Stations rezoning approved by Fishers City Council

By LARRY LANNAN | LarryInFishers.com

The Stations development received Fishers City Council approval Monday for a rezoning request, allowing Thompson Thrift to continue with plans for 8.6 acres between The Yard and Kroger along 116th Street east of Interstate 69. The project calls for construction of a mixed-use building with office and retail space, a commercial building, a hotel and approximately 50 townhomes on the site.

In answering questions from the council, Attorney Steve Hardin said the city may need to deal with a nearby creek as the development moves forward. Councilman John Weingardt pointed out that Thompson Thrift investment has grown substantially since the original plans for The Yard, by tens of millions of dollars.

Knowledge Services announced in June 2017 it would locate its headquarters between the Navient building and I-69. The firm was to begin construction on the complex by the end of this month. The council voted to extend the deadline to the end of September.

A resolution approving the project agreement for development of the north side of 116th Street by Browning Investments and CRG Residential was passed by council members. The mixed-use building will have 235 residential units with retail space on the first floor. The garage, which will be owned by the Fishers Town Hall Building Corporation, will include 329 spaces. Four older retail offices that front 116th Street will receive exterior aesthetic and structural improvements.

A rezone for Shamrock Development at 12244 E. 116th St. was tabled after Councilman Todd Zimmerman said he was concerned plans for this commercial development did not appear to be up to the standards of a nearby commercial area development by the same developer. Shamrock agreed to work with Zimmerman and city staff to address his concerns.

At the most recent Fishers City Council meeting, representatives of Browning Investments and CRG Residential explained their $61 million investment in downtown Fishers.

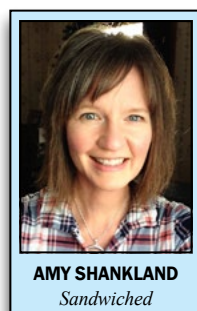

Council members unanimously approved an amendment to rules governing hand-offs of neighborhoods from developers to Homeowners Associations. Mayor Scott Fadness said this amendment was about addressing neglect by developers, not the result of routine maintenance.

Keep those traditions going

It's easy when you're in the sandwich generation to get so caught up in the care of your elderly parent that you sometimes forget to have fun with them. Between managing the groceries, medications, appointments, their overall schedule and finances, taking the time to just enjoy their presence can be hard. Especially when you also have your spouse, children, work and home to take care of.

Thankfully I remembered one important, fun tradition last Saturday and shared it with Mom. She and I have enjoyed a McDonald's Shamrock Shake® together since I was a little girl. I had planned to get her one for weeks, but life kept getting in the way.

With St. Patrick's Day approaching, I knew I was running out of time. So off I went to McDonald's last Saturday morning. After waiting in the drive-thru line for 20 minutes (fast food isn't so fast anymore) I finally got her shake.

Mom didn't have a good day the previous Friday. It had been cold and rainy, with a dramatic drop in temperature from last Thursday. That's always a formula for aches and pains for older folks. So I wasn't sure how she'd be feeling last Saturday. But thankfully the warmer temperature and sunshine helped her tremendously. She was all smiles when I walked in the door - and her eyes widened in delight when I presented the shake to her.

"Oh, boy!" she literally exclaimed.

We don't call her Little Miss Sweet Tooth for nothing.

Mom was pleased that I remembered our tradition, and I was happy to sit down and chat with her and not be in a rush for once. We had some good laughs and were excited to make plans for

Westfield reports reduction in crime rate for third consecutive year

The REPORTER

On Thursday, the City of Westfield announced a third consecutive year in which its crime rate decreased. This is among the key findings in the Westfield Police Department 2018 Annual Report.

"As a community, we can measure success in many ways and the safety and security of our community is the most important," said Mayor Andy Cook. "Creating a safe community for our families is a priority in Westfield. The fact that our crime rate has gone down three years in a row while our population has gone up is a testament to the professionalism and commitment of the Westfield Police Department." "I am so proud of the men and women of our team," said Westfield Police Chief Joel Rush. "Their hard work and commitment to professionalism shows in the service they provide each day. We love serving the people of Westfield and appreciate the overwhelming support we receive."

In 2018, Uniform Crime Reports (UCR) decreased to 562, the lowest rate since 2012. This statistic is significant as the population of Westfield increased by almost 2,300 from 2017. UCR is a national in the school safety arena, her strong analytical background and her ability to successfully collaborate with our law enforcement partners at NPD," said Noblesville Schools Superintendent Dr. Beth Niedermeyer. "In addition to all that, she is also a Noblesville Schools parent who had a child at Noblesville West Middle School during the shooting that occurred there last year. She fully appreciates where we have been as a community regarding school safety and where we are going."

Whaley joins the district in the new position of mental health coordinator from her role as a social worker and behavior specialist for Indianapolis Public Schools. She will be responsible for the development and implementation of a comprehensive, district-wide mental health system to benefit all students.

A graduate of both Ball State University and Indiana University, Whaley has also been elected as the next president of the Indiana School Social Work Association.

"Michele's leadership experience, data-driven focus to problem solving and passion in supporting what's best for kids were key attributes that set her apart from other applicants," said Niedermeyer.

Ginnan has served with NPD for 18 years and has started in his position overseeing the SROs already. He is actively out in schools working with the team of dedicated NPD school resource officers who have received additional law enforcement and school safety training and are assigned full-time to protect Noblesville Schools. Additionally, his role will partner closely with Hendrich.

"We're excited to welcome these new team members to Noblesville Schools," said Niedermeyer. "We set high expectations for our leaders and our selection panel feels confident that these individuals will be great additions as we continue to pursue safety and mental health enhancements to best protect our students and staff."

The district is able to add the positions thanks to the additional safety and mental health funding provided by the community's passage of the November 2018 Noblesville Schools referendum.

Whaley is expected to begin in April and Hendrich this summer.

The United States Senate Youth Program takes only a few students into its fold. In Indiana, just two high schoolers make the cut.

Ishaan Modi of Hamilton Southeastern High School was recognized Wednesday night by the HSE school board for his selection to the elite program.

Ishaan told board members what a thrill it was to meet national leaders in Washington, D.C. He was very impressed with his opportunity to meet and talk with the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court John Roberts.

His honor brings with it a $10,000 scholarship from the Hearst Foundation. Ishaan has a scholarship offer from Michigan State University but is still looking at all college opportunities.

Heights students participate in statewide tornado drill

The REPORTER

Students and teachers at Hamilton Heights School Corporation participated in the annual Statewide Tornado Drill, a yearly opportunity to prepare Hoosiers for tornado emergencies and to test public warning systems. The drill is a part of Indiana's Indiana Severe Weather and Flood Preparedness Week, March 17-23.

Cliff Hackman, Hamilton Heights Primary School Assistant Principal and Corporation Safety Coordinator, supervised Tuesday's drills at the Primary School.

Hackman

As part of the drill, students quickly moved from their classrooms to the inner hallways (the safest place in the building in the event of a tornado), knelt with heads down and covered. The overall time between the start of the drill and a return to the classroom was about five minutes.

"Preparedness drills are an integral part of students' lives today," said Hackman, who sees a great deal of value any opportunity to practice for emergencies. Indiana Code mandates that schools conduct scheduled drills for fire, tornado and school lockdowns.

HHPS second-grade teacher Laurie Smucker said they practice tornado drills a couple of times throughout the year. "The practice helps students develop the skills and confidence to know what to do in the event of a real emergency," she noted.

Staff and students at Hamilton Heights Primary School participated in the annual tornado drill on Tuesday as part of Indiana's Indiana Severe Weather and Flood Preparedness Week.

"Our number one priority is helping kids learn and we want to do so in a safe, innovative and nurturing school environment," said Superintendent Dr. Derek Arrowood. "Our school administrators always welcome the opportunity for students and staff to participate in the annual statewide tornado drill."

While tornadoes have been reported every month of the year in Indiana, the state's peak tornado season is typically between April and June. Some 30 years of data from the National Weather Service shows Indiana averages about 22 tornadoes a year with an average of one tornado in March and November. There are traditionally about five a month in May and June. December is the only month that averages less than one tornado a year. Hamilton County has had 28 confirmed tornadoes between 1950 and 2017. The last time a tornado touched down in the Heights school district was on Nov. 17, 2013 in Atlanta.

Carmel officer completes FBI National Academy

The REPORTER

On March 15, Carmel Police Lieutenant James Semester graduated from the 275th FBI National Academy Class in Quantico, Va.

The FBI National Academy is a professional course of study for U.S. and international law enforcement managers/leaders nominated by their agency heads because of demonstrated leadership qualities.

The 10-week program provides undergraduate and/or graduate coursework in intelligence theory, terrorism and terrorist mindsets, management science, law, behavioral science, law enforcement communication, and forensic science. This prestigious program serves to improve the administration of justice in police departments and agencies at home and abroad and to raise law enforcement standards, knowledge and cooperation worldwide.

Lt. Semester attended the FBI National Academy with 251 fellow law enforcement leaders and managers from 47 states and 26 countries. The FBI National Academy hosts four leadership sessions yearly with Indiana sending approximately 16 officers each year to Quantico.

Letter to the Editor

Reader says Shamrock Boulevard traffic not just annoying, but dangerous

Dear Editor,
The traffic backups from Westfield High School have long been a thorn in the side of area residents, but with the opening of our local hospital they now threaten the public safety.
The afternoon backups regularly extend south of the hospital's main entrance and into the roundabout on State Road 32. These backups make access to the hospital difficult at best.

Shamrock Boulevard is limited to two lanes in the area, and southbound traffic clogs the only avenue of bypassing the stopped northbound lane. Ambulances seeking to access hospital emergency services will be forced to wait for enough drivers to take note of the situation and clear the roadway or perhaps take an overland route to the facility.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

Luke 10:29-37 (KJV)

Greyhounds face familiar opponent in Ben Davis

By RICHIE HALL
The destination is a familiar one for the Carmel boys basketball team: The Class 4A state championship game.

For the second consecutive year, the Greyhounds will play in the biggest game of all. No. 1-ranked Carmel will play its old Metropolitan Conference rival Ben Davis for the 4A title, which tips off around 8:15 p.m. Saturday at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

The 'Hounds and the Giants have been playing each other every year for decades, even prior to the start of the MIC, which formed in 1996. In this year's regular-season game, played on Jan. 25, Carmel beat Ben Davis 49-39. The Greyhounds went on to win an undefeated conference championship.

The Giants finished tied for sixth in the MIC with a 2-5 record. After a loss to Lawrence North on Feb. 8, Ben Davis was 12-7 for the season. But the Giants caught fire at the right time, and are on an eight-game win streak that has propelled them into the state title game for the second time in three years. Ben Davis beat Fort Wayne North Side 55-52 to win the 4A state championship in 2017.

"Ben Davis is a very talented basketball team that returns key pieces from last season," said Carmel coach Ryan Osborn. "They are well coached, physical and do a great job playing to their strengths."

Under first-year coach Don Carlisle, the Giants began their run with a win at the Perry Meridian sectional. Ben Davis toughed out a 52-50 win over Pike in the semi-finals, then took care of Decatur Central 69-51 in the championship game.

At the Southport regional, the Giants upset No. 2 Lawrence Central 75-65 in the semi-final game, and followed that with a 53-47 championship win over New Palestine. That sent Ben Davis to the Washington semi-state, and the Giants defeated Center Grove 67-61 to punch a ticket to Carmel's Andrew Owens is averaging 11.8 points and 3.9 rebounds per game this season. The Greyhounds will take on Ben Davis Saturday night for the Class 4A state championship.

Carmel's first state title true Hoosier hysteria

As Carmel prepares to play for its fourth state basketball championship Saturday, memories come to mind of the Greyhounds first state title 42 years ago. It was a different era, and the Carmel community was "all in" for the long-sought title.

It's not quite the same today. For one thing Carmel was much smaller in 1977 with a population of perhaps one third of what it is today. Back then players names were well known to many in the community, names like Burrell, Hensel, Herrmann and Shepherd along with their late, great coach Eric Clark.

Leading up to the biggest game in school history, members of the 1925 and 1970 teams which had made it to the state finals appeared at a send-off rally and community-wide breakfast. The theme of the rally was summed up by one of the speakers who said, "This time we want gold rings."

On the way to the championship games, the team and their fans drove beneath a huge American flag suspended by the fire department over U.S. 31.

In the title game at Market Square Arena, Carmel; in dramatic fashion, upset a powerful East Chicago Washington team, 53-52. Fans went wild. A pre-arranged front page special of the Carmel News Journal was a popular souvenir.

After the game an estimated 6,000 overjoyed fans jammed into the high school gym for a victory celebration that lasted past midnight. Principal Dale Graham called off school for Monday, and team members began visiting each of the local elementary schools where they received a hero's welcome.

Fast forward to the present. Little or none of that hoopla this year. Times have changed probably in part because Carmel, now the state's largest high school, has won so many championships in so many sports that winning is no surprise.

But, basketball still holds a special place in Hoosier lore and on Saturday it's still a contest for best in Indiana.

Carmel team members are pumped and ready to carry out team leader John Michael Mulloy's vow made last year after losing in the state finals when he said, "We'll be back."

Carmel's Mulloy named to "Supreme 15" senior team

Carmel senior John Michael Mulloy was among the 15 seniors and 15 underclass boys basketball players have earned IBCA/Subway "Supreme 15" All-State honors for 2018-19, it was announced Thursday.

For the fifth year, the IBCA also named Large School All-State teams (15 seniors, 15 underclass) and Small School All-State players (15 seniors, 15 underclass).

The "Supreme 15" is the top honor awarded, and players were voted to that group without regard to school size. The Large School and Small School all-state teams are secondary accolades -- the Large School group including players from Class 3A and Class 4A schools and the Small School group including players from Class A and Class 2A schools. Players who make the Supreme 15 are not considered for Large School or Small School honors.

In addition, 88 more seniors and 88 more underclass players were selected honorable mention all-state. The honorable mention laurels are awarded without regard to school size.

In addition to Mulloy, those voted to the 2019 IBCA/Subway Supreme 15 Senior boys' team are: Cobie Barnes of Floyd Central, Jesse Bingham of Warren Central, Luke Bumbalough of New Castle, Sydney Curry of Fort Wayne Northrop, Frankie Davidson of Fort Wayne Blackhawk Christian, Armaan Franklin of Cathedral, Alex Hemenway of Castle, Trayce Jackson-Davis of Center Grove, Colin Kenney of Marquette Catholic, Jake LaRavia of Lawrence Central, Brandon Newman of Valparaiso, Isaiah Thompson of Zionsville and Dawand Jones and Jalen Windham of Ben Davis.

The IBCA/Subway All-State teams are selected through a process organized by the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association and presented by Subway Restaurants of Indiana. All IBCA-member head coaches have the opportunity to nominate players. A panel of 20 IBCA coaches -- 16 from the current regional areas, three district representatives (one each from IHSAA Districts 1, 2 and 3) and the committee chairman -- then meets to review the nominations, vote and finalize the selections.

Subway Restaurants of Indiana once again is making a financial contribution to the IBCA Scholarship Fund as the presenting partner of the IBCA all-state teams. As part of the partnership, Subway will provide plaques to Supreme 15 honorees and certificates to players receiving Large School All-State, Small School All-State or Honorable Mention all-state recognition. Those items will be available to each recipient's coach at the annual IBCA Clinic in April, allowing her coach to present the award to each player.

GREYHOUNDS

the state finals. Ben Davis comes into state with a 20-7 record.

Two Division I seniors lead the way for the Giants. Dawand Jones is a 6-9 center, built like a lineman because he is one: Jones has committed to play football for Ohio State as an offensive lineman. On the basketball court, Jones averages 18.0 points and 9.0 rebounds per game. Meanwhile, Jalen Windham, a 6-5 guard/forward that is headed to Georgia State, is scoring 17.7 points per game. Senior Cameron Maul, a 5-10 guard, averages 3.8 assists per contest. Two other seniors, Dominic Day II and Jeffery Clayton, rounds out the Giants' starting lineup.

Carmel comes into the game with a 25-1 record. The Greyhounds began their run with two wins at their own sectional, beating Fishers 62-52 in the semi-finals and Hamilton Southeastern 45-39 in the championship.

That sent Carmel to the Logansport regional for the fifth year in a row, where it took care of Fort Wayne Northrop 58-42 in the semis and Zionsville 53-39 in the championship game. The Greyhounds then crushed Penn 71-42 to win the Lafayette Jefferson semi-state, thus sending Carmel back to the state finals for the fourth time in eight years. Osborn was an assistant for the 'Hounds in their 2012 and 2013 state title victories.

"I feel extremely fortunate to have the opportunity to lead the young men in this program," said Osborn. "They are a ton of fun to be around, enjoyable to coach and I believe we have all enjoyed every step of the way."

Three seniors are averaging in double digits for Carmel. John Michael Mulloy, a 6-10 forward and Butler commit, pours in 14.3 points and 8.1 rebounds per game. Karsten Windlan, a 5-10 guard contributes 11.9 points per game. Andrew Owens, a 6-6 forward headed to the University of Findlay, scored at an 11.8 points per game clip. Senior Luke Heady, who has committed to Marian University, adds 7.5 points and leads in assists with 2.5 per contest.

"The seniors, spearheaded by John Michael Mulloy, have done an outstanding job leading this team," said Osborn. "They practice hard, they're coachable and they look forward to competing every day. I can't remember a bad practice all season...that is a testament to what their leadership brings."

The fifth starter for Carmel is a freshman, Peter Suder. A 6-2 guard, Suder is averaging 6.0 points per game and had a solid performance in the semi-state with 15 points.

"Peter Suder has been great," said Osborn. "He's taken the year in stride and seems to be absorbing everything thrown his way."

Westfield softball gets big win over Taylor

Westfield picked up its first win of the season on Thursday, beating Taylor 27-0.

The game was played at Grand Park; it was supposed to be played on the Titans field but was moved due to field conditions. Taylor was still listed as the home team.

The Shamrocks scored in each inning, including eight runs in the fourth and six more in the top of the fifth. Freshman Zoe Klink hit a home run in the fifth inning, scoring three runs. She would finish the game 2-for-2 with five RBIs.

Avery Parker was 4-for-4, including a fifth-inning triple. Parker drove in four runs and scored five. Emily Revercomb was 3-for-3 with three RBIs, while Lexi Martin scored four runs.

"I think we showed a lot of focus tonight, early in the game, in really cold temperatures," said Westfield coach Brian Revercomb. "I think they showed great focus and effort, which led to some nice early runs for us. We got better pitching in the circle tonight, which was good for us."

The Shamrocks are 1-1 and host Carmel on Monday.
