Noblesville Preservation Alliance launches new Storyteller Series

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Preservation Alliance (NPA) is teaming up with Hamilton County Television (HCTV) to bring Noblesville history to life with a new program called Noblestories. Tapping into the current popularity of public storytelling, Noblestories will give today's residents a glimpse into Noblesville's past through the eyes of people who have lived here the longest: our senior citizens.

"When cities grow quickly," says organizer Mike Corbett, "it's easy to lose sight of how we got here. It's important to make those cultural connections to the past that help explain the present. This series will help people connect with Noblesville's heritage through these first-person accounts."

Storytellers will share their memories in a formal setting, accompanied by appropriate visuals. The program will be video recorded by Hamilton County Television and posted on the NPA and HCTV websites. Noblesville High School students also plan to record the sessions and edit them into small files for sharing on social media.

Conceived as a quarterly event, the inaugural Noblestories presentation is scheduled for 4 p.m. on Sunday, March 18 at Arbuckle's Railroad Place, 1151 Vine St., Noblesville. The initial presenter is owner Robert Arbuckle, who moved his sewing machine and appliance business from the courthouse square to the current location in the mid-60's to improve parking and traffic. He has stories about hiring Railroad Girls to promote the new location, hosting sewing seminars and dances and sponsoring an ill-fated steam train ride for kids to Indianapolis that was described in the Noblesville Ledger as "bordering on mass hysteria."

"We would also like to hear from any of the original railroad girls," says Corbett. "Bob says there were six of them, two high school students and four models from a Carmel modeling agency. If anyone knows how we could contact any of them, let me know and perhaps we can recruit them to speak as well."

The audience will have the opportunity to ask questions after the presentation. The event is free and open to the public. Attendees can suggest their own Noblestories subjects on a feedback sheet or by emailing the organizer. Mike Corbett can be reached at mcorbett@hamiltoncountybusiness.com.

Westfield launches redesigned city website

The REPORTER

Westfield's residents may notice a change when visiting the city's website. The city recently completed a site-wide redesign that will give users more accessibility to information.

The new site continues the city's commitment to ensure that website content is formatted to serve the needs of users with various devices, such as PCs, laptops, tablets and smartphones. The main navigation now also features "mega menus" which provide improved site navigation to areas of the website users are most likely to need.

Key city services, such as employment information, bill payment options and the action center are prominently featured not only on the homepage, but also within the site navigation on key landing pages. The site now also features a "breaking news" area for timely alerts to residents.

Visit westfield.in.gov to view the new site and access information. Residents are encouraged to submit suggestions or ideas for future redesigns to communications@westfield.com.

KEEPING OUR KIDS SAFE

App helps Noblesville students report threats anonymously

WISH-TV
wishtv.com

As school leaders across the country consider how to minimize the risk of tragedy in the wake of a school shooting in Florida that killed 17 people, Noblesville Schools are encouraging students to use an app to report suspicious behavior.

On Thursday, two students did just that.

A message sent from the school to parents said students overheard a classmate making a threat against the school on the bus ride home. The students used a student iPad and an app called SpeakUp to report the threat confidentially.

Police contacted the student who made the threat and quickly found it not credible, according to the school.

"It makes you scared for your kids," said Emily DeRosa, a mother with a child at Noblesville High School. "You are also glad there's some sort of plan in place or something for a child to do if they hear something like that."

Carmel releases statement following Thursday incidents

WISH-TV
wishtv.com

Carmel High School officials released another statement Thursday afternoon, addressing two more incidents occurring at Carmel High School. The first involved a student yelling "gun" loudly in the cafeteria and students running for the exit, and the other a student who brought a knife onto Carmel High School property. Principal Tom Harmas says no one was in danger in either incident.

Harmas' statement followed a statement and video issued earlier in the day regarding a threat of violence that was later deemed not credible by police and school officials.

See Harmas' statement below:

I wanted to bring to your attention an incident that happened today in the lunch room in which a student with special needs had a behavioral struggle. Trained staff engaged in a crisis prevention institute approved physical restraint to keep the student safe as well as all other students safe. When students saw what was taking place and were unsure of the situation, they immediately went into their school safety training and began evacuating the building. There was never a threat to student or staff safety, nor was a student in possession of a gun. Within a matter of minutes, students and staff were brought back into the building to resume classes as normal.

In a separate incident, thanks to

Noblesville Lions celebrate Valentine's Day

The Noblesville Lions Club had a Valentine's Day dinner at the Methodist Church auditorium with their wives or "special" friend on Wednesday evening. A local Noblesville High School Jazz Band treated everyone to cool music after dinner. Pictured are band members Alec Kosla, Ben Eger, Max Rudy and Aidan Board. Lion Steve Shaw (red shirt) found and introduced the group.

APP

Noblesville Police Department Lt. Bruce Barnes told 24-Hour News 8 he could not comment on details of the case, but he said students should not hesitate to report suspicious behavior.

"Without the help of society — school corporations, students, parents — we just simply cannot get our job done," Barnes said.

School leaders say people starting using the app during the 2017-2018 school year and have reported more than 200 issues ranging from cyberbullying to sexual harassment. Students can choose whether their report is anonymous when submitting the issue, according to SpeakUp's website.

DeRosa said she's encouraging her daughter to use the system if she has to.

24-Hour News 8 reached out to Indianapolis Public Schools and Hamilton Southeastern Schools, asking if they use similar apps or programs but did not hear back from either school district.

INCIDENTS

our students following our "see something say something philosophy," staff was alerted to a student who was in possession of a knife. Administration and SROs quickly responded and took the student into custody. At no time were students ever threatened with the knife.

We understand the accumulation of rumors and the very recent tragedy of a school shooting in Florida has made students, parents and the community feel a sense of unease, concern and worry. While we know parent and student anxiety is high, we assure you we work closely with the Carmel Police Department, as well as our first responders at a county and state level to ensure the safety of all those on our campuses and in our buildings. We continue to make the safety of our students, employees and visitors a top priority.

Counselors and social workers, along with our teachers and Student Resource Officers provide support and care for students who may be feeling fearful or anxious. It's important to know students have a positive outlet to express these concerns and we ask that we all work together as a community to address these concerns.

I wanted to share with you some of the ways in which we work to ensure a safe learning environment:

When a safety concern arises, our team thoroughly reviews the incident to determine what, if any, adjustments may be needed for the safety of our students and staff. Below I have listed some of the safety measures currently in place at Carmel Clay Schools:

- All staff in all of our Carmel Clay Schools are trained in safety procedures and protocols on a regular basis.

- CHS has four Carmel Police Department officers in the building (SROs) during the school day; all elementary and middle schools have assigned SROs.

- All staff and students are familiar with our AL-ICE training program certification (alicetraining.com/our-program/alice-training).

- All staff and students participate in safety drills and scenario based drills on a monthly basis.

- Carmel Police Department and Carmel Clay Schools collaborate and review each school's safety plans on a regular basis.

- All schools have all exterior doors locked during the school day and all individuals that enter the school must be checked in through our school security software, SchoolGate Guardian.

- Carmel Clay Schools offers Anonymous Alert, an electronic reporting system located in MyCCS in which students and parents can anonymously report safety concerns.

Principal Harmas explained that before the Wednesday high school shooting in Parkland, Fla., a Carmel High School student posted a video showing ing off ammunition magazines. That video went viral within the school body and many students believed it was a threat.

Harmas says a rumor then began that a mass shooting was planned for a school convocation Friday, when all 5,000+ students at CHS would be present. Parents began calling the district and police department with questions, and when news of the Florida shootings hit Wednesday evening, parents said the situation suddenly looked much darker.

Carmel High School students told 24 Hour News 8 on Thursday that students are becoming more and more paranoid, and that the last two weeks have been markedly different than previous years.

Indiana Members Credit Union announces this year's Cancer Awareness Card beneficiary

The REPORTER

Indiana Members Credit Union (IMCU), Central Indiana's largest credit union, is pleased to announce Ovar'coming Together as the new beneficiary for its Cancer Awareness Debit Card. The IMCU Cancer Awareness Debit Card provides an opportunity to support many different types of cancer by benefiting a different local cancer related organization each year. A portion of each signature-based transaction made with this card March 1, 2018 through Feb. 28, 2019, up to $10,000, will be donated to Ovar'coming Together, Indiana's nonprofit resource and education organization for Ovarian Cancer. The more these cards are used, the more Ovar'coming Together will benefit.

The card is available for issue to members at IMCU's 26 Central Indiana locations. The IMCU Cancer Awareness Debit Card is free to members with a free checking account and can be issued immediately via IMCU's instant issue program, which allows members to receive their debit card on the spot.

Ovar'coming Together fights ovarian cancer across Indiana. Its mission is to create awareness about the disease, support ovarian cancer survivors and caregivers and fund much-needed research initiatives. Ovarian cancer is the fifth-leading cause of death among women and the deadliest of the gynecologic cancers.

Executive Director Robin Jackson said, "There is no screening test for ovarian cancer at this time. As a result, many, if not most, women are diagnosed with the disease in late stages when the chance for recovery is only about 28 percent. It's so important we create an environment where more women will be diagnosed early. Supporting the fight against ovarian cancer can save a life. This year's partnership with IMCU can make a huge difference in terms of educating and providing support to diagnosed women. We hope as many people as possible sign up to make a difference!"

"IMCU is delighted to support Ovar'coming Together and their mission of providing awareness and education for the community, support for those diagnosed with ovarian cancer, as well as research initiatives for early detection through the IMCU Cancer Awareness Debit Card," said Ron Collier, president and CEO of IMCU.

For more information about the IMCU Cancer

Awareness Debit Card, please visit IMCU online at imcu.com, or visit an IMCU branch for details.

About Ovar'coming Together

Ovar'coming Together is Indiana's nonprofit resource and education organization for Ovarian Cancer. Its mission is three-fold: to create awareness about ovarian cancer, to support ovarian cancer survivors and caregiver and to fund much-needed research initiatives to find an early detection mechanisms and new treatment options. The organization's support services include Peer-to-Peer Connections, HOPE Packets for newly diagnosed women, educational workshops, social and networking opportunities for survivors, community awareness events, referrals, health fairs, a Speakers Bureau, free awareness materials, an annual Survivor Luncheon and the Survivors Teaching Students program wherein ovarian cancer survivors speak at medical teaching schools to educate future healthcare providers about ovarian cancer by sharing stories of diagnosis, treatment and survivorship. ## Fishers firefighters put their finger on it

The REPORTER

Fishers firefighters have been pointing residents of the Britton Falls neighborhood, a 55-and-older community, to safety and residents are thanking them for it.

With over a thousand homes upon completion, this community has a high population of elderly. One of the leading injuries for this age group is falls, and nationally, one of the leading causes of death in fires is the lack of working smoke alarms. To address these issues, Fishers firefighters decided to apply a double dose of Community Risk Reduction (CRR) by providing each household a free finger.

About three feet long, this plastic stick with a finger on one end allows a resident to test most smoke alarms without climbing onto a stool or step ladder. Fire Chief Orusa said, "By keeping people from climbing on something to test their smoke alarms every month, we can prevent falls and increase the assurance of working smoke alarms for our community."

Firefighters will continue to point to safety for the elderly and the special needs residents for as long as supplies last. As part of the Fishers Fire and Emergency Services initiative to #giveabeep, firefighters want to insure that all residents check their smoke alarms monthly, replace batteries at least once a year, and replace the entire smoke alarm every 10 years. Firefighters #giveabeep, and so should you.

County, Purdue help you put permaculture into practice

The REPORTER

Interested in working with nature to have a productive and sustainable yard, garden, or small farm? Join the Hamilton County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) and Purdue Extension Hamilton County to learn how permaculture can enhance your property. The workshop will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 14 at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds Exhibition Hall in Noblesville.

Permaculture focuses on utilizing patterns and relationships on your property to minimize impact while keeping maintenance low and yield high. Conscientious design of home gardens, landscapes and small homesteads or farms through permaculture strives to achieve diversity, stability and resilience of ecosystems. This workshop will provide an opportunity to learn what permaculture is, how it can benefit your property and how to get started.

"This workshop is exciting because it will be very hands on. There will be some lectures but actual examples and Q&A periods with experts will help attendees see how these design principles are applied," said Hamilton County SWCD Urban Conservationist Claire Lane.

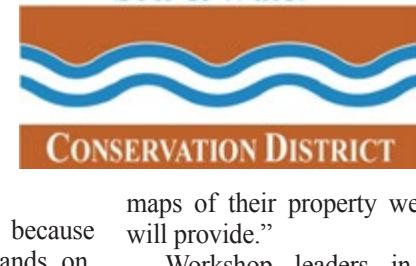

In the afternoon, breakout sessions will allow home landscape/gardeners and those interested in small scale production or community gardening to work with small groups and our experts to actually start plotting a design plan on aerial maps of their property we will provide."

Workshop leaders include Jonas Carpenter of Bread and Roses Nursery, Darren Bender-Beauregard of Brambleberry Farm and Kevin Allison, Soil Health Specialist at Marion County SWCD.

The workshop costs $40 per person, which includes lunch. Registration can be completed at hamilton-swcd.org. Space is limited.

'Text bomb' causes Apple devices to crash

WISH-TV

wistv.com

Apple devices are getting infected by an issue called a "text bomb" for the second time in 2018.

This time, the iOS 11.2.5 has a major flaw caused by a Unicode symbol, which is a character that visually represents text or a letter in another language. But, the text is actually a virus.

International software engineers recently found that two specific Telugu Indian language Unicode symbols can crash any Apple device when used.

Here's how it works:

When an Apple user receives a message with the virus text, the device being used will completely shut down.

Then, when you go to reboot your device, this bug will lock up the Messages app as well.

According to The Verge, Apple will be releasing a patch to fix this serious issue ahead of its newest update.

The iOS 11.3 revamp is scheduled to come out in the spring.

Millers' comeback falls one point short

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Noblesville nearly pulled off a comeback win Friday night as the Millers hosted Avon in a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game at The Mill.

The comeback fell one point short, as the Orioles escaped with a 53-52 win. After falling behind in the third quarter, Noblesville responded by scoring 26 points in the fourth.

It was a close game in the first half, with the lead going back and forth. The Millers skipped out to a 5-0 start after a jumper by Ian Gibbons and a 3-pointer from Jordan Gadis. Avon came back to finish the first quarter ahead 12-10, but two quick baskets from Zack Johnson put Noblesville back in front 14-12 early in the second.

Sophomore Gehrig Mickels then made a splash by scoring his first-ever basket, and what a basket it was.

"He came in there in the second quarter, and got a deflection, got a steal and made a 3," said Millers coach Brian McCauley. "Those were big minutes for us."

Mickels' triple put Noblesville ahead 19-16. Avon scored with time running out in the half to make the score 19-18 at the break. Alex Hunt opened the third quarter with a putback, getting the Millers ahead 21-18.

But the Orioles took control after that, scoring 11 unanswered points to lead 29-21. Zachary Rinehart, a 6-foot-6 junior, scored five straight points in that run. Gibbons almost single-handedly brought Noblesville back with five consecutive points (layin and a 3) of his own, but Rinehart's basket ended the third and put Avon on top 31-26.

"The third quarter was what really hurt us," said McCauley. "They got that separation."

Another Rinehart basket gave the Orioles a 33-26 lead at the beginning of the fourth, but the Millers made a quick 9-2 run to tie the game at 35-all. Johnson and freshman Evan Wilson each drained 3s, then Johnson, who was making a return after missing several games - "it seemed like a couple years," said McCauley - knotted things up with a traditional three-point play.

"He came back and really battled tonight," said McCauley. "He had 21 points tonight, 7-of-7 from the free throw line."

Avon took the lead back when Le'Angelo Saravia made good on his three-point play, and held it for the remainder of the game, at one point getting up 47-41. But the Millers kept fighting to the buzzer, thanks to clutch shooting.

Wilson, after a shaky first half, caught fire in the fourth quarter. He scored 11 points, including an additional two 3-pointers in the final minute.

"Wilson's fiery, he's a fiery young lad," said McCauley. "He's tough and he's got some moxie and that takes him a long way."

Johnson made it a two-point game by making a couple free throws with 14.6 seconds left. But Noblesville had to foul, and Avon did its job from the line, making 6-of-6 in the final 40 seconds. Johnson's 3-pointer with five seconds left brought the score to its final margin of 53-52.

"Credit them, they made free throws down the stretch," said McCauley. "They miss one or two of those free throws, and we make a layup and it might be a different outcome."

Hunt led the boards with seven rebounds, while Brendan Fisher dished out eight assists.

The Millers are 2-3 in HCC play and 9-12 overall. Noblesville will travel to Zionsville on Tuesday to finally make up its game with the Eagles. Tip off will be at 7 p.m. for the varsity-only contest.

Field day: Huskies take fifth-place HC game over Twin Lakes

Hamilton Heights clinched fifth place in the Hoosier Conference with an exciting 69-68 win at Twin Lakes on Friday.

The Huskies trailed the Indians 16-12 after the first quarter, but slowly edged their way back, getting within 48-47 after three periods. Heights jumped ahead 61-58 with 3:10 left, thanks to three fourth-quarter 3-pointers from AJ Field.

The game was tied at 66-all with under a minute to go. The Indians made a basket, but then Field struck again, nailing another 3 with eight seconds left. That turned out to be all Heights needed to secure the win.

Field finished the game with 21 points and five 3-pointers - he made one in the first quarter before he caught fire in the

Golden Eagles earn road win at Pendleton Heights

Guerin Catholic overcame an 11-point deficit in the first half to defeat Pendleton Heights on the Arabians' Senior Night 71-64 in boys basketball action Friday night.

It looked like the boisterous Pendleton Heights crowd was going to have a lot to cheer about all evening, as hot shooting from senior guards Trent Miller and Justin Shupe paved the way for Arabians to run out to a 25-14 lead two minutes into the second quarter. The Golden Eagles clawed back, but after Eli Pancol's second spectacular dunk of the half Guerin Catholic still trailed 33-24 with just over 2:00 left before halftime. But a four-point play by Jack Hansen and seven points from Zach Munson enabled GC to finish the half on an 11-2 run to get the game tied at 35-all at the halftime horn.

A quick basket by Luke Godfrey, who returned to action after missing the last four games, and a Kian Sills' rebound basket extended the run to 15-2 as the Golden Eagles grabbed a quick 39-35 lead. PHHS tied the game one time in the third quarter at 41-all, but Munson and Hansen each made three field goals after the game was tied, and the Golden Eagles outscored the Arabians 16-9 in the third stanza to take a 53-44 lead at the quarter break.

The action got fast and furious in the fourth quarter as the Golden Eagles made 7-9 field goals but the Arabians drilled three 3-point shots. Another dunk by Pancol cut the lead to three points after two consecutive turnovers, but Godfrey calmly drilled 4-4 free throws and lay-ins on press breaking situations by Munson and Sills got the lead back up to seven, where the winning margin finished at.

Munson finished with 24 points while Hansen and Sills also scored in double figures with 20 and 16 points, respectively.

Meanwhile Shupe finished with 19 points and five assists for Pendleton Heights. Miller ended with a hard-earned 17 points, but Godfrey made him work hard for nearly every point, said Guerin Catholic coach Pete Smith afterwards. Pancol finished with 13 points and eight rebounds, but the Golden Eagles outrebounded PH 26-20 as Hansen grabbed eight and Sills and Munson each had five caroms.

"We saw the floor well tonight, and read scoring opportunities well," said Smith. Sills and Hansen each had five assists, and Godfrey added four. "Having Luke back really helped, with Clay (Hepp) and Bernie McGuinness getting into foul trouble." Hepp found a way to distribute three assists but the point guard was saddled with three fouls in only seven minutes of action in the first half, and the sophomore McGuinness picked us two quick fouls in the first quarter.

For the game the Golden Eagles shot 63.6 percent from the field but did commit 13 turnovers of which 10 were Arabians' steals. Smith's squad improves to 14-8 on the season, and will travel to Anderson Tuesday night to end the regular season.

The 'Hounds will thus finish second in the MIC. The Warriors still have one more conference game left to play, at Pike on Tuesday, but Warren clinched the title by handing Carmel its second MIC loss.

The Greyhounds led 13-10 after the first quarter, but the Warriors came back to take a 32-25 halftime advantage. Carmel returned the favor, outscoring Warren Central 21-6 in the third period to go ahead 46-38. The University held off a late surge and upset bid Friday night, defeating Lebanon 51-45 at the Tigers' Rosenstiel Gymnasium.

For much of the night, little could separate the Trailblazers (18-2) from the plucky Tigers (6-15). University led 14-10 at the end of the first quarter, but Lebanon surged back to take a second-quarter lead before the teams entered halftime knotted, 24-24. For the most part, the third quarter was much of the same — University took the early advantage, but Lebanon came back to grab leads of its own.

It was in the quarter's final minute, however, where the game turned on its head. The Trailblazers had recently retaken the lead, 37-36, when Lebanon tried to hold the ball for the quarter's last shot. University forced a turnover and scored on an Ethan Sickels layup to go up three. Again, Lebanon tried to play for one last shot, and again, the Tigers turned it over, with Sam Mervis punishing them on the other end with a buzzer-beating jumper to push the Trailblazers advantage to 41-36.

The trend continued at the start of the fourth quarter — on each of Lebanon's first three possessions, University forced a turnover, and on each of them, the Trailblazers scored two points through David Howard (one made 2-pointer, four made free throws). Suddenly, the Trailblazers had rattled off a 12-0 run, taking a 47-36 lead that carried them through to the win.

University struggled down the stretch at the foul line — the Trailblazers missed all three front ends as they made just four of their last nine free-throw attempts — but they kept Lebanon's at an arm's length. The

'BLAZERS

Tigers only got within a possession once in the fourth quarter, at 48-45, and never had the ball with a chance to tie. When that lead closed to three, the Trailblazers got the ball to Howard, who hit two free throws to move the advantage back to 50-45 with fewer than 30 seconds left. Lebanon threw up a wild shot before Hodgin split free throws to leave the game at the final margin.

Howard became University's fourth all-time leading scorer Friday night, with his game-high 17-point performance pushing him past Jordan Pickett in the record books. Sickels opened hot, with 11 in the first quarter, but finished with just 13.

The Trailblazers return to action Tuesday night, visiting Greenwood Christian for the second time in 10 days.
