One act of kindness goes a long way...

Hinkle Creek 4th graders dedicate “Buddy Bench”

Lisa Wescott's 4th grade class at Hinkle Creek Elementary dedicated a playground “Buddy Bench” Tuesday in a ceremony attended by school staff and parents. The Buddy Bench fosters kindness and inclusion among students by providing a place on the playground for kids to sit when they are in need of a buddy.

Westcott's students initiated the project on their own as a learning assignment—researching, presenting, training and securing bench funding in the process. The project is an example of Noblesville Schools' focus on "soft skills" in their academic curriculum, in this case kindness, inclusion and initiative.

Carter Lumber donated the supplies for the bench and construction was lead by Hinkle building supervisor Mark Rozzoni.

During the dedication, students shared some of their favorite kindness quotes and wore shirts provided by Westcott that said "choose kindness".

The bench will serve as a resource for all Hinkle students and adds to Noblesville's growing collection. North, Promise Road and Stony Creek Elementaries also have Buddy Benches.

Making the case for Pleasant Street

By STEVE COOKE
Editor's note: Steve Cooke is the Deputy Mayor of Noblesville.

If you attended the annual State of the City address on September 28, you likely came away with a good idea of the progress Noblesville has achieved in 2016. Admittedly, we haven’t made as much progress as we would have liked on one particular project – one that has been 20 years in the making.

But that’s about to change.

Under the direction of Mayor Ditslear, the City of Noblesville is moving forward with plans to widen and extend Pleasant Street to run from Hague Road all the way to State Road 37 – with a new bridge spanning the White River.

The Pleasant Street bridge was a good idea in 1995 when it first appeared on the City’s Thoroughfare Plan. And after multiple independent studies, community outreach meetings and alternative route analyses, it’s still a good idea in 2016.

Call it what you will: a reliever, a corridor. But please don’t call it a

Indiana Voter Registration Project investigation expands to multiple Indiana counties

The investigation that began in late August of 2016 alleging the filing of fraudulent voter application information has expanded from the original involved counties of Hendricks and Marion to also include the counties of Allen, Delaware, Hamilton, Hancock, Johnson, Lake and Madison.

As part of the expanded investigation, state police detectives obtained a search warrant for the business offices of the Indiana Voter Registration Project, located at 2425 North Meridian Street, Suite A, in downtown Indianapolis. The search warrant was served mid-morning of Tuesday, October 4th. The affidavit and search warrant are sealed for a period of 30 days from the time the warrant was granted, which was October 3, 2016.

An investigation of this nature is complex, time consuming and is expected to continue for several more weeks or months.

Important points related to this ongoing investigation include:

- In accordance with state law, all voter registration applications received by Indiana voter registration offices are processed according to established policies
- A representative sample of voter registration applications received by county voter registration offices suspected of being fraudulent have been COPIED and provided to state police detectives. In all cases the ORIGINAL applications are maintained by the appropriate voter registration office

Cabela’s to be acquired by Bass Pro Shops

Noblesville's newest outdoor superstore is getting a new owner.

Cabela's Incorporated announced earlier this week that it would be acquired by Bass Pro Shops. Cabela's operates 85 shops across the United States and Canada, while Bass Pro Shops has 99 shops, across the same two countries.

Cabela's opened in Noblesville last August to great fanfare and immediate success. However, the companies announced that little will change for customers; a section on the Bass Pro website regarding the acquisition said that Bass Pro intends to "grow and celebrate the Cabela's brand."

The deal is worth around $5.5 billion, or $65.50 per share, and is expected to close sometime in the first half of 2017.

Another tough HCC game...

Millers travel to unbeaten Brownsburg

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
Nothing is ever easy when it comes to football in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference. But, all the HCC teams are used to that.

Noblesville is used to playing a tough schedule every season, and its upcoming game this Friday will be one of the toughest: The Millers will travel to Brownsburg and meet up with an undefeated Bulldogs team.

Brownsburg is 7-0 under the first year tutelage of John Hart, who spent four years at Warren Central from 2008-11. Hart and the Warriors won the Class 5A state title in 2009.

The Bulldogs opened their season with three non-conference wins, over Bloomington South 28-26, Lawrence North 13-8 and Franklin Community 46-30. HCC victories have come over Avon 30-22, Fishers 14-10, Westfield 29-28 in overtime and Zionsville 38-25.

"We have a tremendous challenge ahead of us with Brownsburg this week," said Noblesville coach Jason Simmons. "Coach Hart and his staff have done a great job building this team. They have found ways to win close games and finish."

Simmons called Bulldog quarterback Hunter Johnson as good a signal-caller as there is in the country. The senior is 93-of-187 for the season, throwing for 1309 yards and six touchdowns.

"He makes the hard throws look really easy and is extremely accurate with his ball placement," said Simmons. "The part of his game that doesn't get talked about enough is his ability to run the football."

Johnson is Brownsburg's second-leading rusher with 335 yards. Another senior, Carson Gill, leads that statistic with 615 yards.

Therefore, Simmons said his team needs to stop the run and pressure Johnson to slow down Brownsburg's offense. The coach said Noblesville's "defensive line will have to continue to play well" against the big and talented offensive line of the Bulldogs.

"Josh Garcia and Dalton Davis are playing their best football of the year right now," said Simmons. Harris Camp is leading Noblesville's tackling with 45 takedowns.

Ryan Barnes has been a solid two-way threat for the Millers. He is the leading rusher with 757 yards, an average of 5.9 yards per carry. Chandler Hurst is next in line with 361 yards rushing.

Barnes has completed 74 of 136 passes for 849 yards, including eight touchdowns. Jackson Thurman has been a favorite target of Barnes, with 28 catches, four of them for touchdowns.

"Offensively we need to work to finish drives and score the football," said

Noblesville's Chandler Hurst has rushed for 361 yards this season. The Millers travel to Brownsburg on Friday.

Simmons. "We had two drives last week that were over 5 minutes long. We need to finish those drives and turn them into points. We need to make some strides in the passing game this week and be better on 3rd down extending drives. We have put a lot on Ryan Barnes this season and he has delivered with being our leading rusher and passer. We have to be multiple and spread the football around. Sustained consistency will be important for the productivity of our group."

Simmons also said that his team has "to be better striking the ball with consistency" in order to maximize the abilities of kicker Jack Knight and punter Chase Evans.

"The battle of special teams will come down to execution," said Simmons.

Boys tennis regionals

Southeastern falls to NC, 'Hounds cruise, Cazier advances to singles tourney

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

While North Central clinched the first three matches of Tuesday's boys tennis regional semi-final with Hamilton Southeastern Tuesday, the No. 6-ranked Royals still had plenty to play for in the other two matches.

HSE's No. 1 singles player, senior Addison Cazier, was battling for a chance for a spot in the individual singles tournament. At No. 2 singles, Alec Gretencord, also a senior, was trying to win his final high school match.

And both Royals won. Cazier beat Panthers freshman Ian Brady 6-4, 6-3 to advance to the singles event. Gretencord came from behind to beat junior T.J. Brady 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. Those wins made the final team score 3-2.

"It was good to get these final two matches," said HSE coach Kirk Webber. "I'm really happy for Addison and Alec for getting those. It was just kind of a bummer that we lost the first three matches in straight sets somewhat quickly."

Third-ranked North Central swept the No. 3 singles and both doubles matches in straight sets.

Cazier showed some depth and variety in winning his match. A key point came when he was serving in the first set, leading 5-4, 30-15. Cazier and Ian Brady were exchanging hard-hitting groundstrokes, when Cazier suddenly hit a drop shot that landed just ahead of the net on Brady's side. The ball bounced straight up and fell to the court. That gave Cazier a set point, which he quickly won.

In the second set, both players traded several breaks before Cazier finally held serve to go up 5-3, and he won the next game to take the match. The senior will now play Mount Vernon this afternoon in his first individual match.

Webber said he "was glad for him to get the win tonight and keep going as an individual. It'll be fun to see how far he can go, represent the team."

The Royals ended their season with a 15-3 record, not before winning the Hoosier Crossroads Conference tournament and their sixth consecutive sectional title.
