lights on the Courthouse Square were lit on Friday evening. And so the Christmas season has begun in downtown Noblesville. As I stood there amongst so many friends who have been a part of my life for so many years, I remembered.

The Firestone Christmas parties at the Diana Theater were a big deal. Puppets and ventriloquists entertained me and my friends and then we stood in line to pick out a gift and to see Santa. The gifts were stacked high behind tables and we, literally, were kids in a toy store as we surveyed the toys, deciding on the perfect one My mom would venture into Kenley's Supermarket with her list of ingredients for fudge, cookies and candy. My batch of fudge would never contain nuts. Bleck! My dad would pick up bags of hard ribbon candy and of course...chocolate covered cherries. Isn't it strange that certain sweets are never made or bought except at Christmas. We picked out our real tree from either the lot at the old Dairy Queen or from Chad Phillips's vard on the corner of 12th and Central. Tinsel and bubble lights were carefully arranged on each branch. The smell of pine filled the house as did the pine needles for weeks. I would spend hours practicing for the Christmas programs at the Nazarene Church on the corner of Grant and 10th Street. My Mom directed the kids program where we recited our "pieces" that she chose for each child. Some kids had stage fright. Some kids cried. Some just stood and waved to their parents. Funny thing is that I still remember my first piece. "I'm the littlest one in my family but I can do my part. I want to live for Jesus and have Him come into my heart." My daughter, Emily, recited the same piece some twenty five years later.

The Westfield football team won its first-ever state championship on Saturday, triumphing over Columbus East 16-13 in the Class 5A final at Lucas Oil Stadium. The Shamrocks used their tough defense, solid kicking from Will Harrison and a second-half touchdown from Nate Froelich to get the big trophy (above). At left are two of Westfield's many seniors, quarterback Andrew Sweet (13) and offensive lineman Spencer Stachyra (76).

Frieda Street would direct the Teen play. Practices were more like herding cats but when the night came for our presentation we knew our lines and cues. At the end of the play there was always a manger scene and everyone would sing Silent Night. A young mother and dad with a new baby would play Mary and Joseph and baby Jesus. The costumes and props were made by church seamstress' and carpenters and were used over and over for a couple of generations. Oh the sweetness of traditions in the church.

There was always a night of caroling. We would visit all the elderly in the church. They would wipe tears as we reminded them that we appreciated all who had been so faithful to the church.

Barb Pyke Carter would sing "Oh Holy Night" on the Sunday morning before Christmas. The choir would sing all the carols with great joy. I would be playing the organ and Barb's sister, Kathy Pyke Stevens, would be playing the piano. We were family...church family. Oh how sweet the sounds of Christmas.

Presents would be bought at Blands Hardware or Danners Store or ordered from the Sears or Penneys catalogs and picked up at the stores downtown. This was long before the invasion of the corporate stores.

Santa's House on the square has always been a tradition for generations of kids. The lines may be cold and long but as every kid and parent knows...it's worth the wait. Every child leaves with a candy cane and hopes that they remembered everything on their list.

A Tiny Tears baby doll, Chatty Cathy, a ventriloquist dummy, and a metal doll house were some of my favorite gifts which I still have, except for the dollhouse.

On Friday night as I looked around at all the lights and decorations I was reminded by my four year old granddaughter, Leah, "Look Grandma, isn't it pretty?" Yes, it is Leah and it has been for my entire life. I hope you have sweet memories of growing up in this place.

Here's your retirement "to do" list

By COREY SYLVESTER

At this time of year, your life is probably more hectic than usual - so you may have assembled an impressive "to do" list. This can be a helpful tool for organizing your activities in the near future – but have you ever thought of developing a "to do" list for long-term goals, such as a comfortable retirement? If not, you may want to think about it – and here are a few list-worthy items to consider:

• Examine – and re-examine – your planned retirement age. You may have long counted on retiring at a certain age, but are you sure that this goal is the best one for your overall financial situation? Think about it: If you like your job, and you stayed at it for just a few more years, you could significantly boost the funds in your 401(k) or other retirement plan, and you might even be able to delay taking Social Security, which, in turn, would result in larger monthly payments.

• Put a "price tag" on your retirement lifestyle. When you retire, do you want to travel the world or stay at home pursuing your hobbies? Will you truly retire from all types of work, or will you do some consulting or take up part-time employment? Once you know what your retirement lifestyle might look like, you can better estimate your costs and expenses – and this knowledge will help you determine how much you need to withdraw each year from your various retirement accounts, such as your IRA, 401(k) or other employer-based plan.

• Be aware of retirement plan withdrawal rules. It isn't enough just to recognize how much you need to withdraw from your retirement plans – you also must know how much you must withdraw. Once you turn 70 ½, you generally have to start taking money out of your traditional IRA and 401(k). These required minimum distributions, or RMDs, are based on your account balance, age and other factors, but the key word to remember is "required" – if you don't withdraw the full amount of the RMD by the applicable deadline, the amount not withdrawn can be taxed at a 50 percent rate.

• Review your health care situation. When you turn 65, you will likely be eligible for Medicare, but you'll want to become familiar with what it does – and doesn't – cover, so you can establish an annual health care budget. And if you are planning to retire early, which might mean losing your employer-sponsored health insurance, you will need to be prepared for potentially large out-of-pocket costs.

• Think about long-term care. One service that Medicare doesn't cover – or, at best, covers only minimally – is long-term care. If you faced an extended stay in a nursing home, the costs could be catastrophic. A financial professional may be able to help you find a way to reduce this risk.

• Develop your estate plans. Estate planning can be complex, involving many different documents – such as a will, a living trust, power of attorney, etc. – so you'll want to work with a legal professional to ensure you're making the right choices for yourself and your family.

By checking off these items, one by one, your retirement "to do" list will eventually get "done." And when that happens, you may find yourself pretty well prepared to enjoy life as a retiree.

Shamrocks tough out first-ever title

Westfield triumphed over Columbus East 16-13 in the Class 5A football state championship game at Lucas Oil Stadium Saturday evening. The Shamrocks were making their third appearance in the state finals, having made the 2A final in 1992 and the 5A title game in 2013.

By RICHIE HALL Reporter Sports Editor

Westfield's first-ever state championship football team was coached by a man who was mentored by one of the all-time greats.

No wonder the Shamrocks' play Saturday evening at Lucas Oil Stadium was so entertaining.

Westfield won the Class 5A title with a gritty 16-13 victory over Columbus East. This was the third time that the Shamrocks have appeared in the state finals, and it would be tempting to say "third time lucky." But luck had nothing to do with Westfield's victory.

"This season, to be honest, I absolutely thought we could do it," said Shamrocks coach Jake Gilbert, who played football for legendary coach Dick Dullaghan back when he was at Ben Davis. "So I'm not going to six years, for this to really happen, God is new 5A state championship record. good. That's the only explanation. We were meant to come here, this was meant to happen. The support we've gotten, the staff we've put together and the sheer work that these kids have put in. And the way that these kids have loved each other is just uncommon."

Westfield won the game with two things that have powered it along the entire season: Defense and special teams. The latter was easily identifiable on the scoreboard, as it translated into nine points from three field goals by Will Harrison.

The senior got the first score of the game at the 7:14 mark of the first quarter, when he kicked a 52-yarder. That's nothing new for Harrison, as he booted a 53-yard field

Harrison kicked two more field goals in the second period, a 44-yarder with 7:45 left in the quarter, and a 42-yard kick with 3:32 remaining.

"My team's around me and I'm around the team. It's just an amazing feeling. When all of those three went in, it was just amazing."

"If Will's not 3-for-3 on field goals last week, we don't win," said Gilbert. "If he's not 3-for-3 on field goals this week, we don't win. The man has kicked six field goals in two weeks."

Harrison's kicks helped keep Westfield within distance when the Olympians scored 13 points in the second quarter. Both of Columbus East's touchdowns were by pass. goal last week in the Shamrocks' semi-state The first came with 9:41 left, when Josh Harrison's field goals made the score 9-6 with seconds left in the first half. But Columbus East would score right at the end. "It just feels amazing," said Harrison. Jamon Hogan lateraled the ball to Voelker, who then threw the ball to Tyler Thomas, who was waiting right inside the goal line. He caught the ball for the touchdown, and Sam Thomasson's extra point kick made the halftime score 13-9.

> The Shamrocks held the Olympians to a three-and-out in their first drive of the second half, then put together a touchdownscoring drive of their own. Nate Froelich and quarterback Andrew Sweet marched the ball down the field, and Froelich finished up the

That would be the last score of the game, but there would still be some big plays to be made on the defensive end. Perhaps the biggest was late in the third quarter, when Columbus East was trying to answer Westfield's score.

sent its field goal unit out, but it was a fake. Never fear - Justin Frey was there to push the Olympians' Jonah Wichman out of bounds, and thus force a turnover on downs.

"I thought it was a huge play," said Frey. "It was a big momentum shift. We stopped them three times on the goal line, which was great by our defense. Our D-line played amazing all game."

Westfield through the fourth quarter. The Shamrocks forced Columbus East to punt minutes of clock in their next drive, and also got the Olympians to use one of their timeouts.

Columbus East had one last drive with 3:06 remaining, but two holding penalties forced the Olympians back to their own 3-yard line. Josh Major made an 18-yard run on 3rd-and-25 to get to his team's 21-yard line, but Caleb Sanburn stopped him on 4th-and-7 after a gain of two yards. tackles for a loss.

Hank Grenda and Josh Tuffnell led Westfield's defense with 10 tackles each. Grenda made six solo stops and had four assists, while Tuffnell had four solo tackles and six assists. Byron Hubbard made 1.5 sacks, while Calvin Caldwell had two
