The return of the Topper

On Saturday, Noblesville enjoyed the return of the Topper at Grindstone Public House, 101 N. 10th St., during a soft opening event. Approximately 150 people attended and according to owner and director of operations Blake Fogelsong, even on day one, "The Topper is definitely the best seller. That's been the main excitement." When asked about returning to Noblesville, Clancy's CEO and President Perry Fogelsong said, "It feels great. We're only three blocks from the original location." Grindstone Public House officially opens at 10 a.m. on Monday, July 2. Check them out on Facebook.com/GrindstonePublicHouse or at grindstonepublichouse.com. Welcome Home, Grindstone!

I live just four blocks from the corner of 10th and Logan streets. For the past few months I have watched, with great anticipation, the building on the northwest corner being transformed into the Grindstone Public House.

I know that I tend to exaggerate but I am not, this time, when I say that if you have never had the opportunity to taste a Clancy's Topper, you have missed out on a culinary delight.

It was in May of 1965 when Clancy's opened the doors at 10th and Maple streets. I was just finishing up the fourth grade at First Ward School. Back then we would walk home for lunch and then walk back to school. I would venture to say that a few students veered of their usual path and headed to Clancy's.

I remember in fifth grade at North Elementary we had a cafeteria. It was a special treat for me to have my mother pick me up and take me to lunch at the place I always chose to go ... Clancy's.

A Clancy's Topper and the best French fries in town were served by the friendliest of workers. It was like having my mom fix my lunch.

A few years down the road, they served made to order breakfast. Seriously, you could order an egg, over easy, as well as biscuits and gravy. I'm talking ordering and picking up in

Jason Seaman, Ella Whistler named grand marshals for Noblesville Fourth of July Parade

The REPORTER

Mayor John Ditslear has announced that Noblesville West Middle School student Ella Whistler and seventh-grade science teacher Jason Seaman will serve as the grand marshals for the 2018 Noblesville Fourth of July Parade.

"On May 25, the Noblesville community was rocked at our foundation. Jason and Ella's words and actions have assisted many dealing with the tragic event. As grand marshals, the community has the opportunity to show our love and support for them and everyone impacted as we continue to cope with the actions of that day," said Ditslear. "The Seaman and Whistler families are humble and private people so we appreciate them accepting this role and leading our Fourth of July celebration."

Seaman recently finished his fourth year teaching at Noblesville Schools. Seaman played football at Southern Illinois University, where he graduated in 2011. He serves as a middle school football coach and has been a track and field coach. The Seaman family are members of Cornerstone Lutheran Church and enjoy being outdoors. He and his wife, Colette, have been married seven years and have two young children.

"It's a great reflection that the community wants Ella and me as grand marshals and that we are both physically able to participate," he said. "Noblesville continues to pull together to show we are one unified community."

"It is an honor to be asked to be grand marshal for the Fourth of July," added Whistler. "It's very thoughtful and I'm honored to do it with Mr. Seaman."

Whistler, who will be an eighth grade student at NWMS this fall, loves dancing, music, playing volleyball and cheerleading. She performs in the school's choir and show choir and is active in her church. Whistler also enjoys being outdoors, camping, shopping and furthering her relationship with God.

"Noblesville is our hometown and we've been touched by all the thoughts, prayers and support we've received from our community and across the nation and globe," said Cory Whistler, Ella's father.

The parade also will include Noblesville West Middle School Nurse Megan Schlueter and Noblesville Police Officer Michael Steffen, who serves as the school resource officer, as guests of honor.

"Megan and Officer Steffen played a pivotal role on May 25 and their quick actions saved lives," said Ditslear. "They are unsung heroes so it will be wonderful to have them recognized by the Noblesville community as well."

To end the parade, the Noblesville Fourth of July Planning Committee is inviting all NWMS students, parents, teachers and staff that wish to walk to participate. No registration is necessary. The parking lot between Ivy Tech and the Noblesville Boys & Girls Club (17th Street entrance) will serve as the meeting spot for this group before and after the parade. Participants are asked to arrive by 4 p.m. Like other parade entries, those that participate need to walk from the start to the end of the route and students will not be permitted to join in or leave during the parade as a safety precaution.

Whistler

"This year's parade will start and end with West Middle School and be a great reminder of the love and support the community has for all those affected," said Ditslear. "Due to anticipated numbers, parents are strongly encouraged to walk with their child or a group of children to provide supervision and help with keeping the group organized. Again, the group will have the same meeting point before and after the parade to help with coordination."

Others interested in participating in the 2018 Noblesville July 4th Parade have until Monday, July 2 to submit entry forms, which are available online at noblesvillefireworksfestival.com. PDFs may be printed or an interactive version is available that may be filled out and sent electronically to mhoffmeister@noblesville.in.us. Entries also may be dropped off at Forest Park Inn, 701 Cicero Road, and the Mayor's Office in Noblesville City Hall, 16 S. 10th St. Registration is $20. The City of Noblesville is waiving the entry fee to all nonprofits organizations that want to participate.

Democrats rename annual dinner event

Hamilton County Democrats have discarded the names of Jefferson and Jackson for their annual county dinner and rally. This year the event will be called the Triple J Dinner. The name comes from the first name initials of the party's state ticket: Jim Harper, candidate for Secretary of State; John Aguilera, running for state treasurer and Joselyn Whittaker, for auditor.

The three will all be speaking at the dinner July 21 at the Carmel American Legion Post 155. They will oppose Republican incumbents who currently hold the three Statehouse offices.

The name of the dinner party is being changed because party leaders believe political correctness dictates the names of former presidents Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson should no longer be used because both men were slave owners. Next year another more permanent name will be chosen for the event.

Meanwhile, as the deadline arrived for filing Democratic candidates, County Chairman Joe Weingarten reported the names of four township candidates added to the party ticket. The political party has the right to appoint candidates when none filed for an office in the primary election.

David Russ will be running against incumbent Republican Douglas Callahan for Clay Township Trustee. Marie DeMore was named a candidate for Noblesville Township Board, Rachna Greulich will run for the Fall Creek Township Board and Janet Scarce is a candidate for the Jackson Township Board.

In countywide races, most Republican candidates will be elected without opposition in November. Democrats are running Jason Straw for sheriff against Republican nominee Dennis Quakenbush, and Rosemary Dunkle for county commissioner against incumbent Christine Altman. Weingarten candidly noted his party has a very tough time getting candidates to run for major office in Hamilton County due to the well-known Republican political tradition.

Sheriff deputy, Cicero officer charged in prank call case

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

A Hamilton County sheriff's deputy and a Cicero police officer are due in court next month after admitting to investigators that the pair had been drinking during a party on May 1 and making two prank phone calls to the Hamilton County 911 dispatch center.

In an affidavit filed by a Hamilton County sheriff's investigator, Deputy David Needham is alleged to have made the first call when he attempted to disguise his voice to sound like a female, "Jessica," who called 911 to report that her boyfriend was stalking her at the time. Needham, sounding like "Jessica," reported that her boyfriend had left the location and fled on foot before ending the call without providing any other information.

Investigators say that Bradley Gorgas, an officer with the Cicero Police Department, made the second prank call at approximately 1:55 a.m., just minutes after Needham's prank call. Gorgas told the 911 dispatcher about a fight involving 10 people at the Speedway gas station in Cicero.

Gorgas said that he was scared and that officers needed to arrive quickly before ending the call. Responding officers found no evidence of a fight at the gas station.

Investigators interviewed both men at different times in the weeks following the calls and each man admitted to having been drinking during a party at Gorgas' house on May 1 and confessed that they were aware that they were making prank phone calls.

Both are due in court for their initial hearings on July 11.

This year's free festivities will take place on Wednesday, July 4 with the theme of "Stars and Stripes Forever in Noblesville." The fun begins with the Logan Street Signs and Banners sponsored parade starting at 4:30 p.m. The fireworks festival sponsored by IDI Composites follows from 6 to 10 p.m. with activities for kids, teens and adults, music, food vendors and more. At approximately 10 p.m., the annual fireworks display sponsored by Terry Lee Hyundai will begin.

The biggest challenge faced each year is finding enough volunteers to staff the festival and parade.

Volunteer shifts are 5:30 to 8 p.m. and 7:30 to 10 p.m. with opportunities to assist in monitoring the kids' activities and more. Volunteers still have plenty of time to enjoy the festival and fireworks with their family and friends before or after their shift. Businesses and organizations volunteering can earn in-kind trade of discounted rates for facility rentals. WELCOME the drive thru.

In 1982 the Fogelsong Family, which owned Clancy's, opened up Grindstone Charley's at the top of the hill by Riverview Hospital. My kids were 5 and 1. Many a Sunday after church we would head to Grindstone's where everyone seemed to know each other. It was like having Sunday dinner with about 20-30 of our forever friends. Every menu choice was a winner. It was hard to pick a favorite.

A few years ago Clancy's came back to Noblesville for the Street Dance. Those not familiar with Clancy's were asking why there was a line wrapping around the sidewalks at 9th and Conner. An hour long wait just to bite into a Topper. So worth it!

Then the announcement came a few months ago, that the Fogelsong Family was opening up the Grindstone Public House at 10th and Logan, where Eddie's Corner Café had been. The taste buds of old Noblesville people began salivating. Could this really be happening?

So many mouthwatering items on the menu, besides the famous Topper, you can choose Tenderloins, Fried Green Tomatoes, Fried Bologna Sandwiches, Sugar Cream Pie and their ever so famous steaks. Other choices include, well let's just say, you won't be hungry when you leave.

Perhaps it's not just the food that will bring the old Noblesville people into Grindstone Public House but the memories. Nostalgia at its most glorious along with the delicious taste of yesteryears. Many a "remember when" will be heard.

I've said for many years now, "If they build it, people will come." Welcome Home Grindstone and the Fogelsong Family. We are glad you are back!

Now let's line up and enjoy!

Attorney General Hill takes part in healthcare fraud investigations

The REPORTER

Attorney General Curtis Hill announced Thursday that his office has participated in a major nationwide enforcement action against doctors, nurses and other licensed medical professionals for alleged participation in health care fraud schemes. The Office of the Attorney General's Medicaid Fraud Control Unit (MFCU) played a key role in 12 criminal investigations that uncovered more than $200,000 in alleged Medicaid fraud, leading to charges against 14 individuals. Three of those cases involved individuals in and around Marion County.

These investigations are part of a nationwide initiative led by the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). According to these federal agencies, this national effort is the largest ever health care fraud enforcement action.

The Indiana Attorney General's MFCU investigated licensed healthcare professionals and medical offices where suspected illegal activity occurred. Federal agencies involved in one or more of the investigations include the DEA, DOJ, FBI and the Department of Health and Human Services-Office of Inspector General (HHS-OIG).

"Medicaid fraud leaves in its wake many victims," Hill said. "Any licensed providers who commit this offense are taking advantage of those for whom they are supposed to provide care, including the disabled and less fortunate who rely on Medicaid. In addition, they are also fleecing taxpayers whose hard-earned money is used to fund these programs. The investigators and lawyers in our Medicaid Fraud Control Unit are doing good work to help bring lawbreakers to justice. At the same time, we respect the due process to which all are entitled, and all those who stand accused of crimes are certainly presumed innocent until a court finds otherwise."

Following are summations of three cases in which Indiana's MFCU investigators participated in Marion and Hendricks counties. In each case, the fact that a person has been charged with a crime is merely an accusation, and these persons are presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

• In Indianapolis, Aaron Amos allegedly billed the Indiana Medicaid Program for youth mentoring services he did not actually perform. The Marion County Prosecutor's Office has charged Amos with the felonies forgery, Medicaid fraud and theft.

• In Hendricks County, Licensed Practical Nurse Charolette Moody (aka Charolette Martin) allegedly forged timesheet documents for hours she did not work, which caused false claims to be submitted to the Indiana Medicaid Program. What was Indiana's first state park?

The REPORTER

1890 – The statue of Thomas A. Hendricks was unveiled in a grand ceremony on the southeast corner of the Indiana Statehouse grounds. Hendricks, who had been Governor of Indiana from 1873-1877, died in 1885 while serving as Vice President of the United States. Indiana Governor Alvin Hovey welcomed thousands to the ceremony, including New York Governor David B. Hill, Missouri Governor David R. Francis and Ohio Governor James E. Campbell.

1916 – McCormick's Creek was dedicated as Indiana's first state park. Governor Samuel Ralston spoke at the Fourth of July ceremony. The park was named for John McCormick, an early settler who had lived along the canyon by the waterfall.

1923 – Famed orator and politician William

Jennings Bryan visited the Gennett Record Company in Richmond. He recorded excerpts of his famous "Cross of Gold" speech, which he had delivered many times around the nation.

1935 – Movie Actress Irene Dunne, who grew up in Madison, was named one of the world's 10 greatest contemporary ladies. Others on the list, compiled by famous columnist Elsa Maxwell, included Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Roberta Brooke Astor and the Marchioness of Carisbrooke.

1947 – Cowboy movie star Roy Rogers called on Governor Ralph Gates at the Indiana Statehouse. The governor stepped outside to meet the cowboy's famous horse Trigger, who entertained the Chief Executive with a few of the tricks he often performed on the silver screen.

1965 – The Fort Wayne Children's Zoo opened on five and a half acres in Franke Park. Over 6,000 people came on the first day to see the 18 animal exhibits. Today the zoo has more than 1,500 animals, including kangaroos, giraffes, hyenas, zebras and more.

Clay Township Regional Waste District now called TriCo Regional Sewer Utility

The REPORTER

Clay Township Regional Waste District celebrated its 43rd anniversary on June 3. It has grown to serve customers in four townships within three counties. To better reflect this demographic, today the District's name becomes TriCo Regional Sewer Utility.

The District was created in 1975 to provide effective and efficient sanitary sewer service to address a long-standing health problem in Home Place caused by poor soils and failing septic systems. Another benefit of the creation of the District was its ability to provide the sanitary sewer infrastructure needed for environmentally sound development as Clay and Eagle Townships experienced exponential growth.

The District has grown to provide service in portions of Hamilton, Boone and Marion counties. Due to the regional nature of the sewer service provided by the District, the Board of Trustees petitioned the Indiana Department of Environmental Management to change the District's name. On May 7, IDEM issued the order to change the District's name to TriCo Regional Sewer Utility.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I will rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first. Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch: go your way, make it as sure as ye can. So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.
Matthew 27:62-66 (KJV)

James Gerald Riggs March 16, 1931 – June 29, 2018

James Gerald Riggs, 87, peacefully completed the work of this life at 12:45 a.m. on June 29, 2018 at his residence in Noblesville. Service will be held at 6:30 p.m. following visitation from 2 to 6:30 p.m. on Monday, July 2, 2018 at The Pentecostals of Westfield, 16162 Carey Road, Westfield. Graveside service is 10 a.m. on Tuesday, July 3, at Riverside Cemetery in Noblesville. Arrangements are handled by Fisher Family Funeral Services of Sheridan.

James was born on March 16, 1931 in Kokomo to Gerald and Myrtle (Little) Grinstead. He married Stella M. Lawman on November 17, 1950, and together they raised two loving, devoted daughters. James is a United States Veteran with honorable discharge and served in the Navy during the Korean War.

He is survived by his daughters, Linda (Jerry) Jenkins of Sheridan and Kathy (Randy) Adams of Noblesville; his grandchildren, Annette (Joseph) Donovan, Brent (Jennifer) Jenkins, Stacy Jenkins, Katricia (David) Sanchez, Tony (Rhonda) Adams and Shelly (Troy) Bibbs; his eight great-grandchildren; his brother Larry Riggs; and several nieces and nephews. He is preceded in death by his wife of nearly 66 years, Stella; his siblings, Nancy Denman, Fred Riggs and Bev Doyon.

For more than 50 years, James was a licensed minister in the United Pentecostal Church International. His years of faithful, committed service to the Lord (who he often called his Precious Master) include ministry as youth leader, assistant pastor, pastor of Huntington United Pentecostal Church for 23 years, various positions in sectional leadership and caretaker for the Indiana UPCI district campgrounds. Having a deep love for the Bible, he was a living example of II Timothy 2:15 "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." But he didn't stop there. Rev. Riggs was propelled to tell everyone he met about his Master and the truth of His Word. If you ever met him, you most likely became engaged in an enriching conversation involving a small, colorful stick and trivia questions on the Word of God. His passion for spreading the Gospel most recently resulted in the publication of tract literature which is already being shared in places around the world.

Jim enjoyed other hobbies and pastimes and always seemed to be expanding his interests and skills. He was an enthusiastic fisherman, an able craftsman and woodworker, and knew his way around the kitchen (most often frying up his latest catch). He was a bargain hunter and garage sale aficionado, on both sides of the table. If you would like to give in lieu of flowers, you may make contributions to The Pentecostals of Westfield, 10590 Magenda Drive, Noblesville, IN 46060. Funeral services will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Monday July 2, 2018 at Radiant Life Christian Church in c/o Pentecostals of Westfield, 16162 Carey Road, Westfield. Family and friends are invited to gather from 2 p.m. till time of services. The Rev. Terry Long and Pastor Randy Adams will be officiating. Graveside services will be held at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, July 3, 2018 at Riverside Cemetery in Noblesville.

Spencer Paul Sutton June 2, 2018 – June 26, 2018

Spencer Paul Sutton, son of Rian Spencer and Stephanie Lydia (Hoeflerle) Sutton of Elwood, passed into the loving arms of Jesus on Tuesday, June 26, 2018 at Community North Hospital in Indianapolis. Spencer and his twin sister Laine Charlotte Sutton, were born on Saturday, June 2, 2018 at Community North, and welcomed by their three sisters, Taylor Christine Sutton, Hailey Rian Sutton and Raigen Marie Sutton.

With his happy and playful personality, mommy's little mister had everyone he met wrapped around his little finger. Just one grab of your finger, or that Sutton smirk was all it took. From then on, you were addicted.

He was a member of the Bethel Lutheran Church, having been baptized while in the hospital by Pastor Gast.

Spencer was a true fighter, and the wonderful people in the N.I.C.U. at Community North made sure they had his back every step of the way. During the last week of his life, Spencer's twin sister Laine was able to stay with him in the same room, giving them a chance to bond and channel each other's strength.

Spencer is also survived by his paternal grandmother, Karen Wallace; paternal great grandmothers, Jesslyan "Jay" Sutton and Sue Wallace; maternal great grandmother, Charlene Hoeflerle; maternal grandmother Alice Hoeflerle; and by his paternal grandfather, Steve Hoeflerle, who will truly miss his Super Spence. Also surviving are many, many, many, cousins, aunts and uncles.

He was preceded in death by his paternal grandfather, William "Bill" Sutton; and paternal great grandfather, Charles "Sonny" Sutton.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, July 3, 2018 at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation from 11 a.m. until the time of service. Burial will follow at Moore Cemetery in Sheridan. Pastor Doug Gast will be officiating.

A look at 2018 football schedules...

Franklin Central joins the HCC lineup, major changes for Heights

By RICHIE HALL
When the 2018 high school football season begins in mid-August, fans of the Hoosier Crossroads Conference teams will see a new opponent on the schedules. Franklin Central joins the HCC this fall, making the league an eight-team conference once more. With the addition of the Flashes, a conference that has become one of the tougher leagues in Indiana will get even tougher. While Franklin Central had several years of struggles, the Flashes have turned things around, compiling an 8-2 record last season and winning the championship in their finale of participating in Conference Indiana. The addition of Franklin Central means changes for the other HCC schools' schedules, although none of those changes will be dramatic. In fact, the conference lineup for the four Hamilton County football teams will remain the same as last season. Fishers will play at the Flashes' field in Week 7, but otherwise the Tigers' schedule stays the same. Fishers had hosted different opponents that week in the past two seasons, welcoming Arsenal Tech in 2014, Cathedral in 2015-16 and Roncalli last year. Hamilton Southeastern has a trip to Franklin Central scheduled for Week 8. The Royals have a change for the season's first game: Southeastern will open its season at Lucas Oil Stadium, taking on Lawrence Central. The Royals played Kokomo in their opener last year, and Carmel in the previous three years. Noblesville will play the Flashes in Week 6, replacing Hamilton Heights. The Millers will also be opening their season at Lucas Oil, taking on Cathedral. This ends a four-season series with Lawrence North. Westfield will finish its season with Franklin Central, hosting the Flashes at Riverview Health Stadium. The Shamrocks will thus end a three-season series with Brebeuf Jesuit. Also ending is a four-season series with Southport in Week 2. This year, Westfield will host Decatur Central that week. As for the other Hamilton County schools... Hamilton Heights, has by far the most changes of any school. The only game on its schedule that is the same for the Huskies is its opener: Mount Vernon. Kokomo is out from Heights' Week 2 slot, replaced with North Montgomery. The Huskies also replaced Noblesville with West Lafayette, and moved that non-conference opening from Week 6 to Week 3. After that, it's all Hoosier Conference East Division games for Heights. Northwestern moves up a week to Week 4, while Western goes from Week 8 to Week 5. Twin Lakes is pushed up a week to Week 6, and Tipton and Western both move back three weeks to Week 7 and Week 8, respectively. The Huskies will play a team from the conference's West Division in Week 9 to determine placing in the league.

Guerin Catholic will have a few changes this season. The Golden Eagles replaced Martinsville with McCutcheon in Week 1. Guerin will now play Columbus North in Week 5, ending a four-year series with now-closed Broad Ripple.

The Golden Eagles' game with Brebeuf Jesuit has been moved back a week, from Week 7 to Week 8 and replaces Bowman Academy. Guerin Catholic will travel to Pontiac, Mich. in Week 7 this year to play Pontiac Notre Dame.

Sheridan's schedule is mostly the same, with two late-season changes. The Blackhawks replaced Tipton with Seeger in Week 7, and South Decatur with Heritage Christian in Week 9.

Carmel will keep its schedule exactly the same as last year. The Greyhounds will host Louisville Trinity in their opener, then play at Noblesville in Week 2 before diving into Metropolitan Conference play.
