Dollars to be used to resurface portions of 146th, 196th streets . . . INDOT awards Hamilton County major road grant

The REPORTER

The Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) has awarded Hamilton County $719,285 as part of its Community Crossings Matching Grant Fund Program.

The county will use the money to resurface various deteriorated areas along 146th Street, primarily the intersection of 146th and Hazel Dell Road. This funding will also be used to resurface 196th Street from Promise Road to State Road 13 in Wayne Township.

The Community Crossings Matching Grant Funds, which are administered by INDOT, will fund 50 percent of the construction up to the awarded amount. Hamilton County is responsible for funding the rest.

"We rate our roads on an annual basis and prioritize our resurfacing program based on condition ratings and available funding," said Hamilton County Highway Department

Davis

Director Bradley Davis. "These roads have definite age and condition-related needs. This grant money will allow us to stretch our budget and do more paving."

Resurfacing the various areas along 146th Street between Adios Pass and River Road, as well as work along the 5.7-mile stretch of 196th Street from Promise Road to State Road 13, is tentatively scheduled to start in August.

Car accident reveals blessings

It's the phone call you never want to get as a parent.

"Mom, I've been in a car accident."

Time stood still for me last Friday night after hearing those words from my oldest son, Jonathon. I held my breath until he uttered the next sentence.

"I'm okay, but the car is totaled."

After hearing where he was, I told him we'd be there soon, disconnected the call, and told John what happened. We quickly threw on shoes and jackets and were out the door.

I'll never forget that sight at the intersection of Greenfield Avenue and Howe Road - multiple police cars, an ambulance, tow trucks and shards of glass and car parts strewn everywhere. And the lights. The blinking, swirling, bright red and yellow lights. My stomach flopped and I hurried through the mess towards my son, telling the public safety folks that I was his mother.

Binh Dennis benefit set for next month

LarryInFishers.com

Fishers police officer Binh Dennis continues to recover from an off-duty motorcycle accident that happened last year, but his family is still struggling with the piling medical bills.

The local Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) Lodge is sponsoring a fundraising event to support the Dennis family.

FOP Lodge No. 199 plans the first of what is hoped to be an annual event for May 18 at the Harley Davidson dealership, near State Road 37 and 126th Street. The gathering is called the Back the Badge - Ride & Pride. This event is a motorcycle and car show and an "all vehicles welcome" poker run.

Registrations will be accepted online at fop199.org, on the Fishers FOP Lodge 199 Facebook page, via mail, or in person the day of the event. The registration fee is $25 per vehicle. That fee gets you entered in either the ride portion of the event, the motorcycle and car show, or both.

All are welcome to participate in either the ride or car show regardless of the number of wheels on your ride. Spectators are welcomed and encouraged to attend.

There is no entrance fee for spectators, however, donations will be accepted

Stoesz: Time has come for public to see results

The REPORTER

Attorney Tim Stoesz has requested Hamilton County Prosecutor Lee Buckingham to appoint a Special Prosecutor to review the Indiana State Police investigation into the Treasurer's Office.

Stoesz is now calling for Prosecutor Buckingham to release the full investigative report regarding allegations of late property tax penalties being waived by Treasurer's Office employees.

Stoesz believes the public should have the opportunity to view the investigation and that Prosecutor Buckingham, an elected official, should not be permitted to investigate another elected county official.

"There is an inherent conflict of interest when one elected Hamilton County official investigates another elected Hamilton County official," said Stoesz.

The Hamilton County Commissioners have said from the onset that the county has attempted to avoid an appearance of conflict of interest.

"That is why we asked the State Police to conduct the investigation rather than the Sheriff's Department," said Commissioner Steve Dillinger. "I trust Lee Buckingham will make the right decision in this case regarding the need for a Special Prosecutor."

Buckingham has not responded to the Reporter's requests for comment regarding the State Police investigation and Stoesz's demand for a Special Prosecutor.

Separate from the State Police investigation, former Hamilton County

Stoesz

Treasurer's Office employee Susan Byer has filed a lawsuit in Hamilton County Superior Court 1. Byer's suit alleges she was unjustly terminated, and the action was in retaliation for the confrontation with Kim Good over Good posting family members' payments as on time when they were in fact late.

Stoesz represents Byer in the suit.

On Thursday, the Indianapolis Star reported Treasurer's Office employees saying the office was fraught with paranoia.

"There is a lot of media attention on this and there is probably a lot of finger pointing," said Dillinger. "The entire office is in upheaval. I don't like that and it needs to be fixed."

126th Street reopens in Fishers

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

When the City of Fishers needs to close a major thoroughfare, it's normally done during a break in the local school calendar, like Spring Break, or during the summer vacation.

When 126th Street needed to be closed for some work, the city chose Spring Break as the time to do it this year. That way, school buses do not need to reroute and a number of motorists are out of town during the break.

So, 126th Street was closed for the needed construction work this week, but the good news is that as of Thursday morning, the roadway was on schedule to have opened once again Thursday afternoon.

BLESSINGS

It was a relief to see Jonathon sitting in the passenger seat with paramedics by his side taking his vitals. I tried to offer comforting words to help him stop shaking, as his blood pressure was naturally through the roof at the moment.

John talked to the other driver who thankfully wasn't hurt and whose car looked a lot better than Jonathon's. Unfortunately, Jonathon had looked down at his radio 20 minutes earlier as rain started to fall and the pavement became slick. He looked up to see someone stopped ahead preparing to make a left hand turn, slammed on the brakes, and was horrified to still be moving and smack into the car ahead.

Hours later, as I lay in bed wide-awake, I actually started to see the blessings: The kind paramedics and police officers that I thanked profusely, the gracious other driver who reassured my son that all was okay, and the nurse from a nearby neighborhood who quickly called the police and made certain both drivers were all right.

And, of course, the biggest blessing – having my son home, alive and well, with only some minor whiplash. Yes, it was sad that he'd only owned the car for two weeks and had paid for it all on his own. But he was going to be fine and he could save up again and get another one in the future.

I couldn't help but recall a similar incident 32 years earlier as I visited with my mom the next morning and told her about the accident. She nodded knowingly as we recalled my own car crash when I was only 16.

"Now I know how you felt back then, Mom," I said with a lump in my throat. My poor mother had to see me lying on a stretcher that morning decades ago, although thankfully I checked out just fine and was merely sore for a few days.

Even though it wasn't under the best of circumstances, I felt a strong connection and understanding with her that day. Talking with Mom reminded me that this wasn't the end of the world. I survived and my life went on, and I know Jonathon will do the same – hopefully with a little more caution behind the wheel.

PREVAIL

Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse

www.prevailinc.com

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. - Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Indiana lawmakers consider proposal to create school security tax

By DAVID WILLIAMS
WISH-TV | wistv.com

Indiana public school districts historically raise money for things such as safety through tax referendums.

Now, some lawmakers want the state to step up and create a plan to raise taxes for school safety through ballot measures.

"Yes, I'd definitely pay more taxes for their safety," parent Monica Pipes said Wednesday.

Pipes has a young son in school.

"What's been going on with the shootings and so much violence in the schools? It's really sad to see the families have to go through all that," Pipes said.

Two school shootings happened in Indiana in 2018: Noblesville in May and Richmond in December.

"As schools prepare, God forbid, for those types of events to take place, we're just trying to give them a revenue source to raise the money to protect our schools," said State Rep.

Todd Huston, (R-Fishers).

On Wednesday, lawmakers in the House Ways and Means Committee talked about Senate Bill 127. It would give your child's school district a way to find the money they need to make sure your schools and communities are safe: Ask voters on the ballot.

Huston said the money could help pay for school safety issues or mental health. "It could be for providing safer doors, locks. Anything that involves a school safety plan that local administrators determine is the safest thing for their students."

State Rep. Greg Porter (D-Indianapolis) is a co-sponsor of the bill. He wants it to go even further.

"We're looking at some amendments to increase the potential of having more cameras or infrastructure for schools through other means of revenue," Porter said.

Huston

"[We're] looking at some gaming licenses that people pay for. Take some of those dollars and move them toward infrastructure."

Other parents weighed in on the tax idea.

"I'd want more information, what that school safety and security actually means," parent Danielle Giles said. "That could mean a lot of things. Does that mean arming teachers? I don't know that I'd be comfortable with that. Does that mean improving mental health services for children that seem like they're disturbed? Yeah, I would definitely pay for that."

The bill would require school districts to use the money for school safety, but it's not clear if the districts have to tell taxpayers exactly how the money will be spent.

The bill passed through committee. It now heads to the House floor for consideration.

Letter to the Editor

Reader laments waning faith in county government

Dear Editor,
Despite the command influence and efforts by Hamilton County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt, the variance request to permit commercial development in an A-2 Agriculture District in northern Hamilton County was denied.

More than six dozen area residents opposed the project. Not a single resident in an almost two-mile radius supported the project.

Now we have found out that Commissioner Heirbrandt is considering using his position as a County Commissioner to rezone the property to allow commercial development as a way of overturning the decision of the Board of Zoning Appeals and the wishes/desires of the area residents.

One does not have to wonder why faith in the county government is disappearing.

Noblesville readers question data behind Jensen “money trail”

Dear Editor:
We strongly agree with the Letter to the Editor published on March 21, “Reader analyzes Chris Jensen’s money trail.”

These facts and monetary donations are exact from the candidate’s own financial reports. However we need to try and understand WHY these outsiders want to control and obligate an individual that wants to be mayor of our city.

Past history and performance from the individual in question has indicated that he has VOTED FOR the building of an apartment complex in downtown Noblesville. He has supported the REMOVAL of the train from Noblesville. He supports removing the tracks and replacing them with a walking path.

The Noblesville Common Council has the final approval of all of these changes and this candidate has always voted to approve these changes. This is following along in the footsteps of the Mayor John Distlear.

Was Mayor Ditslear’s contribution of $10,000 to Jensen’s campaign a thank you for past performance or is it a request to further support the big business entities that want to build in our town?

All of these big contributions being made leave one to believe that we are now in a “pay to play” position and the taxpayers must foot the bill.

Shaver asks more questions about development in Carmel

Editor’s note: The following is a letter written by Carmel resident Mike Shaver to members of the Carmel City Council.

Dear President Worrell and Members of the City Council,

First, it is important to note that your most recent response still does not include a single document related to the “Developer Guarantees,” despite multiple requests.

Respectfully, I have no alternative but to attach the Records Request documents for the third time. I’m sure you understand that, in the absence of transparency, it is impossible to determine the validity of the PIATT claims.

I am encouraged by three elements of our discussion:

First, there is no dispute that Pedcor’s “guaranteed” construction is vastly behind schedule. Second, that the taxpayers have undertaken a total of $29 million in debt, based on the “Developer Guarantees” (which you insist exist, but have not documented). Third, that public funds are being used to build the “Hotel/Motor

Graphic provided

Court” that was clearly one of the buildings “guaranteed” by Pedcor, as shown in multiple presentations.

I am compelled to respectfully ask this simple question: Why are taxpayers paying to build the “Hotel/Motor Court” that Pedcor had already “guaranteed”? If the “Developer Guarantees” were working properly, it would seem that Pedcor would be paying for construction of the hotel/motor court.

It is not my intent to offend or disrespect you, but respectfully, your explanation does not match the undisputed facts of the matter. I simply and respectfully request transparency from the City Council in providing the public documents that explain the “Developer Guarantees,” as well as explaining why taxpayers are paying for a building that, allegedly, Pedcor had already “guaranteed.”

Most sincerely,
Mike Shaver

Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God: But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven. Millers come back to beat Avon, are 2-0 in HCC

A sixth-inning comeback secured a Hoosier Crossroads Conference sweep for Noblesville.

The Millers trailed 3-0 in the bottom of the fifth inning, but scored three runs in the sixth to beat Avon 4-3 Thursday at Don Dunker Field. Couple that with Noblesville's win over the Orioles on Wednesday, and the Millers have an early 2-0 lead in HCC play.

"After our disappointing trip in Tennessee, we had two really good days of practice, Monday and Tuesday," said Noblesville coach Justin Keever. "Had a really good effort last night, and then to find a way to get a win tonight is encouraging, the way the guys are starting to come together."

The Millers got on the board in the fifth inning, when DJ Owens hit a sacrifice fly to scored Zach Gruver. That brought Noblesville within 3-1.

After a three-up, three-down top of the sixth, the Millers made their move. Cade Nelis drew a walk, then Ethan Imel hit a double to move Nelis to third. Noblesville brought in Camden Nagel to run for Imel and Jackson Hancock to run for Nelis. Gruver then drew a walk to load the bases.

Cole Barnes stepped up minutes later and hit a single perfectly up center field, sending Hancock and Nagel home to tie the game. Gruver ran to third and scored on the next at-bat, in which Cooper Miles reached on an error.

"We left a lot of runners on early," said Noblesville coach Justin Keever. "Their guy was throwing a good ball game. The wind's kind of howling in, too." Nevertheless, the Millers found a way to win.

Clay Holzworth pitched a complete game, and finished strong. Holzworth struck out the first two batters, and induced a groundout for the third out. Holzworth totaled eight strikeouts and issued no walks. Noblesville also turned a double play in the first inning.

The Millers are 3-4 overall and will go back on the road Saturday to Louisville. Noblesville will play at St. Xavier, taking on Campbell County at 1 p.m. and St. Xavier at 3:30 p.m.

Huskies win season opener

Hamilton Heights won its season opener on Thursday, beating Anderson 4-0 at the Indians' Memorial Field.

The Huskies got on the board right away with three runs in the first inning. Luke Thesier reached on error, and was moved to second base on a single by Luke Stohler. Sam Fulton then hit a triple to score both of them. Brody Piel came in to run for Fulton, and was sent home when Alex Hewitt hit a sacrifice fly.

Heights added one more run in the second inning, with Thesier's line drive scoring Dylan Zachary.

Fulton pitched a tremendous game, going five innings for the win, throwing eight strikeouts and allowing just one hit. Piel pitched the last two innings; the Huskies ended the game with a double play.

"We did a great job tonight," said Huskies coach JR Moffatt. "I'm really happy for our kids." The coach said this year's team is young and wasn't sure what to expect for the season opener. But he was pleased that his team didn't look young on the field.

"Anderson is a really good team and they are gonna win a lot of games, Coach Heim does a great job with them," said Moffatt. "We should have a shot at winning any time Sam pitches. He's headed to the University of Tennessee next year and he's been through the battles for us."

"We put the bat on the ball pretty well.

For us it will just be one day at a time. We just need to get a little better each day out whether a practice or a game. I believe this is gonna be a really solid group by the end of the year. We've seen a lot of growth already and we've only had a handful of practices."

Heights will play Anderson again, at 5 p.m. today. The game was to be played at the Huskies field, but has been moved to Memorial Field.

Colts legend Mathis sets up shop in Westfield

By CHARLIE CLIFFORD WISH-TV

Some engines just don't turn off. Forget the mileage, the wear and tear on the tires, this baby is still running with the same juice you saw on Sundays for 14 seasons.

Robert Mathis, the Indianapolis Colts franchise leader with 123 sacks, is putting his pass rushing secrets out there. After two years with the Colts coaching staff, Mathis in March joined the sports performance team at Pro X Athlete for specialized training at Grand Park.

The football sector of Pro X, known as Gridiron Gang, just picked up a Hall of Fame talent.

"We are working with junior high, high school guys, college guys and the icing on the cake is the NFL guys," Mathis said. "I can't get away from it. The hatred for quarterbacks still burns."

By stepping away from day-to-day coaching duties with the Colts, there are a couple winners. For one, Mathis' kids will get to see their dad around the house more this upcoming season. Also, the Colts young defensive line wins, too. Now, no NFL rule can keep them away from No. 98 in the offseason.

"I am very excited, they (Colts pass rushers) have got training early," Mathis said. "These high school and middle school kids are going to see a lot of their hometown Colts here" at Grand Park.

Mathis' main partner on the field at Pro X is fellow former Colts defensive lineman Dan Muir. Muir noticed the minute the five-time Pro Bowl player walked through the door that this guy is all in.

"When you bring someone like Rob (Mathis) in who has passion through the roof it just gets guys excited," Muir said. "They come in and work hard, and it speaks on the field."

Indiana Fever announce 20 Towns for 20 Seasons statewide tour

INDIANAPOLIS – Celebrating their 20th season in the WNBA this summer, the Indiana Fever is scheduled for a three-month tour encompassing festivals and carnivals, basketball tournaments, community concerts, an Easter egg hunt, a farmer’s market and a parade.

The Fever’s 20 Towns for 20 Seasons tour of statewide communities launches Saturday, April 13 with an appearance at the historic Hoosier Gym in Knightstown and concludes on the evening of Tuesday, June 18 when Freddy Fever marches in the Fireman’s Festival Parade in Bremen.

“This is who we are, and basketball is what we do,” said Fever President and COO Dr. Allison Barber. “Our 20th season is a terrific opportunity to highlight our great game and professional athletes.”

She continued, “We might not reach every town and county over the next three months, but we will take very seriously our commitment to Indiana communities statewide.”

The opening day of the tour features photo and autograph sessions with a Fever player or coach at three girls basketball events – the Hoosiers Reunion Classic All-star doubleheader (10:30 a.m.) in Knightstown; the IndyBall Shootout girls basketball tournament at Finch Creek Fieldhouse in Noblesville (2 p.m.); and the Gym Rats Spring Kickoff girls tournament in Ft. Wayne (11 a.m.).

Two other stops will be in Hamilton County: On April 27 in Westfield for the U.S. Junior National qualifying tournament (10 a.m.) and on June 14 in Carmel for the Cool Creek Summer Concert Series (7 p.m.)
