Commissioners cite safety concerns . . .

No more signs in right-of-ways

By JEFF JELLISON ReadTheReporter.com

Hamilton Coun-The ty Commissioners voted last Monday to approve an ordinance that prohibits the placement of signs in Hamilton County right-of-ways and on thoroughfares maintained by the county.

Commissioners say placing signs in public right-of-ways makes it difficult for motorists to recognize regulatory signs which are necessary for safe travel and can often block the vision of motorists at intersections. "Public safety is our number one priority," said Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt.

Monday's meeting drew a crowd of opponents, many of which felt the ordinance was specifically put in place to hinder campaign efforts of current political candidates; however, according the Hamilton County Attorney Mike Howard, the ordinance prohibits all signs, not just candidate signs.

Hamilton County Council member Rick McKinney addressed commissioners Altman and Hierbrandt. "The little guy, the candidate that does not have

Fishers City Council to vote on Geist Park bond issue

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

Now the that City of Fishers will be paying more than originally proposed for the new Geist Park property, the Fishers City Council will be asked to approve a $5 million general obligation bond to fund the remainder of that land purchase. The council has already voted for a $12 million bond issue for the project, which remains in place.

The eminent domain process is valuing the land, now owned mostly by IMI Incorporated, at $15.7 million, $6 million more than originally budgeted for the land purchase.

The Fishers City Council

Finance Committee voted 2-1 to favorably recommend moving forward with the $5 million bonds issuance. Committee President Selina Stoller voted no, while John Weingardt and Cecilia Coble voted yes. Eric Moeller was not able to attend last Wednesday's meeting.

Coble expressed concerns about the condition of Geist Lake. Weingardt said a conservancy district needs to be created so property owners around Geist Reservoir would pay for the upkeep of the waterway. However, several government jurisdictions other than Fishers have land on that lake, making the creation of such a conservancy difficult.

Coble expressed concerns about the city spending money to buy the land for the park if the lake is not being kept in good shape. She did,

A2 Noblesville Kindergarten teacher launches weekend meal program

The REPORTER

From her role as a Noblesville Schools kindergarten teacher, Kristina Trusty knows first-hand that there are children in Noblesville without enough to eat. The Hinkle Creek teacher decided to take action and launched a program to provide weekend meals to approximately 200 Noblesville students in need

"Hamilton County isn't untouched when it comes to food insecurities at home," said Trusty. "While children are at school, we can guarantee two hot meals a day for those in need. My concern is what happens from Friday night until Monday morning."

With the support of Ivy Tech, Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank and various grants and fundraisers, meals will be packed by volunteers and delivered to schools for distribution.

Noblesville's seven elementary schools collected 5,280 pounds of food for the "Give Food Give Love" to combat weekend food insecurity in Hamilton County.

"Give Food Give Love" campaign included a food drive which ran from Jan. 29 to Feb. 9 and covered all seven Noblesville elementary schools, assigning each school a specific item to collect such as canned meals, instant oatmeal or peanut butter.

The results have been impressive with 5,280 pounds of food collected across the district. Stephanie Miller's second-grade class at Hinkle Creek collected the most food with over 540 canned meals donated. For their efforts, Miller's students each won a snow tubing ticket to Koteewi Run Seasonal Slopes compliments of Slopes President Brian Cooley.

The rank of Eagle Scout was earned by 19 Boy Scouts, and 2,272 hours of community service were completed. (Above) Mayor Ditslear does a Q&A session with a Cub Scout. unlimited campaign resources from vendors and contractors doing business with the county, such as the two of you, should be allowed to place their signs in the right-of-way for the short time a campaign entails. Such a move, as the one you are proposing, smacks heavy handedness and absolute control one would expect a dictator to impose."

Howard responded by stating the ordinance actually levels the playing field for political candidates. "It prevents the big budget candidate from purchasing a large number of signs and placing them in the right-of-ways."

In a statement issued to the Reporter, McKinney said, "Attempting to couch proposed changes as being in the interest of public safety or saving tax payer dollars is both shallow and hollow at best. Will the commissioners go as far as prohibiting signs of all nature, including realtor signs, which are far more intrusive and trashy, but present year-round?"

Christine Pauley, clerk treasurer for the City of Carmel and candidate for Hamilton County Council District 4, agreed that she does not like the litter of the signs in the right of ways; however, Pauley felt there needs to be an effort to educate the community before enforcement of the ordinance.

Commissioner

Dillinger, who was not in attendance at Monday's meeting, told the Reporter in a telephone interview that he agreed with Pauley. "I think Christine makes a valid point, we do need to educate the public."

Dillinger is suggesting the county work in cooperation with the cities to create an educational meeting to explain the ordinance.

"In the past I felt people placing signs in rightof-ways was an affordable opportunity for exposure; however, right of ways are being abused more and more," said Dillinger.

Dillinger believes there needs to be consistency throughout the county. "We asked all of the may-Steve ors for their cooperation in

Noblesville Preservation Alliance launches new Storyteller Series

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Preservation Alliance (NPA) is teaming up with Hamilton County Television (HCTV) to bring Noblesville history to life with a new program called Noblestories. Tapping into the current popularity of public storytelling, Noblestories will give today's residents a glimpse into Noblesville's past through the eyes of people who have lived here the longest: our senior citizens.

"When cities grow quickly," says organizer Mike Corbett, "it's easy to lose sight of how we got here. It's important to make those cultural connections to the past that help explain the present. This series will help people connect with Noblesville's heritage through these first-person accounts."

Storytellers will share their memories in a formal setting, accompanied by appropriate visuals. The program will be video recorded by HCTV and posted on the NPA and HCTV websites. Noblesville High School students also plan to record the sessions and edit them into

Conceived as a quarterly event, the inaugural Noblestories presentation is scheduled for 4 p.m. on Sunday, March 18 at Arbuckle's Railroad Place, 1151 Vine St., Noblesville. The initial presenter is owner Robert Arbuckle, who moved his sewing machine and appliance business from the courthouse square to the current location in the mid-60's to improve parking and traffic. He has stories about hiring Railroad Girls to promote the new location, hosting sewing seminars and dances and sponsoring an ill-fated steam train ride for kids to Indianapolis that was described in the Noblesville Ledger as "bordering on mass hysteria."

"We would also like to hear from any of the original railroad girls," says Corbett. "Bob says there were six of them, two high school students and four models from a Carmel modeling agency. If anyone knows how we could contact any of them, let me know and perhaps we can recruit them to speak

More HSE students being treated for mental health issues

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

When Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) Schools contracted with Community Health to expand mental health services for students, there much speculation was on what would happen next. The HSE School Board received a report from Mental Health Coordinator Brooke Lawson Community Health last Wednesday night.

Before the Community contract, Aspire worked with 50 students in four schools. As of now, 21 schools have 13 licensed therapists and a crisis liaison, with 415 students now receiving mental health care.

Of those being treated, 70 percent of those in high school have been di-

New parking rules approved for Fishers Nickel Plate District

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

Apartment dwellers in the downtown Fishers area will soon face a $20 fine for parking their vehicles overnight in certain areas of downtown. The Board of Public Works and Safety approved the amendment to the parking schedule at last Monday's meeting.

Apartment residents have parking set aside in adjacent garages, but many find it more convenient to park in nearby surface areas.

There was a great deal of discussion about whether this rule could encourage some people to drive under the influence rather than risk a $20 fine for parking overnight. Fishers Police Chief Mitch Thompson told board members he believes there are ways to handle that situation by working with the establishments in the area serving alcoholic beverages and that special event committees could deal with parking issues for big events.

City officials say it will take at least 30 days to make and place the signs warning of the fines if a vehicle is parked between 3 and 6 a.m. in the Nickel Plate District areas designated. Also, those living in downtown apartments will be notified of the change in parking regulations before police begin enforcing the new rules.

Carmel High School officials has previouly released two statements last Thursday, addressing incidents occurring at Carmel High School. The first involved a student yelling 'gun" loudly in the cafeteria and students running for the exit, and the other a student who brought a knife onto Carmel High School property. Principal Tom Harmas says no one was in danger in either incident. Harmas' statement followed a statement and video issued earlier in the day regarding a threat of violence that was later deemed not credible by police and school officials.

You can read Harmas' statements online at ReadTheReporter.com.

Principal Harmas explained that before last Wednesday's high school shooting in Parkland, Fla., a Carmel High School student posted a video showing off ammunition magazines. That video went viral within the school body and many students believed it was a threat.

Harmas says a rumor then began that a mass shooting was planned for a school convocation Friday, when all 5,000+ students at CHS would be present. Parents began calling the district and police department with questions, and when news of the Florida shootings hit Wednesday evening, parents said the situation suddenly looked much darker.

Carmel High School students told 24 Hour News 8 on Thursday that students are becoming more and more paranoid, and that the last two weeks have been markedly different than previous years.

The 140-year-old former home of nationally acclaimed artist and illustrator Franklin Booth is for sale. Located at 321 N. Range Line Road in Carmel, Booth, who worked with James Whitcomb Riley, had a career in New York, but returned to Carmel in the summer where he had a studio behind the Range Line Road home. He created artwork for various national magazines and corporations as well as illustrations for some of Riley's works. The Italianate style frame house is priced at $499,000.

Republican candidates for the Hamilton County Council in the upcoming May 8 primary will speak Feb. 21 at the County GOP Breakfast Club. The event will be held at the Bridgewater Clubhouse south of Westfield. Admission is $20 for non-members of the Breakfast Club.

Candidates for all offices on the primary ballot are expected at the Carmel Clay Republicans' annual chili supper set for March 8. Indiana Superintendent of State Police Doug Carter will speak at the supper in the Hensel Township Building, 10701 College Ave. The 6 p.m. event is open to the public.

On Tuesday, with their parents out of town, Alecksa, Abby and Jake spent the night with us. When the grands are in the house it is never boring.

The alarm went off at 6:15. I was actually awake at 5:30, afraid I would oversleep. It had been quite some time since I got little ones up and ready for school.

Abby got right up. Jake, well, he is much like his dad, and needs a few more "time to get ups"

I fixed scrambled eggs and toast. Most of the time when my kids were growing up I fixed them a hot meal with fruit. They will tell you, it was toasted Blueberry Pop Tarts.

Then at 7:10 when I am usually just waking up, we headed to NEMS and NHS. They never warned me what an adventure it would be.

The sun had not begun to rise and I had not had my coffee.

We got to Field Drive and sat in traffic on 16th Street until some kind soul let me in the line that would take us to where Jake would get out of the car. The line snaked around the building.

Jake slides out the door with a "thanks Gma, I love you".

I waited in line to get out of the NEMS parking lot. The car in the front of the line was turning left causing the rest of us to wait until the brave police officer motioned us out of the lot.

Now to NHS. I'm not sure how many buses turned into the parking lot but it was a lot. God bless those bus drivers who can turn those buses on a dime, all the while transporting a bus load of sleepy teenagers.

The four way stop was just that . . . a STOP. Abby was busy Snapchatting. She chatted and I waited. Another brave police officer waved us into another line where we waited our turn . . . again.

Abby jumped out with an "thanks Gma I love you."

I waited to get out of the parking lot just as the sun was coming up. I headed to the Starbucks drive thru for a much needed (and deserved?) coffee. Normally I would stop at my favorite, Noble Coffee Shop, for my white mocha but no hair fixed, no makeup, no bra ... No Way.

I looked at the clock when I came home hugging my coffee. It was 8:00.

I asked "Alecksa do you want eggs and toast." She said, yes. Then I heard a voice in the living room. It was our Amazon Alexa telling me how she wanted her toast ... lightly buttered with cinnamon. I kid you not.

Alecksa headed out the door as Chuck

Striving for the gold standard in heart health "I want to live, I want to give. women's deaths each year, killing Be Well

I've been a miner for a heart of gold."

– Neil Young, 1972

Most of you are very aware that February is "National Heart Health Month" as well as the "Go Red for Women" month. Fortunately there is much information available now about heart health, particularly as it relates to women. Few people are not surprised, thankfully, that heart disease is the number one killer of both men and women, surpassing all types of cancer and other diseases. In 2012, nearly 787,000 people in the U.S. succumbed to heart disease, with coronary heart disease being the most prevalent. Direct and indirect costs of heart disease total more than $320.1 billion. That includes health expenditures and lost productivity.

While heart disease statistics have been available and research conducted for many years regarding heart disease and men, both research and information-gathering for women's heart issues are relatively recent. While only 1 in 5 American women believe that heart disease is her greatest health threat, heart disease causes 1 in 3 approximately one woman every minute. Ninety percent of women have one or more risk factors for developing heart disease. The symptoms of heart disease can be different in women and men, and are often misunderstood.

Thankfully, the information noted above, and much more, is readily available. I encourage everyone to talk frankly with their health provider about their risk factors, review their dietary habits and make this a priority. My own viewpoint on the subject also incorporates getting adequate sleep, removing stress, "getting up from sofas and chairs" and making the necessary life changes which can alter those statistics.

Additionally, the effects of isolation and loneliness have been widely studied as it relates to heart disease. To learn more about the "Roseto" effect in which a closeknit community experiences a reduced rate of heart disease, a recent PBS special documentary revealed attributes of positive relationships which reflect on our heart health. Information is also available online for those who wish to search for more information. The effect is named for Roseto, Pa., and describes family and community interaction there and the healthy effect on the inhabitants.

My quote this week may seem a little odd, but I hope that as we close up the month of February you do take responsibility and become a "miner for a (healthy) heart of gold." Let's strive for the "gold standard" in heart health by consuming fewer trans fats, packaged foods high in sodium, refined carbs, fried foods and whole milk products. Working on establishing better family and working relationships, getting in those 10,000 steps each day and adequate rest will do your heart good!

Summer of fun awaits at Noblesville Parks' Noble Kids Camp

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Parks and Recreation staff is looking to build on the success of the inaugural Noble Kids Camp and will continue to offer all-day summer camps. The traditional half-day camp option is still available, but with extended full-day, week-long camps the parks offers an alternative for Noblesville parents and children.

The day-long camps are an exciting mix of camper- and counselor-led activities centered on a wide variety of weekly themes. Campers who will be entering kindergarten through sixth grade for the 2018-2019 school year as well as preschoolers ages 2 to 5 are encouraged to sign up for their favorite weekly themes or attend camp for the entire summer.

Similar to last year, the two camp host sites - Dr. James A. Dillon Park, 6001 Edenshall Lane, and Forest Park, 701 Cicero Road - will offer the same themes and similar programming making it more convenient for parents and transportation. Dillon Park will offer one additional camp the week of July 30.

Only Forest Park campers will have the option to swim at the Forest Park Aquatic Center once a week. Campers will have to take a swim test to be permitted to be in the lap pool. Campers will have lifeguards and will swim with a few counselors. All other campers will remain at the splash pad.

All-day camps run 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Half-day camps are available from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 to 4 p.m. Pricing is the same as last year as one week of summer camp costs Noblesville residents $125 for all-day ($155 for nonresidents), $60 for half-day ($75 for nonresidents). Another option for parents is before and/ or after care available starting at 7 a.m. and running until 6 p.m. Before care is $10 and after care is $15 for the week.

For more information on summer camp offerings, visit noblesvilleparks. org or call 317-770-5750.

'Hawks hold off Western Boone in double OT

Last season, Sheridan played two overtime games and won both of them.

The Blackhawks hadn't gone to OT yet this season, but did Saturday, Feb. 17 at Hobbs Gymnasium against Western Boone. It took two extra periods, but Sheridan got it done, defeating the Stars 69-66

After coming back from a seven-point deficit in the fourth, the 'Hawks entered the first overtime tied with WeBo at 57-all. Both teams only managed two points in that first extra period, all from free throws in the final 40 seconds.

So at 59-all, it was on to the second OT. Sheridan slowly but surely built an eightpoint lead, with senior Ange Gnamkey leading the way.

Gnamkey made two free throws to give the Blackhawks the lead for good. Sheridan then made a big defensive stop when Caleb Duke made a steal, then sent it to Gnamkey, who was fouled. The senior made two more foul shots.

Seconds later, Gnamkey's layin made the score 65-59. Then it was 67-59: Drake Delph made a steal, sent the ball to Gnamkey, who saw Jack Waitt under the basket. Gnamkey passed it over to Waitt, who made the easy lavin.

"Once we settled down and played as a team and knew that we could actually pull it off, we did pretty well," said Gnamkey. "Just believe in ourselves that we could win this game and that's what happened."

The Stars made one last furious push, but Sheridan was able to hold on thanks to a couple free throws and defensive toughness in the last few seconds.

"I told these guys in the locker room, just a minute ago there, that we've been in that situation before, where we've been in a tight game," said 'Hawks coach Chris Schrank. "We were down seven with four Sheridan, with Waitt scoring 11. Nick

In winning their own sectional championship, the Greyhounds set seven new sectional records, qualified 26 of their 27 swims by the state cut time and won 10 of 12 events at the Saturday, Feb. 17 sectional finals. Carmel scored 560.5 points to claim its 11 consecutive sectional title and 31st overall.

The other Hamilton County schools had good days as well. Both Noblesville and Westfield qualified three swims for this weekend's state meet at the IU Natatorium, with the Natatorium. Shamrocks senior Chris Kenney breaking through for a

The 50 free was exceptionally fast, with six swims under the state cut time of 21.59. You already know about Kibler's time, but the next five are impressive: Kenney took second in 21.02, while Couchon placed third in 21.05. Holder's fourth-place time of 21.27 is another Heights school record, while Noblesville junior Evan Diamente got into the mix with a time of 21.49. Batista's swim of 21.54 took sixth, but placing doesn't matter: Swim at or under the state cut in your event, and you are heading to featured five state cuts (the qualifying time is 47.42). Kenney got Westfield an individual victory in 45.97, followed by Carmel freshman Griffin Hadley (46.48) and junior Alec DeLong (46.79). Fourth place was a tie, with Noblesville junior Jack Wolfred and Carmel senior Andrew Morozov both clocking in at 47.01. The Carmel foursome of Davis, Batista, junior Jota Cavanaugh and freshmen Augustus Rothrock and Griffin Iwase and Couchon began the meet with a victory in the medley relay. Davis was back in the pool minutes later to take first in the individual medley. The Greyhounds also took the 200 free relay, with Morozov, DeLong, junior Andrew Rafalko and Mitchell swimming in that race. Other Carmel state cut qualifiers are: Rothrock and DeLong in the 200 free, Rafalko and senior Brett Sherman in the IM, Iwase in the butterfly, Rothrock and Sherman in the 500 free, Hadley in the backstroke and Rafalko in the breaststroke. Diamente finished third in the butterfly with 51.60 and received a callback to state, which means his time was fast enough to fill a field of 32 swimmers after all the sectional winners and state cut qualifiers are placed. Aaron Helms received a callback in the 500 free.

Westfield's Kenney can also add a relay to his two individual state cut times. Kenney teamed with senior Cody Fenimore, sophomore Cameron Clayton and junior Brett Calvin to swim the 200 free relay in 1:27.75.

In diving, two county sophomores placed in the top four: Noblesville's Jared Newman was third and Carmel's John Curcio took fourth. Both will advance to Tuesday's diving regional at Hamilton Southeastern.

win in the 100 freestyle. Hamilton Heights junior Jared Holder had a fantastic day, smashing the state cut time and qualifying for state in two events.

Senior Drew Kibler picked up three new sectional records for the 'Hounds. He won the 50 freestyle in 20.10 seconds, then later dominated the butterfly race in 49.27 seconds. Kibler finished the meet by joining junior Patrick Hadley to set a new 400 freestyle relay mark of 3:06.67.

Sophomore Jacob Mitchell set two new records. First was the 200 free, which Mitchell swam in 1:38.09. Mitchell then swept the long-distance events by taking the 500 free, in a time of 4:28.88. Rothrock finished second; his time of 4:31.23, was a quarter-second under the old record, set last year by then-freshman Wyatt Davis.

Don't feel bad for Wyatt, though: He got a record swim in the backstroke. Davis reset his own record in that event by over a second, clocking in at 49.20 seconds. In a very fast race, two other swimmers also finished under the old record: Holder, whose time of 49.98 set a new Hamilton Heights school record, and Carmel senior Drew Amaral, who took third in 50.09.

Finally, senior Andrew Couchon set a new mark in the breaststroke. He finished that race in 55.03, exactly 1.20 seconds faster than the old record. Senior Stefano Batista
