Brainard for Congress?

Susan Brooks files for governor in wake of Pence selection for VP

By FRED SWIFT

Susan Brooks, two-term member of Congress and Hamilton County resident, announced yesterday that she will seek the Republican nomination for governor. In a companion development Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard is rumored to be interested in taking Brooks' Congressional seat.

In a day of dramatic political news, Hamilton County figures greatly in a potential political 'domino effect' following Gov. Mike Pence's selection as Donald Trump's vice presidential running mate. Pence gave up his bid for re-election as governor which brings about the need for a new GOP candidate for the state's highest office.

Rep. Brooks stepped forward Friday afternoon and withdrew her candidacy for re-election to Congress. This in turn leaves open the 5th District Congressional seat which reportedly Brainard may seek. And, to complete the unusual situation, a Brainard candidacy would leave open the position of mayor of Carmel.

To start the domino effect the Republican State Committee would have to choose Brooks to be the party's candidate for governor. The 22-member committee will meet July 26 to choose either Brooks, Lt. Gov. Eric Holcomb or Todd Rokita, Congressman from the 6th District, all of whom have withdrawn from their current candidacies and want to be considered for the nomination for governor.

If Brooks is chosen over Rokita and Holcomb, the precinct committeemen throughout the 5th District would choose a new candidate for this fall's election. Apparently, the two who are not chosen for governor could be named back onto the ticket for the offices from which they withdrew.

Brooks, a former U.S. District Attorney and Carmel resident, is considered by many to be a strong potential candidate. She would be Indiana's first female governor and probably draw support from other female voters. She has also maintained a reasonably moderate conservative image during her time in Congress. A native of Fort Wayne, she and her husband, David, are parents of two children.

Speculation about Brainard wanting to take Brooks' congressional seat has not been confirmed, and if interested, he would likely not have to make any decision until Brooks either gets the nod for governor or, if unsuccessful, chooses not to get back on the ballot for Congress.

If the domino effect does develop, the county Republican precinct organization is going to be busy and committeemen will become important people in the process of choosing a new candidate for Congress, perhaps a new Carmel mayor, and possibly even a new city councilor if a member of the city council was chosen for mayor.

Eventful week will impact election and beyond

By GAREN BRAGG

This has been an eventful week in Indiana politics to be sure. The Democrat's Senate candidate Baron Hill dropped out to make room for Evan Bayh to run for another Senate term, and of course Mike Pence is no longer running for governor, but for Vice President – meaning that the Republicans must nominate a new candidate. Both of these decisions will have broad implications for both this election and the political landscape beyond. Let's take a look at some of the consequences.

First off it promises that the U.S. Senate race will be very competitive. Evan Bayh, although perceived as popular has spent his time since he left the Senate as a lobbyist in Washington, leaving the Republican candidate Todd Young with plenty of ammunition in a state that already leans Republican. Still, Bayh has wide name recognition and is threatening to not only win an election in Indiana but shift control in the Senate over to the Democrats. This makes the stakes especially high for Todd Young and his team, something that they are taking very seriously. For those that enjoy watching politics as the competitive sport it is, this is the race to watch.

For members through Allpoint Network...

Indiana Members Credit Union adds 55,000 surcharge-free ATMs

Indiana Members Credit Union (IMCU), Central Indiana’s largest credit union, announced today that it has joined the Allpoint Network, granting members access to an additional 55,000 surcharge-free ATMs worldwide.

Including the existing Alliance One Network, IMCU now offers over 60,000 surcharge-free ATMs worldwide to members giving better access to their cash in places they’re already visiting. Allpoint ATMs can be found in destination retail outlets including major discount retailers, convenience, grocery and pharmacy stores. Participating ATMs will have the Allpoint logo displayed prominently on the ATM. Members can search for surcharge-free ATMs within the Allpoint Network by using the Allpoint ATM locator on IMCU’s website under “Locations & Hours”.

Ron Collier, IMCU President and CEO stated, “Adding this network will provide better access for members by dramatically increasing our surcharge-free ATMs, and will result in savings for members.” Prior to being included in IMCU’s network, using the Allpoint ATMs would have cost members $5 per use. Now, there is no fee.

Motorists encouraged to take alternate route...

Chip and seal operation begins Monday on State Road 38

The Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) will have lane closures on State Road 38 beginning on or after Monday, July 18, weather permitting. S.R.38 will be chip and sealed from Kirklin to Sheridan. Motorists are encouraged to seek an alternate route.

Depending on weather conditions, crews will be on site from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Work is expected to last through Wednesday, July 27.

INDOT crews will be applying a chip-seal treatment to preserve and protect just over eight miles of S.R. 38. Loose stone will be on the highway temporarily during the initial cure of the asphalt. Motorists are encouraged to seek an alternate route. Drivers are urged to slow down and allow additional space between vehicles to prevent stone chips from damaging windshields or paint on auto bodies.

Once the chip seal has cured, crews will sweep the highway to clear away loose stone and apply a light application of dark asphalt material to lock in remaining stone and minimize dust.

About Chip-Seal Projects

After years of heavy traffic and winter freeze-thaw cycles, small cracks develop in our highways. If left untreated, moisture seeps into these cracks and form potholes when the water freezes and expands. As the name implies, a chip-seal treatment seals off the cracks. The stone chips provide improved traction for stopping, especially during winter.

During 2015, INDOT employees used more than 86,000 tons of crushed stone and 17,000 tons of liquid asphalt - a total of $12.7 million in operational resources - to apply the seal-coat to more than 1,200 lane miles of state roads. INDOT estimates that using in-house crews instead of contracting the work saved taxpayers nearly $8 million. National research has shown that every $1 used to preserve our pavements saves $6 to $14 in future, more disruptive repairs.

On the Governor’s race, John Gregg, the Democrat’s candidate has run his campaign almost entirely on attacking Pence. Now that Pence is out he will have to write a brand new playbook as we move closer to November. His team is hoping that the addition of Evan Bayh will boost his numbers. They certainly can’t count too much on that as Hoosiers have demonstrated that they are very willing to vote for candidates from either party, reelecting Mitch Daniels by over 57 percent the same year our state voted for Barack Obama. Moving forward, Gregg will have to adapt his campaign and fast if he’s going to have a shot at winning.

The process for the Republicans to nominate a new governor to fill the vacancy is mostly straightforward. A committee of 22 party leaders will vote within the next 30 days on who the new nominee will be. The candidates that have filed are Rep. Todd Rokita (IN-4), Rep. Susan Brooks (IN-5) and Lt. Governor Eric Holcomb. This in turn has local politicians scrambling as they ponder their own congressional runs for potentially open seats in the 4th and 5th districts.

All three Republican candidates for governor are likely to easily triumph over John Gregg, meaning that the decision of 22 party leaders will almost certainly dictate the next 4 and possibly 8 years of Indiana’s future. The party leaders who will vote are: Jeff Cardwell – State Committee Chairman, Misty Dees Hollis – State Committee Vice-Chairman, Barb McClellan – State Committee Secretary, Dan Dumezich – State Committee Treasurer, Chuck Williams – District 1 Chair, Rebecca Holwerda – District 1 Vice-Chair, Dan Fleming – District 2 Chair, Nick Barbknecht – District 2 Vice-Chair, Barbara Krisher – District 3 Chair, Bill Davis – District 3 Vice-Chair, Craig Dunn – District 4 Chair, Barbara Knochel – District 4 Vice-Chair, Kyle Hupfer – District 5 Chair, Judy Buck – District 5 Vice-Chair, Mark Wynn – District 6 Chair, Ginger Bradford – District 6 Vice-Chair, Jennifer Ping – District 7 Chair, Mike McQuillen – District 7 Vice-Chair, C. Richard Martin – District 8 Chair, Brenda Goff – District 8 Vice-Chair, Jamey Noel – District 9 Chair, Beth Boyce – District 9 Vice-Chair.

So just who will be on the ballot? At this point, your guess is as good as mine.

For “High School Runner (Freshman)”...
Bill Kenley finalist for Emerging Author Award

Noblesville's Bill Kenley is one of three finalists for the Emerging Author Award of the 2016 Eugene & Marilyn Glick Indiana Authors Award.

Kenley is a high school English teacher at Noblesville High School, and the author of “High School Runner (Freshman)”. Three times voted by students of his high school as the school's most inspiring and influential teacher, he writes primarily for a young adult audience. A graduate of Miami University with a Master's in English Education from Ohio State, Kenley is also an avid runner with multiple Boston Marathons and a fifty-mile trail run under his belt.

This annual award program recognizes Indiana authors’ contributions to the literary landscape in Indiana and across the nation. The Eugene & Marilyn Glick Indiana Authors Award is a program of The Indianapolis Public Library Foundation and is funded through the generosity of The Glick Fund, a fund of Central Indiana Community Foundation.

Award nominations were submitted from across the state in early spring. Any published writer who was born in Indiana or has lived in Indiana for at least five years was eligible. A nine-member, state-wide Award Panel selected the winners and finalists from a pool of publicly nominated authors that increases each year.

Logan Street Sanctuary hosting NICE Creativity Workshop July 23-24

Logan Street Sanctuary is inviting everyone to its NICE Creativity Workshop! It's just a week and a half until we gather at Logan Street Sanctuary to brainstorm about great works of literature, and we want YOUR creative ideas!

NICE stands for Noblesville Interdisciplinary Creativity Expo. It is a signature event at Logan Street Sanctuary, but participants need not live in Noblesville to contribute their art. We are delighted when people from out of town are involved, as long as they or someone they delegate can be present at our main event to show off their art.

The event centers around four quotes from classic pieces of literature; and the organizers want to hear voices from a range of authors. The works this year are Macbeth, Rebecca, Alice in Wonderland, and Wynema: Child of the Forest. Wynema is not as well-known but it's the first novel written by a women of Native American descent (in the late 1800s). For the annual NICE event, artists of ANY medium (music, painting, cake decorating, textiles, poets, writers, dancers, ANY medium) create works of art inspired by these quotes, or the works as a whole. The idea is to use the quote(s) as an entry point to explore great works of literature through art.

The NICE main presentation will be in the Fall, Sept 30-Oct 1. This is when artists present or display their finished works. The workshop on July 23-24 is so artists can begin to prepare their works. It is a 2-day workshop (4 hours Saturday, 3 hours Sunday), but it is not required anyone attend both days.

Day 1 will focus on the quotes by themselves. Day 2 will focus on the quotes in context of the work as a whole.

Download and mail in the registration form (payment can be made by check or via the secure Square Market). Workshop attendance is $15 per person, or $10 each if registered as a group of four or more.

A ribbon cutting ceremony is being held Friday, July 22 at 6 p.m. at the Grand Park Events Center to celebrate its grand opening.

Westfield Mayor Andy Cook will give remarks and lead the ribbon cutting along with other state and local dignitaries. Sandra Wood, the former owner of the farmland that Grand Park’s campus now sits on, will sing the national anthem.

During WWII, the T-6 airplane was known as the “pilot maker” for its role in preparing Allied pilots for combat. The “Checkertail Clan” represents the veterans of WWII, specifically the 325th Fighter Group known by the same name. The T-6 airplanes are being flown by crewmembers from Warbird Training Center in Kokomo. Click here to view a video of one of the T-6 airplanes participating in the fly-over.

Immediately following the ribbon cutting ceremony, the Indiana Fire Juniors Boys & Girls U13 soccer teams will christen the Grand Park Events Center by playing the first games on the center field Friday night.

The ribbon cutting is just one of the events taking place during the Opening Celebration of the Grand Park Events Center, the 370,000 square-foot indoor field sports and events facility. The special three-day celebration is being held Thursday, July 21 through Saturday, July 23. The activities will include an indoor festival at the Grand Park Events Center featuring food, carnival games, inflatables, movie nights, vendors and preview tours.

“We’re excited to invite the community to celebrate the opening of this new indoor facility,” said Westfield Mayor Andy Cook. “This festival will help showcase the variety of uses that the Grand Park Events Center is capable of hosting.”

Inflate-A-Fest, which features interactive inflatables and bounce houses, will take place from noon to 7 p.m. on Thursday and Friday; and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. Individual tickets for the interactive inflatables and games can be purchased for $1 each. An “all-you-can-jump” wristband will also be available for $10 per person.

Movies on the Turf, double-feature, family-friendly movie nights, will take place Thursday and Friday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. and 9 to 11 p.m. on the east indoor field. "Wreck It Ralph" (PG) and "The Sandlot" (PG) will be shown Thursday, while "Tangled" (PG) and "Kicking & Screaming" (PG) will be screened Friday night. Tickets for each night will be available at the door for $5 per person.

The third annual A Grand Run 5K Run/Walk will kick off Saturday’s festivities at 7:30 a.m. The start and finish line will be located inside

Riverview Health honored with mission: Fit-Friendly Worksite award

Riverview Health has been recognized as a Platinum-Level Fit-Friendly Worksite by the American Heart Association for helping employees eat better and move more.

"We're honored to be recognized by the American Heart Association as a Platinum-Level Fit-Friendly Worksite because it reflects our dedication to creating healthy workplaces," said Mary Valdez, vice president of operations at Riverview Health Physicians. "As we continue to improve the health and well-being of our community, it's important that we lead by example and make the health of our employees a priority as well."

To achieve this honor, Riverview Health implemented several initiatives that promoted a healthy culture in the workplace, which resulted in overall improved total cholesterol and hemoglobin A1C biometrics from 2009 through 2015. Some of the customized wellness programs provided to employees included the Holiday Hold, Waist Reduction, Reduce Your BMI, Spring into Motion and Cholesterol Education & Awareness. Employees at Riverview Health also have access to an online wellness portal allowing them to view various health and wellness resources. In addition, walking paths around the hospital were established to further encourage physical activity among employees.

The Fit-Friendly Worksites program is a catalyst for positive change in the American workforce by helping companies make their employees' health and well-being a priority. American employers are losing an estimated $225.8 billion a year because of healthcare expenses and health-related losses in productivity, and those numbers are rising. Many American adults spend most of their waking hours at sedentary jobs. Their lack of regular physical activity raises their risk for many medical problems, such as obesity, high blood pressure and diabetes. Employers face $12.7 billion in annual medical expenses due to obesity alone. The American Heart Association is working to change corporate cultures by motivating employees to start walking, which has the lowest dropout rate of any physical activity.

For more information about the Fit-Friendly Worksites program and how it's helping to improve the health of Americans, visit heart.org/worksitewellness.

Indiana Open Championship...

Hildebrand finishes second; Watts, McAree in Top 10

Defending champion Timothy Hildebrand finished second at the Indiana Open Championship, which took place this week at the French Lick Resort.

Hildebrand, a former Westfield High School standout, finished with a four-day score of 276, which put him at four-under par. He was bested only by Brett Melton of Washington, who played a seven-under par final round of 63 to win the tournament. Melton's four-day total was 272, eight-under par.

Hildebrand cut Melton's lead to two after he made an eagle on the 15th hole. But Melton made two birdies on the 16th and 17th holes to get his lead back up to four.

Melton, the director of golf at the Old Vincennes Country Club, received $5,000 for his victory. Hildebrand played as an amateur; he just finished his freshman season at Purdue.

Three other Hamilton County golfers landed in the top 10, including two Hamilton Southeastern graduates.

Johnny Watts, a junior-to-be at Ball State, placed third with a one-under par 279. Watts got in on the eagle action himself, making one on the second hole during his third round. Graham McAree, a junior-to-be at IUPUI, tied for sixth with a 283. McAree had a tremendous final round himself, shooting a six-under par 64 with seven birdies.

Westfield's Andrew Rhodes, who plays out of Wolf Run Golf Course, was also part of the sixth-place tie with a score of 283.
