The REPORTER

Three Indiana teams placed in the Top 35 nationally in the 2019 Girls Go CyberStart challenge, a cybersecurity skills-based competition designed to encourage girls to become critical thinkers and explore a potential career in the growing field of cybersecurity. Noblesville High School captured first place in Indiana and ranked 19th nationally.

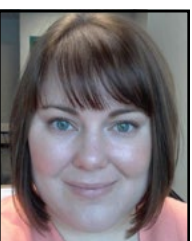

Indiana's top three teams included:

- Noblesville High School, advised by Lisa Heid, finished 19th nationally
- "WCC Cyber Warriors" from Walker Career Center/Warren Central High School, advised by Joshua Law, finished 23rd nationally
- "Whoosh Force" from NorthWood High School, advised by Pete Morey, finished 31st nationally

Park Tudor High School also placed among the Top 50 in the national competition.

Indiana Lt. Governor Suzanne Crouch recognized the three Indiana teams Wednesday at the Cybertech Midwest Conference in Indianapolis.

"It's exciting to see young women taking an interest in the cybersecurity field, a field mainly dominated by men," Crouch said. "Organizations like SANS Institute and the Indiana Department of Homeland Security that are supporting efforts to skill up young females are such vital assets to

Carmel SWAT instrumental in arresting shotgun-armed ex-boyfriend

The REPORTER

At 2:30 a.m. Thursday, the Carmel Police Department was called to the 1000 block of Indian Trail Drive in Gramercy Apartments on a report of a domestic violence incident involving a shotgun. The nature of the call prompted a SWAT callout.

The female victim told officers that the suspect, her ex-boyfriend, Scott A. Nocco, 28, Carmel, entered her residence with a shotgun and struck her several times with it. Police say during the struggle, the shotgun was fired but no one was struck. The female victim was able to escape the residence.

While SWAT was on the way to the scene, Nocco was able to jump from a balcony and flee the scene undetected by officers. SWAT officers later located Nocco at his residence in the 4900 block of Woodcreek Drive and took him into custody without incident.

The Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) School Board has a new board president, but two no votes were cast in the process.

Michelle Fullhart was elected board president – with Sylvia Shepler and Brad Boyer voting no. Fullhart, Julie Chambers, Janet Pritchett and Clint Wilson voted yes. Board member Amanda Shera did not attend Wednesday's board meeting due to a family emergency, Shepler said before the vote. Based on this vote, Fullhart will serve as board president for the remainder of 2019.

Two Sheriff's deputies earn Life Saver Awards

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Sheriff's Deputies Jon Carder and Ryan McClain were recently presented the Sheriff's Office Life Saver Award for actions taken in the line of duty that resulted in the preservation of human life.

On April 28, Deputy Carder responded to the report of an overdose. Upon arrival, the patient was unconscious with abnormal breathing. Carder then administered Narcan from his medical supply kit dose on May 5 and found an unresponsive female in the kitchen of the residence. The subject was cold to the touch, lacked a pulse and was not breathing. McClain performed CPR until assistance arrived and, after receiving a dose of Narcan, the victim began breathing. She was taken to a local hospital for recovery.

All patrol deputies are trained annually in CPR and first aid and also carry Narcan for just such emergencies.

Ginger Davis receives award from state water resources association

The REPORTER

Ginger Davis, a Conservation Administrator with the Hamilton County Soil and Water Conservation District, recently received the Wilber-Zogorski Leadership Award from Indiana Water Resources Association (IWRA) at the 40th annual Spring Symposium. This year's symposium was focused on Water and Health: Exploring Healthy Water for Human, Animal and Environment.

This award is presented to presidents of IWRA who provide exemplary service and leadership to the organization.

IWRA was founded in 1979 as a state affiliate of the American Water Resources Association to promote water resources research, education and communication in Indiana. IWRA is an organization of several hundred professionals and students working in all aspects of water resources. Its members include scientists, engineers, regulators, educators, policymakers and students from government agencies, universities, industry, consulting firms and other water-related groups.

From the symposium, many new and existing partnerships were strengthened and additional resources are being brought to Hamilton County.

This is not something a typical Soil and Water Conservation District staff member would be part of, but as a premiere county, Hamilton County has quality personnel that affords these sorts of opportunities.

Nickel Plate was key to development . . . Port Authority to consider bid on railroad removal

The Hoosier Heritage Port Authority will meet Monday to consider the bid received for removing rails and ties on the Nickel Plate between Noblesville and downtown Indianapolis. The port authority is owner of the railroad between Indianapolis and Tipton.

The amount of the bid has not been revealed, but County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt did indicate that after paying for the removal, the amount of money received from the salvage of steel rails and wooden ties would exceed the removal cost leaving a net "surplus" for the port authority.

The city of Fishers is known to be anxious to get to work on building a hiking and bike trail on the Nickel Plate right-of-way between 146th Street and 96th Street. Noblesville has not announced a date to begin work on the trail north of 146th. And, Indianapolis, while showing interest in the trail, has not announced a timetable for the work. Overall, the intent is to have a trail similar to the popular Monon Greenway for about 20 miles from Noblesville to Indy.

Meanwhile, the railroad from Noblesville north to Atlanta is being used for excursion trains with operators claiming success in promoting it as a tourist attraction.

The history of the Nickel Plate as well as the Monon is one of those almost forgotten chapters in the development of the communities they served. In the 19th century before railroads, the towns of Noblesville, Cicero, Carmel and Westfield were tiny isolated farm communities.

“I am delighted by my team’s success in the Girls Go CyberStart competition,” said Noblesville High School advisor Lisa Heid. “The young ladies had a blast working together using research, trial-and-error and creativity to solve the hands-on, engaging challenges. It was an awesome experience.”

With 656 young women in grades 9 through 12 competing this year – an increase of more than 250 from the previous year – Indiana ranked sixth among the 27 states competing this year. Last year, only 16 states competed. The program also expanded this year to include college-aged students. Both competitions included cash awards for the top three teams in each state.

Just 11 percent of cybersecurity professionals working today are women, highlighting a serious gap in workforce development. Girls Go CyberStart seeks to spark that interest with the knowledge and excitement the field can offer them.

“I am extremely proud of our students and what they were able to accomplish,” said Whoosh Force advisor Pete Morey. “Girls Go CyberStart is a great opportunity for our students to push themselves and compete to build on what they are learning in the classroom.”

Since 2010, cyber jobs have increased by more than 75 percent, outpacing the talent pool and resulting in more than 1 million unfilled cyber positions nationwide. In Indiana, an estimated 2,300 jobs are unfilled, according to the Cyberseek jobs tool.

ground, I would strongly urge my fellow board members to wait to make this decision until all board members can be present,” Shepler said at the start of the board meeting.

Then, the newest board member, Clint Wilson, said he appreciated Shepler’s comments, but wants a full slate of officers, so Wilson nominated Fullhart as president, and the 4-2 vote approving her as president followed.

Janet Pritchett will serve as board secretary, as part of that 4-2 vote.

Shepler was vice president when board President Mike Bottorff resigned in late May. She has served as acting board president since Bottorff’s resignation up until Wednesday night’s vote, which gave Fullhart with the president’s gavel.

With the building of the Nickel Plate, and later the Monon, came the ability to bring merchandise and supplies into the towns, and ship farm and factory products out to a wide market. Small industries developed along the railroad and the population grew.

Small towns such as Clarksville, Strawtown or Deming with no railroad did not grow and develop. Fishers was actually established in 1872 because of the railroad when an enterprising Salathiel Fisher provided land for a rail station and platted lots for a town around the intersection of the Nickel Plate and 116th Street.

So, despite the decline of the railroads, it would be fair to say Hamilton County would not look as it does today without the Nickel Plate and the Monon.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. # The Belfry teaches tolerance, one duck at a time

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

Honk! Jr.: The Musical, a play with a message of tolerance and lessons about bullying, hits the stage at The Belfry theater, 10690 Greenfield Ave., Noblesville, starting at 8 p.m. tonight.

Honk! Jr. is a musical adaptation of the Hans Christian Andersen story “The Ugly Duckling,” incorporating a message of tolerance. The book and lyrics are by Anthony Drewe and music is by George Stiles. The musical is set in the countryside and features Ugly, a cygnet that is mistaken as an ugly duckling upon falling into his mother’s nest and is rejected by everyone but Ida, a sly tomcat who only befriends him out of hunger, and several other barnyard characters.

Producer Bob Hammett told The Reporter this play has been in production for over two months.

“We have 20 cast members ages 5 to 13,” Hammett said. “We also have eight or 10 student crew members including a student producer and student director. They are older kids ages 13 to 19.”

Turning a group of young actors with various levels of experience has been a challenge. The credit, according to Hammett, goes entirely to the three directors.

“It is a gift of the main director, the music director and the dance director,” Hammett said. “When the [young actors] came in, they generally acted their ages. Over the last few months the directors have molded them into a nice team of actors and dancers and singers. They have instilled confidence in them, letting them know that they can do it whether they think they can or not. The directors have showed them how to get to that level of confidence, which is really what the show is about. In the show, Ugly has to have confidence in himself even though every else around him doesn’t and they think he’s different. It’s the same process, believe it or not.”

Hammett got involved with the Belfry Theater last year and brings a great deal of experience to the table for this community theater.

“I went to the children’s musical, Camp Rock, last year,” Hammett said. “I’ve been involved with church theater for the last 30 years, but that was my first time going to community theater. I went in and introduced myself and have been involved in every play – except one – since then. I’ve acted, ran sound, assistant directed, built staging and worked stage crew.”

This time he is producing and mentoring several of the young people to learn how to design and run sound in a theater.

The production runs over the next two weekends, July 26-28 and Aug. 2-4. Tickets and showtimes are available at TheBelfryTheatre.com.

The show is performed in two acts with a 20-minute intermission.

“You can go out and get concessions during intermission,” Hammett said. “We are having a fundraiser where you can buy a duck and on the bottom of the duck is a winning number. Every duck is a winner. We are raising money for the theater. All the money from the concessions go to our scholarship fund. We give a scholarship to one of our apprentice players every year.”

Reservations are recommended for all performances. Walk-ins are welcome but will be placed on a waiting list for sold out performances. Whether a season ticket holder or not, it is always advisable to make reservations early to avoid being disappointed.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. ## Second year at Grand Park Colts Training Camp begins

The Indianapolis Colts are back at Grand Park, opening their training camp Thursday for the second year in a row at the Westfield facility.

The first practice of camp was spirited – “a lot of energy as you would expect,” said Colts coach Frank Reich. The second-year coach was happy with the experience of his players, saying that the team has “got a bunch of mature guys” on its roster.

Fans watching Thursday’s first session saw a team working at a high speed, a style for which Reich makes no apologies. It’s preparation for what the Colts will see on Sundays in a few weeks, with the coach saying “we do it out here so that Sunday is nothing new.”

“We got to practice at game speed, we got to think at game speed,” said Reich. “We got to adjust at game speed. We got to try to make it hard on each other out there.”

Quarterback Andrew Luck saw limited action during the first day, as the Colts played it cautious with Luck as he is recovering from a calf injury.

“We’ll just keep progressing,” said Reich. “Tomorrow will be a little bit more and then we’ll re-evaluate. We’re just going to re-evaluate after each day.”

Thursday was the first of four straight days of practices before an off day on Monday. All practices start at 2 p.m., with today’s practice finishing at 4 p.m. Saturday’s practice ends at 3:40 p.m., with Sunday’s practice finishing at 4:15 p.m.

Meanwhile, Colts City is up and running a short walk from where the team is practicing. There are several points of interest at Colts City, including the “Play60” field where young athletes can try out some of the same drills as the pros.

Winning by 10 strokes Brittany Kelly dominates Indiana Women's PGA Open

Brittany Kelly ran away with the Indiana PGA Women’s Open, which finished up Thursday at the Purdue University Ackerman-Allen Course.

Kelly, a Hamilton Southeastern and Ball State University graduate who is now the assistant professional at Carmel’s Woodland Country Club, finished the tournament 10 under par, with a two-day score of 134, winning the tournament by 10 strokes. Kelly went six under for Thursday’s second round, including six birdies and an eagle. She made the eagle on hole No. 14, then birdied the next three holes.

Jocelyn Bruch, an incoming senior at Westfield and defending IHSAA individual champion, finished fourth with a 147. Bruch had two birdies in her second round and five total for the tournament.

Cailyn Henderson, a Westfield graduate and sophomore-to-be at the University of Indianapolis, rose to seventh with a solid second round of 68, four under par. Henderson made four birdies and had no bogeys in her second round. Henderson’s two-day score was 150, she had five total birdies.

Carmel’s Christina Pfefferkorn, an incoming sophomore at Guerin Catholic, tied for 10th with a score of 153. Pfefferkorn had four birdies in her second round (all on the back nine) and five for the tournament.
