Cicero honors the man behind the parks

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

The Cicero Town Council recently approved a motion to name the newly opened pier and the forthcoming kayak launch at Red Bridge Park as "Charlie's Landing" in honor of Charlie Cambre.

Charlie Cambre

Cambre is the force behind the installation of the pier and his next vision for the park is Indiana's first handicap accessible kayak and canoe launch.

Cicero Town Council Member and Park Liaison Rusty Miller told The Reporter he thought this name was a fitting tribute to the man who has done and continues to do so much for Cicero.

"Naming the area after Charlie was brought up in our town meeting," Miller said. "The Friends of the Park had talked to [Council President] Chad Amos about it so he brought it up with the president's report."

There was little debate about naming this attraction after Cambre, and only a little discussion on the specifics of the name itself, according to Miller.

"We talked about calling it Charlie's Pier, but we called it Charlie's Landing because when we incorporate the kayak launch next year we would have Charlie's Pier and then the kayak launch separate," Miller said.

"These are both Charlie's babies. This way they are together as one unit."

Friends of the Park Member Emily Pearson also expressed her support for Charlie's Landing to The Reporter.

"I as a member of Friends of the Park am extremely pleased that the town council approved naming the landing as Charlie's Landing," Pearson said. "Charlie has done so much for the town and for the park system that we have one of the most amazing park systems around. It's great to be able to let him know how much he is appreciated and respected in the community."

The motion was put forth by Cicero Town Council President Chad Amos, who spoke about Cambre's service and dedication as the motivation for this name.

Grindstone Public House will soon call 101 N. 10th St. home.

Downtown Noblesville to get 'top' notch restaurant

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

It will be named Grindstone Public House and it should bring the best of both Clancy's and Grindstone Charley's to Noblesville. For those who miss the Topper, it could be a dream come true.

Clancy's Inc. could open Grindstone Public House as soon as March 2018 at 101 N. 10th St. in Noblesville.

The Reporter spoke with several people involved in this project about both the history and the future of the Clancy's legacy.

"We couldn't be more excited to open an exciting new restaurant, just blocks away from where it all began," said Clancy's CEO and President Perry Fogelsohn.

The company started in Noblesville in 1965 and the family is looking forward to returning to their Hamilton County roots with this new project.

"I'm the third-generation owner and director of operations with the company," said Blake Fogelsohn. "My dad [Perry] is the main owner. We are a family owned and operated business started in 1965 just a couple blocks down the street from where this restaurant will be."

That first location was the Clancy's Hamburgers store that gave Noblesville its love for the "Topper."

"That was the first double drive through in the Midwest. At one point, we had 30 different Clancy's Hamburgers operations. We would go into small towns

Lex Lumpkin gets paid to give Peyton Manning the blues.

WISH-TV

You may have seen the DirecTV NFL Sunday Ticket commercials featuring Peyton Manning as an intense fantasy football commissioner, but did you know the kid giving him "guff" is from central Indiana?

Hamilton Southeastern Junior High School sixth grader Lex Lumpkin has wanted to be in a commercial since he was a little kid, and now he's in several with one of his favorite football players.

An entertainer from an early age, Lex had recently played the role of Stuart Little when an agent called his mom about the Peyton Manning DirecTV commercials.

"I was like, oh my gosh, I had a very big reaction. I was like, oh my gosh, cause football's my favorite sport and being able to meet one of the best quarterbacks in the NFL, it was really exciting," Lex said.

The youngest in the commercials, his role has been to give Peyton a bit of a hard time.

"My favorite line was like, 'Ya, I'll give him something to cry about,'" Lex said.

A line Lex says he's practiced "a lot" to work with one of the best football players turned actor.

"How did you get so good? Like where did you practice all of this? You were like throwing footballs, when did you get so good at acting?" he said he'd ask Peyton about his skills.

Fishers' Fuzic wins innovation award

By LARRY LANNAN

It was announced in recent days that a Fishers business will be expanding while remaining in Fishers; now that same firm has been honored with a major innovation award.

Fuzic has received one of nine 2017 Indiana Innovation Awards. According to an online post to the Indianapolis Business Journal website, this awards program is sponsored by not-for-profit Centric Inc.

Fuzic was selected out of a pool of 48 award nominees.

Fuzic is a company that has only been in existence for a matter of months. Launched earlier this year, it provides music to its customers from a wide selection of genres, and embeds customized messages between the songs to enhance the client's brand.

"Charlie is always looking for new ways to bring people to the parks. There are talks of a possible splash pad in the future at Red Bridge Park."

The next enhancement for Red Bridge Park, as first reported in The Hamilton County Reporter Oct. 1, is the handicap accessible launch, which could be complete as soon as next year.

"I think what will be really big will be that first-ever handicap accessible kayak launch that should be put in next year," Amos said. "That will probably come with an outbuilding where people can picnic or weigh in fish. We are going to try to tie that in with some of the bass associations that do tournaments on kayaks. That should draw more people to Red Bridge Park also."

Like everyone else The Reporter spoke to, Amos was filled with praise for Cambre.

"His years of dedication to the town and all the work he has put forth on all the parks has been outstanding," Amos told The Reporter. "He takes pride in all his work. We know he won't be around forever. We thought it would be a good thing to do for him while he's still here so he can enjoy it and see every day that it's dedicated to him."

INDOT announces call for rural local projects

The REPORTER

The Indiana Department of Transportation announced today that rural cities, towns and counties may begin submitting project applications next week for an estimated $80 million to $100 million in federal transportation funding.

Metropolitan Planning

Organizations distribute federal highway funds to cities, towns and counties within the state's larger urbanized areas while INDOT distributes funds outside MPO areas. For this latest round of funding, rural communities would design, develop and purchase land for projects that would be bid during the next four to five years.

As part of the call for project applications, $5 million in federal funding will be made available for sidewalk improvements in rural communities.

More information about the call for rural projects is online at in.gov/indot/2390.htm.

Headless Horseman rides again at Conner Prairie

The REPORTER

The Headless Horseman rides again at Conner Prairie for 11 straight nights in October. Sponsored by Reynolds Farm Equipment, Peyton Manning Children's Hospital at St. Vincent and Kroger, Headless Horseman runs from 6 to 9 p.m. Oct. 12 to 15, Oct. 19 to 22 and Oct. 26 to 29.

Presale tickets are on sale now through Oct. 11 and are $13 for Thursday and Sunday tickets and $17 for Friday and Saturday tickets. General admission tickets are available for purchase Oct. 12-29 and are $17 for Thursday and Sunday tickets and $21 for Friday and Saturday tickets. Advance sale tickets are available online at connerprairie.org and by calling Guest Services at (317) 776-6000.

New this year is a seven-acre, 300,000-square-foot corn maze, located on the prairie behind the amphitheater where Symphony on the Prairie is held. Guests can try their way through a large section, which should take about an hour, or a small section, which should take about 30 minutes to navigate. The maze will be open each night of the festival and is a free attraction for Headless Horseman attendees.

The 34th year of Headless Horseman will again see Conner Prairie transform into Conner Scairie, a haunted land inhabited by fun-loving ghouls.

The highlight of the festival again this year will be haunted hayrides through the darkness in a land terrorized by the Headless Horseman. The hayride paths have been extended to improve the overall guest experience; rides will transverse a different path than years before and they'll be longer. A barrel-train ride will also be an attraction for younger children.

Guests of all ages are encouraged to attend in family friendly Halloween costumes. Each night, a live storytelling version of "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" will be performed by Indianapolis actor Ty Stover. Magic shows, spooky storytelling around a bonfire, face painting, fortune telling, music and more are offered each night.

The Apple Store at Conner Prairie has extended hours each night of Headless Horseman. The store will serve up its popular gourmet caramel apples plus apple cider slushies, fresh popcorn, rice crispy treats and more until 9 p.m. each night.

And Headless Horseman guests can take in the fall sights and Conner Scairie from above as the 1859 Balloon Voyage experience will be open each night, weather permitting.

Conner Prairie members can take advantage of a host of Headless Horseman perks, including free admission and an Express Pass to ride the hayride. For a list of perks, visit bit.ly/2uvsx-Wa. Guests may sign up to become a Conner Prairie member at the entrance of Headless Horseman.

Spanning nearly 1,000 wooded acres in central Indiana, Conner Prairie welcomes nearly 400,000 visitors of all ages annually. As Indiana's first Smithsonian Institute affiliate, Conner Prairie offers various outdoor, historically themed destinations and indoor experiential learning spaces that combine history and art with science, technology, engineering and math to offer an authentic look into history that shapes society today.

GRINDSTONE

before McDonald's would go into small towns. Eventually, when McDonald's came in our sales went down and we sold a lot of the Clancy's Hamburgers off. We still operate one in Sidney, Ohio."

While this new restaurant will offer a Topper, it is more akin to Grindstone Charley's than to Clancy's. "In 1982 my dad started Grindstone Charley's in Noblesville," Fogelsong said. "We currently operate four of those: one in Kokomo, one in Lafayette and two in Indianapolis. We want to take some best sellers from Grindstone Charley's, pare down the menu, and elevate it, with such a unique location in a historic building, we really have a chance to reinvent ourselves."

FC Tucker Company's Kurt Meyer was instrumental in bringing Grindstone Public House to Noblesville.

"I worked with both the sellers and the folks from Grindstone Charley's," Meyer told The Reporter. "And that's how I think of it. It's going to be a restaurant that's more sympathetic to Grindstone Charley's than it is to Clancy's, but it's the Clancy's people. To have the Grindstone folks step up and say they wanted it was exciting."

Nova 29 Property Management owns the building where Grindstone Public House will open next year. Nova 29 Owner is co-owned by husband and wife Craig and Christi Crosser. Craig Crosser told The Reporter he has been a longtime fan of the Grindstone Charley's brand.

"I remember the original Grindstones when my parents moved up to Morse Reservoir," Crosser said. "We would visit that often. What we are excited about as property managers is that it's a known brand in Noblesville and have that kind of built-in excitement is good for Nova 29 and good for Noblesville."

When asked when he first heard the Fogelsongs were interested in his property, Crosser told The Reporter it was barely two week ago.

"It's gone fairly quickly," Crosser said. "They came in and saw the space and visualized pretty quickly what they were going to do. Since we had previous restaurants in there we wanted to keep that space a restaurant. They can come into it and get started fairly quickly. I think that was attractive to them as well."

Fogelsong said it was the right opportunity at the right time for his family.

"This just came out of the blue when the place became available that used to be The Ville," Fogelsong said. "We've been looking for a property around the area for about a year. This came up and we decided to just go for it. Everybody is really excited about it."

Meyer said the location will be familiar, but will feel new and bright to patrons who remember The Ville being at that address.

"They are going to make some neat changes to the building," Meyer said. "I believe we will see the rest of the front windows of the building restored. They are partially covered by awnings and drywall, so it will be a much brighter space than it has been for the last two restaurants that were there. The space will feel much taller, much bigger and brighter than it felt for either The Ville, which was the most recent restaurant, or for Eddie's, which was the restaurant before that."

Crosser confirmed there will be small changes that will feel very big to patrons.

"They aren't really doing a lot, but just opening up the windows off of Logan Street and moving back the mezzanine a little will open up the space on the first floor," Crosser said. "Some little tweaks will really brighten it up in there."

A typical Grindstone Charley's is around 5,000 to 7,000 square feet, but the Fogelsong family said they think this smaller footprint will work well.

"We are bringing back

Renderings provided

Clancy's Topper will soon come home to Noblesville, just a few blocks from where it all began in 1965.

some of the Clancy's favorites that people loved, but we will also do a more upper-scale version of Grindstone Charley's," Fogelsong said. "We will have steaks, seafood, chicken dishes, but we are going to work with a lot of local farmers and producers in the area to make it more localized."

Some of those local producers include Miller Poultry Farm, Cooks Bison Ranch, Tyner Pond Farms, Smoking Goose, Bettini Pasta and Fisher Farms.

"We will have 14 to 16 different local craft drafts on tap," Fogelsong said. "We plan to make is a unique blend of both with that special downtown Noblesville location."

As a new variation on both Grindstone Charley's and Clancy's, the family thought this location needed its own name.

"We wanted to use the term Grindstone," Fogelsong told The Reporter. "The interior designer we hired came up with 'Public House.' It's a hot new term. It means community. It's like the new 'neighborhood bar and grill' term for a place. When we heard it we instantly fell in love with it."

That interior designer Fogelsong spoke of is Phnommen/Design and Fogelsong credits them with part of the success of one of their other Noblesville restaurants.

"This is the second project we've done with them," Fogelsong said. "They remodeled our Italian restaurant in Noblesville, Michaelangelo's, and sales there have been up 20 percent since they remodeled it. We think they are really talented."

Fogelsong said the team is looking forward to great success in the downtown area and he thinks residents will welcome them with open arms.

"We are just super excited," Fogelsong said. "We've done the Downtown Noblesville Street Dance the last three years. We served the Clancy's Topper up there. The first year we did it the line was two blocks long to get a Topper. We are excited and we know Noblesville is going to be excited for this restaurant to come back. We feel like the town is really going to support it."

They will not have long to wait to see how Hamilton County feels about the return of both Grindstone and the Topper. Fogelsong said opening next spring is a "firm" goal.

"Our target date is the beginning of March," Fogelsong said. "We feel like that is achievable. The designers are drawing up plans starting next week. Sometimes it is harder to get contractors in there if the winter is bad, but right now the target date is the first week of March, 2018."

Stand by, Hamilton County. With this kind of history and a proven track record, Grindstone Public House may be hard to top.

Friday night football: Week 8...

Third quarter surge throttles No. 10 Brownsburg past Noblesville

By CRAIG ADKINS

It was Senior Night at Hare Chevrolet Field in Noblesville on Friday night and that always brings out the emotions of another senior football class playing their last home regular season football game.

Both teams recall last season's meeting at Brownsburg that turned out to be a thriller in the final half of the fourth quarter. The Millers were down 21-0 and mounted a comeback for the ages, beating the Bulldogs on the road, 22-21. That might be what sparked their third quarter surge.

Could the Millers repeat that feat on their home field a year later? Brownsburg had other ideas, as they used a three-touchdown third quarter to pull away from the Millers on Friday night, 41-10.

The Bulldogs kicked off the game and played a great first few plays on offense, forcing Noblesville to punt after three quick plays. Brownsburg put the first points on the board when 6'1, 300 pound Ronny Williams came busting up the middle, blocking Chase Evans punt and recovering it in the end zone for a fast 7-0 Brownsburg lead.

"Our defense held them scoreless in the first quarter. Obviously the blocked punt got them the seven points they had," said Noblesville head coach Jason Simmons, commending his defense for their first quarter play.

"I felt like we controlled time of possession in the first quarter, which was critical tonight," said Simmons on the Millers offense controlling the clock in the first.

Noblesville returned the favor on Brownsburg's first series when Darius Dowdell blocked the Clay Chase punt, recovering it at the Bulldog 30, giving the Millers in a prime opportunity to tie the game.

On 2nd and goal from the seven, Noblesville quarterback Grant Gremel threw a short fade route to Zach Gruver, in double coverage, for a seven-yard, over the shoulder catch to knot the game 7-7 after one quarter.

Noblesville's Wyatt Blades (13), Jack Yeakey (47) and Eddie Dziennik (10) team up for a tackle during the Millers' game with Brownsburg Friday at Hare Chevrolet Field.

On the ensuing drive, Brownsburg drove clear down to Noblesville's 18, but were turned away after Clay Chase missed a 35-yard field goal.

Their next possession, Brownsburg didn't waste any time at all. Quarterback Kyle Strakis sent Bryce Kirtz down the field all by his lonesome for a 65-yard touchdown pass. They would add another within no time on a fullback rumble up the middle from six-yards out by RJ Decker (6'4, 260 lbs.). The conversion snap was low and holder Ethan Harless was tackled, ending the point-after try, but extended the lead to 20-7.

The Millers would put together a pretty good drive to end the half that resulted in a 43-yard Jack Knight field goal as the first half clock expired, cutting the deficit to 20-10 at halftime.

The third quarter was a different story. It was almost like Brownsburg wanted to put this one away and do it fast.

Bryce Kirtz lined up in the backfield to throw the Miller defense off a little and that's exactly what he did. Kirtz rolled out and threw a halfback pass to Reis Thomas and he raced 54 yards to put Brownsburg up now 27-10.

Noblesville's next drive resulted in trying a fake punt that wound up turning the ball back over to the visitors.

Brownsburg had a short field at Noblesville's 40. This time, it was QB Kyle Strakis that jaunted 27-yards to a touchdown to run the score to 34-10.

A couple drives later, Kirtz made it look way too easy, hauling in another touchdown grab from Strakis from 29 yards that would account for the final score of 41-10.

"I think we have to play with more conviction. Right now we're just okay, being average. Average isn't good enough for us to compete and win games," said Simmons on his team's play after eight games.

The Millers seem like they get to where there are opportunities in front of them, but they just have to find ways to capitalize on them. "The bottom line is we're not playing disciplined enough. And, that starts with the same things we saw today, we saw in practice all week and we have to find guys that are gonna play disciplined to give us a chance," said Simmons on his team not playing disciplined enough to play a complete game.

Taking advantage of opportunities, it didn't take a whole lot, but Strakis was 9-of-14 through the air for 171 yards and a touchdown pass. Kirtz had six receptions for 136 yards and two TD's and also passed for a score to lead Brownsburg's offense. They also ran the ball well, getting 14 carries and 77 yards from sophomore tailback Donny Marcus, Strakis running five times for 45 and a TD and Shai Sumpter-Bey gaining 74 yards in 11 rushes.

Noblesville's running game was almost non-existent, amounting to only 23 yards on 24 carries. Ryan Barnes was finally able to get back on the field and caught four Gremel passes for 49 and Luke Blevins snagged four for 39.

Gremel struggled for consistency in his passing game, going 11-of-21 for 113 yards and his lone touchdown to Gruver in the first quarter.

Brownsburg (6-2, 4-1 HCC) closes out its regular season next week at home against Hamilton Southeastern (3-5, 1-4), who lost at home 30-0 to Brebeuf Jesuit on Friday.

Noblesville (1-7, 0-5) hits the road to cap off their regular season at Avon (6-2, 5-1). The Orioles dominated at Zionsville Friday, 41-0.

Tigers beat Westfield, still in HCC chase

When Friday evening began, Fishers was tied with Avon and Brownsburg for the lead in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference.

Once the games were settled...nothing had changed.

The Tigers beat Westfield 27-17 at Riverview Health Stadium, doing their part to stay in the hunt for the HCC championship. So did the two Hendricks County teams: The Orioles blanked Zionsville 40-0 and the Bulldogs beat Noblesville 41-10.

All three teams now have 4-1 conference records going into the final week of the regular season. Fishers will host Zionsville, Avon welcomes the Millers and Brownsburg will host Hamilton Southeastern.

Westfield gave the Tigers a battle, leading 7-6 at halftime. The Shamrocks scored on a seven-yard run by Cameron Nance and Alex Bales made the extra-point kick. That answered a Fishers touchdown from earlier in the period: Matt Wolff connected on a 27-yard pass to Collin Statz. The Tigers went for two, but the attempt didn't go.

Fishers got those points back after scoring the first of two touchdowns in the third quarter. Wolff tossed a two-yard TD throw to Jack Freeh, then made the conversion throw to Bryce Gee. With 20 seconds left in the quarter, Wolff made another short pass to the end zone, this one into the hands of Isaiah Dunnuck.

The Tigers then went to the foot of Ben Norton in the fourth quarter, and he made two field goals to extend Fishers' lead to 27-10. Westfield did get one more touchdown, this a 12-yard pass from Nance to Kaleb Pettijohn. Bales kicked the extra point; he also booted a 47-yard field goal in the third period.

Wolff had an outstanding game, completing 13 of 18 passes for 187 yards and the three scores. Statz and Will Syrus each had four catches. Nance also had a good game, going 9 for 17 and totaling 142 yards and one touchdown.

The Shamrocks finished HCC play 2-4 and will travel to Brebeuf Jesuit next week.

Fishers' Collin Statz pulls in a long reception for a huge gain during the Tigers' game with Westfield Friday night at Riverview Health Stadium. This play would lead to a Fishers touchdown a few plays later. The Tigers won 27-17 and keep them in a first-place tie in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference.

Westfield's Cameron Nance avoids a tackle. Nance would finish the game 9-for-17, including a touchdown.

Sheridan wins undefeated HHC championship

Sheridan took care of business at Eastern Friday night, and then took home a conference championship trophy.

Gnamkey

The Class 1A No. 5 Blackhawks finished an undefeated season in the Hoosier Heartland Conference with a 52-16 win over the Comets. Sheridan completed HHC play with a 6-0 record and marked its first conference championship since it won the Hoosier Heartland title in 2012.

"First conference championship we've had for a while, so they were pretty excited," said Blackhawks coach Bud Wright.

Sheridan got off to a slow start, leading by just 7-0 after the first quarter. Nick Burnell got the 'Hawks on the board early with a five-yard touchdown run.

Things got going for Sheridan in the second period, and the Blackhawks were ahead 24-0 at halftime. Joe Callahan scored on a short run, and the defense stepped up when Jarman Warren recovered a fumble in the end zone for a touchdown. Gunnar Williams got the half's final points when he kicked a 40-yard field goal with eight seconds remaining.

"Early we struggled a little bit," said Wright. "Then we just played a little bit better defense. The first part of the ball game, we were a little slow."

Sheridan poured in 28 more points in the third quarter. Three of the touchdowns were long runs: Cole Cummings grabbed an interception return and took it 50 yards to the end zone. Callahan then zoomed in from 69 yards, and Ange Gnamkey cruised in to score on a 30-yard run.

"We tried to get the ball to him a little bit more tonight," said Wright of Gnamkey. "It worked out pretty good."

Callahan scored the Blackhawks' final touchdown, a five-yarder late in the third period. Cole Jackson kicked the extra point for that one; Williams booted all the others for a 7-for-7 kicking night (six extra points plus a field goal).

Callahan finished the game with 94 yards rushing.

After three weeks on the road, Sheridan returns home to Bud Wright Stadium next Friday for its regular-season finale. The Blackhawks will host South Decatur. Sheridan is now 6-2 overall.

Defense only allows 15 yards...

Golden Eagles get easy victory

Guerin Catholic got back on the winning track Friday, defeating Bowman Academy 49-0.

The Golden Eagles took control of this game early and used the momentum to go ahead 43-0 at halftime. Guerin began with a safety, then got a kickoff return touchdown from Dylan Crossen, a long pass score from Brendan Downey (49 yards from Luke Keller) and Thomas Kaser made a 53-yard run to the end zone.

Keller later scored a rushing touchdown of his own, then Kaser and Crossen both made short runs to score. Cam Murray got the Golden Eagles' last touchdown, jogging in from two yards midway through the fourth quarter.

Kaser only ran the ball six times, but made those runs count as he compiled 140 yards. Guerin Catholic's defense only allowed Bowman 15 net yards offense, including minus 12 yards rushing.

Murray

With the win, Guerin Catholic improved to 6-2 and snapped a two-game losing streak. The Golden Eagles will finish the regular season next Friday at Circle City Conference opponent Roncalli, the top team in Class 5A.

Carmel ran into another Metropolitan Conference powerhouse Friday, falling to Warren Central 35-14 in a game at Carmel Stadium.

The Class 6A No. 4 Warriors led 13-0 at halftime. The 6A No. 8 Greyhounds started making things interesting in the third period, when quarterback Gabe Quigley (stepping in for injured Jake McDonald) threw a 31-yard pass to Atticus Clouse.

But Warren responded with 22 straight points to take a 35-7 lead in the fourth period. Quigley and Clouse did team up for one more touchdown, a six-yarder with 4:53 left in the fourth. Matt Fortier made both extra-point kicks.

Dylan Downing was Carmel's leading rusher, carrying the ball 24 times for 112 yards. Clouse had a nice game with six receptions and 85 yards.

The loss dropped the Greyhounds to 3-3 in the MIC and 4-4 overall. Carmel will finish the regular season on the road, traveling to Lawrence Central next Friday to wrap up conference play.
