McKinney calls for Hern's resignation...

Hern admits to criminal mischief charges

By JEFF JELLISON
Hamilton County Councilman Jeff Hern on Wednesday admitted to his involvement in a missing campaign sign case. Hern was charged with criminal mischief in October 2016 after he became the focus of an investigation involving reported stolen campaign signs belonging to fellow councilman Rick McKinney.

In April, prior to the 2016 primary election, McKinney filed a theft report with the Hamilton County Sheriff's Department indicating several of his campaign signs had been stolen. McKinney found a cellphone, later determined to belong to Hern, at one location of his missing signs.

Following Wednesday's hearing, Rick

McKinney issued the following statement:

"Today, Jeff Hern agreed to a plea agreement for his criminal behavior in 2016. The Special Prosecutor deliberated carefully and exercised his discretionary judgement in not filing a felony charge against him, but the highest possible misdemeanor charge, which is just under the level of felony. As part of the plea agreement, I am to receive a formal written apology from him and financial restitution."

Hern

In his statement McKinney also called for Hern to resign his council seat. "My concern through this entire period of time is that someone who is doing wrong should not profit from their actions. Therefore, I repeat my original call for Jeff Hern to resign immediately from the Hamilton County Council. If he refuses then I believe the Republican State Chair or the Hamilton County GOP Chair has the power and authority to strip him of his membership in the Republican Party, and should do so now, in order to prevent him from running in the 2020 Republican Primary"

Hern's attorney, Jennifer Lukemeyer, stated, "The parties submitted an Agreement to Withhold Prosecution. In the agreement he (Hern) admitted to criminal mischief, not theft."

Special Prosecutor Brent Eaton stated, "Hern was not treated differently than anyone else in other cases of similar circumstances. He had no past criminal activity and he is accepting responsibility." Eaton explained that if Hern meets the requirements of the agreement and refrains from criminal activity for one year charges would be dismissed.

When you go through a cancer diagnosis, you meet a lot of people in the same position. Unfortunately, the results are not always good and sometimes this can "take your breath away". Another 146th Street crash injures three

A crash on 146th Street at Hazel Dell Road injured three people Tuesday evening.

Three motorists were injured in a crash involving four vehicles on 146th Street at Hazel Dell Road on Tuesday evening.

Deputies were dispatched on a report of a crash with serious injury at approximately 7:23 p.m. on May 23. Initial callers reported an unconscious male and a motorcyclist pinned between two vehicles on 146th Street.

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office Crash Team was called in to investigate the crash. According to the initial report, investigators believe Jason R. Smith, age 42 of Noblesville, driving a black 2013 Land Rover, was eastbound on 146th Street at Hazel Dell Road when he rear-ended Joshua A. Bartock, age 29 of Noblesville, who was riding an orange 2007 Suzuki motorcycle. The impact of the collision ejected Bartock and the Land Rover continued, hitting the back of a black 2017 Chrysler Pacifica driven by Scott Sampson, age 42 of Noblesville. The Pacifica was then pushed into a fourth vehicle, a gray 2014 Land

The origin of Memorial Day

By FRED SWIFT

Surprisingly few people seem to know the origin and specific reason for Memorial Day. Most folks say it's something we've always had, it's a day to put flowers on graves of deceased family members, it's a day off from work or, in our area, its Race Day.

Of course, this purely American holiday had its beginning in the Civil War. There were so many war dead that communities began

Kroger announced as new partner of Symphony on the Prairie

The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra and Kroger are proud to announce the beginning of a new partnership which ensures the continuation of a long-standing Hoosier tradition, Kroger Symphony on the Prairie. As the outdoor concert series continues into its 36th year, visitors to Conner Prairie will enjoy the familiar sights and sounds of the ISO with the support of Kroger thanks to a four-year sponsorship commitment.

"We are grateful to Kroger for stepping forward on short notice to partner with the ISO as the new title sponsor of Symphony on the Prairie," said ISO Chief Executive Officer Gary Ginstling. "The future is bright for Kroger Symphony on the Prairie, and we look forward to bringing this well-loved tradition to Indiana families for many years to come."

In addition to ticket sales online and at the ISO box office, tickets to all Kroger Symphony on the Prairie concerts will be available at 21 Central Indiana Kroger locations beginning this morning. These locations can be found on the ISO website, www.IndianapolisSymphony.org. Kroger customers will also enjoy a discounted ticket price only available through their stores with a Kroger Plus Card. Patrons can conveniently purchase their tickets and picnic supplies at their neighborhood

Kroger store.

"Kroger opened its first Indiana stores in 1928. In the years since then, Hoosiers have learned they can rely on Kroger to be a generous, supportive community partner, very much a local grocery store," said Katie Wolfram, President, Kroger Central Division. "Working with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra is an extension of our commitment to make the world a better place. The ISO does it through music. We do it through food. And with that combination, the best in each field, it is hard to imagine a more uplifting partnership than also had lung cancer. We both had the same doctor at IU Health. Our salesperson was a great guy and I vividly remember running into him about a year ago at the IU Health Hospital. We were both there for a "full day" checkup. Basically they run all kinds of tests on you and you have to visit several departments. The IU Health Hospital in Indy is very large and somewhat intimidating.

I had a horrible night leading up to this. To make a long story short, my stomach was completely upset from radiation and I had to take pills to relieve constipation that was caused by one of my other drugs. It was just one of those days where you wonder what else could possibly happen. On top of all this, I had 12 p.m. appointment at IU Health which is basically downtown Indianapolis.

I walk in and I'm a bit confused by the facility, and I run right into our salesperson who is also there for his appointment. We are both checking in and waiting to be called for our appointment. Our salesperson goes right up to the nurse and says, "This is my boss and you need to make sure and take good care of her." Of course I was embarrassed by the attention but appreciated him going out of his way to make sure I was getting treated in a timely manner. He was just one of those awesome guys.

In the midst of us selling the store, I have not been in touch with everyone on a daily basis and I guess I just assumed the salesperson was doing fine. Tuesday morning I woke up to all kinds of Facebook posts talking about the death of this salesperson. I was stunned and it literally takes the breath out of you. How could this happen? He was doing fine when I was there... What happened? It's the kind of shock that stays with you all day.

Something similar happened to me approximately two years ago. This time I was waiting to go into chemotherapy at St Vincent. This really, really tall guy walks up -- I am thinking that he was about 6'10". He was super nice as we were all waiting to go in for our treatments. It was Andrew Smith that played at Butler and he was just as nice as he could be. There's always a "bond" that forms among cancer patients. You really do not have to know each other personally for this bond to form. It is just a part of the "survival mode". I remember the emptiness that I felt when he died.

There are no guarantees in life, and I only hope that I can make a positive impression on people. I hate when people die!

However, one of the great lessons that I have learned is to try on a regular basis to have a positive influence on people. It is amazing how you can be helping people and have no idea how you have affected them. These two guys certainly brightened my day and I only hope that I can also do that for others.

Letter to the Editor

Remember the soldiers of World War I this Memorial Day weekend

When the United States officially entered World War I in April of 1917, the DAR quickly organized to meet the challenges of war. Ten days after war was declared, the DAR met at their annual Continental Congress. Members recognized the need for a special committee to coordinate relief work and established the War Relief Service Committee. The committee helped DAR members organize their volunteer efforts, which ranged from knitting garments for soldiers to training for food conservation. Many DAR members were also nurses serving in World War One, including Jane A. Delano who organized the Red Cross Nursing Service during the war. Additionally, after the war DAR members continued to support initiatives to help those suffering from the devastation in European towns after the war. World War One brought a new kind of warfare that the world had never seen and the casualties of that war, dead and wounded, totaled approximately 38 million making WWI among the deadliest conflicts in human history.

As the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution recognize the 100th anniversary of WWI, DAR Chapters across the country are planning memorial tributes to those fallen soldiers. The Horseshoe Prairie Chapter will be among those Chapters and will honor WWI fallen soldiers of Hamilton County at a special tribute this summer. In the meantime, please consider on this Memorial Day weekend the sacrifices these brave soldiers made 100 years ago in order to ensure our continued freedom and safety.

commemorating their entire group of local victims as early as 1862 before the war was over.

Actually, the name Memorial Day was not adopted officially until 1967, thus making this year the 50th anniversary. Before that time it was called Decoration Day by an older generation, but had gradually become known as Memorial Day and expanded to memorialize the victims of all wars.

In Noblesville there is a Civil War monument in Crownland Cemetery where May 30 ceremonies began nearly 150 years ago. Dozens of Union Army veterans are buried at Crownland. And, there is at least one Confederate veteran buried there.

Again this year, there will be solemn ceremonies at Crownland and several other cemeteries in Hamilton County on Memorial Day which is now May 29. The following is a list of times and locations for local observances conducted by the Noblesville American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At 11 a.m. ceremonies are scheduled at the Veterans Monument on the Courthouse Square. The honor guard will move on to Riverside Cemetery with a ceremony there by 11:30, then on to Crownland where the Legion and VFW will conduct brief services. Participants and guests will then retire to the Legion post for lunch.

The Fishers Legion will hold Memorial Day tributes at 10:30 a.m. on May 29 at Liberty Plaza near City Hall.

Members of the Westfield and Carmel VFW and Legion posts will conduct memorial exercises beginning at 9 a.m. at Hamilton Memorial Gardens followed about 9:30 with a ceremony at the Fallen Hoosier Memorial in Westfield, then at Little Eagle Creek Cemetery at 10 or shortly thereafter.

The honor guard will arrive at Farley Cemetery south of Carmel by 11 a.m. and then proceed to Carmel Cemetery between 11:30 and noon.

Attendance by members of the public is not only permitted, but is encouraged by the veterans groups who present a brief program, firing squad and playing of taps at each stop.

The ejection of Bartock from his motorcycle caused him to become pinned between two of the vehicles and the bike was wedged underneath. First responders said Bartock had severe injuries to his lower extremities and was taken to St. Vincent Hospital on 86th Street; however, an update on his condition was not available. Injuries to others involved were listed as incapacitating with complaints of pain and bleeding.

Investigators are working to determine if a medical issue prior to the incident may have led to the crash. As with all fatal and serious bodily injury crashes, toxicology tests were taken on those involved. Tests results are pending at this time.

Help Prairie Lakes bloom this weekend!

The REPORTER

Saturday, May 27 from 8 a.m. to noon, come out to Prairie Lakes at 9730 Prairie Lakes Blvd, Noblesville, to visit the residents and staff, plant some flowers, and help Prairie Lakes win this year's Campus in Color competition.

Campus in Color is a company-wide competition, and Prairie Lakes encourages everyone at their campus and throughout the community to take part in planting flowers in our courtyards, along walkways, and anywhere else they feel could use a pop of color or a bit more green.

If you don't already follow Prairie Lakes on Facebook and Twitter, now is a great time to start! Throughout this month, our campus Facebook and Twitter pages will be filled with pictures of our residents planting, preening, and just enjoying our outdoor spaces, which science has shown not only benefits the mind, but the body as well.

Time spent in the garden has been shown to have numerous therapeutic effects. In fact, the term 'horticultural therapy' is used for therapy based in and around gardens. People who garden have been shown to have lower levels stress. Maybe it's the fresh air or the warmth of the sun, or maybe it's the act of watching something grow from an unassuming sprout into a bright and beautiful bloom.

Whatever the reason, it's become clear that a daily dose of time spent outside among growing things is definitely a prescription worth taking.

This month, Prairie Lakes invites you to enjoy the outdoors, whether you stop by to get your hands dirty, admire their Girls tennis regionals...

Royals fall to Irish, Noble/Rich advance, Carmel wins

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Hamilton Southeastern gave it a good battle Wednesday in the championship of the North Central girls tennis regional before falling to Cathedral 4-1.

The match was played at the Indianapolis Racquet Club due to the rain. The Irish, the defending state champions and No. 2-ranked team in the state, won all four of their matches in straight sets.

But the No. 12 Royals' lone victory was an important one. The No. 1 doubles team of Katie Rich and Grace Noble won their match 7-6 (4), 7-5. Since Rich and Noble are out of the team tournament but unbeaten in the post-season, they will move on to the individual doubles event. The HSE duo will play North Central's team at 4:30 p.m. today at the Panthers' Barbara Wynne Tennis Center, although the match would be played at IRC if the weather is uncooperative.

"It's good to get to see Katie and Grace move on individually," said Royals coach Kirk Webber. "I'm glad to win at least one of the matches. We had high hopes coming in, but we knew Cathedral was going to be tough. I thought our girls, overall, fought hard."

Southeastern advanced to the final with a 5-0 win over Heritage Christian in Tuesday's semi-final match. The Royals finished their regular season with a 10-6 dual record, including a late-season win over No. 10 Carroll. Southeastern also finished second in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference

"Our only losses were to teams in the top 10 in the state," said Webber.

Webber was also happy with his four seniors, and glad they had a successful season. Noble is one of the seniors, along with No. 2 singles player Tory Ochs, and the No. 2 doubles team of Remi Musselman and Alicia Verde.

"Their leadership was great all year," said Webber.

Wednesday baseball, softball sectional games pushed back to today

Wednesday was supposed to be opening day for baseball sectionals in Hamilton County, but rain had other plans.

First-round action at the Class 4A Westfield and Class 1A Sheridan sites was pushed back to today. In addition, all Wednesday softball sectional games involving county teams saw their games rained out and re-scheduled.

At Westfield, North Central and Carmel will play at 4:30 p.m. The game will start early because tonight is Carmel's graduation, so the senior players will have time to get ready for their commencement. The second game, Noblesville vs. Hamilton Southeastern, will follow, at approximately 6 p.m.

Meanwhile, what had been a one-game schedule at Sheridan for Thursday is now two games. The Blackhawks will take on Tindley at 5 p.m., while University's game with Indiana School for the Deaf is now scheduled for 7 p.m.

In softball...

Hamilton Heights' two Wednesday semi-final games will be played today at this Class 3A sectional. Tipton takes on Yorktown at 5 p.m., followed by Guerin Catholic and Jay County facing off at 7 p.m.

Sheridan is playing at the Class 1A Lafayette Central Catholic sectional, and its semi-final game was also pushed back to today. The Blackhawks take on Rossville at 7:30 p.m., after a Clinton Central-Frontier match-up at 5:30 p.m.

The changes do not affect the schedule past Thursday - all Friday, Saturday and Monday games are still set for their original times.

Millers boys golf wins dual meet

The Noblesville boys golf team won a dual meet with Tipton Wednesday at Purgatory Golf Club.

The Millers carded a team score of 152 to the Blue Devils' 164. Clay Merchant shot 34 for Noblesville, with Parker Deakne scoring 37. Other Millers scores are Kyle Claussen 40, Mitchell Compton 41, Jacob Deakne 42, Jack Barnes 42 and Michael Podzielinski 48.

Back with A.J. Foyt Enterprises...

Daly seeing progress as 500 approaches

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Now that he's back with a familiar team, Conor Daly is hoping for a change of luck at Indy.

For the 101st running of the Indianapolis 500, which is just three days away, Daly returned to the team that gave him his first go at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway four years ago. Daly is back with A.J. Foyt Racing, driving the No. 4 car, which qualified 26th in the field of 33 with a speed of 226.439 mph.

This will be the fourth time that Daly, a 25-year-old Noblesville native, will race in the 500.

"It's good," said Daly after his Sunday qualifying run. "We've just been struggling a lot this week, so we're not in a very competitive position right now, which is a shame. But it's good to be back with this team. We've had a lot to learn so far this year. We just have to focus on the race ahead of us."

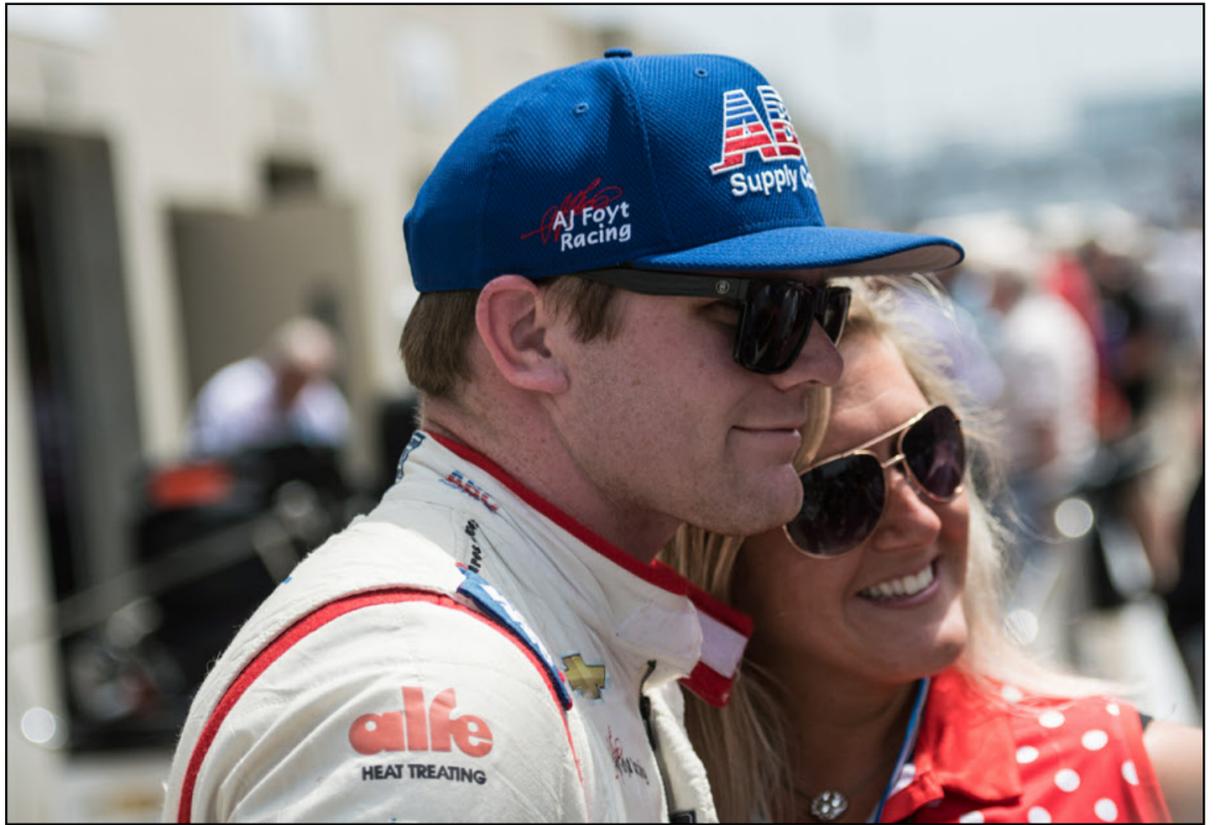

Daly's best run at the Speedway came in his rookie year, where he ran a steady race to finish 22nd.

"They gave me my first shot, so it's cool to be reunited," said Daly. "Still a lot of great people here that I worked with back then, and a lot of good new people as well. It's cool, man. It's a great team, great family, and I'm happy to be here."

Daly and his team have been looking for speed all month, finishing 17th at the Indy Grand Prix. But there were encouraging signs during Sunday's Pole Day qualifying. Daly ran his first lap at 227.144 mph, by far his fastest of the month, "so for sure we are making improvements," he said. "But it was definitely a difficult run. We're still not where we need to be mechanical grip-wise. But progress has been made, which is nice."

When Daly joined the A.J. Foyt Enterprises stable four years ago, he had just one teammate: Japan's Takuma Sato. After four years with Foyt, Sato signed up with Andretti Autosport.

Daly's return was part of a big change in the Foyt line-up for this season, as two other drivers joined the team. One of them is a big name: Colombian Carlos Muñoz. The 25-year-old (he and Daly were born less than a month apart) has had great success at Indy, finishing as runner-up in 2013 and 2016.

Conor Daly poses with a fan Saturday during the first day of qualifications at the Indianapolis 500. The Noblesville native qualified for his fourth 500, having returned to A.J. Foyt Enterprises.

"Carlos is obviously extremely talented," said Daly. "Really good driver, he's been so close to winning this race a couple times. Great to have him on the team."

The other driver is Zach Veach, a 22-year-old from Stockdale, Ohio. Veach is in his rookie year at the Indy 500, and the IndyCar Series in general, having made his debut at the Honda Indy Grand Prix of Alabama last month. Veach is fresh off a successful four-year run in the Indy Lights series, in which he has won six times.

"It's always cool to see your young rookie guy get a shot at the race. Just a good group for sure," said Daly.

As for Daly, he is happy to be back with Foyt, and ready for another run at his hometown track.

"We've got some big changes to make and some things to try, for sure, because we still need some speed and some stability in the car to be able to push hard in traffic," said Daly. "It'll be an interesting week, for sure, because we got a lot of work to do in a little bit of time. It should be fun."

Fans encouraged to arrive early, plan ahead for 101st Indianapolis 500

Just like last year, race fans are encouraged to arrive as early as possible for the 101st Running of the Indianapolis 500 presented by PennGrade Motor Oil on Sunday, May 28. With one of the largest crowds in decades expected to fill the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on Race Day, the easiest way to ensure a stress-free day at the track is to arrive by the time all gates open at 6 a.m.

"Momentum from the 100th Running has carried over into this year's race, and we expect our second-largest crowd in at least the last 20 years," Indianapolis Motor Speedway President J. Douglas Boles said. "So we're encouraging fans to get here early and take a little extra time to map out their route to the Speedway and fully plan their day at the track."

Gates at IMS open at 6 a.m. following the traditional cannon blast. From there, fans looking to beat traffic and avoid longer lines can take advantage of many fun opportunities, including:

- IMS Museum: The Museum, which opens at 6 a.m. on Race Day, features a special exhibit honoring legendary four-time Indianapolis 500 winner A.J. Foyt this year. Learn more about the Museum's world-renowned attractions here: www.indyracingmuseum.org.

- Fan Midway: This year's Fan Midway features several exciting attractions, including the NERF Nitro Kids

Zone and interactive activations from Yamaha, Crown Royal, Disney and more. The action-packed Chevy Stage is also in the lot adjacent to the Midway.

- Shopping and Food: A wide array of 101st Running attire and collectibles will go fast, so don't miss out. Shop for family and friends while supplies last. All concessions and retailers will open at 6 a.m.

- Borg-Warner Trophy March to the Bricks: Back by popular demand, the Borg-Warner Trophy will begin an epic March to the iconic Yard of Bricks at 8 a.m. from the IMS Museum. Line up outside the west side of the Museum for a chance to see one of the most famous trophies in the world - escorted by the Indianapolis 500 Gordon Pipers - begin its journey to Victory Podium.

- IMS Red Carpet: This year, the IMS Red Carpet is moving just north of Pagoda Plaza with celebrities walking the carpet from 9-10 a.m. The fans lining up in the viewing area earliest will have the best view of Race Day celebrities and also receive free Race Day swag.

- Rolling Stage: Also making a repeat appearance this year is the IMS rolling stage, which will begin circling the track at 10 a.m. Popular alternative rock band Jonathan Jackson + Enation will play in Turns 1, 2 and 4. Band leader Jonathan Jackson is a star on the CMT show "Nashville."

- Epic Pre-Race. Be in your seat for it: This year's pre-race ceremonies will serve as a fitting, stunning tribute to our nation's military heroes and continue as America's greatest Memorial Day Weekend sporting tradition. Be in your seat early to ensure you see every can't-miss moment.

Other Important Race Day Tips for Fans

- Plan Your Visit: Use IMS.com/planyourvisit to enhance your day at "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing." This central hub includes the most current information on parking, schedules, directions, allowed and prohibited items, and more.

- IMS App and Twitter: Download the IMS app, available on both iPhone and Android, before Race Weekend. Also follow the IMS (@IMS), Town of Speedway Police (@SpeedwayPD) and Indiana State Police (@IndStatePolice) accounts on Twitter for the latest Race Day information.

- Cooler, Backpack Restrictions: No coolers larger than 18 inches by 14 inches by 14 inches can be brought into the facility, which will be strictly enforced. Fans will be allowed to bring one cooler and one standard backpack or book bag per person.

- Parking: All IMS exterior parking lots open at 5 a.m. on Race Morning, while interior lots open at 6 a.m. All IMS exterior and interior parking is sold out. A limited number of IMS ADA parking passes remain available for purchase. These must be purchased before Race Morning at the IMS Ticket Office.

- Gate 2, Gate 10 Access: Gate 2 and Gate 10 are not accessible via car on Race Day without a pre-paid parking pass. Fans with a pre-paid parking pass in Turn 3 must enter IMS through Gate 10, not Gate 2.

- Road Closures: To increase the safety and security of race patrons, the Speedway Police Department will close Georgetown Road and 16th Street to all vehicular traffic during the running of the 101st Running of the Indianapolis 500.

Georgetown Road will be closed south of 25th Street beginning at 7 a.m. After Georgetown Road is closed, no vehicular traffic, including placarded traffic, will be allowed to access the roadway. Race patrons with pre-paid parking passes who are accustomed to entering IMS Gate 7 must enter through Gate 2 (W. 16th Street) or Gate 10 (30th Street).

Upon completion of the race, Georgetown Road will remain closed to vehicular traffic until the vast majority of race pedestrian foot traffic clears from the roadway (approximately two hours after the race).

In addition, 16th Street will be closed between Olin Avenue on the east to the 16th Street roundabout on the west from approximately 11 a.m. until the race ends. In addition, 16th Street will not be accessible from Polco Street, as it will be blocked at 10th Street.

Once 16th Street is closed, traffic traveling east on Crawfordsville Road from the west will be turned around at the 16th Street roundabout. Traffic traveling west on 16th Street from downtown will be diverted south on Olin Avenue.

- More Traffic, Road Information: Drivers can learn the locations of work zones and highway restrictions by calling INDOT's TrafficWise at 1-800-261-ROAD (7623) or viewing an online map at www.TrafficWise.IN.gov. ISP will offer updates on traffic and parking on Twitter and Facebook.

For more information regarding access to IMS, visit IMS.com. For additional information, follow on Twitter the Indiana State Police @IndStatePolice, the Speedway Police Department @SpeedwayPD or listen to radio stations WNFI-AM 1070 or WIBC-FM 93.1.

- Tickets: Visit IMS.com to purchase tickets for the 101st Indianapolis 500 Presented by PennGrade Motor Oil on Sunday, May 28, and for more information on the complete Month of May schedule at IMS.
