Heights' Eric Fisher semifinalist for teaching prize

Skilled trades teachers compete for share of $1 million for their programs

The REPORTER

Two Indiana high school skilled trades teachers are among 50 teachers and teacher teams from across the country named as semifinalists for the 2019 Harbor Freight Tools for Schools Prize for Teaching Excellence. They and their high school skilled trades programs are in the running for a share of $1 million in total cash awards.

Eric Fisher, an industrial technology teacher at Hamilton Heights High School, Arcadia, and Chad Sutton, a construction and manufacturing teacher at Garrett High School, Garrett, were chosen by an independent panel of judges from among a field of 749 skilled trades teachers who applied for the prize. The semifinalists – some competing as individuals and some as teacher teams – hail from 26 states and specialize in trades including manufacturing, welding, construction, automotive and agriculture mechanics.

"We never cease to be amazed by the talent, creativity and resourcefulness of

Fisher

Fisher teaches industrial technology at Hamilton Heights High School, offering his students a program that aligns the ca-skilled trades educators," said Danny Corwin, executive director of Harbor Freight Tools for Schools. "This year's semifinalists teach more than a dozen trades and have spent a collective 800 years in the classroom – teaching our students critical skills that our country needs – and we couldn't be more excited to honor their work."

Rain on Main, Hot Blown Glass return to Carmel's Meet Me on Main

The REPORTER

Meet Me on Main returns Saturday, Aug. 10 in the Carmel Arts & Design District. It will include popular components of the Second Saturday Gallery Walks, including live music, face painting and caricatures, new exhibits and features in local art galleries and businesses staying open until 9 p.m.

Come out from 2 to 9 p.m. this Saturday as the community welcomes Lisa Pelo of Hot Blown Glass, Inc. who will lead participants in creating their own pulled-glass flower on 2nd Avenue NW and Main Street. To participate, you must register in advance. Registration is available on Eventbrite and walk-ups will be accommodated if available. Please search "August 2019 Glass Forming with Lisa Pelo" on Eventbrite.com to register.

The 2019 Rain on Main barrels will be on display along Main Street during Saturday's event. If you see one you like, go to facebook.com/RainOnMain and vote for the People's Choice Competition by "liking" the photo.

Meet Me on Main monthly drawing takes place once again. Each month, three $100 gift cards to businesses in the Arts & Design District will be given away. To enter, visit participating galleries and businesses to fill out an en-

Memories of the Knapp Shoe Man

Many people from Central Indiana and beyond are flocking to the Indiana State Fair this month, and for good reason. The sights, sounds, activities and smells are second to none.

The State Fair will always have a special meaning for me for a different reason, however. I'll forever remember it as the temporary home of the Knapp Shoe Man.

Mom and I would make the trip down from Mishawaka most every year to visit The Knapp Shoe Man at the exhibit hall. Knapp Shoes went out of business in 2007 but many people still remember them as the best "workingman's" shoes around. Industrial workers, firefighters, food service workers and outdoorsmen all swore by them. Knapp Brothers Footwear sells the shoes today.

People loved the Knapp Shoe Man because he was outgoing, funny and gave his customers great service. We loved him because he was my dad.

Dad probably made 25 to 30 percent of his yearly profits at the state fair, so he didn't miss one day of it. This was hard for me sometimes because he often wasn't home for my birthday, which is in August. But he always made sure to call me that day, which brightened my spirits.

New law helps teens in juvenile detention continue their education

By DAVID WILLIAMS

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Thanks to a new state law, it's now easier for teens locked up in juvenile detention to keep up on their education. Just because the heavy doors shut, learning doesn't stop inside the Hamilton County Juvenile Services Center.

"We really care for these children," Hamilton County Sheriff's Office explained Tuesday. "We want them to continue a productive life. I think education is a huge piece of that."

That is why, for the last 13 years, the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office has worked with Noblesville Schools to get locked up teens laptops and their classwork via email.

"It comes in daily," Hamilton County Juvenile Services Director Kija Ireland said. "The teachers can upload it as the kids complete tasks. Then they can continue to upload things, login and do their work."

"For 13 years, we've had a full-time teacher, a social worker, and a part-time assistant here on staff at the facility," Quakenbush said. "They're an employee of Noblesville Schools."

Under a new state law that took effect July 1, if a child's parent or the facility asks for it, a school corporation must send over materials for the grade level or courses the child would be enrolled in if he or she was not in juvenile detention.

Carmel Parks Department temporarily closes artesian well at Flowing Well Park

The REPORTER

Carmel Parks Department officials have announced the artesian well at Flowing Well Park, located on 116th Street just east of Gray Road, is currently closed. The closure will last a few days.

Routine testing indicated positive results for total coliform. The Parks Department reports it currently has a disinfection process in place.

As a reminder, the water from the well is untreated groundwater. Water quality can vary from day to day due to a variety of natural and other factors. The Parks Department recommends always boiling the water before use/consumption.

Flowing Well Park was established in 1983, and parkgoers have frequented it ever since. Most visitors bring their empty water jugs to fill up at the "Old Faithful" artesian well, which was discovered back in the 1800s. Others come to enjoy the mile-long trail that wraps through the woods and provides numerous educational spots to learn about nature. Cool Creek winds throughout the park and is a great area to fish or take the kids creek stomping.

Visitors come from all around the state to enjoy the wonders of Flowing Well Park.

Hamilton County Leadership Academy announces Class of 2020

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Leadership Academy (HCLA), now in its 29th year, has selected 39 individuals who live or work in Hamilton County to take part in its 10-month community leadership program. Founded in 1991, HCLA connects community leaders to issues, causes and opportunities that impact Hamilton County.

Each year, HCLA selects participants through a highly competitive application process. Class members are selected based on their community involvement, professional achievement, and their passion and desire to make an impact through leading and serving in Hamilton County.

"It's such an exciting time in Hamilton County's history. The success we have seen and the growth we have experienced has been driven by strong leaders and community champions who have developed a clear vision and worked collaboratively to achieve it," said HCLA Executive Director John Robbins. "We're not here to create leaders, but rather to amplify the impact of our existing leaders by helping them develop their knowledge of the county, connect with other leaders in the community and inspire them to lead and make an impact in their own backyard. HCLA helps to strengthen Hamilton County now and in the future."

Sam Mishelow will serve the incoming HCLA class as Curriculum Dean. Mishelow, the Chief Strategy Officer for Meyer Najem, is an HCLA graduate and former board member. The dean plays an important role

The 2019 semifinalists now advance to a second round of competition, where they will be asked to respond to online expert-led video learning modules designed to solicit their insights and creative ideas about teaching practices. The contenders will be asked how ideas from the modules might be used to inspire students to achieve excellence in the skilled trades. Two rounds of judging, each by separate independent panels of reviewers, will narrow the field to 18 finalists and, finally, name the three first-place and 15 second-place winners. Winners will be announced on Oct. 24.

The 18 winners will split $1 million in prizes. First-place winners will each receive $100,000, with $70,000 going to their public high school skilled trades program and $30,000 to the individual skilled trades teacher or teacher team behind the winning program. Second-place winners will each be awarded $50,000, with $35,000 going to their public high school program and $15,000 to the teacher or team. Past winners have dedicated their winnings to modernizing their shops, investing in specialized tools, promoting their programs to families and purchasing equipment to prepare students for higher-level accreditations. Semifinalists whose school, district or state policy prohibits receipt of the individual portion of prize earnings were eligible to apply on behalf of their school's skilled trades program. If they win, the entire prize will be awarded to the school.

The Harbor Freight Tools for Schools Prize for Teaching Excellence was started in 2017 by Eric Smidt, the founder of national tool retailer Harbor Freight Tools. The prize recognizes outstanding instruction in the skilled trades in U.S. public high schools and the teachers who inspire students to learn a trade that prepares them for life after graduation. Now, in the third year of the prize, more than 150 teachers have been recognized as winners or semifinalists. Winners are invited to attend an annual convening to share best practices for advancing excellence in skilled trades education.

"Skilled trades teachers help hundreds of thousands of students each year experience the satisfaction and sense of accomplishment that comes from learning a trade," Smidt said. "These teachers, their students and skilled tradespeople everywhere, too often don't receive the respect and gratitude they deserve. Without them, construction would halt, homes, cars and appliances would fall into disrepair, and our infrastructure would crumble. We are thrilled to be able to honor and elevate the importance of their work."

About Harbor Freight Tools for Schools
Harbor Freight Tools

for Schools is a program of The Smidt Foundation, established by Harbor Freight Tools Founder Eric Smidt, to advance excellent skilled trades education in public high schools across America. With a deep respect for the dignity of these fields and for the intelligence and creativity of people who work with their hands, Harbor Freight Tools for Schools aims to drive a greater understanding of and investment in skilled trades education, believing that access to quality skilled trades education gives high school students pathways to graduation, opportunity, good jobs and a workforce our country needs. I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. – Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

When I got older, my best friend and I would wander around the fairgrounds on our own but we'd often stop in to see how Dad was doing. He helped me discover gyros, my favorite food, by treating us to the delectable Greek creation one evening.

I'll be going to the fair this week with my niece Melissa and her family, who are visiting from North Carolina. Even though Mom now lives in Noblesville, it's too hard these days for her to join us at the fairgrounds. We're scheming to bring her back a part of the festivities, however — an elephant ear, one of her favorite treats.

I'm always flooded with happy memories whenever I go to the state fairgrounds, and I know this week will be the same. I'll imagine Dad standing there in his sensible brown work pants, off-white short-sleeved button down shirt, and wavy thinning hair (which he fiercely fought with the classic comb over.) I'll hear his voice, which always switched to "professional mode" as he chatted with the customers he knew and loved. I'll picture his tan, beefy hands with his gold wedding band and onyx ring as he filled out paperwork and receipts.

The Knapp Shoe man passed away over 25 years ago and has been missed by hundreds, if not thousands, of customers. I always think about him more this month than any other each year and usually wipe away a tear or two.

What I wouldn't give to pick up the phone and hear "Happy Birthday Amesworth" again in a couple weeks. However, I know I'll feel his spirit this week and smile knowingly as I wander the fairgrounds with Melissa and her little ones.

"They would deliver those materials once a week, so they wouldn't have to deliver it every day," said State Senator Mike Bohacek (R-Michiana Shores). "There would be sufficient time for the student to get the materials, complete them, and get them returned back to the teacher."

Sheriff Quakenbush said most juvenile detention centers statewide already have a program like this in place.

"The state statute now gives a little more teeth to the rule, if you will, in case there were ever any issues," Sheriff Quakenbush noted.

Sheriff Quakenbush and Ireland both said they hope teens who come through detention center classrooms see this law as a way out.

"In some cases, it is," Sheriff Quakenbush said. "Depending on the background of the child or what crime they committed, this could be very instrumental in them being successful in the future."

That success could spring from the pages of a textbook, or a laptop screen.

"I think they could see a lot of benefit in it once they realize we're on their side and we are there to support them," Ireland said.

The state law says the school district is responsible for paying for preparation and delivery of the school materials.

Feeding local children, giving them a fair shot

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Frist United Methodist Church, 2051 Monument St., Noblesville, will hold a child hunger awareness event from 4:30 to 5:45 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 22 at the church.

The event, titled “A Fair Shot for All Children: Feeding Children Creates Productive Citizens,” seeks to create urgency in order to better address child hunger in Indiana and deepen engagement of Hoosiers in solutions to child hunger. Every Hoosier child should be able to grow into productive citizens. However, hunger and food insecurity prevent this from becoming a reality.

According to a press release from Noblesville First United Methodist Church, Indiana ranks 42nd in infant mortality, one is six Hoosier children are food insecure, and food insecurity in rampant on college campuses.

Bread for the World – Indiana will sponsor the event, which will include the following guest speakers:

- Dr. Wade Clapp, Chair of Pediatrics, IU School of Medicine, on nutrition and infant mortality
- Mr. Andrew Hartley, Superintendent of Plymouth

Schools, on good nutrition and academic success

- Dr. Harriet Giles, Auburn University Hunger Solutions Institute on hunger on college campuses
- U.S. Senator Todd Young on the reality of a “Fair Shot for All Children” related to hunger issues

Carmel to unveil new roundabout art at 126th Street and Gray Road

The REPORTER

Join City of Carmel officials, Bub's Burgers & Ice Cream and Gymboree for a celebration of the new sculpture at the roundabout that pays homage to children and their games – just in time for the start of the new school year.

The celebration will take place at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 12 at the 126th Street and Gray Road roundabout.

This new sculpture is titled Stone Paper Scissors and is a bigger-than-life tribute to a favorite childhood game that has been used for ages by kids (and many adults) to settle arguments or simply have fun. This location was chosen, in part, due to its proximity to both an elementary and middle school located on 126th Street, ensuring consistent visibility by hundreds of kids every school day.

The sculpture, produced by the artist Kevin Box, will be situated in the middle of the roundabout, where it not only adds to the aesthetic value of the landscape, but also serves as a visual barrier to help keep the attention of motorists directed to the left as they enter the roundabout.

Stuckey Farm is putting its eight acres of sunflowers to another good use – fighting hunger.

Beginning Saturday, the sunflower fields at Stuckey Farm, 19975 Hamilton Boone Road, Sheridan, will be open to the public and 100 percent of the entrance fees will benefit the Society of St. Andrew in the fight against hunger.

The Society of St. Andrew collects food from farms and donates it to food agencies, thus providing the freshest food possible for those in need. From 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 10 and Saturday, Aug. 17, your entrance fee to Stuckey Farm will be a 100 percent donation to help fight hunger in Indiana. Stuckey Farm suggests a donation of $5 per person.

This is Stuckey Farm's

second year working with the Society of St. Andrew. Last year, the organization gleaned apples from the orchard, and this fall will be the same with the help of 200 FFA members.

For more information on the Society of St. Andrew and their work to end hunger, please visit endhunger.org. Check out stuckeyfarm.com and visit the Stuckey Farm Facebook page.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And many more believed because of his own word; And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world. Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee. For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

Pamela Jean Jansen

December 19, 1954 – July 28, 2019

Pamela Jean Jansen, 64, Eagletown, passed away Sunday evening, July 28, 2019 at Riverview Health in Noblesville. Born December 19, 1954 in Scottsburg, Ind., she was the daughter of the late Keith and Ava G. (Cremeens) Taflinger.

Pamela owned and operated a private cleaning service, retiring after more than 18 years in business. Pamela had quite the green thumb and enjoyed getting out in the garden and fussing over her flowers. She also had a passion for motorcycles.

Pamela loved spending time with her family and friends. She is survived by her daughter, LaShel Dawn Snyder, Eagletown; three grandchildren, Donald Keith Snyder, Dalton Lane Snyder and Ellie Stalanaker; two brothers, Archie Lee Taflinger and Michael Ray Taflinger (Liz); three sisters, Carla Jo Ziegler, Deborah Sue Comstock and Jackie Dibble (Kenneth); and by the love of her life, her significant other and soulmate, Donnie Ostrander.

She was preceded in death by her parents; and by her grandson, Alex Ekstedt.

A gathering of family and friends to celebrate Pamela's life is being planned for a later date.

Kercheval Funeral Home has been entrusted with the arrangements. You may send condolences at kerchevalfuneralhome.com.

Marcia Cripe Whitehead

December 11, 1929 – August 4, 2019

Marcia Cripe Whitehead, Carmel, died August 4, 2019. She was born December 11, 1929 in Elkhart, Ind. Marcia was married for 58 years to Dean Whitehead, who passed away in 2008.

A longtime member of Orchard Park Presbyterian Church, she enjoyed playing bridge weekly (and winning!), traveling, and the company of dear friends and loving family.

Marcia is survived by her children Cam Amos (Paul), Cicero, and Tom Whitehead (Cindy), Bloomington; grandchildren, Tyler (Sarah), Minneapolis, Minn., Spencer (Torin), Bloomington, and Hillary Whitehead, Indianapolis; and great-granddaughter Charlotte Whitehead.

In addition, she will be missed by her in-laws, Doris Speicher, South Bend, and Wayne and June Whitehead, Goshen, as well as many nieces and nephews.

A private family service will be held with a Celebration of Life at a later date.

Arrangements entrusted to Flanner Buchanan – Carmel. For online condolences and future announcement of the Celebration of Life, please visit flannerbuchanan.com.

NOBLESVILLE, CARMEL, WESTFIELD, SHERIDAN, HAMILTON HEIGHTS, FISHERS, UNIVERSITY, GUERIN CATHOLIC, HAMILTON SOUTHEASTERN

Top 10 rating on Indiana Runner, four back from last year's state team

Expectations are high for NHS girls cross country

The expectations are high for the Noblesville girls cross country team this season, but that's nothing new to the Millers.

Noblesville always seems to have a good team that is ready to challenge for a place in the IHSAA state finals, and this year's group is no exception. Indiana Runner, the highly-regarded cross country/track and field website, has the Millers ranked eighth in its list of pre-season top 50 teams.

Noblesville coach Dennis Scheele said his team is counting on a group of five returners to "propel the Millers back to the State Finals." They are seniors Anna Hazelrigg, Sophie Reichard and Madison King, and juniors Sophie Stahl and Bella Sharples-Gordon.

Richard, King, Sharples-Gordon and Stahl all ran in the state finals last year, leading Noblesville to a ninth-place finish. Hazelrigg and Sharples-Gordon also had excellent track and field seasons, running on the Millers' 4x800 team, which finished sixth at the state meet.

Scheele noted a couple freshmen, Paige Hazelrigg and Brooke Lahee, who the coach said "figure to make strong and quick contributions to the team." In addition, several athletes from last year's team are also ones to watch out for as they move up the roster.

The Millers will begin their season Wednesday, Aug. 21 at the Brown County Invitational, a meet they won last year. After that, Noblesville will settle in to a mostly Saturday schedule, with a couple of Tuesday exceptions: The Harrison 8 Way on Aug. 27 and the Hamilton County meet on Sept. 3. The Millers will travel to Brownsburg for the Hoosier Crossroads Conference meet on Sept. 28, then host the sectional on Oct. 12.

Noblesville roster

Seniors: Brynna Eaton, Emma Fetz, Margaret Fisher, Anna Hazelrigg, Grace Judy, Kaylah Keating, Isabelle Keller, Madison King, Tanujs Nair, Kelly Reagin, Sophie Reichard, Charis Siefert.

Juniors: Emma Blackburn, Chloe Click, Andrea Costa, Sarah DeMann, Natalie DeRolf, Mary Dombroski, Kiersten Freeman, Megan Hoffman, Callie Howell, Deirdre Leib, Abigail Line, Mya McGavic, Mary Molnar, Audrey Rinker, Lauren Sandys, Millikan Setmeyer, Bella Sharples-Gordon, Sophie Stahl.

Sophomores: Alaina Balciunas, Zoe Bruns, Alexis DeJong, Lauren DeRolf, Zoe Dinius, Brooke Dunn, Taylor Gossard, Sara Hacker, Abigail Helsloot, Madison Klinker, Amelia Moor, Ashley Newcome, Makenzie Pursch, Rowan Wolke.

Freshmen: Paige Hazelrigg, Zoe Heston, Brooke Lahee, Adalynne Robbins.

Huskies golf takes seventh at West Lafayette

The Hamilton Heights girls golf team finished seventh at the West Lafayette Invitational on Thursday.

The Huskies scored 192. Heights was led by Sydni Zebrauskas' round of 42. Ellie Arrowood carded a 51 while Rebekah Steffen added a 53. Alyx Harley and Kaylee Rhoton both scored 55s to round out the scoring.

Noblesville's Madison King is one of four athletes that run for the Millers at the state meet last year. Noblesville is rated eighth in the Indiana Runner pre-season rankings.

Mystics use dominant third quarter to beat Fever

WASHINGTON – Elena Delle Donne led five double-figure scorers Thursday night to lead the Washington Mystics past the Indiana Fever, 91-78 at the Entertainment and Sports Arena in the nation’s capital.

Delle Donne had 22 points on 9-of-13 shooting, and added a game-high eight rebounds, to pace the second-place Mystics (16-7) to their second straight win and their seventh in eight games. Indiana (8-16) snapped a two-game win streak while falling to Washington for the ninth consecutive time since 2016.

Emma Meesemen finished with 19 points for Washington and LaToya Sanders added 18. Aerial Powers scored 14 for Mystics and Natasha Cloud pitched in 13. Veteran point guard Kristi Toliver was scoreless but added a game-high 11 assists.

Kelsey Mitchell paced Fever scorers with 18 points off the bench, aided by 4-of-8 shooting from 3-point range. Candice Dupree shot 7-of-8 from the floor for Indiana to add 16 points. Natalie Achonwa and Shenise Johnson each contributed nine points.

Washington, the WNBA’s highest scoring team, took control with a dominant 29-15 third quarter, and led 73-

57 heading to the final period. Candice Dupree tied the contest at 44 with the first bucket of the second half, but from that point the Mystics reeled off 14 of the next 18 points and never looked back. Washington led by as many as 17 following a three-point play by Aerial Powers.

Indiana drew within 76-66 on a jumper from Dupree midway through the fourth, but never got back within single digits. Cloud hit her third 3-pointer with 5:07 remaining to stop a 7-0 spurt by the Fever and help the Mystics cruise to the finish.

The Mystics shot 60 percent in the third period with three 3-pointers – two from Cloud during the decisive run to break the game open. Overall, Washington shot 54 percent to mark only third time this season a team has shot over 50 percent against Indiana.

In addition to the Mystics’ hot shooting, Washington converted 16 Indiana turnovers into 25 points.

“They’re a seasoned team,” said Fever coach Pokey Chatman, talking about the Mystics. “They can punish you. You can’t give any team in this league that much cushion. And 25 points off 16 turnovers hurts you. You can’t beat good teams with that many mistakes.”

Indiana shot 48 percent, despite missing eight of its first nine shots while falling behind 15-2 to begin the game. The Mystics, meanwhile, shot 60 percent from the floor and got 10 points from Delle Donne while building a 25-16 lead after one quarter.

Washington controlled most of the first half, but the Fever sandwiched runs of 8-2 and 9-2 around a pair of buckets from LaToya Sanders to take their first lead of the contest at 40-38 with 2:44 left before halftime. The Mystics led 44-42 at intermission.

The Fever return to Indianapolis to host Atlanta for its annual Breast Health Awareness Game presented by St. Vincent at 3 p.m. on Saturday, with the entire game dedicated to breast health awareness, fundraising for a cure and celebration of breast cancer survivors. Tickets begin at $13. The first 2,000 fans will receive a gray-and-pink Breast Health Awareness Game t-shirt and the St. Vincent Mammography Unit will be on display as part of the Family Fun Zone presented by Peyton Manning Children’s Hospital at St. Vincent.
