In Hipstoric Downtown...

Noblesville brings back Beards & Brews

Fall leaves are to pumpkin spice as beards are to beers at this fan favorite event, Beards & Brews The Championship. This year marks the event’s third running and it’s poised to deliver another hash tag worthy experience.

On Saturday, Oct. 29 from Noon to 4 PM, Noblesville’s Hipstoric Downtown will host the event in the parking lot at 8th Street & Maple Avenue (directly behind the Hamilton County Visitor’s Center).

“Beards & Brews continues to be an event that creates excitement, drawing guests from Noblesville and Hamilton County but also many from across Central Indiana,” said Chris Owens, Executive Director of Noblesville Main Street. It’s an event that brings some of the greatest local breweries to our downtown. The live beard contest makes it the perfect duo for a fall favorite.”

This year’s event will feature a live beard contest, with a panel of judges naming a champion in each of the following categories; Best of Show, Longest Beard, Thickest Beard, and Most Creatively Groomed Beard. Bearded contestants do not need to register in advance and there is no entry fee, they are just asked to arrive at the event prior to 1 p.m., when the contest portion of the event will kick off. Champions from the last two years will return and compete to hold their honor.

In addition to the beard contest, 4 hours of live music will be performed by local favorites Steve Smith, and Austin Stirling and the Hangdog Hearts. “We’re so excited to have these amazing musicians joining us for this year’s event,” added Owens. Both Steve and Austin have a strong presence locally and have toured regionally and nationally.

The Rugged Company, owned by Corey Cole, will be on site with a product line ranging from handcrafted beard oils and man care products along with unisex fashion apparel and artisan items. Nickel Plate Artist, Julie Strahaker will also be on site selling handmade apparel items, beard accessories and many more unique pieces. Nameless Catering, will complete the vendors as they sell and serve chili.

As equally as important as the beautiful beards are the lineup of participating breweries featured at this year’s event. The rock star breweries on-site include; Barley Island with Deer Creek Brewery, Bier Brewery, Grand Junction Brewing Company, Fountain Square Brewing, and the brand new Four Day Ray. Each will all be on site selling their craft beers from Noon to 4 p.m. Admission tickets are $20 and $10 for designated drivers and include a tasting sample from participating breweries. All breweries will sell pints throughout the event. The admission ticket supports Noblesville Main Street, a 501-C3 dedicated to promote economic and cultural vitality of Downtown Noblesville. Noblesville Main Street produces 60+ events for the community each year.

“Noblesville is known for having an abundance of great events,” said Chris Owens. “This one will be for those 21 years and older, which we feel adds to the diversity of our event offerings. Ultimately, the goal of this event is to bring new people to Noblesville, showing off the great places and experiences we have to offer.”

For event updates and information, find Hipstoric Noblesville on Facebook or at noblesvillemainstreet.org.

Riverview Health Auxiliary to host annual Holiday Bazaar

Riverview Health Auxiliary will host its annual Holiday Bazaar from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 1, in the Riverview Health Atrium. This event is open to the public and will have crafts, baked goods and gift shop items for sale. All proceeds from this event will help support and expand many high-quality services at Riverview Health and the well-being of the community.

Overnight I-69 lane closures for 106th Street bridge construction

Walsh Construction Company plans to temporarily close up to three lanes of northbound Interstate 69 for overnight work at the 106th Street interchange bridges being built in Fishers.

Starting Sunday, Oct. 23, up to three left lanes of northbound I-69 will be closed near mile 204 between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m. each weeknight through Thursday night/Friday morning. Work is dependent on favorable weather, and construction schedules are subject to change.

Additional lane closures are scheduled in the following weeks, and specific closure schedules will be announced as work progresses.

Crews will be removing temporary overhang platforms used during the construction of the bridge decks, pouring concrete walls on the bridges, and painting bridge beams.

Motorists are reminded that the speed limit near the construction zone is reduced to 55 mph and may be reduced to 45 mph during overnight working hours. Motorists are advised to pay attention to work zone warning signs, follow posted speed limits, avoid distractions, and drive sensibly near construction zones. Feeling the Heat at Fire Ops 101

By STEVE COOKE
Noblesville Deputy Mayor

Every year in October, Fire Prevention Week reminds Hoosiers to ensure their homes are prepared in the event of a fire. If you’re like me, you check your smoke alarms and talk with your kids about an escape plan should a fire break out. But, this year I had a new perspective for fire safety.

Thanks to the Hamilton County Professional Firefighters Association, on September 24 I was one of 17 public officials to participate in Fire Ops 101. I had the opportunity to learn what it would be like to run into a fire as well as to escape it. The program is designed to educate decision makers about the skills, equipment and emergency scenarios that are part of every firefighter’s duty.

As Noblesville’s Deputy Mayor, my “day in the life” experience was an informative reality check that will alter how I look at the next Fire Department budget. Equipment purchases are more than just line items on a spreadsheet. Squatting in a live-fire exercise during a flashover with flames overhead heating the room to 500-600 degrees makes you very thankful for all that gear – and the guy next to you holding the fire hose.

Such decisions about equipment and personnel can be life-or-death matters for a firefighter – and perhaps someone they are trying to save.

In Noblesville, one-third of our city’s proposed operational budget for 2017 is devoted to the Fire Department. And for good reason. Last year, it took 127 sworn firefighters working out of seven fire stations to cover 5,292 runs with an average response time of 5 minutes, 16 seconds to arrive on the scene. And they did so successfully due to the more than 20,000 annual training hours they accumulate.

You are never more thankful to have a highly trained fire department than when you are one of those 5,292 runs.

In addition to the flashover experience, I also participated in a simulated vehicle accident that called for extricating a crash victim. We learned how to use the necessary tools such as those generally known as “jaws of life,” but also relied on a high level of coordination with multiple firefighters working around you.

Noblesville Deputy Mayor Steve Cooke exits a simulated burn during Fire Ops 101 presented by the Hamilton County Professional Firefighters Association.

The most anxious I personally felt during Fire Ops 101 was the search and rescue exercise. I did not enjoy crawling on my hands and knees through a smoke-filled, two-story dwelling in complete darkness to find our victim – and pull all 185 pounds of him to safety while lugging my own 70 pounds of gear. But those are the kinds of disorienting environments firefighters must contend with.

I ended my day with an even more physically demanding scenario: a simulated EMS run. Performing CPR chest compressions for 10 minutes while riding in the back of a moving ambulance made me appreciate the rigors of emergency medical treatment.

With 75 percent of runs by the Noblesville Fire Department classified as EMS, it’s clear that firefighters today do much more than fight fires – requiring paramedic training to handle any kind of trauma.

Throughout my entire Fire Ops 101 experience, I appreciated having real-world training facilities within our community.

Being able to run through one scenario after another under controlled conditions is critical to training firefighters properly to meet any number of scenarios they may be presented with. But today's scenarios will change – and we need to ensure our public safety professionals are prepared for the challenges they'll face tomorrow.

At the end of the day, it was one thing to play a firefighter for a few hours. It's another thing entirely to do it every day. And for that, I thank all firefighters throughout Hamilton County for the service you provide under very intense situations.

Until next time, see you on the square.

About the project

INDOT awarded a $21.7 million contract to Walsh Construction Company to build two separate two-lane bridges that will each carry one direction of traffic and form an oval-shaped roundabout on 106th Street over I-69. Ramps will provide new access at 106th Street to and from both directions of the interstate.

The project is intended to reduce congestion at existing I-69 interchanges at 96th and 116th streets, increase traffic safety in the area and provide direct interstate access at 106th Street. Direct access will serve existing residential and commercial destinations and accommodate development and population growth in the area.

Access on 106th Street over I-69 will remain closed through construction of the new interchange. The new I-69 Exit 204 to 106th Street is scheduled to open before the end of this year. For more information about the 106th Street interchange project, go to <http://www.in.gov/indot/3399.htm>.

At Carey Road store in Westfield...

Kroger to celebrate ribbon cutting this morning

Kroger Central Division leaders are preparing to celebrate a multi-million dollar investment in Westfield.

Months of work will culminate in a ribbon cutting at 8 a.m. this morning in the 17447 Carey Road store. Kroger shoppers will find new features such as a Starbucks kiosk and a Murray's Cheese shop. They will also find an array of other improvements in selection and service around the store.

Law enforcement members to wait tables at participating Red Robin restaurants

Law enforcement members around the country will trade their ticket books for order pads and unite at participating Red Robin Gourmet Burgers and Brews restaurants to serve guests for a special cause. Red Robin's 11th annual Tip-A-Cop® events will take place on Saturday, Oct. 22 between 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., at more than 400 restaurants in 39 states, with all 12 locations in Indiana participating. Law enforcement members will volunteer their time as servers alongside Red Robin's wait staff to raise funds for local Special Olympics Programs in their communities.

Several Indiana State Troopers along with officers from other local agencies serving the Hamilton County area, will participate in this event to help raise money for the Indiana Special Olympics. Troopers will be on hand from 11:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. at two area Red Robin Locations, Hamilton Town Center 13215 Harrell Pkwy in Noblesville and 9965 N. Michigan Road in Carmel.

"Red Robin is proud to continue our annual Tip-A-Cop tradition and generate valuable awareness for Special Olympics programs in our communities," said Jonathan Muhtar, Red Robin's senior vice president and chief marketing officer. "More than $600,000 was raised last year and we look forward to welcoming law enforcement members back into our restaurants to serve gourmet burgers and Bottomless Steak Fries to our guests."

Tip-A-Cop is part of the annual Law Enforcement Torch Run® (LETR) campaign in support of Special Olympics. LETR is supported by more than 100,000 law enforcement members worldwide who help raise money and public awareness for Special Olympics. As the largest grass-roots fundraiser and public awareness vehicle for Special Olympics, LETR funds raised go directly to the state where the funds are generated.

"In the last 11 years our law enforcement community has participated in the annual Red Robin Tip-A-Cop events, we have steadily increased the funds we have raised for Special Olympics and strengthened the already existing incredible bond law enforcement has with Special Olympics," said Michael Teem, executive director, Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics. "These events are possible and extremely successful because of the grassroots support from each community, the participation from law enforcement and the generosity from Red Robin and Coca-Cola."

In 11 years, Tip-A-Cop events at Red Robin restaurants have raised more than $3.3 million to support both Special Olympics and the mission of inclusion and acceptance for people with intellectual disabilities. This funding continues to support year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports throughout the United States.

For a complete list of upcoming Tip-A-Cop events at Red Robin Gourmet Burgers and Brews restaurants, please visit www.redrobin.com/specialolympics. To learn more about Red Robin Gourmet Burgers and Brews or to find a restaurant location near you, please visit www.redrobin.com.

Millers, ‘Rocks win first-round matches

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
Noblesville volleyball coach Steve Hawthorne admitted Thursday night that his Millers have "struggled a little bit" with their confidence this season.

So, the team took the opportunity to focus on itself over the past couple weeks. That approach worked, as Noblesville came out fired up for its first round Class 4A Sectional 8 match with host Fishers.

The Millers won over the Tigers in four sets, 25-17, 25-13, 23-25, 25-21, and thus moved on to Saturday morning's semi-final. Noblesville will take on Westfield, which cruised past Anderson 25-11, 25-8, 25-4 in the second match of the evening.

The Millers-Shamrocks match will be played at 11 a.m. Saturday, and be followed by a clash between No. 3 ranked Hamilton Southeastern and No. 7 Carmel. The championship match is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday.

The first between the Millers and Fishers was tight until midway through, when Noblesville ran off four straight points to jump ahead 18-13. Freshman Lexie Almodovar helped out with a kill.

Everything was going right for the Millers on offense. Senior Allie Phillips, the team's setter, scored a point on her own with a successful net tip late in the first set. Phillips and Lexie Bowler later teamed up for a block.

Noblesville ran through the second set, with Alexa Roberts making a big contribution. Roberts hit eight kills in the set alone, including three during a big run for the Millers: They scored the last five points of the set. Stephanie Meysembourg served a couple of aces in the set, and junior Emily Kiser helped out with a kill and a net tip.

"Right off the bat, I want to say both of our left sides really contributed well tonight," said Hawthorne. "Both of them specifically have been working on some things to create a little bit more range in their offense, and I think Roberts absolutely did an outstanding job of that tonight. She managed the situation when she needed to. She took care of scoring when she needed to."

Noblesville looked ready to sail through the third set when it jumped ahead 13-8, then led 17-13. But the Tigers pounced at that point, scoring six straight points to take a 19-17 lead. Mallory Hernandez hit two kills during the run, and another one of her kills put her team ahead 20-18.

Fishers later led 21-19, but the teams would alternate points for the remainder of the set, and that allowed the Tigers to grab the third set 25-23.

Fishers led 7-4 in the fourth set, aided by an ace from Julia Drozd. This time, the Millers went on a run, scoring seven consecutive points to lead 11-7. Kiser had two more winners - a tip and a kill - and Meysembourg served another ace.

The Tigers cut Noblesville's lead to 11-10, and were still within 14-12 midway through the set. But the Millers made another run, this one of five straight points to jump ahead 19-12. Ashley Birkhimer and Almodovar each hit kills.

Fishers made one more push, cutting a 22-19 Noblesville lead to 22-21. The Millers would finish the match by winning its last three points, ending it on a kill from Bowler.

Everybody contributed something to the win. Roberts hit 15 kills, with Almodovar putting down 14. Birkhimer and Bowler each had eight kills, with Bowler also making two blocks.

Phillips dished out 52 assists, and also made three blocks. Kiser had two blocks as well. Meysembourg wound up with five aces. Brenna Everingham led the digs with 22, and Maddie Hine had 13.

Fishers finished its season at 24-9. Hernandez smacked down 19 kills, with Audrey Haworth hitting eight and Elizabeth Weeks spiking six. Rose Duffy handed out 44 assists.

Ellie Adams made 23 digs, and Julia Drozd had 10 digs. Drozd and Maggie Markwood both hit one ace. Taylor Soper had 2.5 blocks, with Hernandez getting two blocks.

"It does hurt to kind of have everything come down to one game as far as how far you go when your season ends," said Tigers coach Steven Peek. "But as far as the progress of this program, we've made a lot of strides this year, for sure, finishing in the top half of conference for the first time in a long time and really not just doing it once, but kind of doing it over and over again against tough teams."

In the second match, the Shamrocks had no trouble sweeping past Anderson. In the second set, the Indians led 3-1 before Westfield won 16 of the next 18 points to go ahead 17-5. Natalie Ravenell started the run with a kill. Anderson also scored the first point of the third set, but the Shamrocks dominated after that, scoring 21 points in a row.

Abigail Huser and Liene Miller both hit 10 kills, with Caroline Sinicki handing out 39 assists. Cassidy Ferrer had nine digs. Huser also served five aces and made one block. Westfield coach Michelle Mapes credited her team with playing clean.

"That's all we had to do," said Mapes. "We talked about just coming out, serving tough and controlling the ball, the free balls and just working on different combinations."

Girls soccer semi-state...

Millers take on No. 1 Penn Saturday

The Noblesville girls soccer team will travel to Warsaw on Saturday to compete in the IHSAA north semi-state.

The No. 17 Millers will take on Penn, the No. 1-ranked team in Class 2A, in the first game at Warsaw. The action starts at 10 a.m. and will be followed by the second semi-final, which will be contested between No. 13 Fort Wayne Carroll and No. 10 Munster. The championship game is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Penn is 19-0-1 for the season, while Noblesville is 9-6-2. The Millers, of course, have played a difficult schedule, and in fact defeated Carmel on Sept. 13, when the Greyhounds were ranked No. 2 in the state.

Noblesville won its own sectional with upsets over No. 15 Fishers and No. 8 Hamilton Southeastern, then took care of McCutcheon and Marion to win the Logansport regional.

In the south semi-state at Evansville Central, No. 20 Columbus North will play Brebeuf Jesuit, the No. 4-ranked team and defending state champion, in the first semi-final. That game begins at 10 a.m. (9 a.m. Central Time), and will be followed by a game between Franklin Central and No. 12 Terre Haute North. The championship game will be played at 6 p.m.

Semi-state winners advance to the 2A state championship game, which will be played Oct. 29 at IUPUI's Carroll Stadium.

Tickets for HSE-Carmel football on sale Tuesday

Hamilton Southeastern will begin selling tickets for next Friday's sectional football game with Carmel on Tuesday.

The Royals will host the Greyhounds, with kickoff at 7 p.m. Tickets are $6 and will be available in the athletic office and the main office.

Since this is an IHSAA event, HSE season tickets, All-Sports Passes, Punch Passes, and Corporation IDs will not admit fans into the game.
