The County Line

It could take time for Nickel Plate trains to be back

By FRED SWIFT
Why is it taking so long to get Indiana Transportation Museum trains back on the tracks? That is the question being asked by many folks along the Nickel Plate line. The railroad, now owned by the Hoosier Heritage Port Authority, runs the length of Hamilton County from Fishers to Atlanta and is a tourist attraction for the county and the communities through which it passes. But, seven months ago all train traffic stopped after several museum volunteers blew the whistle on alleged safety problems with the tracks or operators of the trains. The port authority quickly suspended the museum's use of the railroad and began an investigation of safety measures and personnel qualifications. Since then museum officials "have submitted to the port authority all the requested documentation," according to museum board chairman Jeffrey Kehler. Kehler outlined his position in a letter to the "customers, volunteers and stakeholders" earlier this month. He pointed out that the inability to use the railroad means no revenue for museum operations. In the meantime the port authority has hired a consultant to inspect the tracks and bridges. A report is expected in the next few days. But, if major repairs to the rail line are recommended the cost may be prohibitive. The port authority says its main objective is safety for railroad passengers. The transportation museum organization is the only user of the historic Nickel Plate which traces its beginnings to 1851 and was responsible for a great deal of 19th and early 20th century development of the central core of the county. The long-standing arrangement between the museum and port authority provides there will be no charge for use of the tracks if the museum maintains the rails, rail bed, bridges, etc. Kehler says the port authority "has shown some sympathy" and will seek funding on the museum's behalf for any repairs needed. This could take time. So, it appears there will not be trains running in the near future. And, if funding for any needed work is not forthcoming, the future appears grim for the popular train rides provided by the transportation museum over the past 25 years. A recording on museum's office phone at Forest Park says "the museum site is closed for the season." We in the immediate area may not always appreciate the preservation of train travel and the work of the transportation museum. In most communities the railroads have shut down and the rails removed. Hopefully repair costs on the Nickel Plate will not be overwhelming and next season will bring a full schedule of excursion trains which are such a unique attraction for not only Noblesville, but all of Hamilton County.

Company representatives and local leaders helped to break ground on IKEA's future store in Fishers. The 289,000-square foot store is scheduled to open in Fall 2017. A rendering of the completed building appears on Page 5.

Slated to open in Fall 2017...

IKEA breaks ground in Fishers

With company representatives, Congresswoman Susan Brooks, Fishers Mayor Scott Fadness, local officials, and community leaders on hand, IKEA, the world's leading home furnishings retailer, today officially broke ground for its future Indianapolis-area store that is slated to open Fall 2017 in Fishers. Until the store opens, customers can shop at the Cincinnati-area store in West Chester, OH; Chicago-area IKEA Bolingbrook and IKEA Schaumburg; or online at IKEA-USA.com.

The 289,000-square-foot future IKEA Fishers and its 1,000 parking spaces will be built on 35 acres along the eastern side of Interstate 69, just south of the E. 116th Street exit, approximately 15 miles northeast of downtown Indianapolis. IKEA has contracted with Pepper Construction to build the project, and store plans reflect the same unique architectural design for which IKEA stores are known worldwide. In addition, IKEA will evaluate potential on-site power generation to complement its current U.S. goal of a renewable energy presence at nearly 90 percent of its U.S. locations.

"This location will help bring the unique IKEA family-friendly shopping experience closer to many Indianapolis-area customers who currently can shop only at IKEA stores elsewhere or online," said Lars Petersson, IKEA U.S. president. "The store also will attract new customers from throughout Indiana who value good design, good function and affordable prices, but have not had a chance yet to shop at IKEA."

IKEA Fishers will feature nearly 10,000 exclusively designed items, 50 inspirational room-settings, three model home interiors, a supervised children's play area, and a 325-seat restaurant serving Swedish specialties such as meatballs with lingonberries and salmon plates, as well as American dishes. Other family-friendly features include a 'Children's IKEA' area in the Showroom, baby care rooms, play areas throughout the store, and preferred parking. In addition to the more than 500 jobs that are expected to be created during the construction phase, approximately 250 coworkers will join the IKEA family when the new store opens. IKEA Fishers also will provide significant annual sales and property tax revenue for state and local governments and schools.

Candidates interested in working at this employer of choice can begin applying online Spring 2017 at IKEA-USA.com for diverse positions available in home furnishings sales, interior decoration, customer service, safety and security, cashiers, maintenance, goods flow, receiving, warehouse and stock replenishment. Among its total coworkers, IKEA Fishers also will offer more than 50 food service opportunities in its Restaurant, Swedish Foodmarket, Café Bistro and coworker cafeteria.

Since its 1943 founding in Sweden, IKEA has offered home furnishings of good design and function at low prices so the majority of people can afford them. There are currently more than 380 IKEA stores in 48 countries, including 42 in the U.S. IKEA has been included in rankings of "Best Companies to Work For" and, as further investment in its coworkers, has raised its own minimum wage twice in two years. IKEA incorporates sustainability into day-to-day business and supports initiatives that benefit children and the environment. Big Ten Conference selects Grand Park as site of men’s soccer tournament

Grand Park is gearing up to host the best men’s collegiate soccer players in the nation, serving as host for the Big Ten Men’s Soccer Tournaments for the 2016 and 2017 seasons. Following preliminary round play on campus sites, the semifinals and finals of the 2016 Big Ten Men’s Soccer Tournament will occur at Grand Park on November 11 and 13. Not only will the event be Grand Park’s first collegiate tournament, but it is also the Big Ten’s first men’s soccer tournament at a neutral location.

“We are excited for the opportunity to take the Big Ten Men’s Soccer Tournament to Grand Park,” said Big Ten Associate Commissioner for Sports Administration Wendy Fallen. “When it was decided to move this event from campus to a neutral site, Grand Park quickly climbed to the top of our list. Our goal at our events is to produce a second-to-none experience for our students and fans and we look forward to continuing that tradition in collaboration with Grand Park.”

Four Big Ten men’s soccer teams will play in semifinal matches Friday, November 11, at 12 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. The winning teams will face off for the conference tournament title on Sunday, November 13, at 2 p.m. All three games will be broadcast live on the Big Ten Network. Tickets to attend both semi-final games on Friday are $7 for students and $12 for adults. Tickets for the championship game on Sunday are $7 for students and $12 for adults. Call 317-975-2021 for group tickets and pricing. All tickets are general admission with limited seating available. Active military and veterans may attend for $1.

Additionally, from November 11-13 Grand Park will host the Men’s College Showcase which is part of the North American College Showcase Series. More than 150 teams of players ages 13-18 from 14 states and Canada will compete in front of college coaches and scouts. More than 4,000 spectators are expected at Grand Park for the Men’s College Showcase and Big Ten Men’s Soccer Tournament.

“We’re excited to host the 2016 and 2017 Big Ten Men’s Soccer Tournaments at Grand Park,” said Westfield Mayor Andy Cook. “Coupled with the Men’s College Showcase, this weekend should be a special opportunity to showcase the Grand Park facilities, including the new Events Center. The large number of teams and spectators from other states will have a big impact on our local businesses.”

This event is made possible due in part by a $20,000 grant from Sports Indiana; obtained by the Hamilton County Sports Authority.

‘Hawks get re-match with South Putnam

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

The Sheridan football team will begin its post-season quest against a team it remembers from last season.

The Blackhawks host South Putnam at 7 p.m. Friday in the first round of Class 1A Sectional 45. Sheridan doesn't have fond memories of the Eagles from last year - they beat the 'Hawks 56-22 in the first round.

Both teams come in with similar records against difficult schedules. Sheridan is 5-4, playing seven of its nine games against Hoosier Heartland Conference teams. The Blackhawks were 4-0 in the East Division, then also played three West Division squads, including last week's face-off against 1A No. 6 Carroll for the overall HCC championship. The Comets won 41-14, and that has definitely snapped the 'Hawks to attention.

"They realized that we didn't look great the other night," said Sheridan coach Bud Wright of his players. "We didn't play really good in the second half." The coach noted that his team gave up 21 points in less than five minutes during the fourth quarter.

"They felt the loss, but I think they're coming back," said Wright. "They realize they got to come back and get the job done now or they're done."

South Putnam is 4-5, but also plays a tough schedule. In fact, the Blackhawks are the first 1A team the Eagles will play this season. South Putnam won its finale with a 30-0 victory over Brown County, a Class 3A school, to claim ninth place in the Western Indiana Conference. South Putnam actually played Brown County twice, Sheridan’s Joe Callahan has scored 16 touchdowns for the Blackhawks this season, and compiled 1646 yards on 280 carries. Sheridan will host South Putnam Friday in the first round of play in Class 1A Sectional 45.

beating it 34-6 in Week 2 of the regular season.

The Eagles were 0-5 in their conference's West Division, but consider who they played: Class 4A Northview, 3A schools Greencastle, West Vigo and Sullivan, and 2A North Putnam.

By contrast, South Putnam went 4-0 when playing teams out of its division. Interestingly, all of the Eagles' non-division games were against teams in the Western Indiana's East Division - that meant victories over 4A Edgewood, 2A Cloverdale, and the two victories over 3A Brown County.

"They're a solid football team," said Wright. "They've got an excellent running back." The coach also said South Putnam has two quarterbacks - one is a good passer, the other can run well.

The Eagles' leading rusher is one of those quarterbacks, senior Kyle Shaffer. He has been dominant on the ground, with 1258 yards in 193 carries, including 15 touchdowns. Dalton Scott, a sophomore has carried the ball 41 times for 325 yards and scored three TDs.

Christian Zeffel, a junior, has passed for 134 yards. South Putnam's leading receiver is senior Hunter Harris, who has nine catches for 201 yards, one of them a touchdown.

Sheridan's leading rusher continues to be junior Joe Callahan, who has compiled 1646 yards on 280 carries, including 16 touchdowns. Sophomore quarterback Drake Delph has rushed the ball 98 times for 387 yards, five of them TDs. Delph has passed for 492 yards, and another five touchdowns. Junior Gunnar Williams has 16 catches for 153 yards and a TD, with Brody Perry getting 10 receptions for 190 yards and two touchdowns.
