Boy, 13, arrested for shooting 14-year-old boy in Westfield

The REPORTER

Westfield Police have arrested a 13-year-old boy in connection with a shooting that occurred Thursday evening in Westfield.

Police reports indicate the incident occurred just before 5:30 p.m. in the 1200 block of Scarlet Street located on the city's west side.

The victim, a 14-year-old boy, was transported to an Indianapolis hospital and is reported to be in stable condition.

The suspect, whose name has not been released, was taken to the Hamilton County Juvenile Detention Center on charges of aggravated battery and possession of a handgun without a license.

Police have not released a motive, but indicate the suspect and victim did know each other.

Brandi Ruiz, a nearby resident, told news gathering partner WISH-TV that her family moved to the apartments in August. She said there have been issues surrounding crime. Her son, who is also 14, said people have tried to jump him after he gets off the school bus.

Ruiz described the area. "A lot of kids running around here. They're out of control. The parents aren't watching their kids. I try to keep my kids inside so they're not a part of it," she said.

Phase 2 of 276th/281st . . . Bids due in May for northern county road

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

Documents were signed Monday by Hamilton County Commissioners for Phase 2 of the reconstruction of 276th/281st streets, a project that will get underway this summer connecting State Road 19 with U.S. 31. Phase 1 which involved improvements to 276th from just west of Gwinn Road and 31, is now all but completed.

The second phase involves building a gently curved new road from 276th to 281st.

The newly rebuilt 281st will meet State Road 19 where the existing 281st continues east toward State Road 37. County Highway Director Brad Davis says this connection will provide a good east-west roadway from 31 to 37 across Jackson and White River Townships.

The project will be bid in May with construction expected to start by July. The cost of about $5.5 million is being paid with $4 million in federal funds and the remainder in local funds.

The new road between 19 and 31 will have a much improved road surface with wider shoulders and improved intersections, thus providing motorists from the Atlanta and Arcadia areas easier access to 31.

Beck's Hybrids, whose operation is served by the new road, is participating in providing some of the needed right-of-way.

HSE school board hashes out policies on video recordings of its meetings

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The Hamilton Southeastern school board has not yet started live streaming board meetings, but the board is still talking about how long to make the recordings of those sessions available.

Three new board members took office in 2019, but the previous board had approved a policy of allowing video recordings to be available to the public for 45 days. Board member Michelle Fullhart asked that the issue be placed on the agenda of Wednesday night's meeting and it sparked a lively discussion.

When all was said and done, the board took no action, but sent the issue back to the Policy Committee, with the intention to possibly vote on the issue at the Feb. 13 board meeting.

There were several ideas voiced by different board members, from keeping the current policy of a 45-day video retention period to keeping the videos online for four years. There was no consensus from the board on this issue Wednesday night.

Local filmmaker, artist and student artwork exhibit celebrates Black History Month at Fishers City Hall

The REPORTER

"A Youthful Perspective of Black History in America" celebrates Black History Month through the artwork of Bryce Culverhouse and Fall Creek Junior High School students for a special February exhibit hosted by the Fishers Arts Council at The Art Gallery at City Hall.

During the exhibit opening from 6 to 8 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 8, Indiana filmmaker Demetrius Witherspoon will show his 20-minute film, called "Submerge: Echo 51," which is part of his popular Sci-Fi Film series. The film will be played at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. Visitors can meet with Witherspoon and some of the cast of the film before and after the film.

Born in Louisville, Ky., Witherspoon lives in Indianapolis, where he owns the film production company DV Entertainment Pictures. He's working on his fifth film, which is slated to be released this summer. Witherspoon has won awards for editing and directing. He was inspired by George Lucas, Steven Spielberg and JJ Abrams. For more information, visit dventertainmentpictures.com.

The art exhibit will include several digital typography pieces by Culverhouse, a Brownsburg artist, whose work combines his passion for history and visual art.

"I created specific history or biography lessons that both communicate information about the subject as well as an interesting concept to visualizing the subject," Culverhouse said. "Each piece is meant to be read as well as view for its visual value."

Be smart, be safe, don't drive drunk on Super Bowl Sunday

The REPORTER

As Super Bowl LIII quickly approaches, the U.S. Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is teaming up with Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership to remind football fans that designated drivers are the best defense against the dangers of drunk driving. The Super Bowl is a festive night in homes and bars across America, but if your night involves alcohol, plan for a sober ride home. We want to remind everyone that "Fans Don't Let Fans Drive Drunk."

"The Super Bowl should be a night of fun, so we want our community folks to plan safe rides home if they plan to be out at a party," said Hamilton County Sheriff Dennis Quakenbush. "Even one drink can impair judgement. You should never put yourself, or others, at risk because you made the choice to drink and drive. For most, even one drink can be one too many."

Safety should be your number one priority: When it's time to leave the party, make sure your designated driver is actually sober. If he or she decided to drink, you should call a cab, use the SaferRide app, or call someone else who you know hasn't been drinking. Remember that walking impaired can also be dangerous, so designate a sober friend to walk home with you if needed. If you are driving, remember that sober driving isn't the only law that should be followed: Make sure you – and your driver – wear your seat belts. It's your best defense in a crash.

If you're planning on being the designated driver, refrain from drinking alcohol – it's that simple. People are relying on you. While at the party, enjoy the food, the company and non-alcoholic drinks. Encourage other designated drivers on social media using the hashtag #designateddriver. Let @NHTSAGov know you are the #DesignatedDriver so we can add your name to the Wall of Fame. Your positive influence could help keep other sober drivers on the right track. If someone you know has been drinking and tries to drive, take their keys and help them get home safely. Even if they make a fuss in the moment, they'll thank you later.

If you're hosting this year's Super Bowl party, prepare plenty of snacks and non-alcoholic beverages for your guests and the designated drivers. Don't forget to tweet your designated driver's name to @NHTSAGov to add their name to the Wall of Fame, and use the hashtag #designateddriver. They are doing everyone a favor by keeping drunk drivers off the roads. Ask your guests to designate their sober drivers in advance, or help them coordinate with other partygoers' designated drivers. Encourage your drinking guests to pace themselves, to eat food and to drink plenty of water. Another important reminder: Do not serve alcohol to minors. If an underage person drinks and drives, the person who provided the alcohol could be held liable for any damage, injury or death caused by the underage driver. In fact, you could face jail time if you host a party where alcohol is served to people under the age of 21.

Quakenbush

Before you head out, make a game plan that includes a sober driver – someone who will not drink at all and who will safely bring you home. Follow these simple tips for a safe and happy evening:

- Remember that it is never okay to drink and drive. Even if you've had only one alcoholic beverage, designate a sober driver or plan to use public transportation or a ride sharing service to get home safely.

- Download NHTSA's SaferRide mobile app, available on Google Play for Android devices, or on Apple's iTunes Store for iOS devices. SaferRide allows users to call a taxi or a predetermined friend and identifies the user's location so he or she can be picked up.

- If you see a drunk driver on the road, contact Hamilton County Public Safety Communications at 317-773-1282 or call 9-1-1 for an emergency.

- Have a friend who is about to drink and drive? Take the keys away and make arrangements to get your friend home safely.

It is illegal everywhere in America to drive with a blood alcohol concentration of .08 or higher. Even still, thousands die each year in drunk-driving-related crashes. In 2017, there were 10,874 people killed in drunk-driving crashes.

The costs can be financial, too: If you're caught drinking and driving, you could face jail time, lose your driver's license and your vehicle and pay up to $10,000 in attorney's fees, fines, car towing and repairs, higher insurance rates and lost wages.

For more information on the dangers of drunk driving, visit trafficsafetymarketing.gov.

Friday marked the beginning of National Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month.

#GoOrangeWithPrevail
Each morning on social media, Prevail will highlight responses you can use when a teen tells you about violence they have experienced.

No response is neutral; every interaction is either healing or harming. Prevail encourages you to consider the power your words contain as we build a community that supports survivors and sends a clear message that violence is unacceptable and will not be tolerated.

Telling someone about your experiences can be difficult. Knowing how to respond to someone when I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about.

But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.)

Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

- Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Daily accountability and communication are your keys to success

By BROOKE HOFFMAN & RACHEL HASELHORST
Registered Dietitians

My partner and I are registered dietitians. We decided to create an accountability program. We were telling people all of the information that they needed, how to eat, to exercise more, but after that, it is not about knowledge at all. It is about behavior. Some people could take what we said and do great. However, the majority of people come back frustrated. They had fallen off the wagon because work is busy and kids are hard and life is tough.

So you would like to lose weight. You have tried all of the diets. You have purchased the books and read the newest fad. You have cut out gluten, dairy, sugar, fat and ... what was that other thing we were supposed to leave out? It probably leaves many feeling like they have no clue. Oh, forget it, this is way to too hard.

Or maybe you have never had to eat healthy before. Maybe you've never had to work out before and it has started to catch up to you over the years. Now, like everyone else, you are feeling clueless.

Then there are the gym memberships. You know, that membership that you paid money for but haven't used. "If I went after work then who would cook dinner for the family? I can't even think about getting up before bed to work out, not when I stayed up until midnight folding laundry. There simply are not enough hours in the day for me to work out."

Does any of this sound familiar? As registered dietitians, we have heard this all before. This is the way we treat ourselves. We all do it! We have a million excuses, and they are good excuses, but when the going gets tough, the first thing we let go is our health. We may get a little burst of motivation here and there, but how do we make it stick? How do we turn these little bursts of energy into lifelong habits that transform our lives?

We need to hold ourselves accountable! We need to talk to ourselves with kinder words. We need to prioritize our lives better. We need to eat foods that nourish our bodies.

When we make more nutritious and lower calorie food choices, we don't have to eat less food. Then we don't feel like we are on a diet! When we don't feel like we are on a diet, we may be able to stick to it longer. We need to know that it's important to treat ourselves sometimes, but we feel empowered making the right food choices on most days. When this is done over and over, habits are created.

After that, we get moving! We move because it's fun. We move because we are lucky that we are still here on this earth to be able to move our bodies. We find activity that we enjoy - don't do something you hate because it is the new trend. We prioritize better - we treat ourselves with more respect and make more time for ourselves. We make a playlist, find a friend and make moving fun. Track one week on your phone usage ... could we find some time in there to give up? I think we can.

We get it, and we are the first to admit that we are not perfect either. Accountability is just as important in our lives. How could we hold our clients more accountable?

It got us thinking: What if we created a program where we communicated with our clients daily? What if we could send them a nice morning motivational note, help them overcome their daily obstacles, offer them support through each meal, give them feedback on their meals, and praise when they've completed a good work out? If we could teach them to treat themselves (and talk to themselves) with more love and self-respect, how could good habits not be formed?

If you feel like you've tried it all or that you don't know where to start, accountability coaching could be your answer. We are experts in nutrition, and you will learn how to eat right. You will find time to move your body. Most importantly, we want to change your inner dialogue to talk to yourself with more love and uplifting words, like you deserve. This is a big part of the program, so you can learn to be positive and accountable once the program has ended. Talk to yourself the way you would talk to your best friend. Why are we harder on ourselves?

Accountability coaching can turn your hopes and dreams into action! We feel passionate about this program because we don't see how you can fail. We are with you five times a day, communicating over FaceTime or text messaging. You send us pictures of your meals and workouts (accountability, my friends!) and have 24/7 access to nutrition professionals. You have someone there for you every day to remind you why you started and offer constant support.

You are worth it. To remind you that it can be hard, but that your hard work will pay off. We offer two- and four-week jumpstart programs. Once those programs are completed, we offer less intensive maintenance programs until you feel like you can conquer the world!

We want to be there for you! We want to help you transform your life into the healthy and happy life you've always wanted! Stop beating yourself up and feeling like you aren't enough. Stop feeling like a failure. This is a no-failure program, and we will be there for YOU every step of the way! Email us today at dietitiansforyou@gmail.com.

Reporter columnist calls for change to animal rights laws

Dear Editor:

Much has been said and written the past few days regarding the dogs left in the frigid and dangerous cold in Arcadia. Presumably, the owner is a "former veterinarian" - who frankly should know better, in my opinion - and the current Indiana code does not question the bad decision of this owner. Therefore, Hamilton County law enforcement must adhere to the current law and ordinances. I do understand that - to a point.

The record-breaking temperatures we have endured call for more than "following the law" but must also address moral and humane issues. It is within a human being's right to stand out in the frigid cold temperatures, but sometimes the homeless and helpless need to be sheltered by law enforcement if necessary. The alternative could be frostbite or death. And the "igloo" shelters - hardly appropriate. Fresh water - how long does it take water to freeze in those temps? We all know the answers.

So ... where do we go from here?

For many years in our nation's history some very wrong and immoral activities were within the law. Child labor. Discrimination. Slavery. No right to vote for women or those of another color.

How did we address these issues? The laws were changed.

I believe, as many others believe, that it is time for Hamilton County to review and upgrade law enforcement mandates regarding the humane care of both pets and livestock in our county. It is amazing to me that Marion County has stricter humane ordinances than our county. I am not surprised that the state has taken a lax stand on these issues, but our county can do much better in my opinion.

In recent conversation with a Hamilton County elected official, I feel hopeful that there is a strong relationship between county officials and our Humane Society for Hamilton County and I look forward to real changes for those who cannot speak for themselves.

As President Abraham Lincoln advised us, "I care not for a man's religion whose dog and cat are not the better for it."

Noblesville mayoral candidate pledges positivity, transparency

Dear Editor,

In light of Commissioner Steve Dillinger's challenge during the State of the County address to avoid negative campaigning, I am sharing my commitment to run a positive and transparent campaign as well as a transparent and positive administration if elected.

I believe that Noblesville can be a model for a new way of campaigning and governing, one that listens to and actively seeks engagement from its citizens. During my 12 years of service on the Noblesville School Board, it was a hallmark of our work that we sought to connect with our community in a variety of ways - electronic newsletters, social media, public forums, coffee conversations - to ensure that our community understood what we were proposing and had input on the decisions that were made. I will use the same methods during my campaign and during my administration.

As an attorney, I am always conscious of avoiding conflicts of interest because I want to be clear of any appearance of bias or favoritism. I am not accepting contributions from those who do business with the city of Noblesville and am relying on my supporters, friends and family to fund my campaign. Any project or undertaking in the city should be based on its own merits and not on the basis of who made a political contribution.

I look forward to meeting the citizens of Noblesville on their doorsteps, at various public forums and around town during the next three months.

Best regards,
Julia Church Kozicki

Fishers mayor Scott Fadness officially files for re-election

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

In a campaign news release announcing his filing, Fadness touted the city's growth, economic development, city service improvements and low tax rate during his tenure in office.

"We've made great strides as a city. Our signature initiatives have been the result of collaboration with community leaders, nonprofit leaders, neighborhood activists and residents across Fishers," Fadness said. "Recently being named the 'Best Place to Live in America' reflects our thoughtful planning and hard work."

Fadness also points to his mental health initiative as a high priority during his time as mayor.

So far, Scott Fadness is the only candidate to officially file the paperwork with the Hamilton County Election Office in Noblesville as a Fishers mayoral candidate.

Logan Day has formed an exploratory committee for a run for mayor, but has not yet officially filed. The filing deadline for candidates in the May 7 primary election is noon on Friday, Feb. 8.

(Right) Scott Fadness, his wife Aunna, and the latest addition to their family, Hudson, all braved the snowy Friday morning to allow the incumbent mayor to officially file his paperwork to become a candidate for another term in office as Fishers' first and only mayor.

Ina Lucille McKinney
September 6, 1924 – January 31, 2019

Ina Lucille McKinney, 94, Sheridan, passed away on Thursday, January 31, 2019 at Parkwood Healthcare in Lebanon. Born September 6, 1924 in Strawtown, she was the daughter of the late John Earl and Loretta (Hughes) Irion.

Ina attended Walnut Grove High School and made Hamilton County her home for most of her life. Quilting was by far her favorite hobby. She enjoyed making things for her friends and family. When it came to quilting, Ina didn't really need a project or a special occasion, she just did it and would find the perfect need for it later. She also liked to playing cards. She would never turn down a game whenever the opportunity presented itself. Ina also liked to stay as active as she could and maintaining her property seemed to fit the bill. She really enjoyed mowing and tending to her garden.

The one thing that Ina took the most pride in however, was her wonderful family. Ina is survived by her son, Stephen W. McKinney (Donna), Sheridan; her daughter, Barbara Hanshaw (Bill), Sheridan; eight grandchildren, Elaine Cuban (Bob) of Illinois, Angela Leisure, Sheridan; Loretta Yates (Chris), Carmel; Wren McKinney (Margaret), Sheridan; Levi McKinney (Leah), Sheridan; Jeremy McKinney (Tonya), Sheridan; Megan McKinney, Sheridan; and Jeff Soden, Sheridan; 14 great-grandchildren; one brother, Edgar Irion (Melva), Strawtown; and one sister, Ione Meeks, Tipton.

She was preceded in death by her parents; two daughters, Beverly Terry and Carole Ann Irion; three sisters, Eva, Ethel and Ella; and by her loving husband, Alton Wayne McKinney, on January 26, 2005. He and Ina were married on April 3, 1943.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, February 5, 2019 at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation from 1 p.m. until the time of service. Pastor George Cooper will be officiating. Burial will follow at Cicero Cemetery, Cicero.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judaea and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed. And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all. And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

Royals reach championship after tough win over Tigers

By RICHIE HALL

FISHERS - Hamilton Southeastern had to grind its way to the title game at its own sectional Friday night.

The Class 4A No. 1 Royals got past their biggest rival, a fired-up Fishers team, 36-27 in the second semi-final game of Sectional 8. Southeastern improved to 22-1 with the win and will take on Carmel at 7 p.m. tonight for the championship.

It wasn't easy. Although the Royals never trailed in the game, the Tigers tied it up five different times, including three times in the third quarter, which ended at 24-24. But Southeastern outscored Fishers 12-3 in the fourth period, thanks to solid defense and perfect free throw shooting.

Despite the close game and tense situation, Royals coach Chris Huppenthal trusted his team would pull it out.

"When they were coming down there towards the end, and you just saw Tayah Irvin get in her stance, and she was ready," said Huppenthal. "I've said this all year about our kids and to Tayah Irvin. Everything starts and ends with her defense. We had talked at some point in the year, and we said 'At some point, our defense is going to have to win us a game.' It won us a game tonight. Our kids just played outstanding defense."

Southeastern senior Malea Jackson scored the first two points of the game on a layin, which Fishers junior Tamia Perryman answered with a rebound basket. Junior Sydney Parrish made two free throws to put HSE up 4-2, then sophomore Katie Burton tied it up again with a layin. That set the tone for the game.

Parrish scored four more points in the first quarter, which ended with the Royals ahead 8-4. The Tigers cut it to 10-9 midway through the second when senior Skylar Fulton made a 3-pointer, but a quick 6-0 run put Southeastern ahead 16-9. Senior Amaya Hamilton made a hook shot, then Parrish added two more baskets.

Cierra Tolbert hit two free throws with two seconds left, and that kept the Tigers within 16-11 at halftime.

"You got to give them a lot of credit," said Huppenthal. "This is a rivalry game. We knew it wasn't going to be easy. They left their hearts out on the floor. (Fishers coach) Lauren Vail, she had those kids well-prepared. They came out with a belief to them. It was a great basketball game."

The Royals led 20-14 midway through the third, but the Tigers quickly tied it up by nailing back-to-back 3s, from sophomore Audra Emmerson and Burton. Parrish put

Carmel beats Westfield to advance to championship

By RICHIE HALL

FISHERS - Carmel reached the championship game of Class 4A Sectional 8 at Hamilton Southeastern by beating Westfield 53-34 in the first Friday semi-final game.

The Greyhounds were led by a solid performance from Reagan Hune. The senior scored the first six points of the game, putting Carmel up 6-0 right away. That gave the 'Hounds momentum that carried them to a 15-6 lead by the end of the first quarter. Hune scored eight points overall in that period, with senior Macy Berglund contributing the other seven.

Carmel coach Erin Trimpe knew that Hune would be stepping up after the two saw each other before the game.

"We met at the school this afternoon and she looked right at me and said 'I'm ready,'" said Trimpe. "When she gets that look in her eye, you can tell in pre-game warm-ups, you can tell in my pre-game speech and in huddles and the way she was communicating with people that she was ready to go tonight."

The Shamrocks cut into Carmel's lead in the second period, getting within 23-17 by halftime. Freshman Alyssa Crockett poured in nine points during the quarter. But the Greyhounds took control again in the third period, with four different players hitting 3-pointers: Hune, sophomore Bridget Dunn, senior Sophie Bair and freshman Kate Clarke.

In total, the 'Hounds outscored Westfield 16-7 in the third, giving them a 39-24 lead at the end of the period. Clarke's 3 started a 7-0 run that also included the beginning of the fourth quarter; Clarke began the period with a basket, then Berglund scored on a putback.

Crockett ended the run with a layin, but Carmel scored two more baskets, a layin from sophomore Tally Seitz and a jumper by Clarke, to take its biggest lead of the game at 47-26. Clarke and Seitz would later each hit 3s; Carmel was 6 of 10 from 3-point range from the game.

"We keep stressing to them to let it fly," said Trimpe. "We have so much confidence in really all of our girls to hit shots. We have some really good shooters and we focus on that very heavily in practice."

Hune finished the game with 13 points, six rebounds and four steals, while Berglund scored 11 points and also pulled six rebounds. Clarke added 10 points, including a pair of 3s. Senior Mackenzie Wood grabbed seven rebounds. Carmel is now 14-10 for the season.

Crockett led all scorers with 19 points, hitting two 3-pointers, and also grabbed seven rebounds. Sophomore Gigi Eldredge collected five rebounds.

"I thought Alyssa Crockett did a heck of a job," said Shamrocks coach Ginny Smith. "She had 19 of our 34 points. We just didn't give her a lot of help. And I think anytime you're playing against a really good basketball team, you got to have some contributors, and unfortunately tonight, we just fell a little bit short."

"The kids played hard," said Smith. "It wasn't lack of effort. Lack of execution at times and not enough contribution across the board."

Westfield finished the season 15-8 and graduates three seniors: Jade Shipley (who hit a 3-pointer), Regan Dimond and Zoe Pentecost.

"I enjoy these kids. I enjoy these seniors," said Smith. "I'll be sad to see them go. But we'll give the kids a little time off and we'll get back in the gym and get back at it."

University wins first-round game

The University girls opened defense of their Sectional 58 championship with an easy 82-17 win over the International School of Indiana Friday night at Bethesda Christian School.

A suffocating University defense forced 15 first-quarter Gryphons turnovers as the Trailblazers sprinted to a 30-0 lead at the end of the opening stanza. University scored the first 34 points of the game.

All 12 Trailblazers scored, led by 18 points from Lindsey Syrek. University had balanced scoring with Jenna Blakley in double figures with 11 while Lily Snyder, Maddi Sears and Haley Tomlinson had eight points each. Brooke Andrus and Jhordan McGuire chipped in with seven each. Elise Nachlis had five, Abby Hannon four and Lucy Snyder, Arriion Sherrrod and Hallie Harrison two each as University improved to 20-2.

University (20-2) will take on the host Bethesda Christian Patriots in the semi-finals at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. If the Trailblazers win, they will play in the sectional championship Monday evening against the winner of the Indianapolis Metropolitan-Indiana School for The Deaf contest.

Carmel's Rajeev Ram wins

Australian Open mixed doubles title

WISH-TV

Rajeev Ram's road to the Australian Open mixed doubles trophy ceremony was weird.

At 34 years old, Carmel's Ram hunted down his first career Grand Slam title last Saturday in Melbourne and with the win, became the first Indiana native to win at a Grand Slam event.

"It is a long flight back home, so I had some time to think about it," Ram said. "I think all the years, all the tough matches I lost, yet it is still worth it."

Ram found his match down under, paired with the No. 1 women's doubles player in the world, 23-year-old Barbora Krejčíková, and took the title match in straight sets 7-6 (3), 6-1.

Ram said the task of teaming up with a partner in mixed doubles tennis is bizarre.

"It is like high school dating ... more like junior high dating in fact," Ram said. "You ask them if you want to play and they say yes or no. She is number one in the world. She is out of my league, but I got lucky."

Now Ram is looking to pay it forward back in Indiana. The Carmel High School graduate wants to inspire local tennis stars to play professionally outside their home state.

"I know how much I was inspired by the HSE back on top with a layin, but a Fishers steal led to a Burton basket, tying the game again.

Hamilton made two free throws with 36 seconds left to get HSE ahead 24-22. The Tigers answered again, as Burton's floater knotted the game going into the fourth quarter.

The Royals ramped up their defense, and got timely baskets early, with Hamilton making two layins to get her team up 28-24. Those would be the last baskets, but Southeastern got it done from the free throw line, going 8 of 8 in the quarter. Parrish hit the first two foul shots to get the Royals up 30-24.

Sophomore Katie Howard hit a long 3-pointer with under two minutes left to keep the Tigers within 30-27, but Southeastern wouldn't allow its rival another point. Junior Jackie Maulucci went 4 of 4 from the line in the game's final 1:10, with Jackson making both her attempts.

Parrish led all scorers with 18 points, also pulling eight rebounds and getting three blocked shots. Maulucci had five rebounds.

Burton had nine points for Fishers, Fulton drained two 3-pointers for six points, and Perryman collected eight rebounds.

"Our kids played exceptionally hard," said Vail. "And they did all year. We knew that we were playing our best basketball coming down the stretch. Obviously Hamilton Southeastern is a very talented basketball team. I thought that our kids went out and played really, really hard."

The Tigers finished their season 15-10. "I thought, really, we did a lot of great things," said Vail. "We won some that I didn't have on paper that we'd win, we lost some that I didn't have on paper that we'd lose. But man, the growth that these kids showed, especially in the way that they came together as far as learning how to be teammates, learning how to play hard for one another and growing in how they understand the game, is all stuff that we're most definitely going to build on for next year."

County swim teams participate in sectional prelims

The two Hamilton County-hosted swimming sectional preliminary events took place on Friday, and everything went pretty much as expected.

At Carmel, the Greyhounds qualified all 27 of their swims for the championship heat at today's sectional finals, which begin at 1 p.m. Carmel, which is going for a 33rd consecutive state title, earned the top seed in each event.

Noblesville and Westfield both qualified all their swims for the final. The Millers sent 20 swims to the championship heat and the other seven to the consolation heat, with Westfield getting 14 swims on to the fast heat and 13 more to the consols.

Hamilton Heights totaled 15 swims into the final, eight in the championship and seven in the consolations. Guerin Catholic will have eight total swims competing today, four each in the fast heat and the consols.

At Fishers, both the Tigers and Hamilton Southeastern qualified all 27 of their swims in today's finals, which also starts at 1 p.m. The Royals have 26 swims in the championship heat and one in the consols, with Fishers getting 25 in the fast heat and the other two in the consolation.

Both sites will have their diving preliminaries today, starting at 9 a.m. The diving finals will take place during the swimming finals.

Here is a complete list of sectional prelim results. Positions 1-8 qualify for the championship ("A") heat, positions 9-16 qualify for the consolation ("B") heat, positions 17 and 18 are alternates.
