John Rosenbarger was a devoted father, husband, partner, grandpa, brother and friend. He was originally from Indiana but spent the last 13 years in Leesburg, Fla. He was proceeded in death by his parents, Ernest and Edress Rosenbarger; his first wife, Carole Warrick Rosenbarger; and lots of family pets. Surviving are his daughters, Michelle Latty (Joe), Fishers; Annette Bray (Bryant), Indianapolis; six grandchildren, Hannah, Coleman, Olivia, Emily, Katelyn and Andrew; his sister, Barbara Clark, Mentor, Ohio (Christine and Becky); brother, Dwight Rosenbarger of New Mexico (Tommy and Anne), his wife, Jane Tarbell, Leesburg, Fla., and her two sons, Jay and Brook; and four grandkids, Sarah, Dylan, Althea and Briar Jayne.

He retired from Kokomo High School as the audio-visual coordinator in 2005. He and his first wife, Carole, owned The Rock Garden and Kokomo Living Interiors in downtown Kokomo where his love for plants, greenhouses and flowers grew even more. Anyone who had the pleasure of taking a walking tour of his gardens in Kokomo and Leesburg knows of his abundant gardening talents. He was very proud of his accomplishments as a Boy Scout and cherished the memories and all he learned from his scouting years. Many of these skills he passed down to his daughters.

John was an avid gardener, fisherman and caretaker to birds and butterflies. He loved the outdoors, camping, grilling, traveling and gambling where he had more luck in the convenient store parking lots than in the casinos. He was fortunate to meet Jane Tarbell 13 years ago and has enjoyed traveling and retirement with her. With Jane he found the love of cruises.

John was a proud and supportive father and grandpa. He raised two teenage girls and supported all of their activities, going to college (IU, of course), weddings and all of his grandkids. He was proud to say that he was at the birth of all six of his grandkids. He loved and cherished each and every one of them, including Jane's grandkids who called him Papa and Mr. John. In our eyes, he was the master of fishing and taught his daughters and grandkids how to fish. It was always a competition on who caught the most.

John was loved by all especially his family who will miss him terribly. Please join us at any, or all, of our celebrations honoring this special man. There will be a visitation from 4:30 to 6 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 20, followed by a service at Geist Christian Church, 12756 Promise Road, Fishers. A graveside service will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 21 at Sunset Memory Gardens, 2097 W. Alto Road, Kokomo. A Celebration of Life gathering from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. on Saturday afternoon in Indianapolis will cap off our weekend of memories. If you would like to join us for the Celebration on Saturday, please reach out to Michelle or Annette.

In honor and tribute to John, please wear casual clothes – no jackets or ties – to all of the celebrations. # Commissioners OK changes to county animal ordinance

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Commissioners unanimously approved several amendments to the county's animal ordinance at its meeting last week.

The amendments include new temperature guidelines to protect animals from extreme weather conditions. They also more clearly define "adequate" food, water, shelter, space, ventilation and veterinary care as it pertains to domesticated pets. New definitions and penalties have also been added for backyard breeders, puppy mills, and animal abuse and neglect.

"For me this was a pretty easy 'yes,'" said Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt. "Our chambers were packed with more than 100 people this afternoon, nearly all of them in favor of the amendments. The overwhelming support of our citizens tells me these changes were long overdue."

Hamilton County last updated its animal ordinance in 2006. Last winter some voiced concerned about the safety and well-being of animals left outside during a bitter cold snap. The commissioners assembled a committee from the Humane Society for Hamilton County and Hamilton County Animal Control Office to reevaluate the ordinance, introduce new guidelines, and more clearly define fine ambiguous language.

"We believe this is a precedent-setting ordinance," said Rebecca Stevens, president and CEO of the Humane Society for Hamilton County. "We've done our due diligence to develop an ordinance we feel could serve as a best practice for other communities. In fact, we'd like to see this same ordinance adopted by all the cities and towns in Hamilton County."

The ordinance will be enforceable in unincorporated areas of the county when it goes into effect Nov. 15, 2019. The ordinance, along with an FAQ section, can be found at hamiltoncounty.in.gov.

Noblesville, county agree on funding for YAP

The REPORTER

The City of Noblesville has approved an inter-local agreement with Hamilton County to provide funding to the county for the local Youth Assistance Program.

City Attorney Mike Howard explained to councilmembers the funds would be used to pay the cost of caseworkers.

According to Howard, Noblesville will pay the county $65,000. "At $65,000 we are lower than the other three municipalities and have at least equal to or maybe greater demands from our community," he said.

The resolution for the inter-local agreement was unanimously approved by the council.

Noblesville Schools using solar to slash energy costs

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools has announced that it is seeking a solar solution to significantly cut energy costs and support the environment. The district will issue a public Request for Proposal (RFP) to evaluate and select the best vendor to provide this service, which is expected to generate hundreds of thousands of dollars in savings a year.

With 2 million square feet under roof, 550 acres and more than 10,000 students to serve, energy is one of the district's largest costs after teachers and support staff. Almost $1.5 million dollars a year are spent on energy expenses for lighting, heating and air, technology tools and more.

Associate Superintendent Dr. David Mundy, who oversees facility operations, is leading the solar effort for Noblesville Schools. Mundy was the first in the state to introduce a solar program for an entire school district while serving previously as superintendent for Sheridan Community Schools.

"Capturing solar energy provides several advantages including fiscal ones, like being able to direct more funding to teachers and classrooms, and being able to better project our energy costs over the next decades, as well as educational opportunities for students to observe and study energy use," shared Mundy. "Being able to save money, reduce environmental impacts and create learning opportunities, all while utilizing our vacant land more efficiently, is a win for students, staff, and the community overall."

The district has identified sections of land it already owns, near White River Elementary, Promise Road Elementary and the Hague Road Transportation Center, where solar panels are expected to be placed.

NIEDERMEYER

ern Schools, the Metropolitan School District of Pike Township and Fort Wayne Community Schools.

“Dr. Niedermeyer is a role model among her peers and is frequently sought out by other area superintendents for her counsel and advice,” shared Noblesville Schools Board of Trustees President Carl Johnson. “She is well known for her steady guidance, humble yet insightful perspective and empathetic approach to working with others. As a servant leader, Beth works hard to be accessible, well-informed and actively listen to others. Relationship building, valuing different perspectives, reflecting on data, and making courageous decisions are all hallmarks of her leadership style. She is quick to step up whenever and wherever she is needed, and most importantly her focus is always on what’s best for kids. We’re proud of this honor she’s received and are so thankful for her consistent leadership and passionate commitment to Noblesville Schools.”

In addition to her daily leadership responsibilities with the district, Niedermeyer also serves on the executive board of directors for the Boys and Girls Club of Noblesville, Noblesville Chamber of Commerce, Noblesville Youth Assistance, Noblesville Diversity Coalition, Noblesville Midday Rotary and the Hamilton County Workforce Innovation Network.

LEVEE

7,000 northern Noblesville residents to existing trails leading to downtown,” said Mayor John Ditslear. “Trails provide enjoyable and safe options for pedestrians and alternative transportation, which reduces air pollution, and the Levee Trail adds beautiful scenery along the Morse Reservoir.”

The Levee Trail is a collaboration between the City of Noblesville and Hamilton County Parks and Recreation (HCPR). It is the second trail project connecting Noblesville residents to a county park – the first being the White River Greenway Trail and Potter’s Bridge Park.

“The addition of the Levee Trail that includes Morse Park will enhance the access and use of the park, as well as furthering the connectivity of the park to more of the City of Noblesville and the Town of Cicero,” said HCPR Director Al Patterson.

On Tuesday, the city also dedicated its 100th trail mile with a decorative marker north of Dakota Drive on the Levee Trail. When Ditslear started as mayor in 2004 the city had 35 trail miles.

“Reaching this milestone shows the city’s commitment to activating and connecting people and places,” said Parks Director Brandon Bennett. “Through our constant expansion of city’s trail network, the community gets a chance to enjoy the outdoors and get physical and mental health benefits.”

The Levee Trail accomplishes one of the Noblesville NOW Capital Improvement Plan’s goals to improve pedestrian infrastructure. An agreement with Citizens Energy has allowed this project to be built on its property. The amenity includes an 8-foot-wide trail beside the levee and a 10-foot-wide path on top.

In addition to the Levee Trail, Noblesville is completing work on two other major trail projects: Midland Trace Trail Phase III and Riverwalk Phase IV.

Late TD, 2-point run sends 'Hawks past Delphi

Sheridan may have a young team this year, but the Blackhawks are starting to grow up.

Last Friday at Bud Wright Stadium, Sheridan was in a tough battle with Delphi. The Oracles, a newcomer to the Hoosier Heartland Conference, had just scored with 2:47 left in the fourth quarter and were leading 35-28.

It was up to the Blackhawks to respond, and they did just that, scoring a touchdown and making a two-point conversion to edge out Delphi 36-35. The win keeps Sheridan unbeaten in HHC play at 3-0.

Sophomore Christian Clausen caught a 47-yard reception to get Sheridan into favorable position, then junior Cameron Hovey scored a touchdown on a three-yard run with 26 seconds to go. Now the 'Hawks had a decision to make: Kick the extra point or go for a two-point conversion.

Wright called a timeout and asked the players what they wanted to do. They all voted to go for two.

"It was their decision," said Wright. "It was their ball game."

It was the right call, as Silas DeVaney made the two-point conversion run to push Sheridan ahead. The 'Hawks then held off one last furious charge by the Oracles to clinch the victory.

"After we got started, we played pretty good," said Wright. "We're slow starting for some reason. They come back and won it, so that's what matters right now."

All five of the Blackhawks' touchdowns were scored on short runs. DeVaney made a two-yard scoring run in the first quarter, and got the ball into the end zone from the same distance

Huskies pick up first win

Hamilton Heights got its first win of the season last Friday, and it was a perfect way to start conference play.

The Huskies played a strong first half, and that carried them to a 36-0 win over Northwestern at the Heights stadium. It was the Huskies' first Hoosier Conference East Division game of the season.

Heights scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, with Camron Knott taking an eight-yard pass from Isaac Wilson into the end zone, then Colin Denham ran the ball in from five yards.

The Huskies added three more scores in the second quarter, all in different ways. Blake Webel ran the ball in from three yards out, Brent Pennington caught a nine-yard TD pass from Wilson, and Isaac Tuma grabbed an interception and took it 48 yards to the end zone.

Michael Lecher finished the scoring in the third quarter with a 35-yard field goal. He also kicked three extra points.

Wilson had a nice night passing, completing 11 of 22 throws for 208 yards. Tuma had the most receptions with five, for 98 yards. Deshawn King led the rushing with 29 yards.

Heights is 1-3 overall.
