Hamilton County farmers under pressure from rain

By KATIE WISELY
 WISH-TV | wishtv.com

It's been a rough spring for farmers with the constant rain. A lot of the seeds aren't even in the ground yet. Farmers are feeling the pressure, and consumers could see the impact on prices later this year.

According to a new report, only 22 percent of the state of Indiana is planted. Normally, this time of year it's 94 percent.

Nathan Davis is a farmer in northern Hamilton County. He farms about 3,000 acres of corn every year. Right now, only 500 of that is planted. Davis uses that corn to feed the thousands of hogs he raises.

He says it takes about 180,000 bushels of corn to feed all of his hogs. On average, he sells about 18,000 a year. Davis says he needs at least 1,300 acres of corn planted.

This year he's had to take new measures. He says he's had to spend nearly $60,000 to buy contract corn for the fall just to feed the hogs. Davis says it's due to the fact that the weather hasn't been in their favor this year.

"It just doesn't affect the crop," he said. "I mean you have all of your inputs, your equipment costs, you've got your seed cost, your land cost and all that kind of stuff, so it's huge. It affects everything really."

Northern Hamilton County farmer Nathan Davis says he needs at least 1,800 of his usual 3,000 acres of corn planted in order to feed his thousands of hogs. Due to the exceptionally wet spring, so far he's only been able to plant 500 of those acres of corn.

Davis says the ground has to dry out before they can get the planter back out. He says the impact the weather has had on planting will increase the cost of corn. As of right now, Davis says it's nearly $4 a bushel.

Some farmers are saying there's a chance they may not get a crop in the field, or once they do plant, it fails due to the wet ground. Most farmers have some type of crop insurance, but the insurance doesn't cover everything.

Mayor Hogsett's "regional" plan for Indy roads requires caution

Joe Hogsett, mayor of our big sister city, Indianapolis, has a big problem with his streets, and he's come up with an idea to have surrounding counties help him out of it. Of course, it's an election year. Joe needs to get votes, and there's nothing like telling the voters that you've found somebody else to pay for their needs.

So, Joe wants to have his surrounding counties, like Hamilton County, put some yet-to-be determined amount of their Local Income Tax money into a fund that would fix crumbling streets. Supposedly, Hamilton County would get some of its money back. But, likely not much.

This "regional" approach to road repair would require state legislation. It is true that a lot of our county's residents use Indy's streets; about 58,000 of our people commute into the city. And, about 15,000 Indianapolis residents commute to Hamilton County. Indy would benefit greatly by using those numbers in some kind of a formula that is yet to be devised.

And, there are a few other problems with Joe's idea. Chief among them is the fact that commuters from our county already pay four tenths of one percent of their income in Marion County as their Deputy Auditor Drew Carlson told me yesterday. That might not sound like much, but by my conservative calculations it amounts to between $5 million and $6 million per year. You can fix a lot of chuckholes with that along with the money from the other surrounding counties.

There's another consideration. While we have 58,000 commuters to Indy, we have about 318,000 people in Hamilton County. That means a vast majority, 260,000 more or less, do not commute and may not want to pay to fix Joe's problem.

And, then we should consider that many commuters use largely interstate highways like 69 and 465 to get to work. Indianapolis does not maintain these roads, the state highway department (INDOT) is solely responsible.

The Local Income Tax (formerly known as COIT) is a big part of Hamilton County's life blood for public services and facilities. Our county, cities, towns, townships and libraries get more than $156 million from this tax each year. Giving up part of it would potentially reduce local government's services at all these levels.

Our local officials and legislators have a lot of serious thinking to do before agreeing to any "regional" approaches that Marion County politicians propose in an election year.

Join Sheridan Rotarians for yearly pancake breakfast

The Sheridan Rotarians shown here are getting yard signs ready to advertise the club's annual pancake and sausage and biscuit and gravy breakfast scheduled for 7 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday, June 22. The fundraiser will take place in the Community Room of the Sheridan Public Library. Adults are $8 and children ages 12 and under are $3. Along with the meal, there will also be a silent auction of donated items from individuals and businesses from the Sheridan community. 96th and Keystone traffic changes to begin June 17

The REPORTER

A major shift in traffic patterns at 96th Street and Keystone Parkway should help with congestion and access to businesses on 96th Street, east of the intersection. Meanwhile, due to unexpected utility delays, the previous plan to close east-west through traffic on 96th Street has been extended from 60 to 150 days – a step taken by the construction team in order to ensure project's substantial completion by the end of 2019.

On or about June 17, the traffic light at 96th and Keystone will be removed and traffic on Keystone and Parkway will be shifted onto newly constructed on-off ramps. This will allow northbound traffic coming on Keystone Parkway, north of Interstate 465, to proceed through the construction project without stopping. One lane will be dedicated to right-turn traffic onto 96th Street while the other lane will be for through traffic into Carmel.

Southbound Keystone Parkway traffic will also be able to proceed through the project without stopping, giving motorists better access to westbound 96th Street and I-465. Traffic turning south on Keystone Parkway from eastbound 96th Street will have a dedicated turn lane. Southbound Keystone traffic will not be able to turn left onto 96th Street. Detours will be either 106th Street or 86th Street.

These changes are being made in response to notification by utility companies that they would not be able to remove utility lines by the end of May, as previously expected. Instead, they will need to work until the end of July. Work on the bridge over 96th Street, however, cannot wait that long without a significant delay that could extend the overall life of the project into the summer of 2020. By making these traffic changes now, the project can remain on pace to be substantially completed by the end of 2019.

State Senator Spartz named chair of audit committee

The REPORTER

The Indiana General Assembly's Legislative Council recently named State Sen. Victoria Spartz (R-Noblesville) chair of the Audit and Financial Reporting Subcommittee of the Legislative Council.

The audit committee is responsible for independent review and oversight of the Indiana State Board of Accounts (SBOA) and the examination processes. The committee monitors independence, evaluates findings and provides guidance to the SBOA, among other things.

"As someone who has been involved with auditing and financial reporting for large public and private companies for over a decade, I look forward to the contributing my knowledge and best practices to governmental entities," Spartz said. "In addition to providing Hoosiers with state and local government accountability, the audits provide valuable insight into the operation of any organization."

The Legislative Council is comprised of eight members of the Indiana Senate and eight members of the Indiana House of Representatives.

Carmel graduates 1,225 students

Carmel High School conducted graduation ceremonies Thursday at the Indiana Farmers Coliseum. A total of 1,225 students comprised the Class of 2019.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. - Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Spring is in the air at Janus

Submitted

Welcome back to sunny days, green grass, colorful flowers and outdoor fun. Gardening, community outings, Spring Fling, and golf and batting are just a few of the many activities happening at Janus during the spring.

The Master Gardeners of Hamilton County have been involved with the Janus gardens and the gardening program since the very first plantings were made in 2010. Thanks to their expertise and guidance, the Janus gardens flourish each year with a variety of flowers, native plants and a vegetable garden that continue to grow and provide a great deal of enjoyment to everyone at Janus.

The Out and About group at Janus recently visited Eagle Creek Park and were excited to participate in outdoor activities such as birdwatching and hiking and learning more about the reptiles and amphibians housed at the nature center.

The Doorways and Work Experience programs celebrated the arrival of spring with a special Spring Fling event planned by the "For the Love of Janus Guild." The wonderful Janus volunteers provided a special afternoon of delicious treats and fun surprises.

Earlier this spring, Janus

Golf and Batting opened for its third season as a recreational facility for the entire community. Located at 17400 Willow View Road, adjacent to the Janus facility on Westfield Road in Noblesville, Janus Golf and Batting offers a driving range, batting cages, as well as putt-putt golf.

Janus Golf and Batting's operating hours are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 9 p.m. on Sunday. For more information about Janus Golf and Batting, group visits and rates, please call (317) 385-1447 or contact Tim White at tjwhite@janus-inc.org.

Oak threat expands statewide

The REPORTER

The Indiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR) confirmed more than 70 Walmart stores and 18 Rural King stores in the state have received rhododendron plants infected with sudden oak death (SOD), a fungal pathogen that kills oak trees. Shipments containing infested material were sent to nine other states as well.

Workers from the Department of Entomology & Plant Pathology have been visiting stores across Indiana to destroy any stock that has been found infested and quarantine any stock that is symptomatic. The division has made this its top priority.

The DNR has destroyed approximately 1,500 infested rhododendron so far and pulled another 1,500 from stores. The DNR has also ordered these stores to stop selling rhododendron until further notice. Any quarantined material not infected will be released following testing at Purdue University.

The DNR is also following up with homeowners that have called in to say they've purchased material that they believe is infested or are seeing signs/symptoms of sick trees in the environment.

SOD has killed large tracts of oaks on the West Coast. SOD has not been established in the Midwest, to date. SOD can kill standing oak trees, which could happen if SOD-positive rhododendron were planted within about six feet of a standing oak.

SOD travels in more than a hundred species of host plant material. It causes some browning of the leaves in the host but does not kill it. Click here to view a list of those plants.

If you have purchased rhododendrons in the last four weeks from Walmart or Rural King, destroy them, or call 1-866-NO-EXOTIC (663-9684) or the local county extension office at 1-888-EXT-INFO (1-888-398-4636) for instructions.

This is an ongoing investigation, and guidance could change as more information is gathered.

AG Curtis Hill obtains consent judgment in first-ever multistate HIPAA-related data breach lawsuit

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill announced this week that a U.S. district court judge has signed a consent judgment negotiated between 16 state attorneys general and a Fort Wayne web-based electronic health records company that allegedly sustained a data breach compromising the data of more than 3.9 million people.

In December of 2018, Indiana led a multistate lawsuit against the company – Medical Informatics Engineering Inc. and NoMoreClipboard LLC (collectively “MIE”). This case was the nation’s first-ever multistate lawsuit involving a HIPAA-related data breach.

With the signing of the consent judgment, the 16 states will receive $900,000 in payments due to the defendants’ conduct. Indiana’s share is $174,745.29.

The lawsuit resolved allegations that MIE violated provisions of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (“HIPAA”) as well as state claims including Unfair and Deceptive Practice laws, Notice of Data Breach statutes, and state Personal Information Protection Acts.

Between May 7, 2015, and May 26, 2015, hackers infiltrated WebChart, a web application run by MIE. The hackers stole the electronic Protected Health Information (“ePHI”) of more than 3.9 million individuals – including individual names, telephone numbers, mailing addresses, usernames, hashed passwords, security questions and answers, spousal information (name and potentially dates of birth), email addresses, dates of birth, Social Security numbers, lab results, health insurance policy information, diagnosis, disability codes, doctors’ names, medical conditions, and children’s names and birth statistics.

Hill

“Hoosier consumers trust us to look out for their interests,” Hill said. “Once again, we have acted on their behalf to pursue the appropriate penalties and remedies available under the law. We hope our proactive measures serve to motivate all companies doing business in Indiana to exercise the highest possible ethics and the utmost diligence in making sure their systems are safe and secure.”

Hill added that MIE has cooperated with his office from the very beginning of the investigation into the hacking incident.

“To their credit, MIE’s management has taken this entire issue seriously,” Hill said. “All along, they have expressed concern for those whose data was compromised. Even as we pursued the appropriate actions to protect consumers, we also appreciated MIE’s willingness to work with us.”

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then came to him certain of the Sadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection; and they asked him, Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother: There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children. And the second took her to wife, and he died childless. And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died. Last of all the woman died also. Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife. And Jesus answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage: But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage: Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection. Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him.

TerriAnn Weiss-Ellison, 54, passed away unexpectedly on May 5, 2019 of natural causes, due to pleural effusion and pneumonia of both lungs, at her home in Noblesville, Indiana. She was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on January 26, 1965 to Andrew E. Weiss, MD and Judith Davis Weiss.

TerriAnn had a BA in Psychology from Illinois State University and was preparing to seek a master's degree in social work.

Her current interest was the development of a series of film-based workshops that were free and open to the public. These workshops were for the education of the general public, alcoholics, addicts and their families regarding the current medical information and understanding that addictions are a brain disease. It is hoped and expected that this work will be carried forward by the people who had been assisting her in this effort and the Hamilton County Council on Alcohol and Other Drugs.

She was preceded in death by her father, Andrew E. Weiss, MD. She will be missed by her son, Davis H. Ellison; her mother, Judith Davis Weiss; her sister, Wendy A. Weiss; and her brother, Andrew W. Weiss.

Services will be held at Spring Grove Cemetery Chapel, Cincinnati, Ohio at a future date. Other services may be pending.

TerriAnn's family has entrusted Randall & Roberts Funeral Home in Noblesville, Indiana with her care.

Boys state track and field meet

HSE's Malone wins close 200, Tigers finish first in 4x800

By RICHIE HALL

BLOOMINGTON - By literally a few millimeters, Hamilton Southeastern's Noah Malone became a state champion on Friday.

The junior won the 200 dash by a margin of two-thousandths of a second - .002 - at the IHSAA boys track and field state championships at Indiana University. The 200 dash was easily the race of the night and among the highlights of Hamilton County athletes.

Malone helped the Royals to a fourth-place finish as a team, their best result since winning state in 2013. Meanwhile, Fishers also landed in the top 10 and claimed a state title in the 4x800 relay. Carmel, Westfield and Noblesville all had medalist performances as well.

Coming into the 200, Malone had already put together a nice list of accomplishments at state. He was the runner-up in the 100 dash and part of HSE's fourth-place 4x100 relay, joining freshman Stephen Sydnor, sophomore Gage Pratt and junior Caleb Durden in that race.

Malone's biggest competitor was his friend and fellow junior, Jahn Riley of Pike. Riley was working on his third medal of the night, already placing seventh in the 100 dash and winning the 400 dash. The two were side-by-side throughout the entire 200 dash, including right at the end.

It took a few seconds to figure out the winner, but it would be Malone. Both times flashed on the scoreboard as 21.31 seconds, which were rounded up from the precise times. Malone finished the race in 21.307 seconds, Riley finished in 21.309.

"I actually thought Jahn won," said Malone. "I thought he won. But when the screen came up as a tie, it was just insane. Right now I'm just speechless, but it was a good day overall. It was a good day. And props to Jahn. He brought me to that time."

Pratt also earned a medal in the 200 dash, finishing in ninth place. Senior Jacob Wiggers finished ninth in the 3200 run, giving the Royals a fifth medal. That was also enough for Southeastern to clinch a three-way tie for fourth place; the Royals joined Brownsburg and Cathedral in scoring

"We're real proud of the way our guys competed," said Royals coach Brian Akialis. "Obviously very excited when we've got a guy like Noah first in the 200, second place in the 1 and then our 4x1 running their best time all year right when it matters most, finishing fourth today."

The Tigers finished the meet with 23 points, placing them eighth as a team. Fishers began the running events with a win, as senior Ethan Meyer, senior Hunter Christy, junior Drew Smith and sophomore Jaylen Castillo finished first in the 4x800 relay. It marks the second year in a row that the Tigers have won a state event.

Meyer then took sixth in the 1600 run.

Competing at state was a sneak preview for him, as he has committed to run cross country and track at IU next fall.

"It's definitely changed my life," said Meyer as he reflected on his high school career. "The experience I've had is something I'd never trade for anything else."

Fishers also had solid days from its throwers. Junior Hayden Tobias took fifth in the shot put, while junior Wyatt Puff finished eighth in both the shot put and the discus.

Carmel finished in 16th place as a team with 16 points. Junior Logan Sandlin had the best finish of the Greyhounds by taking fourth in the pole vault. He also competed in the 300 hurdles, finishing 11th. Not bad for his first appearance at state

"It's definitely different than a normal track meet," said Sandlin. "There are a lot more people and it's a lot more pressure. There are just a lot of different factors that aren't the same as a normal track meet."

Senior Jakob Pearson finished fifth in the 110 hurdles, while the 4x400 relay team of sophomore Owen Schafer, senior Drew Thornton, sophomore Colton Parker and junior Eli Konow took seventh. Parker was also eighth in the 300 hurdles.

Noblesville finished the meet with two ninth-place medals. Sophomore Andrew Anderson got his medal first after a top nine finish in the 800 run.

"It was a really fast start and a really tough race," said Anderson. "I saw a couple people get tripped up right in front of me. I had a good showing, it was really fun and I got a lot of great guys here to support me."

The Millers' 4x400 relay team of juniors Shomari Rogers-Walton, Shawn Kinslow and senior Mitchell Conard took ninth in that event.

Westfield earned an eighth-place finish in the 4x800 relay. That team consisted of junior Mahamat Djour, senior Max Gutwein, senior Noah Douthit and junior David Manella.

Guerin Catholic had two competitors at state. Senior Quinn Gallagher placed 11th in the 3200 run, while senior Billy Freudenthal was 14th in the 300 hurdles.

North Central edged out Pike by one point to win the team state championship. The Panthers scored 42 points to the Red Devils' 41. Warren Central placed third with 27 points, giving the Metropolitan Conference a sweep of the top three teams.

The Hoosier Crossroads Conference also did well, with four teams in the top 10. Southeastern and Brownsburg were part of the tie for fourth place, Fishers finished eighth and HCC newcomer Franklin Central took ninth, with Mental Attitude Award winner Malachi Quarles scoring all 20 of the Flashes' points on wins in the 110 and 300 hurdles.

Carmel advances to state semi-finals

The Carmel girls tennis team advanced to the state semi-finals after winning its quarter-final match over Columbus North Friday at the Todd Witsken Tennis Center.

The No. 3-ranked and defending state champion Greyhounds beat the No. 8 Bull Dogs 5-0. No. 1 singles Sydney Morris won her match in three sets, while the No. 2 doubles team of Katelyn Conley and Selena Liu took its first set in a tiebreaker, then won the second set easily.

Carmel will play No. 1-ranked Cathedral in this morning's semi-finals, which start at 10 a.m. at North Central's Barbara Wynne Tennis Center. The Irish defeated No. 8 Delta 5-0 to stay undefeated at 19-0 for the year. Carmel is 18-2.

The other semi-final will see No. 2 Park Tudor (a 3-2 winner over No. 4 Munster) take on No. 11 Center Grove (a 5-0 winner over Washington). The semi-final winners will meet at 2:30 p.m. to play for the state championship.
