Most booked speaker in America comes back to Hamilton County for free event . . . Sheridan CrossRoads welcomes Nathan Harmon

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

Nathan Harmon is the most-booked speaker in the nation and he is coming back to Sheridan this week. Harmon tours the country talking to young people, from his own experiences, about inspiration, bullying, character, attitude, choices and decisions.

At 7 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 2, CrossRoads Student Center, 305 S. Main St., Sheridan, will play host to a free event that was initially started by one of the kids who enjoys the center.

Pastor Chris Brooks from CrossRoads told The Reporter he is both humbled and bit nervous about playing host to a speaker of Harmon's caliber twice in two years.

"Last year one of our students reached out to him and said, 'Would you come speak at our youth group?'" Brooks said. "She told me she did that and I thought,

'It's never going to happen.' Then next thing I know he said he'd come for free to talk to our little group. He often talks to thousands at a time."

Harmon agreed and came to Sheridan for a one-night appearance last July.

Earlier this summer, Brooks and several of his students were attending a Christian music festival called Kingdom Come in Kokomo and they saw Harmon at the event.

"I was surprised to see him there," Brooks said. "I told him, 'I still use your example to explain to people how good things can come out of bad things,' and he thanked me for that. A few minutes after we had spoken, he came back to ask me if he could come to Sheridan again."

On Friday, Harmon will be at CrossRoads for a free event that is open to the public.

"He's just all about helping kids find the better road," Brooks told The Reporter. "Seeing how much excitement everyone had after we announced he was coming here – there's just something about him. God has just given this guy an incredible gift. Kids hang on every word he says."

That focus on living a better life in the face of difficulty is also the focus at CrossRoads. Brooks said the mission of his center is to help local kids, especially those with a higher risk for drug use.

"A lot of the kids that come to us are from severely broken homes, which reaffirmed that this is exactly what God wanted us to do," Brooks told The Reporter. "I have at least four kids where one or both parents are in prison right now. Once I said, 'raise your hand if you know somebody who does drugs,' and every hand in the building went up. The

Thousands celebrate new Noblesville school year

Federal Hill Commons was full of thousands of community members Friday night celebrating the start of the school year for Noblesville Schools and the kickoff to the district's 150th anniversary celebration. There were almost 100 school and community booths, including art, athletics, music, food trucks, photo booths, games and giveaways. The state championship Marching Millers performed for the crowd, students had the opportunity to meet a safety dog, and Conner Prairie interpreters showed visitors what school used to be like in years past. For more information on the district's anniversary celebration, visit noblesvilleschools.org/150. ## Is financing education costs by referendum a good idea?

Are we headed toward financing education by referendum? Probably not yet, but there is a trend toward raising funds for school expenses by going to the voters to approve large amounts of money for such things as construction projects, teacher salary increases, school security and mental health services.

State law allows school districts to ask their voters to approve millions of dollars for a period of seven years with no limit set on amounts requested or specific reasons as long as the money goes to education-related services. At least a half-dozen times in recent years most Hamilton County schools have raised "new money" in this way.

COLUMNIST
FRED SWIFT

There is no doubt that some funds are needed, and school officials would say all the money is needed. But, it seems almost too frequent and too easy, parents with school-age children and school personnel are usually made aware of a referendum and often encouraged to vote. This usually brings an affirmative outcome.

The general public believes we now have a strict limit on property taxes. But, those tax levies that come about by referendum are not subject to the controls. One increase or even two brought about by referendum are not going to be a huge burden. But, if this becomes a frequent practice, it will become a problem

While talking to Priscilla Owens who was in the passenger seat, Nathan wasn’t paying attention to the road and crashed into a tree. Priscilla lost her life the next morning. Nathan was sent to jail afterwards and was incarcerated for three years and nine months.”

especially for folks on fixed incomes, who are among the people controls were designed to protect.

Carmel Clay Schools are planning a referendum in November which will raise about $5 million. The major part of the money will go to school security. No one will be opposed to security, but specifically what security measures are planned?

It’s not just Carmel and it’s not security in every case. It’s a question of whether the referendum is the way to answer every need.

The public needs to be aware of specifics whenever the next referendum is sought, and, in the not too distant future, decide whether financing education costs by referendum is a good idea.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. – Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks

Access to the Municipal Complex from Lantern Road is available at North Street. The road is expected to open again on Friday, Aug. 2.

136th Street & Cynthianne Road

The intersection of 136th Street and Cynthianne Road is closed for approximately 45 days for the construction of a new roundabout at this intersection. Detour signs are in place to direct drivers around the closures. At this time, the roundabout is scheduled to open to traffic before school starts on Wednesday, Aug. 7. For more information on this project, view the Fact Sheet.

106th Street & Mollenkopf Road

Allisonville Road

Southbound and northbound traffic on Allisonville Road has moved onto the newly constructed pavement as part of Phase 3 of the project. The posted speed limit remains 30 mph. At this time, the section of road between 126th and 131st streets is anticipated to be open to four lanes of traffic by the end of the August, and the section between River Glen Drive and 126th Street is anticipated to be open prior to the start of the school year.

Parkside Drive

Parkside Drive in Fishers Marketplace has lane restrictions in place while work is being done for a new drive entrance. The lanes will be narrow, so please drive with caution. Flaggers will be in place when necessary to help direct traffic.

Road resurfacing

Road resurfacing is finishing up around Fishers. Neighborhoods including Timber Springs, Hamil-

Carmel's Joest graduates from U.S. Merchant Marine Academy

The REPORTER

Brandon Henry Joest of Carmel recently graduated from the United States Merchant Marine Academy (USMMA) at Kings Point, N.Y. Joest earned a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission in the U.S. armed forces. He also earned a Merchant Marine officer license, qualifying him to serve as an officer on any ship in the U.S. flag merchant marine.

The United States Merchant Marine Academy is a federal service academy that educates and graduates licensed Merchant Marine officers. In addition to the rigorous academic and physical requirements for admission, applicants must be nominated by their Congressman or Senator.

All USMMA graduates earn both a B.S. degree and a merchant marine license and incur an obligation to serve the United States. The U.S. Flag Merchant Marine – manned by U.S. merchant mariners – is essential for securing the country's commerce in peacetime and delivering warfighters, weapons and military supplies in times of conflict. The majority of "Kings Pointers" will serve as Navy reservists in the Strategic Sealift Officer Program while working aboard U.S. flag vessels; others will serve on active duty in the nations' armed forces. Due to their elite training and real-world experience, graduates are ready to go on Day 1 in service of American military strength and economic power.

As part of his four-year education, Joest spent one year training as a cadet aboard ocean-going vessels.

Last year marked the 75th anniversary of the dedication of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. Dedicated in 1943 during World War II, USMMA has served the nation in both peace and war. As the first federal academy to admit women, USMMA also celebrated the 40th anniversary of the first women to graduate from any federal service academy. Learn more at WeAreTheUSMMA.com.

The Academy welcomed a top White House official as the graduation speaker. Dr. Peter Navarro, the Assistant to the President and Director of Trade and Manufacturing Policy told the graduates, "[M]aritime capability is important to America's ability both to defend our homeland and project power abroad. Through your hard work and dedication you have prepared yourselves to enter the ranks of a noble profession that is as ancient as the beginning of recorded history but is important and more modern than ever. We are especially proud that you have chosen a career in service to this great nation...helping to support the American military supply chain and the US economy... MARITIME is our national heritage."

Reps. Brooks, Wasserman Schultz introduce EARLY Act to reauthorize breast cancer awareness funding

The REPORTER

This week, Congresswomen Susan W. Brooks (R-Ind.-05) and Debbie Wasserman Schultz (D-Fla.-23) introduced legislation (H.R. 4078) to reauthorize and increase funding for the Breast Cancer Education and Awareness Requires Learning Young Act (EARLY) Act.

The earlier that cancer cases are identified, the better the chances are of surviving and overcoming this devastating health challenge. The key to early detection and treatment lies in education, advocacy and research. In 2019 alone, a total of 331,530 new cases of breast cancer, both invasive and non-invasive, are expected to be diagnosed in American women of all ages.<sup>1</sup> For young women and women of certain ethnic and racial populations, too often the breast cancer is a more aggressive form and is caught later than it should.

The EARLY Act, which became law in 2010, empowers young and high risk women to understand their bodies and advocate for their health.

"One in eight women in the United States will be diagnosed with breast cancer over their lifetime and 5,820 Hoosier women are expected to be diagnosed with this devastating disease in 2019," said Brooks. "It is important to reauthorize the EARLY Act because it shines a necessary spotlight on the threats posed by breast cancer to young women. I'm proud to lead this bill with my friend and cancer survivor Congresswoman Wasserman Schultz because it seeks to educate health care professionals and the public about the importance of young women's breast health and supports research that will help end breast cancer once and for all."

"Reauthorizing the EARLY Act means that we will continue the vital work of educating young and higher risk women about their breast health and direct their attention to this deadly disease. We must continue supporting initiatives that help identify high-risk women, collect family histories and educate doctors," said Wasserman Schultz, who was diagnosed with breast cancer and the BRCA2 gene mutation at age 41, and after seven surgeries is now more than a decade cancer-free. "Congresswoman Brooks and I are committed to helping high risk and young women acquire the knowledge and resources they need to not just survive, but thrive."

This legislation continues access to the health information and resources that are critical throughout a woman's life. So far, the EARLY Act has created a crucial education and outreach campaign administered by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) that highlights breast cancer risks facing young women and certain women at higher risk due to their ethnic or racial background, while empowering them with the tools they need to fight this disease.

"When I was diagnosed with breast cancer at a young age, I was familiar with how my breasts normally felt, so I knew when something felt different and knew I needed to go to the doctor when I felt an unusual lump," Wasserman Schultz continued. "This bill provides younger women with those tools to ensure better understanding of their breast health."

The funds and focus provided by the EARLY Act so far have been crucial to helping the CDC identify gaps in education and awareness among young women and health care providers about breast health, support young survivors through grants to organizations focused on helping them cope with the many unique challenges they face as young women and in implementing a targeted media campaign to reach young and higher risk women.

The EARLY Act is supported by the American College of Radiology, Breast Friends, Bright Pink, FORCE: Facing Our Risk of Cancer Empowered, Living Beyond Breast Cancer, Moffitt Cancer Center, National Black Nurses Association, National Consortium of Breast Centers, National Hispanic Medical Association, Oncology Nursing Society, Prevent Cancer Foundation, Sharsheret, Susan G. Komen, and Tigerlily Foundation.

Indiana's Congressional delegation honors Indiana Rangers on 50th anniversary of return from Vietnam

The REPORTER

On July 23, Senators Mike Braun and Todd Young, and Representatives Pete Visclosky (Ind.-01), Jackie Walorski (Ind.-02), Jim Banks (Ind.-03), Jim Baird (Ind.-04), Susan Brooks (Ind.-05), Greg Pence (Ind.-06), André Carson (Ind.-07), Larry Bucshon (Ind.-08) and Trey Hollingsworth (Ind.-09) introduced legislation honoring the 50th anniversary of the return of the Indiana Rangers.

"The Indiana Rangers valiantly fought in the Vietnam War with grit and honor protecting our state and country, and we honor their sacrifice on the 50th anniversary of their return," said Braun.

"Fifty years ago, our brave Indiana Rangers returned home from Vietnam," said Young. "I'm proud to join the Indiana delegation in honoring these Hoosier heroes who served our nation, as well as those who made the ultimate sacrifice and did not return."

"The Indiana Rangers are the only National Guard Infantry unit to serve in Vietnam as a unit and are the most decorated company during a one-year period; they fought with exceptional courage to defend our freedom," said Baird. "On behalf of all Hoosiers, I am proud and honored to see Congress recognize their bravery and valor against a hostile enemy."

"It is an honor to recognize the 50th anniversary of the return of the Indiana Rangers. The Indiana Rangers fought with bravery and honor in the Vietnam War to protect our great nation, and we must continue to recognize their service and sacrifices," said Bucshon.

"I want to thank Sen. Braun and Rep. Baird for taking the initiative to introduce this important legislation in the 116th Congress. I am proud to stand with my fellow Indiana colleagues in supporting this legislation and honoring our brave and selfless Indiana Rangers," said Visclosky.

"Fifty years ago today, some of Indiana's finest sons, the Indiana Rangers, returned home from Vietnam. Their valor, grit and patriotism have come to define what it means to be a Hoosier. May we all strive to live up to their example," said Banks.

"Our nation's Vietnam War veterans did not receive the thanks and recognition they deserved," Brooks. "Today, I'm proud to honor our brave Indiana Rangers on the 50th anniversary of their return home from the Vietnam War for their courageous service to our great state and country."

"As we mark the 50th anniversary of their return home from Vietnam, I'm honored to recognize the valiant service and sacrifice of the Indiana Rangers," said Pence. "I'm proud to stand with the entire Indiana delegation to highlight the courage and bravery of our fellow Hoosiers."

"Hoosiers are grateful to our brave service members, past and present, who answered our nation's call to serve," Walorski said. "As we mark 50 years since the Indiana Rangers returned home from Vietnam, we honor the sacrifice of these courageous Hoosiers and all who have put their lives on the line to defend our freedom."

"The Indiana Rangers' bravery and courage are testaments to what all Americans have come to expect from Hoosiers: A dedication to country, a commitment to public service, and a willingness to sacrifice for our nation's strength and prosperity. I'm pleased to introduce this resolution honoring them alongside my Indiana delegation colleagues in the Senate and the House," said Carson.

What was the first newspaper in Indiana?

The REPORTER

This coming week in Indiana's history ...

1804 – In Vincennes, Elihu Stout published the Indiana Gazette, the first newspaper in the Indiana Territory. It lasted until 1806, when the publishing house burned to the ground. Stout later established the Western Sun, now called the Vincennes-Sun Commercial.

1869 – Booth Tarkington was born in Indianapolis. He attended Shortridge High School, Purdue University and Princeton University, where his interest in theater led to a successful writing career. He wrote for Broadway and won two Pulitzer Prizes (for the novels The Magnificent Ambersons and Alice Adams.) Active in politics, he served one term in the Indiana House of Representatives.

1919 – The big news in sports was that Arthur Nehf, star left-handed pitcher for the Boston Nationals, had been recruited by the New York Giants (now in San Francisco). Nehf was born in Terre Haute and attended Rose Polytechnic Institute. His pro baseball career also included the Boston Braves, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs. The varsity baseball field at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology is named in his honor.

1945 – The USS Indianapolis was torpedoed by a Japanese submarine. Of the 1,196 men aboard, approximately 300 went down with the ship. Those remaining were plunged into shark-infested waters. By the time they were rescued four days later, only 316 were alive.

1970 – Movie actress Frances Farmer died in Indianapolis at the age of 56. Her beauty and talent won her a contract with Paramount Pictures in the 1940s. In her later years, she moved to Indianapolis where she hosted a popular afternoon television show on WFBM. She presented feature films and often provided first-hand knowledge about their production.

1998 – A Ford F-250 pickup truck carrying a homemade bomb crashed into the east entrance of the Tippecanoe County Courthouse in Lafayette. The truck caught fire, but the explosive did not detonate. The cost of repairs to the building amounted to over $200,000. The driver escaped and the case remains unsolved.

Karen Patricia Volpe (Coyne)
August 24, 1960 – July 26, 2019

Karen Patricia Volpe (Coyne) went peacefully to be with the Lord on July 26, 2019, after fighting a 17-year battle with leukemia and other cancers. She was born in Akron, Ohio, on August 24, 1960, to Thomas J. Coyne and Patricia A. Bird. Karen was a devoted wife, mother, daughter, sister, friend, neighbor and community member who lived her life teaching and mentoring others.

Karen was a proud graduate of St. Vincent-St. Mary High School (Akron, Ohio) and The Ohio State University. She was a loyal member of the Alpha Phi Sorority. Karen was a member of the Awaken Women's Group of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Catholic Church.

Her early career consisted of management positions in the hospitality industry. She then went on to launch Karen's Kurtains in three cities where she impacted not only her clients' homes, but their lives. More recently, she started Karen's Memory Blankets where she created blankets out of cherished memorabilia for clients across the U.S. She also launched a series of inspirational greeting cards, Anthems for Life (AnthemsForLife.com).

Karen and her husband, Mark, were actively involved in the launch of St. Louis de Monfort Catholic School in Fishers and St. Theodore Guerin High School in Noblesville. She was the founder of the Mardi de Monfort Annual Fundraiser, as well as an integral organizer and contributor to the Guerin Gala. Her philanthropic efforts also included Team-In-Training with the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, where she was a Celebrating Life Award recipient (2003).

Through her spirit and charisma, people were drawn to Karen's magnetic personality just as much as she was drawn to them. Her path was one of gratitude and selflessness. She was devoted to giving back and paying it forward. She served as the inspiration for the inception of The Fairhaven Foundation, which provides housing for seriously ill patients and their families. Karen and her family were fierce advocates for the Indiana Blood Center, sincerely appreciative for all blood product donors. As an inspirational speaker, she joyfully shared her message of faith and courage with audiences across the country (karencoynevolpe.com).

A proud rule-breaker, avid traveler and adventure-seeker, she had a contagious zest for life. Karen was a fighter. Karen was brave and never gave up. Her spirit is with us and her message is that of forgiveness and moving forward.

Karen is survived by her husband of 30 years, Mark J. Volpe; children, William, Samantha and Mitchell Volpe; her parents; sister, Kathy Bergh; brothers, Kevin (Colleen) Coyne, Kenny (Anne) Coyne, Tommy (Diana) Coyne; father- and mother-in-law, John and Marilyn Volpe; and brothers-in-law, Paul (Tammy) Volpe and David (Paula) Volpe. Her stepfather, John L. Bird, as well as eight stepbrothers, four stepsisters and their families also survive her. Her many nieces and nephews will miss her and will forever remember their wonderful Aunt Karen's example of faith, love and perseverance.

The family will receive friends from 4 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, July 31, 2019 at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Catholic Church, 10655 Haverstick Road, Carmel. A Catholic mass will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, August 1, 2019 at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Catholic Church.

There will also be a Celebration of Life in the greater Akron area on August 24, 2019, what would have been Karen's 59th birthday. Details to follow.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judaea; and there he tarried with them, and baptized. And John also was baptizing in Aenon near to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. For John was not yet cast into prison. Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purifying. And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. He must increase, but I must decrease. He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony. He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true. For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him. The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

After beating Pittsburgh AlleyCats head to AUDL Championship Weekend

The Indianapolis AlleyCats and their fans celebrated after the AlleyCats won their American Ultimate Disc League playoff game over Pittsburgh 23-17 Saturday night at Westfield High School's Riverview Health Stadium. The victory qualified the AlleyCats for the AUDL's Championship Weekend Aug. 10 and 11 in San Jose, Calif.

By RICHIE HALL

WESTFIELD - At the end of their American Ultimate Disc League playoff game Saturday night, the Indianapolis AlleyCats were singing "Do You Know the Way to San José?"

The AlleyCats earned themselves a ticket to San José, the site of the AUDL's Championship Weekend with their 23-17 victory over the Pittsburgh Thunderbirds in the league's Midwest Division championship game. The AlleyCats scored their victory at Westfield High School's Riverview Health Stadium in front of hundreds of happy fans.

"Historic," said AlleyCats coach Eric Leonard. "There's no other way to put it, in my opinion. This is a great win for the franchise and one that's, in our minds, been a long time coming and we finally got over the hump. I'm ecstatic."

The game started out rough for the AlleyCats, as they trailed 2-0 early in the quarter, and were still down 4-2 with 4:49 left in the period. But things changed suddenly, as Indy scored three points in quick succession: Travis Carpenter sent a scoring pass to Rick Gross, then Jacob Fella tied the game by intercepting a pass for a score. Alex Henderson then caught a pass to put the AlleyCats up 5-4.

"They started off with a defense that we were not used to at all, and so we just had to make some adjustments really quickly," said Henderson. "And then once we made the adjustments, it was smooth sailing from there."

The Thunderbirds got a goal back to tie the game at 5-5, but Indy finished the quarter with two more points. Keegan North found Levi Jacobs for a goal, then Carpenter's catch put the AlleyCats up 7-5, and that's where the quarter ended.

The AlleyCats never trailed again. They scored back-to-back goals in the final three minutes of the second quarter to lead 13-10 at halftime, then dominated the third period, outscoring the Thunderbirds 5-2. That included two goals in the final 42 seconds of the quarter, with Jacobs finding Henderson and Nick Hutton throwing to David Hortemiller. The Cats now led 18-12, and sailed through the fourth quarter to victory.

"We just played with such energy the whole time, and Pittsburgh's a tough team," said Leonard.

At 19, Henderson is by far the youngest player that took to the field for the AlleyCats on Saturday. But he played beyond his years with four assists, three goals and two defensive plays (Ds). North led the scoring with five goals, while Jacobs had three. Carpenter had four assists to go with two goals and two Ds. Jacobs and Hutton both had three assists, and Ellison also had two Ds.

"We didn't get the block every time, but we were persistent throughout four quarters and that was our game plan, to grind them down over time and I think it worked."

The AlleyCats will play East Division champion New York on Saturday, Aug. 10 as one of the two semi-finals that day. The other semi-final will feature West Division champion San Diego and South Division champion Dallas. Winners play for the AUDL championship on Sunday, Aug. 11.
