for change,” Burtron said. “Change is a constant and if communities want to preserve their small town atmosphere and charm, they need to learn to embrace and manage change, referencing paradox whereby everything must change in order for things to stay the same.” Burtron concluded the program by encouraging attendees to continue the conversation with local, state and government personnel, community leaders, and residents to be actively engaged in the process of charting the direction of their communities. He suggested a good place to start was by answering the following questions: Where do we go from here? What should we change in order to stay the same?

What do we want to do, if anything, for vitality and growth in the northernmost communities of Hamilton County? The next scheduled meeting of the Northern Hamilton County Chamber of Commerce is set for 11:15 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 8 at the Duke Energy Power Station located at East 211th Street in Noblesville.

Kenley. “For the benefit of the future of the properties and downtown Noblesville, it is important to plan ahead and have building owners with the ability and desire to make a long-term commitment to these properties. Darren and the Gordon family reflect these values.” Ratcliffe and the Gordon Marketing group have been investing in residential and commercial real estate for more than 20 years. The group currently owns close to 60 acres of office, storage and warehouse property along the Hague Road corridor, and a portfolio of 50 single-family homes throughout Hamilton County. “We are very excited about the opportunity to represent and serve the downtown market, and the opportunities for growth in the Noblesville Historic District,” said Ratcliffe. His plans include working with the community and local officials towards an ever-more thriving and successful downtown for all to enjoy. He will be handling all leasing commitments for these downtown properties, and his contact number is (317) 508-7593. Kenley retains his remaining properties in Noblesville located on South 10th Street, East Conner Street and North 10th Street.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. – Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

There were plenty of artists, musicians and even one magician showing their artistic talents. The next Arts Crawl dates in Fishers are Aug. 16 and Sept. 14.

Noblesville AT&T employee flees two armed robbers

The REPORTER

At 6:28 p.m. on Monday, police officers from the Noblesville Police Department responded to the AT&T Store located at 17159 Mercantile Boulevard in reference to a report of an armed robbery.

Based on witness statements and evidence collected at the scene, it appears that two subjects entered the store and soon thereafter confronted the lone employee with a handgun. The employee was able to flee from the store without injury and without any further contact with the suspects. There were no other employees or customers in the store at the time of the incident.

The suspects are believed to be males but additional information regarding their description or identity is speculative at this time. Crime scene investigators are examining in-store video and video from nearby businesses as part of the investigative process.

Investigators believe that a number of electronic devices were stolen and they are currently working with the business representative(s) on an exact assessment. There were no reported injuries.

This remains an ongoing investigation and as a result, no other information will be available for release at this time. Anyone with information regarding this case is encouraged to contact Detective Joe Jerrell or the Criminal Investigations Division at 317-776-6370 or tips@noblesville.in.us.

Songbook Foundation’s annual music intensive wraps 10th anniversary year

The REPORTER

A high school junior from upstate New York earned the top title of Songbook Youth Ambassador at the Saturday finals concert to cap the weeklong Songbook Academy®, the nation’s only youth music intensive focused on the timeless popular standards of jazz, Broadway and Hollywood.

Before a near-capacity crowd at the Palladium at the Center for the Performing Arts, 16-year-old Sadie Fridley won over the judges with her renditions of two Great American Songbook classics: “You’ll Never Know” by Harry Warren and Mack Gordon and “Day by Day” by Axel Stordahl, Paul Weston and Sammy Cahn. Both have been recorded many times by Frank Sinatra and other legendary performers.

Now Fridley looks forward to a year of high-profile performances, some alongside five-time Grammy Award nominee Michael Feinstein, founder of the Great American Songbook Foundation and lead mentor at the Songbook Academy, which celebrated its 10th anniversary this year. Past winners have sung the National Anthem at NFL games and played such venues as Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center and Feinstein’s cabaret clubs in New York and San Francisco.

This was Fridley’s second year at the Academy, a week of workshops and professional mentoring alongside 39 of her peers from coast to coast. Joining Feinstein among this year’s Songbook Academy mentors were Broadway stars Laura Osnes and Michael McElroy, Grammy winners Melissa Manchester and Sylvia McNair, and pianist-composer Nat Zegree.

“I feel really, really honored and incredibly lucky to be part of such an amazing program,” said Fridley, a rising junior at Fayetteville-Manlius High School near Syracuse, N.Y. “It’s taught me more about music than I could ever imagine.”

The other top honorees were Natalie Leclair of Pittsford, N.Y., who claimed the Songbook Inspiration Award, and Christopher Santiago of Royal Palm Beach, Fla., who received the Songbook Celebration Award. Both also will enjoy high-profile performance opportunities.

Rounding out the Top 10 finalists this year were Lily Bogas of Mill Valley, Calif.; Josephine Corrao of Oswego, Ill.; Cassidy Ewert of Bossier City, La.; Cynthia Kauffman of Zionsville; Sierra Safran of Doylestown, Pa.; Trevor VanEaton of Shreveport, La.; and Nicole Wildy of West Friendship, Md.

In addition to the judged performances by the Top 10 finalists, the Songbook Academy Finals concert included group numbers featuring all 40 participants and an appearance by 2018 Songbook Youth Ambassador Lily Rasmussen of Lexington, Ky. Now a theater major at Marymount Manhattan College in New York, Rasmussen sang “I’m Old Fashioned” and “You Are My Lucky Star.”

Leading up to the Songbook Academy Finals were two other public events: Wednesday’s Public Masterclass, in which Feinstein and Osnes provided live onstage coaching to 10 randomly selected vocalists, and Thursday’s Songbook Showcases, from which the Top 10 finalists were selected for Saturday’s culminating event.

The Songbook Academy is sponsored nationally by the Efroymson Family Fund with additional support from the City of Carmel, Salon 01, Aquage and Old

National Bank. The Public Masterclass and Songbook Showcases were sponsored by Ruth’s Chris Steak House. The Finals concert was presented by the Center for the Performing Arts and sponsored by Salon 01 and Aquage, with additional support from Current Publishing LLC.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

AlleyCats host AUDL Midwest Finals Saturday

The Indianapolis AlleyCats will host the Pittsburgh Thunderbirds in the American Ultimate Disc League Midwest Finals at 7 p.m. Saturday, July 27 at Westfield High School's Riverview Health Field.

This is the biggest professional ultimate Frisbee game ever hosted in the Circle City as the winner of this game moves onto the AUDL's Championship Weekend in San Jose on Aug. 10.

The AlleyCats are Indy's professional ultimate Frisbee team and an original member of the American Ultimate Disc League. Led by the league's all-time leading goal scorer Cameron Brock, the team consists of many amazing athletes from local origins and some from outside Naptown, including all world player Brett Matzuka, originally from Hawaii. The AlleyCats clinched the regular season Midwest title at their home in Grand Park Events Center against Chicago on July 6. That win earned them a first-round bye and the right to host the Midwest Division Title game.

The American Ultimate Disc League (AUDL) was founded in 2012 and strives to maintain ultimate's rich history. The league's 21 franchises embody the robust spirit of ultimate's players, fans, and community alike. The AUDL's mission is to increase the visibility of one of North America's fastest growing sports by creating fun, family-friendly events that showcase the sport being played at its highest level. The AlleyCats will be available after the game to sign autographs for fans.

letics for 12-and-under "Knothole Club" members, as well as a 3-D selfie station, mini-quarterback throwing game, mini-field goal kicking game, IU face painting booth, and stadium concessions.

Interactive Zones: Photo opportunities for fans on Memorial Stadium concourses (i.e., player cutouts, uniform and helmet displays, inflatable games, themed selfie stations).
