State Rep. Kathy Richardson named Fourth of July parade grand marshal

The REPORTER

Mayor John Ditslear has announced that Noblesville resident and longtime State Representative Kathy Kreg Richardson will serve as the grand marshal for the 2017 Noblesville Fourth of July Parade.

"State Representative Richardson is a familiar face in our parade and our community," said Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear. "She works tirelessly serving Noblesville residents and to improve the community and state she loves so dearly. She is a wonderful role model for not just young women but all residents, and I am excited to have her serve as grand marshal this year."

A lifelong resident of Noblesville,

Richardson has served District 29 residents in the Indiana House of Representatives since 1992.

"I am honored and excited. Having served on the Firework Festival since its beginning when Mayor Dennis Redick brought fireworks back to Noblesville," said Richardson. "Celebrating the Fourth of July has always been a special time for me, not only for celebrating America and our independence, but it has been a day of celebrating with family and friends."

After graduating Noblesville High School and attending Purdue University, Richardson's career started in 1976 as the deputy clerk of the Hamilton County Clerk's Office. By 1982 she was elected Hamilton County Clerk and in 1992 she was elected to the House of Representatives. Richardson continues to work in the Clerk's Office as the election administrator for Hamilton County.

When she is not serving residents in a government role, Richardson serves the community through volunteering. WRTV meteorologist Kevin Gregory's summer weather camp was a big hit in Fishers at Hamilton East Public Library on June 15.

Science takes Fishers students by storm

The REPORTER

It's spring and summer storm season, and students had the opportunity to learn about weather and see a "tornado in a box" as educators brought lessons to life in Fishers last week.

The Duke Energy/IUPUI Mobile Science Lab visited Hamilton East Public Library, 5 Municipal Drive, Fishers, on June 15. Local students met and learned from WRTV meteorologist Kevin Gregory and Samuel Ansaldi from IUPUI in hands-on demonstrations.

The mobile lab is equipped with working solar panels and a wind turbine to demonstrate how renewable power works. IUPUI educators use interactive technology tools from the lab to bring lessons to life. The aim is to encourage more students to pursue careers in science, math, engineering and technology.

required 75 points, but my ladies did an awesome job and brought our club in at a point goal of 133,” Templeton said. “We had 25 members that either ran for office, pc or delegate and had 31 members that when the call came to help out with campaigns they showed up sometimes more than once.”

After an amazing first year as president, Templeton said she was honored to represent all the hard-working club board and members in receiving of the award.

HCFRW has recently applied to the National Federation of Republican Women award “Caring for American.” The RIGHT NOW campaign that kicked off in February of this year has made the club eligible for this award. Whether or not the club received an award from the NFRW, it has been blessed to run and bring attention to locals about the needs of others in our community while supporting those who just need a little more TLC.

Christian Church of Noblesville; Noblesville Riverwalk Committee; and Hamilton County Extension Board.

“Noblesville is a special place, with special people. I love that as we have grown we still have a hometown feeling. We are a community that loves our traditions and values. Noblesville is my home,” Richardson said. As an elected official, Richardson participates in the city's parades and can be seen with her dogs, Sofie and Millie.

“I guess you could say ‘I love a parade.’ As a young girl I can remember our baton twirling group marching in the parade or our scout troop participating. When I was elected to the statehouse I wanted to show my support of the community by participating. It has been fun through the years with the different drivers and those that walk with me passing out candy,” she said. “It is fun along the route because I can just about know who is going to be in their special place to watch the parade every year.”

This year's festivities will take place on Tuesday, July 4 with the theme of “Dreams Come True: Under the Red, White and Blue!” The fun begins 30 minutes earlier this year with the parade starting at 4:30 p.m. followed by the fireworks festival sponsored by IDI Composites from 6 to 10 p.m. At approximately 10 p.m., the annual fireworks display sponsored by Terry Lee Hyundai will begin. The festival is free of charge and will offer activities for kids, teens and adults, music, food vendors and more.

The biggest challenge faced each year is finding enough volunteers to staff the festival and parade. Residents are asked to please consider donating a couple of hours of their time to help make this event a success – and receive a meal voucher. Volunteer shifts are 5:30 to 8 p.m. and 7:30 to 10 p.m. with opportunities to assist in monitoring the kids' activities and more. Volunteers still have plenty of time to enjoy the festival and fireworks with their family and friends before or after their shift. Some organizations can earn in-kind trade of discounted rates for facility rentals. Organizations volunteering with at least 10 volunteers and reaching 20 hours of service can earn a free four-hour court or shelter rental or Bubble Soccer outing. To volunteer or for more information, contact nhaberlin@noblesville.in.us or call (317) 770-5750.

More information about the upcoming Fourth of July festivities will be announced soon. For more information about sponsoring or donating to the activities, contact Kristi Spehler at 317-776-6350.

SCIENCE

About the Center for Earth and Environmental Science at IUPUI

The IUPUI Center for Earth and Environmental Science (CEES), established in 1997, is an interdisciplinary academic center with three core missions: applied research addressing environmental issues of concern to local communities, public service through translation of research to inform decision-making, and environmental science education

Discovering the Science of the Environment (DSE), the center's signature education initiative, promotes experiential science learning in K-12 schools throughout Central Indiana. The DSE program provides education modules aligned with Indiana state standards for science teaching and state-of-the-art technology to help deliver an interactive, inquiry-based education experience. Supported by a mobile science unit, the DSE program serves an estimated 3,000 students annually. Through the DSE program, CEES aims to increase environmental awareness and appreciation, enhance science teaching in Indiana schools, and spark interest among students in STEM careers.

With the grant from the Duke Energy

Foundation, CEES is expanding its educational offerings to include modules on renewable energy, as well as topics related to the energy of natural phenomena (storms and natural disasters).

To learn more about CEES, or to arrange for the mobile lab or a scientist to visit your school, visit the center's webpage. You can also follow CEES on Facebook or contact the center at cees@iupui.edu.

Westfield's Sanders Glen earns national award

The REPORTER

Sanders Glen Assisted Living has been recognized as a 2017 recipient of the Bronze – Commitment to Quality Award for its dedication to improving the lives of residents through quality care. The distinction is one of three progressive award levels through the National Quality Award Program, presented by the American Health Care Association and National Center for Assisted Living (AHCA/NCAL), the leading association for long term and post-acute care. The program honors association members across the nation that have demonstrated their commitment to improving quality of care for seniors and persons with disabilities.

"It's an honor to be recognized for our commitment to delivering quality care," said Sanders Glen Assisted Living Executive Director Sue Hamaker. "Going through the process of achieving the Bronze award has made our organization stronger."

The National Quality Award Program, which AHCA/NCAL established in 1996, is based on the core values and criteria of the Baldrige Performance Excellence Program, which is also the foundation of the metric-based AHCA/NCAL Quality Initiative. The Baldrige program helps organizations in different business sectors improve and achieve performance excellence.

The Award Program has three levels: Bronze, Silver, and Gold. Providers begin the quality improvement process at the Bronze level, where they develop an organizational profile with essential performance elements such as vision, mission statement, and key strengths and challenges. Bronze applicants must also demonstrate their ability to imple-

As a recipient of the Bronze - Commitment to Quality Award, Sanders Glen Assisted Living may now move forward in developing approaches and achieving performance levels that meet the Silver - Achievement in Quality Award criteria.

"I commend Sanders Glen Assisted Living for embarking on the journey to quality improvement," said the AHCA/

NCAL National Quality Award Board of Overseers Chair Alana Wolfe. "I encourage Sanders Glen Assisted Living to continue to build on the strong foundation it has created."

The awards will be presented Oct. 15 to Oct. 18, 2017, during AHCA/NCAL's 68th Annual Convention and Exposition in Las Vegas.

This honor is just the latest recognition of Sanders Glen Assisted Living. In 2015, the community received the Indiana Health Care Association Assisted Living Facility of the Year award.

Basketball teams staying busy in the off-season

By RICHIE HALL
 Reporter Sports Editor

Vacation is in full swing for high school students, but the basketball players are staying busy.

Indiana's hoop stars - including those from Hamilton County - are keeping themselves in shape with such methods as conditioning, open gyms and out-of-season tournaments. Every team has its own plan for the summer, but the goals are the same: Work hard and get better.

Noblesville's boys team has had an active summer. The Millers have already played in three tournaments, the Indiana Wesleyan University Shootout, the All-Star Shootout and the Charlie Hughes Memorial Tournament.

"It has been a productive summer thus far," said Noblesville coach Brian McCauley. "Our groups need to continue to use June and July to gain valuable experience and improve our team and individual skill."

The Millers have more games coming up against such powerhouses as Pendleton Heights, Cathedral and New Albany.

"We have played a number of good teams thus far," said McCauley.

Hamilton Heights has also been busy. Huskies coach Chad Ballenger reports that his team has so far played in the Westfield

Grand Park League, St. Francis University and the All-Star Shootout. Other events for Heights include games at Purdue University and the Northeastern High School Shootout.

"We are having a busy June," said Ballenger.

Want more? Heights is also heading to Indiana State, hosting its own four-team shootout and will be attending the Super Hoops Team Camp from June 30 to July 2. Add open gym and weights to the schedule, and that makes for a packed summer.

"The summer is a great evaluation tool to gauge your players," said Ballenger. "I feel if they can't get it done in the summer against the competition we are facing then they can't get it done October-March. We are having great attendance and the players are working hard. I have never been worried about our record in June. I always try to over schedule the competition and put our guys in very tough spots. Tougher than what they will see in the season. It is a good gauge. We are working to get better."

Meanwhile, Guerin Catholic coach Pete Smith is taking the opposite approach.

"I've always felt our guys get more out of our Open Gyms than taking them to tournaments and team camps, so we basically 'stay home' in June," said Smith.

Kevin Stone

Clay Merchant

Carmel senior Kevin Stone and Noblesville sophomore Clay Merchant are this year's Hamilton County Reporter's Co-Players of the Year.

Stone had a consistent year, winning four big regular-season tournaments, including the Hamilton County Tournament. He followed that up with top 10 finishes at sectional, regional and state, where he won the Mental Attitude Award.

Merchant also played solid, with a victory at the Crooked Stick Invitational among his several regular-season wins. He then won sectional and regional titles, shooting 66 at the Players Club regional. Merchant tied for 12th at state. Both players were named to the All-State Team.

BASKETBALL

"We have open gym every weekday morning in the entire month of June. This allows the guys to have fun with their families, and a good number of our guys travel all over the country with AAU ball in July."

The Golden Eagles have played a few summer league games so far, which include varsity victories over Arsenal Tech and Hamilton Heights, and losses to Avon and Cathedral.

University is just getting back on to the court after an extended Spring Break.

"With almost all of my athletes participating in a spring sport this past season, the basketball program took a nice break in April and May," said Trailblazers coach Brandon Lafferan. "We just got going with our Summer Open Gyms a week ago and our sport performance training with SVSP, all of which has been going really well."

University has been playing in the Grand Park Tuesday Night League, which includes a win over Chatard and a four-point loss to Kokomo - not bad for a Class 1A team. The 'Blazers also played the Charlie Hughes Tournament and will play a one-day shootout at Wabash on Friday.

"The Tuesday Night HS League at Grand Park has great competition for us as the majority of the teams are 2A, 3A and 4A teams," said Lafferan.

Up in Sheridan, Blackhawks coach Chris Schrank said the playing schedule is being kept "fairly light this summer." Sheridan played four games in a shootout in Lafayette earlier this month, and will compete in the Waldron Shootout on June 29.

"I feel as though this summer is all a test drive," said Schrank. "We have several guys that are going to step into larger roles. We have several guys that were primarily JV players last year that are going to step into more varsity time this year. So, this is all about finding out what groups play well together. It's about learning from each of those playing experiences. I think we learned a couple things this past Saturday, and we will work on those as best we can right now to be little better when we play again at the end of the month. Ultimately, the goal is that this gives you a little jumpstart on the season."

The 'Hawks went 1-3 at Lafayette, but Schrank said he isn't as worried about those losses as he is to see just where his team can continue to improve.

"That's what days like Saturday are all about," said the coach.
