Is a Local Income Tax for 911 in our future?

Is a new public safety local income tax in our future? It is not certain, but there is talk among political leaders that such a tax might be the answer to funding the very important and expensive 911 communications operation.

Most folks probably don't pay a great deal of attention to how 911 is funded. Currently the countywide operation, housed at the county sheriff's department, costs about $9.2 million per year, according to county auditor's records. About $3.6 million of that comes from a user tax levied on telephone subscribers. The other $5.6 million is paid by the cities of Noblesville, Carmel, Westfield, Fishers and county government.

County officials have been seeking to have the other smaller communities in Adams, Jackson, White River and Wayne townships pay their shares of the expense. For budget year 2019 there has been no agreement reached. For next year only county commissioners are asking only a token amount of 10 percent of a smaller units' obligation in 2019.

Officials from the City of Westfield, developers and Pro X representatives broke ground last week on a new $5 million indoor athletic training facility located in Grand Park. Training facility breaks ground at Grand Park

The REPORTER

Westfield Mayor Andy Cook joined other city leaders and owners of Pro X Athlete Development last Wednesday to break ground on the latest business to make Grand Park its home. The $5 million Pro X facility is scheduled to open in early 2019.

"Our vision for Grand Park was that it be an economic driver for Westfield." said Cook. "Seeing a private company like Pro X locate here is evidence that our vision for this campus is on track. It is the beginning of Grand Park's future in the 'business of sports."

"The Pro X team is thrilled that we get an opportunity to bring our training experience and expertise to the great city of Westfield and Grand Park," said Joe Thatcher, Pro X President. "We feel our presence on the campus will not only compliment what has been created, but also be a catalyst for future growth. Grand Park affords so many athletes the opportunity to compete and showcase their talents on a grand scale and our goal is help these same athletes be the best that they can be."

Artistic rendering provided

The 60,000-square foot facility will be located west of the Grand Park Events Center and will provide the unique integration of all facets of an athlete's development: Physical training, rehab, injury prevention and sport-specific instruction.

The Pro X mission is to expose athletes of all sports, ages and skill levels to innovative and high-level training. The multi-sport training facility will feature a 3,000-square foot weight room, 38,000-square feet of open turf (enough for two full-sized baseball diamonds), 22 batting cages, two full swing golf simulators and a fully operational sports rehab/ physical therapy office.

The Pro X business concept and facility were developed and designed by former professional athletes - including former Indianapolis Colts players Justin Snow, Curtis Painter and Dan Muir – and replicates the integrated and customized care pro athletes receive on a daily basis. Pro X is dedicated to helping young athletes in the journey to achieve their full potential. For more go to proxathlete.com.

But, for the following year something new is expected to be implemented. And, the speculation centers around an increase in the countywide Local Income Tax. State law allows one quarter of one percent of individual income to be levied for public safety purposes.

In Hamilton County that would raise about $35 million. That figure is far in excess of the current 911 annual costs, so officials could be expected to reduce the $35 million potential collection to current and then subsequent inevitably rising needs of the 911 communications operation.

All those figures may sound confusing, but we can assume local officials and their advisers will calculate needs and wants in the coming year if the political climate appears to allow proceeding.

At present the Local Income Tax of one percent on individual income is the saving grace for local government, bringing in more than $140 million countywide for the participating units of government. Because average county incomes are high, the income tax now exceeds the property tax in public revenue.

One might think that within all that money, the $5.6 million needed for 911 could somehow be found. We will have to wait and see, but it is a matter that bears watching because it seems all taxes start out small.

Support Noblesville's Fourth of July festivities with collectible buttons

The REPORTER

The Fourth of July Planning Committee has created commemorative 2018 Noblesville Fireworks Festival buttons so residents can assist in supporting the July 4th festivities and represent Noblesville.

"We have great community businesses and organizations sponsoring our parade, festival and fireworks. Many residence have asked how they can also support the community-focused event, with the creation of these buttons we now have the perfect opportunity for families to get involved. We hope that residents will enjoy collecting them over the years," July 4th Planning Committee Co-Chairman Mike Hoffmeister said.

The committee has a limited number of the collectible buttons - 500 twoinch, blinking buttons and 500 round metal buttons measuring 2.25 inches. Buttons will include a new design along with the year moving forward.

LED blinking buttons are $3 each and include three features - fast blink, slow blink and on. Metal buttons are $1 each. Net proceeds from button sales go directly to supporting the Noblesville Fourth of July festivities, which is subsidized completely by sponsorship dollars and uses no city funds.

"Our goal is to sell all 1,000 buttons, which will allow the committee to make the event bigger and better in 2019," Hoffmeister said.

Buttons will be for sale at the Dillon Park Summer Concerts on June 28; and at Federal Hill Commons during the Foam Party on June 24, Concert at the Commons on June 30 and the 38th Infantry U.S. Army Band concert on July 1. Buttons also may be purchased with Cory Munsell was born in Kokomo in 1990. He graduated from Kokomo High School in 2008. He is an ILEA certified instructor in several areas, field training officer and evidence technician. Munsell is married and has no children. His hobbies include mountain biking, woodworking and firearms.

Since being hired, the officers have received in-service training and recently begun the 16-week Field Training and Evaluation Program. During this phase of training, the officers will be assigned to several different Field Training Officers (FTO) who will evaluate their performance as they learn to apply their training from the academy to the dayto-day functions of being a police officer. After successful completion of the Field Training and Evaluation Program, the officers will then be certified to work by themselves in a solo-capacity role and will be assigned to a shift within the Patrol Division.

Duke Energy grant will help fund Heights summer literacy program

The REPORTER

Hamilton Heights School Corporation has received a generous grant of $25,257 from Duke Energy to help fund its Jumpstart program set for July 16-27.

The summer literacy program, now entering its second year, is designed for Heights students who recently completed kindergarten, first and second grades and who could benefit from a jump start for Wisley, the program adthe upcoming school year. A maximum of 60 students can participate in this interactive remedial reading program that will be conducted for four-and-a-half hours for 10 days prior to the start of the school year. Student selection is based on an in-depth identification process and need for the additional reading remediation.

According to Denise ministrator, each student has an individualized curricular component designed around deficiencies noted in STAR Reading and Aims Web Plus data testing at the end of year of grade just completed.

"We saw great results from those students who participated last year in their ability to continue to learn more complex letter-sound relationships; improvement in their decoding and encoding skills and were able to read stories where comprehension and fluency are emphasized throughout," continued Wisley. "Overall, these students were much more prepared for success as they entered the next grade level."

"This generous gift helps Heights to continue this great service to our students," said Dr. Derek Arrowood, Hamilton Heights School Corporation Superintendent. "We are appreciative for Duke Energy's sharing of its resources and ongoing commitment to this invaluable literacy program for some of our youngest students."

"Literacy is a major part of student success, and it affects a student's education in all subjects," said Mark LaBarr, Duke Energy Community Relations Manager. "Developing young, successful readers can have an impact beyond the individual student and extend to the community."

The program is one of 20 that received Duke Energy Foundation grants for summer reading initiatives. This grant is part of an approximately $400,000 investment the Duke Energy Foundation is making in summer literacy programs.

Keeling.

Herbert Augustus Keeling, 89, Westfield, passed away on Thursday evening, June 21, 2018

After graduating with the Sheridan H.S. Class of 1947, Herbert continued forward with his education, earning his BS in Engineering from Rochester Institute of Technology in 1950. Upon graduating, Herbert would serve his country as a soldier with the United States Army. After his time in the military was finished, Herbert was ready at Riverview Hospital in Noblesville. Born February 19, 1929 in Indianapolis, he was the son of the late Charles

to come back home and start his engineering career. His first position was with Biddle Screw Products in Sheridan. He started out as a machine operator, but would eventually start designing and aiding in the construction of new equipment to help with the manufacturing of newer products for their clients. When Herbert left Biddle's, he worked with a few other manufacturing companies before hiring on with Tuthill Pump Company. For over 21 years he worked in the Superior Linkage Division as their plant superintendent, before eventually retiring in 1991.

Retirement afforded Herbert more time to devote to some of the activities that he truly loved, and first and foremost on that list was golf. He loved playing in many different leagues throughout the years, and it really didn't even matter if the weather was good enough to play. At one point during a match, Herbert had to be forcibly drug away from the course; refusing to stop play when a thunderstorm, and eventual tornado, blew through the area.

Staying active helped keep him young at heart. When he wasn't on the course, you could usually find him doing something around his property. He loved getting out and doing some landscaping or working in his garden; so much so, that he even constructed his own greenhouse. He also enjoyed woodworking and taking bicycle rides. Herbert knew he needed to not only keep his body active, but also his mind. He was a true fan of Reader's Digest. There was one activity however that seemed to be Herbert's favorite, and that was sitting and talking with people. New friends, old friends, lifelong buddies, it didn't matter, Herbert loved reminiscing and telling all of his old stories, whether you had heard them before or not. Making people laugh and smile meant the world to Herbert. He was known as the Candy Man and always seemed to have a pocket full of mints to share with everyone he met.

Herbert also loved traveling and visiting family. He was a snowbird, wintering in McAllen, Texas, before eventually moving to DeLand, Fla. While in Florida, he was a member of the DeLand Church of Christ. In 2018, Herbert

She was a 1988 graduate of Brownsburg High School and a 1992 graduate of Indiana University where she earned a degree in Telecommunications/Business. She earned her MBA at Wright State University with an emphasis in Marketing in 2008. Kim worked in the automotive industry for most of her career, with the majority of her career spent at Reynold & Reynolds. Her career focused mainly on marketing and customer service roles.

Kim also had many outside business and community interests. For many years, she was a member of the American Marketing Association (AMA) in Dayton, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, eventually moving up the ranks to be the President of the Indianapolis AMA chapter. Her community interests include IUAA Board member in Cincinnati, for student recruitment. She volunteered for other organizations such as the American Diabetes Association, the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the United Way where she served as the company's yearly campaign advocate.

Kim enjoyed spending her time running, hiking, playing tennis, boating in Tennessee, fishing in Canada and traveling with her husband. She was an avid animal lover, at one point having four animals under one roof. She was an active member of Christ the Savior Lutheran Church in Fishers.

In addition to her mother, she is survived by her loving and devoted husband, Scott Weston, Pendleton, whom she married in September 2013; her brother, Matt (Tiffany Limbach) Ross; many extended family members of aunts, uncles and cousins.

A memorial service was held on June 23, 2018 at Christ the Savior Lutheran Church, 10500 E. 126th St., Fishers, with Pastor Brian Derrer officiating. Visitation was held prior to the service. Friends stayed for a luncheon at the church following the service.

We never know how much our actions affect others. I often pray that I can find the unexpected smiles throughout the day.

My grandmunchkins often remark that I don't know a stranger. I stand in line at the grocery. By the time I've checked out I have a new friend, either with the cashier or someone who is also in line.

If someone has an unhappy toddler, I try to distract their little one and then reassure the mother that it will get better and that we've all been there. If someone gives them the evil eye, I tell them that someone must have pooped in their cereal that morning. I usually get a smile out of them.

Whenever we are at a restaurant Chuck and I seem to always ask our server about how long they have worked there, where they grew up, about the school where they graduated, if they have children and so on. It amazes me the extra service and smiles we get. We just know that everyone has a story. We are interested and we care about people.

The other day I was standing in line at the Courtesy desk at Meijer when the elderly gentleman behind me asked how my day was. I smiled and told them it was a beautiful rainy day. He thanked me for smiling. I told him that it was a habit that I had.

Recently, I was shopping downtown Noblesville and when I went to pay the parking meter I noticed the car beside me had ran out of time on the meter. I popped a quarter in their meter. (I hope that's not against the law.)

Now let me tell you that I believe, what goes around comes around.

Kindness is catching. Paying it forward brings you blessings you never would imagine was possible. I look for the small ways I can make a difference in the lives of strangers. It has become an everyday habit.

Last month on my way home from Tampa, the plane was full. It was a late night flight to Indy. A mother, sitting two seats in front of me, had a wiggly infant. Only a few fussy moments but I could tell she was anxious about him disturbing others.

When we got off the plane I caught up with her and told how cute and well behaved her son was. She smiled and said she hoped he did not disturb or upset anyone on the plane. She expressed how she had worked to keep him entertained. She smiled again and thanked me. I said, "You got this pretty momma!"

A word of praise, a smile, a word of encouragement, a random act of kindness, a compliment or an affirmation of a job well done ... All take such little effort, yet it could make someone's day. And you know what? It often makes my day when I get such a surprised reaction ... and a smile.

Kindness is intentional. I wonder what kind of world we would have if there were more intentional acts of kindness. I'll just keep wondering and looking. I've got

Always look Police catch 3 in connection to Carmel car dealer theft

By ELIZABETH CHOI WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Police said an officer witnessed thieves stealing cars from a dealership last Tuesday.

Officers arrested three people, but more may still be at large. It began around 2:15 a.m. at Penske Chevrolet, 3210 E. 96th St., just west of Keystone Parkway.

According to Carmel Police Department, the suspects smashed the windows to gain access to key boxes attached to the windows. Investigators said they believe the suspects intended to steal the vehicles.

Penske operators said that the suspects damaged 30 to 40 vehicles. The operators were doing inventory following the thefts to determine exactly how many vehicles were stolen. Penske leaders believe the thieves caused at least $90,000 in damage.

Across 96th Street at Coast to Coast Imports Carmel, 9445 Threel Road, Indianapolis, the general sales manager, Michael Siaba, stayed busy reviewing security footage.

"We have security cameras all the way around the building. We have motion sensors. I'm sure that we can take a look at that and see if maybe they scoped out our place or anything like that," Siaba said.

According to Penske, the thieves got into their gated lot because of construction on Keystone Parkway that left an opening to their property. The Carmel officer who spotted the thieves early last Tuesday attempted to pull over the suspects, but, according to police, they led police on a high-speed chase on Intersatate 465, with speeds reaching 100 mph. Police ended the chase.

Not long after, however, officers arrested three suspects in connection to the thefts: Two juveniles and an adult. Police identified the adult as Gerron Arnes Delaney, 24. All of the suspects are from St. Louis. Investigators said they believe at least three other suspects are at large.

There was no word on the suspects' connection to Indianapolis.

"It's very disheartening for any business in this area to be impacted the way they were," said Siaba at Coast to Coast.

Investigators said they are not sure where the suspects intended to take the vehicles or how many they planned to steal.

Anyone with information was asked to call the Carmel Police Department at (317) 571-2580.

The City encourages all bicyclists to bring their own locks to secure their bike to the bike racks provided during the event.

Chairs for the program are supplied by the National Bank of Indianapolis.

Visitors arriving by car are encouraged to use the Veterans Way parking garage at Carmel City Center. There is a new gravel path leading directly from this garage to Center Green for very easy and direct access to the concert venue.

Arrowood issues statement Author Marc on Heights Schools safety

In the aftermath of another tragic school shooting, especially one so close to home, I felt it was important to reach out to reassure you that the safety of our students and staff remain a top priority at Hamilton Heights. As an educator and parent of a child at Heights, I deeply care about providing the safest and most secure learning environment possible.

Very reasonably, over the past couple of weeks, I have been asked about our security procedures, the types of security measures we have in place, and where we plan to go in the future with respect to school safety. There is always a fine balance between increased security and creating a welcoming atmosphere for students, parents and the community. That balance is continually discussed and debated on a regular basis.

has long been a top priority of our School Board and entire staff with safety procedures and protocols in place long before I arrived five years ago. These procedures and protocols are under continuous review and scrutiny as we look to the latest research, tools, and technology to improve and enhance our school safety measures. Heights employs three full-time, onsite resource officers through a partnership with the Hamilton County Sheriff's Department. We have a safety coordinator at each building. an internal Safety Leadership Team, and a Corporation School Safety Team, which meets regularly to review and make the best recommendations to keep our students and staff safe so they can do what they do best – learn and teach.

We will be holding several special meetings in July

Student safety and August to discuss our current safety measures, examine new training opportunities, discuss the role of mental health and school violence, and examine future safety enhancements.

> The meetings will include the entire corporation School Safety team, our safety coordinators, and representatives from the Hamilton County Emergency Management, Sheriff's, Atlanta, Arcadia, Cicero Police, Jackson Township Fire, and Cicero Fire Departments.

> Prior to the start of school, we will host a school safety information meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 1 for parents and families. At the meeting we'll provide an update on our latest safety measures, share research and facts related to school violence, and offer a Q & A session with Heights administrators and Safety Team members. In addition, our Resource Officers will give a presentation on their role and function. Additional details for this meeting will be forthcoming.

As our focus on safety initiatives, ongoing training, and applying the latest technological advances in safety and security continues, I would like to remind you that one of the most powerful weapons in the effort to improve school safety is to work together as families, friends, neighbors, and community to watch out for each other and to report unsafe conditions or concerning behavior.

I was once asked what is the best part about being Superintendent of Hamilton Heights School Corporation. The answer is simple: I have never served in a community that cares more about their community's children than the people of the Hamilton Heights area. I have also been asked what is the hardest part of being Superintendent of HHSC. The answer is the same and I couldn't be more thankful. Thanks for caring about our children.

Carmel Clay Parks & Recreation launches new "My Park" series

The REPORTER

In Carmel Clay Parks & Recreation's (CCPR) efforts to provide environmentally-focused programs to the community, they are delighted to launch a new series titled "My Park," an interpretive and park stewardship program that focuses on the natural history of the parks.

The program is geared toward individuals ages 16 and older, will run annually May through September and will spotlight different parks each year. This year's line-up includes: Flowing Well Park, Central Park East Woods, Central Park West Lagoon and West Park.

No registration is needed; interested parties can show up at each park at the date/time specified below.

• Flowing Well Park: 6 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, June 28 (5100 E. 116th St.)

• Central Park East Woods Picnic Shelters: 6 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, July 26 (1235 Central Park Drive E. – Left at the first roundabout)

• Central Park Water Features: 6 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 16 (1235 Central Park Drive E. - Meet just off the Monon Greewway, under the Monon Community Center Oasis/Skywalk)

• West Park Prairie: 6 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 27 (2700 W. 116th St.)

Since coming on board just a few months ago, CCPR's desire to focus on environmental education is insurmountable. I am very excited to be a part of this team and offer environmental and educational opportunities to the community. Anytime you dig into natural history and get your hands dirty, it leaves a lasting impression of the importance of our environment," said Brittany McAdams, Natural Resources Coordinator for CCPR.

Community members are also encouraged to get involved with this series by volunteering. It is CCPR's hope that the success of this program series will create ambassadors for the parks and encourage others to become a part of their education to the community.

For additional information about this series, please contact Brittany McAdams, Natural Resources Coordinator, at bmcadams@carmelclayparks.com.

New office building planned for downtown Fishers

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

Office space in Fishers is a very scarce resource, but more is on the way. The City of Fishers and the Hageman Group have entered into a project agreement for an office building, which was approved last Monday night by the Fishers City Council. The plans call for a 31,000-square foot office structure with a total investment of $8.5 million as lease commitments are finalized.

The office building will be multi-storied, located at 8939 Technology Way, across from the Meyer Najem building.

The city hopes this will become a gateway to the Fishers Certified Tech Park. The park already houses operations such as Launch Fishers, the IoT Lab and Netfor.

"This will add needed office space to our downtown office inventory," said Brandon Dickinson, Director of Economic Development at the Monday night city council session. "We honestly can't build it fast enough for the demand that we have."

Fishers officials say the city will provide the land, $2.05 million in bond proceeds through Tax Increment Financing and a waiver of impact fees to assist with development costs, but only in the event the building is pre-leased and under construction within 30 months with a minimum private investment of $5.6 million.

"Innovation companies are looking for a place to call home in Fishers and this development provides another opportunity for growing companies to join the entrepreneurial economy here in our city," said Fishers Mayor Scott Fadness in a city news release.

The downtown area of Fishers has seen $430 million in development over the past three years.

Discounts offer tasty deals at participating restaurants . . . Tenderloin Tuesdays promotion returning to Hamilton County

The REPORTER

The Tenderloin Tuesdays summer promotion is back with more deals on the classic Hoosier sandwich.

Beginning Tuesday, June 26, local restaurants in Fishers, Westfield, Carmel and Noblesville will offer tasty discounts every Tuesday through the month of July. So far, nearly 30 restaurants will participate.

"Every restaurant serves a tenderloin in a unique way," said Whitney Riggs, communications coordinator for Hamilton County Tourism. "Maybe it's paired with a fried egg and gravy like at Grand Junction Brewing in Westfield or it's topped with a sweet chili aioli like at Grille 39 located inside the Renaissance in Carmel. Whatever you're hungry for, this is the time to try it."

Tuesdays Tenderloin was implemented nine years ago by Hamilton County Tourism.

New this year is the Tenderloin Tuesdays Passport where participants can eat and enter to win a T-shirt designed by Vardagen. Print the passport located at tenderlointrail.com, dine at three area restaurants involved in the promotion and check off each one before mailing it to Hamilton County Tourism.

For a full list of participating restaurants and deals or to download the passport, visit tinyurl.com/TenderloinTrail. Hamilton County restaurants can still sign up by contacting Megann Kramer at mkramer@ hamiltoncountytourism. com

Follow along on social media using #TenderloinTuesday on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram. Hamilton County Tourism will be giving away gift cards to participants who post creative photos of their tenderloin.

Noblestories scheduled for July 15

The REPORTER

High school memories from the 1950s and 60s will be the topic when Dottie Young and Sandy Stewart (both Noblesville High School class of 1964) take the stage for the inaugural Noblestories storyteller series at 4 p.m. on Sunday, July 15 at Logan Street Sanctuary.

Young was a smalltown girl from Clarksville who found herself in a much larger milieu when she arrived at Noblesville High School in 1960. Stewart grew up in town so she already had established relationships. Each brings a unique perspective to the Noblestories stage. Social ties, friendships and teenage hang-ups are all fair game as these two lively septuagenarians play off each other in this first of an ongoing series.

Noblestories is a program of the Noblesville Alliance Preservation (NPA) that gives today's residents a glimpse into Noblesville's past through the eyes of people who have lived here the longest: Noblesville's senior citizens. NPA is partnering with Hamilton County Television to present and preserve these memories from Noblesville's past to help inform and enrich the lives of current and future residents.

The second in the series is currently scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 14 and will feature Bob Arbuckle of Arbuckle's Railroad place as he celebrates his 96th birthday.

Noblestories is free and open to the public, which is encouraged to participate with questions and commentary. Logan Street Sanctuary is located at 1274 Logan St. in Noblesville.

Fishers cycling ordinance one step closer

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

The Fishers City Council will likely give final consideration to the cycling ordinance in July, which spells out the rights and responsibilities of cyclists and motorists.

Councilman Pete Peterson said the ordinance is an overreach. He questioned the need for such a measure.

"It's going to be virtually impossible to enforce," Peterson said. "I don't really see what the overall problem is in the community, other than a couple of people got honked off at some bike riders because they were going down the road."

Police Chief Mitch Thompson responded that local bicyclists want a three-foot passing rule, and that is one reason the ordinance is being proposed. The Chief says enforcement is not easy now, but new technologies on the horizon will likely change that.

Thompson said the goal was a balance to spell out the rights and responsibilities of both motorists and cyclists.

The latest revision of the ordinance would not require bicyclists to wear a helmet on residential streets, but would require a helmet on all other city roadways.

The council passed the ordinance on second reading, meaning the full council will make a final decision on the wording at next month's session, possibly with more revisions.

The text of the ordinance passed on second reading last Monday night is available at tinyurl.com/ FishersBikeOrdinance.

George Kehl honored for 40 years of service to Fishers

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

George Kehl essentially created the Police Department in Fishers. Once he retired as Police Chief, he never missed a step, moving to work on inventory at the Department of Public Works (DPW).

Eric Pethtel, Director of Public Works, joked that Kehl has "a PhD in curmudgeon," but also praised the former chief for his long service in law enforcement and his work at DPW.

Pethtel awarded George Kehl his 40-year Service Award with the City of Fishers. Kehl didn't say much when it was his turn to speak, just talking about the challenges of moving inventory to the new DPW building in the coming months.

There were other service awards handed out during last Monday's City Council session. Scott Kehl (George Kehl's nephew) and Mike Johnson from the Fishers Police Department received 25-year service awards. Barb Hathaway, a civilian employee of the Fishers Fire Department, received a 20-year service award.

Police Chief Mitch Thompson swore-in new Officer Ryan McKalip.

Tyler wins high jump at USATF Juniors

Shelby Tyler's last two trips to Bloomington have been quite successful.

On June 1, the Noblesville senior-to-be won went to Indiana University and won the high jump in the IHSAA girls track and field state finals. On Saturday, June 16, Tyler returned to IU and won a national championship - and a trip to Finland.

Tyler won the high jump in the USA Track & Field (USATF) Junior Outdoor Championship, which took place this past weekend in Bloomington. Tyler won with a jump of 6 feet, 3/4 inches.

"It was exciting," said Tyler during an interview on MileSplit USA (http://www.milesplit.com/videos/298082). "It was a good competition here, it was a really fun meet and I've had an incredible amount of support from almost everyone. So it's been wonderful."

Tyler went toe-to-toe with another state champion, Sanaa Barnes from Byron Nelson High School, which is located north of Fort Worth, Texas. Barnes won the high jump state championship as a junior in 2017 in Class 6A, the highest of Texas' track classifications, and was runner-up this year as a senior.

Both Tyler and Barnes cleared the 6 feet, 3/4 inch mark, but Tyler did so on her first try. Barnes made it on her second try, so Tyler got the win for her third major championship at IU. Tyler also won the IHSAA high jump state championship in 2017 as a sophomore.

"It's awesome," said Tyler. "I love this facility. It's brought good outcomes for me. push you and support you and encourage It's also a familiar place, which I think helps a little bit, because I've been here quite a few times jumping."

Tyler competed against her friendly rival Katie Isenbarger of Zionsville, who finished fifth with a jump of 5 feet, 9-1/4 inches.

playing at Grand Park in May, and have won all four of the games that have taken place there. The last two wins were significant, as it helped the AlleyCats finally achieve a scoring four points within the first three sought-after goal.

The AlleyCats are going back to the American Ultimate Disc League (AUDL) playoffs for the first time in four years. Last Sunday at Grand Park, Indy beat its rival, the Madison Radicals, 21-20 in a game that wasn't decided until there were 11 seconds left in the fourth quarter. Travis Carpenter caught a pass from Keegan North to get the deciding score. Rick Gross then deflected away a long pass into the end zone to preserve Indy's lead.

> Indy came out firing in the second half, minutes. The AlleyCats steadily built their lead from there, with another four straight goals late in the quarter. At the end of the third period, Indy led 30-15.

> "We had a pretty sloppy first half by our own standards, and then we picked it up at the second half of the game," said Jones.

> "We stepped it up after the first quarter, much more intense, much more focused, and the score reflects that," said Brock. "Our other quarters were much better after the first quarter."

K-Town Elite Club qualifies several for Region 7 Junior Olympics Championship

Several more K-Town Elite Club members' season will continue through the championship season after their performances on Sunday's second day of competition at Ball State University for the USA Track-and-Field Junior Olympics.

Led by Chase Hayes, who also qualified Saturday, Hayes placed fourth in the 200 dash, (28.91 seconds) and third in the long jump, (14 feet, 1 inch) in the 13-14 age group. In the 17-18 age group, Johannah Hetzner placed eighth in the 400-meter dash; Hamilton Heights' Bailey Haworth placed fifth in the 100-meter hurdles (17.05 seconds), and La'Bria Williams placed fifth in the long jump, (13 feet, 11 inches) and in the 8-and-under group, Verity Bishop, age 6, placed third in the 1500-meter run.

"We got everyone out and on to the next round," said Club Coach K. O. Jackson. It's too hot out here to compete and not focusing on getting to the next round and continue advancing and or achieving personal records. That's always the plan and goal."

The top eight performances qualifies athletes to the USATF Region 7 JO Championship, which takes place July 5-8 at Ball State. A top five performance at that meet would qualify athletes to the USATF JO Nationals, set for July 23-29 at North Carolina A&T in Greensboro, N.C.

The K-Town Club concluded its competitive season Saturday at Carmel High School's Indiana Youth Track Association Championship.

Kayla Bullock finished second in the girls' 17-18 1500 meter run in a time of 6:04.44; Hamilton Heights' Markaela Pugh placed second in the girls' 17-18 200 meter dash in 27.96 seconds, and Verity Bishop placed third in the girls' 8-and under 1500 meter run in 7:22.23.

"We have the competitive season behind us and we have two weeks to prepare for our championship season with the Junior Olympics," said club coach K.O. Jackson. "Our focus now is who is getting us to the national meet in North Carolina. That's what we train to accomplish every year."

"It feels great," said AlleyCats coach Eric Leonard. "We haven't been to the playoffs since 2014. This is my first time as a head coach in the playoffs. I'm excited. We achieved a season-long goal, and so everything from here is just extra."

The AlleyCats broke out of a 5-5 tie late in the first quarter, eventually leading 9-5 at the end of the period. Indy scored again to open the second quarter before the Mechanix got back-to-back points.

At halftime, the AlleyCats led 17-9. It was a nice advantage, but the players were dissatisfied.

"It's very easy to come into a game where we're playing against a team that hasn't won a single game yet, and we just beat our big rival in Madison here, the week before," said AlleyCats player John Jones. "It's hard to not get in the trap of, 'Oh, we beat them, we deserve to win this game.""

Spencer Loscar scored four goals and Henderson, all of 18 years old, had four goals, two "Ds" and one assist. Leonard was happy to see the younger players have quality minutes in the game. Seventeen different players scored at least one goal.

"It's huge for us," said Leonard. "Someone like Alex Henderson, who's just 18, coming out and lighting up the stat board, playing really solid defense, really great offense. It doesn't really help us now, but it helps us in the future. It's going to be great."

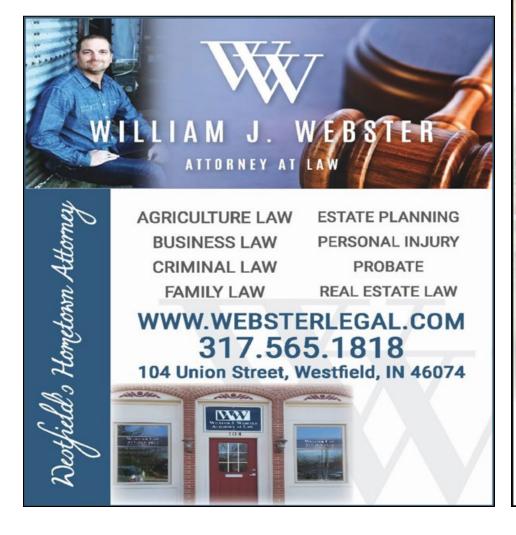

Travis Carpenter dished out five assists, while Connor Lukas, Peter Carleton and Donovan Triplett each had four. Gross, Aaron Schwartz and Kip Curtis all had three "Ds."

Carmel's Doty wins rainshortened Western Junior

Jeff Doty wasn't feeling good about his game leading up to the 101st Western Junior.

But something clicked for the Carmel graduate while working on it at home, and he found his form at the 6,793-yard, par-70 Evanston (Ill.) Golf Club to win the country's oldest junior golf championship.

After heavy rain forced tournament officials to cancel Thursday's final two rounds, Doty earned the title by virtue of his 36-hole lead. An incoming sophomore at North Florida, he carded rounds of 69-64 to finish 7 under and clip Karl Vilips, of Perth, Australia, by one stroke.

'This is No. 1 for me," Doty said when asked where the Western Junior ranks among his accomplishments. "This is the top of the line."

Doty said he was looking forward to a difficult day on the golf course and never considered the tournament might be shortened. All the groups played at least three holes before the third round was suspended at 9:14 a.m. Officials called it quits at 4:45 p.m.

"I like hard conditions, and I thought the challenge will be good," he said. "Canceling the day doesn't really cross your mind."

A win Thursday would have raised the already high profile of Vilips, a Stanford verbal commit who entered the week as the No. 1 player in the AJGA Rolex Rankings. Instead, Vilips, who shot 66-68, had to settle for his second runner-up finish in a row at the Western Junior.

Solid third round carries Westfield's Bruch to Girls State Junior victory

Jocelyn Bruch ran away with the championship at the Country Club of Terre Haute on Thursday.

The Westfield junior-to-be made four birdies over her last eight holes during the third round of the Girls State Junior Championship, which took place Thursday. That lifted her to the title, as she finished first with a three-day score of 218, two over par for the tournament.

In that third round, Bruch totaled five birdies. Her first was on the sixth hole. Bruch then knocked in three in a row on holes 11, 12 and 13, before getting her final birdie of the day on the 16th hole. Overall, Bruch was three-under for the round with a score of 69, making hers the only under par round of the tournament.

Bruch wound up the winner by nine shots. Zionsville's Annabelle Pancake finished second with a score of 227. Evansville's Faith Johnson and Tipton's Emma Kelly tied for third with 228s.

Gabriella Gilrowski, a junior-to-be at Guerin Catholic, finished in sixth place with a 230. Gilrowski shot a 74 for her third round, including an eagle on the sixth hole. Gilrowski finished that par-five hole in three.
