Development features culinary and entertainment center...

Fishers proposes The Yard for 116th, IKEA Way

The Fishers' entrepreneurial city took another step forward today with the announcement of a proposed development featuring a culinary and entertainment center. The development, called The Yard, is a private investment of at least $40 million planned for the southeast corner of 116th Street and IKEA Way.

"One of the things I hear the most from our Fishers residents is the desire for more local food and entertainment options," said Mayor Scott Fadness. "An investment in a culinary-hub of amenities is a crucial component to attracting top-talent and retaining a thriving entrepreneurial culture. This development will serve the companies located in the budding corporate corridor as well as the residents of our community."

Proposed on 17 acres by Thompson Thrift Retail Group, the culinary and entertainment center intends to attract first-class amenities and local culinary entrepreneurs to Fishers. The development plans to house a collective of 10-12 individual concepts; however the exact site-plan may shift depending on demand in the area.

In the heart of the development, situated on an acre of greenspace, a shared culinary center will foster the advancement of the culinary arts and entrepreneurship in the greater-Fishers area. The city will master lease two 1,500 square feet buildings to be used as a culinary and/or restaurant accelerator. While details on the accelerator effort are still being finalized, Mayor Fadness has asked the Indiana Restaurant and Lodging Association to assist in the concept development to ensure the endeavor meets the needs of the industry.

"Recently Central Indiana has been prominently recognized, nationally and internationally, as a culinary destination. We are pleased that Mayor Fadness and the Fishers leadership have allowed the hospitality industry to play a key role in this creative collaboration," said Patrick Tamm, President and CEO of the Indiana Restaurant

& Lodging Association. "We look forward to continuing our work with the city in creating a unique venue that allows the continued growth and innovation in the culinary industry while building a destination that foodies, families, and all will enjoy."

"The culinary accelerator concept demonstrates that our ecosystem cultivates innovation across different industries," added Mayor Fadness. "I look forward to collaborating with the restaurant industry's 'culpreneurs' on this concept as it comes to fruition."

Finding common ground on Pleasant Street

By STEVE COOKE
Noblesville Deputy Mayor

On December 13, the City of Noblesville held an information meeting for the public to hear about the current status of our plans for a new east-west corridor.

It was an opportunity for our Engineering Department to recap two decades worth of studies, and to present new data that further defined the need for this project and the reason why administration believes Pleasant Street is the most efficient and effective route for this reliever.

For anyone wanting to review the presentation, please visit www.cityofnoblesville.org and find "Alternative Vehicular East-West Corridor Study" under the Recent News section.

Despite how important the numbers are to the City, standing before the many concerned citizens who packed our Council Chambers to compare four alternative routes, it hit home with me how this project is about more than just data.

This potential project is about community. It's about neighbors. It's about history.

It's also about the future – an opportunity to do something transformative. And, yes, it's about vision.

I want to relate what I heard that night from some citizens, and how these perceptions differ from what we hope this project could become – but without going into the data.

Godby donations part of WISH-TV surprise squad

Recently local television station, WISH-TV and their Surprise Squad, made a visit to an Indianapolis family. Along with WISH-TV was Hamilton County businessman Jeff Godby of Godby Home Furnishings. Godby donated a kitchen table, cocktail table, beds, dresser and a couch to the family of Tamika Peterson, a single mom of seven children. The family was living in an Indianapolis apartment with no furniture.

Travel tips for this weekend's winter weather

The Indiana Department of Transportation is monitoring multiple weather forecasts predicting a mix of rain, freezing rain, snow and ice to move across Indiana beginning Friday evening.

A few degrees can mean the difference between rain, ice or snow, so freezing rain can be difficult for forecasters to pinpoint far in advance. INDOT maintenance supervisors will continue monitoring developing conditions and reports from law enforcement and the public to supplement local weather forecasts.

If the forecast indicates frost or other freezing weather, INDOT sprays a salt-water mixture to pre-treat bridges, which are likely to freeze first. If a storm is predicted to lead off with rain, salt trucks pre-treat our roads just before pavement temperatures fall below freezing and the snow and ice begin to accumulate.

INDOT will adjust its call out of manpower, trucks and materials as appropriate to address changes in forecasted and observed road conditions. Trained INDOT employees are on call to staff plow trucks around the clock with alternating 12- to 16-hour shifts.

Freezing rain and ice can be the most dangerous and difficult conditions for drivers and plow trucks because it affects vehicles of all sizes, including those with four-wheel drive. Motorists are strongly encouraged to avoid non-essential travel within the times and areas where a coating of ice is forecasted to accumulate.

WEATHER

Here are several steps that drivers can take to minimize the risk of losing control on icy roads:

- Consult hourly weather forecasts and schedule high-speed and long-distance trips during the warmer hours of the day. This will help save the extra time needed to slow down and drive according to the conditions.
- Know before you go by checking the red-yellow-green traffic speeds on your map app or <http://indot.carsprogram.org>.
- Monitor current air temperatures and slow down if conditions are near or below freezing. Watch how salt trucks, emergency vehicles and other drivers are responding to the weather.

- Apply anti-lock brakes firmly when encountering ice. Pump brakes that are not anti-lock. Do not overcorrect with steering.

Drivers can monitor road conditions and traffic alerts across the state at any time. Visit www.TrafficWise.IN.gov or dial toll-free 800-261-ROAD (7623) for INDOT's TrafficWise Traveler Information Service. Subscribe to receive text and email alerts about INDOT projects and services at <http://bit.ly/INDOTsubscription>.

COOKE

trucks speeding by overhead at 60 miles per hour to get out to I-69 more quickly.

We see a low-speed, ground-level urban roadway with local drivers traversing at 35 mph around curves, over bridges, through intersections of stoplights and roundabouts, and going from home to work or to shopping on State Road 37.

Some people think downtown will become a forgotten blip on an old, faded map since locals are no longer driving through it on Conner Street anymore.

We see downtown as a destination in itself – because it already is – and will be even more so as new apartments, town-homes, retail shops and restaurants sprout up from empty lots to add to the vibrant character already lining the square.

Some people are worried that friends in Southwest Quad or Old Town won't be able to walk to a neighbor's or to Uptown Cafe for lunch due to all the traffic running east-west.

We see today's traffic as worse barriers for getting around – for any mode of transportation. The addition of controlled intersections and the Midland Trace Trail vastly improve the safe walkability and bikeability of all the neighborhoods south of downtown. And the same goes for the neighborhoods west of the river that would also be connected to this new road and trail.

Some people are devastated by the potential loss of their home should it be in the path of the expanded and extended Pleasant Street.

And for that – I have no easy answer.

I can tell you about traffic counts and compare the costs of building out the various routes. I can tell that we can't stop this project for 10-20 residents if it benefits 60,000 or more. I can tell you about a great many benefits, and talk about progress – but none of that matters when it's your home or neighborhood.

And that's why City leaders are called upon to make difficult decisions – especially when there are no easy answers. All we can do is pledge to work to make this project the best it can be considering the challenges we face.

We can require progressive design standards that focus on public safety as well as aesthetics. We can honor our responsibility to our fellow neighbors and find affordable housing options for those who may be displaced. We can minimize the risks to our proud history – and find ways to ensure the story of Noblesville's past continues to be told because we were bold enough to see the possibilities for the future.

We can do this if we look for common ground and work together. Please continue to stay engaged. If you're interested in signing up to receive a future e-newsletter on this and other projects, e-mail MakingMoves@noblesville.in.us.

And look for more public meetings to come in 2017.

Until next time, see you on the square.

THE YARD

On Monday, Dec. 19, the Fishers City Council will consider an economic development agreement with Thompson Thrift Retail Group for the project. The agreement includes the establishment of a TIF district consisting of the parcels—previously unincorporated—associated with this project and issue economic development bonds of which the proceeds will be available to the developer. The amount of the bond will be driven from the assessed value created by the project and is anticipated to be approximately $7 million. The agreement also includes the waiver of impact fees.

"We believe this site offers the opportunity to develop a truly unique project," said Ashlee Boyd, Managing Partner of Thompson Thrift. "We are very excited to partner with the city to create an entertainment and culinary destination that will be a lasting asset to the City of Fishers and surrounding communities."

News: One day last summer a small, nondescript pooch strayed into the City Building. Because the little dog had a pathetically friendly appeal, Mrs. Charlotte E. Richwine, secretary in the City Sanitation Dept., took the "mutt" home to her children. Last week daughter Linda, 19, a student at Indiana Central Business College, leaned over to give the animal a scrap of food. In doing so, the contact lens in her left eye dropped out. The family searched the area diligently, thinking at first the lens had fallen into the rug fibers on the floor. After about 30 minutes of fruitless searching, Gregg, one of Mrs. Richwine's twin sons, began examining the dog on a hunch the lens may have dropped into the animal's fur. As he lifted the head upward, Gregg looked into the dog's left eye. There in one corner of the eye was Linda's contact lens. Pooch and family made a trip to the veterinarian where the lens was retrieved intact. It might have been interesting to observe a "monocled" dog, especially if he "put on airs" with others of his species while still attempting to steer a straight course.

Community Health Network launches new website

Finding a doctor, scheduling an appointment, even paying a bill is now easier for patients of Community Health Network with the launch of a newly-designed website – eCommunity.com.

Using the most powerful web content management technology, Community Health Network is the first healthcare system to launch a website using Acquia Lift in Drupal 8, connecting patients to services in hospitals, health pavilions, doctor’s offices, workplaces, schools and homes.

“Community Health Network is breaking the mold of what users have come to expect from health care provider websites, and its new site is a prime example of innovation in the patient experience,” said Vangie Cleversey, senior VP of customer success at Acquia.

The site’s new experience begins with the home page, and a welcoming “How May We Help You” call-to-action with easy-to-read icon choices, helping users navigate to places they want most.

Created by proven healthcare technology innovators and a co-founder who helped develop the technology for the popular travel site Kayak, Community’s “Find a Doctor” tab allows patients to search for their providers by geography, type of provider, and/or condition. Kyrus ProviderMatch powers this search, helping match patients with providers more accurately and offering a new level of insight into the providers at Community Health Network.

“Enhancing patient access is central to our mission at Kyrus,” said Julie Yoo, Co-Founder and Chief Product Officer. “More and more patients are searching for providers online and we’re honored to help Community Health Network optimize the search experience on eCommunity.com.”

One of the top reasons visitors come to eCommunity.com is to search for career opportunities. Now job-seekers can easily access the entire Community site, and gain a better understanding of the organization and the positions available, providing a better user experience in a competitive hiring market.

“The new eCommunity.com is intuitive, innovative and simple to use,” said Kyle Fisher, chief strategy and innovation officer for Community Health Network. “The new site is the digital answer to Community’s promise of ‘exceptional care, simply delivered’ -- all from the comfort and ease of a desktop, tablet or smartphone.”

ISP receives donation of 95 Automatic External Defibrillators

On Monday, Dec. 12, the Bolt For The Heart (BFTH) foundation continued to deliver on the promise to equip Indiana State Police patrol vehicles with lifesaving Automatic External Defibrillators (AED) with the gift of 95 additional AED’s. This was in addition to the more than 50 AED’s presented to ISP in March of this year.

At the presentation event, held at the State Fairgrounds’ Indiana Farm Bureau Building, the Superintendent of the Indiana State Police, Doug Carter, thanked Pierre Twer, founder of the BFTH organization. Additional speakers present at today’s donation event were members of the various organizations that made today’s donation event possible: Jon Goble, president of IU Health North Central Region, Greg Dedinsky MD, cardiac surgeon from Columbus Regional Health, and Lt. David Kirkham, president of the Indiana State Police Alliance.

What truly helped bring home the importance and significance of the donation of AED’s was the personal story story shared by Pastor Daniel Schumm, of Cornerstone Lutheran Church, Carmel. His recounting of how an AED being present at the right place, and at the right time, cemented in everyone’s mind the lifesaving capability of an AED when it’s readily available.

More About Bolt For The Heart

The donation of the AED’s to the state police was borne the result of an experience Pierre Twer had while running in the 2010 Boston Marathon. During that race Pierre witnessed another marathon runner suffer a cardiac arrest. That runner was saved by an AED.

This inspired Pierre to collaborate with Heart Reach Carmel and establish the Bolt for the Heart 5K Family Thanksgiving Run, of which 2016 was the fifth year for the run and the second consecutive year the Indiana State Police was the primary recipient of the AED’s. Since its inception, this 5K run has grown from 41 runners to more than 2,800 that participated this past Thanksgiving Day.

Each year since the run started 100 percent of the proceeds have been used to purchase AED’s for donation to not for profit organizations.

In 2015, the Board of Directors of Bolt for the Heart identified the Indiana State Police as the recipient of AED’s from funds raised in the 2015 Thanksgiving Day run, which ISP Supt. Carter was also a registered runner. In fact Supt. Carter ran the entire 5K run in full state police uniform!

At the conclusion of the press conference attending troopers were issued their AED’s and placed window stickers on their patrol cars to easily identify the police vehicle was equipped with an AED.

Great battle at The Rock...

Mertens basket sends Millers past Westfield

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

No one watching Friday's Noblesville-Westfield boys basketball game at The Rock was surprised that it came down to a basket at the buzzer.

Corby Mertens
Noblesville

The Millers were the team that made the shot, as Corby Mertens' jumper with time running out lifted Noblesville to a 43-41 Hoosier Crossroads Conference victory. It was the first league victory of the season for the Millers, and moved their record to 3-3 overall. "I was proud of how our guys found a way to win," said Noblesville coach Brian McCauley. He said that a team playing on the road in a conference game needs to get defensive stops, and the Millers got those when they needed them. And of course, Mertens' shot was a big one.

"I'm proud of Corby," said McCauley. "He's really responded well the past two games. He's been very unselfish. He's been a great teammate and he was rewarded today with his attitude. I think his solid attitude allowed him to play really well tonight."

Noblesville had to hold off a comeback by the 'Rocks to get the win. The Millers led 38-32 early in the fourth quarter before Aaron Bennett made a 3-pointer. Mertens answered with a layin, but Westfield's Ian

Kristensen kept making baskets to keep the Shamrocks in contention. Kristensen's layin with around a minute to go is what tied the game at 41-41.

The fourth period mirrored the contest's first period. Noblesville was able to keep a lead, but the Shamrocks stayed close. Kristensen scored seven points in the first quarter, which ended with the Millers ahead 12-11. Nolan Ginther gave the Millers four points, and Grant Gremel hit a pair of jumpers towards the period's end.

"It really didn't come down to that last shot," said Westfield coach Shane Sumpter. "I thought the game really came down to them getting more easy baskets than us. They got six points off of out-of-bounds plays tonight. So they got a lot of easy baskets that we did not get. Everything that we got we really had to work for. But credit Noblesville for that."

Kristensen's jumper gave Westfield the lead at 13-12 early in the second. Noblesville responded with Mertens grabbing a rebound and sending it Rico Duncan, who easily scored. Mertens then hit a couple of 3-pointers late to make sure the Millers kept the lead at halftime, although Caleb Welch's 3 toward the halftime buzzer kept Westfield within 20-18.

Mertens finished the game with 12 points. Ginther added eight, with three more Millers adding seven points: Duncan, Gremel and McGwire Plumer, who also handed out four assists. Duncan led the rebounding with six boards.

Kristensen led all scorers with 21 points. Caleb Welch added eight; both he and Jonah Welch grabbed five rebounds. Josh Van Dyke dished out four assists.

Both teams are back in action tonight, again in big rivalry games. The Millers host Hamilton Heights at The Mill, with the Shamrocks traveling to Tipton. Tipoff for both contests is 7:30 p.m.

Royals sweep Mudsock games at the Coliseum

Playing on a big stage, the Hamilton Southeastern and Fishers basketball teams put on a big-time Mudsock show.

The Royals swept both games, which took place in the Pepsi Coliseum at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. In the girls contest, Southeastern got past Fishers 62-57. The boys then took to the court, with HSE needing double overtime to beat Fishers, 86-80.

After a close first quarter in the girls game, the Class 4A No. 5 Royals went on a 19-11 second period run to take a 31-22 lead into the locker room at halftime. The Tigers cut HSE's lead to 42-37 after the three quarters, and both teams poured in 20 points in the final period.

Bre Lloyd had an outstanding game, with 26 points and six steals. Sydney Parrish also made her presence known, with 15 points, five assists and five blocks. Amaya Hamilton grabbed seven rebounds.

Audrey Turner reached double-double status for the Tigers with 19 points and 10 rebounds. Joining her in double digit scoring were Toni Grace with 18 points and Skylar Fulton with 10. Grace also had five steals. Kenedi London dished out five assists, and Turner blocked three shots.

Southeastern is now 12-2, while Fishers is 5-8. In the Hoosier Crossroads Conference standings, HSE leads the way at 4-0, while the Tigers are 0-4. The Royals host Plainfield on Thursday, while Fishers is off until Dec. 29, when it begins play at the Southwestern Tournament.

The boys game was a roller-coaster. An 18-14 HSE lead after the first quarter turned into a 28-28 tie at halftime. The Royals blasted through the third period to take a 50-38 lead, but the Tigers came storming back to end regulation in a 65-65 tie.

Jamil Turner-Hall scored a basket for Fishers to send the game into overtime. Both teams scored 10 points in the first extra period, with HSE outscoring the Tigers 11-5 in the second OT.

Zach Gunn poured in 33 Southeastern points, including three 3-pointers. Aaron Etherington added 16 points, Noah Smith scored 15 and Jack Davidson had 10. Turner-Hall scored 26 points for Fishers, with Armaan Franklin contributing 16 and Jeremy Szilagyi throwing in three 3-pointers on his way to 11 points.

The Tigers are 2-3 and host Muncie Central on Tuesday. The Royals are now 5-1 and play at Pendleton Heights on Wednesday. The Royals also lead the HCC at 2-0, with Fishers at 1-1.

Unfortunately for the Greyhounds, the Panthers got a sweep. In a match-up of No. 1 vs. No. 2, the top-ranked North Central boys pulled away from second-ranked Carmel in the second half, handing the 'Hounds their first loss of the year 59-45 at the NC gym. In the boys game, the Greyhounds slowly built a lead in the first half. Carmel was ahead 14-12 after the first quarter and 32-28 at halftime. But the Panthers blasted through the third period 19-5, putting them ahead 47-37, and they were able to run out the fourth quarter.

Sterling Brown led Carmel with 22 points, draining four 3-pointers. PJ Baron grabbed seven rebounds, with John Michael Mulloy getting six boards and also blocking three shots. Brown had five rebounds as well.

Lawrence North too powerful for Golden Eagles

Lawrence North's boys basketball team flexed their muscles Friday night and defeated Guerin Catholic 60-41.

The state's No. 7-rated Class 4A squad led after every quarter, although Coach Pete Smith's squad did outscore LN 8-7 in the second stanza to only trail the Wildcats 21-13 at the halftime intermission. Guerin Catholic only shot 16.7 percent from the field in the first half and were only 1-6 from the free throw line. "And we committed nine turnovers by halftime also," said Smith.

Lawrence North (4-1) had an 11-0 run during the end of the third quarter and start of the fourth quarter, and maintained a double-digit lead throughout the final eight minutes.

Guerin Catholic (2-4) committed 17 turnovers compared to LN's four, which Smith said was a telling tale of what went wrong. "We're really battling the turnover bug the past two games, and they're too talented to give them 13 more possessions where they got shots up. We need to get better of valuing the basketball and each possession, and need to do that sooner than later."

Jack Hansen was the leading scorer and rebounder in the game, scoring 14 points and grabbing nine rebounds. Luke Godfrey added nine points as he made 3-of-4 field goal attempts. His brother Matthew Godfrey had nine assists.

Guerin Catholic will play at Lafayette Jeff tonight, where Smith's former assistant Scott Radeker is in his seventh season as head coach of the Bronchos.
