Noblesville to unveil replicas of nation’s founding documents

The REPORTER

The permanent Charters of Freedom installment – replicas of the Declaration of Independence, Bill of Rights and Constitution – will be unveiled to the public during a dedication ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28 at Federal Hill Commons in Noblesville. The Hamilton County Charters of Freedom was made possible through a partnership with educational non-profit Foundation Forward.

“We are excited to have life-sized replicas of the three documents instrumental to America’s founding and philosophy prominently displayed in downtown Noblesville – to honor our history and teach future generations,” said Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear. “We will have a great time and a grand celebration Saturday for the public.”

The dedication will be held prior to the free concert by Separate Ways, a Journey tribute band, at Federal Hill Commons. The patriotic ceremony will include the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Daughters of the American Revolution and speeches from Foundation Forward founders Vance and Mary Jo Patterson and other dignitaries. The ceremony includes a cannon volley, which residents should be aware of in case they are near the venue and hear the noise.

Hamilton County is the 26th Charters of Freedom installation gifted by Foundation Forward to local communities across the country, and only the third to be illuminated.

Legacy Pavers, which will be continuously installed around the Charters of Freedom, are available for purchase in honor of Hamilton Heights High School’s annual Homecoming is a long-standing tradition that involves students, faculty, staff, families, organizations and businesses in the greater Northern Hamilton County area. This year’s Homecoming Parade is set to begin at 4 p.m. on Friday.

HAND saying goodbye to Executive Director

The REPORTER

Noblesville-based HAND Inc. has announced the coming departure of Executive Director Jennifer Miller on Nov. 1.

Miller has been with HAND since 2016 when she was hired to fill the role. She led the organization through a period of collaborative growth, including an expansion into Boone County and the formation of the Hamilton County Home Repair Partnership with Shepherd’s Center of Hamilton County and the former Habitat for Humanity of Hamilton County.

“I am very proud of the work we have accomplished in the last three years and look forward to seeing how HAND grows in the future,” Miller said. “The need for affordable housing options only increases each year in our communities. I will continue to support HAND and its partners in these efforts.”

Over the next few months, HAND’s Board of Directors will conduct a search to fill the position.

“Jennifer stepped

Miller

HAND during a time of significant organizational transition. She has worked tirelessly to further enhance HAND’s reputation and partnerships,” said Board President Cory Daly. “As unfortunate as this announcement is, our remaining staff at HAND is well prepared to continue building upon the strong foundation Jennifer has laid and continue our important mission.”

During this transition period, it is the goal of the organization to find the best individual while still maintaining services and moving ahead with development projects.

About HAND

Founded in 2003 as Hamilton County Area Neighborhood Development Inc., HAND’s mission is to be a leader in promoting prosperity and diversity in its communities by providing quality housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income individuals and families. So far, HAND has invested more than $21 million in suburban housing and $480,000 in home repairs.

She went from being a state basketball and golf champion to becoming one of the “Sisters of Savings,” then was placed on the front line of humanity’s never-ending war against cancer.

All in all, Courtney Cox Cole had a remarkable life journey, one that ended on Sunday. Cole passed away that day after a five-and-a-half-year battle with lung cancer at the age of 48.

Cole was part of three state championship teams as a 1989 Noblesville High School graduate. She helped the Millers to a state basketball championship in 1987. That title began a run of four consecutive appearances at the state finals for Noblesville, with Cole playing in the first three.

Cole finished her career with 1,869 points, making her the all-time girls basketball scorer at Noblesville and in Hamilton County, and fourth in the entire state of Indiana. She was named as an Indiana All-Star, a USA Today and Parade Magazine First Team All-American, a Gatorade Player of the Year and won the Dial Award for National High School

The REPORTER

Carmel Clay Parks & Recreation (CCPR) was awarded reaccreditation from the Commission for the Accreditation of Park and Recreation Agencies (CAPRA) at this year’s National Recreation and Park Association Annual Conference in Baltimore, Md.

CAPRA requires reaccreditation every five years, CCPR was first awarded CAPRA accreditation in 2014. Reaccreditation demonstrates CCPR’s dedication to providing the community the highest level of service.

“As a department, we have worked diligently over the last five years to strengthen our processes and have utilized accreditation to make our department stronger and a national leader for the parks and recreation industry,” said Kurtis Baumgartner, Assistant Director for CCPR. “The accreditation process also served as an effective team-building exercise, providing staff the opportunity to both realize how much we have accomplished and discover opportunities for improvement to better serve our community.”

“Reaccreditation is a reflection of our staff and the hard work they continue to do every day to make a positive impact in our community,” said Michael Klitzing, Director for CCPR. “Receiving CAPRA Reaccreditation is the culmination of years

Old West premieres on Westfield stage

By STU CLAMPITT

A bit of the Old West is hitting the stage at Westfield Playhouse, 1836 W. State Road 32, starting this weekend. The play "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" is based on a 1953 short story by Dorothy M. Johnson, a story which inspired the 1962 John Ford movie starring James Stewart and John Wayne.

Hoosiers have never seen this one before. Main Street Productions and Westfield Playhouse is the first theater to stage this play in Indiana.

"There are several differences from the movie," director Veronique Duprey told The Reporter. "Some characters are pretty different. For example, the female character is a full lead while in the movie she was just a romantic interest who really didn't do much."

Duprey has directed several youth productions with Westfield Playhouse, but this will be her first adult production.

"You certainly don't have to worry about bringing people back to order as much with all adult cast," Duprey said. "These are all experienced actors. They know all the basics. This is an almost all-male cast except the one woman. That is a little different. When I have been in shows with groups of women, they tend to chat a lot more. Men are not as chatty in between things, so we are very, very efficient in rehearsal time."

According to Duprey, all the actors were excited about their roles.

"If this were a known play, the top five roles would be bucket-list roles. They are all well-developed. It is a strong drama.

This is not at all a corny Western. This is a full drama that just happens to take place in a Western setting."

Duprey is known for her attention to detail in her stage productions. In this production she is playing the dual roles of director and costume designer. The audience can expect to be given an experience that has an authentic Western look at feel.

"Several of the actors were very excited about their characters, but also about the details of the Western," Duprey said. "Some have enjoyed Westerns their whole lives. The narrator, Tom Smith, and his son enjoy Westerns so much they have been to Tombstone several times to visit and soak in the atmosphere. In fact, his son provided all but one of the guns that we use. All are either authentic replicas or working guns."

It should be noted that blanks will be fired on stage and the audience needs to be prepared for loud gunshots as part of the production. It is one of the little touches that will bring a little more authenticity to the experience of "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance."

Due to the adult themes and some of the language in this play, parental discretion is advised.

1205 Distillery to open Westfield tasting room

The REPORTER

1205 Distillery, producer of premium local spirits in Indianapolis, is planning on opening a new tasting room and cocktail lounge in Westfield late this year.

The tasting room will be located off of Main Street at 120 Camilla Court and will feature craft cocktails made exclusively with 1205 Distillery spirits, as well as select local beer and wine options. The Westfield tasting room will not have a kitchen, but will partner with local restaurants and food vendors for food delivery and catering options.

"We are absolutely thrilled to bring our spirits and craft cocktails to Westfield," said Nolan Hudson, owner of 1205 Distillery. "Myself and my partner, Brad Colver, grew up in Hamilton County so being able to bring our company to the northside is something we've been wanting to do for a while. We have always had a strong presence up here with our spirits, but now we are excited to step that up even more. We are planning on opening in December."

1205 Distillery has been producing local, handcrafted spirits in Indianapolis since December 2014. Since opening, 1205's spirits have been sold in liquor stores, grocery stores and restaurants all throughout Indiana. 1205 recently partnered with Visit Hamilton County to create the Hamilton Co. Smash, which is the official cocktail of Hamilton County. The cocktail can now be found in over 20 Hamilton County restaurants and the spirits to make them can be found in most liquor stores and grocery stores in the county.

About 1205 Distillery
 Established in 2014, 1205 Distillery is a local, small batch distillery owned by Hamilton County natives Brad Colver and Nolan Hudson. They currently have a tasting room and production facility in the Fletcher Place neighborhood of Indianapolis where they offer cocktails made with rhubarb liqueur, vodka, gin, five different whiskies, rum and absinthe that are all produced, aged and bottled in-house. For more information, visit 1205Distillery.com.

Second week of sadness, loss for Noblesville sports

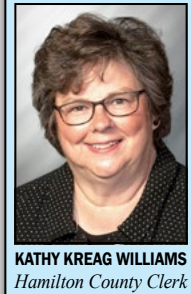

It is hard to believe that in a two-week period Noblesville could lose two of its greatest athletes of all time.

Courtney Cox Cole and Krissi Davis and their super surrounding cast gave us memories of a time in sports that were like no other. The days of competing in the state finals are special times to me that I will never forget. But it is so hard for me grip that they are both gone.

Where Krissi's passing was a total shock due to the suddenness, Courtney's was just as surprising in a different way; she had fought so long and so hard, you just knew she could beat it.

Courtney's competitive nature and unbelievably positive attitude is what kept her fighting. I remember reading Facebook posts where she seemed to be cheering everyone else up about her cancer. Her postings were so real and made you felt like you were going right along with her in her fight.

For six years, she let us in on the roller coaster she was riding trying to make us a part of her journey. She shared the good news and often the bad news of her fight with cancer. I know most of us read and wondered if we could ever be as strong and upbeat.

Through it all she and her sister ran a successful business; she became a motivational speaker sharing her experiences to others and she was a mother of two children. She gave to our community in so many ways.

As we celebrate our 150th anniversary of Noblesville High School, it is graduates like Courtney Cox Cole who make us a special school and community. The legacy she leaves is one of hard work, dedication, great humor and a strong heart for her family and friends.

My prayers go out to Blake and Cayla and the whole Cox-Hare family. May the courage she had be shared to help you through the days ahead.

Good wants to set the record straight on Treasurer's Office

Dear Editor,

Fellow taxpayers, as chief deputy treasurer I have been assaulted with false allegations for nearly a year, as have the Treasurer herself and other Hamilton County officials. I wish to address some of those issues with you.

Regarding the most recent allegation against the Hamilton County Treasurer – cronyism – let's first define what that even means. The Oxford Dictionary defines cronyism as "the appointment of friends and associates to positions of authority, without proper regard to their qualifications."

Clerks in the Treasurer's office are not appointed, nor do they hold positions of authority. Neither is it uncommon for private and public entities to hire qualified people based on recommendations from trusted sources, including current employees, friends and business associates. Otherwise, employment applications wouldn't ask for references. This is common knowledge to all, except, evidently, for the IndyStar and its so-called experts.

Fired former employee Susan Byer was recommended by another county department as was current employee Dana Moore; fired former employee Julie Ward was recommended by her friend Susan Byer; current employee Charisse Beck was recommended by her friend who is my sister. My own reference, some 30 years ago, came from my sister-in-law, whose mother-in-law was the Treasurer at the time.

As for who my campaign committee treasurer is – a big issue, apparently, to the IndyStar and no one else – since my first campaign in 2004, I have been fortunate to have an employee from the Treasurer's office serve in that capacity, including Wilma Ross and current employees Dana Moore and Emily Pearson, who will be a great asset should I run for Treasurer in 2020.

The IndyStar reported that my mother's tax payments were filed late in 2011, 2013, 2014 and 2016, but weren't posted late. What they didn't report is that a receipt count of over 30,000 in the spring of 2011 alone had payments that were filed late but not posted late. Apparently, the IndyStar forgot that mailed payments postmarked by the due date are acceptable with government payments. Ever hear of Tax Day, April 15?

My mother's payments are the basis for Byer's ridiculous whistleblower claim. My mom has never made a late tax payment in the first place or ever asked the staff in the Treasurer's office or myself to take her payment after the due date as on time to prevent a penalty. State law requires tax payments to be either post-marked or in the office on or before the statutory deadline. My mother's property tax payments were always on-time according to these state requirements.

Former employees Susan Byer and Julie Ward claim they were unjustly fired, while current employee Pam Watson says she was wrongly reprimanded. Here, for example, are some of Byer's disciplinary actions, previously released to the IndyStar by other Hamilton County representatives, so you can judge for yourselves:

July 2017 - Suspension without pay:

- Distracting the attention of others, shouting, demonstrating/causing a disruption in the workplace.
- Disobeying a reasonable order of a supervisor to perform assigned work or to comply with written or verbal instructions.

September 2017

Opportunity for Improvement:

- Unauthorized overtime

October 2017- Written Reprimand:

- Causing a disruption in the workplace.

February 2018 - Written Reprimand:

- Disobeying a reasonable order of a supervisor to perform assigned work or to comply with or verbal instructions. Improper use of a personal cell phone.

March 2018

Termination of Employment:

- Failure to perform duties or fulfill job requirements as assigned or in a satisfactory manner.
- Disobeying a reasonable order of a supervisor to perform assigned work or to comply with written or verbal instructions.
- Unlawful or negligent handling of public monies.
- Falsifying or destroying any County records.
- Theft or dishonesty while on County property or while on County time.

The IndyStar, as I already mentioned, has the complete list for Byer, Ward and Watson.

Now, I hear that those who are trying to ruin the integrity and outstanding reputation of the Treasurer's office and have attacked my own mother with false allegations are trying to attack other members of my family. Not only is that shameful, but it also shows desperation.

Rest assured, fellow taxpayers, I remain undaunted and won't let bullying tactics deter me from doing my job to hold employees accountable, regardless of how many times they cry retaliation.

World Records cap Roundabout Week

Photo provided
Noblesville resident Dave Schweikert has set a world record by riding his bicycle around the roundabout at East Main Street and River Road in Carmel for 24 consecutive hours, and for the longest distance anyone has ever ridden around a roundabout. The ride began at 7 p.m. Friday and concluded at 7 p.m. Saturday. Schweikert said the ride will raise funds for World Bicycle Relief, an international nonprofit that distributes bicycles to aid in poverty relief. As of the start of his 24-hour ride, he had raised enough money for World Bicycle Relief to provide 300 bicycles. Bicycles in many third world countries may be a person's only mode of transportation.

Letter to the Editor

Minott asks for your vote for Carmel City Council on Nov. 5

Dear Editor: My name is Debra Minott, and I am running for election to the newly created Carmel-West City Council District. My husband and our two children chose to live in Carmel because it is one of the best places in the country to live, work, and raise a family. Our streets are safe, our economy is booming, and our roads and infrastructure are constantly improving. More than anything else, we live in Carmel because of the community that makes all those things possible – our neighbors and the families who are the foundation of our city's success story. Paul and I came to Carmel 14 years ago and we experienced the ongoing	transformation of our city: The development of the Arts and Design District, the Palladium and the wonderful entertainment that now comes here, the City Center restaurants and shops, and most recently the Midtown. If elected to the City Council, I would be committed to continuing that success. I believe my background brings a unique set of business, government and community experiences to serve the people of Carmel. I worked in the private sector for decades as an in-house attorney and senior executive for some of Indiana's largest job-creators and economic drivers, learning how to develop and manage large budgets, work with teams to	collaboratively solve critical business issues, and plan strategically for the future. I served on the cabinets of both Governors Daniels and Pence as a state agency director. There, I learned how to make government work efficiently, saving taxpayers millions of dollars with smart decisions that increased productivity and cut costs. Closer to home, I have been an officer and member of the Village of West Clay Board of Directors for the last five years. With nearly 1,800 homes in the Village, we are like a small city. In this role, I have been committed to working to maintain and improve the safety, infrastructure and day-to-day livability of the Village. Our city has lived through a transfor-	mational last decade, but we did not get to where we are by being complacent. Carmel's success has brought its own set of challenges for us to face: Handling our city's finances to balance prudent investments with sound fiscal management, maintaining our excellent infrastructure, and protecting our city's best-in-the-country public safety record. If elected to Council I will listen to you, work hard to find solutions to your problems, and be accessible to the residents of Carmel's West District. I hope to have the opportunity to serve you and Carmel when you cast your vote on November 5! Debra Minott Carmel

Hill files motion in support of Trump administration's 'pro-coal' clean energy rule

Submitted
Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill has filed a multistate motion supporting the Trump administration's pro-coal Affordable Clean Energy Rule as it faces a court challenge. As part of a 20-state coalition, Hill seeks to intervene in defense of the rule's repeal of the so-called Clean Power Plan, an Obama-era regulation.
"We must keep energy clean and affordable while at the same time respecting each state's individual authority to represent their own interests," Hill said. "We are capable of protecting both the environment and state sovereignty."

The Affordable Clean Energy Rule respects the important role of states in regulating energy and air quality. It is a step forward in embracing Congress' intent for cooperation between the state and federal governments, correcting the previous one-size-fits-all model that threatened to devastate coal communities across the nation.

By promoting such cooperation, the Affordable Clean Energy Rule restores each state's authority to consider factors specific to the energy needs and facilities in their borders, including costs, practical achievability and the useful life of any particular power plant.

Riverview Health breaks ground on new ER, urgent care facility in West Carmel/Zionsville

The REPORTER

Riverview Health, along with city officials, community representatives and board members, held a groundbreaking on Tuesday for its new Emergency Room and Urgent Care center, located at 10830 N. Michigan Road, Zionsville. "Often times when unplanned medical needs arise, there's the question of whether or not to go to the emergency room," said Seth Warren, President CEO of Riverview Health. "With the emergency and urgent care combination, patients have a single convenient access point close to home and be treated accordingly with the same high-quality health-care of our hospitals in Noblesville and Westfield." This West Carmel/Zionsville location is set to open late summer of 2020 and will be one of four total Riverview Health Emergency Room and Urgent Care facilities. The Fishers location is the first to open in November 2019 with a Carmel location opening in January 2020. The fourth and final will be located in the Nora area of Indianapolis, which has yet to break ground. These projects are in conjunction with Intuitive Health, an organization located in North Texas that has worked with established health systems throughout the nation to build and manage retail health facilities that specialize in full-service emergency and urgent care services in a licensed hospital outpatient department. Each retail-centric facility will be approximately 10,000 square-foot and will be developed under the guidance of commercial real estate firm Equity, E4H Architecture and local construction firm, Meyer Najem.

"Patients want convenience, immediate access to care, better customer service and greater transparency into the billing process," said Thom Herrmann, CEO of Intuitive Health. "Bringing urgent care and emergency care to the families of West Carmel and Zionsville allows us to meet many of their expectations."

The ER services will be available 24/7, while the urgent care hours will be 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day. An ER physician, regardless of the level of service needed, will see all patients. However, patients will only be billed for the level of care provided.

Rep. Brooks applauds effort to modernize flu vaccine manufacturing before flu season

The REPORTER

Congresswoman Susan W. Brooks (R-Ind.-05) provided the following statement after the Trump Administration's announcement of an executive order to modernize influenza vaccines:

"It has been over 100 years since the 1918 pandemic influenza killed millions of people around the world and 675,000 people here in the United States. During the 2018-2019 flu season, more than 50 Hoosiers lost their lives because of the seasonal flu. Although the development of vaccines and drugs is a challenging process, our current vaccines are based on significantly outdated research and it is critically important we take action to modernize our influenza vaccines in this country.

"I am proud this executive order further solidifies our commitment to better prepare Americans across the country with influenza vaccines that could save their lives. Specifically, I applaud the establishment of the National Influenza Vaccine Task Force who will be focused on implementing updates to our influenza vaccine enterprise so that it is highly responsible, flexible, scalable and more effective at preventing the spread of flu viruses."

Background

The Pandemic and All-Hazards Preparedness and Advancing Innovation Act of 2019 (PAHPA) is a bipartisan public health and national security effort lead by Brooks and Congresswoman Anna Eshoo (D-Calif.) that ensures our nation is prepared to respond to public health emergencies, including natural disasters like hurricanes, emerging infectious diseases, and chemical, biological, radiological or nuclear attacks whether from terrorist groups or from nation states.

This effort ensures our preparedness and response capabilities will include a robust pipeline of medical countermeasures by reauthorizing and increasing funding for the BioShield Special Reserve Fund and Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority (BARDA) whose work over the last decade has resulted in FDA approvals for more than 42 different medical countermeasures.

Importantly, PAHPA establishes a Pandemic Influenza Program as well as an Emerging Infectious Diseases Program at BARDA to deal with known and unknown threats. Research funded by BARDA has already significantly expanded our domestic vaccine production capacity from the ability to produce just 60 million doses of antigen for influenza to the ability to produce more than 600 million doses.

Importantly, PAHPA authorizes $250 million for the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (the ASPR) to address threats like pandemic influenza. Specifically, PAHPA directs the ASPR to work to increase manufacturing capacity and stockpile medical countermeasures. While PAHPA authorizes funding for research into known threats like pandemic influenza, it also maintains the flexibility that is the foundation of our medical countermeasure enterprise to deal with unknown threats for which we may have no defense today.

Courtney Cox Cole

March 15, 1971 – September 22, 2019

Courtney Cox Cole, 48, Noblesville passed away, Sunday, September 22, 2019. She was born March 15, 1971, to David and Jacqueline (Hare) Cox. Courtney was a 1989 graduate of Noblesville High School and a 1994 graduate of the Kelly School of Business at Indiana University.

Courtney had many basketball accolades ... scored school record 1,869 career points at Noblesville, graduating as the state of Indiana's fourth all-time scoring leader ... led Noblesville to three straight state finals including 1987 state championship ... 1989 Indiana All-Star, named USA Today and Parade Magazine 1st team All-American, Gatorade Player of the Year and won Dial Award for National H.S. Scholar / Athlete of the Year ... two-time high school state golf champion ... a member of IU's 1991 WNIT runner-up basketball team ... 2014 Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame Silver Anniversary Team ... 2015 Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame Inductee. Seventeen Magazine named Courtney to their list of "Most Likely to Succeed."

At Indiana University in golf, she qualified for the 1992 and 1993 NCAA Tournament, was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection, three-time All-Big Ten Honoree and was a two-time NGCA (National Golf Coaches Assn.) Scholar Athlete. In 2011, Courtney was the recipient of Indiana University's Leanne Grotke Award, which honors people who've had outstanding contributions to IU's women's athletic programs. It is the highest honor of its kind given by IU.

As an amateur athlete, she won the Indianapolis City Women's Golf Championship twice, and was Runner Up for the Indiana State Amateur Golf Tournament.

After college, Courtney joined the family business, Hare Chevrolet in Noblesville. She worked alongside her father, and sister, Monica Peck. In 2008, Courtney and Monica purchased the family business from their parents. The dealership quickly became the Number 1 Volume General Motors dealership in the state of Indiana. Courtney and Monica became known as the "Sisters of Savings," heard on radio stations throughout Central Indiana. They sold the business in January 2017.

Courtney never smoked, yet she courageously battled stage 4 non-smokers lung cancer for 5 ½ years. She was widely recognized for success in athletics and business, Her greatest joy and achievement was being the mother of daughter Cayla, 17, and son Blake, 14. In addition to her children, survivors include her parents, Dave and Jackie Cox, sister, Monica (Darren) Peck, her fiancé, Tom New, her niece, Sydney Peck, and nephew, Alexander Peck. She was blessed with a loving family of aunts, uncles and cousins.

Visitation will be held from 4 to 8 p.m. on Friday, September 27, and from noon to 12:45 p.m. on Saturday, September 28 at Noblesville First United Methodist Church, 2051 Monument St., Noblesville. TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil? Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me. And I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death. Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death. Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God: Yet ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying. Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am. Then took they up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

Emma Lee (Black) Beagle

February 27, 1930 – September 21, 2019

Emma Lee (Black) Beagle, 89, Carmel, passed away on Saturday, September 21, 2019 at Prairie Lakes Health Campus in Noblesville. She was one of 14 children born to Norma Mae Pendergast and Paul McKinley Black. Emma was born in Osgood, Ind., on February 27, 1930. Emma lived many years in Versailles, Ind., on a farm and was a 1947 graduate of Versailles High School. Her stories of life on the farm were quite entertaining, however it was her goal to relocate to Indianapolis when she got the chance.

Emma relocated to Indianapolis close to the time she married her husband, Jerome Henry Beagle. Their dream was to start a family in Indianapolis and there, together, they had four children. She worked for over 30 years with the U.S. Geological Survey Services, a conservation division, based in Indianapolis, where she was the administrative assistant to the director. She retired in 2010.

She served as a Catholic Daughters of the Americas group leader while her daughters attended Saint Catherine's Elementary School.

Emma moved to Carmel after her husband of 20 years passed away. She volunteered for the Babe Ruth baseball program in Carmel while her son played there. Emma also volunteered in the gift shop at Community Hospital North in Indianapolis.

She would be the first to tell you that her life priorities were her husband, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Emma loved music, to dance, to play cards with friends, and to spend time with her family.

She is survived by her daughters, Barbara (Charles Michael) Summers and Mary (Timothy) Tate; son, James (Marie) Beagle; son-in-law, William Davee; sisters, Geneva Kennedy, Shirla Jones and Joyce Demitrides; grandchildren, Courtney Summers, Christopher (Stephanie) Summers, Sarah Tate and Zachary Tate; great-grandchildren, Summer and Autumn Barndt; step-grandchildren, Jason (Valerie) Tate and Keri (Jamie) Tate Pena; and step-great-grandchildren, Noah and Harper Pena.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Jerry Beagle; daughter, Carolyn Beagle Davee; and 10 of her 13 brothers and sisters.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, September 25, 2019 at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church, 14598 Oak Ridge Road, Carmel. Visitation will be from 10 a.m. to the time of service at the church. Private burial will be at Holy Cross & St. Joseph Cemetery in Indianapolis.

Gerlene "Jeri" Burwell

July 16, 1939 – September 20, 2019

Gerlene "Jeri" Burwell, 80, Sheridan, passed away at Sanders Glen in Westfield on September 20, 2019.

She was born July 16, 1939 at Moss, Tenn., to Lloyd and Betty (Strong) Green. She was a graduate of Jackson Central High School with the Class of 1957.

Jeri had worked at the former Hook's Drug Store in Cicero as a cashier, then worked for several years with a children's program at the Fishers Public Library. She was a member of Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church at Noblesville.

Jeri enjoyed going to horse races with her husband, doing water color paintings, and spending time with her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She married John Wilford "Jack" Burwell on March 8, 1974. He preceded her in death August 31, 2013. In addition to her husband she was also preceded in death by her parents.

She is survived by a son, Robby D. (Robyn) Woodruff, Sheridan; a sister, Mary Teeters, Kokomo; grandchildren, Travis Woodruff, Lindsey Shaffer and Logan Turpin; plus four great-grandchildren.

A visitation will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. on Tuesday, September 24, 2019 at Hartley Funeral Homes Cicero Chapel, 209 W. Jackson St., Cicero. Graveside services at Crownland Cemetery will be held at a later date.

Wayne Lucore

May 1, 1927 – September 21, 2019

Wayne Lucore, 92, Westfield, passed away September 21, 2019. He was born on an Angus cattle ranch in Arriba, Colo., on May 1, 1927, son of Alonzo and Bessie (Switzer) Lucore.

Wayne attended McPherson College in Kansas, University of Denver in Colorado, and Alaska Pacific University in Anchorage, where he graduated cum laude with a degree in Business Administration. Following World War II, Wayne worked in postwar relief in Italy for two years and served as Vice Present of a trucking company in Denver for 24 years, as well as Executive Director of the Alaska Carriers Association for 10 years.

Wayne enjoyed traveling, collecting stamps, and researching genealogy. In 2009, Wayne moved to Indiana to be close to family living at the Stratford Retirement Community.

He is survived by four daughters, many grandchildren and great-grandchildren. In lieu of a funeral service, the family will personally celebrate Wayne's Life.

In memory of Wayne, donations may be made to the Salvation Army.

Girls golf sectionals

The Hamilton Southeastern girls golf team defended its sectional championship Monday at Harbour Trees. The Royals edged out Noblesville by two shots to win its 10th title in program history and advance to Saturday's regional at Edgewood Golf Club in Lapel.

Royals edge Millers, three county individuals advance

By RICHIE HALL

This year's Noblesville girls golf sectional at Harbour Trees took place on Monday, the first day of the week.

That was appropriate, as this the sectional turned into a showcase for some great young players. Hamilton Southeastern edged out the Millers for the team sectional championship, and the Royals were led by a freshman. Noblesville has several young players as well, and underclassmen from Fishers and Hamilton Heights also made their presences known.

Southeastern scored 335 to win the trophy, just ahead of the Millers' 337. It's the 10th sectional title for HSE's girls golf program, and the first time the Royals successfully defended a sectional championship since winning three in a row in 2013-14-15.

"It was great out here," said Royals coach Steve Guenin. "The wind kicked up a bit, so it was tough for sure. Honestly, we started out a little slow on the front side, and really put together some nice scores on the back nine."

Southeastern was led by freshman Amber Luttrell, who was the individual medalist with a round of 77. Payton Schechter scored an 82 for the Royals.

"I was nervous, just being that it was my first sectionals," said Luttrell. "But I think it turned out really well, and I think I had a really good day today."

"Amber had a really nice day, so we're happy for her," said Guenin. "She's been working hard, so that's exciting to see there."

The Millers had a consistent day, with Ellie Karst the low woman with a score of 81. That gave her third place individually. Caroline Whallon was next with an 82, while Sarah Brenneman scored 83.

"The goal is to advance to regionals, which we did," said Noblesville coach Justin Werkley. "We'll be ready to go on Saturday. It would've been nice to win sectionals, but we're still playing and that's the goal."

Noblesville finished second at Harbour Trees, earning a spot in Saturday's regional at Edgewood.

The top three teams from the sectional advance to Saturday's Lapel regional at Edgewood Golf Club. The regional host Bulldogs picked up the third qualifying spot with a score of 358.

Fishers placed fourth as a team with a score of 374, but will send two individuals to Edgewood, as the top three golfers not on a qualifying team also move on to the regional.

Senior Kaitlyn Brunnermer scored an 83 to get the first individual spot, while sophomore Lilly McVay's 95 made her the third qualifier.

"It feels great," said Brunnermer. "It was a good day. I had a rough front nine but I knew I had to come back on the back nine."

"I actually had no thought of making it out to regional," said McVay. "I was just here to have a good time and that hopefully our team would move on. I had no thought of me making it out as an individual, so it's a good surprise."

Joining the Fishers girls as individual qualifiers will be Sydni Zebraskas of Hamilton Heights. The freshman carded a 92, giving her the second regional qualifying place. Zebraskas is the first regional qualifier for the Huskies since Caitie Gehlhausen went to regional three years in a row in 2014-15-16.

"It's really exciting, especially since it's my first sectionals," said Zebraskas.

Shamrocks come back, win wild HCC game

Westfield came back to beat Brownsburg in a wild 5-4 Hoosier Crossroads Conference victory on Thursday.

The Bulldogs blitzed the Shamrocks for three goals in the first 10 minutes. Westfield got on the board after that, with senior captain Max Von Arx putting a free kick into the net. Moments later, the Shamrocks cut Brownsburg's lead to 3-2; junior Jordan Donsky placed a free kick near the goal and junior Ben Wallace's diving effort got it in to score.

The Bulldogs scored again to go up 4-2, but Westfield narrowed the lead to 4-3 before halftime after junior David Green found the back of the net. The Shamrocks cruised through the second half; senior Francis Agbo sent a header to Green, who put a low shot into the net for his second goal of the game. Finally, senior captain Miguel Ayala got the ball at the top of the box, then recovered his own shots and played it to Green, who put the ball in for his third goal of the game, and the winning score.

The Shamrocks are 2-3-1 in HCC play and 7-5-1 overall. They host Columbus North on Thursday.

Noblesville also picked up an HCC victory on Tuesday, beating Franklin Central 3-1 in the Millers' Senior Night game.

Harrison Christman scored two goals for Class 3A No. 11 Noblesville. The first goal was in the first half and was assisted by Gabe Imes. In the second half, Spencer Holland scored the Millers' second goal, then assisted Christman's second goal of the night.

Noblesville is 3-2 in the conference and 8-2-2 overall. The Millers play at Lawrence Central on Thursday.

Carmel, back in the 3A rankings at No. 19, beat 3A No. 17 Pike 2-0 in a Tuesday Metropolitan Conference game.

Senior Sam Thiel scored both goals, with senior Griffin Lee making one as-
