Parks program will take nature "on the road" . . .

County Parks & Rec gets grant from Duke Energy Foundation

The REPORTER

Duke Energy Foundation has awarded Hamilton County Parks and Recreation $14,500, as part of its Environmental Project Grant program. The funds will be applied toward the development of a $34,000 nature education trailer.

The custom, mobile "nature center" will be transported and then staged at multiple park and community events throughout Hamilton County, with the intention of inviting guests in the trailer to experience interactive and hands-on nature education.

Members of the community that may not otherwise have access to such resources, or haven't thought to visit a nature center in the past, will benefit from Duke Energy Foundation's generosity and this innovative collaboration with Hamilton County Parks.

"We are extremely grateful to Duke Energy Foundation for this funding that gets us much closer to completing this special project that will advance our initiative to provide quality nature education at venues throughout the county that traditionally draw large audiences," said Al Patterson,

Noblesville Schools to partner with Community Health

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced on Tuesday that it has chosen Community Health as its exclusive partner for all district health services including school nursing, mental health and counseling, sports medicine and the employee health clinic. Previously the district's health services were provided by Riverview Health and Community Health jointly through an agreement between the two systems.

"We have the utmost respect and appreciation for Riverview Health and the outstanding care they have provided Noblesville Schools students and employees over the years," said Noblesville Schools Superintendent Dr. Beth Niedermeyer. "As we move to increase our mental health and counseling resources, and align them with our current medical offerings, Community Health is best positioned to meet our needs across that full continuum of care. We look forward to building on our successful past relationship with Community as we expand into this exclusive partnership that will bring significantly increased mental health and

Carmel Clay Historical Society to unveil new Monon sculpture

The REPORTER

A new piece of public art will be unveiled this Friday by the Carmel Clay Historical Society (CCHS) at its south lawn near the Monon Depot Museum. The unveiling of the Sculpture "Blossoming" will take place at 5:30 p.m. on Friday, March 22 at the Depot, 211 1st St. SW, Carmel. Light soft drinks and snacks will be provided.

The piece, commissioned by former director Emily Ehr Gott, was done by Scott Osborne, a senior at Herron School of Art majoring in Integrated Studio Practices with a focus in sculpture and illustration. Osborne's inspiration stems from the Monon Greenway's past, present and future.

"The Historical Society commissioned hometown Carmel artist Scott Osborne to create an interactive sculpture that incorporates a variety of pieces from vintage trains and bicycles to involve all ages of Carmel citizens," said CCHS Executive Director Deborah Gangstad. "The art piece is perfectly situated where the Monon Train once traveled and where Noblesville, Sheridan could see increases in water bill rate

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Customers of Indiana American Water would see their bills increase by nearly 8 percent by mid-2020 under a proposed settlement agreement the utility has reached with consumer advocates, industrial customers and other parties.

The agreement was filed Monday with the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission, which may accept, deny or change it. An IURC settlement hearing is scheduled for April 11.

Indiana American Water services Noblesville and Sheridan.

The deal calls for a 7.9 percent increase in operating revenues based on the utility's investment of more than $542 million in its water systems across the state. A 1.73 percent increase would occur this summer and a 6.07 percent increase in mid-2020. Residential customers using 4,000 gallons of water per month would see their bills increase by a total of $2.41.

The utility has 1.3 million customers across Indiana.

Stay safe during potential spring storms HEALTH

Severe thunderstorms can include damaging winds in excess of 58 mph and hail 1 inch in diameter (approximately the size of a quarter).

Winds can be generated from a gust front like what caused the Indiana State Fair stage collapse in 2011, a downdraft where a column of air is no longer supported in the updraft of a storm and collapses sending air straight down at high speeds.

Occasionally, straight line wind damage from strong thunderstorms can cause significant damage with wind speeds that can exceed 100 mph. Winds can also be associated with changes in weather systems as like what has been seen recently during several high wind events.

The safest place during high winds is indoors. If you are outside, take cover next to a building or sturdy shelter. Flying debris is the main threat during high winds. You can help prevent flying debris by securing items like lawn furniture,

High Wind Safety

The spring months often mark the windiest time of the year for our region. Keep this information in mind when you encounter strong winds.

- Crosswinds
 - Drive with caution and beware of strong crosswinds.
 - High profile vehicles are especially vulnerable.
- Wind and Waves
 - Strong winds can create dangerous waves on local lakes.
 - Strong winds can capsize small vessels.
- Flying Debris
 - During periods of very strong winds, beware of flying debris.
 - Trees, awnings, and signage can be dangerous in high winds.

trampolines, yard decorations and trash cans.

Hail is another threat during severe weather. If a thunderstorm builds high enough, it can carry water in the updraft to freezing air aloft, begin to fall, and can get caught in a cycle. The longer the droplets are in the cycle, the larger the hailstones. Eventually, the hail becomes too heavy for the storm to support and it falls to the ground.

Severe hail is considered to be 1 inch in diameter and can begin to cause damage. The largest hailstone ever record in the United States was nearly the size of a volleyball. It is possible for hail to become large enough to cause severe damage and even cause casualties.

Remember, if a severe thunderstorm or high wind watch is issued, it means conditions are favorable. If a severe thunderstorm warning or high wind warning is issued, it means to take shelter.

counseling resources to our students and staff."

"We are committed to the health and well-being of the communities we serve," said Bryan Mills, president and CEO of Community Health Network. "Schools are a vital part of those communities. We consider it a privilege and a special responsibility to be invited into the schools to provide care for students, teachers, staff and families. As someone who calls Noblesville home, I am especially delighted to begin this new partnership with Noblesville Schools."

President and CEO of Riverview Health Seth Warren said, "We've been proud to partner with Noblesville Schools and will continue to support them in any way we can. But we understand that Community Health Network excels in the behavioral health arena and that continuing to share the contract with Community could lead to fragmented care and limit the behavioral care providers' abilities to have an entire clinical picture of the student/staff member."

The district has worked to secure agreement from the parties on a plan regarding the future status of school nurses, who are Riverview Health employees embedded as Noblesville Schools staff in all schools.

"Our school nurses are a valued part of our school community and are serving us very well," said Niedermeyer. "We hope to retain current staff through their transition from Riverview to Community employees."

The Noblesville Schools Board of Trustees adopted the Community Health resolution and is expected to adopt the contract in the next few months. The district plans to have Community Health resources in place by July 2019 for the start of the 2019-2020 school year. Riverview Health will continue to manage sports medicine for Noblesville Schools through July 2020.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. - Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Chinese language may be taught at HSE Schools

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) Schools Superintendent Allen Bourff was cautious, but hopeful that a Chinese language program would be established at one of the high schools, but available to students at both schools.

In the past, the biggest barrier to establishing a Chinese program was the difficulty in finding a committed Chinese instructor.

"We've been able to find them from year-to-year, but it's been difficult to get them for more than a year at a time," said Bourff at the Wednesday night board meeting.

According to Bourff, the school district "may" have a Chinese instructor willing to commit to multiple years of teaching the subject and build a curriculum.

"We're hopeful we can do that," Bourff told the board. "I don't know that we'll be able to, we're still in the negotiations stage."

If implemented, the program would be housed at Fishers High School but would be available to HSE students as well. The program could go down to the Junior High School level.

Bourff told the board he is "hopeful" he will be able to present a Chinese program proposal at the next board meeting.

See how St. Vincent helps men in need dress for success

The REPORTER

Danny's Closet of Hope, a St. Vincent program that has fitted more than 5,000 men in business attire (suits, shirts, ties, shoes) for the past 12 years has a new logo, name and mission. The program has been re-named Success Wear to better represent the work and goals of this valuable service in the community.

An open house to celebrate the new Success Wear program will be held from 3 to 6 p.m. on Wednesday, March 27 at 9101 Wesleyan Road, Suite 101, Indianapolis.

Success Wear will help provide individuals with male professional attire to acquire employment in addition to opportunities to network with local business leaders.

Success Wear will continue to offer appointments for individuals to be fitted for suits (only scheduled through Success Wear's referral partners) but is also expanding the program to include career readiness events, high school learning programs, and broadening the program outreach throughout the state. Participants will undergo work-based learning scenarios in which activities in the classroom and workplace will overlap, helping support a smooth transition from education to employment.

Success Wear is more than just looking sharp. The program will empower individuals of all ages to achieve economic independence by equipping them with the professional tools for success, preparing them to thrive in their families and communities. This accomplishment would not be possible without the continual help and donation of others. Whether that be time, clothing or business knowledge, Success Wear would not be around today without the unrivaled dedication of its volunteers and partner programs.

Individuals/groups who would like to donate suits or interested in becoming a potential partner are encouraged to stop by the Open House to learn more about the program. If you would like to talk to a staff member call 317-338-8509 or email successwear@ascension.org.

Reader analyzes Chris Jensen's "money trail"

Dear Editor:
 Big money has arrived in Noblesville's mayoral election campaign.

Chris Jensen's campaign committee is called "Jensen for Noblesville," but a detailed look at his campaign contributions for 2017-18 suggests otherwise (Official CFA-4 records).

Special interests dominate the whopping total fundraising contributions of over $140,000. About 71 percent came from outside Noblesville, including money from donors in Washington, D.C., California, Colorado and Illinois. Over $41,000 came from political action committees (PACs) or other organizations, including his single biggest donor, "Ditslear for Mayor."

But the real story is in the long list of corporations and corporate executives connected to development, real estate, engineering, construction, consulting and other supporting special interests. Over 50 different corporations are named, so the list reads like a Who's Who of LLCs associated with development in the Central Indiana area.

Of course, you'll find Rebar Companies (tax-supported developer of "The Levinson"), Blue Sky Technology (tax-supported new building at Federal Hill) and Noblesville Fieldhouse LLC (tax-supported), but many are more difficult to clearly identify. The list adds up to a total of about $77,000 of donations from specific corporations or individuals linked to corporations and Special Interests.

Bottom line: Only about $11,000 – or about 8 percent – of Jensen's total campaign contributions come from Noblesville resident individuals not somehow linked to some special interests.

We know who will represent Central Indiana "Big Money," but the voters of Noblesville have to ask themselves – who will represent them?

Noblesville pastor endorses Rocky Shanehsaz for Council

Dear Editor:

I'm Pastor of Chapel Church in Noblesville, and I believe our city needs a man with vision and integrity like local businessman Rocky Shanehsaz on the Noblesville City Council.

My wife and I moved from California to Noblesville in 2012 to take over a church that was in over its head financially and operating under a forbearance agreement. With foreclosure nipping at our heels and huge promissory notes hanging over our heads, I prayed: "God, I need a businessman to help me navigate what's going on in this church."

A week later, a friend introduced me to Rocky Shanehsaz. I explained how we were living under the weight of all of this debt and I just didn't know what to do. Rocky asked me what I wanted to do, and I told him we needed to find a way to transition our congregation out of the current property.

Rocky said, "Let me negotiate with your bank," and he did. After negotiating a deal to release the church from the debt, Rocky promised our congregation there would never be a Sunday where we didn't have a place to worship. We became Chapel Church, and Rocky allowed us to worship in the Model Mill Building for two years, free of charge.

Rocky told me if I could build the church back up, he would give me the old Hare House near 8th and Walnut streets free of debt to use as the new home for Chapel Church. Our congregation grew from about 20 to 25 members in 2016 to more than 100 members today, and we now have two satellite worship locations in the Columbus/Seymour and Greenwood/Southport areas. Rocky later deeded the property to Chapel Church and helped us secure funding to expand the property this spring.

There were people who warned me, "You don't know this guy." "How can you trust him to do what he says he will do?" Everything Rocky has said he will do, he has done it. And he didn't have to. I just think he truly has a heart for non-profits and serving the less fortunate. He's helped many other nonprofit organizations in Noblesville, and we work together on the annual Proud Heritage Picnic in the Southwest Quadrant.

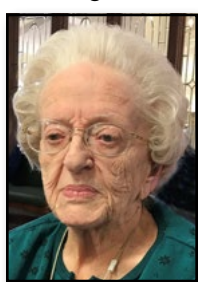

Rocky is most definitely a dreamer, and sometimes it's hard for people to wrap their heads around his dreams. But he's persuasive and he never says, "This is just too hard." Instead, he's asking, "Why can't we do this?" and "Why aren't we doing this?" As an immigrant who had to make his own way at a young age, Rocky believes in putting your mind to something and figuring out how to get it done. He's a very compassionate man with a gentle heart, but he's also a tough, get-it-done businessman with a strong work ethic and high integrity.

Rocky has an incredible love for Noblesville and he wants to see it be the best that it can be. I hope you'll join me in voting for Rocky Shanehsaz, Republican candidate for one of three At Large seats on the Noblesville City Council.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readeest thou? HSE's Grubbs, Majak named as Junior All-Stars

Two Hamilton Southeastern players are among the 24 student-athletes that have been selected for the IndyStar Indiana boys Junior All-Stars for 2019, with Carmel head coach Ryan Osborn named as one of the assistants.

Chris Grubbs and Mabor Majak will be a part of the Red Group, one of four groups of six All-Stars that were announced on Wednesday. The other groups are the Core Group, White Group and Blue Group.

Grubbs, a 6-6 forward, averaged 12.8 points per game for the Royals this season, while the 7-0 Majak scored at an 8.4 points per game clip. Both are leading rebounders for the team, with Grubbs collecting 7.1 per game and Majak grabbing 5.7 per game. Grubbs also led Southeastern in assists with 3.4 per contest.

Osborn, an assistant for the Greyhounds before moving up to head coach in 2017, is 46-9 for his two years as head coach. Osborn will lead Carmel in the Class 4A state championship game Saturday, where the 'Hounds will take on Ben Davis. Mark Detweiler of Delta will be the head coach for the boys Junior All-Stars, with Ryan Eakins of East Noble also assisting.

Joining Grubbs and Majak in the Red Group are Deontae Craig of Culver Military, Johnell Davis of Gary 21st Century, Zak Krueger of Homestead and Jake Wadding of Chesterton.

Players in the Core Group are Trey Galloway of Culver Academy, Jaden Ivey of Mishawaka Marian, Anthony Leal of Bloomington South, Charlie Yoder of Westview and Dre Davis and Nijel Pack of Lawrence Central.

The White Group players are Brayton Bailey of Bedford North Lawrence, Carson Barrett of Lafayette Central Catholic, Tre Coleman of Jeffersonville, Sincere McMahon of Crispus Attucks, Tayson Parker of Northwestern and Tony Perkins of Lawrence North.

The Blue Group players are Murray Becher of Heritage Hills, Maximus Gizzi of New Palestine, Noah Jager of Bloomington South, Kiyron Powell of Evansville Bosse, Kenny Tracy of Decatur Central and Andrew Welage of Greensburg.

The Junior All-Stars will play two games against the Kentucky Junior All-Stars, the first tentatively on June 1 at a Kentucky site to be announced and the second on June 3 at Jeffersonville High School. The Junior All-Stars also will play one game against the Indiana All-Star senior boys on June 5. The June 5 game also will be at a site to be announced.

All three games will be doubleheaders with the 2019 Indiana girls Junior All-Stars, who were chosen and announced in late February.

The players listed as Core Group players will play in all three games. The players in the Blue Group will play on the June 1 game against Kentucky. The Players in the White Group will play in the June 3 game against Kentucky. The players in the Red Group will play in the June 5 game against the Indiana seniors.

The Indiana senior All-Stars will play the Kentucky senior All-Stars on June 7 at Bellarmine University's Knights Hall in Louisville. The Indiana senior All-Stars will play Kentucky's seniors again on June 8 in Bankers Life Fieldhouse in Indianapolis. Those home-and-home events also will be girls-boys doubleheaders.

The Junior All-Star team is determined by the 20-member Indiana Basketball Coaches Association all-state panel in conjunction with its selection of the IBCA/Subway Underclass All-State Team. The selection process allows all IBCA-member head coaches to nominate players through the IBCA all-state process. Representatives from 16 regional areas from across the state, district representatives from the IHSAA districts (one each from District 1, District 2 and District 3) and the committee chair then meet to review the nominations, vote and finalize the selections.

The IBCA/Subway boys basketball Senior All-State and Underclass All-State teams for 2019 will be released later this week.

The 2019 Indiana senior boys All-Star team will be announced in April. Winners of the IndyStar Mr. Basketball and IndyStar Miss Basketball titles for 2019 will be announced on May 5.

Huskies battle weather, Frankton at Grand Park

The Hamilton Heights softball team proved it could score in adverse weather conditions Thursday.

The Huskies played Frankton in a cold rain at Grand Park, with the Eagles taking a big lead after two innings. Heights nearly came all the way back before Frankton took control to beat the Huskies 20-9.

The Eagles led 10-0 going into the bottom of the second. Heights scored four runs in that inning: Isabella Neiling and Alayna Barber got on base with singles, then Sydney Massicotte drew a walk to load the bases. Kat Cox singled in Neiling, then Bayleigh Runner's walk got Baber home. Later, Hayley Greene scored Massicotte on a fielder's choice, then Adyson Baber got Cox home with a base hit.

The Huskies were now within 10-4, and they added five runs in the third inning. After loading the bases again, Runner doubled into center field to score Alayna Baber and Massicotte. Cox had previously singled, and she advanced to third. Greene would later send Baber and Massicotte home with a three-run home run.

With that, Heights was within 10-9. But Frankton scored two runs in the top of the fourth, then poured in eight runs in the top of the fifth to end the game on the 10-run rule.

"We were down early and we battled back in tough elements to get within one run," said Huskies coach Ken Olovich. The coach said in weather like this, it was tough to throw strikes, but he was happy with how his team fought back.

Adyson Baber and Cox both finished the game with two hits.

Heights is 1-1 for the season and will host Anderson on Friday.
