Helping Noblesville one backpack at a time

On Monday, Duke Energy employees teamed up to stuff nearly 250 backpacks for Noblesville students. Duke Energy's Community Relations Manager Mark LaBarr said the backpacks will be distributed to schools, churches and other community locations for distribution to needy students of all grades in Noblesville. "Kids are our future leaders and Duke Energy is proud to support such a worthy community event," said LaBarr. Supplies for the backpacks were provided by Noblesville Schools Education Foundation (NSEF) during the Stuff the Bus event. The organization is still accepting school supply donations at the Noblesville Educational Service Center, 18025 River Road, Noblesville.

David Decker looked over the construction site of the new Hub & Spoke facility, near I-69 on 106th Street, and smiled. A large crowd had assembled Tuesday at the ground breaking ceremony for the new structure that is scheduled to open in April of 2020.

As co-founder of Hub & Spoke, along with his partner Travis Tucker, Decker is eager to get started constructing the complex, centered on the construction business in Central Indiana. Hamilton Southeastern Schools Superintendent Allen Bourff was at the groundbreaking event because the local public school system plans to use Hub & Spoke as a gateway for Fishers-area students learning the building trades, which are in desperate need of trained employees.

"Hub & Spoke represents what could be a 21st century iteration of what we have come to realize are career centers within the state of Indiana," said Dr. Bourff.

Fishers Mayor Scott Fadness was on hand as well. He has strongly supported the Hub & Spoke concept from its inception, calling the path to this groundbreaking "a long and winding road." The mayor said this project could only have happened as a result of a strong relationship between the city and the local school corporation.

Westfield welcomes new Community Development Director

The REPORTER

On Tuesday, Westfield Mayor Andy Cook announced that Senior Planner Kevin M. Todd will become the new Director of Community Development for the City of Westfield. Todd succeeds Matthew S. Skelton, who will be returning to private law practice.

Todd

"As the fastest growing city in Indiana there is a lot of work for our community development team and I know Kevin is up to the task," said Cook. "Matt Skelton has been integral in the city's successful growth and leaves the team well positioned for the future."

Todd has been with the City of Westfield for 15 years and worked with Skelton for the past 10 years. Kevin was integral in the planning and implementation of the Grand Park Sports Campus and the Grand Junction District in downtown Westfield. Todd is a graduate of Anderson University and holds a Masters of Urban and Regional Planning from Ball State University.

Skelton will return to private law practice as a partner with the law firm of Church Church Hittle & Antrim.

"I had always planned to return to private practice at some point in my professional career, but the City of Westfield is a hard place to leave," said Skelton. "There are so many exciting projects in the works. The City's elected and appointed leaders are sophisticated and supportive people. It has been an honor to work here."

Skelton will stay on with the City through the end of August to ensure a smooth transition.

Sheridan Library to offer 'Stop The Bleed' class

The REPORTER

Stop The Bleed is a national awareness campaign and a call to action. Stop The Bleed is intended to cultivate grassroots efforts that encourage bystanders to become trained, equipped and empowered to help in a bleeding emergency before professional help arrives. No matter how rapid the arrival of professional emergency responders, bystanders will always be first on the scene.

A person who is bleeding can die from blood loss within five minutes, therefore it is important to quickly stop the blood loss. Those nearest to someone with life-threatening injuries are best positioned to provide first care.

The Sheridan Public Library is offering a free class at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, July 24 at the library, located at 103 W. 1st St., Sheridan. It is open to any community member who would like to learn more. It will be taught by Jim Ginder from the Hamilton County Health Department. It is a training program recommended for individuals as well as those representing public groups. Churches, social groups, public committees and other such open groups would do well to have at least one person available and trained for this type of tragic event should it ever occur.

Knowing how to pack wounds, apply pressure and use tourniquets is important no matter the nature of the injury. But with the advent of mass shootings over the past several years and the fact that many of the active shooters are using high-velocity munitions, it is imperative that first responders learn how to prevent the catastrophic hemorrhaging of the wounds that are associated with these high velocity projectiles. Mass shootings are still relatively rare but it seems like there are more and more of them

Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville to hold Cornhole Tournament

The REPORTER

The Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville will hold its fourth annual Cornhole Tournament on Friday, Aug. 2, presented by Patriot Insurance Group and West Bend Mutual Insurance. Check-in will begin at 11:30 a.m. with the first round of play starting at 12:30 p.m. at Shelter No. 1 in Forest Park.

The afternoon will consist of a three-game guarantee to include a double-elimination tournament and a "toilet bowl" bracket. Competitive play will culminate in a championship game paying out cash prizes to first and second place. Each participant will receive a commemorative T-shirt and an entry into a door prize drawing. Food and beverages will be avail-

Sheridan Public Library Director Steve Martin said, “Our staff had this training a few months ago just because the library is a gathering place for people, and where there are people there exists the very rare potential for someone with a grudge to settle a score in a lethal fashion. As a library staff, we need to be prepared, and this training is part of that preparation. We have also had Active Shooter training. I never thought I would have to train my staff on these subjects but things are different now than they were 15 or 20 years ago. And even if we never have to face an active shooter situation, Stop The Bleed is just good, practical first aid training.”

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. - Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Excessive heat sweeps area through Sunday

The REPORTER

The National Weather Service in Indianapolis has issued an Excessive Heat Warning, which is in effect from 2 p.m. Thursday until 8 p.m. Sunday. An Excessive Heat Warning means that a prolonged period of dangerously hot temperatures will occur. The combination of hot temperatures and high humidity will combine to create a dangerous situation in which heat illnesses are likely.

Highs will reach into the mid- to upper-90s daily, with heat indices reaching 105 to 110 degrees. The hottest conditions are expected Friday and Saturday.

Several days of heat indices of at least 105 degrees could have a cumulative impact on some individuals, especially those who spend a prolonged amount of time outdoors. The most susceptible are the very young, the elderly, those without air conditioning and anyone conducting strenuous outdoor activities.

Car interiors can reach lethal temperatures in a matter of MINUTES. Never leave pets, children or the elderly unattended in parked vehicles. The extended period of high heat and humidity will worsen the effects of heat stress.

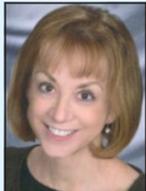

Take extra precautions if you work or spend time outside. When possible, reschedule strenuous activities to early morning or evening.

Know the signs and symptoms of heat exhaustion and heat stroke. Wear lightweight and loose-fitting clothing when possible and drink plenty of water. To reduce risk during outdoor work, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration recommends scheduling frequent rest breaks in shaded or air conditioned environments.

Take care of those who need our help

By SHARON McMAHON
For The Reporter

Our local meteorologists tell us that this weekend is going to be one of the hottest in seven years, with temperatures reaching the high 90s.

Please remember that your car is never a place to leave unattended people or pets, as the heat inside the car can reach as much as 30 degrees or more higher than the outside temperatures in a very short time span.

Be sure to check on your elderly neighbors and friends, stay hydrated, and don't forget our furry friends who depend on us. Just as you would not wish to swelter in a fur coat, your pet also will feel the effect of the heat very rapidly.

If you cannot bring your pets indoors, which is preferred, be sure that they have fresh, COOL water and plenty of shade. Also, think about how you would like to walk barefoot on hot pavement – ouch! They feel it too, so save the walks for either early or late in the day and allow your pet to stay on grass if possible.

The bottom line: Use caution, stay hydrated and take special care of those who cannot care for themselves.

heat should be moved to a cool and shaded location. Heat stroke is an emergency – call 911.

Drink plenty of fluids, stay in an air-conditioned room, stay out of the sun, and check up on relatives and neighbors.

Young children and pets should NEVER be left unattended in vehicles under any circumstances. This is especially true during warm or hot weather when car interiors can reach lethal temperatures in a matter of minutes.

Rep. Brooks supports Senate version of National Defense Authorization Act

The REPORTER
Congresswoman Susan W. Brooks (R-Ind.-05) provided the following statement regarding her vote against the House version of the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) and her support for the bipartisan Senate version of the NDAA:

"It is critically important to provide the men and women in our armed forces the resources and tools they need in order to safely defend and protect our country. For 58 years, the Armed Services Committee has passed a bipartisan NDAA. I am disappointed today's House version of the NDAA is extremely partisan, endangers U.S.

Brooks

national security and undercuts authorities' abilities to combat serious threats on an international level, including combatting terrorism. This bill cuts critical programs designed to deter Russia and China, cuts personnel accounts by over one billion dollars, cuts nuclear deterrent programs and cuts readiness recovery.

"Keeping Americans safe is government's first job, and that is why we must have a military that is properly equipped to keep us safe at home and abroad. As the legislative process continues, I urge House leadership to consider the Senate's version of the bill because it rises above partisan politics in order to prioritize our national security and provide needed funding in order to increase military readiness."

Background

The Senate passed its version of NDAA by a vote of 86-8 and it would authorize a $750 billion national defense budget. It authorizes $24.1 billion in ship-building funds for 12 new Navy warships and supports the President's request to shakeup the military's space mission by creating a Space Force under Air Force. Additionally, the Senate's NDAA authorizes 94 Lockheed Martin-built F-35 fighters, 16 more than the administration requested. It also works to establish secure next-generation wireless network (5G) components and capabilities in at least two Department of Defense installations.

The House version of NDAA funds the federal government's defense and national security programs at $17 billion less than the Senate version. It cuts personnel accounts that fund troop pay and benefits by $1.2 billion, cuts nuclear deterrent programs, cuts critical programs designed to deter Russia and China, including cuts to hypersonics, ship construction, and closes Guantanamo Bay to move terrorists to the U.S., along with other crucial cuts. The House version creates severe restrictions on the military's traditional missions in supporting border security.

Noblesville Schools appoints new leaders at NHS, West Middle School

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced Tuesday that it has appointed several new administrative leaders, including new principals for Noblesville High School (NHS) and Noblesville West Middle School (NWMS).

- Dr. Craig McCaffrey, interim principal, NHS
- Janae Mobley, assistant principal, NHS
- Ryan Haughey, principal, NWMS
- Ginger Jimenez, assistant principal, White River Elementary

Erin Rood, Noblesville Schools assistant director of special education

McCaffrey, who holds a PhD in education from Ball State University, has served as an assistant principal at NHS since 2012 with responsibility for graduation, testing, school safety, music, athletics and more. He also brings seven years of experience as a head principal at both Franklin Community High School and Taylor Middle School.

Mobley, currently a dean at NHS, will step into the assistant principal role vacated by McCaffrey. She has previous experience as an assistant principal at Yorktown High School and a master's degree in education administration from Butler University. Candidates are currently being considered for the NHS dean position.

Haughey (pronounced Hoy) brings five years of experiences as principal at Westfield Middle School to his new role, as well as previous positions there as assistant principal and dean. He holds a master's degree and principal licensure from Indiana Wesleyan University and an educational specialist certification from Indiana State University.

Jimenez moves to the White River assistant principal role from her current position overseeing Little Millers Preschool and Millers Explorers before/after school care for the district. She previously served as a learning specialist and teacher at North Elementary. Candidates are currently being considered to fill Jimenez's position.

Rood will serve as assistant director of special education following six years as district director and coordinator of special education for Sheridan Schools. She previously served as a resource teacher with Noblesville Schools for seven years, and holds a master's degree and licensure in special education administration from Ball State University.

"I'm excited to announce these appointments of our current staff members and welcome new leaders to our Noblesville Schools team," said Noblesville Schools Superintendent Dr. Beth Niedermeyer. "They are a highly qualified group of individuals and I'm confident they will hit the ground running, providing students, staff and families the high level of vision, support, service and guidance we expect in our leaders."

The appointments will fill recent vacancies and will not generate additional staffing.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage. And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece. Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

Noblesville First United Methodist offering fall session

The REPORTER

Have you lost a loved one or know someone who will find it difficult to face each day? Noblesville First United Methodist Church, 2051 Monument St., Noblesville, announces the beginning of the next GriefShare sessions open to the community.

The fall GriefShare weekly session will meet from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Thursday evenings beginning Thursday, Aug. 8. Participants are invited to join anytime during the 14 weeks of meetings. A one-time registration fee of $20 is appreciated. (Scholarships available.)

GriefShare is a 14-week non-denominational, Christ-centered program that focuses on grief topics associated with the death of a loved one. The DVD seminar features nationally respected grief experts and real-life stories of people, followed by a small group discussion about what was seen on the DVD. Daily work in the GriefShare workbook also helps one look thoughtfully at his or her grief experience and helps in the healing process.

Noblesville First United Methodist's GriefShare group is led by caring people who have experienced grief and have successfully rebuilt their lives. They understand how you feel because they've been in the same place. They will walk with you through grief toward healing and hope for the future.

The City of Westfield has updated its solicitation ordinance. The ordinance now includes the following restrictions:

- Solicitors are restricted from approaching any home displaying a "No Soliciting" sticker, decal or sign. However, solicitors are allowed to solicit in any neighborhood or subdivision even if a "No Soliciting" sticker is posted at the entrance.

- Solicitation hours are now 10 a.m. to 30 minutes after sunset Monday to Saturday.

Reminder: Solicitors are REQUIRED to have a permit. You can pick up free "No Soliciting" stickers for your home at Westfield Police Department during office hours.

Girls State Junior Championship

Three county players reach championship flight

Play continued at the Girls State Junior Championship Wednesday with second-round action at The Hawthorns Golf and Country Club in Fishers.

Angelica Pfefferkorn, an incoming senior at Guerin Catholic, rose up to second place with an even-par 72, giving her a two-day score of 149. Pfefferkorn had the best score of the second round, making four birdies along the way. She was one of three Hamilton County golfers to qualify for the championship flight, which consists of the players in the top 20 going into today's third round.

Carmel junior-to-be Katie Kuc is in seventh place with a 154, making one birdie in her second round. Chelsea Morrow, a recent Hamilton Southeastern graduate and incoming freshman at Indiana State University, is tied for 13th place with a score of 159.

A total of 79 players are competing at the Girls State Junior Championship, and the other 59 golfers have been divided among five flights. Play begins at 8 a.m. today with the first group, with subsequent groups going off at nine-minute intervals until the top group starts at 11:54 a.m. Pfefferkorn will be in the top group, along with Nataly Munnicha of Columbus and Faith Johnson of Evansville.

Here is a complete list of scores, followed by tee times for county participants.

Indiana PGA Open

Johnny Watts, Jeff Doty get top 10 finishes

Two Hamilton County golfers finished in the top 10 at the Indiana Open Championship, which concluded Thursday at Otter Creek Golf Club in Columbus.

Johnny Watts, a Hamilton Southeastern and Ball State graduate, tied for fifth place, finishing with an eight-under par 208. Watts jumped into the top five with a five-under 67 for his third round, making six birdies.

Jeff Doty, a Carmel graduate now playing at the University of Kansas, tied for ninth place. Doty finished six under at 210, going even par with a 72 in the third round. That included one birdie.

Zionsville's Michael Davan was the winner, finishing 17 under par with a score of 199. Davan had 21 birdies for the tournament, including 10 during his second round and eight during the third round. The top three players were at least 10 under for the event, and the top 23 players finished the tournament under par.
