE Noblesville is inviting the community to come out to the cook-out that will be held on the Downtown Square Friday, June 24th from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The cook-out is free of charge and all are welcome. "We'll cook hamburgers and hot dogs until we run out!" Propst said.
 To register as a volunteer and view the schedule of available projects, visit servenoblesville.com.

Indiana Republican Party convention

By GAREN BRAGG

This past weekend was the Indiana Republican Party's convention in Indianapolis. The official function of a party convention is to gather the delegates elected during the primaries, have them vote on the party platform and nominate certain individuals for statewide office. The goal of any political convention is to build unity. This convention was no exception, we moved into the convention with four Attorney General candidates and two candidates for Superintendent. Leaving the convention, we had one candidate for each office with a united party behind them to move into the election, organize and persuade voters and wage the public relations battle.

There was a lot of talk in some media outlets about moves to change the platform position that marriage is between a man and a woman, but such moves had little support among the delegates, ran out of steam and did not make it to a general vote. As expected a very small handful of delegates on the floor voted no, but the platform was affirmed with overwhelming support.

To new 9,000 square foot corporate headquarters...

Determine, Inc. relocating to Carmel

Determine, Inc. a leading global provider of SaaS Source to Pay and Enterprise Contract Lifecycle Management (ECLM) solutions, offered through the Determine Cloud Platform, which includes strategic sourcing, supplier management, contract management, and procure-to-pay applications, announced plans today to relocate their headquarters to Carmel.

The new 9,000 square foot corporate headquarters is located at 615 West Carmel Drive in Carmel. With the renovations now complete, the office will begin to officially serve as Determine Inc.'s global headquarters this month. Growing from the company's Indiana satellite office in Carmel, Determine's new headquarters will provide a home base for the company's worldwide business, which today also includes offices in California, Georgia, France and the United Kingdom.

The company's recognized, visionary technologies allow their customers to effectively manage the full scope of Source-to-Pay and enterprise contract lifecycle management using the Determine Cloud Platform. Its Source-to-Pay software suite gives procurement, finance, and legal professionals the ability to deliver profound insights through analysis of their supplier relationships and contractual data. Determine's 300+ leading global enterprise customers, including well known industry leaders such as; AOL, Cushman & Wakefield, Endo Pharmaceuticals, Nordstrom, and Sony Music Entertainment leverage the Determine Cloud Platform to discover previously unseen supplier and spend data; make more informed and smarter business decisions; drive new revenue; control costs; improve workflow efficiencies; and mitigate risk.

"We are thrilled to formally announce this move of our corporate headquarters to Carmel," said Patrick Stakenas, President and CEO, Determine. "It was a big decision to leave Silicon Valley, but we believe that Carmel offers us a centralized strategic location for both staffing and maintaining connectivity to our global offices and customers. Locating in Carmel offers us an extremely solid business environment and a quality of life that will allow us to attract and retain talented employees, due to these key points, the bulk of our future US based growth will be in Indiana."

"Indiana's tech sector is thriving, and today I am proud to mark yet another milestone as we welcome Determine's global headquarters to the Hoosier state," said Governor Pence. "In Indiana, we maintain a balanced budget and have cut costs and taxes, creating a fiscally predictable environment that allows entrepreneurs and job creators to invest in what matters most – their business and their employees. With a strong community of innovators, top universities training tomorrow's leaders and a business climate designed for job creation, I am confident that Indiana will be a key partner in supporting Determine's growth worldwide."

"Carmel is always pleased when a company decides to establish its headquarters here. But it's even more gratifying when a company as prestigious as Determine, which was already in a great location near San Francisco, recognizes the benefits of moving its headquarters to Indiana, specifically Carmel. We welcome Determine into our family of more than 100 corporate headquarters and we look forward to watching you expand in the future," said Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard.

After annual inspection...

Sheridan Schools buses receive 100 percent passing rate

On Friday, June 10, Sheridan Community Schools had its annual bus inspection and is proud to announce it received a 100 percent passing rate.

The Indiana State Police Commercial Vehicle Division inspects all buses, including white activity buses in the state of Indiana at least once a year. This inspection includes all aspects of the bus, including cleanliness of the interior/exterior, checking for holes in seats, and making sure the bus is mechanically safe for transporting students. During inspection, a bus can pass with a 100 percent rating, be ordered repaired, which means a small problem has been found but will not adversely affect the safety of the students and allows the bus to run on a 30 day temporary inspection sticker, or be placed totally out of service, which means no students can be transported until the problems are fixed and the bus is re-inspected.

All the SCS buses passed with 100 percent approval on first inspection.

SCS spends the entire year working to ensure their fleet is up to standard at all times. Mr. Eric Gifford, Director of Transportation noted, "We operate 20 buses on a daily basis, have 2 spare buses, and 3 activity buses in our fleet. As well, we transport approximately 850 students each day in Pre-K through 12th grade." Throughout the state inspection process very few schools receive 100 percent ratings during inspection, especially on first run through. "Families in Sheridan rely on us to bring their children to and from school each day safely. Making sure each bus is in good working order insures that our drivers can do that in a safe manner. Safety of the students is my number one priority," Mr. Gifford stated.

CONVENTION

The nomination of the Lieutenant Governor was more of a formality than anything else, since the current Lieutenant Governor Eric Holcomb was the only candidate. His speech focused on how poorly Indiana performed while John Gregg was house speaker versus how well Indiana is doing now under Republican leadership. Holcomb received a standing ovation from the delegates.

The Superintendent race has been dominated by Jennifer McCormick since she announced in January. Dawn Wooten, McCormick's sole opponent, gave a passionate speech full of applause lines that had the delegates cheering for her conservative positions, but it wasn't enough to sway their votes. McCormick won the nomination on the first ballot as was expected.

The truly contentious portion of the convention was the race for the Attorney General nomination. State Senator Randy Head, former Attorney General Steve Carter, Assistant Attorney General Abby Kuzma and Elkhart County Prosecutor Curtis Hill all were contenders. The rules of the convention are that a candidate must win support from a majority of the delegates to be named the nominee. If no candidate wins a majority the candidate with the fewest votes is eliminated from contention and the delegates vote again. This process is repeated until there is a clear winner. When Randy Head was removed from contention after the second ballot, he endorsed Curtis Hill vaulting Hill to an easy win over Steve Carter on the third ballot.

The Democrats hold their convention this coming weekend and the state is moving into full general election mode. This year the rhetoric will be contentious, colorful and sometimes a little heated. Democrats are going to try to shift the conversation away from Indiana's economic growth and towards wages and social issues. On the Republican side the nomination of Curtis Hill will bring energy and enthusiasm to the ticket to help bring in some undecided voters. Eric Holcomb's role as attack dog will remind Hoosiers how much better off Indiana is under Republican leadership now over Democratic leadership in the past, now personified by John Gregg. All of the current polling suggests that it will be a close election, but Indiana Republicans have positioned themselves well and will continue to make gains as we move towards November.

Road work continues on
Range Line Road this week

The reconstruction of approximately 1,800 feet of new storm sewer in the vicinity of Range Line Road and 5th Street SE continues and will cause some travel delays in the area through the end of the week. Range Line Road will remain open, but limited to one lane in each direction. Resurfacing along Range Line Road should take place later in the week. There will be limited access with short term closures of the side streets in the area when piping is being placed.
Specifically, Carmel View Drive, 4th Street SE, 5th Street SE, 1st Avenue SE and Range Line Road will have limited access at times throughout the project. This will cause delays in the area, so alternative routes are recommended.
There are many components to this storm water project and the completion of the project may be delayed due to weather conditions. The project includes: inlets, drive culverts, ditch grading, culvert cleaning, paved side ditch, street patching, asphalt, concrete, and gravel drive approach replacement, removal and replacement of existing curb, sidewalk, and curb ramps, removal of existing pipe and storm structures, and existing pipe capping and filling.
The suggested detour for traffic heading north on Range Line Road is west on City Center Drive to 3rd Avenue SW, north on 3rd Avenue SW to Main Street and then east on Main returning to Range Line Road. For traffic heading south on Range Line Road, the suggested detour is west on Main to 4th Avenue SW, south on 4th Avenue SW to City Center Drive, east on City Center returning to Range Line Road.
Thank you for your patience during this improvement project and please be mindful of our workers in the area and use slow speeds and caution in the work zones.

STANLEY Security begins work on headquarters in Fishers

With the turn of a shovel, STANLEY Security, joined by City of Fishers’ officials, Ambrose Property Group and project partners, celebrated the groundbreaking of their new, state-of-the-art headquarters in Fishers Monday.

“This is a very exciting day for our organization,” said Jim Cannon, President of STANLEY Security North America. “With the latest technologies integrated into the development of our new headquarters, the building will be the physical embodiment of STANLEY Security’s culture of innovation.”

STANLEY Security and Fishers Mayor Scott Fadness announced the project in February at the 2016 State of the City address. The new North American headquarters will be a $15.9 million investment with 80,000 square feet and three-stories. The new location will allow STANLEY Security’s leadership team and employees to move forward under one roof.

“We are looking forward to providing revolutionary technology and unmatched customer service to commercial, institutional and industrial businesses with our employees together in one location,” said Cannon.

Located in the Fishers Point Business Park, the new building is located in the corporate corridor along I-69 on Sunlight Drive. The 106th Street interchange on I-69, currently under construction, offers easy access to the new facility and is expected to be complete in the spring of 2017.

“I’m honored to be here today to celebrate STANLEY Security and welcome all of their employees to our community,” said Mayor Fadness. “As a leader in their industry and a continuous innovator,

Ambrose Property Group is the developer and owner of the new building and have partnered with Shiel Sexton on the project construction. With construction now underway, the building is expected to be complete in early 2017.

Free auto dealer tax seminar set for Tuesday

The Indiana Department of Revenue, in partnership with the Secretary of State, is conducting a free tax seminar for automobile dealers on Tuesday, June 21 in Indianapolis.

Operating a business can be a challenge, and automobile dealerships are no exception. These businesses, especially those handling cross-border sales, may encounter complicated tax situations.

An Indiana Department of Revenue representative will explain tax requirements and provide examples relating to cross border sales.

A Secretary of State representative will discuss new laws, title delivery requirements and how to avoid common mistakes. Attendees also will have an opportunity to have questions answered by these experienced representatives.

The event will be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, June 21 at the Indiana Government Center South, conference room 19, 302 W. Washington Street, Indianapolis.

Boys golf state finals...

Westfield leads, HSE 2nd, McAree goes 7 under

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

It was a long, long day on the Prairie for the state's best high school golfers Tuesday, as rain wreaked havoc on the first day of the IHSAA boys golf state finals.

But it would be worth it for the two Hamilton County teams that are playing at Prairie View Golf Course in Carmel.

Westfield put itself in excellent position to defend its state championship, surging ahead to the lead after shooting a three-under par 285 in its first round. Hamilton Southeastern is currently in second place with a three-over par 291, with Cedric McAree turning the course on its head with a spectacular and record-setting round of golf.

McAree lit Prairie View on fire with a round of 65, which ties a course record. That's seven under par - yes, SEVEN under par. McAree made seven birdies on the day, and had no bogeys.

"I struck it beautifully, didn't make a lot of mistakes," said McAree. "I kept the ball in good spots all day. It was probably one of the best rounds of my life, but I don't want to think about that. I just want to think about our team and I don't want to celebrate today. I want to celebrate tomorrow."

Jacob Hutmacher finished his first round with a 74, while Drew Alexander and Will Kirchmer both carded 76s. Southeastern coach David Young credited his team with managing the course well, and also with doing a good job of handling the adverse weather conditions.

"We picked up right where we left off," said Young. "We didn't have any lag time after those two rain delays, especially the first one, over four-and-a-half hours."

The nasty weather threatened to overshadow the first day of state. After that long morning delay, everyone got back on the course around 3 p.m. Things seemed to be going fine, but then a lightning delay halted play about an hour later.

Finally, play resumed for good around 4:45 p.m. The first round got over in twilight at 9:35 p.m., which might be the latest finish for an IHSAA state golf round. That's a bit of history no one wants to ever repeat.

The Shamrocks, of course, are looking to repeat as state champions. Westfield was led by Thomas Lewis, who fired a four-under par 68. Johnny Deck was also in the red with a one-under par 71, and Andrew Lewis played to an even 72. Noah Shanteau scored 74.

"We're happy with getting three-under par today," said 'Rocks coach Jon Hoover. "Today's a position day, getting ready for Round 2. Hopefully we've got a little bit of a cushion built up, because anything can happen in this game."

Two individual players were at state as well. Noblesville's Parker Deakyne shook off a slow start to shoot a 77 in his first round. Deakyne birdied his final hole of the day.

Westfield's Thomas Lewis gives an update on his score during the first round of the IHSAA boys golf state finals Tuesday at Prairie View.

"The front nine, I just couldn't get anything going," said Deakyne. "On the back nine, we just got another short rain delay, and at that point, I just said 'I need to turn it around,' and I kind of did."

Carmel's Kevin Stone carded an 83 for his first round of state.

The second round of state begins at 8 a.m. today. Deakyne will tee off right at 8 a.m. on Hole No. 1, with Stone starting on Hole No. 10, also at 8 a.m. Southeastern and Westfield will play together, with the players teeing off between 9:21 and 9:57 a.m.

Team scores: Westfield 285, Hamilton Southeastern 291, Bishop Dwenger 296, Center Grove 296, Zionsville 303, Columbia City 305, Bloomington South 308, Harrison 309, Evansville North 310, Homestead 314, Bedford North Lawrence 318, Bishop Chatard 327, Vincennes Lincoln 332, Evansville Memorial 335, Yorktown 337.

Individual leader: Cedric McAree (HSE) 65, ties course record.

Westfield scores: Thomas Lewis 68, Johnny Deck 71, Andrew Lewis 72, Noah Shanteau 74, Josh Kehl 79.

Other Southeastern scores: Jacob Hutmacher 74, Drew Alexander 76, Will Kirchmer 76, Nick Kuster 80.

Noblesville score: Parker Deakyne 77.

Carmel score: Kevin Stone 83.

Carmel’s Rhett Wintner was a powerhouse at the plate for the Greyhounds, helping them end a 16-year sectional drought. Wintner is this year’s choice for the Hamilton County Reporter’s Baseball Player of the Year.

Wintner had the most hits of anyone in the county, collecting 41 hits. That number translates into a .461 batting average. The junior also led the county in runs batted in with 33, and in triples with five. He also scored 25 runs, collected 11 doubles and hit three home runs.
