Heavy rains may bring local floods

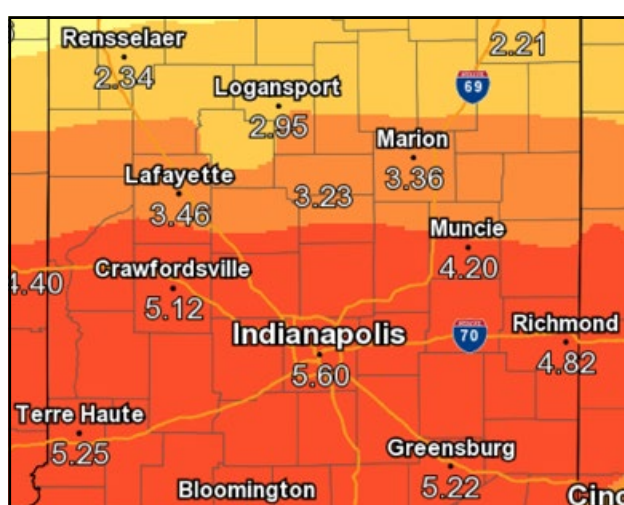

Hamilton County Emergency Management encourages being proactive

By STU CLAMPITT

Due to the heavy rain in the forecast, Hamilton County Emergency Management Agency (EMA) is making sandbags available to all Hamilton County residents this weekend.

"The National Weather Service has issued a flash flood watch from Saturday morning through Sunday evening," EMA Executive Director Shane Booker told the Reporter. "We can see heavy rainfall and what we are concerned with is the inflow of moisture from the remnants of Tropical Storm Gordon coupled with the cold front that is going to stall over the area. We can see prolonged heavy rainfall during that time."

At 8 a.m. on Friday morning, Hamilton County EMA took the proactive step of making sandbags available to the public.

(Left) The Indianapolis area could get up to 6 inches of rain by Sunday afternoon. This forecast map was released Friday morning and is valid through 2 p.m. Sunday. (Right) It doesn't take much water to find yourself in unexpected danger. "Turn around, don't drown!"

"People can pick those up from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. through Sunday," Booker said. "If we see there is a need to keep it open 24 hours a day we will do that and will notify people on social media to make sure everyone is aware. There is no limitation on how many they can take. It is

The numbers are in! The 2018 Gala held in late August raised over $200,000 for Prevail's programs.

Prevail's Signature Gala was an outstanding success

The REPORTER

Prevail, Inc. is pleased to announce that its 2018 Signature Gala, presented by Hare Chevrolet, was another successful opportunity to engage the community in providing hope and healing for friends and neighbors who need it. Thanks to supporters, this year's event raised over $200,000 for victims and to prevent future violence in the community.

In addition to Presenting Sponsor Hare Chevrolet, the event was sponsored by Partner Sponsors St. Vincent Hospital and Scooch, and Companion Sponsor The Grainger Foundation as well as Bidle Memorial Foundation.

The evening began with a cocktail hour and signature drink, the Courage Cuvée, sponsored by Gregor Private Wealth Group and Mr. G's Liquors. Sun King Brewery also provided selections from their locally brewed beer list. Dinner followed, where attendees had an opportunity to purchase a golden ticket that provided them with a chance at the live auction item of their choice. The winners chose an exclusive culinary experience in Tuscany, Italy, with all expenses, including airfare, included.

During dinner, attendees enjoyed a program with a presentation from a courageous speaker, Christina Parker-Benton, who credits Prevail with restoring her hope. The program was emceed by John Freed of Waterline Church and included a live auction with auctioneer Mark Volk.

Dessert was an assortment of delicious cupcakes provided by Heavenly Sweets. To top the night

Unusual factors may influence Election 2018

The days following Labor Day usually mark the beginning of the fall election campaign. In Hamilton County there is usually not much of a campaign in non-presidential board members are facing re-election.

First is the red-hot race for a U.S. Senate seat in which incumbent Democrat Joe Donnelly is being challenged by Republican Mike Braun. Our county may find itself at an important place in the statewide race. A big Republican plurality here may be needed by Braun in what is believed to be a close contest. The outcome could even determine control of the Senate where the GOP currently has only a 51-49 edge.

The second factor that may spice this year's general election is the school board race in each of the county's six districts. A referendum asking for a $50 million bond issue in Noblesville may bring greater than normal interest in the non-partisan competition for two seats on the five-member school board.

And, at Carmel the dismissal of a successful girls basketball coach combined with plans to close Orchard Park Elementary School have stirred controversy where three of the five years. But three factors at play this year may bring life to the off-year election.

And, a third factor in this year's campaign came about when Democrats fielded more candidates for local office than have been seen in many years. Party Chairman Joe Weingarten has indicated there will be a more aggressive local campaign than in the past.

Republican Chairwoman Laura Campbell, aware of the Democrats' plans, sent an email update to party workers and volunteers this week pointing out the importance of the Senate, state legislative and county races. She said the party has been at work this summer identifying potential party supporters.

Meanwhile, next year's city elections, in which some candidates have already made their plans known, will likely have to take a backseat until after the statewide Nov. 6 contests are decided.

Fishers Safety Day canceled

The REPORTER

The heavy rain forecast Saturday has resulted in the cancellation of Safety Day, scheduled for the St. Vincent's Hospital parking lot, near I-69's Exit 210. The event is coordinated by the hospital and the Fishers Fire Department. Fire department officials said, "With current forecasts, we feel the safest approach for attendees, vendors, emergency responders and staff is to keep everyone out of the elements."

Dine on the Causeway still on in Cicero

The REPORTER

According to event organizer Sue Baker, the Dine on the Causeway event hosted by Our Town Cicero Main Street Association will not be rescheduled due to weather. Organizers are taking steps to ensure everyone who has a reservation will still be able to enjoy this annual event, though this time it will be in tents set up at Red Bridge Park.

Attendees are asked to dress appropriately for the cooler weather and for the wet grass. Baker told The Reporter that live entertainment and dancing will be offered, but since dancing will be on the grass, please wear more comfortable shoes. Baker said if anyone wants to wear casual clothing, that will be fine. You can also come in a cocktail dress and sneakers if you want.

Editor's note: The Reporter's camera will be at the event to capture images to share with our readers, and we secretly hope to find someone in evening attire with rain boots on!

Noblesville Movie in the Park rescheduled

The REPORTER

The heavy rain caused by Tropical Storm Gordon continuing throughout the weekend has caused Noblesville city officials to postpone a Noblesville Parks Department event, the Summer Movie in the Park screening of "Despicable Me 3" on Saturday.

"Forecasts of two to four inches of rain over the weekend is not complimentary for our free outdoor community events," said Noblesville Parks Director Brandon Bennett. "With the expected rain amounts, we want to be proactive so attendees aren't soaking wet or sitting in a muddy mess."

Although the movie will not be shown this weekend, the parks department will offer a double feature on Saturday, Sept. 15 with "Despicable Me 3" (90 minutes) starting at approximately 8:15 p.m. and "Jumanji: Welcome to the Jungle" (119 minutes) playing shortly afterwards. The movies will take place at Forest Park Shelter No. 1. Light concessions will be available for purchase.

The parks department will work with its partners to determine future plans for the postponed Wine Down with Art event. If a rescheduled date is determined, the city will announce it online and through social media and through media outlets.

Get involved with CERT

CERT volunteers are on standby this weekend as the potential for flooding arises. You could be one of those volunteers by getting free training from Hamilton County EMA. The CERT Basic Course starts on Tuesday, Sept. 11. Learn how to help your family, neighbors and community during a disaster. To sign up, email Jon Baldwin at Jon.Baldwin@hamiltoncounty.in.gov or visit hamiltoncounty.in.gov/CERT.

to do that," Booker said. "They can perform their normal role where they are ready to assist people in their community, or we would use them as disaster volunteers where they could work in the county emergency operations center, they can help support cities local emergency operations centers, and they can do a whole host of things that we might need during a disaster."

Hamilton County EMA has already reached out to the groups that staff the emergency operations center and asked for a staffing roster for this weekend, thus to have people available and on call to come in if needed. EMA is also in close communication with the National Weather Service to stay closely informed. Booker said EMA is pushing information on social media to keep people informed and encourage them to take this seriously.

"One of the things we always worry about is when people are out driving in heavy rain. If they are driving through flood water, they really have no idea what is under the water," Booker said. "They assume the road is there, but you really don't know for sure. We use the phrase 'Turn around; don't drown' that comes from the National Weather Service."

There will certainly not be a staffing issue if more sandbags are needed due to a partnership between EMA and the Hamilton County Sheriff's Department.

"We keep between 2,000 to 3,000 sandbags filled at any given time year-round," Booker told The Reporter. "We also have 10,000 unfilled sandbags. If we need to make sandbags we can use some of the inmate workers who would normally go out to perform litter cleanup and

In the first three hours on Friday morning, EMA had already given away 500 sandbags. You can get yours at 1717 Pleasant St., Noblesville.

No limit on sandbags

Hamilton County EMA has sandbags available to county resident at the recycling center at 1717 Pleasant Street, Noblesville from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. all weekend. There is no limit on how many bags you can take, but you do have to load your own bags into your vehicle and you will have to dispose of them after the potential flooding on your own. EMA cannot accept returned sandbags. Check the Hamilton County EMA Facebook page for updates.

roadside cleanup."

Due to potential liability issues, EMA cannot load the sandbags for you.

"When people come to pick up the bags they do have to load them themselves," Booker said. "So if Grandma needs sandbags she should take someone with her. We have had several people who are surprised by how quickly these bags weigh down their car and some had to make two or three trips. After the flooding is over the sandbags need to be disposed of in your trash or in a landfill because you never know what may have been absorbed in the sand, so we cannot take them back, not does household hazardous waste. People must dispose of them as they would with potentially contaminated soil."

You are advised to have a plan of attack and have your sandbags laid out before the water starts to rise on your property. Getting them after your property begins to flood is usually too late.

Chinese Mooncake Festival tonight in Carmel

The REPORTER

Come celebrate the City of Carmel's annual Chinese Mooncake Festival, including the popular Dragon Parade tonight. The parade will begin at 6:10 p.m. and the festival will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Saturday night. The festival will take place at the Indiana Design Center, 200 S. Range Line Road, Carmel.

The event is sponsored by the City of Carmel, the Carmel-Xiangyang Sister City Committee and IU Health North hospital.

The Chinese Mooncake Festival is a free event featuring music, dance, mooncakes and a traditional Dragon Parade through the streets of the Carmel Arts & Design District.

The Mooncake Festival, or Mid-Autumn Festival, is the second most important holiday celebrated in China, after the Chinese New Year, and takes place during the full moon.

According to Chinese legend, there was a time when 10 suns hung in the sky, baking the earth and depriving the people of water and life. An archer named Hou Yi climbed a high mountain and shot down nine of the suns with his bow, saving the earth from certain destruction. As a reward, the Lady Queen Mother gave Hou Yi the elixir of immortality, offering eternal life and enabling him fly to the heavens. He in turn gave it to his wife Chang'e for safekeeping while he was out hunting.

While Hou Yi was away, one of his apprentices tried to steal the elixir. In a panic, Chang'e drank the potion, became a goddess herself, and rose into the night sky. But out of love for her husband, she landed on the place closest to Earth — the moon. When Hou Yi returned and found his wife gone, he was devastated. He looked up to the sky as he called out her name, and saw her there — the goddess of the Moon. He was so overwhelmed, he brought out her favorite cakes and prayed to the gods for blessings from Heaven.

Since that time nearly 3,000 years ago, the Chinese people worship Heaven and celebrate with mooncakes on the anniversary of that momentous day. Thus, the Mooncake Festival is famous among the Chinese. In modern times, families sit together and look at the moon to show appreciation for Heaven, earth and family unity, symbolized by the round shape of the mooncake.

Video shows van thief darting through headstone business

By BRENNA DONNELLY
WISH-TV | wishstv.com

Detectives are looking for a woman seen in surveillance video darting through a yard of unfinished headstones before stealing a van.

The footage was captured at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 31, according to Dale Robinson, owner of Monuments by Robinson and Sons. He has owned his business since 2002, and began reviewing his security footage when he saw someone zigzagging through his lot of monuments, ducking behind a power meter and sitting on unfinished headstones.

"It's kinda funny," Robinson said. "We figured maybe she was going to a party, and she was late."

In the video, a white woman wearing a black tank top, dark pants and carrying a bag is seen darting into the monument lot. She takes cover behind a power meter and sits down on stacked headstones. A few minutes pass, and she stands up and slowly walks to hide behind a nearby shed. After a few seconds, she is seen running across the lawn to a neighbor's shed.

"(She) stayed there for a few minutes, got in the van, stayed in there for a few minutes. Next thing we know, the van takes off," said Robinson.

Sheriff's office detectives say the van turned up the next day about 10 minutes away in a Cicero neighborhood just east of Morse Reservoir, near the intersection of Lincoln Drive and Lee Court. The mystery thief was nowhere to be found.

If you have any information about this incident, please contact Hamilton County Sheriff's Office Detective Alex Petty at 317-776-9887.

Deadline nearing for native tree orders from Soil and Water Conservation District

The REPORTER

A large tree for shade on a hot summer day, a compact street tree near the sidewalk, or a shrub to provide screening or wildlife habitat? The Hamilton County Soil and Water Conservation District native tree sale has you covered for all of your tree needs. With 32 species available, there is the perfect tree or shrub for your property.

All offerings are $28 each and will arrive in three-gallon containers and be approximately three to five feet tall at delivery. A five-gallon Arborvitae is available for $40. Pre-orders are required and are due Sept. 28. Trees can be picked up from noon to 6 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 5 at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds Llama Barn. Order forms and online ordering are available at hamiltonswcd.org.

This tree sale focuses on species native to Indiana. Native species are those that have been growing in Indiana since before English settlement. These types of trees are uniquely suited to local soils and weather, but most importantly, they are uniquely suited to support local wildlife - especially birds, insects and other pollinators. Three-gallon trees are a great choice as they are easy to maneuver and plant, economical and will grow quickly.

In addition to native trees, 15-gallon watering bags are also available in this year's sale. The tree sale is the district's largest annual fundraiser. All proceeds go back into conservation education and the district's cost share program.

Indiana party leaders clash over replacing state's voting machines

By DAVID WILLIAMS
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Indiana Democrats want to replace the state's voting machines, all in the name of election security.

The nonpartisan non-profit Verified Voting created a map of the myriad of equipment that will be used in Indiana counties on Nov. 6. Marion County and Vigo County will use paper ballots. Others will use a mix of electronic and paper machines. Most counties, including Allen and Vanderburgh, are all electronic.

Indiana's Democratic Party Chairman John Zody said he wants all of Indiana's 92 counties to use voting machines that leave a paper trail.

Zody said from the party's headquarters, "Today, I'm calling on Secretary of State Connie Lawson to take quick and decisive action to assist counties with replacing machines with an audit-able system, before the Nov. 6, 2018, election. It's possible because Virginia did it last year."

Two weeks ago, Lawson, a Republican, said the state's voting machines can handle hackers or cyberattacks because the machines are not connected to the internet.

But, Zody said, the security issue comes from how your vote is counted.

"Every voter needs to know the right they have is protected. Both in the process of exercising that right, as well as in the accounting of it. That is currently not the case," the Democrat chairman said.

Zody added, "If there's not an audit-able trail, there's a potential problem with whether that machine could break down or be compromised. If you don't have that second step, that paper trail, that's all done electronically. There's no way I can say 'Something didn't go (right) or let's check the work on this machine, that's the issue.'"

On Friday, Indiana Republican Party Chairman Kyle Hupher said, "What we saw today was a blatantly partisan and purely political attempt to undermine the credibility of our elections by the Indiana Democrat Party. Every vote cast in Indiana already has a paper trail, and no voting equipment is connected to the Internet. Hoosiers should feel confident that their elections are safe, free and secure, and that's all thanks to the leadership of Secretary of State Connie Lawson."

Zody said it could cost $25 million to $36 million to replace Indiana's voting machines.

But where would that money come from? Zody mentioned federal funding.

Zody said, "But, it could also come from the state. There's no reason why, if we have a surplus, there are ways the state could pay for this ... why they couldn't step up and do that."

Lawson's campaign did not respond to a request for its thoughts on what the Democrats want.

But the Indiana Republican Party said on Friday Lawson addressed the National Conference of State Legislators Election Security Summit, which was in Indianapolis. Indiana's GOP said Indianapolis was chosen because Indiana is leading the way in election security upgrades and best practices.

Purdue University named fourth best valued institution in United States

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The Wall Street Journal and Times Higher Education have named Purdue University the fourth best valued institution in the United States.

The survey, released Wednesday, included 938 institutions. It calculated the universities by dividing each of the top 250 schools' overall score (WSJ/THE rankings of U.S. Institutions), by its average net price. The rankings took into account four areas. Forty percent of the overall score is based on student outcomes, 30 percent from resources, 20 percent from engagement with students and 10 percent from the learning environment, according to the Wall Street Journal.

Berea College in Kentucky, the University of North Carolina and the University of Washington ranked above Purdue, respectively.

The survey also listed Purdue as the sixth best public university in the country, falling one spot from its number five rank last year. UCLA, Michigan, California Berkeley, North Carolina and the California Davis rank ahead of Purdue among public universities.

Purdue froze tuition for the seventh consecutive year in April. The university's current tuition freeze will continue through the 2019-20 academic year. Tuition for the 2019-20 academic year will be nearly the same tuition paid in the 2012-13 year. Five graduating classes at Purdue will have earned Purdue degrees without an increase.

Kimberly McMillan, 49, Noblesville, passed peacefully Wednesday evening, Sept. 5, 2018, at Riverview Health, three days before her 50th birthday. She was surrounded by her loving family.

She was born 50 years ago today, Sept. 8, 1968, at Riverview Hospital in Noblesville, the daughter of Charles C. and Dorothy O. McMillan. She grew up the youngest of three children, with siblings, Charlie McMillan Jr. and Debbie (McMillan) Mason, both of Noblesville.

“Kimmy” was a sweet, funny, gifted and one-of-a-kind sister who was creative and artistic and led a crazy-fun and adventurous life. During one summer, as a teen, she raced BMX bikes.

She was a 1987 graduate of Noblesville High School, where she discovered her passion for art, with her favorite medium being charcoal. At NHS, she earned a Scholastic Gold Key award in Visual Arts for her charcoal drawing of Michelangelo’s Virgin Mary. She was involved in theater/drama productions, both on stage and behind the scenes, painting the sets. She was also a member of the choir. During her senior year, she was named “Class Clown” and received a brick award for that honor. She was also recognized in “Who’s Who Among American High School Students.”

She attended Indiana State University, studying graphic design, 1987-89; and attended IUPUI Herron School of Art, 1993-94.

She managed the front office of her family’s business, the former McMillan’s Shell, which is now McMillan’s Auto Care & Towing, in downtown Noblesville, 1985-1998. She proclaimed herself “Petro Princess” and would often entertain customers who would stop in just to talk to her.

She loved to make people laugh and competed with her stand-up-comedy monologues in a Women of Comedy contest in Indianapolis.

She was owner of The Otherside Vintage Collectibles in Noblesville, 1994-1998; assistant department head/sales for Galyan’s Trading Post in Carmel, 1996-97; assistant store manager of D.E.M.O., an urban clothing retailer in Riverside, Calif., 1998-2000; and department manager for Big Kmart in Noblesville, 2000-2005. She also worked in a bakery in Alabama, Trader Joe’s and Starbucks, and she was a lunch lady at Fishers High School cafeteria.

She completed training in 2008 to be a chef at The Chef’s Academy in Indianapolis, where she had the unique opportunity to complete a culinary internship at Walt Disney World Resort in Orlando, Fla.

She loved animals, especially her black pug, Grady. She was an avid collector of vintage and collectible toys. She was a kid at heart and loved all kinds of toys, enjoying five years working in the toy department at Kmart.

Survivors include: parents, Charles C. and Dorothy O. McMillan, Noblesville; brother, Charlie C. McMillan Jr. (Betsy Reason), Noblesville; sister, Debra “Debbie” L. (Floyd) Mason, Noblesville; niece, Chelsea (Andy) Mason-Duvall, and nephew, Zachary Mason, both Noblesville; great nieces, Addison McMillan and Lexianne Duvall, both Noblesville; also great nephew and great nieces, Owen, Macie and Carly Duvall, all Noblesville; aunts and uncles, Cynthia (Dan) Pfleging and Zilpha McFall, both Noblesville, Larry McMillan (Paula Fischer), Lexington, Ky., Ronnie McMillan, Lenoir City, Tenn., and Bob (Betty) McMillan, Lapel; and many cousins.

TODAY’S BIBLE READING

And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb. And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught. And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

High school football - Week 4

Noblesville 'D' forces four turnovers, beats Westfield for Midland Rail trophy

By CRAIG ADKINS

It wasn't easy to pinpoint prior to the Friday night's game exactly what each team's offensive focus would be. With it raining all day in Central Indiana, Noblesville and Westfield would both put their running games to the test. On a wet, drenched Beaver Materials Field's turf, it would be Noblesville that would prevail with a 10-2 home win over Westfield.

For the first time in three seasons, Noblesville football gets to keep the Midland Rail trophy in their possession. The last win in the storied series was a 17-12 win during the 2014 season. This win over Westfield also marks the first time since 2013 that the Millers have gotten themselves off to a 2-0 record in Hoosier Crossroads Conference play.

On the second play from scrimmage, senior tailback Eddie Dziennik ran a dive right into the pile off of the left guard. As soon as he got to the line, Dziennik spun half a turn toward the outside and found himself out into the open and up the home sideline for a 75-yard touchdown run that gave Noblesville a 7-0 lead, less than a minute into the game.

"The funny thing about Eddie, he's had a leg injury since the pre-season against Warren in one of our scrimmages and he has played through it," said Noblesville head coach Justin Roden on his senior tailback.

"We'd love him to get more carries, because he's a really good runner. We're balancing the carries between he and Blevins a little bit tonight. He is a little shorter when he gets inside that pile like that, it's easy to lose him," Roden continued on Dziennik and how he got loose to score.

That's exactly what happened on the lone touchdown of the night. When Dziennik busted through the hole, he fooled and lost everyone. Nobody knew he had the ball until he was all alone on his way to the end zone. Westfield's punt return defense was responsible for the two Shamrock points on the scoreboard. During a constant downpour of rain, the punt snap to punter Jack Knight, deep in his own territory, slipped off his hands and he was tackled in the end zone for a safety, cutting the Miller lead to 7-2.

After the ensuing Noblesville kickoff back to Westfield, Wyatt Blades picked off Camden Simons at the Shamrock 34. A few plays later, Jack Knight booted through 30-yard field goal that would prove to ultimately be the final score of 10-2.

The next Westfield drive, junior tailback Eli Patchett had the ball knocked out of his hands and Blades dove on it at the Westfield 37. After gaining no yards on three plays, Knight attempted a 54-yard field goal that only landed five yards into the end zone.

With two teams that center their offenses around their running game, the rain wasn't going to be a factor for either game plan.

"These are true running teams, so neither of us are scared to play in the rain, I guarantee you. They were just better than us tonight," said Westfield head coach Jake Gilbert on Noblesville getting the best of his team, weather aside.

The Shamrocks' first series of the third quarter turned out the same as their last full possession of the second. Blades stepped in front of Kyle Pepiot and intercepted another Simons pass, his second of the game.

In a game when it's raining all night it becomes a game of field position and whoever wins the field position battle tends to come out on top.

"You can't turn it over three times, so in a field position game like this, field position matters," said Gilbert on how costly his team's four turnovers were.

It was the middle of the fourth when Noblesville pretty much sealed the fate of the game. Westfield was driving down the field and with a 1st-and-10 at the Millers' 38 and Simons decided to throw over the middle and he was picked off by senior cornerback Zach Gruver.

Westfield wasn't able to get anything going offensively, gaining just 70 yards on 33 carries for a 2.1 average.

"When you get shut out, you pretty much played bad offensively," said Gilbert on his offense's dismal performance.

"Kudos to those guys. They played great defensively. Adam Metzler is a very, very good defensive coordinator. Coach Roden's doing a good job with this group," Gilbert praising Noblesville's defensive effort against his Shamrocks.

Noblesville's great defensive play continued from last week at Fishers and right into this game with Westfield.

"I believe that's eight quarters now that we haven't given up a touchdown," said Roden, commending his defense as it started conference play.

"The scheme that we're playing, it's a 'bend, but don't break' defense, but it's also a defense one that requires you do one job," Roden on his defense philosophy that's on the front of his playbook.

The Miller defense took the Shamrock offense completely out of their comfort zone by forcing four turnovers and ultimately stopping them the entire game. The same running game that ran for 345 yards and five scores last week vs. Zionsville was limited to just 70 yards on 33 rushes.

"We're not the sexiest team to watch. We're trying to be fundamentally sound and try to make people beat us," said Roden on his team's play overall and how it's translated into two consecutive victories.

Westfield (2-2, 1-1 HCC) heads home next week to face another tough HCC opponent with Hamilton Southeastern (2-2, 1-1 HCC). The Royals beat Fishers on Friday to win the Mudsock game, 14-10.

Eli Patchett led the Shamrocks with 20 carries for 50 yards and also caught three passes for 38 yards out of the backfield. Patrick Beam caught two for 31, Levi Kaster snagged two for 26 and Dane Wheeler two for 24.

Noblesville (2-2, 2-0 HCC) sits tied for first place in the HCC with Brownsburg. The Millers travel next week to Boone County to face Zionsville (2-2, 1-1 HCC), who won at home over Franklin Central, 44-19.

The Miller offense showed signs that it is starting to come alive. Dziennik led with a game-high 92 yards on eight carries, including his 75-yard TD. It was an improvement, as the Millers gained 178 yards as a team on 36 carries. Senior Luke Blevins ran 21 times for 74 yards, but it was the good surprise of Dziennik who gave the Millers' rushing game the spark that was needed.

Royals grind out a Mudsock victory

By RICHIE HALL

Mudsock football games should be memorable, and Friday's showdown between Hamilton Southeastern and Fishers definitely will be remembered.

The Royals won a tense 14-10 game over the Tigers at Reynolds Royals Stadium in conditions that ranged from light rain to heavy rain. Southeastern trailed at halftime, but scored on a resolute third-quarter drive, then held on in the fourth period.

"I'm just happy for our kids because they work so hard," said Royals coach Adam Morris. "We just preach to them about culture and process and work. At some point, these kids need some results, keep believing, and at HSE, this is the biggest result we can get."

It was a thrilling game, although not a pretty one. The only score in the first quarter was a safety by Fishers, awarded when a Royals snap went into the end zone.

Southeastern got on the board at the beginning of the second quarter. A huge pass from quarterback Kody Sparks to Ben Boysen moved the ball 32 yards, to the Tigers' 2-yard line. Royals running back Matt Harris carried the ball into the end zone on a 1-yard run seconds later. Mitch Hebenstreit followed it with an extra point kick.

The Tigers dominated the second quarter. Starting from its own 28 with 10:54 left in the period, Fishers ground the ball into Southeastern's red zone. Dylan Scally and HL Lewis each made several runs during the drive.

The Royals managed to stop the drive on 4th-and-1, halting the Tigers' at the 8-yard line. But Southeastern fumbled the ball on the first play, and Fishers got the ball back at the HSE 17. Scally used a series of short runs to move the ball to the 2-yard line, and quarterback Marcus Roux took it in from there to score. Roux then made a two-point conversion run to put the Tigers up 10-7, and that would be the halftime score.

"They did a great job, they came out, they ran the football," said Morris. "I thought they were really patient. I thought we got a little impatient, maybe try to throw it. They just kept running it and had success."

Both teams struggled with turnovers in the first half, but HSE was able to get things together in the second half. The Royals began the third quarter with a long drive of their own, starting at the 20 and ending with a touchdown.

Harris was again the star, running the ball on all but one of the plays in that drive. The only time Harris didn't touch the ball was on a pass from Sparks to Jackson Lantz, but that was also a big play - a 17-yard pass to get the ball to the Fishers 5-yard line.

The Royals got to the 2, then were stopped a couple times. But on 4th-and-2, Harris stepped up again, punching the ball in. Hebenstreit made the extra point kick.

Neither team scored for the remainder of the game, although Fishers threatened on the next drive, getting all the way to HSE's 3-yard line on fourth down early in the fourth quarter. But the Royals' defense forced a fumble and recovered the ball. Both teams traded possessions for the remainder of the game.

"We just found a way to win," said Morris. "It's a classic game. We easily could've lost this one."

Everyone earned their yards in this game due to the conditions. Harris finished with 65 yards in 25 carries, while Lance Stephens gained 23 yards on seven rushes. As for the Tigers, Scally ran 26 times for 103 yards, with Lewis getting 43 yards on 12 carries.

"We just told our kids 'Hey, it's just what this game is right now,'" said Morris. "We got to go run it and win it and we did."

The rain didn't allow for much passing, but both quarterbacks threw the ball well. Sparks was 3-of-6 for 45 yards, while Roux went 6-of-10 for 46 yards.

The win improved Southeastern to 2-2 overall and 1-1 in Hoosier Crossroads Conference play, while the Tigers are 1-3 overall and 0-2 in the HCC. The Royals play at Westfield next Saturday, with the Tigers hosting Brownsburg.

'Hounds dispatch Pike, even MIC record at 1-1

By JIM BELSER

Carmel evened its Metropolitan Interscholastic Conference record at 1-1 Friday night at home, dispatching the Pike Red Devils 28-13 in wet and rainy conditions.

The Class 6A No. 5 Greyhounds (3-1) withstood Pike's pass heavy offense and scramble capabilities of its quarterback Jason Graves, while controlling the action on the ground with a solid running game.

But it was two big pass plays by Carmel's tandem quarterback lineup of Tyler Tent and Gabe Quigley that sealed the victory. Trent delivered a 51-yard bomb to Sam Rodgers for a touchdown to start the third quarter, giving Carmel a 21-0 lead. Quigley added a 14-yard TD pass to Rhett Williams midway through the fourth.

"If you would have told me that we would have held them scoreless after three quarters, I would have been more than pleased," Carmel coach John Hebert said, relieved after watching Pike's spread offense roll but come up empty. "They are so explosive, we knew they would show us a lot of offensive looks, we had to mix it up on defense to try to and stay with them, Graves is such a smart player. They are going to beat a lot of teams this year."

Carmel piled up 259 yards on the ground on 45 carries, led by Dylan Downing's 155. Pike amassed 324 yards passing, completing 23-of-45 in the air.

Pike scored on a touchdown pass with 20 seconds to go in the third after a pass interference call on the Carmel defense. The Red Devils added another TD pass with under a minute to go in the game. Apart from that, Graves and the Red Devils never threatened the goal line as Graves was often left to scramble or endure a sack.

"Our defense was able put pressure on him and I thought we did a nice job in coverage," Hebert said. "We have a good group of linebackers, and we can do more on defense than if we didn't have those guys."

A blocked punt for a touchdown by Carmel started things off right for the Greyhounds. With 4:45 left in the first quarter, Carmel reached the punter near Pike's goal line and blocked the attempt. Carmel's Owen Schafer hustled to the loose ball for the recovery in the end zone, allowing for a Carmel 7-0 lead.

On Carmel's next possession, its drive was cut short by a fumble recovered by Pike at the Carmel 49. The Greyhounds returned the favor on the following Pike possession. As the Red Devils initiated a passing attack with rain coming down, Jack Huntington of Carmel picked off Pike quarterback Jason Graves at the Carmel five-yard line. The sophomore cornerback returned it to the 34-yard line.

Both teams traded possessions for much of the second quarter, with Pike opting for the passing game while Carmel kept it on the ground. Carmel began to move the ball on the ground with the help of sophomore running back Zach White. White, coming off the bench, churned his way through the Pike defense for several big gains.

The White led possession ended in a touchdown by Carmel with 2:23 left in the half as Downing crossed the goal line up the middle from the two-yard line, upping the Greyhound lead 14-0. Beau Robbins ended Pike's final drive of the first half, sacking Graves with 47 seconds left on third down.

'Hawks get third straight shutout, are 3-0 in HHC play

Sheridan did something on Friday that it hasn't done in recent memory: Produce a third straight shutout.

The Blackhawks traveled to Carroll for a Hoosier Heartland Conference game and returned home with a 52-0 victory. Sheridan scored in all four quarters, including two touchdowns in each of the last three periods.

On defense, the Blackhawks didn't allow a point for the third game in a row, the first time they have done this during the last 25 years. All three of those shutouts have come against HHC teams; Sheridan is now 3-0 and leading the conference standings.

The 'Hawks totaled 372 rushing yards, with James Manis accounting for 201 of those yards on 25 carries. Manis scored three touchdowns, starting with a 66-yard run in the second quarter. He then added two more scores on one-yard runs in the second half.

"We got the ball and drove it back down their throats and scored," said Sheridan coach Bud Wright. "They couldn't stop the running game."

The Blackhawks kept their offense mostly on the ground, but were very efficient when they did take to the air. Drake Delph completed 3 of 5 passes, including two touchdown throws to Jesse Kolb. Delph also ran in a first-quarter touchdown, and made five two-point conversions.

Evan Bourdon completed the Sheridan scoring with a 14-yard run in the fourth quarter. Cameron Hovey gained 75 yards in 19 carries.

"We're getting better," said Wright. "We're coming along."

The 'Hawks continue action in the HHC next week with a trip to Clinton Prairie. Overall, Sheridan is 3-1 for the season.

Huskies beat Northwestern for first win of the season

Hamilton Heights broke through for its first win of the season on Friday, cruising past Northwestern 30-7 in an away game.

It was a good time to win, as it was also the opener for the Huskies in Hoosier Conference East Division play. Heights began its run to victory with 2:16 left in the first quarter when Carter Campassi scored on a quarterback keeper.

Seconds later, Alex Roth recovered a fumble for the Huskies, and Campassi delivered a touchdown pass to Tad DeFoe, putting Heights up 14-0 with 1:37 left. Michael Lecher then kicked a 30-yard field goal, putting the Huskies up 17-0 at halftime.

The Tigers scored early in the third quarter, but that was a mere bump in the road. Campassi scored his second touchdown of the game on another keeper, then Cordell Cowan ran in from seven yards to get a TD of his own.

With the victory, the Huskies are tied with Tipton atop the East Division leaderboard with Tipton. Both schools are 1-0. Heights will return home next Friday to take on Western, which has yet to play a conference game this season. The Panthers are 3-1 with wins over Twin Lakes, Rensselaer Central and Benton Central, and a Week 2 loss to Lafayette Jefferson.

Complete stats were not available at press time and will run in a later edition.
