Fishers Parks, Police departments partner on new Park Watch project

The REPORTER

Fishers Parks & Recreation will partner with the Fishers Police Department to launch a new public safety program designed to enhance the overall safety in city parks.

Park Watch will give individuals, as well as groups, the opportunity to assist the City of Fishers by having a purpose driven presence in city parks. While in the parks, volunteers will use their eyes and ears to detect concerns and then report those concerns to the appropriate depart-

Park Watch volunteers will be watchful for suspicious activity, including:

- People or groups of people behaving inappropriately
- Vehicles occupied for extended periods of time
 - Reckless driving
 - People in the parks after dark

The police department considers any unusual activity to be suspicious activity. In order to afford police officers the best chance to locate and identify the suspicious

Nickel Plate: Trail, train or both?

Fishers plans to move forward with the trail

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

A standing-roomonly crowd at the Holland Park shelter house heard a presentation from Jacobs Engineering Monday night on several visions of a train, or trail plus train, along the Nickel Plate rail line. There was talk of the value the Nickel Plate Rail has to the regional potential for train connections north of Indianapolis. There was a lot of information about the value of the rail and how a rail and trail operation could exist together along the rail line.

Chad St. John, Project Manager for Jacobs, and Meghan McMullen, Urban Planner for the engineering firm, spent several minutes explaining the various opthe presentation aimed at the rails plus trail possibilities for the Nickel Plate.

One aspect missing from Monday night's discussion was what the rails and trails combination would cost. The City of Fishers released an engineering study completed by the Indianapolis engineering firm of Butler, Fairman & Seufert in February, showing a rails and trails combination along the Nickel Plate line would cost

Former State Senator Kenley endorses Jensen for mayor of Noblesville

Dear Editor:

I want to encourage you to vote for Chris Jensen for mayor of Noblesville.

When Chris was a high school senior, he attended my Luke Kenley Leadership Conference in the Indiana Senate. Later, as a college senior at Butler University, he took a semester off and worked for me as my lowly paid Senate Intern in order to experience the political world. Later he worked fulltime for Lt. Gov. Becky

Throughout all these experiences Chris has always been up, never down. He took on every assignment willingly and with a sense of enthusiasm that marks a good public servant. All these experiences built a background which will serve him in good stead.

When you add to that Chris's love of Noblesville and enthusiasm for our future, coupled with a willingness to work hard, you have an exceptional person working for you every day. Chris listens, he considers, he projects enthusiasm, he collaborates, and he produces great results. I am proud of Chris's accomplishments, and more so of his personal traits.

I hope you will join me in electing Chris as our next mayor.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith? And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.

Luke 12:27-31 (KJV)

Read it here. Read it first.

Larry Alan Fahrenkamp August 13, 1940 - April 7, 2019

On August 13, 1940, the United States government, certain they were about to be drawn into conflict with Japan and Germany, decided to conduct a dangerous experiment. They aggregated all the best attributes of human beings – speed, strength, courage, leadership – and attempted to create a Super Soldier who could turn the battle of the coming war. That Super Soldier was none other than ... Steve Rogers, Captain America ... beloved by all Americans.

What few knew is that there was another born that day. All the leftover attributes congealed on a nearby countertop that became Larry Alan Fahrenkamp, beloved by Cadillac dealers, manufacturers of voice activated switches, concrete truck drivers, Home Depot, liquor store owners, and of course, family and legions of friends.

A towering 5'10" of intimidating bow-leggedness, for 78 years Larry imprinted his indomitable will on his multiple businesses, his never-ending construction projects designed to defeat nature itself, and his family and friends. His greatest superpower may have been an uncanny knack to simply "will" his beloved Purdue Boilermakers to consistently disappoint him.

With the aid of his ever-present sidekick/wife Shirley (Cook), the two shared a whirlwind of comic adventures for 60 years, leaving laughter, warmth, inspiration, a fair amount of destruction ... and memories that would last for lifetimes. They started their journey as Noblesville Millers where Larry proudly wore the '56 and '57 "Honeycomb" Millers jersey while Shirley enthusiastically sat in the stands letting all know how special he was, a sentiment that never ceased.

He was preceded in death by his wife Shirley, parents Carl and Elsie Fahrenkamp, sister Suzanne Snelling and grandson Brandon May.

He is survived by his four daughters, each a talented mother, wife and professional in their own right: Denise Stephens (Anthony Wilson), Rene (Terry) May, Michelle (William) Retherford and Nicole (Jay) Giese; as well as eight grandchildren, which he would likely describe as three Varsity football players: Conner May, Dylan Retherford and Alexander Geise; a Rugby star: Savannah May; a gifted artist: Jordan Geise; a future soap opera diva: Mackenzie Geise; a honey badger; Mary Grace Retherford and his business partner and heir apparent at MID Nathan (Alaina) Stephens. In addition, Larry is survived by his sister Ritabeth (Jerry) Baker and his sisters-in-law Sharon (Steve) Vaughn, Sandy (Kenny) Laux, Sara (Bill) Osborne.

His inexhaustible zeal for life and challenges inspired everyone around him to reach for more. Regardless of whether you knew him for 45 minutes or 45 years, he left a lasting impression on every person he met, and this third rock from the Sun will be many rotations before it meets another of his kind. Odin awaits at the Gates of Valhalla with a pint of mead for you, Larry!

Visitation will be from 4 to 8 p.m. on Friday, April 12, 2019 and 10 to 11 a.m. Saturday, April 13, 2019 at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan St., Noblesville. Services will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, April 13, 2019 at the funeral home. Burial will be at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville following Noblesville answered with a run in the top of the fifth, as White hit a solo home run into left field, keeping the Millers within 6-4.

Carmel then ran through the fifth inning, scoring seven runs. Roop led off with a double, moved to third as the bases were loaded, then scored when Maddie Searles was hit by a pitch. Goddard was sent home after Ella Ohrvall reached on error, then Hussain hit a center field double Later, Nichols smacked a base hit into right field, sending Ohrvall and Hussain. Kotzelnick singled home Nichols and Roop's base hit got Kotzelnick in to score.

"I thought the girls did really well coming out and keeping their energy levels up, even though we got down early," said Carmel coach Ginger Britton. "And I think that was a difference today that we haven't seen in the past. So I think as long as they can band together as a team, then hopefully we can push forward and continue to improve."

Roop and Hussain both were 3-for-4 at the plate, while Kotzelnick and Goddard each had two hits. Cate Harden pitched the complete-game win.

"This is her first day cleared to pitch," said Britton. "She did a good job up there. She moved the ball around a lot. This is a great team and they made great contact. She's able to make both sides of the plate and come out on top."

For the Millers, Tragesser, White, Furiak and Lowry all had two hits.

"We just had a poor performance today," said Noblesville coach Deke Bull-

Sumner's free throws give Pacers win at Atlanta

Caine Spencer

By KYLE GRAND

Courtesy nba.com/pacers

It may not have mattered for playoff seeding, but tonight's regular season finale was still electric, as Edmond Sumner provided last second heroics to give the Pacers a 135-134 win over the Hawks in Trailing 131-130, Sumner made a jump shot to put Indiana back in front, 132-131 with 36.2 seconds to play. The teams traded misses on their next possessions, giving Atlanta the ball with 3.6 seconds left. Taurean Prince drilled a 3-pointer with 1.1 remaining, just enough time for one more shot from Indiana.

On a 3-point attempt from the corner Sumner was fouled before the clock expired. Sumner stepped up to the free-throw line and nailed all three, giving the Pacers win No. 48 on the season.

"He was very aggressive, and he hit big free throws," Pacers head coach Nate McMillan said. "It reminded me of the NCAA game, where we get fouled and then you have to step up and make three, and all three were solid." just a few more plays than Atlanta to pull It was a much different looking Pacers squad tonight, as Darren Collison was the only regular starter in the starting lineup. But extra rest before the playoffs, the Blue &

Gold played hard all night. Behind 10 early points from Tyreke Evans, Indiana led 14-12 at the 6:50 mark of the opening quarter. After the game was tied at 21, the Pacers put together an 11-3 run to lead 32-24 with 1:45 to go in the first. Heading into the second, the Pacers led by seven, 35-28. By the 7:54 mark in the second quarter, the visitors had a double-digit lead, 52-42. Indiana continued to lead by 10, 58-48, but then Atlanta ran off 10 straight to tie the game with 4:38 left in the first half.

The final minutes of the second quarter were a back-and-forth affair, with the Pacers ahead by just four, 73-69, heading into the locker room. In the third, Indiana was able to hold off multiple advances from Atlanta. After the Pacers' seven-point lead was cut to three at the 3:20 mark, Indiana outscored Atlanta 11-8 to take a 109-103 lead into the final

The Pacers led by 10 early in the fourth, but with 5:41 to play, the advantage was just two, 121-119. But fortunately Indiana made out the win in the end. Indiana was led by 28 points and 10 even with some of the team getting some rebounds from T.J. Leaf. Evans scored 27 and Sumner finished with 22 points.
