AT&T brings “It Can Wait”...

Anti-distracted driving campaign to NHS

AT&T research shows that 7-in-10 people engage in smartphone activities while driving. People are doing much more than just texting from behind the wheel. They're checking email, posting to social media, and even snapping selfies.

To drive home this message, AT&T Indiana is bringing its “It Can Wait” distracted driving campaign to Noblesville High School on Monday. The event takes place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the NHS cafeteria.

Through a virtual reality app and goggles, and a wheel-and-pedal simulator, teen drivers will be able to experience firsthand how dangerous it is to take their eyes off the road and glance at a phone.

In addition, students and staff will have the opportunity to make an It Can Wait pledge to keep their eyes on the road.

AT&T recently announced that it has passed the 10 million It Can Wait pledge mark, and now has set a new goal of 16 million total pledges by the end of this year. To help reach that goal, the company has launched the “16 in '16' competition,” which will run from Oct. 1 to Oct. 31, to encourage schools, nonprofits and individuals to get involved and raise awareness of the problem of distracted driving. Noblesville High School is the second high school in Indiana to sign up to participate in next month's pledge contest.

New 2016 research shows pledging matters and makes a difference:

- According to the findings, almost half of people who pledged said they now don't use their smartphones while driving.
- Those who share their promise or pledge with others are even more likely to stop, and more likely to speak up to others.
- 4-in-10 asked a friend or family member to not use their smartphone while driving.
- One-third asked a driver to not use their smartphone while driving when riding as a passenger.
- 4-in-10 asked a passenger to operate their smartphone while they are driving.

AT&T Indiana Director of Government Affairs Steve Rogers will be on hand to demonstrate the It Can Wait app and simulator and to share information regarding the 16 in '16 pledge competition.

fever, headache, neck stiffness, weak muscles and confusion.

West Nile can easily be prevented by avoiding mosquito bites. Tips from the ISDH include not going outdoors "during prime biting times, particularly dusk to dawn." If you are outside, wear bug spray that contains DEET, and put on shirts with long sleeves and pants. Also, minimize the amount of standing water around your home, as that attracts mosquitoes.

50 Years Ago

News: September 26 through October 1 has been established as a period for observance of Indiana's 150th year in Hamilton County. It may appear that Hamilton County is late in celebrating: however, the whole year has been declared the time for Indiana's sesquicentennial celebration and it would hardly be practical or logical for all cities and counties, to celebrate the occasion in one month.

Sports: Head North Central football coach Byron Weaver announced late this morning that four players who earlier were dismissed from the squad for the Noblesville game Friday night will play and will be in the Panthers' starting lineup.

ITT officially ends operations today

After 70 years, ITT Technical Institute will officially end all operations today.

The Carmel-based educational services company has been fraught with problems that have snowballed over the last month, but it appears the final blow came Thursday, when the Indianapolis Business Journal reported that its senior lender, Cerebrus Business Finance LLC of New York, seized ITT's bank accounts.

IBJ reported that Cerebrus was demanding an immediate payment of a loan that totaled around $34.5 million, then also informed ITT that it was taking "control over the company's bank accounts."

A total of 8,000 employees worked for ITT Tech across the country.

ITT Tech had 130 campuses serving over 40,000 students in 38 states. The company granted over $260 million in scholarships in 2014, according to its now defunct website. It was founded in 1946, and moved to Carmel in 1969.

Carmel on Canvas...

Plein Air Event begins today

Watch art created before your very eyes at the third annual Carmel on Canvas plein air event – an open-air painting exhibition and competition on the sidewalks throughout the Carmel Arts & Design District. The event, which is free to spectators, runs Friday to Sunday, September 16-18.

“Paint outs continue to be very popular as a resurgence in the arts is being seen in many communities such as Carmel. We are thrilled to be able to make this event available to the public, especially to families with small children who we hope are inspired to create their own expressions of art as a visitor to this event in our Arts & Design District,” said Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard.

Artists ranging from professionals to amateurs, including a teen division, will be painting at a variety of locations for the plein air event all day Friday and Saturday. The public is invited to come to the district and watch the painters set up their easels and paint their chosen subjects. There will also be two quick paints, one on Saturday at the Carmel Farmers Market (5 Center Green) and one on Sunday on the southwest corner of Main Street and the Monon Trail. Saturday is also the day for children to paint at the KidsZone from 1 – 4 p.m., with two locations in The District, including Magdalena Gallery of Art (27 East Main Street) and Carmel Arts Council’s Children’s Art Gallery (40 West Main Street).

The plein air art works created on Friday and Saturday, along with the quick paint event on Sunday, will be judged by Rachel Berenson Perry, former fine art curator of the Indiana State Museum, and author of numerous art articles and books. The plein air main event judging takes place at 5:30 p.m. Saturday with artists vying for prizes that include a $5,000 grand prize, $3,000 for second place and $1,500 for third.

The quick paint event on Saturday morning at the Carmel Farmers Market will be judged as a community choice, with market visitors deciding which work will take home the $500 first place prize, the $300 second place award and the $200 third place spot. The Sunday quick paint event takes place in the Carmel Arts & Design District, with monetary prizes the same as the Saturday quick paint. Sunday’s event will be followed by an art fair from 2-5 p.m., featuring works created by Carmel on Canvas artists.

Join Mayor Brainard on Saturday at 7 p.m. as he hands out the awards at a special event tent located along Artists Lane (also known as 2nd Avenue NW) between Scotty’s Brewhouse and the Monon Trail. The paintings will also be available for viewing and for sale after the awards are presented.

Artists are able to register beginning at 8:30 a.m. Friday at Hoosier Salon (22 Range Line Road) and Saturday morning at Carmel Farmers Market.

Carmel on Canvas artists also have the opportunity to compete for Purchase Awards by painting the sponsoring business’s establishment and winning the listed monetary prize. Winners will be chosen on Saturday night. Thank you to the following Carmel Arts & Design District businesses for offering Purchase Awards:

Royals win all-county match

Hamilton Southeastern won an all-county and Hoosier Crossroads Conference volleyball match with Westfield Thursday night.

The Class 4A No. 1 Royals got the victory in straight sets, 25-19, 25-22, 25-19, improving their record to 16-2. The Royals were led by both outside hitters: Caitlin Kane put down 18 kills and Meredith Phillips had 14 kills. Makenzie Hinshaw dished out 37 assists.

"The Royal serving game proved to be an extremely effective weapon with both Grace Kane and Anne Klienrichert going on long serving runs," said HSE coach Jason Young.

Westfield was led by Cassidy Ferrer, who made 10 digs and two blocks. Liene Miller put down 10 kilks, while Claire Hindman and Abigial Huser each served one ace. Caroline Sinicki handed out 32 assists.

Southeastern won the junior varsity match 25-21, 25-22.

Raigan Stanifer had 10 digs for Westfield, and Gracie Weber hit five kills.

University lost to Liberty Christian in four sets, 25-11, 28-26, 23-25, 25-9.

Senior Natalie Hellman had 13 kills and senior Annabelle Lance contributed 11 kills. Freshman Gillian Monroe had 24 assists in the effort.

Noblesville dropped a very close five-set match to Zionsville Thursday, by the score of 25-17, 23-25, 19-25, 25-22, 16-14.

Allie Phillips handed out 23 assists and made eight digs, while Maddie Hine dished out 21 assists and got seven digs. Ashley Birkhimer and Alexa Roberts both hit nine kills for the Millers.

Carmel took care of Warren Central in straight sets on Thursday, 27-25, 25-10, 25-11 in Metropolitan Conference play.

Bonnie Bostic hit 11 kills for the Greyhounds, with Morgan Seaman dishing out 23 assists. Alex Hicks had nine digs.

Carmel's junior varsity won 25-9, 25-10, while the freshmen were victorious 25-8, 25-3.

Fishers scored an upset of 4A No. 1 Brownsburg on Thursday in a five-set match, 25-23, 17-25, 25-23, 22-25, 15-12.

Ayslinn Roberts served three aces for the Tigers, with Maggie Markwood hitting two and Julia Drozd and Rose Duffy each serving one.

Audrey Haworth led the offense with 18 kills on .433 hitting. Mallory Hernandez had 16 kills and Markwood hit 15. Duffy handed out a season-high 57 assists.

Meredith Phillips had 14 kills for the Hamilton Southeastern volleyball team in its straight-set win over Westfield Thursday.

"Both teams played smart volleyball and made many adjustments, which made the mental part of players' games crucial," said Fishers coach Steven Peek. "We came through late in sets 1 and 3, and then especially in set 5. Passing was a constant battle for us, but we were fantastic in the 5th set, especially seniors Ellie Adams and Maggie Markwood and junior Julia Drozd."

Ellie Adams had 25 digs, "but none more important than one late in the 5th when she dove to her left and, with an outstretched fist, dug the ball back over the net and into the opponent's court; that dig scored to get us our first match point opportunity," said Peek.

Drozd and Markwood both had 16 digs, with Haworth getting 12 and Duffy 10. Duffy also had four blocks, and Hernandez made three blocks.

Indianapolis-Carmel ranked No. 9 swim city

The Indianapolis-Carmel community is the No. 9 swim city in America according to a third-annual study commissioned by USA Swimming and leading swimwear company Speedo USA. The city moved up 10 spots to place in the top 10 for the second time since the study's debut in 2014. The San Jose-Santa Clara area claimed the No. 1 spot this year.

Rounding out the top 10 of the 50 Top Swim Cities, Presented by Speedo USA, were Ann Arbor, Mich.; Bridgeport-Stamford-Norwalk, Conn.;Austin, Texas; Madison, Wisc.; Washington, D.C.; Raleigh-Cary, N.C.; Fort Collins-Loveland, Colo.; and the San Francisco-Oakland, Calif., Bay Area.

"I believe there is a rich history of swimming in central Indiana; the number of great facilities and coaches make us a successful swimming area," said Chris Plumb, Head Coach of Carmel Swim Club. "Being one of the top swim cities means we are doing a fantastic job of teaching young people how to be successful in and out of the pool."

The Indianapolis-Carmel area has hosted multiple USA Swimming national and international meets including the 2015 Duel in the Pool at the Indiana University Natatorium, the largest indoor pool in the United States. The area also boasts the most USA Swimming clubs for areas with a population under two-million. The popularity of the sport is reflected in local Carmel High School, which has won 30 straight state girls swimming titles.

Indianapolis moved up 10 places from 2015 to take the No. 9 spot this year and numerous other cities made their debut into the top 50. Roanoke, Va., had the biggest jump, moving up 49 spots to No. 45 on the list.
