Congrats to Hamilton County's 2019 GOP Woman of the Year

On Friday night at the Ritz Charles in Carmel, Sheryl Clifford was named this year's Hamilton County Republican Woman of the Year. She was very excited to pause for this shot for The Reporter's camera. This was the 38th Indiana Federation of Republican Women's annual Tribute to Women banquet. Company's coming!

COLUMNIST

JANET HART LEONARD
From the Heart

I believe the greatest motivational phrase ever spoken are two simple words ... company's coming!

It was Thursday night when Chuck arrived home from choir practice about 9:00. He walked into the screened-in porch and told me he had been talking to his son, Scott.

"Scott and Jesse will be here this weekend." Jesse is Chuck's grandson. They live in New York City.

I was absolutely thrilled they were coming for Chuck's birthday party on Sunday.

Then I went into panic mode. It's what I do when I find out people will be coming to our house.

Now understand, I love having people over to our house. I enjoy entertaining. I just tend to go over the top when doing so.

I enjoy sprucing up the house, planning meals and all the fun things about entertaining. I think I get that from my mother.

My mother would always have something sweet and delectable baked just in case we had unexpected company. People used to do that when I was a kid, especially on Sunday afternoons.

There would be a pot of coffee on the stove along with some sweets. You never came to my mother's home and not have something to eat. You never left hungry.

Friday afternoon I put the bed clothes, as my mother

Mr. Heirbrandt goes to Washington

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt joined other local elected officials from the Midwest last week in Washington, D.C. The group met with Vice President Mike Pence and other representatives of federal agencies through the offices of the National Association of Counties (NACo).

During the Regional State Leadership Forum, there were two key goals of the trip. First, to collaborate and network with federal, state and local experts. Second, discuss infrastructure, rural development, disaster recovery, resilience and energy development to understand where the most pressing challenges are. The efforts were geared toward streamlining efficiencies.

"I was able to talk through the lengthy and complicated federal funding application process. We need to bring more federal funding to Hamilton County, that can help assist the needs that we have ... specifically infrastructure," said Heirbrandt.

Heirbrandt and the group had the opportunity to tour the White House and meet with Vice President Pence. Heirbrandt was one of the few chosen to be interviewed on the White House lawn with local media.

Indiana schools can now access more mental health programs on behalf of students after Gov. Eric Holcomb signed legislation sponsored by State Rep. Tony Cook (R-Cicero) into law.

According to Cook, the law creates a process for schools to communicate with a student's guardian if teachers or administrators notice aberrant or abnormal behavior. With the guardians' consent, the school and family can develop a plan to help the child receive mental health services.

"This procedure models a natural referral process schools already use when communicating issues to parents," Cook said. "We want to make sure we are connecting these students to the right services in order for them to get the help they need and stay on track with

County to receive life-size replicas of nation's founding documents

The REPORTER

The Declaration of Independence, Bill of Rights and Constitution will be permanently installed in Hamilton County through a partnership with educational non-profit Foundation Forward. The Charters of Freedom will be installed at Federal Hill Commons in downtown Noblesville next month.

"We are excited to have life-sized replicas of the three documents instrumental to America's founding and philosophy prominently displayed in downtown Noblesville - to honor our history and teach future generations," said Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear. "Charters of Freedom will provide our community with another visually-striking, patriotic tribute in our downtown to complement the Hamilton County War Memorial on the square and

The Charters of Freedom display in Yancey County, N.C. military monuments at Riverside and Crownland cemeteries."

The Founding Documents will be dedicated at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 28 at Federal Hill Commons in Noblesville. The ceremony will be held prior to the free concert by Separate Ways, a Journey tribute band.

Hamilton County will be the 26th Charters of Freedom installation gifted by Foundation Forward to local communities across the country, and only the third to be illuminated. Foundation Forward was created by Vance and Mary Jo Patterson of Morganton, N.C. in 2013 following a visit to the National Archives in Washington, D.C.

"Seeing something our founding fathers had actually penned, and then their signatures - Thomas Jefferson, Jennifer McFarland, director of food and nutrition services, says the district switched to plastic for lunch-line efficiency and to cut the labor expense of cleaning and sorting cutlery. She says districts across the country made a similar switch, including adding disposable trays and cups, resulting in a lot of more garbage after lunch.

"Unfortunately in this generation growing up with tons of plastic, there's tons of waste as well," said Todd Crosby, principal at Clay Middle School.

A group of parents and district staff known as the Carmel Green Team proposed a change back to metal cutlery at the start of this school year.

"It's almost like we are going back [in] time but at the same time we're doing it smarter," said Crosby. "Part of this whole initiative is to educate our kids. It's fine to put silverware in a cafeteria, but [you must] explain why."

At Clay Middle School alone, last year kids threw out 150,000 individual forks and spoons. That was initially a $2,500 purchase, according to McFarland. She says the switch to silver to go green will save some green as well.

"We did not have to add any labor. It'll be a cost savings," she said, explaining that the students do the silverware sorting at the end of the meal, and the investment in metal cutlery is beneficial long-term.

"If they leave middle school with the concept of how to recycle and reuse, then hopefully they're expanding that out into the greater community of Carmel and to the State of Indiana and to the nation," said Crosby.

Noblesville Chamber, PHHC working on community health initiatives

The REPORTER

Bob DuBois, Noblesville Chamber of Commerce President and CEO, and Janet Gafkjen, Executive Director of Partnership for a Healthy Hamilton County (PHHC), have successfully completed the Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives (ACCE) national professional development program designed to boost innovative community health initiatives.

Professionals selected for ACCE's year-long Healthy Communities program participated in a design thinking lab in Alexandria, Va., which helped to develop and implement a plan to tackle a specific community health challenge. DuBois and Gafkjen chose to invest their time to help launch Workforce Employee Assistance Program and establish the Chamber Healthy Noblesville Alliance in partnership with PHHC Community Based Health Coalition initiatives. Curriculum was designed to help participants demonstrate the leadership role their chamber of commerce can play in strengthening quality of life and supporting equitable prosperity. Each participant worked with a local community partner throughout the program.

PHHC is confident that emphasizing health can transform communities. According to Gafkjen, "Building a culture of health means everyone should have a fair opportunity to be as healthy as possible, regardless of where we live or the circumstances we were born into. The choices we make depend on the opportunities we have - things like access to healthy foods, or education on health resources, or living in safe and affordable housing, or access to affordable healthcare services. Sheridan Rotary guest makes potable splash

Submitted

It was late last year when the Sheridan Water Utility was purchased by the Indiana American Water Company, a subsidiary of the larger American Water Company, the nation's largest investor-owned water and wastewater services company. At the Aug. 20 meeting, Sheridan Rotary's special guest was Ryan Smith, the Senior Operations Superintendent for Indiana American Water Company. Smith is in charge of the Sheridan water utility and as luck would have, he is also a Noblesville Rotarian.

Clean, potable water is a subject dear to the hearts of the world's Rotarians. Over the years, Rotary has spent millions of dollars drilling water wells in various third world locations so that people can have clean drinking water. Ryan told the group that Indiana American knows just how important water is to daily life. It's somehow involved in everything thing we do, everything we use. When you need it, you expect it to be there – and you expect it to be clean and safe. That's what Indiana American's skilled teams of experts care about most, and focus on every day. Smith emphasized that Indiana American's customers are its number one priority, and the company is proud to deliver clean, safe, reliable and affordable water and wastewater services.

Smith noted that in Indiana the company serves about 1.3 million people through multiple local water utilities, many of them in small communities like Sheridan. The company wants to ensure your water is of the highest quality by strictly following regulations that are set by local authorities as well as federal standards set by the United States Environmental Protection Agency. Water is an integral part of life, and Indiana American Water takes great pride in taking care of it. His talk also touched on the history of Indiana American and the processes that are involved in providing pure, clean water to their customers which now include Sheridan residents.

As coincidence would have it, the Sheridan Club's District 6560 Assistant Governor this year is Dave Carter who is retired from Indiana American and a good friend of Smith's. Ryan and Dave traded entertaining quips during the meeting regarding Indiana American Water and what a great organization it is to work for. Thanks, fellas, for being our special guests.

(From left) Two District 6560 proud Rotarians: Dave Carter who is recently retired from Indiana American Water and is the Sheridan Club's Assistant District 6560 Governor, and Ryan Smith who is the Senior Operations Supervisor for the company and in charge of the Sheridan water utility facility.

About Sheridan Rotary Club

The Sheridan Rotary Club meets formally on the first and third Tuesday evenings each month for a meal and a guest speaker or other interesting program. The meetings take place at 6:15 p.m. and are held in the Community Room of the Sheridan Public Library. If you are interested in learning more about Rotary in general and Sheridan Rotary in particular, please call Steve Martin at (765) 513-7457 or Fred Sturdevant at (317) 249-0606 and they will make arrangements for you to attend a meeting.

Raising awareness for hundreds of kids with Down syndrome

The REPORTER

GiGi's Playhouse Indianapolis, a local Down syndrome achievement center, will host its fifth annual 3.21 Mile Run on Saturday, Sept. 7 at Forest Park in Noblesville. The event supports the continued growth of GiGi's Indianapolis location and the 400 participants who have Down syndrome and families that benefit from its free therapeutic, educational, wellness and career programs.

This year's fundraising goal is $55,000, money that is vital to helping GiGi's achieve its mission.

"Down syndrome is not a disease and there is no cure," Executive Director Denisse Jensen says. "It's not going away. It's the largest chromosomal disability in our country and yet, it's the least funded. This run is critical in helping us expand our programs and help more children with Down syndrome no matter their skill level or their family's ability to pay."

The 3.21 Run is also designed to educate and inspire Central Indiana residents to embrace children and adults with Down syndrome – kids like 11-year-old Anna from Noblesville, who was born with a heart defect that has required three open heart surgeries.

Anna Skomp is a busy little girl. When she's not dancing, you'll find her playing soccer, cheering, and running track at Special Olympics. A fifth grader in Noblesville Schools, Anna is a social butterfly who loves going to school and being with her friends.

The Skomp family found GiGi's back when it was founded in 2015. Anna has benefitted from the Playhouse in many ways, but most recently through its bike riding classes.

"Anna loves GiGi's and so do I," Anna's mom Debbie beams. "GiGi's is such a great place to connect with other families and see that you're not alone. We've made some life-long friendships through GiGi's that have provided tremendous support and resources."

The 3.21 Run kicks off with open registration at 2 p.m., along with live music, a kids' carnival and a Silly Safaris show. The Kids Dash for Down syndrome starts promptly at 4 p.m., immediately followed with the 3.21 Mile Run and a 1 Mile Inspirational Walk.

To register a team, learn more about the event, volunteer or become a sponsor, click here. Registration is $20 up until July 1, $25 between July 1 and Aug. 1, and $35 after Aug. 1 through race day. Kids 12 and under can register for $15. All registered attendees will receive a shirt and medal.

About GiGi's Playhouse

Serving children and adults of all ages, GiGi's Playhouse Indianapolis provides educational and therapeutic programs at no charge to families in a format in which individuals with Down syndrome learn best. GiGi's will never let cost deter families from participation or impede the achievement of children and adults. In helping individuals with Down syndrome achieve their Best of All, GiGi's also advances the larger vision of global acceptance for people of all abilities. All programs aim to maximize self-confidence and empower individuals to achieve their greatest potential. GiGi's Playhouse Indianapolis is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt charitable organization. State Troopers finish strong at Connecticut SWAT challenge

The REPORTER

A cadre of Indiana State Police (ISP) Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Troopers recently returned from West Hartford, Conn., where they participated in the 15th annual three-day Connecticut SWAT Challenge (CSC), held Aug. 13 to 15. This was the fourth time ISP SWAT has represented Indiana in this particular competition, and overall one of their strongest performances yet, taking a fifth place overall finish out of 31 teams competing.

Designed and hosted by the West Hartford Police Department since its inception in 2005, the CSC is a grueling three-day event, where law enforcement and military SWAT teams from around the nation come together to participate in both team and individual head to head competitive events, tactical training seminars, and other activities designed to enhance the leadership and professional development of our tactical teams nationwide.

As noted on the CSC website, "The intrinsic value of SWAT Challenges can be measured on a variety of levels. Tactics, movement techniques, equipment trends, professional contacts, inter-agency familiarization, fitness levels and shooting proficiency are just a few of the areas that can be positively impacted by a SWAT Challenge."

The competitive events in these challenges are generally designed to replicate real world tactical situations, such as hostage rescues, tactical medical rescues, or high-risk warrant service scenarios. Teams apply their knowledge, experience, and physical abilities to accomplish each event's objectives safely and successfully in the fastest ranked times.

As explained by Sergeant Jim Stanley, ISP North SWAT Team Leader, "These SWAT Challenges can never truly recreate the real-world dangers or physical and emotional stresses that SWAT operators face on the job each and every day. What you can create is a highly competitive fast paced environment that most SWAT operators thrive well in, where the team success requires each member to perform with 110 percent effort or better. When bragging rights are on the table, the self-imposed physical and mental stress can often be just as taxing as real world stressors, because failure is never an option."

The Indiana State Police Special Operations Division has three full-time SWAT Teams that provide tactical support for all federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies in their respective geographical areas across Indiana (North, Central and South). ISP SWAT teams are always readily available and capable of assisting any requesting law enforcement agency with resolving situational emergencies or high-risk situations where a coordinated tactical team effort, or tactical assets are necessary. This year's ISP CSC Challenge team was comprised of nine SWAT Troopers, handpicked from these teams based on specific strengths and areas of expertise.

Who was the first woman to serve jury duty in Indiana?

The REPORTER

This week in Indiana's history ...

1871 – Theodore Dreiser was born in Terre Haute. He graduated from high school in Warsaw and attended Indiana University. As a journalist, he interviewed many notables of the era, including Andrew Carnegie and Thomas Edison. As a novelist, he wrote of the changing social order in America. He is best known for the best-sellers Sister Carrie and An American Tragedy.

1904 – Hoosiers by the thousands made their way to the St. Louis World's Fair for "Indiana Week." The Indianapolis News "Newsboy Band" led the local delegation onto the grounds, followed by Governor Winfield Durbin and other state officials. The Big Four Railroad ran eight trains a day to the event. A round-trip ticket was $9.

1920 – Mary Bostwick of Indianapolis became the first woman in Indiana to serve on jury duty. She was also a newspaper reporter who pursued adventure of all kinds. She took part in balloon races and flew with barnstorming pilots. With 500 winner Howdy Wilcox at the wheel, she was the first woman to ride around the track at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway (at 110 mph).

1939 – The Wizard of Oz premiered across the nation. Thousands of Hoosiers saw the movie for the first time at such theaters as Loew's in Indianapolis, the Tivoli in Richmond, the Sipe in Kokomo, the Rivoli in Muncie, and the Logan in Logansport. It played at the Colfax in South Bend, where Wyman's Department Store advertised an exact copy of Dorothy's dress for $1.98. The ad said, "You can look like a movie star yourself!"

1955 – Two people were killed and dozens injured in a terrific explosion and fire at the Standard Oil Refinery in Whiting. The blast, felt up to 100 miles away, set 40 acres on fire and destroyed 67 storage tanks. Tons of debris went into the air and hundreds of area homes were damaged. Train cars and railroad tracks melted in the fire that burned for eight days.

2009 – Space Shuttle Discovery lifted off from Cape Canaveral. Among the crew was pilot Kevin A. Ford from Montpelier, Ind. A graduate of Blackford High School in Hartford City and the University of Notre Dame, he served many roles at NASA, including that of commander of the International Space Station.

DNR holding two fly-fishing workshops in September

The REPORTER

The DNR is offering two chances for you to learn to fly fish with two September workshops, both led by DNR fisheries biologists.

The first event will be from 9 a.m. to noon on Sept. 7 at Fort Harrison State Park in Indianapolis. The second event will be from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sept. 27 at Salomon Farm Park in Fort Wayne.

Learn to Fly Fish workshops are designed to teach beginners the skills needed to fly fish on their own.

Participants will learn about fly-fishing tackle and fishing techniques. Attendees will then gain hands-on instruction and practice casting a fly rod. Finally, participants will use their newly acquired skills and knowledge to go fly fishing with provided equipment.

Participants must be 16 years old or older, and participants under age 18 must be accompanied by a registered and related adult. Participants age 18 and older must have a fishing license, which must be purchased in advance online at on.IN.gov/inhuntfish or a local retailer. A daily license is available for $9.

The workshops are free, but advance registration is required. Fort Harrison participants will be required to pay the state park gate fee of $7 per car for in-state vehicles, or $9 for out-of-state vehicles, or $2 for pedestrians and cyclists.

Registration for the Indianapolis event ends at midnight on Sept. 5. Registration for the Fort Wayne event ends at midnight on Sept. 25. To register, see the Indiana DNR education events page at wildlife.IN.gov/7548.htm, click on the desired event, and then click the red register icon in the upper right hand corner of the page.

Registration can also be completed by emailing the event coordinators: Corey DeBoom in Indianapolis, cdeboom@dnr.IN.gov, or Matthew Linn in Fort Wayne, mlinn@dnr.IN.gov.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone. And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, and entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them. And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew. So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid. But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

Colts quarterback Andrew Luck retires

WISH-TV staff reports

Calling it “the hardest decision of my life,” Colts quarterback Andrew Luck said Saturday night he is retiring as he continues to deal with an ankle injury.

He made the announcement in an impromptu, 25-minute news conference after the Colts lost a preseason game to the Chicago Bears 27-17 at Lucas Oil Stadium.

“I’m in pain, I’m still in pain,” Luck said. “It’s a myriad of issues — calf strain, posterior ankle impingement, high ankle sprain. Part of my journey going forward will be figuring out how to feel better.”

Team owner Jim Irsay said that “part of our heart is broken tonight.”

Adam Schefter of ESPN first reported the quarterback’s retirement in a Saturday night tweet during the game against Chicago where Luck was on the sidelines.

The 6-foot-4 quarterback from Stanford last practiced with the team July 28 at training camp in Westfield. The Colts already had said his lower leg injury probably would keep Luck out of the entire preseason.

Luck was initially diagnosed with a strained calf in March and did not participate in any of the team’s offseason workouts. When training camp opened, he was limited to individual drills and seven-on-seven but no full team drills. But when the pain persisted, Luck returned to rehab and was only permitted to run the starting offense in walkthroughs.

“I feel quite exhausted. ... I feel tired and not just in a physical sense,” Luck said Saturday.

He said he started having the conversation about retiring a couple of weeks ago when no progress was being made on his ankle injury.

Luck said he had planned to tell his teammates after the game about his decision, followed by a 3 p.m. Sunday news conference. The Colts locker room was closed to the media after the game.

The Colts selected the 29-year-old quarterback as the first overall pick in the first round of the 2012 NFL Draft. He scored 171 touchdowns in his career, according to the team’s website, and leaves the Colts with a 57-37 win-loss record, according to football databases.

The news spread quickly among fans at Lucas Oil Stadium. Luck said in the news conference he was hurt by the boo-

Indianapolis Colts quarterback Andrew Luck announced his retirement from football Saturday night. Luck, shown here during last month's Colts Training Camp at Grand Park, has suffered several injuries over the years and said it was a "myriad of issues" that led to his decision to retire.

ing fans as he walked off the field during the preseason game.

In a separate news conference after the preseason game, Colts General Manager Chris Ballard said, “For those people that booed tonight, it’s an emotional time and I understand that. ... This man had done a lot for Indianapolis and the Indianapolis Colts.”

In his support of the city, Luck hosted an NFL Play 60 event with Indianapolis Public School students, served as a co-spokesperson for the “COLT-STRONG, LIBRARYSTRONG” campaign for the Indianapolis Public Library and visited Riley Hospital for Children at IU Health to spread cheer during the holidays.

Coach Frank Reich said. “There’s a saying in football that everyone knows and everybody lives by, it’s next man up and even though this situation is unique, no one is exempt.”

Luck also noted in the news conference he’d been in pain and rehabilitation for four years.

In September 2015, he sprained his shoulder and sat out two games after a Week 3 game against the Tennessee Titans.

In November 2015, a couple of days after a win over the Denver Broncos, the Colts announced Luck had abdominal injuries that later were determined to be a lacerated kidney plus multiple muscle pulls. He didn’t return for the rest of the season.

In the 2016 season, Luck sat out one game in November due to a concussion.

In January 2017, Luck had shoulder surgery. He didn’t return to the field until Aug. 9, 2018, for a preseason game and Sept. 9 for a regular season game.

He played his last game for the Colts in the AFC Divisional Playoffs on Jan. 12. His last NFL game was the Pro Bowl on Jan. 27.

Luck said he has faith in the next quarterback who will lead the Colts to their first regular season game on Sept. 8 against the Los Angeles Chargers.

“Jacoby Brissett is an awesome dude ... bright and sharp,” Luck said. Last year, he said, he was “very jealous and resentful of this fun, happy dude who was in my spot. I could not have been more wrong (about Brissett). I cannot wait to support him and see him lead this team.”

Ballard said he’s excited to watch Brissett play.

“We’re not going to ask Jacoby Brissett to be Andrew Luck.”

Southeastern boys win showdown with Carmel

In an all-county boys soccer showdown, Hamilton Southeastern beat Carmel 3-0 in a Saturday afternoon game at the Royals’ field.

The Class 3A No. 5 Royals got their first goal when Kam Greenwald passed to Harsahil Gandham, who then got past two defenders. Gandham sent the ball to Isa Sayeed, who scored. Gandham later got his own goal off an assist by Parker Gopsill.

With that, Southeastern led 2-0 at halftime. Sam Kay scored the third goal, with Ryan Mikels providing the assist.

Meanwhile, the Royals’ defense, led by goalkeeper Jacob Kane, Jonah Barnes and Kay got its second shutout of the season.

Westfield’s girls team got a bounce-back victory at Plainfield on Saturday, by the score of 3-2.

Lauren Macdonald scored two goals for the Shamrocks, with Amiah Sprunger getting the other goal. Sydney Payne made eight saves. Madison Niehaus totaled 15 completed passes in the midfield.

Westfield plays Northwestern on Monday.

Fishers’ girls team beat Franklin Central 4-0 on Saturday, improving to 2-0 in Hoosier Crossroads Conference play.

Aubry Robinson scored an early goal, then Ellen Stump added two goals for the Tigers. Sami Bird scored the fourth goal.

“The game featured a total team effort both offensively and defensively limiting the Flashes opportunities,” said Fishers coach Ben Beasley.

Noblesville’s girls team sailed past West Lafayette 7-0 in a Saturday afternoon game.

The Class 3A No. 3 Millers are 2-0 for the season and play their HCC opener Wednesday at Avon.

Hamilton Southeastern’s girls, ranked No. 2 in 3A, played three games this weekend at the South Bend St. Joseph’s Invitational.

On Friday night, the Royals swept past Warsaw 11-1. Ashley Wilson scored

Golf Westfield finishes first at Roncalli Invite

The Westfield girls golf team won the Roncalli Invitational, which took place Saturday at Smock Golf Club.

The Shamrocks won with a team score of 317. Jocelyn Bruch led Westfield with a 77, followed by Sophie McGinnis with a 79.

"We had a really nice day as a team," said Shamrocks coach Trevor Neu. "The girls battled the wind well today and played smart golf. We still have some things we can continue to improve but it is really good to see consistent scores from the players."

Carmel finished second at the invitational with a 319. The Greyhounds were led by Katie Kuc, who carded a 73 to finish third individually.

Guerin Catholic scored a 397. Angelica Pfefferkorn was the Golden Eagles' leader with a 77.

Team scores: Westfield 317, Carmel 319, Zionsville 319, Center Grove 328, Columbus North 328, Franklin Community 332, Plainfield 364, Bishop Chatard 392, Guerin Catholic 397, Southport 398, Martinsville 404, Roncalli 417, Terre Haute South 420, Terre Haute North 431, Covenant Christian 494, Cardinal Ritter 502, Ben Davis 507.

Medalist: Nathaly Munnicha (Columbus North) 72, won in playoff.

Westfield scores: Jocelyn Bruch 36-41=77, Sophie McGinnis 42-37=79, Allie Hildebrand 40-40=80, Natalie Shupe 41-40=81, Grace Snyder 43-48=91.

four goals for Southeastern, with Izzie Wallace and Molly Harris both getting two. Lydia Self, Ashlynn Freeman and Madleine Bellaver each scored one.

The Royals picked up two more wins on Saturday, first beating 3A No. 4 Homestead 5-1. Bellaver scored in the first half, then Southeastern poured in four more goals in the second half, from Harris, Bellaver, Wallace and Layla Brown.

The Royals finished with a 3-0 win over 3A No. 11 Chesterton Saturday afternoon. Wallace, Brown and Wilson all scored.

Southeastern is now 4-0 for the season. During the tournament, Royals coach Greg Davidson picked up his 300th victory.

University's girls, ranked No. 8 in 1A, battled 3A Pendleton Heights to a 0-0 tie on Saturday morning.

"The University defense led by Meggie Tanona and Lilly Fair shut down Pendleton as University had the majority of scoring opportunities," said Trailblazers coach Chris Morrison. "It was bad luck that nothing found the back of the net. New comers Maddie Sears and Sierra Hinds had strong games and will continue to be an important part of the team. Although we did not score, we saw progress on the offensive side and know it is only a matter of time until everything clicks."

Hamilton Heights' girls gave 1A No. 1 Lafayette Central Catholic a battle at the Lebanon Invitational on Saturday before falling 2-1.

The Huskies controlled much of the first half, but the Knights took advantage of one of their counterattacks, and scored with under two minutes left in the half. Heights got the equalizer less than two minutes into the second half, with Jenna Peterson scoring from 12 yards out. Caitlin Hartwick got the assist. But Central Catholic scored soon after and held the lead from there.

The Huskies are 2-1 and play Monday at Sheridan.

Westfield's junior varsity boys team beat Pike 1-0 Saturday morning.

Everett Fife scored the Shamrocks' goal, with Yahir Lopez making the assist.
