Noblesville shooter to face juvenile charges

The REPORTER

According to Prosecuting Attorney D. Lee Buckingham, 13-year-old David J. Moore must be charged as a juvenile under Indiana law. The exact charges Moore faces will be detailed during his initial hearing next Monday morning.

While the investigation into the shooting and possible related crimes remains ongoing, the Hamilton County Prosecuting Attorney's Office filed a petition Tuesday alleging that David J. Moore, age 13, is a delinquent child. Specifically, the petition alleges that Mr. Moore committed acts that would be felony or misdemeanor crimes if committed by an adult:

1. Attempted Murder, a Level 1 felony;
2. Attempted Murder, a Level 1 felony;
3. Aggravated Battery, a Level 3 felony;
4. Aggravated Battery, a Level 3 felony;
5. Battery by Means of a Deadly Weapon, a Level 5 felony;
6. Battery by Means of a Deadly Weapon, a Level 5 felony;

9. Dangerous Possession of a Firearm, a Class A misdemeanor;

10. Dangerous Possession of a Firearm, a Class A misdemeanor; and

11. Possession of a Knife on School Property, a Class B misdemeanor.

The fact that a child has been alleged to be delinquent is merely an accusation, and the child is presumed innocent until and unless proven delinquent (guilty).

Moore's initial hearing has been set for Monday, June 11, 2018 at 8:30 a.m. A trial date will be established during that hearing.

"As a Prosecuting Attorney I do not make the laws applicable to criminal or juvenile cases," said Buckingham. "My office works diligently to seek justice and enforce the laws as they exist. Under current Indiana law, this case is not eligible to be heard in adult court despite the heinous or aggravated nature of the alleged acts and despite the serious harm caused. The legislature's several statutory provisions address circumstances in which children may or must have their cases heard in adult court."

Hyatt planned for The Yard in Fishers

The Yard development in Fishers is set to have its groundbreaking ceremony this week, but based on a filing with the Fishers Planned Unit Development Committee, a six-story Hyatt hotel is planned for the southern section of that development.

The filing by Don Hospitality says the architectural design will be similar to the apartments and retail space in The Yard.

The Yard is a Thompson Thrift development of culinary retail spaces. A parking garage and apartment development have been added to the plans recently. The Fishers Redevelopment Commission approved a series of actions Monday tied to the additional construction.

Grand Park named top sports facility in nation

The REPORTER

The City of Westfield received honors Tuesday as one of the nation's top destinations in youth sports. Sports Destination Management, the leading publication for sports event planners and tournament directors, announced the winners of its 2018 Reader's Choice Awards. Westfield's Grand Park Sports Campus was named a "Favorite Outdoor Venue."

"When we dreamt of Grand Park, we did not want to create a good place for youth sports, we wanted to create the best facility possible," said Westfield Mayor Andy Cook. "This recognition is a great honor, but we see it every day. When a child from a local sports team or a visitor on a travel team gets to play in our world-class facility that is when we feel really good about what we have built and the experience we continue to develop. The fact that we have also created a strong economy for our community is a value add."

Grand Park, Westfield's 400-acre sports complex, features 31 multipurpose outdoor fields, 26 baseball/softball diamonds, more than 10 miles of paved trails and an indoor facility with three full-size fields, locker rooms and dining facilities. Grand Park brings in almost two million visitors a year and has attracted more than $500 million in economic

Carmel proposes 'No Knock' list

By BRENNA DONNELLY
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

A proposed ordinance in Carmel would create a "No Knock" list of homeowners in the city and fine solicitors who try to visit those homes.

City councilors discussed the measure Monday evening before sending the proposal to committee. Council Vice President Jeff Worrell explained the No Knock List is similar to the Do Not Call List that protects the rights of homeowners looking for privacy.

He said Carmel residents could add their names to the list and receive No Knock stickers to put in their windows or walkways. A full list of No Knock homes would also be available to solicitors, and they would be responsible for knowing who they can visit.

Worrell says the reason for the list isn't because Carmel residents are being bombarded with solicitors day and night. Instead, corporate counsel has told the city they were lax in balancing solicitors' and residents' rights.

"That's really all we're doing, is trying to avoid any potential for lawsuits," said Worrell. "Making sure solicitors still had

Noblesville starts new Pleasant Street project website

The REPORTER

As part of the public meeting for the Pleasant Street Corridor Project conducted by the City of Noblesville in December 2016, city officials committed to holding an additional information meeting earlier this year to update the public. While an additional public meeting is being planned for July, the city has created a new web page, cityofnoblesville.org/pleasantstreet, to update residents on the project's progress.

"Creating an east-west corridor by extending Pleasant Street is a top priority for the city to allow traffic to flow easier in Noblesville," said Mayor John Ditslear. "While the city is still evaluating alternatives with the alignment, we wanted to share information and answer questions we've heard about the project over the past year."

The website includes frequently asked questions, background on the project, the east-west travel study, a visual preference survey (open through Friday, June 29) and a project timeline. Throughout the project, this website will serve as a portal for information, updates and public meeting announcements.

Noblesville Kiwanis invites kids to 'Touch a Truck' this Saturday

The REPORTER

For the seventh year in a row, the local Noblesville Noon Kiwanis Club, in partnership with the Hamilton County Sheriff, is sponsoring the Touch A Truck event from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 9 at the Hamilton County Fairgrounds. The event is free and concessions will be available.

All kids are invited to come and sit in their favorite trucks, touch the controls, honk the horns, talk to the drivers and listen to their stories.

As an extra this year there will be a shredding truck from Ray's Trash Hauling for parents to get important documents shredded for only $5 per box or bag. The donation will go to the Kiwanis to use in programs for local kids.

cluding attempted murder, are known colloquially as "direct file" offenses because charges are filed directly into an adult court, but this provision applies only to children who are sixteen (16) years of age or older. See I.C. § 31-30-1-4(a).

Second, certain levels of felonies, including Level 1 felonies, are eligible for waiver, which is a process whereby the Court may permit the matter to be handled within the adult system, but this provision also applies only to children who are sixteen (16) years of age or older. See I.C. § 31-30-3-5.

Third, "heinous or aggravated acts" that would constitute felonies are eligible for waiver, but this provision applies only to children who are fourteen (14) years of age or older. See I.C. § 31-30-2(a).

Fourth, other felonies are eligible for waiver, but this provision applies only to children who are sixteen (16) years of age or older. See I.C. § 31-30-3-3.

Finally, an act constituting murder is eligible for waiver for children who are twelve (12) years of age or older, but this statute has been expressly interpreted to not include an act constituting attempted murder. See I.C. § 31-30-3-4; P.G. v. State, 669 N.E.2d 443 (Ind. Ct. App. 1996).

Under the above-referenced current laws, a child thirteen (13) years of age can only be waived to adult court if the attempt to murder an individual or individuals is actually successful. In this case, due to the heroic and extraordinary efforts of many people, including teachers, a school nurse, the Noblesville Police Department School Resource Officer, and many other first responders and medical providers, thankfully, Jason Seaman and Ella Whistler survived. This blessing results in this matter remaining in the juvenile justice system under our current laws, a result which will, I am sure, be very troubling and unsatisfying for many people.

NOTE: Under Indiana Code 31-39-2-8, the records of the juvenile court are available without a court order to the public, subject to certain restrictions. Accordingly, such documents may be obtained from the court.

Given the express constraints of statutes in juvenile cases and the Indiana Rules of Professional Conduct, no further statements or details concerning this matter will be provided beyond those permitted by statute and contained in this press release until disposition of this matter occurs.

Alumni take last tour of Hamilton Heights

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

Local storm-chaser Carl Willoughby graduated from Hamilton Heights High School in 1976, when the current middle school building was the home of the high school. Last Saturday, he and some of his classmates walked through their school for what could be the last time.

The current middle school, 420 W. North St., Arcadia, will soon be partially torn down, except for the gyms, offices and some classroom areas.

Willoughby and some of his friends talk on a Facebook livestream they call Nightcast Live (NCL), which Willoughby organizes. That is where they came up with the idea to walk through their old high school one last time.

"Randy Hill and I decided to go up to the school to see if he and I could go in one evening to take pictures and do a livestream on Facebook," Willoughby told The Reporter. "That night we had about 100 people who had gone to Heights watching. After that, we walked through the entire school for about an hour and a half."

Before leaving that night, Willoughby and Hill came up with the idea to try to get a group of alumni together to make a final tour of their school. When the pair pitched that idea to their social media group, they found a great deal of support.

"We had fun," Willoughby said when asked about Saturday. "There were a few of us who were starting to shed some tears because Heights means a lot to us. When we were in school the teachers believed in their students and made it fun to go to school."

Willoughby said Heights was a very inclusive school community and was ahead of its time. He told The Reporter every student in class would be included in activities and given the attention they needed to succeed, long before the "no student left behind" policies of recent years.

"It's the best school around," Willoughby said. "The teachers and coaches encouraged us to set our goals high because when you get out of school it's not going to be easy. We took that to heart."

According to Willoughby, several of his classmates have been able to take early retirement, crediting the lessons learned at Heights as part of the reason they have been successful in life.

The timing of Saturday's walkthrough was a bit challenging for several people because of the proximity to the recent holiday and graduation season. Since not everyone who wanted to take their "final tour" was able to do so, Willoughby is organizing a second chance to do so in early October. If you want to attend, you can contact Willoughby on Facebook at Facebook.com/carl.willoughby.52.

No KNOCK

the right to knock, but our citizens also had the right to be off the list and the solicitor would know that."

In federal law, "solicitor" covers anyone selling commercial goods, whether it's a business or a charity.

"If the Girl Scouts knock on my door selling cookies, they're obviously nonprofit. They would still fall under the rules," said Worrell. "So if I had the sticker, they would not be allowed."

The Girl Scouts of Central Indiana released the following statement on Tuesday regarding the proposal:

"Girl Scouts now have fabulous e-commerce tools to participate in the Girl Scout Cookie Program, the largest girl-led entrepreneurial program in the world. Digital Cookie provides an opportunity for girls to set up their own webpage to sell cookies to their friends and family. And girls now can take credit card payments at cookie booths in front of stores across central Indiana."

Actively participating in the Girl Scout Cookie Program gives girls the opportunity to not only learn the valuable life skills of goal setting, decision making, money management, people skills, and business ethics, but to gain confidence and make new lifelong friends. When you buy cookies from a Girl Scout, you are investing in so much more than a box of treats—you are investing in a girl's future, and the future leadership of our country."

The ordinance would still allow for political, religious and noncommercial goods visitation to homes and apartments in Carmel. For example, a high school sports team would be able to ask residents for donations door-to-door but would not be able to sell items for a fundraiser door-to-door.

Some Carmel residents said they wish they could choose which organizations could bypass the sticker. Others said they were all for the proposed ordinance.

"I would be more than happy to support it," said Al Temple, a 14-year Carmel resident. "It's privacy. In today's world, if you don't need anything and you can shop online or whatever, you don't need to see people. And you see your neighbors anyway."

Temple's neighbor, Jim Tank, said he would consider going on the list but says there's value in children soliciting door-to-door.

"We used it with our five daughters to train them to speak to adults, to remember their lines, to not be afraid of adults; it was a good training ground for them," he said. "[But] there's lots of ways to train your kids to not be afraid of adults."

Laurel Slade lives in a neighborhood with "No Soliciting" signs out front and said that hasn't stopped all solicitors from knocking on her door.

"I'm a little skeptical," she said. "We really didn't see a drop in solicitors until we gated the community."

The ordinance is sponsored by all seven Carmel city councilors and is likely to pass, according to Worrell. He said the details about the fine and potential enforcement will be discussed in-depth in the committee meeting on June 13.

If the three-person committee approves the measure, Worrell expects to see the ordinance take effect within 60 days.

Noblesville Schools Board member resigns

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced Monday that Donna Clark, a member of the Noblesville Schools Board of Trustees, is resigning her position due to a family relocation out of state.

Clark has served on the board for almost six years, being elected first in 2012 and again in 2016.

"This was a tough decision for my family and I'm sad to be leaving," said Clark. "This has been the most rewarding job I've ever had and I'm proud of the amazing staff at Noblesville Schools. Thank you for the honor to serve our schools and the Noblesville community. I will miss everyone and wish you all the best."

School board president Kevin Kalstad added, "The entire board wishes Donna and her family all the best in this exciting new venture and thanks her for her many years of service to Noblesville Schools."

Clark has been involved with numerous community organizations over her years in Noblesville including the Noblesville Parks Board,

Clark

Hamilton County Leadership Academy and Noblesville Youth Sports Alliance.

As a school board member, Clark has overseen the hiring of superintendent Dr. Beth Niedermeyer, the district's effective management of growth, enhanced workforce development initiatives and strengthened community outreach programming. Her last day on the board will be June 15.

As required by Indiana statute, the board has 30 days in which to appoint Clark's replacement. Interested and qualified members of the public that reside within the school corporation boundaries may submit their application at this link.

The deadline to apply is 5 p.m. on Friday, June 29. Interviews for the vacancy will occur from 3 to 6 p.m. on Wednesday, July 11 and the board will vote on the selected replacement on July 13.

More information, including the expected commitments for a school board member, can be found on the district website at noblesvilleschools.org.

Last summer, the city began evaluating the impacts that an improvement and extension of Pleasant Street would have from State Road 37 to Hague Road. The series of activities since then includes:

- A topographic and property survey to obtain physical data along the corridor and locates utilities in order to assess impacts of various alignments and cross section alignments.

- The design of preliminary alignment alternatives and configurations to assess impacts from Mercantile Boulevard to 11th Street; 11th Street through Eighth Street and over White River; and Cicero Creek to State Road 32.

- A Central Hub Sub-Area Plan to evaluate the economic, demographic and housing opportunities and analyze the potential impacts of any corridor project in relation to the Noblesville Comprehensive Master Plan. The Central Hub Sub-Area Plan, incorporated into the city's master plan, will help guide growth and (re)development along the Pleasant Street Corridor over the next 10 to 20 years.

- A Traffic Analysis and Travel Model and Mobility Model for affected east-west corridors.

- An Environmental Assessment is being completed from the corridor west of 16th Street that includes a review for the presence of historical properties; wetlands, floodplain and floodway and other naturally sensitive areas; evaluation of options; and other issues related to any potential affects the project may have in relation to the National Environmental Protection Act.

The data obtained by these surveys will be a valuable part of the public meeting. Additionally, they are necessary for potential federal or state funding for any portion of the project. The work conducted since the last public meeting also has provided the city with data that affirms the necessity of the Pleasant Street project:

- Recent traffic counts completed earlier this year by the city indicate that traffic on State Roads 32 and 38 (Conner Street) through town ranges from 10 percent to more than double the daily current traffic numbers posted on INDOT's traffic data website.

- The corridor study has shown that by design year 2045, intersection traffic along State Road 32 will be reduced by 5 to 30 percent, depending on location, with Pleasant Street and a new White River crossing fully built.

- Based on the results of the preliminary analysis, travel time along State Road 32 from Hague Road to State Road 37 would be reduced by up to 40 percent.

- The preliminary study indicates that by constructing Pleasant Street, intersection delay along State Road 32 will be reduced by approximately 20 percent in the morning peak and 35 percent during the afternoon peak.

- Aside from a "no-build" option, the only other feasible alternative to relieve congestion is to reconstruct Conner Street (SR 32) with added travel lanes, considering growth trends and the type of development occurring in the community.

CountryMark fuels freedom on June 22

The REPORTER

On Friday, June 22, 38 CountryMark fuel stations across the Midwest will host Fueling Freedom, an event dedicated to supporting local military families.

Between noon and 5 p.m., CountryMark and member owners will donate 50 cents for every gallon of fuel pumped to local National Guard Family Readiness Groups at participating Fueling Freedom retail sites.

"Fueling Freedom is our opportunity to pay tribute to the service, sacrifice and patriotism of local National Guard troops and their families," said Matt Smorch, CountryMark Vice President of Refining and Logistics. "We are proud to partner with CountryMark retail fuel stations throughout the state to give back to our military families and honor the sacrifice they make to serve and protect our country."

CountryMark initiated the Fueling Freedom fundraiser in 2008 as a way to support military families. In 2017, CountryMark raised more than $50,000 for local National Guard Family Readiness Groups. Many of the Family Readiness Groups use their funds to host military family summer picnics, Christmas parties, after-school programs, as well as to send packages to deployed local soldiers.

Ivy Tech top fundraiser nationwide

The REPORTER

The Ivy Tech Foundation has ranked as the top fundraiser among community college systems nationwide, according to a survey conducted by the Council for Aid to Education.

At $16.4 million, the amount raised by Ivy Tech exceeds the second place community college fundraiser by 43 percent, ac-ording to the 2017 Voluntary Support for Education (VSE) survey. This is the ninth consecutive year that Ivy Tech has taken the number one spot on the list. Approximately 90 percent of the funds raised are used for scholarships, instructional equipment and technology, and educational programs, meaning that millions of dollars are invested each year to directly enhance student success.

"Our donors are so generous that we lead the country as the number one community college foundation," said John M. Murphy, Ivy Tech Foundation president.

Ivy Tech Kokomo student Kayla Foor is on track to graduate with a degree in business administration and a certificate in human resources. Thanks to the generosity of donors during her time at Ivy Tech, she took advantage of scholarships to help her achieve her academic goals. She struggled after being out of school for five years. When she buckled down, she was able to earn straight A's and make the Dean's List. This summer she is interning as a human resources clerk at City Hall in Kokomo. Upon graduation, she plans to transfer to IU Kokomo to earn her bachelor's degree in business administration.

"I am working towards my educational goals entirely on my own and Ivy Tech was not only affordable but also the best fit for me and how I learn," said Foor. "Without scholarships and support from generous donors, I would not be able to make my dreams a reality and further my education as an adult student."

According to VSE, giving to colleges increased by 6.3 percent in 2017. Colleges and universities raised $43.6 billion in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2017. This is the highest fundraising total recorded in the survey's 60-year history.

Sunday's rural Fishers fire deemed suspicious

The REPORTER

Investigators with the Fishers Fire Department are investigating a fire that occurred at an unoccupied residence near 106th Street and Hague Road.

The fire, described as "suspicious," started Sunday evening.

Firefighters reportedly had a difficult time accessing the fire due an overgrown lane and a bridge being gone leading to the residence.

Fire officials indicated nearly 1,000 feet of hose had to be dragged through a woods to access the fire. Smoke from the fire could be seen as far away as Castleton.

Because this area is not within the City of Fishers, the Hamilton County Sheriff's Department is assisting in the investigation.

Carmel updates 2018 construction schedule

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel will add eight more roundabouts, a handful of multi-use paths and a much wider Monon Greenway and Plaza in the heart of Midtown as the 2018 construction season kicks into high gear. The City's Department of Engineering has released an updated 2018 schedule that details the numerous projects that are currently underway or scheduled to start this summer and fall.

The projects are part of the City's aggressive approach to improve traffic flow, reduce accidents for motorists and boost safety for bicyclists and pedestrians throughout the City. Over the past two decades, the City's strategy of adding roundabouts has substantially reduced the number of fatal and personal-injury accidents as well as the overall accident rate in the City.

The projects include ongoing work on the expanded Monon Greenway and Midtown Plaza, the Range Line Road improvement projects, several multi-purpose path projects and infrastructure improvements, along with new roundabouts at 96th Street & Hazel Dell Parkway, 96th Street & Priority Way, 96th Street & Delegates

Boys golf sectionals

Noblesville team, Tigers' Robertson are winners

By RICHIE HALL
The good thing about high school golf is that you never know who will pick things up on any given day.

That was the case for Noblesville's boys golf team, which won its third consecutive sectional championship Monday at Purgatory Golf Club. The sectional host Millers won with a score of 308 on a day when the temperatures were a little cooler, but the air was a little windy.

Fishers placed second with a 312 and claimed the overall medalist, Bryce Robertson. Hamilton Southeastern took third with a 316. All three schools qualified for the Muncie Central regional, which takes place Thursday at the Players Club in Yorktown.

Clay Merchant led the way for Noblesville with a 72. Kyle Claussen helped out the Millers with a solid score of 76. Jacob Deakayne carded a 77.

"Always happy that we can come out with a win," said Noblesville coach Gary Sewell. "It was good to see that we had Kyle Claussen come through today and pick us up a little bit. He's been playing well lately."

"It was just a total team effort when you come out here. These are rough conditions. The wind was extremely brutal at the start of the round. And we righted the ship a little bit. It was good that we could come out with a win."

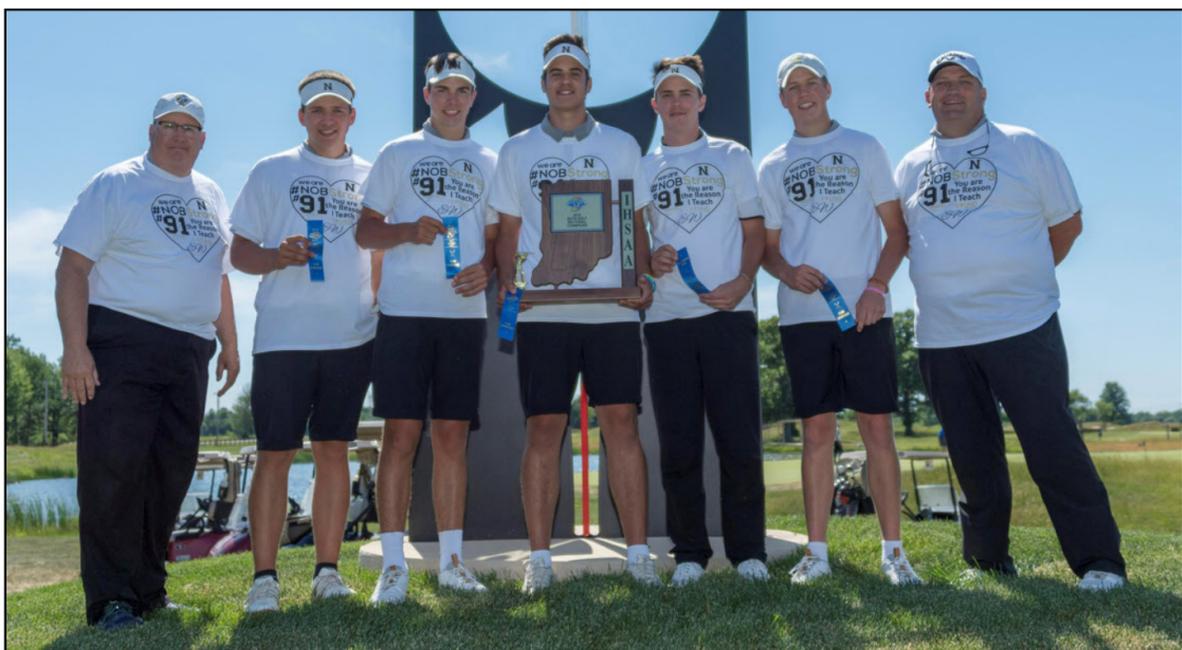

The sectional victory was the 16th overall for the Millers. It also marked the third time that the school won three straight titles. Noblesville won three in a row in 1989-90-91, then put together a four-year streak in 1997-98-99-2000.

Robertson's score of 71 led the way for the Tigers, who advanced to the regional for the fourth year in a row. Robertson is the second individual medalist for Fishers. The first was Matt Lawrence, who won in 2007 at the end of Fishers' first school year since being re-opened.

"I played really good," said Robertson. "It was hard fighting through the wind, but I grinded and got it done."

Caleb Bopp was next in line for the Tigers with a 79.

"I was really proud of our kids," said

The Noblesville boys golf team won its third consecutive sectional championship Monday at Purgatory Golf Club. The Millers were one of three Hamilton County teams to advance to Thursday's regional at the Players Club in Yorktown.

Fishers coach Keith Andrews. "They battled the conditions. It wasn't an easy golf course today. We played out here Thursday and played in a three-way with HSE and Noblesville. The course just played a little bit softer and today was a lot harder."

Andrews said the wind did make conditions more difficult, but credited his kids with battling.

"Some of them didn't play as well as they wanted to, but overall as a team, we played well enough to be able to advance," said Andrews.

The Royals were led by Daivic Akala with a 75, while Sam Smith scored 79.

"At the end of the day, it's survive and advance and move on," said Southeastern coach David Young. "And that's what this part of the year is about. It's about getting good experience through the year to put yourself in this position that it shouldn't really be too much of a question about whether you'll get out. It's a matter of which place you'll be at."

The Royals produced consistent scores, and while Young said they were "a little bit higher than our normal," but said that 316 was enough to get the job done.

Hamilton Heights finished sixth with a score of 375. Price Knowles was the Huskies' low man with a 91.

PETE SMITH ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT

Long-time boys basketball coach Pete Smith announced on Tuesday that he is retiring. Smith coached at Noblesville and Carmel high schools before starting the Guerin Catholic program, eventually leading the Golden Eagles to two Class 3A state championships. Read more about this story on Page 10.

Coached at NHS and Carmel, led Guerin Catholic to state titles...

Pete Smith announces retirement

The Dean of Hamilton County basketball coaches has retired. Pete Smith, who started the Guerin Catholic Basketball Program in 2004 and also served as varsity basketball coach at both Noblesville and Carmel high schools in the 1990s, told his players of his retirement Tuesday morning after their Open Gym workout.

Smith led the Golden Eagles into varsity basketball competition in the 2006-2007 with a senior-less team. That squad finished the season with a 9-13 record and two-point loss in the sectional championship game to Park Tudor. Since then the Golden Eagles have run off 11 straight winning seasons. Two of Smith's squads won Class 3A state championships in 2012 and 2015. Overall the school compiled a 206-101 record under his tutelage.

Spending 33 years in education, Smith retired in May of 2016 and the next month started working in business development with an engineering firm. Last month he accepted a board of directors' position with a new bank coming to Hamilton County.

"I've learned that coaching, for me, was part of those 33 years and a reason also that I taught," said Smith. "Coaching was the last part of my day as a teacher all those years, and I just haven't had the same passion for coaching since I left the classroom. After the '16-'17 season I season struggled with whether I wanted to coach anymore or not, but I decided to coach this past season and I was glad I did with the great bunch of seniors we had. Injuries threw a wrench into what we thought could be a nice run tournament-time, but that's basketball."

Michael Milcoff wins Sheridan Horseshoe League open tournament

The Sheridan Horseshoe League held its first open tournament of the season this past weekend.

Several pitchers from central Indiana showed up at the courts in Biddle's Memorial Park. The league ran two sessions in order to accommodate all pitchers. Jeff Ogle of Noblesville had a commanding lead of 15 points after game one. After the second game Jeff expanded his lead to 19 points.

Michael Milcoff of Noblesville, who had been trailing Jeff after the first two games, cut the lead to 10 points. The fourth game had Michael taking the lead by one point. The fifth and final game was exciting as the two leaders battled back and forth before Michael pulled out the win late in the game.

Sheridan's next tournament will be sponsored by O'Reilly Auto Parts and will be open to the public. The event will take place on Saturday, July 7.

Here are the top three finishers; all were from Noblesville:

	Total Actual	Total Ringers	Handicap Score
1st Michael Milcoff	193	26	573
2nd Jeff Ogle	256	50	566
3rd Kyle Wethington	233	33	563

Colts teach, play at youth skills camp in Westfield

WISH-TV
 June has finally arrived, meaning the Indianapolis Colts have nearly wrapped up their offseason program. The team will hold its mandatory mini-camp in 10 days. Just because players have workouts doesn't mean they're taking a break from giving back to the community. Tight end Jack Doyle and linebacker John Simon represented the team at its annual youth skills camp. Kids had the opportunity to run through drills and learn about safety on both sides of the ball. The event took place at Grand Park, the new home of Colts training camp. Both Doyle and Simon say they love any chance they have to give back to the community.
