City issues statement regarding...

Common Council resolutions on Noblesville Fieldhouse

The City of Noblesville announced today that the two separate resolutions planned to be presented to the Noblesville Common Council on Dec. 6 regarding Noblesville Fieldhouse, the new youth sports facility, and plans for Finch Creek Park, the city's sixth public park, have been postponed until the next meeting on Dec. 20. The resolutions, if approved, will enable the City to partner with Klipsch-Card Athletic Facilities, LLC to build the new $15 million Noblesville Fieldhouse at Finch Creek Park on Boden Road. It also allows the city to begin phase I on the 203-acre Finch Creek Park.

The plan to present the two resolutions on Dec. 6 was announced at a Nov. 29 news conference.

"We're excited to bring the resolutions to Council, but this postponement gives us extra time to work out the final details of the agreement between the two parties. Council also was in favor of the wait to ensure all nine members would be in attendance since this is a major decision for the City of Noblesville," said Robert Herrington, Noblesville public affairs manager. "Seeing the level of excitement from the community after our announcement, we look forward to working through this process to bring the Noblesville Fieldhouse to Finch Creek Park and meet the needs of our local youth sports."

The Noblesville Fieldhouse, to be owned and operated by Klipsch-Card, will

Keep updated on weather, road conditions

As winter weather returns to Westfield the city is reminding residents about a few ways to receive updates on weather and road conditions.

Residents are encouraged to stay up-to-date on snow plowing progress by visiting the city's website (www.westfield.in.gov) and clicking on the 'snow removal' tab. This map will be updated as plowing progresses.

Plowing in neighborhoods will be done in conjunction with BrightView and Practical Property Group.

Residents are also encouraged to visit the Indiana County Travel Advisory Map, found at the following website: <http://www.in.gov/dhs/traveladvisory/>. This map details what travel status – if any – a given county may be under during a snow event.

You can also download the Indiana Travel Advisory app for iPhone (<https://appsto.re/us/OHVw4.i>) in the App Store, and Android, found at this website (<https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=gov.in.traveladvisory>) in the Google Play Store.

Sheridan Fire Department receives pet oxygen mask kit donation

The Sheridan Fire Department received a pet oxygen mask kit donation. The masks help firefighters and EMS staff to give oxygen to pets who are suffering from smoke inhalation after they are rescued from fires.

First Responders with the Sheridan Fire Department can now consider themselves the best-equipped in the nation to save a pet's life. That's because Invisible Fence of Central Indiana has donated a pet oxygen mask kit, which consists of three different-sized pet masks, to the department.

This donation is just a small part of Invisible Fence® Brand's Project Breathe™ program, which was established with the goal of equipping every fire station in America and Canada with pet oxygen masks. These masks allow firefighters and EMS staff to give oxygen to pets who are suffering from smoke inhalation when they are rescued from fires and often save pets' lives.

Invisible Fence® Brand has donated a total of more than 12,400 pet oxygen masks to fire stations all over the U.S. and Canada throughout the life of the program. A reported 150+ pets have been saved so far by the donated masks.

Though human lives are the first priority, pets are considered valuable members of the family, and as a result of the "Project Breathe" program, the Sheridan Fire Department now has equipment specifically designed to help those that suffer from toxic smoke inhalation, according to Chief Bret Merriman.

Although the number of pets that die in fires is not an official statistic kept by the U.S. Fire Administration, industry web sites and sources have estimated the number at 40,000 to 150,000. Most of these succumb to smoke inhalation. In most states, emergency responders are unequipped to deal with the crisis. The loss is terrible for the family and heart wrenching for firefighters. The "Project Breathe"™ program gives firefighters the tools necessary to save pets' lives.

The company has set up a website, www.invisiblefence.com/why-invisible-fence/project-breathe, where local fire personnel can request the equipment for their own departments.

Holiday travel made easy: Is your tech ready?

(StatePoint) As families prepare for the holiday season, they also prepare to make big family trips, so make sure not to leave home without the proper tech reinforcements this year!

These tips will ensure you can savor the sweet moments and avoid potential hiccups!

Drive smarter. Hitting the road? Apps like Waze, a community-based traffic and navigation guide, offer immediate information and alternate routes that save time when everyone is heading out of town. Other apps, like GasBuddy, compare pricing for nearby gas stations so you can fuel up economically, making the drive convenient and worry-free.

Beat boredom en route. Even in the air, there are ways to keep the family entertained. Inflight internet services, like Gogo, allow for texting and surfing the web, so kids can keep up with their Candy Crush game and mom and dad can hop online to research travel activities. And if you are a T-Mobile customer, you get a free hour of Wi-Fi on every domestic flight! Take connectivity to the next level by plugging into a portable charger to ensure all your devices are fully charged for the duration of your flight and after you land.

Find your travel Zen. Ever been on a long train ride with an unhappy baby or snoring fellow rider? Drown out unwelcome disruptions by turning up the volume, and streaming unlimited music from services like Spotify, Apple Music and Pandora with Music Freedom from T-Mobile.

Pro tip: Noise-cancelling headphones help too! Seek out a comfortable pair designed to fit the unique contour of your ears – they are ideal for lengthy trips.

Make the most of travel downtime. Dealing with a delay or adjusting to a different time zone? Use the unplanned time to catch up on your favorite shows. You can stream services like Netflix, Hulu and YouTube on your phone with T-Mobile's Binge On and not only will you get through the series cliffhanger, none of your streaming will count against your high-speed data! Happy holidays indeed!

Stay connected even when abroad. Google's 2016 travel trends show that 85 percent of leisure travelers decide on activities to do from their mobile phone after they've arrived at their travel destination. You can avoid roaming charges while you wander out of the country with services like Simple Global from T-Mobile. It provides unlimited data and texting in more than 140 countries around the globe.

For the 50 percent of Americans who regularly travel to Mexico or Canada, a travel offering that spans an entire continent, like Mobile Without Borders, will be welcome news. It ensures you can text and post photos of guacamole and poutine all day with no (data) consequences.

Be the all-star family photographer. Essential for capturing photos throughout the holidays, selfie sticks are this year's unexpected travel necessity. Various types—compact, waterproof and Bluetooth enabled—are available at a range of prices. Whether you are headed on a morning hike or prepping the holiday feast, you'll capture memories the family will love for years to come.

A citizen’s email to elected officials

By MARY SUE ROWLAND

Recently the Common Council of Noblesville along with the Mayor and Deputy Mayor received an email from an informed citizen concerning the future of Noblesville. The subject was housing, commercial, infill, historic fabric and planning. The Common Council elected representatives are Greg O’Connor, Megan Wiles, Mark Boice, Brian Ayer, Rick Taylor, Roy Johnson, Mary Sue Rowland, Will Hampton and Chris Jensen. Deputy Mayor is Steve Cooke and Mayor is John Ditslear. Council members represent districts within the city plus three members represent the entire city. Six districts make up the city designation.

The citizen’s email follows in part:
“I understand that the city taxpayers are spending up to $35,000 for a housing study. I do see in the 269 page PLANoblesville Comprehensive Plan that it was a recommendation to do a residential housing analysis. However, it seems that for free, we should already know what the residents who actually pay the taxes expect. It’s also more affordable to make a photo copy of a similar study done in some of our benchmarked communities such as a Naperville, IL, Carmel, IN, West Lafayette, IN and on and on. Just in the last 2 years there was a very solid Noblesville updated comprehensive study and report spearheaded in the planning department. In addition to commenting on housing, the study and recommendations speaks for the city to invest in more trails, connectivity, reinvigorate the city gateway and corridors, infill on the city’s Southside with renovating the neighborhoods and having higher density and infill in the historic downtown as Carmel is doing very well over the last several years; and we will replicate with added character. Added infill and reinvestment in the blighted areas of downtown all helps fuel more retail, shopping, and business in the city core in addition to the accelerated reinvestment of other historic downtown housing and spurring new development as well. It also spoke of leveraging the River Walk, the need for a parking garage, and to improve connectivity west of the river and also east of SR 37. Many activities from this report are commencing with Federal Hill Park, the extended River Walk, discussions of downtown garages, Midland Trace, Finch Creek Park, etc. The improvements to Greenfield Avenue with the major roundabouts will also enhance the southern gateway and allow a nice flow towards HTC. These types of legacy investments not only make sense, but are in alignment with previous studies and a majority of taxpayer support. For all of that, kudos to the city leaders, including the Mayor and council for those endeavors.

Relative to housing, the residents want higher quality and more urban living options in the city core. Since pre-’08, too many production developments were approved and city leadership recognized this almost 10 years ago. Higher quality does not always mean more expensive. Our city has much more affordable housing than Carmel, Fishers, and Westfield. We also have great character with the diversity of styles, construction, etc. There is a real charm to our custom home developments in addition to the historic homes in the city core that represents several styles including brick/ masonry, Victorian and so many beautifully renovated older homes with distinction and character. Please raise the standards and expectations for higher quality construction and selectively market the right developments to build in our city.

I remain hopeful that the city will remain aggressive on completing Finch Creek Park, Federal Hill, the Midland Trace trail from the West side to HTC and focus higher density development to create a vibrant market for young entry level buyers, families and empty nesters where there are limited opportunities in downtown Noblesville currently. The concern is that developers will continue to target the lower density homes that do not maintain the integrity of previous long term planning where they want to maximize their short-term financial interest.
Standing tall and being selective pays off in the long term.”
An impressive email from a citizen who reads the Comprehensive Master Plan for Noblesville and can apply what is read. The city elected officials are planning work sessions in December and January with the intent to make some solid commitments to the future of Noblesville. It is time to make important changes to the vitality, implementation and planning for the community. It is time to invest in corridors, neighborhoods, beautification and dedication to the history of the community.

Friday night basketball...

Hot-shooting Fishers beat Noblesville

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

With only one starter back from last season, the new varsity players on this year's Fishers boys basketball team has been ready to prove what they can do.

So far, they're proving themselves well. The Tigers improved to 2-0 after beating Noblesville 60-47 Friday night at The Mill in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference opener for both teams. After trailing early, Fishers used hot shooting and solid defense to get the victory.

"We've got good shooters and we've got drivers, and we've got penetrators, and we've got kids that can play 'D.'" said Tigers coach Joe Leonard.

Noblesville jumped ahead 8-1 during the first three minutes of the game, with Grant Gremel scoring four points, including two off a steal by Max Flinchum. Fishers responded with a 10-1 run that quickly got it ahead 11-9. Armaan Franklin and Jamil Turner-Hall both hit 3-pointers during the run.

Franklin converted a traditional 3-point play to push the Tigers up 14-11 with a minute left in the period, but Flinchum tied the game at quarters' end with a 3-pointer. Flinchum would hit another '3' to get Noblesville ahead 17-16 early in the second period.

Fishers got the lead back for good after Jeremy Szilagyi, who made five 3-pointers in the Tigers' opener Wednesday, made his first long-range shot of the game to get his team up 19-17. The Tigers never trailed after that.

"This team, I feel is covered at almost every angle as far as driving, and you've seen how hard they defend," said Leonard.

Flinchum made another 3-pointer to get Noblesville within 23-22, but Fishers' Willie Jackson answered with his own '3,' then made a steal that led to an easy basket for Turner-Hall. The half ended with the Tigers ahead 31-25.

Noblesville got to within two points twice in the third quarter, with Flinchum's 3-pointer cutting the Fishers lead to 34-32. The Tigers responded with a 6-0 run to get back ahead 40-32, and closed the quarter with eight more unanswered points, with Joe Counts and Szilagyi making 3s.

Fishers finished the third period ahead 48-36, and steadily increased its lead to 60-41 with 2:29 left in the fourth quarter, with the Millers scoring the game's last six points.

Jackson finished with 16 points, while Franklin scored 10. Szilagyi totaled three 3-pointers in the game for nine points. Overall, the Tigers shot 22-of-35 from the field, or 63 percent.

FISHERS

"Give Fishers credit," said Noblesville coach Brian McCauley. "I thought they made some shots. We had some defensive breakdowns that allowed them to get some looks.

" When they shoot that percentage for the game, we're not going to beat many teams. So we got to continue to get better defensively and that's what we got to focus on in practice."

Flinchum drained four 3-pointers on his way to 22 points, while Gremel scored 10 points.

The Tigers are back in action tonight, traveling to Wisconsin to take on Beloit Memorial. Noblesville, now, 1-2, is off until next Friday, when it hosts Carmel.

First-ever Circle City Conference game...

Roncalli runs past Golden Eagles

Guerin Catholic's boys basketball team fell 62-54 to Roncalli in the first-ever Circle City Conference game.

The Golden Eagles (1-1) dug themselves into a big hole with "poor shot selection and fouls," said Coach Pete Smith. His team shot 13 3-point shots in the first half and only connected on three. Meanwhile, veteran point guard Matthew Godfrey played less than six minutes after picking up his third foul. To add further trouble for GC, back-up point guard Conner Osswald re-injured his ACL two minutes into the first quarter replacing Godfrey. Osswald was helped to the locker room and Smith said he will be evaluated as to the severity of the injury on Monday.

The Rebels (2-0) fed off of the two point guards' absence and raced to a 30-13 second quarter lead before a 3-point field goal by Will Morris and Luke Godfrey's '3' cut the halftime lead of Roncalli's to 30-19.

Jack Hansen scored 10 of his 16 points in the third quarter powered the Golden Eagles to tie the game 40-all heading into the fourth quarter. But Roncalli's senior standout Christian Stewart's 13 points in the final stanza on his way to a game-high 31 points were too much for Smith's ball club Friday night.

"We showed a lot of grit in the third quarter comeback, but we have to defend better. We shot 7 free throws and they shot 25. That's not Guerin Catholic Basketball; we normally find ways to shoot more free throws than our opponents. That really hurt our chances," said Smith.

Guerin Catholic will stay in the county and play at Hamilton Heights Saturday night. "I'll be interested to see how our team handles some adversity after a loss like tonight," Smith said.
