Jack Russell named Chief Operating Officer of OneZone

The REPORTER

OneZone, a Hamilton County chamber of commerce, announced Thursday that Jack Russell has been named Chief Operating Officer and will join the organization on May 14. As COO, Jack will take on responsibility for the marketing, communications and operational aspects of the organization, along with oversight of member acquisition and retention, member services and events.

Russell

Jack comes to OneZone from the Westfield Chamber of Commerce, where he served as president. A graduate of Indiana University, he previously worked in marketing, sales and business development at Continental, Inc. in Anderson.

Mo Merhoff, OneZone President, said, "We're looking forward to Jack's joining us at an exciting time for OneZone. We are in the first year of a broad, aspirational strategic plan and welcome his being part of the team."

tegic plan and welcome his being part of the team."

With OneZone, businesses get an organization that reaches across municipal boundaries – just the way business does – to deliver more impact and more opportunities more efficiently.

'Commuter tax' must be a two-way street

Hamilton County residents are likely to be hearing more about "commuter taxes" in the coming months. And, this comes from a "regional" concept that many Indianapolis officials and some state legislators like to talk about. The regional approach in government means Indianapolis and its surrounding counties are all part of a metropolitan area that share certain economic and social advantages and obligations.

In the short term, we will hear that a tax for commuters from this county and

Fishers High School prepares teens for local tech jobs

By BRENNA DONNELLY
WISH-TV | wistv.com

With several technology companies looking to set up headquarters in Indianapolis, several central Indiana high schools are already hard at work training students to enter that competitive workforce.

Fishers High School in the Hamilton Southeastern School District hosts dual-credit college classes inside its building taught in part by local tech industry professionals. The program is in its third year and boasts three classes with about 15 enrolled students each. Those high school students will receive three college credits per course at Purdue University for these freshman level major courses and pay about $25 per credit hour.

"The goal I think is to really connect kids with authentic learning and bring that into the classroom as much as possible," said Steve Loser, assistant principal at Fishers High School. "Kids are going to actually reinvent their jobs through their lifetime. They need to know what's there, but also be able to shift and pivot as they move in those next steps."

John McDonald says these courses teach that kind of innovation, teamwork and problem solving. He's the instructor for CNIT 18000 through the Purdue Polytechnic Institute, but he isn't a trained the others around Indy is fair and necessary to repair the crumbling streets and highways in the capital city. There is without doubt a good argument that motorists who use a road with regularity should contribute to its maintenance.

But, if some type of tax is levied on Hamilton County commuters for roads or public transportation or anything else, it should be a two-way street. We are told that 40,000 of our county residents drive into Marion County every business day. Not so widely publicized is the fact that 15,000 Marion County residents commute to jobs in Hamilton County and the number is growing.

Our mayors, county officials and state legislators should insist that any discussions on a commuter tax include provisions for roads or public transportation to pay for its workers who come to our county each day. We deserve a fair share of such a tax, but probably won't hear much about this suggestion from the Indianapolis city administration or city news media.

But, our roads need to be maintained too, and more employment is being created in this county all the time with a lot of employees likely to come from out of the county. So, it would be helpful if our officials make sure they speak up for us.

"We are so excited to kick off the summer with our Salsa for Salsa event. It is an enjoyable way to bring our community together and celebrate Cinco de Mayo," said Lorna Steele, assistant recreation director. "With authentic music and food vendors, this is a wonderful event to celebrate Mexican heritage and culture."

teacher. He's the CEO of Fishers-based ClearObject and teaches the course from personal experience, with supervision from Purdue faculty.

"If we want kids to be able to be a part of this data economy that we have growing here in Indiana without necessarily loading them up with college debt or have them escape Indiana," said McDonald. "You need to have ways and pathways for kids to lean to be a part of the computer industry in a high school setting."

Wednesday, McDonald held out his Indiana driver's license and explained to the students how it's a metaphor for digital certificates on the internet. He says coding and computer skills are the new form of English, and believes everyone needs to understand them. The students say they really believe this course could make a difference in their futures.

"I thought it was really cool. I didn't know about this until junior year," said Jeremy Simpson, a senior at FHS. "I want to be a computer engineer so this systems analyst stuff would be helpful for my future job."

"I think it's really interesting because it's a new way of learning and I know he knows his stuff because he has a job doing it currently," said Sarah Stensland, also a senior.

At age 17, Jeremy Simpson already has a job in the tech industry and wants to make sure he'll be competitive once he graduates.

"The jobs are getting so much more technically skilled that you need training and knowledge beforehand to be competitive in there," Simpson said. "So knowing everything you can as soon as possible and preparing for that is very useful for getting a job in this field."

"Our high school students are already telling us that they know how code websites, they know how to build apps," said McDonald. "So we need to do a better job at driving this technical education into high schools so they're prepared to go directly into jobs in the IT industry."

McDonald says several efforts are underway across the state, including some by Governor Holcomb to bring catered technical education to a younger population. Westfield Washington Schools' Innovate Westfield and Carmel Clay Schools' Ivy Tech Dual Credit Courses are similar programs in Hamilton County.

"We're really trying to tap into the pulse of the smart, vibrant, entrepreneurial city of Fishers and have that reflected in the building as much as possible," said Loser. "This is one model that's a college level course taught by Purdue with a local expert but we have a multitude of opportunities for local experts, local companies to come into our classrooms connect with our teachers."

Retired police chief, Army vet supports Bill Clifford

Dear Editor:

I first want to introduce myself, so you can see that I am very qualified to speak on Bill's qualifications to be Sheriff of Hamilton County. During the time frame from 1992 thru 1997, I was the Commander of the Metro Drug Task Force, working out of the Marion County Prosecutor's Office. The task force was comprised of police officers and Sheriff Deputies from Indianapolis and the surrounding counties. All personnel attached to the task force were handpicked for their experience, expertise and work ethic.

Our mission was to identify and target upper level drug dealers, conduct a detailed investigation and apprehend and convict the perpetrators. These types of investigations are very detailed and time consuming requiring the investigator to be "on his game." The task force was fortunate to have Bill Clifford as one of its excellent investigators. He excelled in his work and was very successful at his assignment.

From early on, I recognized his expertise in dealing with not only the criminal element of our work but also his ability to work with federal agencies, the U.S. Attorney's Office and the Marion County Prosecutor's Office. He is a team player. It was easy to see that he had what it takes to be a leader. That is why I would encourage the support of his campaign to become the Sheriff of Hamilton County. My experience in both the military and law enforcement gave me insight in recognizing the potential in people, and Bill Clifford certainly has proved that he has the work ethic, experience and the ability to be the next Sheriff of Hamilton County.

My opinion of Bill has never wavered, and I consider it a privilege to support him for the Sheriff's position. Bill Clifford is highly qualified and motivated to be the Sheriff of Hamilton County. He will serve the public in an outstanding manner.

Former Arcadia cop asks you to vote for Russell

Dear Editor:

I have been paying very close attention to the sheriff election in Hamilton County. I've worked beside all four candidates at one time or another during my time as a law enforcement officer in Hamilton County. I no longer live in Hamilton County, but as a former long-time resident I can tell you without a doubt that Mitch Russell is the only logical choice.

I've known Mitch for a long time. He was formally my Chief at the Arcadia Police Department and I've kept in contact with him ever since. In the law enforcement profession you learn many things from many different people. The things that this man has taught me over the years have stuck with me and have even kept me alive up till this point. He is one of a few people I call my mentor in this profession.

Mitch is a no-nonsense and what you see is what you get kind of guy. He is a man of his word. Anyone who knows the law enforcement profession knows that normally when you hear that this, that, or the other is going to happen, you usually take it with a grain of salt and believe it when you see it. Well, with Mitch it's not that way. When he says something is going to happen, rest assured it will. He holds his people accountable for their actions and will not let the community of Hamilton County down. One of the first things he ever said to me when I first started with APD is, "If you mess something up or do something wrong, call me. Chances are I already know before you call."

The following is a few things I'd like to list I know a leader to do:

Challenges the status quo, solves problems and produces results working alongside fellow officers, neighboring agencies and the community. I know Mitch to be the man that will do all the above.

Again, I no longer live in Hamilton County, but I have many family/friends on here that do. So I ask you please take the time and go out and vote Mitch Russell for Hamilton County Sheriff.

Carmel police veteran backs Mitch Russell for Sheriff

Dear Editor:

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to endorse Mitch Russell for Sheriff of Hamilton County. I have had the pleasure to work with most of the 2018 candidates for Sheriff and although they are an excellent group of law enforcement officers, my support and vote will be cast for Mitch Russell.

I have worked with Mitch for almost 30 years and believe he has the qualities of a great Sheriff. I have found Mitch to be a man who needs no credit, no letter of appreciation, no pat on the back, no recognition at all. Mitch has always worked for the victim and the community first and foremost.

I have worked with Mitch through numerous investigations over the years. During my assignments to the Metropolitan Drug Task Force and the Hamilton-Boone County Drug Task Force, I found Mitch was able to work with all the different law enforcement agencies in the area and that he was a trusted partner by all.

As a commander with the Hamilton Sheriff's Department as well as Security Manager for Riverview Hospital, Mitch has mastered how to work cases, manage cases, law enforcement officers and civilian personnel. He understands today's problems and can anticipate what may be tomorrow's problems.

Another one of Mitch's strong points is his understanding of budgets and how to develop a workable budget, and just as important, he knows the money comes from the people. As a man of integrity, he will work within the budget of the county and will respect the process.

In closing, I would like to ask you to consider voting for Mitch Russell. Mitch holds himself accountable and will be accountable to the citizens of Hamilton County as well. Mitch knows the magnitude and the responsibility of being the Sheriff. Mitch Russell will provide the best law enforcement service fairly to the citizens and visitors of Hamilton County.

Sincerely,
Randy Schalburg

Luke Kenley calls on voters to re-elect Steve Schwartz

To the voters of Hamilton County, Steve Schwartz, a lifetime resident of Noblesville, small businessman and current county council member is running for re-election. Steve is a listener, a fiscally responsible businessman, and most important, he puts heart and soul into supporting our community. He has participated in making many decisions regarding Hamilton County government over the years, which have helped make Hamilton County the best county in the state of Indiana as the place to live, work and raise a family. These things don't occur by accident, but require diligent, faithful, far thinking leadership. Steve has been one of the important contributors to our success. Competition is good; it makes us better. Running for office is the right thing to do; a democracy starves without people who are willing to step up and serve. We respect the candidacy of others, but a performance like Steve's deserves to be reinforced and reauthorized. Steve Schwartz is the superior choice: A proven leader with heart, mind and soul dedicated to good government and evermore good decisions on our behalf. We need to continue Steve's efforts by re-electing him from Council District 3.

Luke Kenley
Noblesville

Steve Dillinger applauds Steve Schwartz's record

Dear Editor: When one thinks of an ideal public servant to represent them, I believe they want someone with a community minded heart and a track record to prove it. I believe if you looked up the definition of "public servant" in the dictionary, you likely would find a picture of Hamilton County Councilman Steve Schwartz. Steve has been a big part of the government team that has helped make Hamilton County the number one rated county in the state and one of the top countries in the United States. Let's take a quick look at Steve's track record. Years ago, when the White River spill happened, it was Steve and Lori Schwartz who led the efforts of the White River clean up, helping to restore it back to the tremendous asset it is to the community today. Over and over, Steve Schwartz has made his mark on Hamilton County. Most recently he helped lead the way to bring Ivy Tech to Hamilton County, which by the way, only passed the County Council by a 4-3 vote. Steve helped pass the funding for the State Road 37 project, the jail expansion and the solar project that will create the energy source for the jail that will save taxpayers millions of dollars over the next few years. Steve tried his best to pass the funding for the police and fire training center, supported by over 100 elected and appointed officials, including Police and Fire Chiefs throughout the county. They felt this was vitally important for the safety of our community. His efforts failed the Council by a vote of 4-3. So while other candidates talk about supporting public safety, Steve's record proves his commitment. Unfortunately, sometimes in elections, when challengers get desperate, they choose to insinuate the incumbent is doing something wrong, to discredit them. While I personally find this kind of campaigning distasteful, it seems to be running rampant in today's political climate. Vacationing with a Commissioner and developing positive relationships seems to be a problem with Steve's opponent. Maybe he believes that discord between the Council and the Commissioners creates a more productive government. I can assure you we didn't receive the great number of outstanding County Achievement Awards by not working as a team. Steve Schwartz is one of the best Councilman I have had the pleasure of serving with over the past 15 years. As you go vote, please remember: "A Record is Better than a Promise."

Steve Schwartz has the record.

Reader states his case for Quakenbush support

Dear Editor: After listening to the Hamilton County Sheriff's Candidates Debate* from April 17, and based on personal conversation with Dennis as well as his on-the-job experience, I am persuaded that Dennis Quakenbush is the best qualified.

Photo provided

In a Sheriff's Department of 220 employees and a $17 million budget, Dennis Quakenbush is well equipped.

Technical skills

- Dennis is the only candidate in command staff, where he has served for seven years.
- He is currently Patrol Commander, and has 16 years of law enforcement experience.
- As Captain of the Patrol Division he supervises over 60 full time deputies, administrative personnel, reserve and auxiliary officers.
- With an MBA in business administration, he will steward the people's money wisely.

Leadership and diplomacy

- Having the necessary organizational and institutional knowledge, he is fully prepared to lead this large and complex Sheriff's Department.
- He is currently the Hamilton County Law Enforcement Representative for Emergency Management.
- Dennis already interfaces with County Commissioners, Councilors and Prosecutors; and he will be the public face of our Hamilton County Sheriff's Department.

Character and faith

- Vocation. Dennis Quakenbush chose law enforcement over his corporate career out of a desire to serve his community and to keep us safe.

• Family and faith. A life-long resident of Hamilton County, Dennis currently lives in Cicero with his wife and four young sons. A member of Genesis Church, he has served as a Sunday School Teacher and Youth Leader. Volunteering with Little Lambs Ministries, on three occasions he has worked in orphan camps in Ukraine.

Endorsements

Current Hamilton County Sheriff, Mark Bowen: "Having served alongside him for the last 16 years, Captain Quakenbush is the clear choice to administer and expand the protection and safety we cherish in Hamilton County. Keep Hamilton County safe. Vote Quakenbush on May 8."
Dan Stevens, former Sheriff (1987-1994) and current Director of Administration for the county commissioners: "The Sheriff's operating budget is $17.3 million, which includes 216 personnel, a fleet of over 100 vehicles and the Hamilton County Jail. Your next Sheriff must choose wisely how to spend your tax dollars while adapting to the reality of the department's changing operational environment, ensuring Hamilton County remains the best place in Indiana to live, work, raise a family and enjoy a safe quality of life," said Sheriff Stevens. Riverview Health purchases new hospital beds to enhance patient care, safety

Riverview Health has purchased 57 new state-of-the-art Hill-Rom Centrella™ Smart+ beds for its medical-surgical unit.

“As a hospital system, improving patient experience and safety is a priority for us, and these beds are currently the best on the market to do just that,” said David Wilhite, director of Inpatient Services. “Among other new features, these beds help reduce the risk of falls, which is a big patient safety concern, and include technology that enhances the way patients communicate with their care team.”

Hill-Rom launched this new bed in the fall of 2017 after investing significantly in clinical and customer research. The Centrella™ Smart+ beds are designed to simplify how caregivers work while keeping patients safe by reducing the risk of falls. The care team is able to better ensure fall-risk patients are in a safe state at all times through a new feature that automatically arms the bed exit alarm and notifies caregivers if a patient tries to get out of bed. The beds are also equipped with a display system that projects icons onto the floor so the bed safety status can be monitored from a distance.

“Not only do these new beds keep patients safe, they also help our team work together more effectively and efficiently,” said David. “Having new features like the display system that can be seen from outside the room can prompt any team member to quickly tend to the patient.”

Christi Crosser issues her support for Greg O'Connor

Dear Residents of Hamilton County, My husband Craig and I have lived in Noblesville for 18 years. We are raising our family here and are business owners. We are proud that our kids have been able to attend an outstanding school system, grow up in a continually safe community and experience the positive growth of our county.

Greg O'Connor, who is running for Indiana State Representative in District 29, is who our family supports and endorses. Greg is a hard worker, a kind person and has strong values. He has served 10 years on Noblesville City Council, he has brought jobs here, increased quality of life and helped keep a balanced budget. In summary, he is committed to ensuring Noblesville continues to thrive and prosper.

I recently attended an event for Greg that included a room full of Hamilton County women. For over an hour, Greg listened to our concerns for our county. He listened to our "what if's." He truly listened. I think that is rare for politicians. Greg WILL listen. Greg WILL do. Greg WILL make an impact for our District at the Statehouse.

Vote for Greg O'Connor on May 8.

Former Jackson Township employee endorses Robyn Cook for Trustee

Dear Editor:

I am supporting Robyn Cook for Jackson Township Trustee. As a former employee of the current Trustee, I can offer an inside look as to why.

My firsthand experience began in 2013 when I accepted a position at the Jackson Township Trustee's Office. In the three years that I worked in the Trustee's office, I witnessed high employee turnover. There were two employees in the Township office, myself included. The other position turned over five different employees in the three years I was there. I witnessed the turnover of a fire chief, three deputy chiefs and a number of firefighters in the small department. The individuals who left were highly trained and had the ability to write grants and provide department training to Fire and EMS personnel. This high turnover was directly related to the leadership of the Trustee and very costly to the taxpayers.

A Township Trustee has a number of important job functions which have a huge impact on the community. Fire protection is one of these functions. The Jackson Fire Territory (JFT) was formed in 2012 as a way for the communities of Arcadia, Atlanta and unincorporated Jackson Township to fund first-rate fire and advanced life support services to their residents. In 2012 Trustee Miller championed the Fire Territory and spent tens of thousands of taxpayer dollars on a financial advisor and lawyer to create the JFT. Under Indiana law, it became a separate entity with its own tax rate, budget and governance. This governance was the Jackson Fire Territory Board with representation from Arcadia, Atlanta and Jackson Township. Jackson Township was designated as the Provider Unit, administratively carrying out the decisions made by the JFT Board.

In 2015, Trustee Miller informed the JFT Board and the towns of Atlanta and Arcadia that there was a "financial crisis" and the Territory would not survive without additional revenues from the towns. However, Arcadia and Atlanta had been told at the creation of the JFT that no additional revenue would be required from them. Trustee Miller was able to provide herself a $12,000 raise around the time of the "financial crisis."

The JFT Board voted to conduct an in-depth financial study in order to make informed decisions. Robyn Cook, Clerk-Treasurer for the Town of Atlanta, was asked to assist. Her 15 years plus (at that time) experience and proven record in government finance and the budgeting process was welcomed and needed. The financial study was completed in May of 2015. Three separate, sustainable budgets were submitted and it was concluded that there was no financial crisis related to JFT and business as usual was resumed.

In December of 2015, Jackson Township Board Member Jeff Roberts offered praise to the JFT Chief for his fiscal responsibility and carrying monies over each year from the budget.

In January of 2016, the Jackson Fire Territory Board discussed goals for the future.

In February of 2016, Trustee Miller and the Jackson Township Board (Jeff Roberts, Glen Schwartz and Jerry Cook), again citing "financial reasons," made the decision to withdraw Jackson Township from the Territory, thereby dissolving the JFT.

As a result of public backlash to this sudden decision, a meeting was set for Feb. 16, 2016, in order for residents to be heard and for Trustee Miller to explain this decision. Trustee Miller and Jeff Roberts were the only Township representation at this meeting. Mr. Roberts did not speak. When questions were asked regarding the documentation from which the Jackson Township Board drew their conclusion to withdraw, Trustee Miller informed those present that she did not bring it with her.

Robyn Cook was in attendance at this same meeting with a stack of data and facts which contradicted statements made by Trustee Miller regarding the Township's "financial reasons." Robyn Cook's transparency and ability to provide documents and facts was consistent.

As Trustee Miller did not have any documentation with her at the Feb. 16 meeting, another meeting was set for March 23, 2016, in order for Trustee Miller to prepare for public questions.

Between this time and the next meeting, a complaint (Formal Complaint 16-FC-49) was filed with the Indiana Public Access Council (IPAC) against the Township. IPAC reprimanded the Township (Trustee Miller, Jeff Roberts, Jerry Cook and Glen Schwartz) for likely violating the Open Door Law by making the decision to withdraw from the Territory behind closed doors and for conspiring to delete emails pertaining to the withdrawal.

When the date for the second meeting arrived, imagine the shock and disappointment the residents felt when they were informed by Trustee Miller and Jackson Township Board members Jeff Roberts, Jerry Cook and Glen Schwartz that they would have a period of time to speak but no questions would be answered during the meeting. Members of the community did speak at this meeting and any questions that were asked went unanswered.

The meeting was adjourned and Trustee Miller left the building without speaking a word.

What followed was a bizarre time of residents asking questions of the Board members in small groups. Many of these conversations were recorded and posted for the public. When asked questions by Hamilton County Reporter publisher Jeff Jellison, Glen Schwartz admitted that he suggested that emails be deleted and that the Township withdrew from the Territory because they "couldn't get along." Jeff Roberts, who is also a paid Noblesville firefighter, admitted to calling Arcadia and Atlanta residents "retards" and said it was a poor choice of words.

With the dissolution of the JFT, I witnessed tens of thousands more taxpayer dollars being spent on lawyers and financial advisors to tear it apart.

With no Territory, the Trustee became the only person involved in the decisions made for fire protection and EMS services to the Township. There is no Fire Board or accountability. The Trustee makes all of the hiring, firing and spending decisions.

With no other options, the towns of Atlanta and Arcadia are now forced to contract with Jackson Township for emergency services and have no voice in the negotiation of fees, which are now paid from their already strapped General Funds. As feared, Trustee Miller arbitrarily increased the contract amounts from the first year to the second and has the ability to do the same annually.

Most importantly, Jackson Township residents are left less safe than when there was a Territory. When JFT was alive, there was full-time personnel on station in Arcadia and part-time in Atlanta, giving the Township better coverage and faster response times when minutes really count.

The Jackson Township fire budget has now been increased by hundreds of thousands of dollars with the tax levy being increased by only a couple of thousand. What happened to the financial crisis? All residents of Jackson Township should be concerned about this. A budget in excess of the tax levy, dependent on funds that are not guaranteed, is indicative of an entity living above its sustainable means.

Robyn Cook fought to keep the JFT together on her own time because she knew it was in the best interest of all Township residents financially and, most importantly, for their safety. Robyn Cook consistently works together with her colleagues and community to make hard decisions, always with the community's best interest as her priority. She does not have a personal agenda.

As a graduate of Hamilton Heights, she loves Jackson Township and has a proven track record of public service to its residents. I have no doubt that she will put the community first and whole heartedly support the firefighters, EMTs, and Paramedics as they ensure the safety and well-being of Jackson Township.

Another important duty of a Township Trustee is the administration of public assistance to Township residents. A Trustee needs to have compassion and the ability to listen to and show good judgement when assisting individuals who are struggling to pay for living expenses such as utilities, rent, funeral expenses and groceries. I know Robyn Cook personally and professionally; she truly possesses these qualities. She realizes there are some who are falling between the cracks in Jackson Township and has the heart to find solutions to improve the quality of life for these individuals and families.

Creating sustainable budgets and the reporting and administration of Township funds are also important Trustee duties. Many of these duties are currently being outsourced by Trustee Miller, costing taxpayers tens of thousands of dollars annually. Robyn Cook has 18 years of experience in this and can offer an immediate savings by performing these Trustee duties herself.

My experiences in working at a political office have taught me that it is not how many signs a person has posted around the community that matters. Sometimes the signs are paid for by people who have an agenda that is not in the best interest of the taxpayers or voters. Sometimes the signs are paid from a campaign fund that is in debt. Is this indicative of how taxpayer money is handled? I have also learned that sometimes an endorsement from a person or group that seem influential may have more to do with that person or groups own motives or gain.

Voter turnout for local primary elections is historically fairly low. On May 8, Jackson Township residents now have the opportunity to make positive, lasting changes for the good of the entire community.

Robyn Cook stands out in this race not only by her qualifications and professional ability, but in how she speaks to others, how she serves others, and how she conducts herself with truth, honesty and integrity. She has the character and ethics needed for the Jackson Township Trustee position.

When you cast your vote for Robyn Cook you are voting for fiscal responsibility, transparency in government and quality services at a savings to the taxpayers.

Don't be just 'ReTired,' get 'ReWIRED'

Plans are nothing; planning is everything. – Dwight D. Eisenhower

The verb definitely trumps the noun in the above quote by General/President Eisenhower. Although my column primarily addresses nutrition and fitness, those are two items of discussion which should always be involved in retirement planning as well. I decided to focus on "retirement" in this column today although the definition is a varied as the people who claim to be "retired" which I have observed from friends and professional acquaintances recently retired.

Which one are you: "ReTired" or "ReWIRED"? I know that for me the latter is true. After many years spent in professional organization management, I find that I am at a point in my life where I can refocus on everything from my fitness level to volunteering to professional consulting at my own pace. As much as I enjoyed my career and found it fulfilling, I am now re-energized for other pursuits and activities and feel both blessed and awed by that opportunity.

Maybe you are reading this and know that "retirement" or making a big change in your life is not appropriate at this time. However, as you will note in the quote above, an inactive plan is inferior to active planning for the future.

Most of us understand that working with a financial advisor is very important; however without engaging yourself to be more active physically and mentally, and focusing on nutrition, I am afraid the financial comfort will not be all that you had hoped. Life is about balance in all that you do – a holistic endeavor. Being active while eating junk food; practicing great nutrition but never moving your body; enjoying hobbies but never engaging with others, are all examples of a life out of balance. Making time to connect with family and friends, volunteering when possible, staying physically active and mentally sharp, eating whole and nutritionally sound foods, these are all "plans" for your retirement years – but don't forget that important word "planning" – making conscientious changes when necessary and engaging yourself in the process.

Whether you are long ago, recent, or soon to be "retired" start planning this new phase of your life and get "rewired" – you deserve it!

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept. And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out. But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

Blackhawks roll to win over Carroll

The Sheridan softball team scored early, then it scored often in its 11-1 Hoosier Heartland Conference game with Carroll Thursday at Biddle Park.

The Cougars scored their lone run in the top of the first inning. The Blackhawks answered right away with three runs in the bottom of the first. Lauren Railer drew a walk, then Audrey Reed hit a home run into left field to get Sheridan ahead 2-1. Later, Cassie Vargas doubled and was sent home when Sydney Neff hit a single.

Emma Went scored in the third inning on an RBI groundout from Addyson Ream. Sheridan added two more runs in the fourth inning: Allie Delph got on base with a double, then got home after Went reached on error, then Railer scored when Vargas was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded.

Delph doubled in Katy Crail for the first of two runs in the fifth inning. Delph would score minutes later when Reed hit a double. In the sixth inning, Sheridan started with back-to-back singles by Went and Vargas. Kayla Beahrs was walked to load the bases, then Caitlin Neese hit a single into left field to score Went and Vargas, thus ending the game on the run-rule.

Vargas finished the day 3-for-3 at the plate, scoring two runs and batting in one more. Reed totaled three RBIs on 2-for-3 hitting, while Delph scored two runs and drove in two more. Delph also pitched a complete game for the win, striking out three and allowing just three hits and no walks.

The Blackhawks are 2-2 in the conference and 3-5 overall. They will host Guerin Catholic on Monday.

Taylor locks in, then Millers lock down win at Pendleton

By RICH TORRES
PENDLETON – The recipe for disaster was there on Thursday night, but Noblesville freshman ace Madison Taylor never wavered.

Instead, she kept attacking as the strike zone morphed and the host Pendleton Heights Arabians loaded the bases in the bottom of the first.

With the Class 4A No. 22 Millers ahead, Taylor's composure was challenged while trying to protect Noblesville's early 4-0 advantage despite a lengthy 40-pitch opening frame.

She hardly flinched. The 4A Arabians scored one run off a wild pitch and were awarded three walks in the inning, but Taylor locked in to strikeout Chloe Closser to end the threat en route to 6-2 victory.

"It was a little bit of a struggle, but it was fun," Taylor remarked after her 89-pitch performance for her eighth pitching win of the season. "You have to trust in yourself and in your coach and teammates."

The Florida State verbal commit scattered two hits over four complete frames, striking out six and walking five while carrying a no-hitter into the third inning.

"I thought she had great control. I thought the strike zone was horrible," Noblesville head coach Deke Bullard said. "I think both sides would agree to that because both catchers, you could tell, were holding pitches longer that were strikes being call balls. And I'm not sure what was being seen on that part."

Other than the first inning, the Arabians (11-5) saw few opportunities, posting five combined hits against Taylor and reliever Baily Ryan, who went three innings with a strikeout.

An RBI single by Amanda White in the bottom of the seventh supplied the Arabians with their final run. White led her team by going 2-for-4, but the Millers' pitching duo silenced seven Arabians' batters through 14 at-bats.

The Millers' hitters did the rest, fueled by a five-hit, four-run top of the first.

"Our philosophy is always to get out ahead early. It allows our defense to relax. It allows us to play a little bit looser," Bullard said. "We were fortunate to come out and our bats were good in the first inning. We struggled from there on out, though."

Noblesville (8-4) sent eight batters to the plate in the first, opening the game with four straight hits.

Abby Brown connected first with a leadoff double, followed by RBI singles by Chloe Tragesser and Julia Furiak. Grace Smith split the two at-bats with a double, and Emily Minett plated her 19th RBI with a sacrifice fly. Taylor drove in the fourth

Tigers take care of Wildcats

Fishers rolled past Lawrence North 6-2 in a Thursday home game.

The Wildcats scored a run in the first inning and stayed in front until the fourth inning, when the Tigers scored four runs. Hannah Mays started the inning with a home run into center field. Caroline Bernhardt singled to get on base, then Sydney Milburn moved her to second with a single. Olivia Latimer then drew a walk to load the bases.

That brought up Courtney James. During her at-bat, Bernhardt scored on a passed ball, then James hit a double into center field to score Milburn and Latimer. Just like that, Fishers led 4-1.

The Tigers added a run in each of the next two innings. Bernhardt's RBI groundout scored Brooke Benson in the fifth inning, then Milburn got home in the sixth after Maddie Wellington reached on error. James, Mays and Milburn all finished the game with two hits. Alexis Hall pitched four innings to get the win.

Fishers is 7-6 and will host Bishop Chatard on Wednesday.

Tigers baseball beats Avon, extends win streak to nine

Fishers extended its winning streak to nine on Thursday with a 7-0 victory over the Class 4A No. 10 Avon in a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game.

Luke Albright (3-1) led the 4A No. 2 Tigers throwing a complete game shutout. Albright allowed only one infield hit, while striking out 10.

The Tigers offense used six walks, aggressive baserunning, and timely hitting to score two runs in each of the first, third, and fifth innings and one run in the sixth.

Kiel Brenzewski plated JJ Woolwine on an RBI sacrifice fly, and Matt Wolff scored Ben Burton on an RBI groundout in the first inning. In the third inning, Wolff scored Craig Yoho on an RBI single. Courtesy runner Tristan Baker then scored from third base when Wolff was picked off of first. Brenzewski delivered an RBI single in the fifth inning to score Burton. Yoho and Baker then executed a perfect double steal with Baker stealing second and Yoho stealing home on the throw to second. In the sixth inning, Grant Whetsel connected on a one-out triple to left field. The next batter, Nick Lukac, scored Whetsel on an RBI groundout.

Woolwine had a multi-hit night. Brenzewski and Wolff both had two RBIs. Yoho finished with four stolen bases, and Baker had three stolen bases on the night.

The Tigers are 9-1 in the conference and 14-3 overall. Fishers travels to Avon on Friday for Game 2 of the series.

run with a single to left field and two outs.

The Millers' hit barrage chased Arabians' starter Kelsey Sturgeon after the first as Pendleton Heights turned to Jordan Benefiel. The second-inning switch cooled Noblesville momentarily, but the lapse didn't last long.

"(Benefiel) definitely confused some of our hitters with spin. She had a lot of them off balance, and I think she put a lot of doubt in some of their heads," Bullard said. "But the great thing about our team is they battled through it, tried to figure things out and made adjustments."

Benefiel struck out five through six innings and walked one. She retired the first six batters she faced and didn't allow a base runner during the Millers' final eight at-bats.

In between, a three-hit, one-run top of the fourth and a towering solo home run by freshman Ella White in the fifth padded the lead 6-1.

White crushed Benefiel's 2-2 offering over a viewing deck behind the centerfield fence at Legends Field for her eighth on the season. She entered the game tied for third on the state's recent home run leaderboard.

"She is a very, very talented player, and I truly believe that the next three years will be absolutely special," Bullard said of White, who is hitting .474 this year with 18 RBIs.

Brown pushed the Millers' lead to 5-1 in the fourth with a bases-loaded walk to score Kyleigh Lowry. Six different Millers drove in a run and eight of the team's 10 hitters contributed to Noblesville's nine hits.

The win was the Millers second in three games after the program's unbeaten streak ended at six straight during the Carmel Invitational last weekend.

Noblesville lost to 4A No. 6 Lake Central 3-2 in eight innings, 4A No. 3 Castle 14-4 and 4A No. 12 Penn 5-4 during the invitational. They fell to 4A No. 10 Cathedral 7-3 on Wednesday but defeated 4A No. 8 Harrison 14-13 at home on Tuesday.

"Winning is always good for momentum. We purposely schedule our schedule to be very tough. We played five ranked teams in the top 12, five games in a row," Bullard said. "And we battled. That makes us battle tested, and that's what we want going into sectional."

Good early start leads 'Rocks baseball to victory

Westfield scored early, then held off a rally by Brownsburg to win 7-4 in the opener of a Hoosier Crossroads Conference series.

The Shamrocks scored in each of the first four innings. Matthew Meyer got the first run when his double scored Logan McClurg, who also got on base with a double. Later, Zach Collins hit his own double to send Meyer home. Luke Hutson came in to run for Collins and later scored, giving Westfield a 3-0 lead after the first inning.

Meyer batted in two runs in the second inning, as his single scored Payton Tamm and Brandon Yoder. In the third inning, Trey Anderson singled home Hutson. A fourth-inning double by Sam Eaton got Yoder in for his second run, this after Yoder got on base with a double.

Meyer, Collins and Bryce Dorton all had two hits, with Meyer driving in three runs total. Matthew Robinson pitched six innings for the win, striking out seven and allowing three hits.

"Matthew Robinson had another great outing for us," said 'Rocks coach Ryan Bunnell. "He is really locked in right now and is doing a great job for us on the mound and when it's not his night he's leading well. I thought we did a nice job of being aggressive early in the count tonight until about the fourth, but we had several kids with good nights."

Huskies fall at Pendleton Heights

Hamilton Heights dropped a 5-2 game at Pendleton Heights on Thursday.

The Arabians never trailed, scoring three runs in the first inning. The Huskies scored their first run in the third inning; Sam Wahl got home after Sam Fulton reached on error.

Wahl scored again in the fifth inning on an RBI single by Sam Rupe, who finished the game 2-for-3 at the plate. Luke Thesier hit a double in the fourth inning.

"We had a big opportunity in the first inning to get up big out of the gate," said Huskies coach JR Moffatt. "Bases loaded and only one out and we grounded into an inning ending double play. That kind of set the stage for what kind of night it was going to be. Pendleton answered with three unearned in the bottom of the first and there you have it. A 5-6 run swing in a couple of swings."

Michael Cross pitched six and a third innings, giving up just four hits.

"Defensively after the first inning we were solid. Michael had the throwing error that hurt himself in the first, but that had as much to do with them as it did us. Mike made a really good play on the ball but the throw just got away from him. That stuff happens. You don't like it but you are gonna make some physical errors now and then, it happens. Evan Warner made a really nice diving catch in the outfield to help keep it close."

Hamilton Heights' senior Kayla Kirtley has signed a letter of intent to play basketball for Taylor University in Upland, Indiana. Coach Natalie Young and Head Coach Jody Martinez, and Kole Kirtley.

Heights' Kirtley commits to Taylor University

Kayla Kirtley, Hamilton Heights' senior, has signed a letter of intent to play basketball for the Taylor University Trojans. Taylor University is a member of the Crossroads League. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kevin and Christina Kirtley.

"The quality and prestige of a Taylor University degree, the high level of athletic competition, the Christian community, and the small rural setting made Taylor a great fit for me," said Kayla Kirtley, who plans to major in biology in preparation for a post graduate education in either dental or medical school. "Also, I'm excited to play for Coach Jody Martinez and be part of his first recruiting class at Taylor!"

"I've loved basketball ever since I can remember," said Kirtley, who trains year-round and spent hours in the gym to develop skills to broaden her game. "In addition, spending time in the weight room and participating in speed and agility training has elevated my endurance and strength."

A strong student athlete, Kirtley has been recognized for her athletic and academic achievements. She is among the Top 10 percent of her class, named to the Academic All-State, IBCA, 1,000 points scorer (1,119 total career points), Top 60 Seniors, Hoosier Basketball Magazine, IBCA Top 100 Underclass Showcase 2016, 2017, All-Conference 2014-2018, All Hamilton County and All-Academic Hoosier Conference Athlete.

Kirtley said her dad has been a major influence in guiding her athletic career. "He has always been there for me and taught me proper shooting form at a young age," she explained. She also credits her trainers, Christopher Thomas and Brian Hahn who helped sharpen and elevate her skills. Tony Marlin, Coach of AAU Flight Thunder team, exposed her to elite competition, and Coach Keegan Cherry helped her to become a student of the game.

Kirtley is a member of the Honor Society, Key Club, Husky 4-H'ers, and Indiana Junior Angus Association. Deeply involved in 4-H, especially showing Angus Cattle, Kirtley has had success both locally and at the state and national levels showing cattle. Kirtley enjoys working on the family farm, which is a year-round obligation. There she can be found engaging in some of her favorite events which include calving, baling hay, building fences, and mowing.

Hamilton Heights Athletic Director Kurt Ogden said, "Kayla is one of the hardest working student athletes that I've been associated with. When she's not working on her game or academics, she's involved with the preparation of her livestock for 4-H along with all the other chores associated with living on a farm. It's great to see the dividends pay off for such a hard-worker. Taylor University is getting one of our finer student athletes who has been a pleasure to work with as a representative of Hamilton Heights athletics."

"Kayla works extremely hard and is very deserving of continuing her basketball and academic career as a Trojan under the direction of Coach Martinez and staff at Taylor University," said Coach Keegan Cherry, Heights Varsity Girls Basketball. "As good of a basketball player that Kayla is, she's an even better person. Kayla is an exemplary student athlete in the classroom and community who has left a legacy of work ethic and character on Husky girls' basketball. She is part of a senior class that has raised the bar and expectations for our program. I will forever be appreciative of Kayla's contributions - Tradition Never Graduates."

Taylor University, Head Coach, Jody Martinez, said, "I am excited about the future of Taylor University Women's Basketball with Kayla joining the team in the fall of 2018. I love Kayla's work ethic and attitude on and off the court. She strives for excellence in all that she does in life, and I am confident that Kayla will continue that focus at the collegiate level. We are truly blessed to have the Kirtley family join the Taylor University Community."
