Bicentennial Torch comes to Hamilton County Thursday

Hamilton County communities are gearing up to host events centuries in the making. As the Bicentennial torch makes its way from Boone County to Hamilton County, the community is invited to attend celebration stations along the torch route to show city pride and cheer on local Hoosiers making history.

The Indiana Bicentennial Torch Relay is one of the major events of the 2016 Bicentennial celebration. Patterned after the Olympic Torch Relay, Indiana's version will pass through all 92 of the state's counties and cover more than 2,300 miles over a six-week period. The torch relay will run Sep. 9, 2016 through Oct. 15, 2016 and will travel six days per week for five weeks. The torch relay will run through Hamilton County on Oct. 13.

A total of 36 individuals chosen by a community selections committee will carry the torch throughout Hamilton County as it makes its way to the county seat over a four hour time period.

The selected torchbearers include firefighters, entrepreneurs, teachers, coaches, athletes and volunteers who have dedicated their lives to making Indiana a better place to live, work and play.

The torch will enter Hamilton County from Boone County at the Zionsville Presbyterian Church at 3 p.m., October 13.

The torch will then travel through Carmel, Westfield and Fishers, changing hands at planned stops before landing on the historic Noblesville Square around 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend the "celebration stations" in each city.

The torch will stop at the following locations on its way to Noblesville Square: 3:30 – 4:15 p.m. - Center Green at the Palladium, 1 Center Green, Carmel Torch arrives: 4:05 – 4:15 p.m.

Michelle Corrao, assistant director of Prevail and sexual assault awareness advocate will run the torch to the first Celebration Station along the route. Carmel's Bicentennial celebration will include music by the Indiana Wind Symphony, fun and interactive booths by various community organizations including the Carmel Clay Historical Society, ticket giveaways by resident companies of the Center for the Performing Arts, food and drinks from Matt the Miller and other fun activities for all ages. Mayor Jim Brainard and other city officials will be on-site to welcome the torch passing through. John Beede, a Disaster Action Team volunteer for the Red Cross, will carry on the torch via vintage fire truck.

Lead me into forgiveness

By JANET HART LEONARD

do not deserve forgiveness. She is working on it but it is hard.

I agree with the hard part.

When words cut to the quick of my heart. When I am betrayed by someone who I trusted. When someone messes with one of my kids or grandkids. My feathers become more like porcupine quills and it's not pretty when they are ruffled.

My first thought is to fight back with words. Then I want to get even. A hurt for a hurt. They deserve my words colored with anger. They deserve to hurt like I hurt. Ok, if I am being totally honest I want them to hurt more than me. For days I carry on the conversation that I want to have over and over in my mind. I lay awake at night rehearsing the conversation. I'll say this, if they say that. I'll get a few verbal blows in before they can respond.

There I times that I get to have that hard conversation and hope for the best. There are also times that I never get to have the conversation where I can speak my mind.

Whether I have the conversation or not I have a decision to make. Let it go and forgive and find peace or continue to wrestle with the anger and war in my mind and heart. If I forgive, I win. If I don't forgive, they win. It took awhile to learn.

I have learned a few more things.

Main Street’s Fall Festival helps food pantries

As part of October’s First Friday Fall Festival events, Noblesville Main Street presented 2015 CanStruction, a unique contest exhibiting and showcasing colossal structures made entirely out of full cans and boxes of food. The structures were designed and built by teams of architects, contractors, designers, service organizations and clubs. The exhibitions are on display to the public through next week, when all food used for the competition will be delivered to the Noblesville Trustees Office for distribution to local food pantries. Through this single project, Noblesville Main Street has donated thousands of non-perishable food items to Hamilton county food pantries.

Competing in this year’s competition is RZ Automation KRM Architecture, Myer Najem and Noblesville Noon Kiwanis Club. CanStruction exhibits can be viewed at the following local Noblesville businesses: Lil Bloomers, Kiln Creations, Church Church Hittle and Antrim.

In addition CanStruction Noblesville Main Street also conducted a scarecrow competition on the courthouse square as part of the weekend’s Fall Festival. Find out Tuesday at Hamilton North...

What’s cookin’ at the Library?

Community movies, coloring for adults, children’s story hours, and book clubs are always brewing at Hamilton North Public Library, but this month the Friends of the Library are baking up something special: recipes from the Atlanta Library Centennial Cookbook. Tantalizing treats, creamy casseroles, inviting vegetables, saucy soups, and delectable desserts are coming to the Cicero branch on Tuesday, October 11 at 6:30 pm for A Taste of the Library.

Who is tasting and who is mixing and baking for this Tuesdays with Friends event? Anyone who would like to participate may choose a recipe and bring it to HNPL’s Cicero branch. From apple berry salsa and Cajun coleslaw to gluten-free chocolate chip muffins and lemon-almond biscotti, the Atlanta Library Centennial cookbook offers a scrumptious array of recipes. Recipes for this centennial celebration cookbook come from library staff, members of the Friends of the Library, and patrons of HNPL.

Tuesday with Friends’ Taste of the Library is open to the public, and copies of the Atlanta Library Centennial Cookbook will be available for $12 each at the event and every day at the Cicero and Atlanta branches. In addition to the time-honored recipes, the cookbook also offers cooking and seasoning tips for novice and experienced chefs.

HNPL’s Cicero branch is located at 209 W. Brinton Street in Cicero. For more information about this October 11th event or other library programs, call 317.984.5623 or visit www.hnpl.lib.in.us.

JANET

My anger only hurts me, not them. Yes, if given the opportunity, I can voice my thoughts but I have learned, for the most part, to remain calm. I don't have to raise my voice to get my point across. Funny how people listen more when you keep your voice calm. It sometimes angers them when I keep so calm. (Insert smile)

I have found that some people love a good argument. Remember, it takes two to argue. The louder you are the less anyone hears you.

What do I do with people who have trespassed against me, or worse, my family?

What if they are wrong and I know that they know that they are wrong yet they never apologize?

What if they say they are sorry but I feel they are not sorry enough?

I have drank the poison of unforgiveness. It is bitter. I have carried the exhaustive weight of conversations I never had.

Then I learned to forgive. It took a while. I sometimes would think I forgave someone and then I picked up the remnants of anger and ran with them again. Each time I laid them down it was easier. Forgiveness is a decision and the doing so takes time.

I have actually written letters and then torn them into shreds, never sending them. I said what I needed to say but they would never read the words. They didn't have to read them. Those words were the chains that held me hostage to them. Forgiveness doesn't have to be deserved. It is the freedom to not be bound by the feelings we have attached to person who has wronged us. It's not about them, it's about us.

Forgiveness is a gift we give ourselves. It does not have to be deserved to be given. Chances are that we will never get an apology but that is not about us. It is about them.

So if you are harboring anger towards someone, what are you going to do? Write a letter but don't mail it. Write an email but don't send it. Shred the letter or the email. And be done. D.O.N.E.

Remember angry feelings create words that chain you to the person who did you wrong. Don't waste precious time being held hostage to that person. You have to make the decision to forgive. Forgiveness does not lessen the fact that they did you wrong. FORGIVENESS DOES NOT RIGHT THE WRONG. It lessens their control over you. Then you can walk away leaving them behind to deal with what they did.

One morning you will wake up and realize that what they did does not define your day or your life anymore. And that, my friends, makes for a beautiful day and a peaceful life.

Use common sense if you smoke to prevent fires

Dear Reader,

Some of the most preventable fires in the world involve smoking. Even worse, according to the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), it is one of the leading causes of civilian home fire deaths. Of those deaths, 25 percent of the victims were not even the ones smoking.

Urbanism is trending as the new style of living. Of the many positive attributes to this living, multi-family dwellings can have some negatives. One negative is the increased risk of fires affecting multiple units in an apartment. Often, the cause of these fires is smoking related.

While there are many factors that may affect the start of a fire, alcohol, medications and lack of sleep are often contributing. When smoking materials are dropped into furniture, improperly extinguished, or purposely disposed onto the ground, fires may happen and their devastation can affect more than just the one who dropped the cigarette.

Firefighters recommend smoking outside, using sand or water to extinguish the butts, and assuring all material is fully extinguished prior to placing in garbage receptacles, especially when they are located indoors or next to buildings.

These fires are not limited to multi-family homes. They happen every day in single family residences as well. Butts are often tossed into flower beds covered in mulch where they smolder for hours until the fire is discovered late into the night running up the side of the house.

This is easily a preventable fire. First, don't smoke! But if you do, use common sense. Fires caused by smoking are a selfish and reckless act. Use common sense and safety as a match next time you want to light up.

And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

50 Years Ago

News: The town board last night went on record opposed to approval of a plat for the Wildwood Estates, a proposed exclusive 15-lot subdivision northwest of Carmel. The board voted 3-2 to recommend the Plan Commission deny approval of the subdivision. The board acted against the approval because plans of Wildwood developers call for the use of septic tanks instead of town connected sewers. The board had hoped the sewers could be used through a cooperation between the developer and the town.

Sports: Officials from Noblesville and Carmel high schools met with representatives from Frankfort, Lebanon, Brownsburg and Crawfordsville Tuesday evening at Lebanon and formed a new high school athletic conference.

Be the best you, regardless of your weight

By SHARON MCMAHON
“It’s not about what size you wear; it’s about how you wear your size.” - Unknown

I sure wish that I could insert “Sharon McMahon” in the “Unknown” line of this quote but alas, I cannot do so although I firmly believe this quote to be true. And this week I will endeavor to tackle a “weighty” issue without going down any political avenues – difficult to do given the interest posed by our current candidates and the press. I will admit that the candidates’ recently “weighing in” has brought this topic to mind and I do feel that it is important to address.

Currently over 8 million people, primarily women, in the USA suffer from eating disorders, including anorexia, bulimia, and binge eating. Fifteen percent of women 17-24 suffer from eating disorders, 40% of female college students suffer from eating disorders, and 91% of female college students attempt to control their weight through strict dieting measures.¹ Whether you are male or female, concerned about your own weight or not, I venture to guess that you all have a family member, friend, co-worker, neighbor, or someone within your sphere of influence who has (or believe that they have) an issue with weight. Obesity is a critical health issue, affecting our hearts, blood pressure, susceptibility to diabetes and overall longevity; there is no doubt about that. However, most of us are aware that there is a preponderance of attention to the subject of a woman’s weight and her acceptance in society. While obesity is certainly a health issue which should be addressed by the individual and her physician, no woman should feel intimidated by not being a size 2 or ready to walk the runway.

In working with women of different ages, weights, and concerns relating to both appearance and health, I find that those primarily concerned about the health aspects usually are more successful at losing weight and maintaining it. Keep in mind that a healthy weight is not necessarily the same as a body size considered “appropriate” by many in industries related to physical appearance, i.e., beauty pageants, modeling, acting, etc. Frankly, expectation relating to a woman’s size is apparent in almost every industry and profession. A person who does make a practice of eating nutritional foods, getting aerobic exercise via walking, dancing, etc.; who stretches for flexibility and strength trains to tone muscles and follows these practices regularly will maintain a healthy and normal weight in almost every case. There are some exceptions to this that would be identified through a licensed health practitioner and will not be addressed in this particular article. Additionally, anyone suffering from eating disorders will wish to receive treatment designated by their health professional.²

I would like to take this opportunity to remind all of the women and girls reading this that you have so much control over your appearance by your posture, your choices in apparel, your quest to be healthy, and most of all your confidence! I will suggest that anyone can be stylish and attractive no matter your weight or size. It is up to you to show the “world” that you will be the best YOU regardless of your clothing size. Take care of yourself, get healthy, and enjoy life on your terms!

¹Walden Center for Education and Research

²Eating disorder complications can be serious, contact your physician for a complete diagnosis.

Girls soccer sectional championships...

Millers, Golden Eagles are winners

Reporter photos by Richie Hall

The Noblesville girls soccer team beat Hamilton Southeastern 1-0 on Saturday to win its own Class 2A Sectional 16 at White River Elementary Fields. It's the first sectional championship for the Millers since 2008.

Even after an 0-4 start to its season, the Noblesville girls soccer team never lost faith.

The Millers kept playing, kept battling, kept trusting each other. Noblesville carried that belief into the Class 2A Sectional 16 this week - and never lost a game.

The No. 17-ranked Millers won their first sectional championship since 2008 Saturday, beating Hamilton Southeastern 1-0 at Noblesville's White River Elementary Fields. The victory qualifies the Millers for the Logansport regional, with the Millers taking on McCutcheon at 7 p.m. in Wednesday's second semi-final.

"Something we've been saying all along, 'Believe in yourself, believe in each other,' and you saw that today," said Noblesville coach Mike Brady. "They battled together, to every player that I use."

"We've been working all season for this," said Miller senior Delaney Riester. "We've been working hard in practice and in games to get better and have this moment."

Riester got the assist on Noblesville's goal: She played the ball to her fellow senior Taylor Crowe, who put it into the net in the game's 13th minute.

"I can't take all the credit for this," said Crowe. "I was in the right spot in the right time, which is awesome. But Laney did all the work on the sideline."

The Millers' defense did a ton of work, too. Leading the way was senior goalkeeper Mackenzie Kincaid, who made a spectacular save in the second half, during the game's 54th minute.

Boys soccer sectional championships...

Royals, Greyhounds defend titles

The Hamilton Southeastern boys soccer team defended its sectional championship Saturday, winning a tense 1-0 game with Noblesville to claim the Class 2A Sectional 16 title at the Royals field.

The majority of the contest was played with a 0-0 score. No. 10-ranked HSE finally got on the board with 8:22 left in the second half, when Matt Kuster found the back of the net. Darrian Ghaffari provided the assist.

"With the field conditions, we didn't want to try and possess a lot," said Royals coach Chris White. "We wanted to attack their back line and get in behind them as quick and as often as possible."

Noblesville goalkeeper Felix Sendejas finished with five saves on the night. Ben Haxton had one save for Southeastern.

The Royals advance to the Kokomo regional, which begins on Thursday. Southeastern will play Marion in the first semi-final, which starts at 5 p.m.

CARMEL WINS IN OT

Carmel also defended its sectional championship Saturday, beating Guerin Catholic 2-0 in overtime to win the Class 2A Sectional 17 trophy at Zionsville.

The game was scoreless through regulation, but the No. 8-ranked Greyhounds broke through in the first OT period to score both of their goals. Matthew Skaar got the first one on a penalty kick, then Riley Shives scored the second goal, with Ben Godden making the assist.

"I knew that it would be a tough game going into it," said Carmel coach Shane Schmidt. "Last year was a tough game for us in playing them in the first game of sectionals."

The 'Hounds travel to the North Central regional on Thursday, where they play the No. 4-ranked host Panthers in the first semi-final at 5 p.m.

HUSKIES FALL TO BURRIS

Hamilton Heights lost to No. 11 Muncie Burris at its own Class 1A Sectional 46 championship on Saturday.

The Owls scored their goal with just over three minutes to play in regulation by kicking in a 25-yard shot that hit the post and bounced inside the line.

"This was a great game to watch as it was intense the entire time the way a championship should be," said Heights coach Derrick Dean, who said the entire team was the player of the game "as they did whatever coach wants their players to do and give it their all and leave it on the field, which they did."

The Carmel boys soccer team also defended its sectional championship Saturday, beating Guerin Catholic 2-0 in overtime.

Boys tennis

Carmel wins record seventh consecutive semi-state

The Carmel boys tennis team not only qualified for the state finals with a 5-0 victory over Munster Saturday at the Culver Academies semi-state.

The No. 1-ranked Greyhounds also set a new IHSAA record for most consecutive semi-state championships won. Carmel has now won seven semi-states in a row; last year it matched Homestead's mark of six consecutive semi-states, which the Spartans won between 1992 and 1997.

The 'Hounds left no doubt, winning all five of their matches against No. 18 Munster in straight sets. Carmel only dropped four games in winning all three singles matches, and the doubles were able to finish both victories in two sets as well.

The Greyhounds will return to the Todd Witsken Tennis Center Friday as one of two hosts of the state quarter-finals. Carmel will play No. 13 Delta at 3 p.m., with the winner moving on to the semi-finals next Saturday morning at North Central.

SOCCER

Southeastern was roaring down the field, and shot the ball from about 10 yards out. The ball looked like it was certain to go in, but Kincaid put up her right hand and deflected it over the net.

"Really, I just knew that it was now or never," said Kincaid of her big moment. She also credited the Noblesville defense with disrupting the HSE shot.

"That was one of the best saves I've ever seen," said Brady. "I would've thought it was some sort of stop-action footage if I wasn't watching it live."

"But again, that's Mackenzie Kincaid. She's one of the best goalkeepers to come through this program, and right up there with the best, if not the best goalkeeper in the state."

The sectional victory is the eighth for Noblesville. The Millers had a string of six in a row between 1996 and 2001, then won it again in 2008.

GOLDEN EAGLES UPSET CARMEL

Over at Westfield, Guerin Catholic stunned No. 3-ranked Carmel in overtime to win the Class 2A Sectional 16. The final score was 3-2.

The score was knotted at 2-2 going into overtime, but the Golden Eagles' Lauren Rice scored with 2:40 left in the first overtime period to give her team the advantage. Guerin then held off the Greyhounds in the second OT to claim its first sectional championship since 2012.

The Golden Eagles will now play in the Carmel regional on Wednesday, taking on No. 2 Avon in a 5 p.m. semi-final game.

"It feels amazing," said GC coach Jonathan McClure, who returned to head coaching duties for the Golden Eagles this season. "Two years in a row, the program's graduated some unbelievably talented and large classes. We came in with a brand-new staff this year and a lot of new kids, and a lot of inexperience. To be on this little tear that we're on right now and playing like we're playing right now, and to get results against the quality of teams that we're playing right now is an awesome feeling."

Carmel led 1-0 at halftime, with Jessi Cowen scoring off an assist by Emily Roberts. The Golden Eagles then put in two goals, with Danielle Mason scoring both off assists by Megan Wampler. Katie Soderstrom tied the game back up by getting her 20th goal of the season; Morgan Parker assisted her.

Chandler Edwards made eight goalkeeper saves for Guerin, while Nicole Vohs had four saves for Carmel.

HUSKIES FALL TO TIPTON

Hamilton Heights lost to Tipton 3-2 Saturday in the final of Class 1A Sectional 40 at Sheridan.

Kinsey Dimmock and Madison Bickett each scored goals for the Huskies, with Abby Hardacre making one assist.

Cross country sectionals...

'Hounds sweep team trophies; Dalton and Fendel win individual races

Hamilton County's cross country teams competed in the Noblesville sectional Saturday at White River Elementary's Chinquapin Ridge Course.

In the girls meet, Carmel cruised its way to a seventh consecutive championship, finishing comfortably ahead of the back with 44 points. The Greyhounds were lifted by a 1-2-3 finish.

Maddie Dalton led the back, finishing in a new sectional record time of 17:51.65. Her teammate Phoebe Bates placed second, also clocking in under 18 minutes with a time of 17:59.31. Rachel Anderson finished third.

"I am just so happy for Maddie Dalton," said Carmel coach Mark Ellington. "She has really grown over the past two seasons. She made a great decision and move during the first lap through the woods and continued to increase her lead over the chase pack. Phoebe and Rachel responded well to that with some moves of their own. It was thrilling to watch the three of them down the final stretch running season PR's in the process."

Fishers was a solid second, totaling 67 points. Miya Wai was the highest placer for the Tigers, coming in seventh. Fishers then got four more runners in the top 17, helping them to close their scoring early.

The host Millers placed third with 80 points. Abi Little finished a solid fourth.

Guerin Catholic was fourth as a team, scoring 97 points. The Golden Eagles got two runners in the top 10, with Megan Slamkowski taking fifth and Paige Schemanske placing eighth.

Westfield took fifth place, securing the final qualifying spot for next week's regional by scoring 101 points. Gabby Dilick finished in sixth place individually.

With such a crowded field, unfortunately good teams had to be squeezed out. Hamilton Southeastern's girls placed sixth with 106 points, just missing advancement as a team. But the Royals will be moving on - the top 10 runners not on an advancing team also get out to the regional. All seven of HSE's runners were part of that top 10, so they will all race next week.

Sabrina Bippus placed ninth for the Royals, while Lulu Black took the 10th spot.

Hamilton Heights finished seventh, but qualified two individuals for the regional: Abby Christiansen, who placed 33rd and Chloe Henderson, who was 39th.

Jada Swearingen led University by finishing 52nd.

Carmel's boys team had it a little bit tighter, but the Greyhounds were able to get past Southeastern by the score of 37-44 to claim their ninth consecutive sectional championship, and 42nd overall, a state record.

Carmel had four runners in the top 10. Ben Miller placed second, Calvin Bates was fifth, Trey Harris took ninth and Thomas Gastineau finished 10th.

Carmel's Maddie Dalton won the individual race at the girls cross country sectional Saturday at Noblesville's Chinquapin Ridge Cross Country Course. Dalton finished the course in a new sectional record time of 17:51.65.

The Royals did get an individual championship, with Gabe Fendel cruising to victory in a time of 15:33.89. Fendel was joined in the top 10 by Brayden Watson, who took sixth, and Ben Wagoner, who placed seventh.

Fishers took third with 84 points. Sam Kuhn led the Tigers with an eighth-place finish.

Westfield was fourth, scoring 91 points. Aaron Bennett took third place for the Shamrocks.

Guerin Catholic placed fifth, totaling 135 points to grab the final team qualifying spot. Quinn Gallagher finished in fourth.

Noblesville was stopped short of advancing as a team, finishing in sixth place with 148 points. But the Millers will move all seven of their runners on as individuals. Eric Hoffman led Noblesville with a 16th place finish.

Dylan Young was Hamilton Heights' top runner, taking 46th. Grant Syrek led University, finishing in 48th place. Sheridan had four runners, just one runner short of enough for a team score. Nathan Smith came in 50th for the Blackhawks.
