HSE, teachers ratify new contract

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Teachers in the Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) school system voted to ratify a new contract bargained with the school administration. The Hamilton Southeastern Education Association (HSEA) and officials representing the school corporation reached a tentative agreement in October. Teachers voted on that contract from Nov. 1 to 3.

HSEA President Janet Chandler tells LarryInFishers once teachers' votes were counted, the pact was ratified. The school board will vote on the contract at the regular meeting tonight to put the final seal of approval on the new agreement.

The contract extends for two years, covering the calendar years of 2018 and 2019. At the Oct. 25 Hamilton Southeastern School Board meeting, Superintendent Allen Bourff outlined the main provisions of the agreement. The contract includes:

- In 2018, teachers will receive an average pay increase of 2.73 percent, with salaries ranging from a low of $40,158 up to high of $79,085.
- In 2019, the average salary

Officer Whitesell named Prevail Hero of the Month

The REPORTER

The advocates at Prevail agreed that the Hero of the Month Award for October should go to Officer Nathan Whitesell. Officer Whitesell recently transferred to the Cicero Police Department, but the award was given for his actions while at the Sheridan Police Department.

According to Prevail, "While SPD helps our clients and community with day-to-day duties, Officer Nathan Whitesell chose to go above and beyond his call of duty. After responding to a domestic violence call out, Whitesell not only assessed the situation, but stayed on scene for hours to ensure safety of a Prevail client."

Instead of simply checking the scene, confirming the victim's safety and leaving, Whitesell called Prevail to have them contact the victim in order to create a safety plan. Whitesell then drove the individual to Noblesville to meet with a Prevail advocate.

"His kindness and compassion shone through even more when he walked the client into the office and made sure to speak with an advocate himself to make sure the client was in good hands," stated a release from Prevail. "Absolutely none of the actions that Officer Whitesell took were mandatory or necessary, but he strived to help anyway."

Furthermore, Prevail thanks Officer Whitesell for keeping this individual safe, and for continuing to protect and serve the community.

Jury duty scam active in Hamilton County

The REPORTER

Once again, a scam involving the threat of arrest for missing jury duty is hitting central Indiana, including Hamilton County. In an even more interesting twist, the caller may be using names of courthouse employees and Sheriff's Office deputies to lend credence to the calls. The Sheriff's Office is aware of two incidents over the weekend when a caller identified himself as "Sgt. Farley" or "Captain Stanaford" from the Hamilton County Sheriff's office and instructed individuals to pay a fine for missed jury duty.

The scam works like this: A victim answers the telephone and the caller says a warrant is being issued for not appearing for jury duty (or paying taxes or another offense). The caller may give the name of a courthouse employee, a deputy, or a name similar to an employee. Caller ID may even show the call originating from a local number as these ID's are easy to fake with current technology. The caller then states the victim can avoid the arrest

Fishers Amphitheater revamp may start this week

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

When it was announced that the city would sink $7 million into revamping the area of the Municipal Complex between the Amphitheater and City Hall, it was clear the construction timeline would be tight. City officials want the area completed by mid-May 2018.

City spokeswoman Casey Cawthon says work on the Amphitheater upgrade could begin as early as this week. So, if you are around the City Hall, you will soon see crews beginning to work around that area.

This project includes a redesign of the parking configuration for Amphitheater events. Also included are plans to move the stage further out to allow for more arts events, such as plays and space for an orchestra. The Amphitheater roof will be aligned consistent with these changes.

Ratio Architects is designing the plans for remodeling the Amphitheater.

increase will be 2.66 percent, with the low $40,158 and the high $79,751.

• There will be a group of teachers not always falling under the increases described above due to what is described as a "reset," which is an effort to increase the pay of newly hired teachers who suffered pay caps during the tough budget years.

• Health insurance premiums will not increase in 2018, but 2019 premiums will depend on what the school system experiences in health claims. That data is not known yet.

• Teacher compensation for extracurricular activities will not change in the current 2017-2018 school year, but the school corporation will inject $17,500 into that money pool during the 2018-2019 school year.

• The administration's PowerPoint presentation says this contract will increase teacher compensation by just over $6.4 million during the two-year duration of the pact.

by paying a fine submitted by wire transfer or pre-paid credit card. Pressure is put on the victim to pay quickly in order to avoid jail time since once paperwork is submitted the arrest is imminent. The caller may even provide another telephone number to call to verify the offense and pending arrest.

As a reminder, arrest warrants in Hamilton County are not served over the telephone. If in doubt about speaking with an official county employee, hang up the telephone, research the appropriate number and contact the agency directly. Do not call a number given by the person on the telephone as it probably is not a correct number. If you owe money to the county or to any government agency, contact the office directly to determine how the money should be paid. Most government agencies do not use wire transfers or pre-paid credit cards. It is almost impossible to track or recover money if the victim falls for the fraud.

More than a sports writer

Dear Editor:

To share the great work as a sports writer Don Jellison was would be redundant. There have been numerous letters already shared of his value to sports reporting and to Hamilton County.

I have known Don, Jelly for those who knew him well, since I was 11 years old. He wrote a letter to my parents (that I just recently uncovered) asking their permission to allow me to "move up" and play on an older baseball team that traveled throughout Indiana and some parts of Ohio.

Some of you may not know Don's importance to baseball in Noblesville. He was instrumental in helping formalize and initiate Babe Ruth Baseball. I always wondered how Don found time to cover and write so many sports articles and then spend so much time with our baseball team playing three double-headers almost every week.

Don was the kind of coach that used positive reinforcement to get the best out of his players. I never heard him yell at anyone during a practice or game; well except for Jeff who we fondly referred to as "Peanut Butter." Jeff was our team manager and batboy; how many people can say they played baseball for Peanut Butter and Jelly? Don's encouragement was instrumental in me taking the game of baseball seriously. Some of my fondest memories are from my time playing baseball for Don.

Don was a tireless worker, as you may have already picked up from my previous comments. With that said, how many people know that during the winter Don organized an adult men's basketball league that was played every Sunday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.? This may not seem important on the surface, however, for me it was an opportunity to get together with my friends and old teammates. It also allowed players to meet and become more acquainted with other Hamilton County players both younger and older.

I have a lot of fond memories of Don that I will carry with me forever, however, my most favorite memory of Don happened just a few short months ago. While visiting my in-laws in a local assisted living facility, we were in the cafeteria and there sat Don at another table. As I approached he looked at me and smiled. I didn't think he recognized me, but when I introduced myself he said, "I know who you are." I hadn't seen Don in over 20 years, although we had talked on the phone a few times. We sat and talked for 45 minutes. I would ask him a few questions if he remembered this or that, and of course he did. What was so heart-warming was he didn't want to talk about the past, he wanted talk about the present, his family, and insisted that I share how my family was doing. True to the Don Jellison legacy he has left us, in his time of greatest need he continued to care about others more than himself.

Bradford joins Conner Prairie board

The REPORTER

The board of directors of nationally-acclaimed Conner Prairie, one of the nation's top outdoor history museums, has named Carmel resident Andrew Bradford vice president-chief development officer.

In his role, Bradford will serve as the museum's chief fundraising strategist, responsible for managing daily operations of the development efforts to secure funding through individual, corporate, government and foundation sources, among others. A member of the museum's leadership team, he will work with the board of directors to fulfill organizational fundraising goals and manage the board's development committee.

"Andrew is a dynamic, articulate strategist," said Conner Prairie President and CEO Norman Burns. "He is a natural-born leader who excels at coaching and mentoring and is a great fit for our current development team. Under his leadership, I foresee continued and significant growth in all areas of development at Conner Prairie."

Bradford joins Conner Prairie from the national Alzheimer's Association where he was national director of donor stewardship, responsible for managing more than 100 donors who contributed more than $120 million to the organization.

As a nonprofit leader, serving in positions as senior manager of strategic philanthropy and partnerships at the YMCA of the USA in Chicago, assistant vice president and team officer for CCS Fundraising in Chicago and assistant director of development at the YMCA/JCC of Greater Toledo, Ohio, Bradford has raised more than $85 million in his career, specializing in capital campaigns, annual fund management, strategic planning, major gift solicitations, staff and volunteer management and donor stewardship.

"It is a privilege to join such an impactful organization," Bradford said. "I am looking forward to working with our staff and volunteers to ensure Conner Prairie has the resources necessary to serve this vibrant community for years to come."

Originally from Cincinnati, Bradford earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from Albion College in Albion, Mich., where he was a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. He is a member of the Association of Donor Relations Professionals.

Spanning more than 1,000 wooded acres in central Indiana, Conner Prairie welcomes nearly 400,000 visitors of all ages annually. As Indiana's first Smithsonian Institute affiliate, Conner Prairie offers various outdoor, historically themed destinations and indoor experiential learning spaces that combine history and art with science, technology, engineering and math to offer an authentic look into history that shapes society today.

Need help navigating your Medicare options?

The REPORTER

The State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) is a counseling program for people with Medicare. SHIP is provided by the Indiana Department of Insurance and Administration on Community Living. SHIP is part of a federal network of State Health Insurance Assistance Programs located in every state.

All of SHIP's services are offered at no charge to consumers. SHIP is not affiliated with any insurance company or agency and it does not sell insurance. SHIP is staffed by a crew of volunteer counselors who have completed intensive training to offer Medicare beneficiaries objective assistance in complete confidence.

With more than 100 SHIP sites throughout the state of Indiana, a SHIP counselor is never far away from those who need assistance. SHIP offers numerous events and presentations throughout the state of Indiana to assist Medicare beneficiaries. During open enrollment, some of these events include assistance using the online Planfinder Tool that allows beneficiaries to compare prescription drug plans and Medigap policies based on their specific needs. A listing of SHIP events can be found at Medicare.in.gov.

The Medicare Annual Enrollment Period (open enrollment) happens every year from Oct. 15 through Dec. 7. This is the one time of year when all people with Medicare can make changes to their Medicare Advantage health and prescription drug plans for the next year. It is important for Medicare beneficiaries to pay close attention to the mail they receive in the fall. You may receive several important letters from your current insurance company, Social Security and Medicare about any changes to your current coverage. If you purchase a new Medicare Advantage or Part D plan or switch plans during the annual enrollment period, the changes will begin Jan. 1, 2018.

Medicare beneficiaries with income less than $1,850 per month and limited assets might qualify for programs that help to pay for Part B monthly premiums, co-pays and deductibles. Some programs even help pay for prescriptions. SHIP can help with these applications.

If you or someone you know needs help with their Medicare questions, call the SHIP helpline at 1-800-452-4800 or the TDD line for the hearing impaired at 1-866-846-0139. You also can find SHIP online at Medicare.IN.gov.

The search for dedicated SHIP Volunteers is ongoing. If you are interested in becoming a volunteer, you can learn more and even apply at Medicare.in.gov.

Bull market may slow down, so be prepared

As you know, we've been enjoying a long period of steadily rising stock prices. Of course, this bull market won't last forever – and when it does start losing steam, you, as an investor, need to be prepared.

COREY SYLVESTER
Cicero Edward Jones

Before we look at how you can ready yourself for a new phase in the investment environment, let's consider some facts about the current situation:

Length – This bull market, which began in 2009, is the second-oldest in the past 100 years – and it's about twice as long as the average bull market.

Strength – Since the start of this long rally, the stock market has produced an average annualized gain of 15.5 percent per year.

While these figures are impressive, they aren't necessarily predictive – so how much longer can this bull market continue to "stampede"? No one can say for sure, but there's no mandatory expiration date for bull markets – in fact, they don't generally die of old age, but typically expire either because of a recession or the bursting of a bubble, such as the "dot.com" bubble of 2000 or the housing bubble of 2007. And right now, most market experts don't see either event on the near-term horizon.

Still, this doesn't mean you should necessarily expect an uninterrupted streak of big gains. Some signs point to greater market volatility and lower returns. To navigate this changing landscape, think about these suggestions:

Consider rebalancing your portfolio. If appropriate, you may want to rebalance your investment mix to ensure you have a reasonable percentage of stocks – to help provide the growth you need to achieve your goals – and enough fixed-income vehicles, such as bonds, to help reduce your portfolio's vulnerability to market volatility and potential short-term downturns.

Look beyond U.S. borders. At any given time, U.S. stocks may be doing well, while international stocks are slumping – and vice versa. So, when volatility hits the U.S. markets – as it surely will, at some time – you can help reduce the impact on your portfolio if you also own some international equities. Keep in mind, though, that international investments bring some specific risks, such as currency fluctuations and foreign political and economic events.

Develop a strategy. You may want to work with a financial professional to identify a strategy to cope with a more turbulent investment atmosphere. Such a strategy can keep you from overreacting to market downturns and possibly even help you capitalize on short-term pullbacks. You could invest systematically by putting the same amount of money in the same investments each month. When prices go up, your investment dollars will buy fewer shares, and when prices drop, you'll buy more shares. And the more shares you own, the greater your potential for accumulation. However, this strategy, sometimes known as dollar cost averaging, won't guarantee a profit or protect against all losses, and you need to be willing to keep investing when share prices are declining.

During a raging bull market, it's not all that hard for anyone to invest successfully. But it becomes more challenging when the inevitable volatility and market downturns appear. Making the moves described above can help you keep moving toward your goals – even when the "bull" has taken a breather.

Report: Hamilton County men earned $24K more than women last year

Recent data shows that the male median income in Hamilton County was $24,314 more than the female median income. In 2016, women in Hamilton County earned $32,953 while men earned $57,267. This leads to a difference in pay where females earned 53 percent of male's yearly earnings in the county.

The study was conducted by pansop.com, a knowledge based sharing website. In regards to this study, the data comes from the U.S. Census Bureau and represents the median income for individual males and females in the U.S. aged 15 and up.

Figures show that Hamilton County had a higher gender pay gap than state and national values. Indiana experienced a difference in pay of $13,630 between males and females while the nation had a $12,397 difference. This contrast in pay means that Hamilton County had the 19th highest pay gap between men and women in the nation last year.

Click here to view the report on Pansop.com.

The numbers illustrate how men generally make more money the women from county to national values. Furthermore, Hamilton County's income gap outperformed Indiana by $10,684 and the national gap by $11,917. Such a large difference is partly due to the fact that Hamilton County residents also earned a higher income last year when compared to state and national figures.

"The data shows that women in Hamilton County have experienced a significant difference in pay than men. Such a gap between the two genders represents how the national trend of gender pay is magnified here on the county level," said Kevin Pryor, data analyst for Pansop. The statistics for Hamilton County represents the trend happening across the United States where females are experiencing a lower pay rate than males. Further research shows that female income in the county increased by 13.1 percent between 2009 and 2015 while the male median income increased by 5.2 percent.

Joe E. Sutton
November 5, 2017

Joe E. Sutton, lifelong resident of Fishers and Noblesville, and president of his senior class at Fishers High School (Class of 1944) died on Sunday, November 5, 2017. He was 91 years old.

Joe is survived by his wife of 59 years, Marilyn (Hocker) Sutton; children, David Sutton of Broad Ripple, Ind., Shelly Sutton (Jeff Conrad) of Carmel, Andy Sutton (Carol Perez Sutton) of Houston, Texas, and John Sutton of Sheridan, Wyo.; as well as grandchildren, Kylie Conrad, Lily Conrad, Isaac Sutton, Helena Sutton, Noah Sutton and Owen Sutton.

Joe was the son of the late Floyd Sutton and Ella (Guilkey) Sutton. Two brothers, Marion Sutton and Jerry Sutton; and one son, Dennis Sutton, predeceased him.

In addition to farming land on the Sutton homestead in Fishers, Joe served in the United States Army (1956-1958) and operated a children's clothing store, Sutton's Tynee Nook, a thriving business on the Noblesville courthouse square, for 42 years.

His standard answer to how he was doing – terrible – threw some people, but it was the response family and friends expected. They also came to expect some of the unique hats he was known to nonchalantly wear. Joe didn't always get a reaction from them, but he enjoyed finding new and interesting hats.

Joe had many interests. He played basketball for Fishers High School at a time when it took every boy in the class to form a team, and enjoyed following local high school teams and Indiana college teams the rest of his life. Growing up, he also shot pool and was an avid ping pong player. Joe also held a pilot's license and was a crop duster in the 1940s, and rode motorcycles throughout much of his life.

Joe was known for spending weekends garage sailing (something which is considered a family tradition). Friends often gave him lists of what they thought were impossible to find items; he would come back smiling, sometimes the next day, with the treasure (and many other treasures). Other interests include reading thrillers, playing euchre and enjoying his 'coffee group' in Noblesville where he has been meeting with friends for over a decade. Joe was devoted to his family, many of whom were able to be with him during his final days.

A celebration of Joe's life will be held at a future date. Randall & Roberts Funeral Homes has been entrusted with his care.

Experienced Blackhawks open with win

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Sheridan fans have gotten very familiar with the Blackhawks' girls basketball players over the past few years.

That's the case again as the team began its 2017-18 season Tuesday night. All of the varsity players on the Sheridan roster that was handed out at the Blackhawks' 92-11 win over Indianapolis Lighthouse Charter East are juniors and seniors.

Sheridan coach Jeff Guenther said his team returns "an experienced lineup" for this season. That includes Audrey Reed, a three-year starter who has been a star for the 'Hawks since she was a freshman.

The 6-foot Reed played like a senior should, scoring 33 points in Sheridan's opener. Reed reached double-double territory with 11 rebounds, and also made 11 of 12 free throw attempts.

"I liked the fact that Reed was 11 of 12 from the line," said Guenther after the game. "That's what she needs to do, she needs to get to the line."

After Reed, there are three two-year starters on the roster. Senior Nixon Williams and juniors Jillian O'Flaherty and Heather Barker. All three played well: Barker scored 11 points and pulled five rebounds, Williams made seven steals and scored six points, while O'Flaherty made four steals.

Guenther noted that depth may be a strength for Sheridan this year. Positions five through eight on the Blackhawks team will be filled by players with plenty of varsity minutes: Seniors Emma Tomaszewski and Izzy Mangin and juniors Lilli Barker and Holly Barker.

The 'Hawks led 50-6 at halftime. The junior varsity played most of the second half, including three freshmen. The ninth-graders played well, with Allie Delph scoring 10 points.

"I thought the freshman kids came in and were very competitive, very enthusiastic, played really well," said Guenther. "We expect that freshman group to be a pretty good group for us."

Sheridan's Izzy Mangin takes the ball down the court during the Blackhawks' season opener Tuesday at Hobbs Hall. Sheridan beat Indianapolis Lighthouse East 92-11.

Becca Merritt, a 5-11 sophomore JV player, had six rebounds. Other junior varsity players for Sheridan this year include freshman Katy Crail and juniors Lillie Dickerson and Payge Petro. Olivia Raines, another junior, will split time between varsity and JV.

The Blackhawks will jump right into Hoosier Heartland Conference play for their second game, traveling to Eastern on Saturday.

"Eastern's pretty solid," said Guenther. "I'd have to say that they're one of the top teams in the conference, so it's going to be a real test."

Millers make it look easy in lopsided win over Arsenal Tech

By CRAIG ADKINS

On Tuesday night at The Mill, Donna Buckley and her Millers continued their girls basketball series with Arsenal Tech from Indianapolis that has dated back to her second season at Noblesville. Buckley has raised her record versus Tech to 9-0 with the Noblesville girls basketball team's 75-18 win over the Titans.

It was early and often that Noblesville made it look too easy against the Tech Titans. Right away, junior guard Mallory Johnson knocked down a three from the left wing for a 3-0 lead on the first offensive possession for the Millers and they were off to the races, literally, from that point forward.

Two straight buckets from junior guard Maddie Knight and it was 7-0, forcing Tech head coach Candace Jones to burn her first timeout and not even two minutes had run off of the first quarter clock.

The Millers would keep pouring it on with another 10-0 run following Tech's timeout. Taking a couple more minutes off the clock, Noblesville eased itself out to a 17-0 lead with 3:43 left in the first, thanks to Johnson's free throw line jumper. Tech called another timeout to try and regroup the Titans, but it was too late as Buckley's bunch would have a 22-2 advantage through one quarter.

"We have to play and do things with an intensity and a purpose. That was something that every single kid that played, we emphasized that was what was expected of them and I felt they did a pretty good job of that tonight," Noblesville head coach Donna Buckley on her team's performance tonight.

The depth and quickness of the Millers just became way too much for Arsenal Tech to handle. It affected the Titans on both ends of the floor, preventing them to stop Noblesville's offense from scoring and more importantly, they weren't able to create opportunities of their own to score, which only helped Noblesville increase its lead throughout the game.

"We played 13 kids tonight and I felt all 13 kids got quite a few minutes and did a nice job for us and it makes a difference when you can play that many kids," Buckley said on her team's depth and the opportunities it gave her team tonight.

Noblesville took a 35-6 lead into the halftime locker room, but they weren't going to let up on their consistent play, but also weren't going to make it appear they were running up the score by any means either.

Emily Kiser made it look easier than she does on most nights on the court. The 6'3 senior forward and Michigan recruit led all scorers with 17 points and 17 rebounds on the night for her third double-double in three games on this young season.

"I would have never come close to guessing her stats tonight," Buckley said on her star four-year varsity player in Kiser.

"She's just a kid that has really dominated in every game this year. The nice thing is she doesn't have to carry the load like she has in the past, which makes her life a lot easier to not have double and triple teams, that the other kids have to be respected," Buckley said on Kiser's dominating presence in all three games this season so far.

Noblesville exploded in the third quarter for 24 points, thanks to a great team effort of converting 9-of-10 free throws and seven field goals made.

The Millers saw the bench on the floor for a majority of the fourth and won in convincing fashion with a 75-18 win over Arsenal Tech.

Along with Kiser's 17 and 17, fellow senior Olivia Morales chipped in throughout the night with 12 points off the bench, while Maddie Knight, junior Madison Whetro and sophomore Sarah Etchison all added eight for the victorious Millers.

Arsenal Tech dropped to 1-1 on the season and will host Lafayette Jeff on Friday night.

Noblesville won its second game in a row and will hit the road to play at Hamilton Heights on Friday night before coming back home to host Greenfield-Central on Saturday night.

Pacers fall again after leading by double digits

For the second consecutive game, the Pacers suffered a loss after leading by double-digits, this time falling to the New Orleans Pelicans 117-112 on Tuesday night at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Indiana (5-6) was up big at halftime, leading by a game-best 14 points after scoring a season-high 75 points in the first half. But in the third quarter, New Orleans' (6-5) All-Star frontcourt of DeMarcus Cousins and Anthony Davis went to work, opening up the half with a 6-0 run and outscoring Indiana 35-19 in the third, leading to a tense fourth quarter of action.

"We came out flat again, I don't know the reason for us not coming out with a sense of urgency in the third quarter," said Pacers head coach Nate McMillan after the game. "Our first two possessions were bad executions and turnovers, very similar to New York. Defensively teams are just lighting us up, and offensively we stopped the ball movement."

It was the third straight game that things came down to the closing minutes for the Pacers and the third straight game where Indiana ended up on the wrong side of the finish.

In the fourth quarter, the Pelicans struck a 6-0 run to go up 108-103 with 4:20 remaining in the game, forcing Nate McMillan to call timeout to slow the run. McMillan reinserted Bojan Bogdanovic back into the game to get the starting five on the floor for the final four minutes of play.

With 1:30 remaining and the Pacers trailing by four, Indiana ran its offensive set, whipping the ball around the perimeter until it found Victor Oladipo in the corner, who drilled the 3-pointer as the Fieldhouse pumped with excitement.

On the other end, Davis quelled the noise by knocking down a stepback jumper, his game-high 37th point of the evening as the Pelicans led by three with 1:10 remaining.

Isolated against Cousins, Bojan Bogdanovic drove to his left, getting the layup to fall off the glass and trimming the score to a 113-112 New Orleans lead.

Needing to play defense to save their shot at a win, Thaddeus Young forced Cousins to fumble the ball out of bounds.

But on the other end, Indiana was unable to convert as Myles Turner's midrange jumper landed short. With time winding down, the Pacers fouled Jrue Holiday, who hit his first free throw but missed his second. The rebound, however, went longer than expected as Davis extended his arms and hauled it in, giving the Pelicans possession leading by two with 18 seconds on the clock.

On the inbound, Indiana fouled Holiday again. And for the second time in a row, Holiday made the first free throw and missed the second, leading to a Pelicans offensive rebound.

Indiana's struggles to box out eliminated its chances of having a final shot to grab the win on its home court, as the Pelicans moved to 5-2 on the road this season.

"The second to last free throw box out, that was my fault," Victor Oladipo said at his locker after the game. "I should have been in there boxing out and should have gotten that rebound. I have to do a better job overall as a leader."

In the first half, it seemed as if the Pacers couldn't miss, opening up a 14-point lead over the visiting Pelicans.

With just over five minutes remaining in the first quarter, the Pacers led 24-17 following a pair of Myles Turner free throws. But moments later, Pelicans forward Darius Miller connected on a 3-point shot and was fouled by TJ Leaf in the process, allowing New Orleans to cut its deficit to just four points.

Miller's big play turned out to be the impetus of a 12-3 Pelicans run, moving New Orleans ahead 32-31 with under two minutes left in the quarter. The offensive exhibition continued from there as Lance Stephenson and Leaf helped close the quarter strong for Indiana, with the Pacers leading 37-34 after one — their highest scoring first quarter of the season.

To open the second quarter, the offenses showed no signs of slowing for either team. Indiana went up 50-44 following an inside move by Al Jefferson, but the lead was quickly cut into by a bullying and-one layup by Cousins to bring the Pels within three.

Luckily for Indiana, Stephenson put forth his best half of the season, scoring 12 points and grabbing five rebounds, which included a 3-pointer from several feet beyond the line to put Indiana back up by six.

While New Orleans winnowed the Pacers' advantage back down to four, Indiana soon took control in the closing moments, with Myles Turner canning a 3-pointer and Thad Young finding Darren Collison wide open on the fast break for the easy basket, putting the Pacers up 67-58 with 2:51 left in the half.

Indiana closed the quarter on a bruising 10-2 run to cap their highest scoring first half of basketball of the season as the Pacers scorched the court by shooting 63.8 percent from the field, leading the Pelicans 75-61 at the break.

Unfortunately for Indiana, the only offense that had it going to start the third was New Orleans', which opened up the half on a 6-0 run and eventually tied things at 88 all on an Anthony Davis jumper with 4:00 left in the quarter.

When Pelicans head coach Alvin Gentry signaled for timeout with 1:21 remaining in the third, New Orleans had outscored the Pacers 30-15 to start the second half.

Although the Pacers briefly regained the lead when Al Jefferson slammed after spinning past his defender, a layup from Jameer Nelson put the Pelicans back up by two entering the fourth quarter at The Fieldhouse.

As the fourth quarter began, the Pacers began to reassert themselves, with Stephenson getting an and-one to fall and Joe Young converting on an acrobatic layup to go ahead 98-97 as the home crowd began to rock.

But down the stretch, New Orleans pulled away as Indiana was unable to get the basket it needed in crunch time to avoid its third straight loss.
