Marine surprises her son at Noblesville school

The REPORTER

While performing at his school's Veterans Day program, Cameron Singleton, a Stony Creek Elementary kindergartener, got quite a surprise on Monday.

Cameron's mom, Mariah Singleton, a staff sergeant in the United States Marines, made a surprise visit after returning home from her overseas deployment. Mom and son had been apart since March while she worked in Australia and Hawaii.

Singleton said she had been planning the surprise for several months.

"I've been thinking about this moment for a long time so it was really awesome to come and surprise both of them," Mariah said about being able to see both of her sons. Her younger son, Quincy, is two years old.

Cameron said the surprise was, "So, so awesome."

Cameron and Quincy's dad is also an active duty Marine.

Agreement reached on funds for public service agencies

Leaders of Prevail, PrimeLife and a half-dozen other non-profit community service organizations can breathe a bit easier today as the County Commissioners on Tuesday approved grants of $427,000 for next year.

The funding, designed to supplement the costs of operations, was held up last month when commissioners and the County Council disagreed to amounts of the grants and in two cases the council's refusal to appropriate any funds.

But, on Tuesday, commissioners agreed to the funding as the council had approved. The two organizations being left out by council action are the Salvation Army at $42,550 which was requested and recommended by commissioners, and Conner Prairie, $15,000.

Two other groups will get less than recommended. They are Trinity Free Clinic at $15,000, rather than $25,000, and Chaucie's Place at $25,000, instead of the $30,000 requested.

Winners in the resolution of the dispute were Meals on Wheels which will get $10,000, which was not originally requesting any funds, and the Hope Family Clinic, getting $10,000, instead of only $5,000 that had been requested. PrimeLife and Prevail will get $240,000 and $180,000, respectively.

Commissioners in their regular meeting apparently decided to avoid a further dispute with the council. The money being given to the public service agencies has become an annual distribution given out in the belief that the organizations provide the public with assistance that local government might otherwise have to entirely undertake.

Commissioners and councilmembers had earlier agreed on contractual service agreements with Cherish Center, Good Samaritan, the County Humane Society and Janus' Hamilton County Express.

2 firefighters, 4 police officers injured while assisting with fatal Carmel crash

The REPORTER

A fiery crash Monday morning in Carmel killed two people. Six emergency responders were also injured.

According to the Carmel Police Department, the single-vehicle accident happened in the area of Ditch Road and Queens Way (south of 116th Street) just before 11 a.m. Monday morning.

Carmel police and firefighters both responded to the scene and found the vehicle inverted and on fire with both occupants trapped inside.

According to Carmel Police Lieutenant Joe Bickel, four police officers and two fire fighters suffered smoke inhalation and burns as they attempted to rescue the occupants of the car.

Bickel says the police officers and firefighters will make a full recovery, at least physically.

"They used fire extinguishers and other means trying to get the fire out during the rescue attempt," said Bickel.

"Sometimes the end result is very tragic even though you put forth an effort to help save lives," said Bickel.

Police identified the passenger as Jeanne Feasel, 75, and the driver as William Feasel, 76.

Jeanne, the passenger, died on Monday at St. Vincent's Hospital, while William, the driver, died Tuesday at Eskenazi Hospital.

Noblesville's Ice Plaza opens this weekend

The REPORTER

The City of Noblesville is excited for the return of the Federal Hill Commons Ice Plaza and to offer residents an outdoor recreational activity this winter. The temporary ice rink, with real ice, will open at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 17 and will be open daily until Jan. 7, 2019, except on Thanksgiving and Christmas days.

"The ice skating rink was a big hit with families in its inaugural year. Due to the demand, we are building an even bigger rink for this season," said Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear. "Federal Hill Commons was designed to be a year-round park. I believe the winter activities here and across downtown will drive even more residents to the heart of our city this holiday season."

The 56-foot by 96-foot ice rink, which is 30 percent larger this year, will be located at the Market Plaza at Federal Hill Commons. From Nov. 17 through Dec. 21, Ice Plaza hours are 5 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Starting on Dec. 22, hours will be extended to 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily for enjoyment during Noblesville Schools' winter break. The rink will have special holiday hours on Nov. 23 (11 a.m. to 9 p.m.), and Dec. 24 and 31 (11 a.m. to 4 p.m.).

"Instead of offering sessions, our Ice Plaza allows skaters to enjoy the ice for as long as they want. Admission is all day long so after skating for a bit, patrons can take a break to visit any of our fantastic nearby restaurants and stores and return to skate some more without having to pay again," Parks Director Brandon Bennett said.

All ages are welcome to participate and rental ice

Reader lists a few “interesting” facts about Carmel’s finances

Dear Editor:

A quick glance at city, county and state records reveals some interesting facts about Carmel:

A. Carmel’s principal debt rose 57.6 percent – from $513.7 million to $810.1 million.

B. Carmel’s total indebtedness as reported by the city to the Indiana Department of Local Government Finance increased $326.1 million or 30.8 percent – from $1.1 billion to $1.4 billion – just this year.

C. Carmel’s property tax rate increased 82 percent from 2007 to 2018 -- from 0.4329 to 0.7887.

D. Carmel’s lavish music hall had twin theaters attract an average of 447 patrons in 1,800 events since they opened, according to the mayor’s State of the City address in October.

One hopes other Hamilton County cities take notice and choose other courses of action.

Fishers celebrates Veterans Day

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Monday marked the 100th anniversary of the Armistice that ended World War I, what people in 1918 called the "war to end all wars." From the vantage point looking back from 2018, we know that conflict did not end all wars, but it was a bloody engagement that cost tens of millions of people their lives.

The City of Fishers may not have any World War I vets left, but there are plenty of other military veterans that filled the City Hall auditorium Monday morning as the local observance of Veterans Day happened with lots of local officials on hand.

Fishers Mayor Scott Fadness had a busy week recently and found a note on his calendar at the end of the week to visit Allisonville Meadows. Although the mayor was tired from a busy week of traveling, he decided to honor the commitment and found a room full of aging military veterans. As he greeted each vet, one had trouble walking but found his way to the mayor and told him, "Thank you, sir. You really didn't have to do this."

Fadness explained it was a moment when a politician is "absolutely leveled and humbled" by the veteran's comment.

"Here I am, handing out a simple certificate, that says we recognize what you've done, and simply saying thank you, and he's embarrassed for the recognition," Fadness told the crowd. "Just something about that stuck with me that is truly humbling for us elected officials."

Both Fishers Deputy Mayors Elliott Hultgren and Leah McGrath gave remarks during the event. El Ahlwardt, a Navy veteran, handled the duties as Master of Ceremonies.

The Fishers Junior High School Choir provided the music.

Any U.S. veteran received a free ticket to take a one hour and 15 minute ride through the northern Hamilton County countryside. "It was an honor to host veterans and their families on the train," said Nickel Plate Express Communications Coordinator Dagny Zupin. "Everyone was so friendly and appreciative ... we even had a few veterans who said it was their first train ride!"

Beware of potential utilities scams

The REPORTER

Duke Energy, a founding member of Utilities United Against Scams (UUAS), is continuing its efforts to remind customers of the tactics scammers use to steal money from customers and to inform them on how they can guard against falling victim to utility imposter scams.

UUAS, a consortium of more than 100 U.S. and Canadian electric, water and natural gas companies (and their respective trade associations), continues to raise awareness of utility scams targeting customers. The third annual Utility Scam Awareness Day is today, Nov. 14, and is supported by a week-long advocacy and awareness campaign focused on exposing the tactics of scammers.

UUAS' Utility Scam Awareness Week campaign, highlighting "7 Scams in 7 Days," is taking place Nov. 11-17, 2018. The campaign coincides with the start of the holiday season, a time when reported scam activity spikes.

"To better protect customers, it is critically important we continue to raise awareness and to educate customers about scams," said Duke Energy's Vice President of Customer Operations for Piedmont Natural Gas and Metering Services and UUAS Chairman Jared Lawrence. "Scammers are developing increasingly sophisticated schemes to take advantage of customers. Through the '7 Scams in 7 Days' campaign, UUAS will highlight the most common scam tactics and provide resources to help utility customers better protect themselves from imposter utility scammers."

Duke Energy, along with other UUAS members have helped to shut down more than 2,200 toll-free numbers used by scammers against utility customers. The group recently was awarded the Toll-Free Industry's Fraud Fighter Award in recognition of its advocacy and awareness campaign to stop scams that target electric, water and natural gas company customers. UUAS was presented the award last month at the Toll-Free User Summit hosted by Somos, Inc., in Las Vegas, Nev.

Customers who suspect that they have been victims of fraud or who feel threatened during contact with one of these scammers should contact their utility company or local law enforcement authorities. Also, customers should never purchase a pre-paid debit card or gift card to avoid service disconnection or shutoff. Legitimate utility companies do not specify how customers should make a bill payment, and they always offer a variety of ways to pay a bill, including accepting payments online, by phone, automatic bank draft, mail, or in person.

If someone calls, texts, appears, or emails saying you have to pay your bill immediately to avoid disconnection, tell them you would like to verify that they are a legitimate utility company representative by calling a verified number for the utility company found on the company's website or on your monthly bill. The Federal Trade Commission's website is also a good source of information about how to protect personal information and to educate yourself on the different types of imposter scams.

Visit utilitiesunited.org for more information and tips about how customers can protect themselves from imposter utility scams.

Janus launches literacy program

The REPORTER

Janus Developmental Services, a Hamilton County non-profit that provides people with disabilities the opportunity to participate and contribute within the community, recently began a new literacy program.

Over the past year, staff have researched existing literacy programs at other agencies, as well as engaged in planning for the program in terms of space, supplies and instruction.

The purpose of this program is to give people supported at Janus the opportunity to maximize their skill development with reading, as well as simply develop a way for them to enjoy reading at whatever level they happen to be. The program launched in early September, with several participants instantly gravitating to the newly created area.

Adam Aasen, a board member for Janus, applied for a grant from the literacy program and was awarded $900 from the Carmel Rotary Club's community grant fund. Every year, Carmel Rotary gives out grants to numerous local non-profits in amounts up to $1,000. Rotary met with Janus representatives to set up regular days when Rotarians will volunteer their time to read to Janus clients.

"I'm excited to see Janus develop new connections with Carmel Rotary," said Aasen, a past board member for Carmel Rotary. "We believe it's important to not only give money but also give our time. I think our club members will find volunteering at Janus very rewarding."

Janus's Doorways team, led by Miranda Kinney, also worked hard to make this program a reality.

For more information about Janus Developmental Services, visit janus-inc.org.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them. And the gospel must first be published among all nations. But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

When Pauline had some time to herself, she loved to tend to her garden and look after her flowers. She also enjoyed playing cards with her Euchre Club whenever they could all get together. She was preceded in death by her parents; her son Charles A. "Pete" Hoffman; brother, William King; and her two sisters, Kathleen Akard and Patricia Usher.

Pauline was lucky enough to find love twice in her life. On November 26, 1944 she married the love of her life, Charles A. "Chuck" Hoffman. She and Chuck spent 37 wonderful years together and raised a beautiful family. He preceded her in death on July 15, 1980. Pauline married the second love of her life, James Robert "Bob" Fox in September of 1985. Pauline and Bob spent 32 years by each other's side, greatly increasing the size of the family she loved so very much. Bob passed on December 6, 2017.

Kathleen Marie Bowen

August 10, 1920 – November 11, 2018

Kathleen Marie Bowen, 98, Fishers, passed away on Sunday, November 11, 2018. As a mature Christian she did not fear death. She was actually looking forward to "going home" and had expressed to her three sons (John, Danny and Carl) that even as much as she loved them, she loved Jesus more and was ready to go to her "Heavenly Home." Her husband of almost 71 years preceded her in death March 30, 2010.

Kathleen (Kathy) was born to Claude and Dorothy (Seekins) Hinshaw on August 10, 1920 and was baptized into Christ while still a teenager. She married Jasper Fred Bowen on May 23, 1939, and became the perfect helpmate to him raising three sons (John, Danny and Carl) on a farm 3 1/2 miles east of what was then the small town of Fishers. In 1963, the family moved to a new home in Fishers at 116th Street and Lynn Avenue. Kathy was an artist, taught art classes, and blessed many people with her landscape paintings. Upon moving to Fishers from the farm, Kathy became an active member in what was then known as Cumberland Pike Church of Christ (Christian Church), and later at the age of 95 helped launch Christ's Church North while living with her middle son, Danny R. Bowen and his wife, Leslie, at their home near Pleasant View southeast of Indianapolis.

Survivors include three sons, 10 grandchildren, 33 great-grandchildren, three great-great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. on Friday, November 16, 2018 at Randall & Roberts Fishers Mortuary, 12010 Allisonville Road, Fishers, with visitation beginning at 10 a.m. until the time of service. Burial will be at Oaklawn Memorial Gardens in Indianapolis immediately thereafter.

Memorial contributions may be made to Christ's Church North, 9625 E. 150th St., Noblesville, IN 46060; or Christian Mission of South India, a foreign mission Kathy supported to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ to the lost.

After trailing in the first quarter...

Huskies turn on the defense, beat Golden Eagles

By RICHIE HALL
ARCADIA - Hamilton Heights pulled its record to the .500 mark on Tuesday after beating Guerin Catholic 47-27 in a game at the Huskies' gymnasium.

Heights got off to a rough start, as the Golden Eagles led early. But the Huskies turned up their defense and sailed to a convincing win that improved their record to 2-2 for the season.

Guerin skipped off to 9-1 lead midway through the first quarter. Carly Wilson capped the run with a 3-pointer. Heights began to get going after that, with Mykayla Moran making a putback for the Huskies' first basket of the game. Abby Christiansen had made a free throw earlier.

Wilson's layin put GC up 11-5 before Heights cut the lead to 11-10. Lauryn Wiley and Jillian Osswald each made baskets. Still, Guerin led 13-10 after the end of the quarter, with Sarah Holba's two free throws getting her team up by three.

But the Huskies took over from there, allowing the Golden Eagles no points in the second period. Bayleigh Runner tied the game with a 3-pointer, then Payton Dissett's jumper put Heights up 15-13, and the Huskies stayed in the lead from there. Heights held a 23-13 advantage at halftime, with Runner also making 6 of 6 free throws in the second period.

"That's a little bit disappointing, having a start like that, but it was somewhat expected," said Heights coach Keegan Cherry, who admitted that his team had a bit of a letdown after its big win over Noblesville on Friday. But once the Huskies settled in, things started going their way and Cherry was proud of his team's effort.

"To hold them scoreless in the second quarter there is impressive," said Cherry. "And then five and nine there, nine in the fourth quarter."

In the third quarter, Christiansen took over, scoring six points in the early stages. Then Moran got going, with two baskets in the later part of the period. Heights led 37-18 at the end of three.

Osswald got her turn for the Huskies in the fourth quarter, scoring six points.

Heights led 47-20 with 1:14 left before Guerin Catholic scored the last seven points of the game. MT Ford scored five of those points.

"We started out well and then they turned up the defense a little bit," said GC coach Jeff Buckner. "Shots weren't falling for us like they were in the first quarter and they were able to hit some shots and start to increase that lead a little bit. And then we started to try to get it all back really quickly, which doesn't always work."

Runner led all scorers with 14 points and all rebounders with six. Osswald added 10 points and made five steals, while Moran scored eight and pulled five rebounds.

"The thing that we preach is, we play to a standard," said Cherry. "We don't ever want to get caught up playing the scoreboard. Luckily we had Bayleigh Runner again tonight and she was really good. I'm super proud of her effort."

Nicole Cunningham scored seven points to lead the Golden Eagles, while Claire Sawyer and Holba each had four rebounds.

Heights will play two games at the Fort Wayne Snider Classic on Saturday, taking on both Snider and Northrop. Guerin Catholic, now 2-3, plays at Heritage Christian on Saturday in a Circle City Conference game.
