Riverview Health Foundation celebrates another successful year of fundraising

The REPORTER

Riverview Health Foundation and its Board of Directors recently presented Riverview Health with a check for $500,000 to support the expansion and renovation of the Infusion Center as well as several other projects. Since Riverview Health Foundation was founded, more than $13,500,000 has been donated for projects, programs and services to benefit Riverview Health patients and their families.

"Thanks to the generosity of so many individuals, families and businesses in our community, Riverview Health Foundation is pleased to be able to make this gift to Riverview Health," said Megan Wiles, Riverview Health Foundation executive director. "Through outright gifts as well as support for our Women of Vision luncheon and Heartfelt Thanks Golf Outing, together we raised $500,000 to give to Riverview Health. We're so grateful for our community members and generous donors who have helped improve local healthcare services at Riverview Health for so many years."

2018). Leapfrog Group awarded Riverview Health an A grade – the highest grade possible – for patient safety in 2017. As one of the largest employers in Hamilton County, Riverview Health recently received the Five-Star AchieveWELL Award through the Wellness Council of Indiana and was honored at the 2017 Indiana Health and Wellness Summit. For more information on Riverview Health, visit riverview.org.

White River Vision Plan enters action phase Christmas schmaltz

The REPORTER

The third "action phase" of the White River Vision Plan begins Jan. 29 with a final series of public input meetings.

The plan is a community-driven effort led by the City of Indianapolis, Visit Indy, Hamilton County Tourism, Inc. and its many partner organizations to determine how to enhance the 58 miles of the White River in Indianapolis and Hamilton County. Residents and community leaders can learn about the suggested recommendations and timelines for new and existing destinations and areas of focus along the river, as well as ideas to improve system-wide river health and connectivity. Community members can also provide thoughts and ideas directly using an interactive mapping survey on mywhiteriver.com.

Public meetings during the last "action phase" of the White River Vision Plan will present design ideas for focus areas within six "river reaches" and gain feedback from the public. Participants will help prioritize the ideas and focus areas that could include destinations, recreational opportunities, environmental improvements and accessibility opportunities. New destinations and recreational assets will focus on areas with ecological, economic, historical and cultural significance and important nearby neighborhoods.

The final plan, delivered in late spring 2019 to stakeholders and community organizations, will incorporate feedback from these meetings into a comprehensive, action-oriented plan for the next 30 years.

"Studies show that open spaces and parks strengthen human relationships and make neighborhoods stronger, safer and more successful," said Emily Mack, director of the Department of Metropolitan Development for the City of Indianapolis. "By restoring, enhancing and activating the White River, Central Indiana sets itself apart as a community that can work together to realize big dreams. This plan will steward residents and visitors toward a resilient, connected future that will contribute to the health of Central Indiana neighborhoods and its economy, which will improve the lives of Hoosiers for generations to come."

Attendees may meet with city and county officials and core team members from the consulting team. There will be four meeting opportunities held in Hamilton County and Indianapolis. See details at right.

"Since this process began in April 2018, we have worked carefully to hear the opinions and needs of communities all over Central Indiana," said Brenda Myers, president and CEO of Hamilton County Tourism, Inc. "This is the first time community members can see that feedback and get a clear picture of next steps and action items for the White River.

For more information on the White River Vision Plan, or to take the interactive community survey, visit mywhiteriver.com.

Don Jellison, my newspaper boss, used to call me schmaltzy. I took it as a compliment.

I am even more schmaltzy at Christmas. I hear "Silent Night" and my eyes leak as I remember Christmas' past. I grab extra tissues for the Christmas Eve services.

I hear "Oh Holy Night" and I remember why we celebrate the birth of the Christ child. He appeared and the soul felt its worth. It is that worth that helps us to see ourselves and others, differently ... through eyes of love and goodwill towards men.

That child came to give us hope. A thrill of hope, the weary world rejoices. We need more hope and rejoicing. Perhaps we need to fall on our knees a bit more.

Joy to the World. The words of that song remind us of the wonders of His love. Have we gotten too busy to notice them?

Scripture tells us that wise men made their way to seek the child, born in a manger. Shouldn't we become like wise men?

Christmas, a time of comfort and joy, if we slow down enough to enjoy it.

"Let nothing you dismay," so says the Christmas carol. Not always easy when family is involved. Let not only the bells ring, but grace and mercy.

While taking time off from work I am taking time to watch a few Hallmark movies. (Okay, more like binge watching). I know what will happen. Boy meets girl. They kiss. They fall in love but work or a boyfriend/girlfriend gets in the way. Miscommunication happens. The relationship breaks. Fate brings them back together. They live happily ever after. And they kiss a lot.

Yes, they are all

One car crash on Strawtown Avenue leaves one dead, one severely injured

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office is investigating a single vehicle fatal crash that occurred on Friday, Dec. 21. Dispatchers first received notification of a serious crash on Strawtown Avenue near Joyce Avenue at 10:40 p.m. The location is near Strawtown Koteewi Park north of Noblesville.

Deputies arriving on the scene found a 2018 gray Nissan Altima crashed into the guardrail on Strawtown Avenue near the White River. Both occupants were ejected from the vehicle during the impact of the crash and the driver was pronounced dead at the scene. The passenger was transported by ground ambulance to St. Vincent Hospital in Indianapolis with severe injuries including injury to the head. Names of those involved are not being released at this time pending notification of family members.

Crash investigators believe the Altima was eastbound on Strawtown Avenue when it left the road, struck a culvert and went into a ditch before returning to the road where it overturned and finally came to rest on a guardrail. Witnesses told investigators the Nissan was traveling at a high rate of speed and was swerving along the pavement prior to the crash. Investigators will work to determine what led to the fatal crash including if alcohol or other impairment may have been a contributing factor.

The Sheriff's Office was assisted by the Cicero Police Department and Fire Departments from Cicero, Jackson Township and White River Township.

The incident is under investigation by the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office Crash Investigation Team. Anyone with information on the case may contact the team through Hamilton County Public Safety Communications at 317-773-1282.

schmaltzy but perhaps we all need bit of schmaltzy. Perhaps we need to embrace the people in our lives with some glad tidings and Christmas cheer. For this Christmas column I bring you a reminder that a baby was born in a manger, not the way that was expected. Life has a way of bringing about the best ... in the most unexpected ways. That baby changed the world and he is still changing us ... if we take the time to listen to the Christmas carols and really pay attention to the words. You might need a tissue while listening to Silent Night. Sit with a cup of coffee or hot chocolate and watch a Hallmark movie. A little schmaltz is good for the soul. Don Jellison told me we need a bit of schmaltz. Thank you Don, I know you will be singing with the angels this Christmas and I'm still being schmaltzy. I wish for all my readers that they find both comfort and joy this Christmas and that you all sleep in heavenly peace. And may God bless us, everyone, with a bit of schmaltz.

Nickel Plate Express introduces Christmas children's book

The REPORTER

A brother and sister duo from Indianapolis created a Nickel Plate Express Christmas story to commemorate the non-profit's inaugural year.

Nickel Plate Nick Saves Christmas, written by David Hoffman with illustrations by older sibling Sara Hoffman, tells the story of Nick, a hedgehog conductor, and his sidekick, a spunky girl named Maggie. After Santa accidentally drops one of his present bags, the pair race against the clock to deliver those presents to residents of Cicero, Atlanta and Arcadia before Christmas morning.

"I learned a lot about trains while writing the book," said author David Hoffman. "Since the main character Nick is a conductor, the Nickel Plate Express operations manager Bret Davis helped me brush up on my train terminology. It was especially rewarding to do this project with my sister, Sara. She's been naturally good at drawing ever since we were little, but I was blown away when she showed me the finished illustrations." The Hoffmans hope that the residents of Cicero, Atlanta and Arcadia enjoy seeing their towns featured in the book.

The 2018 Nickel Plate Nick Saves Christmas is a coloring book edition, with a full color edition to be made available in fall of 2019. Families are encouraged to share their Nickel Plate Nick art work by tagging Nickel Plate Express on Facebook or emailing info@nickelplateexpress.net.

Nickel Plate Nick Saves Christmas is available for purchase at Cicero Market and the Nickel Plate Express ticket booth in Atlanta. Customers can reserve copies by emailing Nickel Plate Express at info@nickelplateexpress.net.

About the Nickel Plate Express

The Nickel Plate Express is managed by non-profit Nickel Plate Heritage Railroad Inc. The organization provides themed, year-round train excursions in northern Hamilton County. Nickel Plate Express seeks to educate and entertain all ages through moving historical experiences.

Why students benefit from playing sports beneficial when you are working or in some type of group.

Sports also puts you into a better mood. When you are physically active your body releases chemicals called endorphins. Endorphins are chemicals that makes you feel happier and more relaxed. Sports can also improve your focus. Finally, sports improve your critical thinking, judgement, and learning skills.

Playing sports also benefits your social health. You can meet a lot of people and make new friends while playing sports. The people you meet will have some of the same interests as you which will make it easy to be friends. You can become really close friends with your teammates because you spend a lot of time with them at practices, games, and traveling. Also, kids who play travel sports meet a lot of people from different schools. This is very beneficial because you can meet some really good and life-long friends.

Finally, sports can benefit your physical health. Playing a sport is a great way to keep students healthy. They get very good exercise while practicing and playing in the games. It helps you build endurance and get stronger. Sports also help your balance, coordination, and flexibility.

Sports have made a great impact in my life. I have made many friends. Almost all of my friends have come from the sports that I play. While playing sports, I also learned about respecting people from my coaches. I have had many amazing coaches throughout my life, even some who have been coaching me through elementary; they are really great and have helped me become a better player and person in one.

In conclusion, sports are very beneficial to students' lives. They can benefit from their mental, physical, and social health. Sports can make students' lives easier because they are active.

According to USNews.com, about 55.5 percent of high school students play a sport. Students can benefit greatly by playing a sport. There are many ways that sports can benefit your mental, social and physical health.

Playing sports improves your mental health in many ways. For example, in sports you will learn how to face challenges. In life you will have many challenges, and kids who have had the experience of dealing with challenges will have an easier time being able to handle them.

Also, sports will help you develop leadership traits. You will have to be a leader to your team sometimes while playing sports and in life that can be very

New retirement service offers support, camaraderie, resources

The REPORTER

More than 10,000 Baby Boomers retire each day in the U.S. By 2030, the population aged 65 and over is estimated at more than 72 million – an increase of more than 100 percent since 2000.

Successful retirement planning requires significant effort and coordination, and one of the biggest challenges for active or soon-to-be retirees is identifying where to access this type of information. A new service and support group, Retirement Journey: Now What?, assists retirees with adjusting to their new lifestyle. It presents an outlet to establish new connections, form relationships, develop new interests, provide support and most importantly, reignite new purpose for retired people.

There are three prominent groups in the retirement category, including those preparing for retirement, those looking for ways to grow in retirement and those struggling with retirement. Where do all these individuals seek assistance? Who do they reach out to? The complications and challenges are not unique or limited to a certain category of retiree. It cuts across all levels from all walks of life, men and women alike. It underscores the fact people need to prepare to enter retirement with more than a financial plan. Resources are needed to help with this very important transition so retirees can learn to enjoy their retirement years.

Retirees should not waste valuable years trying to figure this out alone. Collaborating and convening with others in a similar situation through a support group designed for retirees to share concerns and challenges can be invaluable to navigating this transition.

Participation in Retirement Journey: Now What? can assist people experiencing similar feelings and situations. Having someone to reach out to and talk through the issues can be a great benefit. A happy and fulfilling retirement is much more than money and insurance. Finding out what is key or central to you can be discovered through participation in a retirement support group.

Retirement Journey: Now What? is scheduled from 9 to 11 a.m. on Jan. 8 in the East Room at Fishers Public Library, 5 Municipal Drive, Fishers. Subsequent meetings will take place from 9 to 11 a.m. the second Tuesday of every month at Fishers Public Library. Family members and guests are welcomed and encouraged to attend.

Sen. Spartz speaks at U.S. Army Recruitment ball

State Senator Victoria Spartz (R-Noblesville) was the guest speaker at the U.S. Army Recruiting Command Indianapolis Battalion's recruiting ball on Friday, Dec. 14. The Indianapolis Battalion was recognized as No. 1 in the brigade for fiscal year 2018, despite recruitment facing immense challenges across the Midwest. Spartz told the Reporter, "I believe the military is a great opportunity for a lot of young kids to obtain some additional skills and also get post-secondary education debt free."

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord. And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name. And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation. He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts. He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree. He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away. He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy; As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever.

Upgrades coming to Redbird State Recreation Area next year

The REPORTER

Major upgrades and overhauls are coming to Redbird State Recreation Area, which became the DNR's first property for off-road vehicle (ORV) nearly 15 years ago.

Improvements include new trails, major trail repair and reroutes, and paved access from County Road 350 North to Whitetail Shelter.

Because of the paving project, Redbird will be closed to the public from spring to early fall of 2019. Actual dates will be announced closer to construction time. The goal is to complete the project in one phase, which helps reduce total cost and keeps trail closures to a minimum.

"We are responding to concerns expressed by members of the off-roading community about access to the most commonly used trails and event sites," property manager Carman Jackson said. "The interior paving project will set the stage for future development and enhancements."

While Redbird is closed, property staff will add approximately five miles of new dirt bike trail, reroute trails 0 and 3 to avoid conflict with traffic on the new pavement and rebuild multiple trails that sustained damage during the wet 2018 season. Staff will also add amenities such as trail-side rest areas at scenic vistas. Other plans include increasing signage and adding new trail designations to help visitors better navigate the property and avoid areas beyond their skill level.

Jackson says the projects will not adversely affect features that are visitor favorites but will improve parking and dust control at Power Line Hill and White-tail Shelter.

While Redbird is being worked on, ORV enthusiasts may want to explore the DNR's other ORV riding property, Interlake SRA, just over an hour south, near Lynnville. Interlake offers 3,500 acres and more than 100 miles of ORV trails.

For more information on Redbird, see dnr.IN.gov/outdoor/4225.htm. More information on Interlake is at dnr.IN.gov/outdoor/4226.htm.

Etchison scores 43 points in championship game...

Huskies win Franklin County Tournament

Hamilton Heights traveled to the Franklin County Tournament on Saturday and came home with the championship trophy. The Huskies beat East Central 57-53 in the first round and Irvington Prep Academy 80-64 in the championship, which included a huge performance from sophomore Gus Etchison.

Heights got off to a solid start against East Central, leading 24-12 after the first quarter. Issiac Hickok and Brent Pennington both had two 3-pointers in that period. The Trojans turned up their defense in the second quarter, allowing the Huskies just two points and cutting their lead to 26-24 by halftime.

The second half was much closer, but Heights was able to outscore East Central by one point in each quarter. Etchison scored 10 points in the fourth quarter, giving him a game-high total of 19. Pennington added 14, while Hickok threw in four 3s to score 12 points.

In the championship game, the Huskies led Irvington Prep 17-14 after the first period, then ran away with the second, pouring in 24 points to lead 41-24 at half-time. Etchison had an incredible game, scoring 43 points in total. In the second quarter alone, Etchison had 14 points.

AJ Field had 16 points and Hickok scored 11; both made three 3-pointers.

Heights is now 7-3 for the season and will be off until Friday, Jan. 4, when it travels to Northwestern for a Hoosier Conference East game.

Noblesville's Xavier Hines scored 11 points for the Millers during their game with Pike Saturday night at The Mill.

Noblesville falls to Pike after tough battle

By RICHIE HALL
NOBLESVILLE - Noblesville gave Pike a strong battle Saturday night at The Mill before the Red Devils took over in the final minutes of the fourth to beat the Millers 62-48.

The game was much closer than the final score, however. It had been tight for the first three quarters, which featured efficient shooting and contributions from everyone on the Noblesville team.

"We did a lot of great things," said Millers coach Brian McCauley. "We battled a team that I think is a very good team. We had great balanced scoring."

It seemed as if both teams had an answer for everything the other team did. Alex Hunt and Johnson scored early baskets, then Pike went on a 6-0 run to lead 8-4. Johnson ended that by hitting a 3-pointer. Eagan Keever-Hill's two foul shots and a layin from Jordan Schmidt put Noblesville up 11-10, then Xavier Hines made a 3 - that's all five starters scoring by the final minute of the quarter.

A breakaway basket by LaJuan Whintey gave the Red Devils a 17-14 lead at the end of the first, but Hines promptly tied the game at the beginning of the second by nailing another 3. Both teams continued to trade baskets for most of the quarter, with Noblesville getting the period's only back-to-back score: Schmidt's jumper and Hunt's layin put the Millers on top 25-23 midway through.

The basket-trading began again, with five straight lead changes in the game's final 2:51. Brendon Fisher's 3 gave Noblesville a 30-28 lead, with Jasen Graves answering with a 3 to put the Red Devils ahead 31-30. But the Millers had the last word of the half, as Schmidt's steal and subsequent basket and-1 gave Noblesville a 33-31 halftime lead.

Pike's Ahmoni Jones started the second half with a basket, a sign of things to come in the half. Hines answered that with his third 3-pointer of the game, giving the Millers a 36-33 lead.

But the Red Devils made a quick 6-0 run, going ahead 39-36; Graves hit his own 3 to tie the game and start the run. Pike got up by as much as 45-38 late in the third, but Johnson scored consecutive baskets to end the quarter, the second of a key rebound by Noblesville's Jordan Schmidt scored seven first-half points for the Millers in their game with Pike on Saturday.

Keever-Hill.

With that, the Millers trailed by only 45-42, then 45-44 after Hines scored to start the fourth. But Jones began to heat up, hitting a 3-pointer, then later making a three-point play to put Pike up 51-46. Hunt scored a layin to keep Noblesville within 53-48, but the Red Devils ended the game with a 9-0 run that took up the last 2:45.

"We gave ourselves chances," said McCauley. "We were down one point early in the fourth." But Jones took over after that, scoring 14 of his game-high 29 points in the quarter.

Johnson finished the game with 13 points, while Hines scored 11 and Hunt had 10. Keever-Hill handed out eight assists. Both teams shot the ball very well, so there weren't many rebounds. Keever-Hill led that statistic with three.

"Give them credit and I give our guys credit, but unfortunately, they were a little bit better in the second half than we were,"

said McCauley. "So we got to go back to work."

The Millers will host their own holiday tournament next week. Noblesville plays Northridge in its first game, which is set for noon on Thursday.

Fishers wrestling wins Avon Invitational

The Fishers wrestling team won an undefeated championship at the Avon Invitational on Saturday.

The Tigers beat Eastern Hancock 51-25, Perry Meridian 52-24, Avon 37-33, Seccina 45-30 and Columbus North 62-15 to claim the trophy. Three Fishers wrestlers finished the day with perfect 5-0 records: PJ Pritchett at 106 pounds, Mason McCartney at 170 and Nathan Pairitz at 285.

McCartney's first-period pin over his opponent in the Avon match sealed the victory in that dual meet for Fishers, and for the championship trophy.

Dylan Parodi (120), Josh Thompson (126), Tyler Lindamood (145), Josh Reardon (152) and Preston Putzback (195) all had 4-1 records on the tournament.

The Tigers will wrestle at the Connersville Spartan Classic next weekend.
