Heights business students attend national conference

The REPORTER

A total of 62 students from Hamilton Heights High School attended the Business Professionals of America (BPA) 2019 National Leadership Conference, in Anaheim, Calif., from May 1 to 5. These high school chapter members joined nearly 6,000 conference delegates from across the nation to compete in national level business skills competitions and attend leadership development, workshops, general sessions, and national officer candidate campaigns and elections.

In addition to having the opportunity to compete on the national stage and learn from leading business professionals, students had the opportunity to experience Anaheim and the surrounding areas.

"Each year, the National Leadership Conference offers our students the opportunity to showcase their skills and compete against other students from across the country, and be recognized for their dedication and hard work they have put forth through the year," said chapter advisor Julie Oelschlager, who teaches business courses at Hamilton Heights. "This year, we had 62 students who have excelled throughout the year and represented our local chapter of BPA from Hamilton Heights. This is by far the largest amount of students we have taken to a National Conference."

Hamilton Heights was tremendously represented at the National Awards with several teams and individuals receiving recognition for achieving top 10 placing in the nation for competitive events, such as

Life offers both tears and chuckles

Spending time with my 93 year old mother is never dull or boring.

Mom will brighten your day and enlighten you with her thoughts and perspective on life. Life, according to Audrey, offers both tears and chuckles and needs to be balanced with both.

JANET HART LEONARD
From the Heart

Mom has never held back when it comes to expressing her thoughts and feelings.

She is still telling me what to do. She often tells me that I am cold and need to wear a jacket. If I am wearing a jacket she will tell me it's not warm enough. In other words...if she is cold then I must be cold.

Mom has always lived by the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule. She adds in a few old wives tales that leave me wondering just how anyone came up with them. I call them the Gospel according to Audrey.

Case in point. You must wait at least an hour after a meal before you go swimming. I was told that food must digest or

Commissioners to consider ordinance on junk vehicles

By FRED SWIFT

The Hamilton County courts are asking county commissioners to approve creation of a new magistrate position. The request will be considered Monday during a regular commissioner session.

There are currently three magistrates in the local court system. Magistrates serve as judges when one of the seven judges is unavailable or hearing other cases. Commissioners are being told an added position is needed to handle the case load pending in Circuit and Superior courts.

Commissioners also have on their agenda the second reading of an ordinance that would prohibit the "accumulation of inoperable vehicles, junk and other debris" on private property in unincorporated areas of the county and sets limits on the number of operating vehicles that may be parked for extended periods.

The Community Block Grant program will be the subject of a work session following the regular meeting. Chris Allen, director of the Noblesville Housing Authority, will be reviewing the program and upcoming plans.

State Senator Victoria Spartz will also be present to give commissioners an update on legislation from the recent session of the General Assembly.

you could get cramps and possibly drown. I promised so many times to sit alongside the Forest Park Pool before I would jump in. I might have had my fingers crossed a few times when I made that promise.

She would have a come apart if she ever saw me leave the house with wet hair. She was sure that I would catch my death of pneumonia by doing so.

Mom would tuck me into bed each night with a prayer. Hearing her singing a hymn would be my wake up call in the morning.

Breakfast with Mom included coffee and scripture. Well, milk for me. There was always an open Bible at the breakfast table.

Mom had a day for everything. Laundry. Ironing. House cleaning. Bill paying. Groceries. Yard work. Sunday was always about church. Sunday School. Worship. Choir practice. Sunday evening church. Wednesday night was prayer meeting, fourth pew, organ side. Church goers understand that location.

I can name a hymn in five notes or less. I can quote a few scriptures, knowing the book, chapter and verse. Mom taught me that it wasn't about quoting scripture but living them. She was quite the example in her own quiet way. She knew the talk AND she walked the walk.

Mom would remind me that kindness mattered no matter how you were treated by someone. She would often say that someone was "funny turned" if they were mean or their screws were not tightened or their marbles could not be found.

Mom had a few old wives tales that she would share...

Always go out the same door that you entered. If not, you might encounter bad luck.

Sweep the floors after the sun had set and you could also encounter more bad luck.

Never start a task on Friday that you could not finish before the weekend. Why?...more bad luck.

My favorite Audreyism was that if I combed my hair after sundown then it would cause me to become forgetful. Let's just say that it may have been true. I do blame my age and a concussion yet I no longer own a comb.

My mother's wisdom is like a vintage wine, more valuable over the years. And yet, wine has never touched my mother's lips. Perhaps a sin. Perhaps it would bring bad luck.

I just know that I was blessed to be raised by a mother who brought wisdom and love and laughter in great doses to my childhood...and she still does.

Happy Mother's Day Mom!

Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse

www.prevailinc.com

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. - Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Working together to provide summer meals for kids

The REPORTER

As a community, everyone should do what they can to ensure no child goes hungry when school is out. From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, June 1, residents in Carmel and Westfield are encouraged to help "Pack the Cruiser" with food for the Summer Meal Program.

Carmel

On June 1, Carmel police officers will be at the Kroger stores in Carmel, located at 1217 S. Range Line Road and 10675 N. Michigan Road, in partnership with the Carmel Youth Assistance Program to assist with the Summer Meal Program.

To ensure all children receive proper nutrition during the summer and school vacation periods, the Summer Meal program provides grocery bags of food each week with ingredients to prepare meals and snacks during the summer months. Once again, the Carmel Youth Assistance Program is donating, collecting and distributing the funds for the program. The Summer

Meal program is dependent on the local community for support.

Carmel Police Officers and volunteers will be at the Kroger stores with a specific list of items needed for the program. However, monetary donations or Kroger Gift Cards will also be accepted. Please consider donating the items from the list to help Pack the Cruiser.

Carmel Police Department is proud to be a partner of Pack the Cruiser 2019.

To make a financial donation towards the purchase of food, make checks payable to Carmel Youth Assistance Program, clearly marked "Carmel Summer Lunch." Checks can be mailed to 515 E. Main St., Ste. 127, Carmel, IN 46032. Donations can also be made through the CYAP website at youthassistance.org/carmel.

Westfield

Several organizations have come together to provide breakfast and lunches for eligible students in Westfield during summer break. Students who are currently enrolled in the free and reduced lunch program at Westfield Washington Schools will have the opportunity to sign up for the Summer Meals Program. For many of the students in the free and reduced lunch program, breakfast and lunch at school may be the only meals they receive all day.

The program will kick off with the Pack the Cruiser event on June 1 at the Kroger located at 161st Street and Spring Mill Road. Shoppers can purchase food items or Kroger gift cards while in the store and drop them off outside at the police cruiser. Volunteers will pack and distribute the food donations on a weekly basis to the enrolled families. Gift cards will be used to purchase perishable items.

If you would like to support this program but are unable to attend Pack the Cruiser, you may purchase items from the approved shopping list (available under News Flash at westfield-washingtontwp.us) or buy

Kroger gift cards and drop them off at Westfield City Services or Westfield Washington Township before

May 31.

Community partners include Sodexo Food Service, Student Impact, Westfield

Washington Schools, Westfield Washington Township and Westfield Youth Assistance Program.

Esports teams for high schoolers

Editor's Note: The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School's 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

CAMERON HOVEY
Sheridan High School Student

In schools there are still two major groups of students that have always been divided. The two groups that will always stand out are the athletes and the nerds, and no matter what people say about there not being the stereotypes, I know otherwise.

However, there is one new thing that nearly all the Generation Y teens (born in early 2000s) are doing whether they like to admit it or not, and that is playing video games. Video games have been such a big part of students' lives that anyone can play, whether you're an athlete or a nerd. Since high school has all sports teams, and with the growth of Esports (or competitive gaming) in this decade, a high school Esports team could break the barrier between stereotypical groups.

Esports teams could definitely benefit the lives of students and even benefit the school by bringing students together who wouldn't really be close without Esports. Students in the school would be able to feel like they contributed in the school system.

For example, students who don't want to play sports but want to have fun with their friends and even make new ones and want contribute to school spirit could play Esports. Even people who do play sports but don't want to play all year round would still want to show school spirit while meeting new people, being competitive, and playing their favorite games. An answer to this is an Esports team to go against other schools and bring together all the stereotypical groups that were normally always divided.

A counterargument to this is that many people think that video games create violent people, but that statement is actually very wrong. Video games can be violent, but it doesn't make the player violent. A major part that makes the player violent is the parent raising the child playing the game could speak very violently or treat them violently.

Another reason students and even adults can be violent is that very many people who play video games also watch other people play them on YouTube. The YouTubers who are playing the games are often talking and screaming violent words or phrases which parents who often neglect to limit or set parameters from their child may overlook.

So, although many people think video games create violence, an Esports team for high school students could change the lives of many students. Whether it be students only competing within their own school system or even getting other schools to put together teams to go against as well, Esports teams could also benefit high schoolers because the Esports have been increasing rapidly in the past decade and could even bring popularity to the school.

According to bytewise.com, "Esports have made such a jump in popularity that there are schools in Connecticut, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin with Esports teams."

Since schools have offered this to their students there has been an increase in student relationships, confidence, the breaking of social barriers, and it has even made students want to maintain good grades to participate on the team.

In conclusion, an Esports team for high school students could bring together the socially divided groups within high schools and make them work alongside one another for their Esports team.

When were the first parking meters installed in Indianapolis?

The REPORTER

1834 – A stagecoach line schedule included a departure from Louisville at noon on Saturday, arriving in Vincennes on Tuesday at 9 a.m. The ticket price was $8. The stagecoach, so called because a journey was taken in "stages" of 10 or 12 miles, could seat nine people on three seats.

1846 – President James K. Polk declared war on Mexico. Three days later, the Secretary of War called on Indiana Governor James Whitcomb to supply three regiments of infantrymen and riflemen, a total of approximately 3,000 men.

1902 – The Soldiers and Sailors Monument was formally dedicated in Indianapolis. General Lew Wallace was Master of Ceremonies. The program included the reading of a poem by James Whitcomb Riley and music written and performed by John Philip Sousa.

1910 – The showboat "Cotton Blossom" docked at Rockport in Spencer County. The boat was resplendent with electric lights and a steaming caliope whose music could be heard up and down the river. Newspapers reported that "Gypsy Queen, a four-act comedy of the better class" was performed on the stage of the floating theater.

1937 – The childhood home of James Whitcomb Riley in Greenfield was opened to the public after restoration by the Riley Old Home Society. Indianapolis

Star reporter Mary Bostwick described the home as "immaculate in white paint and green shutters" with the interior "as nearly as possible the way it was when the Rileys lived there."

1944 – The Indianapolis City Council heard a proposal for the installation of parking meters within the mile square. Members heard the results of a study which concluded that the devices had solved parking problems in other cities. The council later approved the installation of 2,000 meters. Each would provide one hour of parking for five cents.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day. But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation. And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed. In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back. Remember Lot's wife. Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it. I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left. Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

Ultimate Day IN Indiana...

The Fishers High School ultimate team won the state championship, which took place Saturday afternoon at Westfield High School's Riverview Health Stadium. The high school state championship game was part of "Ultimate Day IN Indiana," which celebrated the sport of ultimate disc.

Fishers High School ultimate team wins state championship

The world of Ultimate Disc celebrated its "Ultimate Day IN Indiana" in Westfield on Saturday, and a nearby school was part of the festivities.

The Fishers High School Ultimate team won the state championship, which took place that afternoon at Westfield High School's Riverview Health Stadium. The Fishers team beat defending state champion Center Grove 9-6 in front of a good-sized crowd.

This is the fifth season for the Fishers team, and the third under coach Kevin Schwartz, who appreciated the fact that his team has "come a long way in such a short amount of time."

Schwartz said the Fishers' team's goal was to win the state championship this year.

"Center Grove has won it many, many years now, so we wanted to break their streak," said Schwartz. "We want to win it for ourselves and it's an absolutely awesome feeling for all of our hard work to pay off. I'm so proud of these guys to do that."

Fishers led 7-2 at halftime, then used the clock to its advantage in the second half.

"When we came out here, we wanted to get a big lead right away, which is what we did," said Schwartz. His team wanted to take control of the game and gain momentum, and Schwartz was proud of the team for doing just that.

Jacob Beaver and Ryan Clase both scored two goals for Fishers, while Gavin Henderson, Michael Brunt, Andrew Sin, Isaac Merz and Nick Woods all scored one. Eric Hoy had three assists, while Brunt and Sin each made two assists, and Niso Kapsalis had one.

Hoy had eight blocks for the game, followed by Sin with two and Brunt and Clase with one each. Other members of the team are Lance Marshall, Trey Johnson, Trevor McCoy, Zach Bender, David Woods, Luke Titus, Camden Greene and Grant Meng.

The high school state championship was the first of three events for "Ultimate Day IN Indiana." The second was a women's ultimate game between the Indianapolis Red and the Colombia Revolution. Both teams are part of the Premier Ultimate League, a newly formed women's league that features eight teams, seven from the United States in addition to the Colombian team. The two teams played at Riverview Health Stadium.

After the Red-Revolution game, the Indy AlleyCats, part of the AUDL, the men's ultimate league, took on the Atlanta Hustle at Grand Park. The AlleyCats began playing at Grand Park last year and continue to use its Activities Center as its home field.

Millers, Greyhounds win Saturday tournaments

The Noblesville boys golf team won the Mooresville Invitational, which took place Saturday afternoon at Heartland Crossing.

INDYCAR Grand Prix...

Simon says: Race in the rain, win again

By RICHIE HALL

SPEEDWAY - As racing fans at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway watched Simon Pagenaud pull into Victory Lane, a television commentator noted how appropriate the weather was: Pagenaud ended a lengthy drought in the rain.

The weather didn't bother the French driving star, who used a stunning surge in the final five laps of the race to win the INDYCAR Grand Prix, which took place on a rainy Saturday afternoon. It was Pagenaud's first win since September 2017.

"I answered it," said Pagenaud. "I know what I'm worth. I've got to get everything right, and we did that this weekend. Slowly and surely, we got there. The stars just didn't align before. But the performance has always been there this year. The team has been fantastic at giving me what I need, so here we are."

Pagenaud ended the drought in spectacular fashion. With seven laps to go in the 85-lap race, Pagenaud was running in third place, nearly 7 seconds behind then-leader Scott Dixon.

First, Pagenaud had to move up to second place, which he did by passing Jack Harvey on Lap 80. At that point, Pagenaud trailed Dixon by almost 4 seconds, then steadily gained on him over the next three laps.

The moment of truth came on Lap 83. Pagenaud had been running about a half-second behind Dixon during the previous lap, and he made his move while exiting Turn 7. The two cars briefly touched, but Pagenaud was able to complete the pass on Turn 9. He then zoomed out in front, and held the lead until the checkered flag, winning by 2.0469 seconds.

It was the third win for Pagenaud at the Grand Prix, tying him with Will Power for most wins. The two Team Penske stars are the only winners in the six-year history of the Grand Prix. Power, the defending champion, finished seventh.

"We kept it in the Penske family," said Pagenaud. "I can't believe it. Awesome."

Simon Pagenaud (right) makes his move on Scott Dixon on the second-to-last lap as the two Penske racers battled for the lead at the INDYCAR Grand Prix Saturday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Pagenaud pulled ahead and would go on to win the Grand Prix race for the third time.

What a race. I want to thank Team Penske, everybody that supports me. This is the sweetest win I've ever had, I guess."

It was a tough one for Dixon, who finished as the runner-up at the Grand Prix for the third straight year. Dixon led the most laps in the race with 39 and stayed in contention for most of the race.

"I knew from the get-go that we would be struggling with the front end, and I don't know why it was balanced that way," said Dixon. "It felt like we needed about 6 inches of front wing. I thought maybe we could hold the gap. But the harder I pushed, the worse it got and just blitzed the front tires off the car. But all in all, it was a solid effort. It was a tricky race. It sucks to lead that many laps and come up short, but again, congrats to Simon."

Harvey never led in the race, but was always a factor, immediately moving into second place at the beginning of the race and stayed in or around that position until Pagenaud made his move. Harvey's third-place finish marked his first time ever on an INDYCAR podium and was easily the best every result for the young British driver, who had notched 10th place finishes in the series' first two races.

"Everybody at Meyer Shank Racing and Schmidt Peterson Motorsports worked so hard to give us that," said Harvey. "It wasn't an easy race, being half dry and half wet, but we put on a great show for everybody at AutoNation and SiriusXM. You can see how happy these guys are at getting a podium. Can you imagine how happy we're going to be when we get a win? That's where we're going."

American driver Josef Newgarden led 20 laps, the second-most of any driver, but he fell out of contention after a penalty that took place during a pit stop on Lap 68. A tire bounced out of Newgarden's pit box, and the driver was penalized by having to restart at the back of the field, as this took place during a caution period.

Sweden's Felix Rosenqvist, a longtime Formula 3 racer making his rookie run in INDYCAR, started from the pole position. He led the first 15 laps of the race, but was passed by Dixon on Lap 16 and fell back after that. Rosenqvist went on to finish a respectable eighth place.

Other lap leaders included Graham Rahal, who paced four laps, and Sebastien Bourdais, who led two laps. Rahal and Bourdais finished ninth and 11th respectively.

Noblesville splits games at Chatard Invitational

Noblesville split its games at the Bishop Chatard Invitational on Saturday.

In their first game, the Millers lost to Bishop Chatard 6-5. Noblesville got on the board in the second inning, when Chloe Tragesser led off with a home run. Tragesser struck again in the fourth inning, belting a two-run homer that also sent Ella White home.

The Trojans scored twice in the bottom of the fourth, but the Millers responded in the top of the fifth: Kyleigh Lowry doubled in Alyssa Solomon. That gave Noblesville a 4-2 lead.

But Chatard scored four runs in the bottom of the fifth, and held the lead from there. The Millers got a run back in the seventh when White singled in Abby Brown, but they would not get closer.

White finished the game 3-for-4 at the plate, while Brown and Tragesser each had two hits. Maddie Taylor pitched three and two-thirds innings, striking out five and allowing only two hits.

Noblesville won its second game easily, beating Cardinal Ritter 11-1 in six innings. The Millers scored one run in each of the first four innings, including a home run from Emily Minett in the third inning.

Noblesville finished the game with seven runs in the sixth inning. Scout Duplaga hit a two-run RBI to get the Millers up 10-1. Clara Bodinus came in to run for Duplaga, and she ended the game by scoring on a wild pitch.

Duplaga finished the game 2-for-3 with two RBI. Taylor got the pitching win, going four innings.

Noblesville is 12-7 and plays Avon on Monday.
