Noblesville Lions award $1K to Fueled For School

On Wednesday, the Noblesville Lions Club awarded a $1,000 check to the Fueled For School organization. Fueled For School is a relatively new non-profit organization. This organization provides weekend nutritious meal packs for needy students in the Noblesville area. One of four students in Noblesville schools suffer from food insecurity. It costs $200 per year to provide for one student. The organization has needs not only for donations of money and food, but also drivers to deliver the food to the schools. If you're interested in helping, visit fueledforschool.org. (Above) Kristina Trusty accepted the check from Lions Club President Gary Hipes.

Carmel mayor proposes multi-million dollar plan to improve public safety

By ALEAH HORDGES
WISH-TV | wishTV.com

Mayor Jim Brainard is proposing more than $30 million for the fire department and more than $25 million for police in the proposed 2020 budget plan. The money will be used to hire 15 more firefighters, pay salaries for current employees, continued maintenance for equipment and six fire stations across the city. Fire Chief David Haboush said public safety should meet with the demand of the area's growing population. "As the population within Carmel has doubled and tripled over the years, so has the number of responses that we have had," Haboush said. The Carmel Fire Department will buy another 100-foot ladder truck. The additional 15 firefighters will help staff it. "This truck is very versatile in our community because it is an articulating vehicle in the middle and it can navigate alley ways and tight turns within the community," Haboush said. It will provide more space to store equipment, improve car rescues and help decrease response times. Firefighter Greg Webb told News 8, "It will help us out tremendously because, right now, if we get a working fire, we have to call for another agency to send us another ladder truck because our standard is to have two ladder trucks on every working resident's fire." Webb said they call fire departments in Fishers, Westfield or Indianapolis for help.

The proposed city budget for 2020 plans to give more than $25 million to the police department. The department is looking for three additional officers. The budget increases will come without a tax increase for residents, officials said. "This is a proactive approach to us being able to provide better services within our community," Haboush said. The Carmel City Council has until Nov. 1 to approve the proposed budget.

HSE Schools present $250.7 million 2020 budget

By LARRY LANNAN

Board approves the spending plan presented at Wednesday's board meeting. HSE Schools Business Manager Cecilie Nunn told board members that changes in how funds are organized, per changes in state law, will lead to more transfers among and between the various funds. The Education Fund, which pays for teacher salaries, will increase 8 percent in 2020 compared to the previous year. The Referendum Fund also provides for teacher compensation, and it is projected to rise 6.3 percent in 2020. The property tax rate for HSE Schools is expected to decrease slightly in 2020 by 0.89 percent. Per state law, the board provided an opportunity for the public to comment on the 2020 spending plan, but no one chose to comment. The board is scheduled to vote on the 2020 budget at the Oct. 23 meeting. Also, a public hearing was held on the contract agreement reached with the Hamilton Southeastern Education Association (HSEA) that has been ratified by the teachers. No one chose to speak at the public hearing. The teacher contract will also be up for a board vote Oct. 23. Board President Michelle Fullhart began the meeting with an apology to the Jewish community in Fishers because the board was holding a meeting on Yom Kippur, the holiest religious day of the year for those observing the Jewish faith. She promised the board will do better in the future.

My car? I bought it for my mother

It's been about 2 ½ years since I became the owner of a 2007 Mini Cooper S. The "S", of course, stands for "spectacular." It was February of 2017. I had recently told my husband that I couldn't go through another summer driving our old Dodge Grand Caravan. I was growing my business and didn't want to show up to see clients in the rusty, dented gray minivan with no air conditioning. And, since my mother had recently moved to Noblesville at the time, we knew it was hard for her to climb into the van with her 4'11" frame. We agreed we'd start looking for a smaller vehicle for me and purchase it perhaps in April or May. And our oldest son, Jonathan, would inherit the minivan – every 16-year-old's dream car. (Ha ha!) He was thrilled at the news. Okay, his reaction was more like, "Huh? Um ... okay." A week later, John interrupted me as I was cleaning one Saturday to show me this cute little blue Mini Cooper he found online. It had low miles, just happened to be in our price range, and was a stick shift. This was my dream car. I remember repeating the phrase "No way!" throughout the morning. The next thing I knew, we were heading to

Carmel, Noblesville receive $1.08M in state matching funds

The REPORTER

Governor Eric J. Holcomb and Indiana Department of Transportation Commissioner Joe McGuinness announced 229 Indiana cities, towns and counties received a combined $99.2 million in state matching funds for local road projects through the Next Level Roads: Community Crossings Initiative. The cities of Carmel and Noblesville were the only Hamilton County communities to receive funding. Carmel received $1,000,000 and Noblesville received $84,424. "High-quality local roads and bridges are an important part of our formula for attracting jobs, growing our economy, and building strong communities," Holcomb said. "Our fully-funded Next Level Roads plan and record-breaking level of construction has gained Indiana national recognition for our approach to infrastructure, and Community Crossings takes that commitment to the local level all across the state." The Community Crossings Initiative has provided more than $612 million in state matching funds for construction projects. The latest round garnered more applications than dollars available – making the call for projects highly competitive. In response to local requests to help manage project flow, INDOT now accepts applications in both January and July, with a $1 million cap annually per community. An estimated $100 million will be available for communities opting to apply during the January 2020 call for projects. "Efficiently and safely moving people and commerce is vital to the quality of life and vitality of our communities," said McGuinness. "INDOT is excited to partner with communities through this matching grant program to make infrastructure

Carmel to take a look at it. In summary, it was love at first sight. Mind you, I'm not a car girl. My attitude towards vehicles is that if something looks decent and gets me from A to B, I'm happy.

But this zippy little car with its sporty white stripes and sunroof had me hooked. After a few days of adjusting to driving a stick shift – okay, a few days of occasionally stalling the sucker after years of little practice

– I was ready to go! I loved opening up the windows and sunroof to enjoy a warm, early spring day. I was in one of my happy places.

I was excited to show it to Mom. I picked her up one day to take her to lunch and was happy to witness how easily she could get in and out of it. And by folding the back seats down, MC (as I call it) could hold her walker, purse, and other needed items. In fact, we recently discovered it could even handle a folded-up wheelchair.

Despite its rather bumpy ride, Mom liked it.

“You know, Mom,” I said, “I really bought this car for you. It was purely for unselfish reasons and had nothing to do with the fact that it's sporty, a joy to drive, and my dream car.” I'm not sure she bought that, but I still tell her and everyone else that, um, “fact” to this day.

That's my story, folks, and I'm sticking to it.

investments that contribute to the success of all Hoosier cities, towns and counties.”

To qualify for funding, local governments must provide local matching funds, 50 percent for larger communities or 25 percent for smaller communities, from a funding source approved for road and bridge construction. They must also submit an INDOT-approved asset management plan for maintaining existing roads and bridges.

State law requires annually that 50 percent of the available matching funds be awarded to communities within counties with a population of 50,000 or fewer.

State lawmakers identified long-term funding for Community Crossings as part of House Enrolled Act 1002, passed by the legislature and signed into law by Gov. Holcomb in April 2017.

Carmel Schools seeking to pass referendum increasing school safety measures

Submitted
Currently, at Carmel Clay Schools, there are three Student Resource Officers (SROs) that are shared between 14 elementary and middle schools for over 11,000 students. In the high school, there are four for over 5,000 students.
Some in the community are leery that the low number of SROs in schools are enough to keep students safe. SROs can play a critical role in imminent danger situations. Studies have shown that the outcomes of school shootings, other crimes and mental health cases can dramatically differ when an SRO is present.
The role of an SRO goes beyond ‘patrolling’ the school. According to the National Association of School Resource Officers (NASRO), SROs contribute to a safe learning environment, foster positive relationships, and develop strategies to resolve problems affecting youth. SROs protect all students, so they can reach their fullest potential.

After a 2018 shooting in a Noblesville school just seven miles away from Carmel Clay Schools, the Carmel Safety for Our Students PAC decided to take steps to ensure Carmel is doing everything possible to create a safe environment.
“Three School Resource Officers for 14 schools is an unacceptable ratio. Carmel Schools can and must do better to keep our children safe at school,” said Nicki McNally, Carmel SOS Co-Chair.
In the 2019 legislation session, the Indiana General Assembly passed Senate Bill 127, which allows school corporations to seek property tax referendums for school safety initiatives. This is a new type of referendum and will be the first time it appears on the ballot in November. If the Carmel Clay Schools Safety Referendum passes, at least one SRO will be placed in every school – hiring an additional 11 to 13 SROs.

Beyond adding additional SROs in every school, funds raised from the referendum will go toward two other safety related initiatives: Increased mental health services and professional development. The referendum will not exceed $0.05 per $100 dollars of assessed value for property taxes.

Altrusa initiates Phase II of literacy project

Organization donates activity calendars, reading books to area libraries

The REPORTER

Altrusa of Hamilton County is pleased to announce that it has initiated Phase II of its annual literacy project: The Three L's: Literacy, Learning, and Leaders.

During the past two weeks, Altrusa members have delivered 1,000 Pre-K activity calendars and reading books to the Carmel, Cicero, Sheridan and Westfield libraries and Head Start of Hamilton County. These items will be distributed to patrons and Head Start students free of charge.

For the past two years, Altrusa International of Hamilton County has distributed The Countdown to Kindergarten Calendar to local communities. It contains a year's worth of readiness activities designed to prepare a child for success in kindergarten.

While the calendars have been a great success, Altrusa members discovered that many of the recipient families cannot afford to purchase the books necessary to incorporate the at-home exercises. The members decided to provide primary books to foster reading for pleasure, assist in learning the alphabet, help establish a love for learning, and ultimately foster leadership qualities. Members will also participate in reading sessions with the children enrolled in Head Start throughout the year.

Altrusa members believe the preschool years are crucial ones for a child's development of language and literacy. What happens during those years has a lasting effect on all learning. Reading with one's child impacts their language development, vocabulary growth and familiarity with the written word. Reading to children and talking about books stimulates a child's imagination, curiosity and thinking ability. It also improves children's ability to concentrate and stay focused.

Last year one of the Altrusa members met with a group of school teachers and learned that many children don't read at home because there are no books, as parents with limited funds must purchase "necessities, not luxuries." Often these limited funds also impact the ability to make frequent library trips secondary to the need to conserve gasoline funds. These same teachers pointed out that most children from middle class and higher socio-economic households have cherished books they read and re-read every evening, thereby honing their reading skills.

Research has shown that when children read for pleasure, they get "hooked on books." They develop, without conscious effort, nearly all of the so-called "language skills." They will become adequate readers, who acquire the following:

- Expanded vocabulary
- Established understanding and use of complex grammatical constructions
- A good writing style
- Good spelling skills

In a complex world, the ability to read is crucial. This generation of children will need to read and write more than at any other time in human history. As adults, they will need advanced levels of literacy to perform their jobs, run their households, act as good citizens, and conduct their personal lives.

Altrusa has a number of educators and medical field providers as members and they recognize that 21st century lives will need literacy to cope with the flood of information they will find everywhere they turn. Altrusa members realize these children need strong literacy skills to feed their imaginations and create the world of the future.

Shaffer says Carmel City Council should use some common sense

Dear Editor:

The mayor of Carmel is asking his rubber-stamp city council to use $75,000 of taxpayer money to clean up the $262 million Palladium.

That would be one-tenth of the $750,000 per year the Palladium pays its "artistic director," Los Angeles piano player-singer Michael Feinstein.

Palladium finances are in shambles even after a $2 to $3 million annual subsidy from tax revenues. Patron funding is so skimpy, the Palladium's $1 million in yearly utility bills comes out of public coffers as well.

Instead of $75,000 to clean up the Palladium, why doesn't the city council use a nickel's worth of common sense?

It is an election year, you know.

Reader speaks out about Byer lawsuit, details not mentioned in news media

Dear Editor,

Left out in news stories regarding the lawsuit known as Byer v. Hamilton County is the following information:

In 2017, Susan Byer accepted a late tax payment in cash from a county employee and gave it to another employee to post as on time.

Soon thereafter an office meeting was held to – among other things – review office policies and internal controls. It was during this meeting when Byer became belligerent towards her supervisor, Kim Good, and continued to be so even after repeated warnings. A sheriff's deputy who overheard Byer's outburst even inquired as to the well-being of Good and Treasurer Jennifer Templeton. This was also when Byer accused Good of accepting late payments from her own mother without penalty.

Despite Byer's insubordination, Templeton did not terminate Byer's employment. Instead, Byer was fired eight months later after committing a series of violations.

Byer's claim that her firing was in retaliation for accusations hurled eight months prior is erroneous. In order to meet retaliation requirements, Templeton would've had to fire Byer very soon after the accusations, like within two weeks soon. That didn't happen.

However, if Templeton had fired Byer after that eventful meeting, it could've been justified due to Byer's gross misconduct. Case closed.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off: And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother. Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house. Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

John 11:17-22 (KJV)

Girls soccer sectionals

County teams set for championship showdowns

HSE-Noblesville, Carmel-GC finals, Huskies advance at New Castle

The stage is set for two all-Hamilton County sectional championships in girls soccer on Saturday.

At Hamilton Southeastern, the host and No. 3-ranked Royals beat city rival and No. 8 Fishers 3-2 in the first semi-final Thursday at Class 3A Sectional 8. Southeastern will play No. 2 Noblesville, which beat Anderson 5-0 in the second semi-final.

The Royals scored their first goal on a penalty kick by Izzie Wallace. With that score, Wallace became the all-time single-season goal scoring leader for Southeastern, breaking the record set by Vandi Ogden.

Wallace said she set a goal during the pre-season to get the record.

“I couldn’t have done it without my teammates, honestly,” said Wallace. “They were the biggest part of getting that record tonight.”

The Royals went up 2-0 in the 28th minute. Molly Harris made a huge kick from midfield well inside the penalty area on the right side. Ashlyn Freeman collected the ball and crossed it over to a charging Ashley Wilson, who easily put the ball in the net from a few yards out.

“It was huge to have a two-goal cushion for the ‘what if,’ said Southeastern coach Greg Davidson. “And then the ‘what if’ happened. They get the goal and make it 2-1. So for us to answer and get a two-goal pad again, again it was huge.”

Fishers answered less than a minute later, when Ellen Stump booted the ball in from the far-right corner of the penalty area. Southeastern got its third goal with 2:15 left in the half; Layla Brown drove past three Tiger defenders and kicked the ball in from about eight yards out.

That put the Royals up 3-1, and they would hold that lead at halftime, and for the first part of the second half. Fishers got within 3-2 with 22:20 left to play after Kaysey Castro’s corner kick bounced into the net. But Southeastern was able to hang on for the win.

“We defended with vigor to make sure that we were going to win 3-2,” said Davidson.

The Royals are 16-2 for the season, while Fishers finished its year 9-2-5.

In the second semi-final, Noblesville got on the board just 59 seconds into the game when Sydney Anderson scored a goal. The Millers added two quick goals a few minutes later by Isabella Griffey and Kiana Siefert. Abby Baker added a goal in the 17th minute.

“They came out, Anderson, played hard, and our girls played with class and played the way that represented ourselves, our school, our community well,” said Noblesville coach Mike Brady. “And that makes me proud.”

Noblesville’s fifth goal came in the 73rd minute, when senior Lexi Gibbs scored her first career varsity goal.

“I was really excited about it and I’m happy that all my teammates supported me and cheered for me,” said Gibbs. “It was just really overwhelming because it’s never happened before. They’re so supporting and I just love having a team like that.”

The Millers are 12-0-3 for the season. Noblesville and Southeastern will face off at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Royals’ field for the Sectional 8 championship.

Over at Carmel’s Murray Stadium, the No. 1-ranked and defending 3A state champion Greyhounds advanced to the final, then Guerin Catholic pulled off an upset to fill the other spot in the championship game of Class 3A Sectional 10.

Carmel defeated No. 18 Zionsville 3-0. Kelsie James scored the Greyhounds’ first goal in the 16th minute off a direct free kick. Brooke Bailey added the second goal off an assist by Susie Soderstrom in the 30th minute, and that would give Carmel a 2-0 halftime lead. The ‘Hounds got one more goal with 4:55 left in the game, when Emma Antoine scored, with Morgan Parker assisting.

Erin Baker made four saves as goal-keeper, including an early save that gave Carmel the momentum. It was Baker’s ninth shutout of the season. The Greyhounds are now 14-0-3.

The Golden Eagles upset No. 14 North Central 3-0. Caroline Quinn put Guerin Catholic ahead 1-0 just before halftime off an assist by Emersen Jennings. Jentrie Gearheart scored on a free kick with 22 minutes left in the game, then Anna Schultheis added the third goal several minutes later.

The Golden Eagles are 6-6-2 for the season. The Sectional 10 championship game will be played at 7 p.m. Saturday at Murray Stadium.

Noblesville players (from left) McKenna Corley, Kiana Siefert, Morgan Peters and Kylie Roberts warm up for the second half of the Millers' Class 3A Sectional 8 semi-final game with Anderson Thursday at Hamilton Southeastern. Noblesville won 5-0 and will play the Royals in Saturday's championship game.

Senior LPGA Championship gives back to of Riley Hospital patients, families

When it comes to charitable giving, golf has long been recognized as the most prolific supporter among all professional sports in the United States. The $3 billion-plus professional golf has presented to worthy causes is a humbling figure, but the real inspiration comes in meeting the beneficiaries of such support. At the Senior LPGA Championship at French Lick Resort, which will be held for the third consecutive year this Oct. 14 – 16, a special legacy is being built between the tournament, the resort, the community and the families of the benefitting charity, the Riley Hospital for Children.

The third-annual Senior LPGA Championship presented by Old National Bank tees off this month on the Pete Dye Course at French Lick Resort in French Lick, Indiana. The field of 78 players include, members of the World Golf Hall of Fame, Major Champions, and past LPGA stars over the age of 45 who will compete in the 54-hole Major Championship.

During tournament week, there’s a palpable air of competition. It’s a senior women’s major championship, after all. However, the prevailing sense of camaraderie and community is stoked by the presence of the nearly two dozen Riley Kids (patients and former patients of the hospital) who are invited to partake in the week’s festivities with their families. Some of the Riley Kids have the opportunity to announce the pros on the first tee during the golf tournament, others share their stories at the Pro-Am pairings party, others get the chance to caddie for players or just meet and socialize with the legends of the women’s game.

So, while two-time defending champion Laura Davies eyes up her shot at a three-peat and a full field of 45-and-older pros chase her down for a share of the $600,000 prize purse, there’s still a fun-spirited levity to this event. There’s also a clear appreciation for the support French Lick Resort has committed to the Riley Children’s Foundation over the past five years, which is expected to surpass $1 million at this year’s event.

“French Lick Resort has been an amazing champion of the Riley Children’s Foundation. Making these brave kids and their families a focal point during the Senior LPGA has provided immeasurable inspiration and a deeper connection with the fans and community,” says Rob Moritz, senior corporate gift officer for Riley Hospital for Children. “The Riley Kids and their families are treated like royalty when they’re at that incredible resort and their gratitude and positive attitudes leave a lasting impression on everyone they meet.”

Three-time cancer survivor and former Indianapolis University golfer Ashlyn Brown, who has worked in television production and now has her sights on studying to become a radiologist, has been on hand at previous Senior LPGA Championships and is expected to hit the ceremonial first shot at this year’s tournament.

Last year, Indiana native and the oldest-known living Riley Kid, Genevieve Bennett Slater was on hand to introduce the players at the first tee. Now 92 years old, Slater was a Riley patient between the ages of five and 16, when she had multiple surgeries to avert a birth defect.

“The patients and their families get to be a part of something special and the people they meet walk away with a deep, unforgettable appreciation for the work the Riley Hospital for Children does for so many children in our Indiana communities and beyond,” says Joe Vezzoso, vice president of sales for French Lick Resort.

Having hosted one of the first LPGA events in 1957 and the LPGA Championship in 1959 and 1960, it’s fitting that that French Lick continues that legacy by hosting the Senior LPGA Championship. French Lick Resort director of golf Dave Harner, who, along with Cook Group chairman of the board Steve Ferguson and the LPGA’s Jane Blalock was instrumental in bringing professional women’s golf back to French Lick, say he and his team are committed to giving the LPGA golfers who paved the way for today’s tour the recognition they’ve earned. “They deserve a place to play and compete and the reaction and participation from these legends of the game has been tremendous,” Harner says.

For the players, the chance to meet the beneficiaries of the tournament’s designated charity face-to-face is always impactful. LPGA player president Vicki Goetze-Ackerman, who will again be competing in this year’s tournament, had the chance to visit the Riley Hospital for Children a in September along with a team of French Lick staffers and LPGA officials and saw the incredible quality of life and care administered there.

“I continue to be humbled by everything Riley does for these kids and their families. We got to see the Child Life amenities and activities which allows the patients to play game, create art and take part in activities that give them relief from the grind of their treatment,” Goetze-Ackerman says. “They even had a putting course set up on the lawn. Everyone was all smiles. Their spirits and attitudes just amaze me.”

Goetze-Ackerman has developed a bond with a Riley Kid she met at breakfast prior to last year’s Pro-Am round, 14-year-old Evan Noble, who is the same age as her son, Jake. Noble caddied for two-time U.S. Women’s Amateur champion and helped calm her nerves in her first competitive round in more than a decade.

“To the gallery, it probably looked like we were doing something special for him, but the truth is that he was my angel. Putting my focus on his experience and making sure he was enjoying his time out there helped me settle in and not worry about how rusty my game was,” says Goetze-Ackerman. “As a parent, meeting these kids puts a lot into perspective and makes us appreciative a hospital like Riley is giving the best quality care and doing breakthrough research.”

Founded in 1924, the Riley Hospital impacts all 92 counties in Indiana and is Indiana’s only comprehensive pediatric research hospital, with expert physicians in every pediatric specialty handling more than 300,000 patient visits per year. Riley is among the top pediatric research hospitals in the nation, thanks to its partnership with the Indiana University School of Medicine. Riley researchers are working on new treatments and cures for a wide variety of childhood illnesses including: cancer; heart defects; neurological disorders; asthma; cystic fibrosis; and diabetes.

The funds raised from the Senior LPGA Championship at French Lick Resort are earmarked for direct patient care.

“I think this tournament will continue to grow in stature and will lead to more playing opportunities for the game’s past champions,” Harner says. “We also look forward to growing our partnership with Riley.”
