Steve Cage donates $63,000 for Fishers pickleball courts

The REPORTER

Fishers Parks & Recreation and the Fishers Parks Foundation announced the donation of $63,000 from Steve Cage, a Fishers resident and entrepreneur. As an avid pickleball player, Cage's donation will pay for the addition of two challenge courts at Cyntheanne Park, for intermediate and advanced players.

All eight courts at Cyntheanne Park will be renamed Cage Pickleball. Construction will begin this week and the courts are anticipated to open this fall.

"I am grateful for the opportunity to help expand the world-class amenities of Fishers, Indiana," said Steve Cage. "Projects like Cage Pickleball at Cyntheanne Park will be a great resource for the residents of Fishers on their health and wellness journey."

The Fishers Parks Foundation raised approximately $17,000 in additional funds during its pickleball court fundraising campaign. The largest portion of which came from an anonymous donor from Fishers.

One killed in crash Thursday

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office is investigating a single-vehicle fatal crash that occurred at approximately 2:39 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 2.

Deputies were dispatched to the area of Middletown Avenue and Cyntheanne Road in the eastern part of the county on the report of a crash with an unresponsive individual involved. Along with the driver trapped, a passenger was partially trapped inside the vehicle.

Deputies responding to the scene located the crash on Middletown Avenue approximately 2,500 feet west of the intersection with Cyntheanne Road. The initial crash report indicates a tan 1990 Cadillac Deville driven by Shawn Butler, 38, Cicero, was westbound on Middletown Avenue when it left the north side of the roadway. Investigators believe Butler over-corrected causing the car to cross the roadway and run off the south side of the pavement before striking a utility pole.

HSE Mental Health Initiative get new elements

By BRENNA DONNELLY

Hamilton Southeastern School District is rolling out new elements to their mental health initiative as the 2018-2019 school year begins.

Brooke Lawson, HSE Mental Health Coordinator, explained that in the 2018-2019 school year all schools will begin participating in Social Emotional Learning models, and every student will receive a video introduction to their school guidance counselor.

Lawson

"Every student and family will receive one of these videos right before school starts," explained Lawson, "just as a quick introduction as to who their school counselor is, what their role is and how they can help students be successful in college or career readiness, their social emotional

Donations sought for Carmel coach

The REPORTER

While on a family vacation in the Dominican Republic, Carmel girls varsity basketball coach Kevin Sweeney was involved in an accident in the ocean that broke three vertebrae in his neck and back (C3, C6 and C7).

Fortunately, he does have full movement other than numbness and tingling down his right arm and hand. Unfortunately, however, his medical insurance will not cover any of the costs until he is back in the United States.

Because Sweeney was not able to take a commercial flight, he was transported via medevac from the Dominican Republic to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. The estimated cost for medevac transport alone is $22,000.

Sweeney is the husband of Briann (Campbell) Sweeney and father of five boys.

Noblesville Schools' referendum, part 2 of 4

Answering questions about school funding, cost to taxpayers

NOBLESVILLE SCHOOLS

For The Reporter

Editor's Note: The following is Part 2 of a 4-part series written by Noblesville Schools administrators in an effort to explain their proposed 2018 referendum to voters and parents. This referendum will be on the ballot during the Nov. 6, 2018 election and, if passed, will affect Noblesville school district taxes. Each part of this series will be available on our website, ReadTheReporter.com, and on our Facebook page, Facebook.com/HamiltonCountyReporter, on the date of publication.

How are schools funded in Indiana?

The state provides a specific amount of money per student, and this amount is different for each school district and changes year to year.

Districts that serve more affluent areas get less money per student from the state. Districts with a higher percentage of low-income students (determined by the number of students who receive free/reduced lunch) get more funding per student for all students.

In 2019, these state dollars will be deposited to the district's education fund to be spent on instructional programs including salaries and benefits, guidance and media services, and supplies.

Other district needs like transportation, capital projects (construction and building maintenance), bus replacements, and debt services are funded through property and special taxes.

When the state implemented property tax cap legislation, it significantly decreased funding for schools. Schools can now no longer fully collect property taxes from residents.

Referendum dollars are a funding source that must be voted on and approved by the community. They support the district and can be used in any budget area. Because of property tax cap legislation and decreases in state funding, districts are now more dependent on referendum funds to maintain services for students.

What's the referendum proposal for Noblesville Schools?

The current operating referendum tax rate is 18.9 cents. The new referendum would replace the 18.9 cents rate with a new rate of 37 cents. This would raise $6.25 million per year for eight years.

For a median Noblesville home valued at $206,000 this means $15 more a month.

Noblesville Schools is seeking this increase in funding so they can address mental health, school safety and teacher compensation needs. The new referendum would replace the existing one and would provide funding through 2026.

PICKLEBALL

The Britton Falls Pickleball Club facilitated the fundraiser and its donation will be used to add landscaping, benches and other amenities at Cyntheanne Park's pickleball courts.

"Pickleball is one of the fastest growing sports in the U.S. due in part to its fun and inclusive nature and Fishers is no exception," said Fishers Parks & Recreation Director Tony Elliot. "This generous donation will help respond to the demand in Fishers while adding to the diverse, all-ages recreational opportunities at Cyntheanne Park."

HSE MENTAL HEALTH

learning and also their academics."

But the district's mental health initiative covers more than just school guidance counselors. The district has prioritized putting licensed therapists in the schools to help diagnose students with mental health issues.

"Insurance becomes a barrier at times so we wanted to make sure those barriers were taken away," Lawson said.

HSE School District partnered with Community Health Network in January 2016 and began their program. In the beginning, HSE Schools had three therapists for six of the district's 21 buildings.

"Really our goals were to make sure that any student in the district who was struggling with mental health issues were able to see a licensed counselor in their school building to receive support," said Lawson.

She said that milestone was achieved within a few months, as the district hired 13 licensed mental health professionals to rotate between schools. HSE High School, Fishers High School, and the Focus Day Program have a full-time counselor, and the remaining 10 counselors cover the 18 middle and elementary schools. Lawson notes the district has also hired a crisis liaison who is allowed to visit students in the hospital and aid them and the district as those students return to school full-time.

"[The crisis liaison] can communicate with the family and the school and the student to make sure they feel comfortable returning to school and that they're supported," she said.

Student visits with mental health professionals were voluntary, and the district began gathering statistics on the types of mental health issues present in the district at various schools and ages.

In their report dated Fall 2017, the district reported 46 percent of students seeing a counselor were diagnosed with anxiety disorders, 20 percent with ADHD, 19 percent with depressive disorders, 9 percent with disruptive behavior disorders, and 4 percent with trauma-related disorders.

Therapists were serving 102 students at the end of Spring 2017. That jumped to 338 students in Fall 2017.

Lawson explained the therapists would diagnose a student and help them overcome obstacles, but do not prescribe medication.

Within a few months, students began to catch on.

"Shortly after I started my job a student reached out to me and said I want to start a mental health club. I said I don't know what that is, but I'll help you with that," said Lawson.

The Mental Health club (Stigma-Free HSE and Stigma-Free Fishers) quickly grew to 75-100 students and reached both high schools. Lawson says it has been instrumental in breaking down the stigma of mental health.

"Hearing the conversations that happen at those student mental health clubs ... that never would have been talked about when I was in high school. To hear the stories and the courage the kids have," said Lawson.

In addition to regular meetings and conversations, the students also made a public service announcement video featuring classmates, members of the community, and district leadership.

"We have been very specific with our students, like never take this on yourself, you get an adult involved," said Lawson. "The students have really taken it up on themselves to reduce the stigma, to educate their peers and their teachers."

Parents took on a more active role in the second year of the program, as the Social Emotional Learning program took root in some schools, like Fall Creek Elementary. The district was also awarded a $2.1 million dollar grant from the Lilly Endowment in October 2017 to fund the next four years of mental health programs.

"Once a week the buildings that have rolled out that curriculum are sending home information to parents so they know what has been focused on at school and how they can reinforce that at home," explained Lawson.

After 18 months of development, Lawson says their program and the student-led Mental Health Clubs have caught the eye of neighboring schools.

"We've helped area school districts in Avon, Noblesville get their clubs off the ground and running to be able to learn from us," said Lawson.

SCHOOL BOARDS

District 2, Michelle Fulhart in District 3 and Bradley Banks in District 4.

In Carmel, Layla Spanenberg will run for re-election in District 1, and Michael Kerschner will seek another term in District 3.

At Hamilton Heights, Julie Davis is running for a Jackson Township seat, and Arnett Cooper is running at-large in the Jackson-White River district.

Only one candidate has filed in Westfield Washington. Dan Degnan is running for re-election in District 4.

And, at Sheridan there is also one candidate in the field thus far. Steven Dolahan is running in the Adams Township District.

Many observers thought there would be considerable interest in the school elections this year, especially in Noblesville where a $50 million bond issue is on the referendum ballot. And, at Carmel where controversy has developed over plans to close and rebuild two elementary schools, interest was thought to be high.

But, to date, there has been relatively little visible interest, and the candidate filings so far have not created any election contests.

Carmel Clay Schools holding conversation on student safety

The REPORTER

Carmel school and city leaders invite the public for a discussion on school safety to be held at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 8 at Carmel Middle School, 300 S. Guilford Road. Please arrive by 6:15 p.m. and enter through Door 4.

Hear from members of the panel as they discuss what current school safety measures are in place and what is being done to enhance student safety. Those in attendance that evening will have the opportunity to ask questions to the panel.

The panel will include:

- Dr. Michael Beresford, Superintendent of Schools
- Chief Jim Barlow, Carmel Police Department
- Sergeant D.J. Schoeff, Carmel Police School Resource Officer

- Mrs. Amy Skeens-Benton, Carmel High School Assistant Principal
- Mrs. Karen McDaniel, Carmel High School Assistant Principal
- Ms. Tammy Thornbury, Assistant Director of Special Services

REFERENDUM

In 2016, Noblesville voters approved an extension of the district's operating referendum at a reduced tax rate to maintain the status quo of programs, staff and services. Since then, additional school safety, mental health services and staff compensation needs have been identified.

The safety of our students and staff is our top priority and we need additional funding to provide enhanced protections, safety staff and safety-related services.

Also, the teacher shortage in Indiana continues to make recruiting and retaining talented teaching staff a significant challenge. Other area school districts have recently increased teacher compensation and we must do the same or we will continue to lose talented staff to other districts and the private sector. In some cases, our teachers are making $10,000 less than equivalent teachers in neighboring districts. Strong teachers are the most important factor for student growth, academic excellence and safety.

How much will the referendum actually cost me?

Noblesville Schools is asking the community to increase the referendum already in place to a rate of 37 cents. This would raise $6.25 million per year.

The referendum rate is an annual rate applied to every $100 of a home's assessed value.

For a median Noblesville home valued at $206,000 this means $15 more a month.

The website milleryes.org has a calculator tool Noblesville residents can use to see how much they pay currently with the 18.9 cent rate and what they would pay under the new 37 cent rate.

What's the difference between capital and operating referendums?

Capital referendums fund building construction projects. For example, a 2010 capital referendum funded Promise Road Elementary as well as several building additions and renovations.

Operating referendums pay for people and programs including staff salaries, benefits, curricular offerings, supplies and equipment.

Our current referendum is an operating referendum and we are asking that it be expanded. Teacher compensation and the majority of our safety enhancements are best addressed through operating funds.

We anticipate that we will have some construction projects related to safety and we plan to fund those through a loan (bond) rather than a capital referendum. A construction loan will not increase property taxes.

Charges filed in Carmel Red Robin shooting

The REPORTER

Charges have been filed in connection with a shooting that occurred outside the Red Robin restaurant in Carmel's Clay Terrace.

The Hamilton County Prosecutor's Office announced that Trestan Miles, 22, Westfield, has been charged with four felonies and one misdemeanor.

On Friday, Carmel Police responded to a disturbance outside the Red Robin restaurant. An investigation revealed two employees were involved in an argument when Miles pulled a semi-automatic handgun and fired three shots. Police say Daniel Estrada was injured in the altercation as a result of a gunshot.

Miles was charged with:

- Pointing a Firearm (Level 6 Felony)
- Carrying a handgun without a license (Misdemeanor)
- Criminal Recklessness (Level 6 Felony)
- Battery (Level 5 Felony)
- Intimidation (Level 5 Felony)

Marlin and Beverly Moore ask you to help them support the RIGHT NOW campaign.

Marlin and Beverly Moore fell in love in Westfield. This young love bloomed into a loving family of five and lasting friendships that have overflowed to their community. Over the past years, they have devoted themselves to giving back to those in need, whether it be through church or other community organizations.

This year as Marlin and Beverly celebrated with their children, friends and family, they asked for no gifts as they feel they already have what they need – love. So, they asked those who attended to celebrate them through giving to others in need.

See, these families need help with other items that food stamps won't purchase – such as personal products and cleaning supplies – basically the non-food items that food stamps don't provide. The friends and family did not let them down. They provided enough to be taken to two of the trustees, both of whom were equally excited for the deliveries.

The joy that it brings to this loving couple and those who have given cannot be put into words. They encourage everyone to do a little something here and there, and in the end, it is the love and charity that brings family and friends together.

Marlin and Beverly ask that if you are reading this, the next time you go to the store, pick up extra items you would use daily and provide them to the trustee or food bank in your area and to know that you made a difference in somebody's life.

Editor's Note: You can drop off donations for the RIGHT NOW campaign at your township trustee's office or at the Hamilton County Republican Party Headquarters, 209 E. 175th St., Westfield.

Hamilton Heights presents school security updates

WISH-TV | wistv.com
Hamilton Heights Schools leaders talked Wednesday night about security updates before students head back to classes on Tuesday, Aug. 7.

At a forum at Hamilton Heights High School, leaders said they added a new door numbering system to the inside of each building to help emergency responders better navigate the halls.

Administrators also are ramping up the district's

"See Something, Say Something" program.

Superintendent Derek Arrowood said, "You'll see more signage. You'll see more sophistication on how that process is communicated to students, to the administration, so we feel like that will allow us to know things before they happen rather than after they happen."

Hamilton Heights Schools already has one full-time school resource officer at each school. The district leaders said those officers went through training over the summer.

The district also ordered nine handheld metal detectors through Gov. Eric Holcomb's program.

DNR free activities highlight State Fair

The REPORTER

See live snakes, teach a child to fish, taste wild game and enjoy loads more of free activities with the DNR at the Indiana State Fair, Aug. 3-19.

Two DNR favorites, "Snakes Alive" and the Kids Fishin' Pond, kick off on the first day of the fair and will be offered daily.

An annual one-day favorite, the Taste of the Wild cookout, happens at 11 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 4. It is the ultimate food superstar at the State Fair. Visitors can try free samples, typically of steelhead trout, venison, barbecued beaver, turtle soup, Asian carp and more. The food is prepared and provided by DNR staff and volunteer groups.

Those events and more will be in or next to the air-conditioned Natural Resources Building, the hub of DNR State Fair activities. Check dnr.IN.gov/statefair for the entire DNR schedule, which is subject to change.

"Snakes Alive," a live snake show, will be offered daily throughout the fair. Interpretive naturalists from across Indiana will talk about snakes Hoosiers might find in their backyards. Also featured each afternoon is a program with at least one live bird of prey.

The 312,000-gallon Fishin' Pond is adjacent to the Natural Resources Building and is packed with fish that are ready to be caught and released. Youth fishing is available every day in the early evening and most mornings. Parents/guardians should check the daily schedule online or in the State Fair program. Exact hours differ on some days.

Visitors to the building also can view native Indiana fish in aquariums, pick up free copies of the just-off-the-presses Hunting Guide, the latest Recreation Guide and Fishing Guide and other informational brochures, subscribe to Outdoor Indiana magazine at a special State Fair deal, ask questions of DNR experts, visit Mother Nature's Mercantile to buy unique outdoors-themed items, or just take an air-conditioned break.

All DNR activities at the fair, except buying items at the Mercantile, are free after paying gate admission to the Indiana State Fair.

Noblesville Police encourage back to school safety

The REPORTER

Now that school has officially started in Noblesville, the Noblesville Police Department would like to ask all citizens to review some safety tips in order to ensure another safe school year.

If your children walk to school

- Make sure your children walk a prescribed route each day and reinforce the importance of not deviating from this route. If possible, try to arrange for your child to walk with a group of children if they are otherwise unaccompanied by an adult.

- Dress children in clothing that is sufficiently visible to motorists, such as light-colored clothing, reflective vests or backpacks that have attached lights or reflective material.

- Take time to remind children about what to do if a stranger approaches them while walking to or from school.

- Stress the importance of how to safely cross streets where a crossing guard is not present. Teach children to look carefully to the left, right and then left again if they have to cross the street.

- Have your children put everything they carry in a backpack or school bag so that they don't drop things on their way to school.

If your child rides a bike to school

- If your child rides a bike to school, ensure that they wear the proper safety equipment, including a helmet, light-colored clothing and proper reflective or lighting devices for their bike.

- Review with them the rules of the road and the proper use of hand signals.

When waiting for and riding the school bus

- Make sure your child stands at least 10 feet (five giant steps) from the road while waiting for the school bus. The child will then be out of the way of traffic. Have younger children practice taking five giant steps to become familiar with 10 feet.

- Ensure that children are not engaging in horseplay or other activities while waiting at bus stops that may subject them to unnecessary hazards associated with vehicular traffic.

- Make sure that children know to wait for the bus to come to a complete stop before approaching it.

- Be sure that your children can visually see the bus driver at all times before moving to board the bus.

- Encourage your children to wear a lap/shoulder seat belt if one is provided on the bus.

- Reinforce the rule that the school bus driver is in charge when they are on the school bus. School bus drivers have a tremendous responsibility to ensure that their undivided attention is focused on delivering children to and from school in the safest way possible. Unruliness, noisiness, or children moving about on the bus only stands to create a distraction for the bus driver that ultimately takes away from their ability to safely and effectively focus on driving.

- Warn children that if they drop something when getting on or off a bus that they should never pick it up. Instead, they should tell the bus driver and follow the driver's instructions. If they bend over to pick up a dropped object, they might not be seen by the driver and could be hurt if the driver pulls away from the stop.

Reminders for morning and late-afternoon commuters

- Be prepared for a longer commute due to the addition of school buses being out and about and increased vehicular traffic as a result of teenagers driving to school.

- Expect the unexpected. Watch for the possibility of children darting out into the street or children riding their bicycles, especially during the dark hours of the morning.

- Be patient and observe the law when approaching or following a school bus that activates its stop arm for loading and unloading of children.

- Be very mindful of intersections where children are prone to gather for the bus or at designated bus stops.

- Be mindful when traveling in or around areas where schools are located and the reduced speed limit. The typical speed in a school zone in Noblesville is 20 mph.

- The Noblesville Police Department takes a very proactive and committed stance to enforcing school bus arm violations and speeding in school zones. Officers are actively observing for potential violations each school morning and afternoon in order to provide the children of our community with the safest possible means to and from school. Motorists cited for either of these violations are required to make a mandatory appearance in court and if found guilty, can be fined up to $10,000 for the offense.

If parents have any additional questions or need additional clarification, they are encouraged to call 317-776-6340 ext. 1243 for Lt. Bruce Barnes, Public Information Officer, Noblesville Police Department.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him. For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues. And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God. And he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

GC's Pfefferkorn wins at Crooked Stick

Guerin Catholic's Angelica Pfefferkorn won the Crooked Stick Invitational on Thursday, making a birdie chip on a first playoff hole. Pfefferkorn is pictured with Tony Pancake, director of golf and club operation at Crooked Stick.

By RICHIE HALL

If people in the Indiana golf world don't know who Angelica Pfefferkorn is, they might want to start paying attention.

The Guerin Catholic junior chipped in a birdie to win a playoff at the Crooked Stick Invitational, which took place Thursday at the famous Carmel country club. Pfefferkorn and Zionsville's Annabelle Pancake both shot 71s after their rounds, and Pfefferkorn won on the first playoff hole.

"It was a great day," said Pfefferkorn. "The greens were rolling beautifully and I was hitting the shots I needed to."

The Eagles won the team tournament, shooting a 308. Carmel finished second with a 321, then the Golden Eagles took third by scoring 332. Westfield was fourth with 342.

Pfefferkorn admitted that she "definitely was nervous" before making the winning chip. "I was just trying to get as close as possible and make an up-and-down," she said. This was her first tournament victory since winning the Circle City Conference tournament last season.

"It feels great," said Pfefferkorn. "I'm off to a much better start than last season."

The Greyhounds were led by sophomore Katie Kuc, who placed third individually with a 74. Freshman Ava Hedrick helped out with a 78.

"This is a challenging course, so a couple of them, they've never seen before," said Carmel coach Kelly Kluesner. "We had some battles, but overall they played well, of course led by Katie. She played an awesome round."

After Pfefferkorn's round, senior Mckayla Tallman scored an 83 for the Golden Eagles, who will host the All-Catholic tournament today at Pebble Brook Golf Course in Noblesville.

"Angelica's obviously had a great start," said GC coach Mark Mathews. "Seventy-two, 74, 71. Nice playoff win today at Crooked Stick. I have a solid 2-3-4 and I don't know if they're putting too much pressure on themselves. They're not even coming close to playing to their potential, but they played solid golf today and they're working hard at it. That's all we can ask."

Jocelyn Bruch led the Shamrocks with a 75, with Natalie Shupe scoring an 80. Carmel and Westfield will next play Saturday at the Fall Preview meet at Prairie View.

Team scores: Zionsville 308, Carmel 321, Guerin Catholic 332, Westfield 342, Cathedral 435, Brebeuf Jesuit 454.

Medalist: Angelica Pfefferkorn (GC) 71, won in playoff.

Carmel scores: Katie Kuc 74, Ava Hedrick 78, Sydney Longstreth 84, Nina Hecht 85, Elizabeth Hedrick 87.

Other Guerin Catholic scores: Mckayla Tallman 83, Sophie McGinnis 86, Christina Pfefferkorn 92, Jenna Rust 112.

Westfield scores: Jocelyn Bruch 75, Natalie Shupe 80, Grace Snyder 93, Megan Barker 94, Cate Jensen 98.

Vinatieri's chase for history

By CHARLIE CLIFFORD WISH-TV

The Jordan year is here for the man with his own patented fist pump: Colts kicker Adam Vinatieri's 23 seasons in the NFL call for celebration with the best company at Colts Camp in Westfield.

"My youngest is 8 years old; I'm guessing he'll remember this 20 years from now I hope," Vinatieri said.

"And who knows, maybe I've got a couple more in me still, too. So, it's awesome to be able to be out there and talking football with my son and to have that opportunity. It's amazing."

Vinatieri's oldest son, A.J., blends in as a ball boy at Grand Park this summer.

It's a special year at home. Vinatieri, who owns the Record Breaking Ranch in Fulton, Montana, is just seven field goals and 58 total points away from surpassing Ben Davis High School alum Morten Anderson atop the NFL record books.

"Morton's an unbelievable kicker, a hall-of-famer," Vinatieri said. "He was a hero of mine growing up. So, to be able to be in kind of striking distance of him is a huge honor. If it happens I hope it's in the middle of a game and those points make a difference in us winning the game."

When you are the only kicker in NFL history to hit a field goal in four separate Super Bowls, the Colts public relations staff pays the price -- with 16 pages of the Colts 2018 media guide dedicated to Vinatieri. And while he didn't tell News 8's Charlie Clifford where on the White River the fountain of youth is located, he also didn't mention retirement during their interview.

"Twenty-three years, like you said, but it's been a lot of fun, and being around all these young guys keeps me young."

Forever young and forever true down the middle, Vinatieri took his fitness and wellness degree at South Dakota State -- he's put it into action, and then some.

Tonight's Colts practice will be called "Friday Night Lights," during which youth and high school football teams will be invited to camp. Practice is from 6 to 8:15 p.m., with Colts City open from 5 to 9 p.m.

Balanced offense leads Fever to 84-78 win over Wings

The Indiana Fever used balanced scoring to beat the Dallas Wings 84-78 at Bankers Life Fieldhouse on Thursday.

The Fever forced Dallas into committing 21 turnovers, and held a 29-14 advantage in points scored off turnovers. Trailing 37-34, the Fever closed the second quarter with a 9-2 run to take a 43-39 lead at the half, a lead they would not relinquish.

Cappie Pondexter scored the first eight points of the game for the Fever and finished with a season-high 18 points. Pondexter has scored in double-figures in seven of her 10 games with Indiana.

The Fever outscored Dallas 23-14 in the second quarter and closed the period with a 9-2 run, holding Dallas to one field goal the final 2:01 of the second quarter. Indiana shot 9-of-16 (56.2 percent in the second quarter). The Fever led 43-39 at the half.

The Fever had six players score in double-figures for the first time this season. The last time this happened was July 10, 2016 at Seattle.

"That was a nice win," said Indiana coach Pokey Chatman. "I told the players it was nice having six players in double figures. We stuck to our scout, we maintained consistency in our offensive looks and we attacked Liz Cambage in the halfcourt. She's a really great player, you can't just expect to stop her, so our approach was throw bodies at her and make her work harder. One way to get to her is to make her work on the defensive end, too. We forced her into seven turnovers which I thought was big. She got her points, but we didn't let anybody else break out and hurt us."

Victoria Vivians connected on four 3-point field goals and now has 50 for the season. With Kelsey Mitchell's 59, 3-point field goals, the duo are the second rookie pair in WNBA history to record 50 or more in a season (Tonya Edwards (66) Katie Smith (52) in 1999 for Minnesota).

Candice Dupree scored 12 points for the Fever. It is her sixth straight game scoring in double-figures and she has scored in double-digits in 19 of 27 games for Indiana.

The Fever tallied a season-high 13 steals. Victoria Vivians had a season-high four steals.

Natalie Achonwa grabbed five rebounds and moved into eighth on the Fever all-time list for career rebounds. She now has 454.

Indiana next plays Saturday at New York.

Thursday morning at Colts practice
