Heights new greenhouse dedication ceremony set

The REPORTER

The greater Northern Hamilton County community is invited to attend a special Open House and Ribbon Cutting ceremony at Hamilton Heights High School beginning at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 2 to celebrate its new onsite greenhouse.

The celebration kicks off with a ribbon cutting ceremony led by Hamilton Heights Principal Jarrod Mason, followed by a tour of the corporation's newest addition. The over 2,000 square-foot facility will serve as a hands-on resource for students interested in careers in agriculture, horticulture, plant and soil science and genetic engineering fields. The greenhouse features a fully-automated environment, whole flood table, LED grow lamps and unlimited learning opportunities.

"This facility is a great addition to the school and our strong agriculture program," said Emilie Carson, Agricultural Educator and FFA Advisor, who has been closely involved with the project from its inception. "This wonderful amenity brings with it great potential in our curriculum along with offering interactive lessons in

Noblesville to hold diversity forum Thursday

The REPORTER

The City of Noblesville is partnering with Noblesville Schools and the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce on a public education series centered on the power of diversity and inclusion. The second session of the series is 7 p.m. Thursday, April 26 in the Council Chambers of Noblesville City Hall, 16 S. 10th St.

The topic for this session is "Got Bias? No Judgment!" Rebecca Humphrey and Devon Moore will facilitate the talk about stereotypes and implicit bias:

"Got Bias? We all do and during this no judgement conversation, small groups will discuss together what implicit bias is, how it forms, and how it can impact our daily decisions. We all make up stories about people before we get to know them and these preferences (or aversions as the case may be) and what we do in response to first gut level impressions contributes to unconscious disparity. Join the discussion to provoke conversation and insight into implicit bias."

"The city is excited to host this event as the series explores the diversity we are fortunate to have here in Noblesville, and to foster respect amongst its residents for those differences," said Mayor John Ditslear.

The series is being organized by the Community Diversity Committee, which includes representatives from Noblesville Schools, the City of Noblesville, and

Noblesville infrastructure improvements underway

The REPORTER

Several infrastructure improvement projects involving roadways and storm water sewers began in Noblesville on Monday.

In Downtown Noblesville, city contractors will be reconstructing the south leg of the 14th Street and Logan Street intersection and will have that half block closed. That group will then move up one block and repeat the process for the south leg of the Clinton Street intersection the following week. All homeowners will have access to their driveways during construction, but no through traffic will be permitted.

Earlier this month, patching was done on Greenfield Avenue. The second phase of work will be the milling and resurfacing of Greenfield Avenue from State Road 37 to Boden Road. Work is anticipated to take approximately two weeks. This project will require temporary lane restrictions and flaggers will assist motorists. The resurfacing of Greenfield Avenue is part of the Community Crossing Matching Grant Program, which is funded 50 percent from the state and 50 percent from the City of Noblesville.

As part of the Noblesville Utilities Long Term Control Plan Phase IV project, work will be done along Conner Street (State Road 32/38). A new storm water sewer pipe will be installed along the north side sidewalk, which will not be accessible for pedestrians. Conner Street will remain open during construction, but the three-lane roadway will be narrowed to two lanes along that block of construction. Work is expected to take two weeks.

Reconstruction of 171st Street from Willowview Road to Cherry Tree Road was completed Friday, April 20. Throughout the winter, the Noblesville Street Department made temporary repairs until this more permanent repair could be constructed.

local faith organizations, as well as Noblesville parents and business leaders. The first forum event was held in March with Noblesville students representing various cultural backgrounds talking about their experiences and common misperceptions about their culture.

"We appreciate the community collaboration on this initiative as we are much more powerful in creating an impact when we all work together," said Dr. Beth Niedermeyer, superintendent of Noblesville Schools. "Our district leadership team has already participated in the bias training and I hope community members will take advantage of this opportunity to attend. It's important to acknowledge that we all have biases and must learn to recognize and discuss them if we are to create a culture that values all."

The community diversity planning committee will continue to explore further opportunities for future learning series sessions.

made considerable progress on a number of matters including tax reform, deregulation and veteran services. There were no fireworks during candidate presentations and only general references to a struggle for control of the County Council between incumbents and challengers.

Bids were received last week for the new $23 million expansion of the County Government and Judicial Center. Bids for actual construction were just short of $21 million, but there will be some additional allocations for contingency, bond preparation and minor "soft costs." Construction managers, Meyer Najem, will review and recommend the lowest and best bids, with commissioners likely to award contracts by the end of the month. Construction is expected to begin in May.

Noblesville city officials have placed a citizen survey online seeking opinions on the planned widening and extension of Pleasant Street west across White River, a plan which would provide a bypass of the downtown area. The survey may be found at surveymonkey.com/r/887T-7GD. City officials also reported that several properties along Pleasant Street have now been purchased in anticipation of the improved traffic artery. These purchases were only made when a property was available for sale. Thus far there have been no condemnations for the needed right-of-way.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY TUESDAY, MAY 8

Deputy: “We are ready for a leader, not a manager”

Dear Editor,

My name is Micah Abbott, and I'm writing this letter because I believe certain falsities should be brought to light, and I don't foresee any of the current candidates for Sheriff of Hamilton County engaging the subject due to running positive campaigns. In this letter I will show instances where the Quakenbush for Sheriff Campaign is either bending the truth or misleading potential voters.

No one has asked me to do this nor have any of the candidates reached out to me. I have known and worked with each candidate for the past 10 years.

Before I begin I should state that I support Bill Clifford for Sheriff. This conclusion may be drawn by most readers, but I feel it is important to state so there is some perspective throughout the letter.

Despite my view point, this letter is not designed to show ill will towards Quakenbush. I write because I love the Sheriff's Office and what it stands for. I have been friends with Quakenbush since before either of us worked together. To this day I call his brother my best friend, and the fact that we support different candidates doesn't affect that relationship. This letter also isn't a laundry list of why to vote for Clifford, but rather to enlighten the public on things they may have heard that are misleading and a misrepresentation of the truth. The following topics will be discussed throughout the letter:

- Years of service as a Merit Deputy (sworn police officer)
- Timeframe and average for arrest statistics vs. the other candidates
- Claiming sole responsibility for an increase of the arrests at the Sheriff's Office
- Boasts of “leading” the Patrol Division of 60 plus individuals
- Rumors of being supported by former Sheriff Doug Carter
- Being the only qualified candidate due to his educational background

Little mistruths here and there are one thing. I have seen and ignored them, but not anymore. These issues stem from a variety of places – The Quakenbush for Sheriff Facebook page, public debates and forums, letters, statements and word of mouth from supporters. Now I understand Quakenbush cannot contain what others say in support of him. But in one instance a spreadsheet was created by a supporter that was so slanted it primarily included categories that only Quakenbush could put a check mark next to. It left out many accomplishments the other candidates had and even omitted check marks that should have been there for other candidates. Once posted online, one would think Quakenbush would either address the inaccuracies with it or simply just ignore it. In this case he chose to validate it by posting it to his official Facebook page.

Dennis Quakenbush claims to have been in law enforcement for 16 years. This timeline is echoed by current Sheriff Mark Bowen in a video interview supporting Quakenbush for Sheriff. In that interview it is said that Quakenbush has served Bowen faithfully for 16 years leading the common outsider to think Quakenbush has been in a leadership role as a Deputy for his entire career.

This simply isn't true and is mathematically impossible.

Quakenbush was originally a dispatcher at the Sheriff's Office back when Dispatch was governed by the Sheriff's Office. He was hired as a Merit Deputy in late November 2003. So more accurately when Quakenbush publicly announced his candidacy for Sheriff he had been a Deputy for just over 14 years.

Recently all four candidates spoke at the Public Forum hosted by the Fiscal Conservatives of Hamilton County. When Quakenbush gave his final remarks he went into some arrest numbers relating it to leading by example. Quakenbush went on to inform everyone that the three candidates sitting next to him have averaged 16 arrests combined per year since 1995. He proclaimed triumphantly he has averaged 69 arrests over the duration of his time in the Patrol Division. This time frame and content is just ridiculous. First impressions from that declaration is the other candidates have been averaging just over five arrest individually for the past 23 years, which seems to implicate they aren't very good at their job or perhaps just lazy. In contrast it would lead someone unfamiliar with the Sheriff's Office to believe Quakenbush has averaged 69 arrests for, you guessed it, 16 years. Quakenbush indicates he was in the Patrol Division at the time of those arrests which would limit that window to about seven and a half years (2004-2011).

So much is left out of this blanket statement which completely bends the numbers. What about the arrests all three candidates made prior to 1995? Each of them were hired well before then.

Typically in this profession officers have higher arrest numbers when they are new. This was a quick gotcha stat that maybe if looked at sideways and through a narrow opening with binoculars might reflect some truth. But it is not an accurate depiction of Quakenbush's stats, or those of the other candidates, especially when looking through the lens of leading by example.

Besides the obvious omission of data prior to 1995, you were led to believe the other candidates were simply Patrol Deputies for the past 23 years, which couldn't be further from the truth.

Mitch Russell's resume is quite vast and spans multiple police agencies and service in many supervisory roles from Sergeant to Captain and even Town Marshal. It also includes being the head of Investigations where he tackled the evils of child abuse and neglect cases. Russell currently manages security at Riverview Hospital and is one of the most approachable guys I have ever met.

Eddie Moore has spent time as the Jail Commander, Public Information Officer, and Training Coordinator for the Sheriff's Office over the years. Making arrests was not part of the job description during that time. When Moore came back to the Patrol Division, he did so in a supervisory role as a Lieutenant on night shift. Moore spends more time training and grooming the men and women working for him than he does trying to improve his personal stats. This is his calling, and his squad represents those qualities well and are better equipped to serve the citizens of Hamilton County because of it.

Bill Clifford is in the same boat as Russell and Moore. He was a Police Officer well before 1995 and over the duration of his career he has spent time outside of the Patrol Division. Clifford started in Patrol and then spent time in the Drug Task Force unit. He then spent time in the Investigations Division where he investigated serious offenses such as rape, sexual battery, child molestation and homicide. These aren't the two to three hour cases that can be closed quickly with an arrest. No, this took a special interest and skill set to accomplish. Clifford brought justice, closure and a sense of retribution to many individuals without a voice. Clifford then came back to Patrol in a supervisory role as a Sergeant.

At the same Public Forum, Quakenbush points out that he is the current Patrol Commander and informs the audience that he “leads” over 60 men and woman at the Sheriff's Office. This number appears to be a combination of the 38 full-time Patrol Deputies and 23 Reserve Deputies. He claims responsibility for an increase of 31 percent in arrests during his time as Patrol Commander. This sounds impressive for sure, but again here is the message – more arrests must dictate how good of a leader you are. But I challenge you to factor in the incredible and unfortunate increase of drug related problems this county is having. It's fair to at least credit some of the increased arrests on the increase in criminal activity. There are also a handful of Deputies who have found their forte, one in particular, in arresting drunk drivers. This is truly a great thing and Deputies who work with that individual have been motivated and also maintain impressive arrest stats. This increase is based more on peer influence and not motivation from the person in charge sitting behind a desk.

It is very rare to see Captain Quakenbush out in the field. Even rarer would be appearances at our roll call sessions or other functions where Patrol might see him. If Quakenbush truly motivated us to that 31 percent arrest increase there would be some evidence of it.

I have never been motivated to be more aggressive or statistically productive from Quakenbush. I have felt criticized and micromanaged, but never motivated. This feeling is shared by many Patrol Deputies unfortunately.

While on the subject of stats, the most telling statistic of all is the fact that out of the 60 plus Deputies that Quakenbush commands, just over 1 percent (one deputy) support his candidacy for Sheriff. Quakenbush has held one staff meeting in his tenure as Patrol Commander... ONE! I'll point out that seven years ago when Quakenbush was first appointed to Captain, a lot of us were on board with a future Sheriff Quakenbush and that percentage would have been significantly higher. Unfortunately and fortunately time has a way of revealing things.

I'll be brief on this next point, but I feel it is important to bring up. On the Quakenbush for Sheriff Facebook page there are pictures from a public event he attended with other political candidates. Former Sheriff and current Indiana State Police Superintendent Doug Carter attended as well. A Quakenbush photographer captured a photo of Carter and Quakenbush laughing, and it was posted to Facebook along with a photo of Carter addressing the audience. Now nowhere does Quakenbush say that he is endorsed by Carter, but several times throughout his posts he name drops Carter. What is concerning is being approached by a stranger who asks who I support, and then they tell me they support Quakenbush because they have heard Carter endorsed him. This has happened several times to multiple people to the point where I suspect those innocent photos coupled with the right political verbiage by Quakenbush supporters has given the wrong impression. I can positively squash that rumor and say with 100 percent certainty that Doug Carter DOES NOT endorse Quakenbush.

Quakenbush boasts an impressive educational background, especially in business. He is to be congratulated for that. He claims he is the only candidate with the unique qualification to run an agency with a multi-million dollar budget. But many former Hamilton County Sheriffs did not have MBAs or multiple degrees – Bowen, Carter, Stevens and Cook didn't. I don't believe those men would have taken kindly to being written off due to their inferior level of education in a campaign against Quakenbush. Quakenbush runs on a ticket of being a fiscal conservative. I typically vote for a fiscal conservative as I am all about not wasting our tax dollars! What I don't consider waste is money spend properly to make Public Safety better. When this doesn't occur, resources and training suffer and new applicants aren't incentivized to seek employment. You get what is left over from the surrounding agencies who invest heavily in their officers. I'm not sure what else Quakenbush thinks he can cut out of our budget, but running on that platform given where we currently are is concerning. As a resident of the county I want the first responders around me to be well trained, well outfitted and selected from a large pool of qualified candidates. I don't think any of the other three candidates would spend money recklessly, and regardless, the budgets are already in place. The new Sheriff isn't reinventing the wheel, and furthermore the next Sheriff, even if it is Quakenbush, wouldn't be putting a tax refund check in anyone's mailbox.

Quakenbush claimed victory in the Fiscal Conservatives of Hamilton County event last week which I attended. He later posted this on his Facebook page: “I've heard you loud and clear. You aren't interested in change. You aren't interested in a different direction. You aren't interested in a candidate who doesn't have the interest of the taxpayers first and foremost. You are interested in a leader who will fight for the whole county.”

Captain Quakenbush, with all due respect, I can assure you that we are interested in change. We are most definitely ready for a new direction. While all the candidates have the ability and desire to fight for this county, Quakenbush would lead the public to think he is the only candidate who can keep their families safe and keep Hamilton County the great place it is to live and work. Let me be clear, regardless of who wins this election, the safety and security of the citizens is not in jeopardy. The men and women of the Sheriff's Office are dedicated to serving regardless of who is in charge. We don't put this uniform on and go out and risk taking a bullet just for a paycheck. We do it because we love this job and what it represents. We are ready for a candidate who does not have the support of the current and recently removed Command Staff. That is a huge part of the change we so desperately desire and do not foresee under Quakenbush as apparent by his endorsements. John Maxwell sums it up, “Leadership is not about titles, positions, or flowcharts. It is about one life influencing another.” We are ready for a new chapter; we are desperate to bring honor and integrity back to our creed. We are more than a soulless number on a spreadsheet or a shade of color on a pie chart. We are ready for a leader, not a manager, who is in touch with us, respects us, and someone who will erase the tarnish our badge has accrued. We are ready to be emboldened, renewed and released from the distractions that have plagued us in recent years.

Thank you for your time. Please join me on May 8 to make the Sheriff's Office great again.

Reader: I'd want Mitch to arrest my kid

Dear Editor:

I rarely come out and directly support anyone politically, and this race is not even in my district so I can't vote, but I'd like to tell my Hamilton County friends about Mitch Russell, who is running for Sheriff.

First off, I know nothing about the other people running, but I've known Mitch and his wife Melanie for 25 years. She is one of our ER nurses, and I consider Mitch a great friend. Mitch simply is as good of a guy as you will ever meet. His credentials are impeccable, his character is unmatched. He solved one of the most brutal crimes ever in the history of Hamilton County, a triple homicide, and has been on the forefront of criminal justice in Hamilton County for years.

Simply put, he's the kind of guy you want to arrest your own kid should the misstep in judgment arise and also the kind of guy you want when you yourself are a victim of crime. He will not quit on you should you find yourself in need. He's just, fair, honest, even tempered, brilliant and highly respected in the criminal justice community.

I've been a member of the Marion County Crime Lab board of directors for years, and he is highly respected for his work and leadership in the law enforcement community. This is the guy you want to bust your kid's party when you're out of town. Please consider voting for my great friend.

Lloyd C. Long supports Mitch Russell for Sheriff

Dear Editor:

If you are like me, you have seen the many signs around Hamilton County for the upcoming 2018 Sheriff's election. I believe there are more signs around for these individuals than I have seen for any other election. I guess it is great that we have so many good options for this position in our county. However, with such great options, how do we separate and pick the "best one" for the position of sheriff?

Being a lifelong resident of Hamilton County and a business owner here for over 37 years, there are four qualities that I really look for in an individual who will serve us in a public capacity. They are integrity, loyalty, service, and experience. While I will not question these qualities in the other individuals, I will speak on what I do know about one candidate.

This one particular candidate has shown integrity by standing for upholding the letter of the law. He has been willing to stand by himself in situations that he has deemed to be the best decision, the right decision, for those he has represented. In my experiences with this individual, if he said it, he meant it, and he did it.

As I look at loyalty, this is something that seems to be lost this day and age. This individual has lived in Hamilton County his whole life and has served in law enforcement in some capacity for over 41 years. He has made it very clear by that commitment that this is not just a career; it is a way of life he has chosen and excelled in.

Service truly shows the heart of an individual. I have watched as this individual served on a town council (president of that council as well), on youth sports boards, coached many different sports for both girls and boys, donated countless, unseen hours of working on youth sports facilities when no one saw, and serve his family in ways most men never figure out. He has always served sacrificially for what ever the need might be.

Experience speaks to the fact if a person cannot only do the job, but do it with excellence. This individual, as mentioned above, has over 41 years in law enforcement. He has served under five different Hamilton County Sheriffs. He has not only seen what has worked and what has not, but learned from those experiences. He has been in multiple leadership roles as a Hamilton County Officer as well as a Police Chief for one of our Hamilton County towns. He has worked in multiple situations of budgeting and meeting budgets as well.

Chief Muszar speaks about keeping you safe

Dear Editor:
 As Fire Chief of Jackson Township Fire Department, I am proud to serve a thriving community. Thanks to our Township Leaders, we continue to grow and expand our Fire Service to now be on the cutting edge while building bridges with other Agencies and communities. We serve nearly 60 square miles and our success in providing Fire and Advance Critical Care Paramedics to the residents of our Township is directly related to the relations we have built with our surrounding Fire Departments.
 The single most important inter-department relationship we have built is with the Cicero Fire Department so as to provide one effective Fire Department with two separate names. This could not have been done without the hard work of the Township and Town Officials. The relations today are the best they have ever been with both Departments serving Jackson Township with cutting-edge technology and working hand in hand to provide the most Advanced Life Support Critical EMS Care possible to ALL the residents of Jackson Township. Both Departments have trained their Paramedic's above and beyond the Indiana State Requirements so as to ensure the best possible outcome for you!
 On April 19, we began providing two Medic/Ambulances to serve Jackson Township and the very next day both our Medic Units were utilized on two separate Medical Emergencies at the same time! What a blessing to be able to offer this service to our community! We have been able obtain State and Federal grants totaling nearly $1 million that have allowed us to provide State of the Art breathing equipment to our Firefighters, a High-Tech Air Filling station for refilling all of our Air Bottles as well as providing the capability for any Dive Team to be able to refill any of their Dive Team's Air bottles when performing a Water rescue in the community. Grants have also provided for the purchase of Thermal Imaging Cameras so we can search for you and your loved ones who might be trapped in your house during a house fire.

 I could go on and on and on. My point is this: At best, it can be difficult for the residents to see all the benefits of what each day brings to the residents of Jackson Township. We are daily looking for ways to improve the service, not only to you, the residents, of Jackson Township, but to your friends and family that might be traveling through the Township on any given day.
 I encourage you to stop by or call! Please take time to learn what Jackson Township is doing for you. We have a newly revised website at jacksonfire.us. You can email me personally at information@jacksonfire.us. I look forward to a great 2018 serving you each day as we grow together to continue to provide you with the best Fire Department possible!
 Sincerely,
Jeff Muszar, Fire Chief
Jackson Township Fire Department

Celebrate Arbor Day with Indiana State Park events this weekend

The REPORTER

A tree giveaway, identification hike, painting events and more are just some of the ways Hoosiers can celebrate Arbor Day this year at Indiana State Parks.

Indiana recognizes Arbor Day on Friday, April 27, although some state park events will take place on Saturday, April 28.

Chain O'Lakes State Park in Albion is hosting "A is for Arbor Day" at 10 a.m. on Friday. Visitors can learn to plant and care for trees. Each participant will go home with a tree to plant, as supplies last. The historic Stanley Schoolhouse will host stories, crafts and hands-on activities for children.

Learn tree identification during a hike at Versailles State Park at 2 p.m. on Saturday. The park's naturalist will lead the hike, which is rated as moderate. Participants are encouraged to bring a field guide and wear hiking boots.

A free, all-ages painting workshop to celebrate Arbor Day at Spring Mill State Park in Mitchell starts at 2 p.m. on Saturday. Call 812-849-3534 or email interpretive naturalist Wyatt Williams at wwilliams1@dnr.IN.gov to reserve a spot.

Brown County State Park is hosting two events. From 8 to 11 a.m. on Friday, visitors can watch award-winning local artist Patricia Bartels paint en plein air. Bartels will set up at an overlook near the fire tower. Stop by and learn about the painting method that helped make Brown County famous.

The 33rd annual Spring Wildflower Foray will take place in Brown County April 27-29. Programs will be offered at natural areas throughout the county that feature spring ephemerals. The state park is hosting hikes at 3:30 p.m. on Friday, and at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. on Saturday. Call 812-988-5240 for more information.

In Heights softball's win over Northwestern...

Three grand slams for the Huskies

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

There's been quite a bit of history made on the Hamilton Heights softball field over the past few years, but never quite like what happened on Tuesday.

April 24 will be known as the Triple Slam day on the Huskies' field. The Heights team totaled three grand slams in its win over Northwestern. Not only that, but two of those slams were hit by one player.

Freshman Hayley Greene smacked her first slam in the fourth inning, then with the bases loaded in the sixth inning, hit another ball over the fence. That made the score 14-3, and that would be the final, since that was over the limit for the 10-run rule.

"We were just all in together," said Greene. "Our defense was in and of course our bats were going, which is really good all around."

Senior Taylor Ewing got the Huskies' first slam of the game in the second inning, which broke a 1-1 tie. Aliyah Dorsey drew a walk, Kelsie Albright got on with a fielder's choice and Jesse Nomdo singled to load the bases, and that brought Ewing up for her slam.

"When I go up there, I just look to hit the ball," said Ewing. The senior said she doesn't look for power, but after she saw her coaches telling her "Just go," and her teammates came out to congratulate her, that's when she knew.

"And it was a good feeling, for sure," said Ewing.

"It was very impressive tonight," said Heights coach Landi Lockwood. "It's something we've been lacking the last few games and I was excited to see us start to get our swing back and get a hold of it. It's rare to see one grand slam, but three is pretty amazing. For them to keep their composure after they've done that and do it again, and to have the girls on base to do that, we needed to have that and that worked for us in our favor tonight, too."

In the fourth inning, Ewing singled on to base, then Bayleigh Runner got on with a fielder's choice. Jessica Kaurich drew a walk, and that set up Greene for her first slam.

That same group came together in the sixth inning with the Huskies up 10-3. Ewing got a walk, Runner singled, Kaurich was hit by a pitch, then Greene took the 2-1 pitch over the fence.

"That time I had to think like, we just needed to get more runs on to win," said

Greene. "We were thinking, just get it in play and score these runs. It went over, so it worked out in the end."

Runner got the first run in the first inning, when Greene batted her in with a double. That means Greene finished the game with nine RBIs. Kylie Schakel also scored in the fourth inning, prior to Greene's first grand slam.

It was a nice rebound for a Heights team that went through a bit of a rough patch last week, dropping three games, two by run-rule. The Huskies got off to a fine start with the season, but have had to deal with their ups and downs, which can happen when a team has young players.

"Honestly, going in nobody knew how we were going to do with such a young team," said Ewing. "But from the get-go, we've been really good. We started off beating Zionsville our first game, so it was an accomplishment."

Ewing admitted that the middle of the season "got a little rough," but said her team is getting things together. She's also amazed by the younger players on the team.

"Watching the game, you would never have know that there are such young girls out here playing," said Ewing. "I think this game, everybody came out with their heads in it and we all knew we wanted to win. We knew there was nothing to lose, so we all had confidence in ourselves about this game."

Ewing and Kaurich are the only two seniors on the team this season. Greene said she's learned quite a bit from them.

"Taylor's a shortstop and I play there sometimes," said Greene. "If I'm at third (base) during practice, I'll watch her and see what she does. I can just carry that into the game with me. They're role models for us and it's a lot of help."

Albright pitched three and a third innings, while Greene threw the final two and two thirds. Between them, the two pitchers allowed Northwestern just five hits.

Heights is now 5-7 for the season and will play at Northwestern at 5 p.m. today. With Tuesday's win under their belts, the Huskies feel like things are getting better for them.

"We're definitely going to keep going up," said Ewing. "I have a lot of confidence in our girls. With our losses, I know conference is out of the question, but I think we have a really good chance at winning sectionals, hopefully."

"We just got to keep our heads in it," said Greene. "We had tough losses all last week, and it showed that we got down. But today's game showed that we were still in it, and we can win. And like Taylor said, I think we have a great chance at winning sectionals if we just stay in it."

MILLERS WIN WILD GAME

The Noblesville softball team won a high-scoring game on Tuesday, holding off a big comeback by Harrison. Read more about the gam on Page 13.

Millers hang on to beat Harrison

Noblesville held off Harrison 14-13 in a wild game that was played at Grand Park on Tuesday.

The Raiders scored two runs in the top of the first, but the Millers took the lead for good in the bottom of the inning. Abby Brown scored the first run, then Emily Minnett sent a home run to center field, also scoring Kyleigh Lowry and Ella White.

Chloe Tragesser's second-inning single scored Olivia Stinson, then White opened the bottom of the third with a homer. In the fourth inning, Julia Furiak singled in Shea Sterrett, then White's bunt single scored Grace Smith. That brought up Minnett, and she connected on her second home run of the day. Lowry and White also scored.

Noblesville added three more runs in the fifth inning. Tragesser got Brown home with a single and would score later in the inning. White's single sent Smith home. That made the score 14-6, and the Millers were able to hold off a furious seventh-inning rally: Harrison hit back-to-back doubles to score three runs, but a pop out to Tragesser finished the game.

Minnett's two homers totaled six RBIs. Tragesser and White were both 3-for-3, and Smith hit a double. White batted in three runs and Tragesser drove in two.

Madison Taylor struck out 10 in four and two thirds innings, with Baily Ryan pitching the remainder of the game to get the save.

Noblesville is 7-3 and travels to Cathedral today for a 5:30 p.m. game.

Huskies make it two in a row, beat Northwestern

Hamilton Heights won its second consecutive game Tuesday, holding off Northwestern 5-4 at the Huskies' field.

While the win was nice, Heights coach JR Moffatt was happy with how his team won. The Huskies did so by doing the little things: Putting the ball in play, and avoiding strikeouts. Moffatt believed the most important stat of the night was that his team struck out only four times on Tuesday.

"I think tonight for us, it was the way we won," said Heights coach JR Moffatt. "We've been striking out way too much. And tonight was the exact opposite."

After the Tigers scored in the top of the first inning, the Huskies answered right away in the bottom of the first. Sam Fulton's single got Sam Wahl in to score and Heights on the board at 1-1.

The Huskies extended their lead to 4-1 in the fourth inning. Sam Rupe and Luke Stohler both singled to get on base, then Cobe Koors reached on error, and eventually all three scored.

Northwestern got two runs back in the fifth inning, then Heights added a run in the sixth when Alex Roth scored. The Tigers scored one more run with two outs in the seventh, but Koors caught a fly ball in center field to get the third out.

The Huskies totaled seven hits in the game, with Rupe going 2-for-3. Ike Peterson pitched a complete game, striking out seven.

Heights is now 6-4 for the season and will play at 5 p.m. today at Northwestern.

"This was a huge win for us because we have four games this week," said Moffatt. "And Northwestern is really good. To get two games over .500 to start the season is just really big. And we'll got to Northwestern tomorrow night. We'll have Sam Fulton pitching. He's a good pitcher, so we like our chances. Doesn't mean we'll win, but we like our chances."
