Kiser donates $2,500 to Hamilton County 4-H

The REPORTER

Hamilton County farmer Kevin Kiser directed a $2,500 donation to Hamilton County 4-H as part of the America's Farmers Grow Communities program, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund. As part of their mission Hamilton County 4-H will use the funds for 4-H educational programs.

"4-H members are two times more likely to participate in science programs outside of school. Donations like this enable us to continue to reach new 4-H audiences," said Hamilton County 4-H Youth Development Extension Educator Kathleen Bohde. "Helping youth see that science, especially agriculture science, is all around them every day is important for future career development in STEM fields. These funds will help our 4-H program expand and grow."

Since the program began in 2010, Grow Communities has partnered with farmers to support non-profit organizations in their local communities. The program has given more than $29 million to farming communities since its inception, including more than $3 million in 2018. Each year, farmers enter for a chance to direct a $2,500 donation to a non-profit they care about in their community. The organizations reflect the makeup and character of rural America, including emergency response organizations, schools, youth agriculture programs, food banks and many others.

"Farmers play a pivotal role in rural communities, and through their commitment to the Grow Communities program, we are able to provide the monetary support these non-profit organizations need to make an impact," said Monsanto Fund president Al Mitchell. "We're proud to play a part in helping these rural communities grow and thrive."

To see if a non-profit in your local community is a 2018 America's Farmers Grow Communities recipient, visit GrowCommunities.com. You can also learn more about the Grow Communities program by checking out Facebook.com/AmericasFarmers.

• Each year, the America's Farmers Grow Communities program partners with local farmers to provide grants to local non-profits.

• Grow Communities, which is sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, provides farmers the opportunity to support and give back to nonprofit organizations they care about in their local communities by enrolling for a chance to direct a $2,500 donation to a non-profit of their choice.

• Since 2010, the Grow Communities program has given more than $29 million to non-profits across rural America.

Open seats likely in this year's HSE School Board election

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

This is an even-numbered year with no presidential election, so it is called an "off-year" election by national pundits. There is a U.S. Senate race in Indiana receiving national attention and a few other statewide races.

There are a number of local elections to be decided in November.

But there is one election where you do not see the identification of the candidates as Republicans or Democrats. In Indiana, school board elections are nonpartisan. It is possible locally that a candidate may be known as a supporter in a particular political party, but the election itself is not to be partisan.

The Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) School Corporation takes in all of the City of Fishers, plus unincorporated areas of Fall Creek and Delaware townships. All of Wayne Township is also part of HSE Schools.

HSE Schools are governed by a seven-member school board. The board members are elected to four-year terms. Elections are staggered and held every two years.

In 2016, HSE had what is called an at-large election. There are three races, with each candidate required to reside within her/his township (Fall Creek, Delaware or Wayne) but the entire school district votes on all three township races. Mike

SERVE Noblesville adds Cultural Fair to annual community service activities

The REPORTER

SERVE Noblesville is collaborating with the city's newly-formed Community Diversity Committee to host a Cultural Fair on the Courthouse Square in downtown Noblesville. The event is scheduled for 6 to 9 p.m. on Friday, June 29, during SERVE's sixth annual volunteer blitz.

The new event promises to showcase food, music and other traditions from more than a half dozen different regions, including Puerto Rico, Kenya, Venezuela, Belgium and West Africa. Representatives of the various cultures will have booths on the Square, where they will greet guests and share information about their countries of origin.

Games and a photo booth also are planned, and attendees will receive guidance on how to interact and learn from those who are perceived to be "different."

"The hope is to raise awareness about the variety of neighbors we have living in our community that are from various countries and cultures," said Patrick Propst, SERVE Noblesville chairman and the lead pastor at Faith Community Church. "We want to help improve inclusion in our community."

Noblesville business owner Emily Awour Wasonga, who grew up in Kenya and Botswana before moving to Indiana in 2004, is helping to organize the inaugural Cultural Fair. She shared her favorite Mother Teresa quote to explain why: "Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow has not come. We have only today. Let us begin."

"We have to start somewhere," Wasonga said.

This is SERVE Noblesville's sixth year of "connecting compassionate neighbors." Organizers expect to mobilize more than 800 volunteers June 27-30, tackling more than 60 projects in and around Noblesville. Service projects run the gamut from assembling nutritional meals for food pantries to completing critical home repairs – and pretty much everything in between.

Although pre-registration is preferred, volunteers can sign up during SERVE Noblesville. Volunteers' days begin at 8 a.m. at the Hamilton County Fairgrounds, and they are dispatched to projects from there. Work typically wraps up by 4 p.m. each day.

Hultgren named Fishers Deputy Mayor of Administration

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Fishers Mayor Scott Fadness announced at Monday night's City Council meeting that Elliott Hultgren has been appointed as Fishers Deputy Mayor of Administration.

Hultgren has been the fleet director for the city. He recently served a stint in Africa as a member of the armed forces.

In his new role as a deputy mayor he will head-up the city's human resources department, information technology, business solutions and the controller's office.

"All of the departments that don't always get a lot of air time," Fadness said, "but are critical for the operations of our internal organization. We're excited to have him in a leadership role."

Learn about amateur radio this weekend

The REPORTER

From 2 p.m. on Saturday, June 23 through 2 p.m. on Sunday, June 24, the Hamilton County RACES Team will participate in the 85th Annual Field Day. According to arrrl.org/field-day, more than 40,000 licensed amateur radio operators will participate in the event.

Hamilton County RACES will set up radios and antennas for the public to learn how amateur radio works. The event will take place in the Hamilton County Sheriff's Department parking lot at 18100 Cumberland Road, Noblesville.

Countless disasters from the devastating earthquakes in Haiti, Hurricane Katrina, and most recently, the hurricanes that impacted Puerto Rico have all relied upon amateur radio operators to communicate when many other systems did not work. The public is encouraged to stop by to learn more about how RACES and others communicate in the county and across the globe.

HSE SCHOOL BOARD

Bottom won the Fall Creek Township seat in 2016, Amanda Shera was the winner in Delaware Township and Sylvia Shepler won re-election in Wayne Township.

In 2018, four board seats are up for grabs, but the election process is a little different. Each candidate must live within her/his district and only the voters within the district cast a ballot for their school board member.

In District 1, Matt Burke is the incumbent but cannot run again in that district because he has moved since the 2014 election. But Mr. Burke told me days ago that he is leaning heavily toward not running in his new district (District 4).

John DeLucia is finishing up his second term in District 2 and has been saying for some time he will not run for a third term.

In District 3, Michelle Fullhart is the only incumbent clearly gearing-up for a re-election campaign.

In District 4, Terry Tolle informed me he will not seek re-election.

Candidates do not officially begin filing for office at the Hamilton County Election Office, located in Noblesville, until Wednesday, July 25. The deadline to file your candidacy is noon, Friday, Aug. 24.

So, why am I writing about this so early? I am letting everyone in the local community know that there will likely to be at least two open seats, possibly as many as three open seats, in this year's HSE School Board election.

If you have a desire to serve your local community in a nonpartisan but very important way, consider running for the local school board. After covering school boards off-and-on since the mid-1970s, I won't sugarcoat this challenge ... it is a tough job that will demand a lot of your time. But it is important work that will have a major impact on your local schools.

If you have an inclination to become a candidate, talk to one or more of the current board members, or request a meeting with HSE School Superintendent Allen Bourff. There are technicalities in becoming a candidate and handling all the reports required, but there are people willing to assist with that.

When you talk with real estate agents locally, and ask them what attracts home buyers to the Fishers area, most of them will tell you it is the solid reputation of HSE Schools. Having a school system with prestige impacts not just the students, but has a positive impact on the quality of the community overall. It also keeps property values high.

So, if you are interested, or know someone that may be a good candidate, consider the Hamilton Southeastern School Board in the 2018 election. Now is the time to start your campaign.

'Pack the Cruiser' benefits youth and their families

The REPORTER

A joint Pack the Cruiser event sponsored by the Carmel Youth Assistance Program (CYAP) in partnership with the Carmel Police Department raised more than 4,420 pounds of food and $2,974 in cash and grocery gift cards at two Kroger locations on Saturday, June 2. The food and proceeds will benefit the Carmel Summer Lunch Program. Other partners included Kroger, Carmel Clay Schools, Orchard Park Presbyterian Church, OLMC Merciful HELP Center, St. Christopher's Episcopal Church, Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank and the Rotary Club of Carmel.

"The response from the Carmel community while people were out shopping was wonderful. We are amazed by the amount of donations received through the event," said Guenter Haines, president of CYAP. "In addition, the Carmel Police Department really outdid themselves while volunteering their time at the event. The interaction with the community and eagerness to assist with loading the vehicles all while stopping to take pictures with members from the community was invaluable."

Members from CYAP organized volunteers, many who were staff from Carmel Clay Schools, at a food-sorting event at Carmel High School on the following Monday, June 4. Volunteers weighed, sorted and packed food items to be distributed to local youth via partnering organizations at the OLMC Merciful H.E.L.P. Center, Orchard Park Presbyterian Church, and St. Christopher's Episcopal Church.

"We were truly amazed that the quick and hard-working volunteers sorted and packed 4,420 pounds of food in 70 minutes. Food insecurity for children here in Carmel is not something that we want to think about, but it is a fact of life. There are more than 1,000 children in Carmel Clay Schools that depend on free breakfast and lunch five days a week at school," said Colleen Scheu, Intervention Advocate for the CYAP. "Many also receive weekend food assistance during the school year; however these children may be going hungry when they are out of school for the summer."

The Carmel community is coming together to address this problem through the CYAP's Carmel Summer Lunch Program. The program provides a sack of nutritious ingredients to make each child five healthy breakfasts and lunches each of the 11 weeks of summer break. As of today there are 205 Carmel children enrolled in the program.

If you would like to make a donation, grocery gift cards or checks (clearly labeled with 'Summer Meals Program' in the memo line) may be mailed to Carmel Youth Assistance Program at 515 E. Main St., Suite 127, Carmel, IN, 46032. Donations will be collected throughout the summer.

The Pack the Cruiser event started in Fishers in the summer of 2017 and it had such a big impact, the police departments throughout Hamilton County wanted to become involved. This year, 23,475 pounds of food and $12,527 in donations were collected throughout communities in Hamilton County.

George Kehl honored for 40 years of service to City of Fishers

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

George Kehl essentially created the Police Department in Fishers. Once he retired as Police Chief, he never missed a step, moving to work on inventory at the Department of Public Works (DPW).

Eric Pethel, Director of Public Works, joked that Kehl has "a PhD in curmudgeon," but also praised the former chief for his long service in law enforcement and his work at DPW.

Pethel awarded George Kehl his 40-year Service Award with the City of Fishers. Kehl didn't say much when it was his turn to speak, just talking about the challenges of moving inventory to the new DPW building in the coming months.

There were other service awards handed out during Monday's City Council session. Scott Kehl (George Kehl's nephew) and Mike Johnson from the Fishers Police Department received 25-year service awards. Barb Hathaway, a civilian employee of the Fishers Fire Department, received a 20-year service award.

Police Chief Mitch Thompson swore-in new Officer Ryan McKalip.

Author Marc Mason to visit Cicero library

The REPORTER

Author Marc Mason will return to his hometown library for a book reading and signing on Saturday, June 23. The Hamilton Heights High School graduate will share his stories at 1 p.m. in the Hamilton North Public Library—Cicero. Young adults and adults, especially, are invited to visit with Mason and have books signed during the author talk.

Mason

His books, often based on graphic novels, include Schism: Out of the Shadows, The Joker's Advocate, and You'll Never Take Me Alive: Ruminations on Heroes and Villains, which are available for checkout from HNPL—Cicero. These books and others of his are available for purchase through online outlets, as well as brick and mortar stores.

He also plans to talk about various creative outlets via digital technology that make it possible for artists to accomplish their dreams. It's important to Mason to encourage young people to pursue their creative interests and show them how easy it is to do.

Mason occasionally returns to the area to visit family and to do readings and signings. Though the author and Arizona State University educator doesn't get back to Indiana often, when he does: "I'm filled with a great fondness for the place where I grew up."

Republicans knock on over 15,000 doors for National Day of Action

The REPORTER

On Saturday, June 18, the Republican National Committee in conjunction with the Indiana Republican Party knocked on over 15,000 doors statewide for the fourth National Day of Action (NDOA) of the 2018 election cycle. With 120 NDOA participants in attendance and 19 Republican Leadership Initiative (RLI) trainings across the state, Republicans continue to build off of the success of past NDOA's to continue an aggressive get-out-the-vote strategy for the 2018 midterm elections.

"For Indiana Republicans to hit 15,000 doors in a single day during the RNC's National Day of Action shows how dedicated we are to defying history and winning up-and-down the ballot in November in the Hoosier state," said Michael Joyce, the RNC's Indiana Communications Director. "Whether you look at our data-driven ground game or our data, Hoosier Republican candidates have been given the upper-hand through our efforts."

The RNC continues to boast a significant political advantage from record breaking fundraising hauls, a $210 million investment into their data, and the record 500 staff on the ground nationwide. In Indiana, Joyce says that the RNC staff has already trained over 800 RLI fellows across the state, a signal that the RLI program continues to be a success.

"This speaks volumes about the team we have in place here in Indiana. We continue to build off of each National Day of Action. Our voter contact numbers continue to grow and we continue to train more RLI fellows, who are then able to recruit volunteers from their local communities to make our ground game all the more successful."

Fishers Police arrest five for thefts from vehicles

The REPORTER

Early Saturday morning, Fishers police arrested five people suspected of stealing property from vehicles in the Berkley Grove Neighborhood (106th Street and Hague Road).

Shortly before 5 a.m. on Saturday morning, a Fishers police officer was patrolling in the 10600 block of Tarragon Court. The officer observed four individuals dressed entirely in black. The individuals observed the officer and fled. The officer gave chase. Additional officers quickly established a perimeter and began searching for the suspects.

Within a few minutes an officer observed a dark SUV exiting the neighborhood. The officer initiated a traffic stop. The SUV continued for a short distance before stopping. As the officer approached the driver's side he could see four passengers laying in the car attempting to hide. All five occupants were ordered to exit the SUV. The suspects complied and were immediately detained.

Inside the SUV officers located several personal items belonging to various individuals in Fishers, Edgewood and Anderson. Fishers police contacted the Anderson and Edgewood Police Departments and confirmed multiple thefts from vehicles had taken place earlier that evening in their jurisdictions. The victims were notified, and their property was returned. All five suspects were arrested without incident.

What to know when shopping for a wedding gift

StatePoint

If your fridge is filled with save-the-dates and wedding invitations, you're inevitably facing the daunting question: What to give?

In taking a look at the couple's registry, you may have been surprised by some of the items listed.

While in the past, you probably only found traditional household items like linens and cookware, these days, you can expect to see the latest home technologies, too. From connected doorbells and thermostats, to smart showers, these are the items that many of today's millennials would want, suggests a new study.

Leading faucet manufacturer, Moen, commissioned a survey conducted online by Harris Poll in March 2018, which investigated what smart products would top the list when it comes to millennial (ages 18-34 at the time of the survey) wedding registries, and how this tech-savvy generation appear to be reinventing the process of registering. The survey found that 42 percent of millennials would want to include smart home products on their registry.

Millennials are bucking several age-old gifting beliefs, and while traditionalists may find these new registry customs strange, guests should consider selecting one of the high-tech items on a millennial couple's list if they want their gift to stand out.

Sobriety checkpoint coming this weekend

The REPORTER

A sobriety checkpoint will be conducted on the night of Saturday, June 23 and the early hours of Sunday, June 24.

Impaired driving is one of our nation's most frequently committed violent crimes. Just in Indiana in 2014, alcohol-related traffic crashes killed 101 people, accounting for approximately 13 percent of all fatal crashes, and injured another 1,880 people.

About 750 people are convicted of an impaired driving offense annually in Hamilton County alone, and nearly 100 of those are repeat offenders. In 2015 in Hamilton County, for example, the State filed 732 cases of operating while intoxicated. Of these, 106 drivers had prior convictions for operating while intoxicated within the last five years.

To combat this crime, the Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership will be setting up sobriety checkpoints around Hamilton County to aggressively deter, detect, and arrest those drivers who make the decision to drive impaired. Sobriety checkpoints have proven successful in both raising awareness of impaired driving and reducing the likelihood of a person driving after they have been drinking.

In order to raise awareness of the prevalence of impaired driving in our community and the efforts of the Partnership to combat the crime, the Partnership maintains a webpage at hamiltoncounty.in.gov/503.

At a sobriety checkpoint, law enforcement of-icers evaluate drivers for signs of alcohol or drug impairment at a specified point along the roadway, often depending upon the support of local property owners for the use of appropriate land. Checkpoint sites are selected based upon analysis of available crash and impaired driving arrest data and a consideration of officer safety.

Vehicles are stopped in a specific sequence, such as every other vehicle, every third vehicle, every fourth vehicle or by stopping three, four, or five cars in succession and allowing other traffic to proceed while checking the stopped vehicles. The planned sequence in which vehicles are stopped depends on the number of officers available to staff the checkpoint, traffic congestion, and other safety concerns.

Upon making contact with the driver, the officer advises them that they've been stopped at an HCTSP sobriety checkpoint and asks for the driver's license and the vehicle's registration. If, in the course of the contact, the officer detects that alcohol may be involved and that the driver may be impaired or if some other issue arises, then the vehicle is directed into a pull-off area for further investigation. Further investigation may involve the Standardized Field Sobriety Tests (SFSTs).

On the other hand, if all looks right during the initial contact, the driver is often on his or her way in less than two minutes.

Officers staffing the sobriety checkpoints work on an overtime basis paid by grant funds from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration through the Indiana Governor's Council on Impaired and Dangerous Driving.

Sobriety checkpoints are legal in 39 states, including Indiana, and the District of Columbia. In 1990, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that, if conducted properly, sobriety checkpoints do not constitute an illegal search and seizure. In the 2002 case of State v. Gerschoffer, the Indiana Supreme Court found that sobriety checkpoints are constitutional when conducted properly. Members of the Hamilton County Prosecuting Attorney's Office work with the Partnership to ensure that each checkpoint meets constitutional requirements.

Should you have any questions regarding these sobriety checkpoints, please contact Chief Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Andre Miksha at 317-776-8595.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.

Sheridan Horseshoe League...

Dwigans combo puts Price back on top

The last three weeks have found JBS United and Price Heating exchanging the top spot in the Sheridan Horseshoe League.

This week, those two teams battled each other for the top position. JBS United pitchers Sam Gibbons and Richard Reddick had good nights at the horseshoe courts but not good enough to defeat the mother and son combo of Susan and Mitch Dwigans, putting Price Heating on top again.

Third-place Deem will compete against JBS during the sixth week in hopes of moving into second place. The seventh week is a position night the top teams will battle it out for first half honors. The league leader after seven weeks is guaranteed a place in the final playoff for the league championship.

Noblesville Swim Club Senior Trip

After tough workout, team bonds at the beach

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles by Noblesville Swim Club seniors Casey Akers and Jack Wolfred about the club's Senior Trip to Coronado, Calif.

Welcome to day three on Coronado Island in California! Today was the hardest day of training yet and it tested not only our mental toughness but our physical toughness as well.

Our morning started out early as we headed over to the beach for a dry land workout. This workout turned to be tough as we ran and crawled across the sand of the beach. We also did our infamous five-minute leg lift where only a few swimmers out of the group were able to complete. At the end of this beach workout, which had drained our energy, we had to run about a mile to the pool for a quick swim workout. Although the swim workout was short and sweet we still were able to get even more work in.

After the exhausting morning practice we headed to the beach for around an hour, where we had some good quality time with the team. Then we came back for some sandwiches for lunch and some more free time to rest at the hotel. Afternoon practice today turned out to be the hardest challenge for many of us this week. The distance group did 5 x 800 individual medleys which pushed many, including Casey and I, to our limits. The mid-distance group had similar challenges with a set of fast 100's and 50's off the blocks for time. After this practice many of us were completely out of energy. We came back to the hotel to rest up and get ready for dinner.

Before dinner we discussed the word for today, DEVOTION, which meant giving all you have to make sure you reach your personal goals. We also had a chance to get out any leftover feelings regarding the incident that happened at Noblesville West Middle School a few weeks ago. After the great talk we had some burgers and grilled chicken courtesy of our amazing caterer Bob.

It was after this amazing dinner that we learned we had a picture scavenger hunt to complete in our teams. We had to go around the island in our groups and take pictures of certain given themes in order to win the competition. At the end, the turquoise team won and Bret made an amazing video that combined all the pictures we took. Tomorrow we prepare for our last practice in the morning and our excursion in the afternoon where some will be visiting the San Diego Zoo, or the famous

USS Midway that is docked of the shore of San Diego. excursions and have their last day of training before the meet.

TOMORROW: The swimmers go on their Hamilton Heights' Baworth among them...

K-Town Elite Club qualifies several for Region 7 Junior Olympics Championship

Several more K-Town Elite Club members' season will continue through the championship season after their performances on Sunday's second day of competition at Ball State University for the USA Track-and-Field Junior Olympics.

Led by Chase Hayes, who also qualified Saturday, Hayes placed fourth in the 200 dash, (28.91 seconds) and third in the long jump, (14 feet, 1 inch) in the 13-14 age group. In the 17-18 age group, Johannah Hetzner placed eighth in the 400-meter dash; Hamilton Heights' Bailey Haworth placed fifth in the 100-meter hurdles (17.05 seconds), and La'Bria Williams placed fifth in the long jump, (13 feet, 11 inches) and in the 8-and-under group, Verity Bishop, age 6, placed third in the 1500-meter run.

"We got everyone out and on to the next round," said Club Coach K. O. Jackson. It's too hot out here to compete and not focusing on getting to the next round and continue advancing and or achieving personal records. That's always the plan and goal."

The top eight performances qualifies athletes to the USATF Region 7 JO Championship, which takes place July 5-8 at Ball State. A top five performance at that meet would qualify athletes to the USATF JO Nationals, set for July 23-29 at North Carolina A&T in Greensboro, N.C.

Girls State Junior Championship...

Bruch, Gilrowski in top 10 after first two rounds

School's out for the summer, which means the golf courses are full of the best young talent in the state.

That's the case this week at the Country Club of Terre Haute, which is hosting the Girls State Junior Championship. The first two rounds of the 54-hole tournament are already in the books, with the third round taking place today.

Westfield junior-to-be Jocelyn Bruch is currently in third place with a score of 149. Bruch shot a one-over par 73 for her second round on Wednesday. Overall, she is one shot behind the co-leaders: Zionville's Annabelle Pancake and Valparaiso's Wynne Aldrich both have scores of 148.

Gabriella Gilrowski, a junior-to-be at Guerin Catholic is tied for 10th place with a 156.

Both Bruch and Gilrowski placed in the top 10 at the Girls Indiana PGA Junior Championship, which took place June 7 and 8 at Honeywell Golf Course in Wabash. Bruch finished with a two-day score of 150 (six-over par), while Gilrowski scored a 154.
