The REPORTER

Noblesville East Middle School (NEMS) Drama Department presents its fall musical, "Guys & Dolls Jr.," on stage at 7 p.m. on Nov. 10 and 11 and at 2 p.m. on Nov. 12 at Ivy Tech Community College Hamilton County Campus, 300 N. 17th St., Noblesville.

"It's a show that I have always wanted to do," NEMS drama club director Jordan Rattenbury said. "I fell in love with the movie musical when I was in high school, and I'm having a blast bringing it to life on the Ivy Tech stage."

The musical features 62 students, including 39 cast members and 23 crew members.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students, and free to Noblesville Schools employees.

Tickets are on sale now at nems-drama-club.ticketleap.com/guysanddollsjr/ and will be available at the door.

Noblesville officials open Little Chicago Road Trail

The REPORTER

City of Noblesville officials opened the recently-constructed Little Chicago Road Trail with a ribbon cutting on Tuesday, Oct. 31. Little Chicago Road Trail is an eight-foot-wide multi-use trail that runs from State Road 38 to the South Harbour Elderberry Entrance. The trail consists of 2,700 feet of new trail and the widening of 2,500 feet of existing four-foot sidewalk. The new trail connects to the city's existing trail network and continues south along Hazel Dell Parkway to 146th Street.

"We are increasing Noblesville's trail availability and connectivity, which accomplishes a goal of making the city more walkable," said Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear. "Making trail connections means residents have more options and longer stretches of trails to be outdoors and active." Little Chicago Road is the first of five trail connector projects the city will complete this year. Other eight-foot wide trail projects under construction include:

- 460 feet on 156th Street, east of Summer Road.
- 405 feet on Cumberland Road, north of SMC Boulevard.
- 425 feet on Greenfield Avenue, west of Summer Road.
- Connecting a small gap on Stony Creek Trail, east of Regal Cinemas Noblesville 10.

No injuries in Fishers early-morning house fire

The REPORTER

No one was injured in an overnight house fire in Fishers, but it resulted in what fire officials describe as a "total loss" in damage to the home. The blaze reportedly started at around 3 a.m. Wednesday morning at 11142 Timberview Drive, just west of Cumberland Road, south of 116th Street.

Firefighters battled the blaze for over 45 minutes. Part of the roof became unstable as fire personnel were inside the building. They were able to return to the interior of the structure to extinguish the blaze.

The Fishers Fire Department says the fire is out with a few hot spots remaining. Investigators were on the scene early Wednesday morning, but cause and origin are undetermined at this time.

According to a fire department news release, smoke alarms alerted the three residents of the home to leave the premises.

5 points roundabout opens

The REPORTER

The 5 points roundabout at Greenfield Avenue, 10th Street and Christian Avenue was officially opened with a ribbon cutting on Tuesday, Oct. 31. City officials and staff gathered to cut the ribbon on the new southern gateway into the City of Noblesville. The new design provides a safe, effective intersection without a stoplight. Previously, the intersection had a traffic signal that cycled through three roads. The roundabout contains landscaping and a lighted monument sign in the center.

The Internet of Things: A cautionary note

One of the most often used, and mis-understood, phrases in tech talk these days is this one - "The Internet of Things." IoT, as it is also known, essentially describes technology coming to nearly everything we use.

You've heard about those self-driving vehicles coming soon to a roadway near you? They will all be connected as part of the Internet of Things. Even your household appliances will all be connected to help you keep control even when you are not home, and become much more efficient with all this connectivity.

One tech writer told me you can have a picture frame with a computer chip in it in the very near future. If someone is trying to steal your rare, expensive painting, the chip will let you know it is moving and track it so the police can pursue the culprits.

The Internet of Things is very much a part of the technology business boom in Fishers. Plenty of local tech firms are tied into the development and implementation of IoT.

You may recall Governor Holcomb visited Launch Fishers in February of this year to announce a new Internet of Things laboratory not far from the Launch Fishers building. The city and state have an investment in that lab.

This would lead one to believe that it's full-speed ahead on the Internet of Things and nothing can stop it now. There is something that could stop IoT dead in its tracks, and we all should sound a cautionary note on this technology.

A Forbes contributing writer specializing in cutting-edge technology, Harold Stark, authored a piece published on Oct. 29 on Forbes.com. It gives us all something to think about.

Security is the note of caution one must consider when looking into the future of IoT. Stark describes a scary vulnerability found in most Wi-Fi connections. Although patches are being made, it illustrates just how easy it might be for hackers to create societal chaos once virtually everything we use is connected via IoT.

You can read Stark's entire piece at this link.

A few days earlier, CNBC posted a piece on its website written by their London-based reporter Anmar Frangoul, that reads, in part:

"In 2016, IoT security business ForeScout Technologies released a report in which it looked at seven common IoT devices, including smart fridges, connected printers and IP-connected security systems. Alarming, ForeScout said that the devices could be "hacked in as little as three minutes, but can take days or weeks to remediate." ForeScout said that IoT hacks could result in the microphones and cameras of devices being hijacked to spy on their users as well as the destruction of critical equipment."

You can read the entire

CNBC story at this link.

I am not trying to be an alarmist here. It is well known that many systems thought to be secure have been hacked. The latest big one was Equifax. If Equifax can be hacked, just about any target is vulnerable.

Both the City of Fishers and the State of Indiana are working hard, supporting technology businesses to grow and thrive as we become even more Internet-connected every day. I only ask that our elected officials keep in mind that technology has its pitfalls.

If the public turns against the Internet of Things because of security concerns, that bright IoT future could be in jeopardy. As more effective security systems are developed in the years ahead, this concern may be gone. But in the meantime, let's be realistic about the possible IoT dangers ahead.

Hamilton County remembers Don Jellison

Dear Editor:

I must admit that I am somewhat intimidated to be writing a tribute letter about Don Jellison when I read the letters and quotes from esteemed community leaders who have shared their remembrances and their love for a special person who is no longer with us. I cannot say that I knew Don well though I have known him for a long time. His son David was a good friend of my son Jeff when they were very small through their teenage years. Dave was known as "Jelly" to his buddies and was sadly missed when he passed away. I have not lost a child so I can only imagine Don's grief at Dave's passing. My oldest son was also a Babe Ruth player, in the 80's when it was strong program - Don Jellison had much to do with that as well.

I have also known Don through his years at the Noblesville Daily Ledger and my years as the director of the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce. I always knew Don to have a dry sense of humor, a sharp wit, and a knowledge of sports that borders on legendary. In fact, I would say that Don Jellison is a legend of Noblesville and Hamilton County, and I am proud to have made his acquaintance. Don was not only a gentleman, but a gentle man, someone who represented us well in our community and whose memory will continue to inspire us. My heartfelt sympathy goes out to his family and his dear friends.

Sharon McMahon

Dear Editor:

Thank you for all that you do for my business, the town of Sheridan, and Hamilton County. I know these last few days have been difficult and I just wanted to let you know that I've been thinking about all of you. Don's successful newspaper career has had a positive impact on many people and in fact without Don, Jeff probably never would have started the Reporter.

As we draw closer to the Thanksgiving Season, we all have many things to be thankful for. Showing honor and a thankful heart for all of those people who helped pave our way in life should be tops on our list.

The Reporter family is in my thoughts and prayers.

Dear Editor:

On behalf of myself and CDC [Carmel Dads' Club], we would like to express our sincere condolences on Don's passing. Don was a true icon in Hamilton County Sports. As many have suggested we all looked forward to articles he would write. The rivalry games always stood out. I enjoyed the respect and friendship he would show all coaches and athletes. Coach Belden especially appreciated "Jelly's" support and relationship. Our Thoughts and Prayers are with you all. Don Jellison will be sorely missed in this community.

Jack Beery

Dear Editor:

I am having a hard time writing what I want to about the passing of a legend. I never met Mr. Jellison, but through Jeff, his son, I feel as though I did know him. I feel the pain of so many people that he touched their lives and the many years of doing what he loved will be greatly missed.

Unfortunately it takes something like losing an icon to realize what we truly took for granted. Perhaps not with this gentleman. I have a feeling many people truly loved reading about the teams, sports, players, etc. and they already knew what Mr. Jellison's passion was. That takes a special person to devote his life to loving what he did as well as he did. Thoughts and Prayers to the family and the many, many people who knew him.

Dear Editor:

I was so very sorry to hear of Don Jellison's passing. He was truly an icon in Noblesville and Hamilton County. I remember reading him for as long as I can remember. One newspaper would end, but he always resurfaced somewhere else, and I was always glad to read what he had to say. He was sharp and insightful, and he truly loved this place and his family.

Thanks for reading The Reporter!

Court administrator clarifies local pretrial programs

Dear Editor:
 In the Sunday, Oct. 29, 2017, edition of the Hamilton County Reporter there appeared in the Views section, on page 5, a purported "op-ed" entitled "Judicial Officer issues recommendations on bail reform." While this article has a "The REPORTER" byline, it indicates at the end of the article that it was provided by Media Vista Public Relations. In this instance, Media Vista's client is the American Bail Coalition which is a trade association for insurance companies that underwrite bail bonds in the $13.5 billion dollar commercial bail bonds industry. Clearly the intent of this purported "op-ed" article is to promote the interests of the bail bonds industry and not the interests of the citizens of Hamilton County. In fact, the article does a disservice to our residents by misrepresenting the basic tenets of a pretrial release program as "an either/or system with no human judgement involved." Nothing could be further from the truth as the risk assessment process involves multiple trained individuals looking at a person's likelihood of returning to court, committing a new offense, and risk of harm to themselves or the community. Criminal and driving records are checked and a judicial officer remains the final authority in making release or detention decisions taking into account recommendations based on risk-assessment information. The article cites the New Mexico case of Michelle Martens as someone who would have been released based upon a risk assessment and implies that she was a violent felon. However, the facts are that before the murder of her daughter she had no prior criminal record and, had she been arrested for some lesser offense, she could have just as easily gotten out of jail on a bail bond. Public safety is another issue misrepresented by the article's alluding to "evidence of an increase in violent crime" and citing as proof of this allegation an incident in New Jersey where someone was shot by a "career criminal" who had been released just three days after being arrested on a weapons charge. The questions left unanswered by this example are would this result have been any different if the "career criminal" had completed a bail bond to get out of jail within three days or less of his arrest? And, how would a bail bond have made the public any more safe? Lastly, the article implies that the bail bond system provides some sort of unexplained cost benefit to taxpayers by eliminating the need for a "free government-operated bail system." However, the simple fact is that pretrial release is not a bail system and it does not replace the existing bail bonds system. What pretrial release does is to maximize public safety by releasing and monitoring low risk individuals and ensuring that high risk individuals are supervised or in jail. Judicial officers retain their full discretion to set an appropriate bail bond under a pretrial release program. If "The REPORTER" would like to know about the Hamilton County Pretrial Services Program, from someone in Hamilton County, this office would be more than happy to oblige.

How to pick a retirement account

StatePoint

Whether you're starting your career, approaching retirement or you're somewhere in between, it's important to understand the various options available to help you reach your retirement goals.

Even if you are already investing in a 401(k) or other retirement plan, contributing to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) can help you diversify your investments and provide an additional tax-advantaged savings plan, say experts.

"There are some important differences between Roth and Traditional IRAs that all retirement planners should keep in mind," says Mary Ellen Hancock, a senior wealth strategist with PNC Wealth Management.

Hancock says to consider the following three things, when choosing a retirement account.

Tax Rates

Will your taxes be higher now or later? On the face of it, the decision appears to be straightforward, Hancock explains. If you expect your tax rate will be lower when you retire, a traditional account may offer you more spendable income for retirement. If you expect your tax rate will be higher than it is now or the same upon retirement, a Roth account may provide you with more spendable income later. The challenge is that there is no way to know what future tax rates will be, and even if you had a crystal ball, other factors at play should also be considered.

Income and Expenses

"Understanding your spending before you retire can help you have a smoother and more successful transition as you begin your next chapter," says Hancock. "It's important to assess what income and expenses may be eliminated when you retire and what new expenses may be added."

Hancock explains that working with a financial advisor can help you estimate your post-retirement budget. However, it's important to keep in mind that withdrawing from a traditional account to pay for unexpected expenses during retirement can result in unpleasant consequences, such as higher Medicare premiums, more of your Social Security benefits being taxed or raising your tax bracket. On the other hand, qualified withdrawals from Roth accounts are tax-free and should not affect your taxable income or treatment of Medicare and Social Security benefits.

Required Minimum Distributions

"Roth options may have some advantages over traditional accounts, as you do not need to start withdrawing at age 70 1/2," says Hancock. "Traditional accounts, both 401(k)s and IRAs, require you to withdraw money once you reach that age, which limits the account's growth potential."

For many individuals, using both Roth and traditional accounts may help address some of the uncertainty over your future tax bracket and whether your spending needs may change. There are IRA contribution limits set each year by the Internal Revenue Service, so it's important to check with the IRS website, your financial planner or tax advisor on how much you can contribute to each.

While no one can plan for every eventuality, understanding your current circumstances and looking ahead can help you make sound investment choices now that can help you reach your retirement goals.

And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

Meredith Joe Reynolds

June 12, 1921 – October 31, 2017

Meredith Joe Reynolds, 96, died peacefully in his Noblesville home on Tuesday, October 31, 2017. He was born on June 12, 1921, in Hamilton County and reared on farms in the Castleton and Fishers area. Following graduation from Fishers High School in 1939, he worked on the family farm until he joined the United States Army in 1942. He served in Europe during World War II, reaching the rank of Sergeant. When he returned home at the end of the war, Joe became a full-time farmer, working first with his father in Fishers. He was married to Mona Aileen Jones on May 17, 1947, and together they purchased farm land in Noblesville and gradually built their farm while rearing their four children. Eventually, they established sizable farmland holdings in north central Indiana and Illinois. They enjoyed traveling in the United States and in Europe, South America, Australia and New Zealand, where they often visited other farm families. Joe retired from active farming at the age of 83, and the couple moved from their 1885 farm house to a new home in Noblesville.

Joe was known for his careful tending of his Holstein dairy herd and hogs, his acres of corn and soybeans, his keen eye for productive land and his generosity. He was never too tired or too busy to help a neighbor in need, loan equipment to a fellow farmer, pull a passerby's car out of a snow drift or catch up on the news with a friend who stopped by to visit. He was a loyal customer of his eldest brother's business establishment, Reynolds Farm Equipment, and insisted on patronizing Fishers and Noblesville-based businesses and medical professionals whenever possible.

Joe enjoyed collecting farm antiques of all types, especially tractors; vintage cars; and John Deere toys and memorabilia. He learned to hook rugs and created them for his family members, garnering a blue ribbon at the Indiana State Fair for one of his masterpieces.

He was a life-long member of the Fishers United Methodist Church, a 75-year member of the Fishers Masonic Lodge, a member of the Scottish Rite and various other organizations, and a generous supporter of several charitable entities. Recently he traveled to Washington, D.C. on the Honor Flight and was recognized for his military service in the Carmel Fourth of July Parade.

Joe was preceded in death by his wife of 65 years, Mona; parents, Irene Castetter Reynolds and Arzell Washington Reynolds, Sr.; brothers, Arzell Washington Reynolds, Jr., Jack Reynolds, Jerel Reynolds and Jay Reynolds; sisters, Joy Reynolds Wilson and June Reynolds Rhoads; son-in-law, Charles (Chip) Porter; and two nephews.

He is survived by his children, Nancy Reynolds Porter, Donna Reynolds (David Whitman), Jerry Reynolds (Julia Stephanus) and Brian Reynolds (Margie Huber); grandchildren, Eric Porter, Meredith Reynolds, Lauren Reynolds Kocal (Jake), Kelsey Reynolds, John Whitman and Chris Whitman; a great-grandson, Henry Kocal; brothers, James Reynolds and Jon F. Reynolds (Karen); and several nieces and nephews.

The family wishes to express its heartfelt gratitude to Archie Kerr and Greg Willman, who have been as close to Joe as family, for their countless kindnesses and enduring friendship; to his devoted and compassionate care giver of several years, Michael Hollowell; to others who cared for Joe in the last several months, especially Carole Holman and Harry Mann; to Senior Home Companions; and to the professionals and care givers of Clarity Care Advocates.

Calling will be from 3 to 8 p.m. on Thursday, November 2 at Randall & Roberts Fishers Mortuary, 12010 Allisonville Road, Fishers, and again from 10 to 11 a.m. on Friday, November 3. Services will be held at the funeral home on Friday at 11 a.m., with interment at Highland Cemetery, Fishers.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Fishers United Methodist Church or to the Indianapolis Scottish Rite Cathedral Foundation.

Gloria Dotts Cox Maley

January 11, 1928 – November 1, 2017

Gloria Dotts Cox Maley, 89, Indianapolis, passed away on Wednesday, November 1, 2017 at Community Hospital North in Indianapolis. She was born on January 11, 1928 to Bruce O and Elca (Bain) Dotts in Indianapolis.

Gloria retired in 2007, at age 79, after 24 years with the Lilly Endowment. She was a member of Tabernacle Presbyterian Church in Indianapolis. She graduated from Shortridge High School in 1946. In the 1945 Junior Vaudeville, she was a vocal soloist in the first act, 'Hota Espanola'. In earlier years, she sang for several friends' weddings and church choirs. She was auditioned by and accepted as a member in the Indianapolis Symphonic Choir by the IU Dean of Music, choir director.

She is survived by her son, Brian Cox; step-sons, Mark H (Jane) Maley, Timothy M (Maria) Maley, Frank M (Kathleen) Maley Jr and Sean D (Linda) Maley; step-daughter, Maureen (Stephan) Muller; sisters-in-law, Frieda Dotts, Kaethe Dotts and Nancy Maley; six grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husbands, James Albert Cox and Frank Michael Maley.

Private graveside services will be held.

FOOTBALL SECTIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP PREVIEW

Fishers, Sheridan will host tough opponents...

Unbeaten Bronchos come to Carmel Stadium

Carmel's Dylan Downing has rushed for 447 yards and three touchdowns for the Greyhounds this season. Carmel hosts Lafayette Jefferson Friday for the Class 6A Sectional 4 championship.

By RICHIE HALL

In order to continue its sectional championship streak, the Carmel football team will have to get past an old post-season rival.

Lafayette Jefferson will come into Carmel Stadium Friday night to play the No. 10-ranked Greyhounds for the Class 6A Sectional 4 title. The game begins at 7 p.m.

This will be the first meeting between the two teams since the 2008 post-season. Carmel traveled to the Bronchos' field that year on Oct. 31, beating them in a sectional semi-final by the score of 44-21. The 'Hounds played Jeff seven times between 1998 and 2008, winning six times. The Bronchos' victory came in 2002 in the sectional championship.

"We are now at a point where each game is for a title of some sort," said Carmel coach John Hebert. "The Sectional title is very important to us. Playing an unfamiliar opponent has added even more excitement to it because our guys have no frame of reference on them."

Jefferson had been struggling for years, but those days are gone. Since the start of the 2015 season, the Bronchos have had three consecutive winning seasons. This year, Jeff is undefeated at 10-0 under its young second-year head coach, Pat Shanley.

The Bronchos blitzed through the regular season with wins over Lafayette Central Catholic 54-0, Western 36-15, McCutcheon 28-10, Harrison 49-39, Kokomo 48-28, Marion 37-31, Richmond 63-6, Logansport 50-0 and Muncie Central 70-0. In last week's sectional semi-final, Jefferson held off a tough challenge from Westfield, 27-24.

"Lafayette Jeff is a team that plays with great energy and focus," said Hebert. "Coach Shanley has done an outstanding job building his program. They really appear to love to play the game and to compete. They are very athletic and efficient on offense and swarming on defense."

Senior Mathew Wilkerson is the Bronchos' quarterback and has had an outstanding season, completing 168 of 249 passes for 2396 yards and 27 touchdowns. Wilkerson's top receiver is Jay Segal, who counts nine touchdowns among his 48 receptions. In fact, all eight of Jeff's receivers that have caught at least one pass this year have scored at least one TD.

On the ground, sophomore Marquis Munoz has rushed for 1085 yards and 17 scores, while senior Latrell Brown has totaled 787 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Good news for Carmel is that several of their injured players are back, including quarterback Jake McDonald. Kicker Conner Coghlan should get a few opportunities to kick or punt on Friday.

"We are finally back to where we had hoped we'd be in terms of getting guys back," said Hebert. "The benefit of going through that is we are deeper now than we ever thought we would be."

ROUND TWO FOR FISHERS-PIKE
Fishers will host Pike at 7 p.m. Friday night at Reynolds Tigers Stadium for the 6A Sectional 5 championship.

The two teams played each other in Week 2, with the Red Devils stunning the Tigers 43-0. Since then, both teams have gone on to 6-4 records. Both teams have win streaks going: Pike has won four straight, while Fishers has been victorious in its last three games.

"You are always excited to play for a championship," said Tigers coach Rick Wimmer. "As our players have been saying, 'This is a trophy and t-shirt game.' We will play with great effort."

Pike narrowly lost to Zionsville 33-32 before its regular-season win over Fishers. In the regular season, the Red Devils beat Lawrence Central 46-28, Center Grove 28-20, North Central 45-28 and Lawrence North 30-17, while losing to Ben Davis 69-34, Carmel 21-18 and Warren Central 41-12.

Pike began sectional play with a 42-21 win over North Central last week.

"Pike has great speed and they execute their offense very well," said Wimmer. "Although they create a lot of big plays, they do not totally rely on the big play and are pretty patient, willing to make short throws, throw the ball to the flat, and the QB will keep plays alive with his feet."

The Red Devils' quarterback is senior Jordan Garrett, who has completed 177 of 282 attempts for 2359 yards and 25 touchdowns. Senior Jaylyn Crenshaw is the top

Scott May resigns as HSE head football coach

Scott May has resigned as head football coach at Hamilton Southeastern.

May had just completed his 11th season as head coach of the Royals. He had a very successful run at Southeastern, earning a record of 86-35; he also coached the Royals to sectional championships in 2007 and 2011.

"I always tell kids it isn't about them or me; it is about the team and this team will move on and be strong," May said in a statement on the Hamilton Southeastern Athletics website. "I have enjoyed raising my boys as Royals and watching them grow up at HSE. Seventeen years goes too fast, but I think I need to step aside and let someone else make the calls."

"I look forward to spending Saturday's with my wife watching our sons playing college football."

May and his wife Kathy have two sons: Jordan is a red-shirt junior at the University of Saint Francis, and Johnny is an HSE senior.

Before he was the head coach for the Royals, May spent six years as an assistant coach and defensive coordinator. He was part of Southeastern's runner-up finish in the Class 5A state tournament in 2005.

May was an assistant coach and defensive coordinator at Bloomington South in the 1990's; he was on the staff for the Panthers' state championship run in 1993 and their runner-up finish in 1997. May also was the head coach at Garrett High School for two years.

"Coach May is a heck of a football coach and an even better man, he and I have been friends since 1992 when we taught and coached together at Bloomington South," Southeastern athletic director Jim Self said on the HSE Athletics website. "Scott has been a part of our football program for 17 years, 11 years as our head coach. He has been blessed to get to coach both his boys here at HSE and I know he and Kathy are excited to be able to go watch them play next year. I am very thankful for Coach May's leadership with our football program and in our athletic department. Scott will be a tremendous resource as we look to hire our next head football coach."

'Rocks overwhelm Lapel in opener

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

The early words to describe this year's Westfield girls basketball team: Balance and defense. The Shamrocks got both of those during their season opener Wednesday at The Rock. Westfield defeated Lapel 48-26 in a game it was in control of from start to finish.

Bunting

The 'Rocks had 10 players score out of the 11 that played, and held a Bulldogs team that went 18-6 last year to just 26 points. The last time Westfield allowed an opponent fewer points was on Dec. 15, 2015, when it beat Avon 51-25.

Coach Ginny Smith, beginning her third season with the Shamrocks, said there were moments when her team executed well and had good ball movement, then had moments where they were a bit stagnant.

"But overall, I thought our intensity was good," said Smith. "I thought our effort was really good. We shot the ball decent."

Westfield led 17-5 after the first quarter, with Ryann Bunting throwing a pair of 3-pointers. Sophia Kreag also added a first-quarter 3. The 'Rocks then led 27-13 at halftime, with Megan Rops draining a 3-pointer. All three are seniors.

Shipley

Jade Shipley had a fantastic third quarter, scoring seven points, including a 3. Shipley would make another long-range basket in the fourth quarter and finish the game with 11 points, and also made four assists. Bunting led Westfield's scoring with 12 points.

The 'Rocks did not allow Lapel more than eight points in a quarter.

"I do feel like defensively we had a game plan and I felt like the kids did a really nice job executing it," said Smith.

On the rebounding side, Westfield counted 13 offensive boards as part of its overall total of 30. Annabelle O'Hair pulled eight rebounds. Rops had three offensive boards, as did Bunting and Gigi Eldredge, a freshman who played a great game.

"We don't have a ton of size," said Smith. "We've got some speed. There's a couple kids out there that are really athletic and they just have a great nose for the basketball. We did get a couple easy putbacks because of that."

The Shamrocks travel to Pendleton Heights on Saturday for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Huskies fall to Brownsburg

Hamilton Heights opened its season with a 43-30 loss at Brownsburg on Wednesday.

The Huskies started strong, leading the Bulldogs 12-9 after the first quarter and 18-16 at halftime. But Brownsburg took over in the third quarter, outscoring Heights 14-2.

Bayleigh Runner and Kayla Kirtley each scored nine points for the Huskies, with each player making a 3-pointer as well. Ana Collar had a solid game, grabbing seven rebounds, scoring six points and making four steals.

Heights will travel back to Hendricks County on Saturday when it plays Danville. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Will consult Carmel Dad's Club recreation soccer programs...

Juergen Sommer joins Carmel FC Soccer as Director of Operations

Carmel Dads' Club is pleased to announce that former professional footballer, US Soccer and Indiana University standout Juergen Sommer has been hired as Director of Soccer Operations for Carmel FC Soccer. Juergen will be responsible for all Carmel FC programming and will also play a major role consulting in CDC recreation soccer programs.

A native of Naples, Florida, Sommer brings with him eight years' experience in the European professional league, where he enjoyed international acclaim as a player with Luton Town Football Club and Queen's Park Rangers Football Club where he was the first American to play in the coveted English Premier League and was named Goalkeeper of the Year in 1993. Juergen's playing career also encompassed playing with the Columbus Crew and New England Revolution where he was an MLS Allstar. In addition, Juergen's acclaimed playing career also included representing the United States Men's National Team over a 14 year period playing World Cups in 1994 and 1998. As a college player, Juergen was a four year letterman and captain for the Indiana University Soccer team and was a 1988 Division I National Champion, Defensive MVP of the 1988 NCAA Championships and was 1990 National Player of the Year in College Soccer.

After Juergen retired from playing in 2002 he served as assistant coach for the Men's National team for the World Cup, Copa America, and Gold Cup tournaments. In 2013 Juergen was named Director of Soccer and Head Coach of the Indy Eleven.

TOP 10 CLASH AT SHERIDAN

Two of Class 1A's best teams will meet for the Sectional 44 championship Friday at Sheridan's Bud Wright Stadium. The No. 6 Blackhawks host No. 4 Monroe Central.

The Golden Bears are 10-1 for the season. Monroe Central won its first eight games, over Cambridge City Lincoln 52-0, Union County 30-12, North Decatur 24-0, Union City 50-0, Tri-Central 56-6, Wes-Del 29-0, Eastern Hancock 46-21 and Anderson Prep 54-0 before falling to Shenandoah 42-20 in Week 9.

In the tournament, the Golden Bears beat Clinton Central 57-6 and Clinton Prairie to advance to the final.

"Monroe Central's got a very good ball club, running and passing," said Wright. The coach noted that the Golden Bears "throw the ball all over the place" and have "a good running game" to go with their passing.

"We've got to be able to defend both," said Wright.

Senior Casey Conatser is MC's quarterback. He has made 96 of 165 passes, totaling 2063 yards and 26 touchdowns. Senior Nick Mitchell is the top receiver, with 28 catches and eight scores. Senior Wyatt Snyder leads the rushing, with 831 yards and 14 touchdowns.

The Blackhawks come into the game 9-2, and are looking for their first sectional title since 2012. Wright said his players were talking about that - "It's been a while since we won a sectional."

Pacers top Cavaliers for third straight win

By GREG RAPPAPORT

Courtesy nba.com/pacers

On the second night of a back-to-back, playing against a Cavaliers team that hadn't taken the floor since Sunday, the Pacers notched their biggest win of the season, toppling the reigning Eastern Conference Champion Cleveland Cavaliers 124-107 on Wednesday night at Quicken Loans Arena and picking up their third straight victory in the process.

"Our guys executed offensively," explained Pacers head coach Nate McMillan. "We moved the ball and got it to the open man. We played the game the right way. We talk about that all the time, you play the game the right way and normally good things happen."

After seeing their 10-point lead chopped down to just three points on a 7-0 run done entirely by James, the Pacers' offense punched back in force, opening up a 106-96 lead.

But the Cavaliers (3-5), who had lost three consecutive games entering Wednesday night, charged back once again, narrowing the gap to five points as the home crowd began to light up.

Just as the Cavaliers appeared to be on the verge of breaking the game open in their favor, Darren Collison netted a 3-pointer to push the lead back to eight, forcing the Cavaliers to call a timeout.

With under four minutes remaining, the Pacers (5-3) slowed the game down, bleeding the shot clock before Victor Oladipo got a layup inside for his 20th point of the night, putting Indiana up by nine.

"I just made shots in the second that I didn't make in the first half," Oladipo explained. "I mean, it's the game of basketball. It's a long game and you're going to make some shots and miss some shots, you just have to keep shooting." with confidence.

As the clock wound down, the Pacers got key buckets from Oladipo, Collison, and Thaddeus Young, keeping enough separation between them and the Cavaliers to leave the building with their first win at Quicken Loans Arena in their last nine tries.

In the balanced scoring effort three Pacers players — Collison, Oladipo, and Thad Young — surpassed 20 points, with Domantas Sabonis leading the way on the glass with a game-high 12 rebounds.

The Pacers had it going offensively from the start, finishing the first quarter leading the Cavs 30-28, thanks to an impressive offensive display from Bojan Bogdanovic, who finished the frame with a game-high 10 points. By halftime, Bogdanovic had amassed a game-best 14.

In the second quarter, Pacers head coach Nate McMillan elected to leave Sabonis in with the bench unit. With Sabonis in the game to start the quarter, Indiana outscored Cleveland 10-6, including an impressive and-one from Sabonis with 8:45 left in the half.

With the bench unit still in, Indiana continued to pile points on, hitting 3-pointers on three consecutive possessions, the last of which got the shooter's touch from Cory Joseph to put the Pacers up 49-40.

After the torrent of scoring, Cleveland put James back in the game, who quickly drew a Flagrant 1 foul on Lance Stephenson as Stephenson swiped at the ball but made too much contact with James. After James hit both free throws, JR Smith canned a 3-pointer, causing a 5-0 swing from the Cavaliers.

But the scoring didn't stop there. Moments later, a streaking Derrick Rose flew through the lane to cap an 11-0 Cavaliers run, putting the hosts up by two and forcing a Pacers timeout.

To close the first half, Indiana was able to keep pace with the Cavaliers, eventually taking a one-point lead on a slick interior pass from Cory Joseph to Thad Young. With the Cavs unable to get a final shot off in the half, Indiana headed to the locker room leading the Cavaliers by one point.

In the third quarter, after Cleveland grabbed a lead, Indiana's starting unit began to click again, embarking on an 11-0 run that was capped by an Oladipo 3-pointer — one of his five makes from beyond the arc.

Despite LeBron answering with a 3-pointer of his own, Bogdanovic responded right back with a wide-open three from the wing to put Indiana up 80-72 midway through the third quarter.

By the time the third quarter ended, all five of Indiana's starters had reached double-figure scoring as Indiana outscored the Cavaliers 30-24 to take a seven-point lead into the fourth quarter.

With a mixture of starters and reserve players in the game, Thad Young stroked a 3-pointer with 10:00 left in the game to extend the Pacers' lead to 97-87.

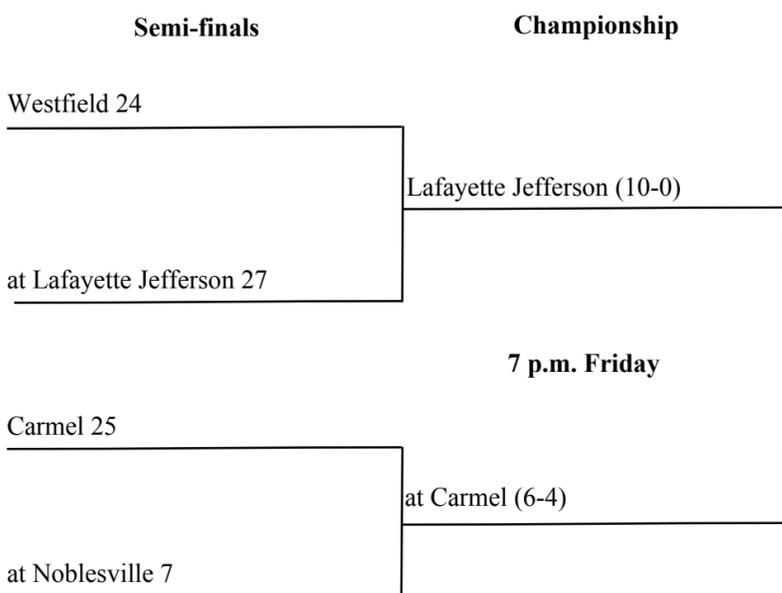

After Young's three, however, James went on a one-man mission, breaking off a personal 7-0 run to bring the Cavs' deficit down to just three points with 7:08 remaining in the game.

From there, however, it was all Pacers as Indiana outscored Cleveland by 10 in the fourth quarter to notch their third consecutive win, while dropping the Cavaliers to their fourth straight loss.

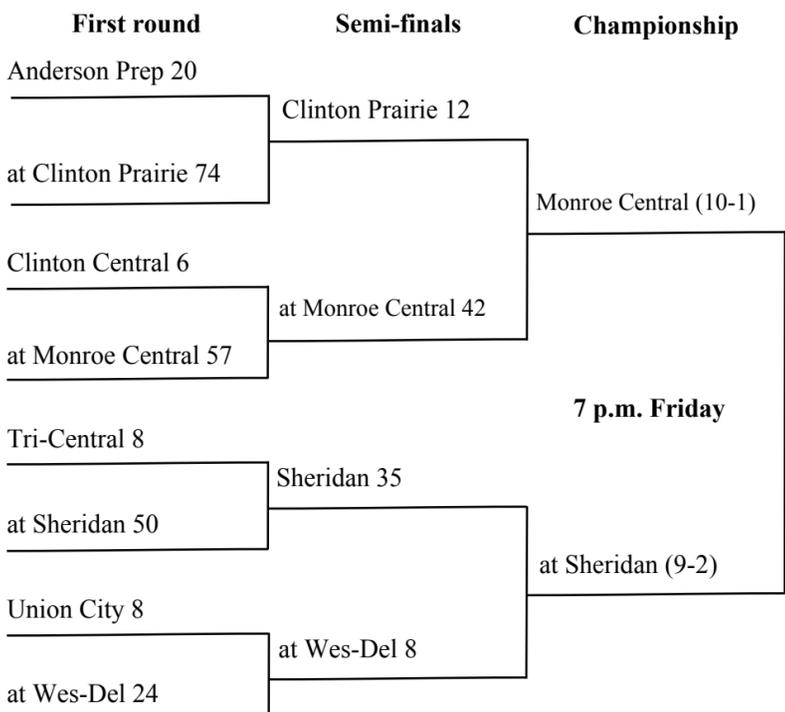

"We have a lot of selfless guys on this team," Collison said. "It's not about any individual on this team, everybody wants the next person to do well, and that's what it's about. It's not about points, rebounds, or assists, it's about the win."
