When Don called me . . .

From the Heart

JANET HART LEONARD

It was in March of 2014 when I was driving north on 37. I was on my way home after working at the dealership. I saw the call come in through the Sync system on my Flex. I didn't recognize the number so I answered with, "This is Janet."

The voice on the other end of the conversation was not one that I was familiar with. "Janet, it's Don Jellison." I might not have recognized the voice but I sure knew the name.

I mean it was THE Don Jellison, the most respected and well known newspaper guy I knew. I had read his sports columns since I was a young girl in junior high when I discovered boys and sports.

Don was a fixture at Forest Park where the boys played Babe Ruth Baseball in the summers. I saw how he not only coached but mentored the guys. He was like a bonus dad to many young men growing up in the 60s and 70s and beyond.

And so over the years that I was in high school, I read the Noblesville Daily Ledger every day. After any game that the Noblesville Millers played, in any sport, I read Don's play-by-play of the game.

Don called it like it was. He gave his opinions both ouchy and complimentary. Yes, he kept it real. Jellison's writing took you to the game and his words brought out emotions as well as the facts.

Don never put a player down in print. He always found ways to highlight their achievements. He knew their names and the names of their parents and over the years, the names of their grandparents.

I would say that many a player got the attention of colleges because of his writing about them in his columns. Don wasn't a guy who would ever want credit for it, but I know it happened.

Don kept up with the players over the years. He could tell you when they played, who was their coach and what they were doing after they grew up and had kids of their own. He was just that kind of guy. Special and unique.

Kids remembered what he said about them. Sarah Wilson, who played basketball for the Millers in the 90s, said on Facebook after hearing that Don had passed away, "He wrote so many kind words about me." Kids remembered.

You see Don Jellison made a difference. He had a heart for athletes, he had a heart for his community.

When Don and his son Jeff started the Hamilton County Reporter some four years ago he

Fishers challenges residents to support men's health

The REPORTER

If a community were to marshal its collective resources around mental health, what could and what should they do? Since learning of 157 immediate detentions by Fishers Police Department on individuals who expressed a desire to hurt themselves or someone else, this question has been a driving force behind Mayor Fadness' Fishers Mental Health Initiative. This November, the City of Fishers is spearheading its second Movember campaign, aimed at raising money and awareness for men's health, with a special focus on men's mental health.

"In our community, data shows that over the past three years males in Fishers comprise 46 percent of the total number of mental health incidents," stated Mayor Fadness. "For that same period, 51 percent of all suicide attempts and completions were males 40 and over. Movember is a great opportunity for the Mental Health Initiative to rally behind the fathers, brothers, husbands, and male friends who may be living in quiet despair."

During the month of November, Fishers residents are encouraged to join the #Stigma-FreeFishers network. Residents interested in doing so can sign up online at movember.com.

Once the account has been created, those interested can join the City of Fishers Movember Network. Team members are invited to share their "before" photos on social media using #Stigma-

FreeFishers and to join the close out event on Nov. 30 at Four Day Ray Brewing. The close our event will take place from 5 to 7 p.m. with a group photo at 6 p.m.

to record the "after" progress of the monthlong beard- and mustache-growing effort.

Complimentary appetizers will be served courtesy of Four Day Ray Brewing. During the close out event, raffle tickets will be available for purchase, and all proceeds will benefit the Fishers-based Peyton Riekhof Foundation for Youth Hope to benefit programs for youth males.

Residents interested in learning more about Fishers' Mental Health Initiative are encouraged to visit

Najjar to be sworn in

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

Hamilton County's newest judge, David Najjar, will be officially sworn into office in public ceremonies Thursday, Nov. 9 in the Historic Courtroom at the Courthouse. The ceremony involving robing the new judge is set for 3:30 p.m.

Najjar was appointed last Friday by Gov. Eric Holcomb to fill a vacancy on the Superior Court 5 bench. Former Judge Wayne Sturtevant retired in August leaving the seat vacant.

Najjar is not a newcomer at the Judicial Center having served the past 12 years as magistrate for the local courts. Prior to that he was a deputy prosecutor. A Carmel resident, he made a run for judge of Superior 2 in last year's primary election.

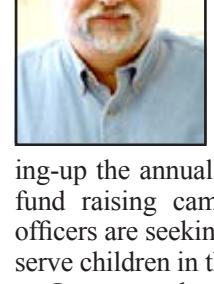

When the current vacancy occurred, Najjar was selected from 17 applicants for the bench. His term of office extends through December of 2020.

The public is welcome to attend the Nov. 9 event. An informal reception and refreshments will follow the formalities.

Fishers Police Foundation ask for your holiday donations

By LARRY LANNAN

LarryInFishers.com

We are on the cusp of the holiday season, which means the Fishers Police Department is gearing-up the annual Cops & Kids fund raising campaign. Police officers are seeking donations to serve children in the local area.

Last year, the Fishers Police Foundation was able to provide holiday assistance for 32 children, and helped many families during the year, including clothing and cash assistance. The foundation would like to continue and expand the Cops & Kids program, but needs help from the entire Fishers community.

If you would like to donate, mail or drop off your check at the Fishers Police Department, 4 Municipal Drive, Fishers, IN 46038. Checks should be made out to the Fishers Police Foundation, please write "Cops & Kids" in the memo line of a check to ensure it is handled properly.

Gas prices continue to rise

By PATRICK DeHAAN
GasBuddy.com

Nowhere in the country have motorists seen gasoline prices rising as fast as they have in the Great Lakes in recent days. Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Illinois have been particularly hard hit this week and gas prices may soon rise to their highest since 2015 due to several issues.

The issues at work that are driving prices up so quickly: Refinery maintenance, a major pipeline outage and low gasoline inventories. Part of the blame could even be placed on long-gone Hurricane Harvey, as some refiners pushed back maintenance to cover production losses from the affected area. Now with Harvey gone, that pushed-back maintenance is colliding with other planned maintenance leading to a condensed maintenance season. Second, the Explorer Pipeline, with the capacity of nearly 700,000 barrels per day, sustained a leak last week interrupting the ability for relief supplies to be sent from the Gulf Coast. Third, all of these issues have pushed gasoline inventories to their lowest levels in more than two years.

Wholesale gasoline prices have seen an impressive rally in the last week, rising nearly 50 cents per gallon, including another double-digit gain on the market today in response to continued tightness in the region. The issue is also causing gas prices to skyrocket in areas of Canada as well. A major problem that the Great Lakes doesn't have that other regions do: The ability to resupply via waterborne shipments and pipeline deliveries.

It appears that due to the continued rise, hikes that have already happened in these areas have not covered the full jump of the rise in wholesale cost. Prices in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Illinois could soon jump to their highest levels since BP's refinery outage in August 2015. GasBuddy estimates gas prices could soon rise to $2.99 in Michigan, $2.95 in Indiana and $2.89 in Ohio and Kentucky. Prices in Illinois, mainly around Chicago, could exceed $3 per gallon.

Relief will come eventually, once the Explorer Pipeline is repaired which is expected to be fixed within days. Even then, it will take days for gasoline flows to return to normal. The problem of refinery maintenance will still linger.

Motorists are cautioned to prepare for higher gas prices soon.

Patrick DeHaan is the Head of Petroleum Analysis (USA). Based in Chicago, Patrick brings to GasBuddy all his assets to help consumers by giving reliable and accurate price forecasts, including the San Jose Mercury News dubbing Patrick "one of the nation's most accurate forecasters" in 2012.

wanted it to be a newspaper that would make a difference in his community and his people. And that he accomplished.

A small percentage of newspapers, starting up in this day and age of social media and non "hold in your hands" newspapers, make it. The Hamilton County Reporter is making it. The subscriptions are on the rise. Readership has spread in just a short time. Why? Because Don Jellison knew how to do it and do it well.

His voice will be heard and his words will continue to be read through his son Jeff and the columnists who have had the privilege of writing for him. I was blessed to be one of them.

So when that call came through three years and eight months ago, Don told me that he had heard I needed a newspaper for my column.

He said, "Janet, I have read your writings. You are schmaltzy but everyone likes reading what you have to say. Will you come on board the Hamilton County Reporter?"

"Don, will you let me say whatever I want to say?" He laughed and said, "Heck, I'll let you say it on the front page every Sunday morning."

And it is there that I have been honored to be for almost four years now. Thank you Don Jellison for believing in me. I was blessed to call you my editor and my friend.

Your words, and you, will be missed.

MADD announces Indiana Legislators of the Year

The REPORTER

Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) has named two Indiana "2017 Legislators of the Year" for their tireless work to help eliminate the 100 percent preventable crime of drunk driving.

Senator Eric Koch and Representative John Young sponsored SB 479, which enhances the penalty for OWI causing death if the driver is a habitual traffic violator and allows for separate counts to be charged for each victim in the car on leaving the scene crashes.

"MADD is grateful to Senator Koch and Representative Young for championing legislation that reflects the serious and devastating impact of the violent crime of drunk driving. Together, MADD and committed legislators like Senator Koch and Representative Young will put an end to these horrible tragedies."

In all, MADD recognized 42 lawmakers for their commitment to saving lives. For the full list, visit madd.org.

Many of the

Koch

Young

2017 Legislators of the Year have played a major role in MADD's Campaign to Eliminate Drunk Driving, which was launched in 2006. A key component of the Campaign calls for the passage of all-offender interlock laws, which require the use of an ignition interlock for any convicted drunk driver who seeks driving privileges during a license suspension period. Prior to the Campaign, only one state – New Mexico – had an all-offender interlock law. Today, 30 states and Washington D.C. have enacted all-offender interlock laws.

About Mothers Against Drunk Driving

Founded in 1980 by a mother whose daughter was killed by a drunk driver, Mothers Against Drunk Driving® (MADD) is the nation's largest non-profit working to end drunk driving, help fight drugged driving, support the victims of these violent crimes and prevent underage drinking. MADD has helped to save more than 350,000 lives, reduce drunk driving deaths by more than 50 percent and promote designating a non-drinking driver. MADD's Campaign to Eliminate Drunk Driving® calls for law enforcement support, ignition interlocks for all offenders and advanced vehicle technology. MADD has provided supportive services to nearly one million drunk and drugged driving victims and survivors at no charge through local victim advocates and the 24-Hour Victim Help Line 1-877-MADD-HELP. ## DNR emergency rule for 2017 deer hunting season

The REPORTER

An emergency rule signed today by the DNR, filed with the Natural Resources Commission and the Legislative Services Agency, states the following:

"Rifle cartridges that were allowed in previous years on public land for deer hunting are allowed on public land again this year during the deer firearms season, the reduction zone season (in zones where local ordinances allow the use of a firearm), special hunts on other public lands such as State Parks and National Wildlife Refuges, and special antlerless season.

This means that the rifle cartridge must fire a bullet of .357-inch diameter or larger, have a minimum case length of 1.16 inches, and have a maximum case length of 1.8 inches if used on public land. Full metal jacketed bullets are illegal."

Drug threat is ‘unprecedented’

The REPORTER

The American Society of Crime Laboratory Directors (ASCLD) is issuing an urgent public alert regarding the dangers posed by drugs currently circulating America's streets and neighborhoods as a result of the current opioid crisis. This alert is intended to help the public recognize and avoid suspicious materials when they are nearby.

"The threat is unprecedented," warns ASCLD President Ray Wickenheiser. "Some of the clandestine substances being sold or made accessible have formulations that are so toxic that it's better to consider them poison."

The street drugs the public may be exposed to can be so dangerous that even trace amounts can be fatal when ingested, inhaled or even absorbed through the skin. Carfentanil, a drug 100 times more lethal than fentanyl and 10,000 times more lethal than morphine, is used to tranquilize elephants, yet is now available on the streets. A lethal dose is approximately 20 micrograms, which is about the size of a grain of salt. The problem is so serious that it requires scientists working in crime laboratories across the United States to take additional special precautions to protect their own safety.

According to Wickenheiser, approximately 94 percent of all crime laboratories in the United States compile and share data pertaining to drug evidence submissions. "Crime laboratories see and identify a variety of drugs, compiling statistics from across many law enforcement agencies. There is a direct relationship between the kinds of drugs we are seeing in our laboratories and the spike in overdose deaths being reported in hospitals across the country."

ASCLD warns members of the public to pay close attention in order to recognize and avoid dangerous drug paraphernalia. Drugs seen in America's crime laboratories are often packaged, transported and used with common household items.

Items to be avoided include:

- Pills, tablets, or unidentified candy
- Powders, especially those that are white or gray in color

• Glassine (wax paper) packets, small knotted plastic bag corners or zip-lock bags

- Clear capsules that contain powder
- Rubber balloons or condoms
- Small, brightly colored packages
- Syringes or spoons
- Stickers or labels that seem out of place (potent drugs may be on the adhesive side)

The following crime lab data underscore the nature and severity of the problem:

• In the first six months of 2017, there was a 19 percent increase in opioid submissions to crime labs as compared to all of 2016.

• In 2016, there were over 22 different types of fentanyl (a powerful opioid pain medication) identified in crime labs.

• 2017 has seen a 54 percent increase in fentanyl cases submitted to crime labs.

• Between 2012 and 2016, laboratories have witnessed a 6,000 percent increase in fentanyl cases. This increase corresponds directly with the overdose deaths being seen nationwide.

• Case backlogs have increased by roughly 28 percent in the last year due to the increasing case submissions, case complexity and danger of the drugs now being seized by law enforcement

Forensic scientists working in America's crime laboratories have seen first-hand the kinds of materials and containers that may pose the greatest threat. This public alert is based on their direct experience observing and analyzing these dangerous drugs.

Vets eat free at Applebee's

The REPORTER

Applebee's Neighborhood Grill + Bar® restaurants throughout Indiana will celebrate the 10th anniversary of honoring America's veterans and active-duty military by offering them a free meal on Veterans Day, Saturday, Nov. 11. Applebee's has donated more than 8.3 million free meals to veterans and active-duty military personnel since beginning the program in 2008.

"We look forward to welcoming local veterans and active-duty military at Applebee's on Saturday, Nov. 11 for a free meal," said Terry Culler, Regional Marketing Coordinator, Apple American Group. "Listening to their incredible stories and getting to meet the American heroes in our neighborhood makes this day extra special and is why year after year, we are honored to participate."

Applebee's special Veterans Day menu includes seven of its signature dishes, including:

- The American Standard Burger

- Butcher's Meat + Potatoes
- Three-Cheese Chicken Cavatappi
- Chicken Tenders Plat-

- Fiesta Lime Chicken®
- Double Crunch Shrimp
- Oriental Chicken Salad

Complimentary meals from the Veterans Day menu will be available for dine-in only. In order to receive a free meal on Veterans Day, guests need to provide proof of military service, which includes:

U.S. Uniform Services Identification Card, U.S. Uniform Services Retired Identification Card, Current Leave and Earnings Statement, Veterans Organization Card, photograph in uniform or wearing uniform, DD214, Citation or Commendation.

This event is only one of the many ways that Applebee's honors and supports our American heroes during the year. Additionally, through Nov. 11, Indiana locations are also inviting guests to thank their local retired and active duty military members through their Buy A Vet A Bud program, where guests can purchase a Budweiser®, Bud Light® or O'Douls® beer at their local Applebee's to be given to a deserving veteran who provides proof of service in-restaurant on Veterans Day free of charge. Guests must be 21 years old to purchase and redeem.

For more information, please visit applebees.com/veterans.

The Veterans Day offers are valid at Applebee's locations owned and operated by Apple American Group located in Anderson, Avon, Bloomington, Brownsburg, Camby, Carmel, Columbus, Crawfordsville, Edinburgh, Fishers, Frankfort, Franklin, Greenfield, Greenwood, Indianapolis (Pike Plaza, Castleton, East Washington, Lawrence and North Willow), Kokomo, Lafayette, Logansport, Marion, Muncie, New Castle, Noblesville, Plainfield, Shelbyville, Speedway and West Lafayette.

Who was Virginia Claypool Meredith?

The REPORTER

This week in Hoosier History Highlights, for the week of Nov. 5:

1848 – Virginia Claypool Meredith was born in Fayette County. She operated Oakland Farms near Cambridge City and gained fame as a writer, speaker and professor. She was the first woman to serve on the Board of Trustees at Purdue University. Known as the "Queen of American Agriculture," she encouraged women to pursue education and careers related to farm life.

1888 – Benjamin Harrison was elected President of the United States, defeating incumbent Grover Cleveland. Harrison, an attorney and grandson of President William Henry Harrison, did most of his campaigning from his home on North Delaware Street in Indianapolis.

1913 – Benjamin F.

Bosse, mayor-elect of Evansville, was in Indianapolis to meet with Governor Samuel Ralston. The Indianapolis Star reported that Bosse told the governor that "he can bank on it that there is going to be one town in Indiana where there will be law enforcement during the next four years."

1918 – World War I ended with the signing of an armistice at the 11th hour on the 11th day of the 11th month. More than 130,000 men and women from Indiana served in the war, which had started for the United States in April of 1917.

1940 – Robert Lee Brockenburr became the first African American to be elected to the Indiana Senate. An attorney in Indianapolis, he served five terms, authoring legislation which prohibited discrimination in education, employment and accommodations. He also helped create the Indiana Civil Rights Commission.

1973 – One of the largest fires in the history of Indianapolis started with a blaze at the old W. T. Grant Store on East Washington Street. It spread to 14 other buildings and destroyed 84 businesses.

Millers defend state cheerleading title

The Noblesville cheerleading squad (pictured) defended its state championship Saturday at the 2017 state cheer competition, which took place at New Castle. The Millers edged out Fishers by a half-point to win its second consecutive title in the large school division. There were five Hamilton County teams that competed. Carmel won first place in the Co-ed competition. Hamilton Southeastern took fourth place and Westfield came up just shy of placing.

Noblesville picks up first victory of the season

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Back home in The Mill, the Noblesville girls basketball team soared to its first win of the season Saturday night.

The Millers beat Fort Wayne Snider 70-50. After a slow start, Noblesville took control of the game midway through the first quarter and were able to cruise through the remainder of the contest relatively unbothered by their old rival the Panthers. (The two teams met back in 1988 for the state championship.)

It was a nice win for a Millers team that is gaining experience, but still has some young components.

"We're a little bit young in certain areas," said Noblesville coach Donna Buckley. "We have great experience in other areas, but just trying to figure it all out, put it together and I thought it clicked for them a little bit more tonight."

Snider only led twice during the game. The second time was a 12-10 advantage midway through the first. At that point, Noblesville went on a 15-0 run that lasted into the opening seconds of the second period. Emily Kiser scored six points, with

Madison Whetro had eight points and four assists for the Millers in their home-opening win over Fort Wayne Snider on Saturday.

Correction

Kent Graham took the Sheridan football picture that was published in Saturday's Reporter.

NOBLESVILLE

From Page 7

Mallory Johnson adding four. Maddie Knight had three points and made a steal that ended up in Kiser's hands; she made the easy basket that capped the run.

The Panthers scored six unanswered points midway through the second, but Johnson quickly made up for that with back-to-back 3-pointers. Snider cut the lead to 41-33 to open the third quarter, but it would get no closer. Noblesville steadily increased its advantage throughout the second half.

Knight helped out with six points in the third. She totaled 15 for the game, and came close to a triple-double: Knight also handed out seven assists and made seven steals; she also got five rebounds.

Kiser was dominant, especially in the second quarter, where she picked up seven of her 17 rebounds. Emily wound up with 26 points on the night and also handed out four assists. Johnson scored 15.

"We had a lot of scoring," said Buckley.

Olivia Morales grabbed six rebounds and Abby Haley had five. Madison Whetro had eight points and four assists. The junior is seeing her first significant minutes after dealing with injuries during her first two years in high school.

"It just feels amazing," said Whetro. "The team has really great chemistry and I feel like from being injured last year to coming into my role this year, I'm just trying to figure out what that is right now and make the plays when they need to be played and play my role."

If there was a blessing in disguise for Whetro about missing so much time, especially in her freshman year, it's that she was able to observe the varsity game from the vantage point of the bench. She certainly learned about high school basketball in a hurry.

"I just recognized freshman year that coming from middle school to high school, the game was a lot faster, it was more physical," said Whetro. "You're playing against seniors and juniors, the people that are older than you and have had more experience. But that means when you get in the game, you have to fill your role and play just like them. You have to pick it up, you have to be there for your teammates, run the floor, do what you're capable of and good things will happen."

"I thought she gave us really good minutes," said Buckley of Whetro. "There were just a lot of kids that brought some really good stuff for us."

Noblesville is now 1-1 for the season. The Millers are back in The Mill Tuesday night, hosting Arsenal Tech.

Tigers, Royals have perfect day at Fishers Classic

Saturday was a busy basketball day at Fishers, as the Tigers hosted the Fishers Classic.

Kenedi London
Fishers

In their second game of the day, the Tigers took care of Ben Davis 54-41. Fishers led 13-7 after the first period, then ran away with the second quarter, leading 37-17 at halftime.

It was Grace's turn to score 20 points in this game, which she did, including a 9-of-12 effort from the free throw line. Tamia Perryman added 10 points.

Vail said her team "came out and really rebounded the basketball well early, which helped us to get out and run in transition. Ben Davis put a lot of pressure on us in the second half. We were able to hold on and secure that win, so that was nice."

Southeastern played Ben Davis first, and used a big third quarter to get a 60-57 victory in its first game of the season. The Giants led 27-24 at halftime, but the Class 4A No. 4 Royals powered through the third quarter, scoring 21 points to take a 45-38 lead. Southeastern then held off the expected BD comeback in the fourth period.

"I thought the kids played really well," said Tigers coach Lauren Vail. "We came out against Southport and played really well early and then had a little bit of a lull in the second quarter."

But any hope of a Cardinals comeback was squelched when the Tigers scored 22 points in the third period. Vail said that her team came out "and really played the way that I know we're capable of doing" after halftime.

Kenedi London led Fishers with 20 points, followed by Toni Grace with 18 and Ali Gerka with 11.

Huskies battle No. 10 Danville

Hamilton Heights battled at Class 3A No. 10 Danville on Saturday, eventually falling 55-50.

The Huskies and the Warriors were tied at 20-20 at halftime. Heights edged ahead 37-34 after the third quarter, but Danville used a 21-point fourth period to emerge with the victory.

Kayla Kirtley led the Huskies' balanced scoring with 13 points, while Bayleigh Runner and Lauryn Wiley each added 10 points. Kirtley drained three 3-pointers, as did Lexi Branham for her total of nine points. Branham also handed out five assists. Ana Collar was a force on the boards with nine rebounds.

Golden Eagles drop opener

Guerin Catholic opened its season with a 62-43 loss at Bloomington North on Saturday.

The Golden Eagles fell behind 16-9 after the first quarter, but worked their way back to within 28-24 by halftime. But the Cougars took control in the second half, outscoring GC 19-9 in the fourth period.

Sydney Geis made three 3-pointers on her way to 16 points for the Golden Eagles. Fiona Weber pulled eight rebounds, with Carly Wilson grabbing five.

Guerin Catholic plays its first home game of the season on Friday, taking on Jay County.
