Bringing nature to preschoolers at Westfield Washington Schools

The REPORTER

Westfield Washington Township (WWT) is collaborating with Westfield Washington Schools (WWS) to bring nature and parks into the preschool classrooms. Preschool students are not yet old enough to take a field trip to MacGregor Park, so the township decided to bring the field trip to them.

Kristy White, Director of Education for the township, will visit the eight All Aboard classes once a month through the school year. Kristy has over 10 years of experience teaching preschool enrichment programs at the township.

"We hope to bring nature-related themes into the All Aboard program as well as other preschool related topics," said White.

Research has shown that introducing young children to nature can promote creativity, reduce anxiety and increase their interest in the environment. The township's goal is to work with WWS to help build an environmental education program that will get children excited about nature and outdoor space so as they get older they will be interested in visiting passive nature parks such as MacGregor Park.

"Strong partners like Westfield Washington Township allow us to broaden our students' educational experience beyond the classroom," said Marci Derado, Di-WWT and we hope to expand the program in the future to include more elementary-aged students."

Noblesville School Board candidate Durm injured vacationing in Mexico

The REPORTER

Noblesville School Board candidate Brian Durm was recently injured while vacationing with his family in Cancun, Mexico.

According to a GoFundMe page established to assist with medical expenses, Durm fell, causing a tremendous amount of trauma to his head, lungs, spinal column as well as breaking his arm.

The page stated, "The damage to Brian's head is quite severe, so much so that he needed the pressure drained from brain to survive. His left orbital bone is completely fractured and there is fear of him losing his vision."

The page indicated Durm spent a week in a hospital in Cancun until he was transported via medevac to an Indianapolis Neurological Intensive Care Unit.

Nation fractured over Kavanaugh? No way

To listen to the national mainstream news media you would think that America is deeply divided and being torn apart as never before over the appointment of Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court.

I don't see it, especially not here. Some would say Hamilton County is not typical of the nation as a whole. But, our communities are typical of middle America, and you might say the best of America.

Most of this media hype about division and discord is distorted. The people I talk to are not upset over the Kavanaugh appointment. Some may not have supported him for various reasons, but they are not ready to take to the streets.

FRED SWIFT
The County Line

The fact is the nation has faced much more divisive times. Many of us can remember the late 1960s when there was real division over war and race relations. Those were times of serious civil unrest.

Going back further, there was the greatest time of social upheaval when we experienced the Civil War. The nation separated over slavery and states' rights and fought a bloody war before the country was reunited.

So, this Supreme Court appointment is a tempest in a teapot compared to some events of the past. Relatively few partisans, mostly on the east and west coasts, are pictured and quoted on the news screaming and yelling, but these are the folks who protest over most any action taken by the Trump administration.

We will get through this. And, as usual, folks in this community and most of the country will keep their heads and simply let the controversy blow over. And, we'll be better off if the major news networks quit portraying it as a national crisis, and just cool it a little.

CanStruction combines creative design, canned food donations to support Noblesville Trustee's Office

The REPORTER

CanStruction, a Noblesville Main Street event, is underway. CanStruction is a creative showcase that supports hunger and hunger anxiety in Noblesville and Hamilton County.

This year, CanStruction will donate more than 5,000 non-perishable food items to the Noblesville Trustee's Office.

CanStruction started six years ago as an initiative from Noblesville Main Street Board Member Darren Peterson. This event rallies Noblesville residents and local businesses by asking them to round up canned foods to create sculptures. The sculpture hosts compete against each other for the "best sculpture," and then all of the canned goods are donated to the Trustee's Office.

Over the years, in total,

Noblesville Main Street has been able to provide the Noblesville Trustee's Office with more than 25,000 non-perishable items.

"We [at the Noblesville Township Trustees Office] are proud to be a sponsor of CanStruction and appreciate their contribution to our food pantry," said Noblesville Township Trustee Tom Kenley. "A special thanks to Darren Peterson, and his wife Jennifer, for their work and effort to ensure that the event was a success."

Hamilton County residents can still participate in CanStruction. There are five team host locations who house the can sculptures. Visit any host sculpture location and you can vote for your favorite. Until Friday, Oct. 12, you can donate one can of a non-perishable food item for one vote.

The teams and locations include:

- Meyer Najem at Church Church Hittle & Antrim
- RZ at Old Picket Fence
- Flaherty + Collins at Noblesville Visitors Center
- Noon Kiwanis at Linden Tree
- Martin + Martin at Martin + Martin

"According to Gleaners Food Bank Indiana, one in eight Hamilton County residents are food insecure," said Darren Peterson, Noblesville Main Street Board Member and CanStruction Program Manager. "Thanks go to our partnership with Kroger, the Noblesville Trustee's Office and our generous sponsors, we can be a part of helping relieve hunger in our community."

The hotel was built in 1893 and has served as a hotel, brothel, and supposedly served as a hideout for American gangster John Dillinger. The hotel

A tale of two mothers

Two moms sat on a park bench sharing their stories.

From the age of 6, Sarah had been in 18 different foster homes. The longest she had ever been with the same family was one year. She aged out of that system – a system that promised to provide safety but harnessed abuse. She created an adoption plan for her two small children before they were lost to the very system that failed her. Sarah knew her history of generational poverty and dysfunction was too great a burden to overcome on her own. She was overwhelmed and living in a domestic violence shelter. She was fighting depression from layers of shame of a childhood you don't find on Nick at Nite. She wanted more for the babies she loved.

Then it was my turn.

I grew up in a supportive, loving home with both parents present and involved. I didn't have much but my basic needs were always met. I had spent a lifetime taking for granted how that security shaped my life. In that moment, I was overcome with the knowledge of the privileges my life had provided. I was deeply shaken by the lack hers had afforded and the fact that neither I, nor she, had done anything to deserve either.

I was face to face with the truth and ugliness of the inequality. I had always felt safe. I had always felt loved. There was always food in my home. There had been programs in her life, one after another, that failed her. The more I learned how those systems work, the more they seemed almost designed to. We had both made some dumb choices, but my world seemed to protect me from mine. That same world seemed to unfairly point to hers as some kind of character flaw. I could be focused on thriving. She had been focused on surviving.

That moment on that park bench and my relationship with Sarah changed the trajectory of my life. When I started working in social work, I knew loving a sweet, young, innocent child would be the easy part. I had no idea I'd fall in love with their mommas too. As I listened to Sarah, I allowed her story to shape my own. In working with many other families with similar stories since, I realized a lot about myself. I had some preconceived notions about mommas like her. Turns out I was wrong.

As I sat in my minivan, I had a choice. I could continue with the narrative I had known and the bias I held, or I could hear her. I could take that pang of guilt I felt and vigorously defend myself from the discomfort of the situation or I could believe her truth. Her experience was nothing like my own but it was real just the same.

I was completely ignorant to the complexities of generational poverty in America. I spent the next several years getting a crash course. When we allow ourselves to be in community with others, when we are in proximity to those that are unlike us in some way, we see just how much in common we have. We see the reality of the world.

Sarah, like me, had the same hopes and dreams for her children. She had the same need to feel heard and be valued by another. She worked every bit as hard as I did. Yet her world and mine seemed to span the width of a continent.

There in that park, I asked myself how I could fight the inequities that made this her reality. I asked what I could do to diminish that feeling of other and replace it with a sense of belonging and worth. I decided then I'd attempt to use my voice to bring light to and amplify hers.

We have to be willing to redefine our narratives if we are to make changes. Examine our hearts. Set aside our preconceived notions. We must listen with the intent of understanding so we can learn and grow with one another. We must humble ourselves enough to believe people when they tell us their experience, even if it is not our own. The world desperately needs us to.

Cicero Wastewater asks residents to please stop flushing certain items

The REPORTER

Cicero Wastewater Superintendent Matthew Dotson is asking residents to refrain from flushing the following types of products down toilets: Disposable towels, baby wipes and feminine hygiene products.

Although many of these products claim to be safe to flush, they do not have time to break down in the sanitary sewer system before reaching the lift station.

As a result, they have been clogging pumps in the lift station that serves the Cicero area. This dramatically increases labor and maintenance costs and will eventually result in costly pump failures.

How Noblesville Schools referendum will affect homeowners' tax rates

Dear Editor:

Noblesville Schools is proposing to raise their tax rate from 1.3136 to 1.4946 per $100 of your home's net assessed valuation. You can find the net assessed value of your home on your tax bill, online on Hamilton County's website, or from the county Assessor. You can also find how much the proposal will increase your school tax in dollars per year.

Take your net assessed value and multiply by 0.01 to get base rate that above multipliers are applied to in order to see current versus proposed school tax liability.

Or, for every $100,000 of your home's net assessed value, your tax liability will rise from $1,313.60 per year to $1,494.60 per year – an increase of $181 per year for each $100,000 of your home's net assessed value.

This does not take into account your home's assessment rising, which will raise all of your other tax liabilities (state, county, city, township, library, etc.) proportionally.

Details of the referendum are posted on the Noblesville Schools website.

Church Church Hittle + Antrim partners with Leadership Academy

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Leadership Academy (HCLA) has announced an expanded partnership with long-time program supporter Church Church Hittle + Antrim for the 2018-2019 program year. Church Church Hittle + Antrim will serve as the presenting sponsor for all Backstage Pass events. In addition, the firm will sponsor a class session for current participants and provide table sponsorships for the Holiday Luncheon in December and the sixth annual Leadership Summit in June.

by IKEA’s head chef. In October, Dave Colt, co-founder and head brewer at Sun King will welcome alumni to the new Sun King Spirits in Carmel. Past events have included Cabela’s, Federal Hill Commons, Grand Park, Klipsch and the RPM Collection.

“We look forward to expanding our involvement with the Hamilton County Leadership Academy this year,” remarked David Day, Partner at Church Church Hittle + Antrim. “We have long believed in the mission of HCLA and we see a bright future ahead. In addition to supporting HCLA’s programming and curriculum, Church Church Hittle + Antrim will be actively engaged through board service and committee work as well as presenting at select curriculum days.

“Church Church Hittle + Antrim has been a great supporter and advocate of the Hamilton County Leadership Academy over the years,” said John Robbins, Executive Director of the Hamilton County Leadership Academy. “Doug Church, one of the founders of the firm was also a co-founder of HCLA in 1991. He is deeply passionate about Hamilton County and our mission to help leaders make an impact in the community. We are proud to expand our partnership with CCHA in 2018. TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judaea by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again. And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him. And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you? And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away. And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept. But from the beginning of the creation God made them male and female. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife; and they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

Frederick Eugene “Fred” Delph September 12, 1945 – October 7, 2018

Frederick Eugene “Fred” Delph, 73, Sheridan, passed away Sunday evening, October 7, 2018 surrounded by his loving family at Riverview Health in Noblesville. Born September 12, 1945 in Ekin, Ind., he was the son of the late Luther K. Delph, Jr. and Norma Jean (Tudor) Delph.

After graduating from Tipton High School with the Class of 1964, Fred entered the workforce. He worked as a machinist for Firestone, FMC in Tipton for 18 years, and for Biddle’s in Sheridan; retiring in 2008 after 23 years with the company. Fred also worked as a self-employed carpenter and roofer. For several years he worked with his brother Stan doing construction projects. One of the many projects he helped with over the years was the construction of the Ekin Odd Fellows Lodge building. Fred was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge in Ekin, as well as a member of the East Union Christian Church.

Fred leapt at just about every opportunity he had to go camping. It gave him some time to get in a little hunting and fishing, but more importantly, it gave him the chance to showcase his collection of very unique signs that would hang from the back of his camper; JUST ASK DAN.

Fred was also an Indianapolis Colts fan, as long as they were winning. He loved to race stock cars and was a huge Jeff Gordon fan. NASCAR just wasn’t the same for Fred when the #24 car quit racing.

Family played a very important role in Fred’s life. He spent many years coaching little league when his boys were young and a lifetime following his children’s, grandchildren’s, nieces’ and nephews’ activities. That was no small task.

Fred is survived by his loving wife Judith “Judy” (Duchemin) Payne-Delph. She and Fred were married on November 25, 1991. Also surviving are his two sons, Bill Delph, Atlanta, and Dan Delph (Robbi), Tipton; two step-sons, Johnny Payne (Lori) and Brian Payne (Elizabeth), both of Sheridan; step daughter, Angie Barnard (Phil), Beech Grove; nine grandchildren, Derrick, Dawn, Jennifer, Isabel, Jackson, Kasey, Brody, Riley and Samuel; 11 great-grandchildren; one sister, Diana Gunkel (David “Skip”), Tipton; brother-in-law, Larry Starrett, Cicero; and his sister-in-law, Shirley Delph, Arcadia. “Mr. Fred” (as he was affectionately known to his nursing staff) is also survived by his granddogs, whom he loved very much.

He was preceded in death by his parents; two brothers, Stan J. and Jimmy Allen Delph; and two sisters, Judy Pearson and Wanda Starrett.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday, October 13, 2018 at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation from 10 a.m. until the time of service. Burial will follow at East Union Cemetery in northern Hamilton County. Pastor George Cooper will be officiating. Memorial contributions may be presented to the American Cancer Society.

NOBLESVILLE, CARMEL, WESTFIELD, SHERIDAN, HAMILTON HEIGHTS, FISHERS, UNIVERSITY, GUERIN CATHOLIC, HAMILTON SOUTHEASTERN

Girls soccer

'Hounds, Tigers, 'Blazers will play in regionals

For the first time in four years, the Carmel girls soccer team is playing at a regional.

The Greyhounds won the Guerin Catholic sectional last week to earn their spot at this Saturday's Class 3A Brebeuf Jesuit regional. Carmel will play Metropolitan Conference rival Lawrence North in the noon semi-final, following a battle between two Hoosier Crossroads Conference teams, Avon and Franklin Central, in the 10 a.m. semi-final.

The 'Hounds are one of three Hamilton County girls soccer teams left in the regional. Fishers will play at the 3A Logansport regional, taking on Harrison in the noon semi-final there, after a 10 a.m. semi-final between two Fort Wayne teams, Homestead and Carroll.

Meanwhile, University is making its second consecutive appearance in a 1A regional. The Trailblazers take on Lafayette Central Catholic in the 10 a.m. semi-final on Saturday, with Eastbrook playing Fort Wayne Canterbury in the noon game.

The Wildcats won at the North Central sectional, their second consecutive championship - and the second in school history. Lawrence North had easy early-round games, beating Southport 5-0 and Lawrence Central 4-0. That put the Wildcats in the final against North Central, and LN was pushed into a shootout before winning, 5-4.

The Wildcats are 14-3-3 for the season, but lost to Carmel 8-0 in the regular season back on Sept. 4. Lawrence North and North Central tied for third in the MIC with 4-2-1 records.

Meanwhile, the Greyhounds (16-1-2) were undefeated MIC champions at 7-0. In the sectional, Carmel beat Brebeuf 3-0, Guerin Catholic 1-0 and Zionsville 2-0 in the final to claim its 15th overall championship.

Junior Emma Antoine and freshman Emily Roper have each scored seven goals for the 'Hounds. Scoring depth has been a great strength for Carmel, with 17 players getting at least one goal during the season. Sophomore Erin Baker has been solid as the

The Fishers girls soccer team celebrated after scoring the tying goal in the championship game of the Noblesville sectional on Saturday. The Tigers eventually beat Pendleton Heights in a shootout, which won them the sectional trophy and a place at the Logansport regional this coming Saturday.

Greyhounds' goalkeeper, making 39 saves with a 0.187 goals against average (GAA).

The last time Carmel won a sectional was 2014, and it advanced all the way to the 2A state final (back then, 2A was the highest class), where the Greyhounds met Fishers. The Tigers beat Carmel 1-0 to win their first-ever state championship in that sport.

This year, Fishers is playing in its first regional since 2015, the year the Tigers made it all the way back to the semi-state championship game before falling to Penn.

But first things first: Fishers will play Harrison in its regional semi-final. The two teams played back on Sept. 17, with the Tigers winning 7-0.

The Raiders are 11-6-1 for the season and qualified for the regional after winning the Kokomo sectional. Harrison got past McCutcheon 2-1 in the first round, then breezed past Lafayette Jefferson 5-0 and the host Wildkats 4-0 to win the title. Sophomore Lexi Fraley is leading the Raiders' scoring with 16 goals.

That sectional-winning scenario was the exact opposite for Fishers. The Tigers cruised past Anderson 8-0 in the first round, then had to win two shootouts to claim the Noblesville sectional title - first over the host Millers 6-5 in the semi-finals, then 8-7 over Pendleton Heights in the championship.

Maya Turner leads the Fishers scoring with eight goals, with Kaysey Castro scoring five goals. The Tigers also have two excellent goalkeepers in Jordan Imes and Kaitlyn Hicks, both of whom have stepped up at various points in the season.

University will take on a Lafayette Central Catholic team that had to wait a couple days to win its sectional. Rain pushed the final of the Northwestern sectional back from Saturday to Monday, and the Knights won on that day, beating Faith Christian 2-0. In its earlier games, LCC took care of the host Tigers 4-0 and Rossville 6-1.

The Knights are 15-4 for the season and have three young players that are prolific scorers: Freshman Karsyn Cherry has 20 goals, while sophomores Caroline Lutz and Hailey Fallen have scored 16 and 10 goals respectively.

The Trailblazers are 13-3-2 and cruised through their sectional, beating Tri-Central 6-1, Sheridan 9-0 and Western Boone 5-1. University is senior-dominated, with its top three goal scorers all 12th graders: Lily Snyder has 26 scores, Halle Von Ah has 19 and Lucy Snyder has 14. Junior goalkeeper Lilly Fair has made 104 saves on a 0.365 GAA.

Southeastern boys soccer to take on Homestead at Kokomo regional

The Hamilton Southeastern boys soccer team will travel up to Kokomo on Saturday to compete in the Class 3A regional there.

The Royals will play Homestead in the first semi-final, which is set for a 10 a.m. start. Fort Wayne Carroll and McCutcheon will compete in the noon semi-final.

The Spartans are 11-5-3 and had an easy time winning their own sectional, beating Fort Wayne South Side 4-1 and Huntington North 5-1. Sophomore Marco Navarro has scored 10 goals for Homestead, with while Taylor Rhinehart and Rocco Zirille, both sophomores, each have nine goals.

Southeastern is 14-2-2, with senior Zaden Eby-Holmes the leading scorer; he has 11 goals for the season. Senior Sean Williams has made 11 assists.

Boys tennis state finals

Greyhounds go for third straight title this weekend

Carmel will be trying for a third consecutive boys tennis state championship this weekend.

The No. 1-ranked Greyhounds are among the top five teams and six of the top eight from the final regular season poll from the Indiana High School Tennis Coaches Association are in this weekend’s field to determine the 2018 boys tennis state champion.

Four quarter-final matches will be played Friday at Carmel and Center Grove high schools, with the winning teams advancing to the semi-final matches on Saturday at 10 am at North Central High School followed by the state championship match at 2 p.m.

One of the quarter-final matches at Carmel’s Todd Witsken Tennis Center is a matchup of the top two teams in the state as the top-ranked host Greyhounds will take on second-ranked Homestead, a rematch of a Sept. 21 meeting that Carmel won, 4-1. The Greyhounds are the two-time defending state champion and are making the school’s ninth consecutive state finals appearance. That Sept. 21 loss was Homestead’s only setback this season, which is making its second straight visit and 20th overall.

The other quarter-final at Carmel pits fourth-ranked Floyd Central and fifth-ranked Center Grove. Floyd Central sustained its only setback back on Aug. 18 to fellow state finalist North Central of Indianapolis and is appearing at this level of the tournament for the first time since 2006. Center Grove, which faced five of the other state finalists during the regular season, last played in the state finals in 2014. The matches at Carmel begin at 3 p.m.

At Center Grove, third-ranked North Central, far and away the state’s leader in championships (20) and appearances (29)

The Carmel boys tennis team added another sectional championship to their total two weeks ago, and now will look to add another state championship this weekend. The No. 1-ranked and defending state champion Greyhounds host No. 2 Homestead Friday afternoon in the state quarter-finals.

will face No. 23 Culver Academies, making its fourth trip in five seasons and second in a row.

Eighth-ranked Park Tudor will meet No.

14 Columbus North in the other quarterfinal at Center Grove. The Panthers were ousted by Carmel in last year’s semi-finals while for the first time in 10 years and seventh overall.

Columbus North returns to the state finals

The matches at Center Grove will start at 11 a.m.

Football previews

Conference finales highlight Week 9 action

It's the last week of the regular season for Indiana high school football, which for many teams means one more conference game.

The Hoosier Crossroads Conference has already decided its champion. Brownsburg is 6-0 in the HCC, and the next two schools behind it are 4-2, so the Bulldogs already have the conference title wrapped up. The more interesting scenario is who will finish where in the top half of the league.

The two 4-2 teams are Noblesville and Avon, and they will play each other Friday at the Millers' Beaver Materials Field. The winner of this game will get second place in the conference all to itself.

The Orioles were surprised by Zionsville last week, losing 32-29. The only other team to beat Avon is Brownsburg, which took care of its rival 21-7 in Week 4 of the season. The two HCC losses are also the Orioles' only overall losses; they began the year with non-conference wins over Plainfield 44-13 and Ben Davis 41-36. Avon's overall record is 6-2.

Avon's HCC victories have come over Hamilton Southeastern 29-6, Franklin Central 48-0, Fishers 33-0 and Westfield 20-13. Sophomore Henry Hesson is the Orioles' quarterback, having completed 99 of 175 passes for 1,374 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Senior running back Sampson James made news this week by decommitting from Ohio State; instead he will play at Indiana University. He has gained 1,011 yards and scored 10 touchdowns. Senior Jalen Peterson has 30 receptions, including five touchdowns. The Orioles' defense is led by seniors also, with Nathan Conley making 67 tackles and Alex Griffith getting 66 stops. Junior Brevon Gude has 63 tackles, eight of them for a loss.

Noblesville is 4-4 overall. Senior quarterback Grant Gremel had a solid game against the Bulldogs, going 16-for-27 and 165 yards. For the season Gremel is 56-of-122 for 598 yards and three touchdowns.

Senior Luke Blevins is the leading Noblesville rusher with 533 yards and two touchdowns. Junior Jayden Barrett's 13 catches lead the receivers. Senior Eddie Dziennik has been a force on defense with 98 total tackles, with junior Jacob Hamm making 87 stops. Senior Dalton Davis has 7.5 tackles for a loss and 3.5 sacks. Even against a tough schedule, the Millers are allowing only 15.5 points per game.

SOUTHEASTERN-BROWNSBURG

Southeastern will host conference champion Brownsburg tonight at Reynolds Royals Stadium.

The Bulldogs are 8-0 for the season, with wins over Bloomington South 44-13, Cathedral 37-26, Franklin Central 37-7, Avon 21-7, Fishers 27-20, Westfield 30-28, Zionsville 70-52 and Noblesville 17-7. Sophomore Ben Easters has thrown for 1,483 yards on 95-of-181 passing, with 18 touchdowns to his credit. Senior Bryce Kirtz has 45 of those catches, including nine scores.

Senior Donny Marcus is Brownsburg's leading rusher, with 1,348 yards and 12 touchdowns. Cade Shupperd's 54 tackles leads the Bulldog defense, with 15 for a loss. Senior Lawson Aiken has 16 tackles for a loss.

Senior Matt Harris is the leading rusher for the Royals (3-5), with 902 yards and nine touchdowns. Ben Boyesen has 40 catches for the year. Sophomore Andrew Hobson had a great game as quarterback last week, going 12-for-17 with 206 yards and two touchdowns.

Senior quarterback Josh Wagner has put together some impressive numbers, throwing for 1,863 yards and seven touchdowns on 140-of-236 passing. Junior Gus Baumgartner has rushed for 634 yards and four touchdowns. Tommy Fossett has 66 receptions, including seven TDs, while senior Jordan Hull has caught the most touchdown passes with 15.

Junior Garrett Williamson leads the Eagles defense with 127 total tackles. Senior Deuce Thomas has 124 stops, nine of them for a loss.

Fishers is 3-5 overall. Sophomore Lucas Prewitt stepped into the quarterback role and was 7-of-23 for 150 yards. Tigers coach Rick Wimmer credited him last week with making some big plays in Fishers' win over Westfield.

Senior HL Lewis is Fishers' leading rusher with 557 yards and four touchdowns, while senior Collin Statz has 21 receptions, including one TD. Junior Geoffrey Brown's 89 tackles and 13 for a loss leads the defense.

Senior Colin Caldwell leads the Westfield defense with 65 total tackles. Senior Ryan Mahoney has eight tackles for a loss and three sacks.
