Former Noblesville basketball standout dies in farm accident

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office is investigating a farm accident resulting in the death of an Arcadia man. Deputies were dispatched to the area of 274th Street and Ott Road in the northern part of Hamilton County near Arcadia shortly after 7:30 p.m. last Wednesday. Detectives and deputies working the incident reported a local farmer harvesting a soybean field was decelerating to turn a corner in the field when Anthony Etchison, 47, Arcadia, attempted to climb aboard the step ladder of the John Deere combine harvester. While attempting to access the still-moving combine harvester in the dark and dusty field, Etchison fell and was unable to avoid being run over by the vehicle's large tires. Etchison was pronounced dead at the scene of the incident. Etchison was a four-year letter winner in basketball at Noblesville and was a member of the 1989, 1990 and 1991 sectional championship teams. He was named All-County four times and was the Hamilton County Player of the Year two times. The Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame named him to the 2016 Silver Anniversary Team, and he is a member of the Hamilton County Basketball Hall of Fame. A prayer vigil for Etchison was held last Thursday evening at the football field at Hamilton Heights High School. The Sheriff's Office was assisted by the Arcadia Police Department, the Jackson Township Fire Department and Hamilton County Public Safety Communications throughout the incident.

Fishers City Council passes 2020 budget

By LARRY LANNAN | LarryInFishers.com

There was no opposition among the nine members of the Fishers City Council as the body voted to approve a $119 million 2020 spending plan on Oct. 21. The vote was 9-0. Councilman David George was unable to attend last month's budget session where Mayor Scott Fadness laid out the numbers for the council. A public hearing was held on the budget in September, but no one chose to speak.

The new road, which will be called Westfield Boulevard, is a joint project between Westfield and the state of Indiana, with the state covering 90 percent of the cost.

Westfield set to begin work on new road

The REPORTER

Last Thursday, Westfield Mayor Andy Cook joined city and state leaders to break ground on what is being called the new Westfield Boulevard. The road construction is a collaborative project between the State of Indiana and the City of Westfield. "This project is a great example of how all levels of government can work together for the community," said Cook. "The new Westfield Boulevard will not only ease traffic through our downtown but it will open an entire area along U.S. 31 for economic development." The new road will run 0.65 miles between 169th Street and Park Street and cost $4.8 million. Because it crosses the Anna Kendall Legal Drain, a bridge is included. The project also includes new trail connectivity along 169th Street and north along Westfield Boulevard to give pedestrians direct access to Grand Junction Plaza and Park Street. Eventually it will connect to the Monon Trail on the west side of U.S. 31.

The construction is a Federal Exchange project. The city will pay 10 percent of the construction costs and the state will cover the remaining 90 percent. Construction is scheduled to be complete by Nov. 27, 2020. Future plans call for the road to extend future south and connect with Westfield Boulevard at 161st Street.

Carmel council asks lawmakers to stop 5G pending health risk assessments

By DAN KLEIN

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The latest cellphone technology is called 5G, which can be up to 100 times faster than 4G. But is it safe? Carmel is the first community in Central Indiana to take up the issue. Unlike tall traditional cell phone towers, 5G technology goes right on top of a utility pole. The signal strength is much weaker so many more are needed. One provider estimates it will need 300,000 of them nationwide, compared to the 220,000 current cell phone towers. The problem for Carmel city leaders like Councilman Ron Carter is, "We cannot regulate where they are placed. We cannot tell one of those companies where it would be appropriate." – As well as how close they are built to houses and bedrooms. It's a technology that comes with a radiation warning on the pole itself. "No, I really don't think enough research has been done," said Carter. But tech companies point to many other studies and research, even in places like the American Cancer Society, which state there is a minimal chance for harm. In a sharply divided 4-3 vote this week, the Carmel city council passed a resolution co-sponsored by Carter asking the state and the federal government to stop all 5G until the matter is settled. That's why City Councilman Jeff Worrell voted no. "I don't know if it will ever be settled," said Worrell. Worrell also worries since the city has no power to regulate locations of 5G nodes, the resolution will damage relationships with cell phone providers and have a chilling effect on future business opportunities. "We are firing the shot and it's a worthless shot to take. It seemed to be symbolic because we have no authority, no ability," said Worrell. "Do we really want to be the community that says no 5G in Carmel? I'm not prepared to say that yet." But the city councilmen do agree on two things: First, they wish state lawmakers didn't take authority from them. Second, they also agree on the 5G itself. "Right now, fairly neutral," said Carter. "I'm not for or against 5G technology," Worrell added.

Sheridan's water treatment facility switching to chloramine disinfection

The REPORTER

To optimize its treatment process and improve water quality, Indiana American Water will be switching to chloramines at its Sheridan water treatment facility the week of Nov. 3. Chloramination, the practice of mixing a small amount of ammonia in the disinfection process, will optimize and enhance the treatment process in Sheridan and also reduce the likelihood of creating disinfection byproducts (DBP) during the treatment process. DBPs are potentially harmful contaminants that form when disinfectants react with naturally occurring organic materials in the source water. Although the use of chloramines is proven to be safe, two groups of customers must take special care when using chloraminated water, Kidney dialysis patients and fish owners. Kidney dialysis patients Because water comes in contact with the bloodstream in the dialysis process, chloramines in the water would be toxic, just as chlorine is also toxic. Chloramines can be removed by adding ascorbic acid or by filtering the water through granular activated carbon prior to use. Kidney dialysis patients should contact their physician or local kidney dialysis center for guidance on modifications to dialysis machines and procedures. Dialysis patients can drink chloraminated water and use it for bathing, washing wounds and other standard uses of water.

Fish owners

Both chlorine and chloramines are toxic to fish in very low levels and must be removed from the water to be used in an aquarium. Most pet stores sell a disinfectant removal product that can be added to tap water. Additional information on the switch to chloramines can be obtained by calling the Indiana American Water customer service center at 1-800-492-8373 or visiting indianaamwater.com.

HSE Superintendent gets pay raise, contract extension

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) School Superintendent Allen Bourff has a new contract extension through June 30, 2021. The HSE School Board approved the new pact, calling for a 2 percent increase to an annual salary of $189,702, effective July 1, 2019. The contract calls for Dr. Bourff's incentive compensation for the period July 1, 2018 to

June 30, 2019 to be $14,872 (0.08 percent X $185,982). Dr. Bourff's contract was approved by the board last Wednesday night by a vote of 6-1, with Amanda Shera the only no vote. The vote was for the approval of the Consent Agenda, which included four items — meeting minutes, a staffing report, a donations report and Dr. Bourff's compensation. Shera did not specify during the meeting why she voted no on the Consent Agenda. The board also gave final approval to the 2020 budget and the new contract with the district's teachers, a two-year agreement that begins retroactively to the start of this school year.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

George explained why he planned to vote for the budget, pointing to long-term plans to repair and resurface streets and roads in the city as they age.
During the community comment period at the end of the council session, Democratic candidate for Fishers City Council At-Large, Jocelyn Vare, criticized the process used by the city administration and council in explaining the 2020 budget to the public. She suggested the 2021 budget process be done differently, calling for a public explanation of the budget in plain language 30 days before the public hearing.
The 2020 budget calls for a 3 percent employee pay hike and includes a 2-cent-per-$100 of assessed property value tax rate increase.
Logan Day, an unsuccessful mayoral candidate in this year’s Republican primary election, chose to turn to another subject during the community comment time. He asked that the council vote on releasing the report done by an outside law firm concerning allegations that City Clerk Jennifer Kehl had violated the Civil Rights Act of 1964 in dealing with employees in her office.
The firm found no violations of the law in its probe, but a brief statement from the city said the report found management issues in the City Clerk’s office and reduced Clerk Kehl’s responsibilities and staff. The full report has never been made public, with the city arguing that one or more of the employees still has the right to file an action with the Equal Opportunity Employment Commission (EEOC).
Day said the city could release the report and redact private information, such as the employee names.

Fishers City Council committee votes for $255K in nonprofit support

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The City of Fishers plans to spend $255,000 of the 2020 municipal budget supporting local nonprofit organizations.
The three-member Fishers City Council Non-profit Committee, consisting of council members Pete Peterson, Cecilia Coble and the Chairman Todd Zimmerman, held a discussion last Monday evening on how to support specific local organizations next year, based on funding requests submitted by local nonprofits.

Here are the committee’s recommendations for 2020 funding:
• $65,250 for the Hamilton County Youth Assistance Program
• $64,707 for Youth Mentoring Initiative (YMI)
• $15,043 for Janus
• $100,000 for Conner Prairie
• $10,000 for the HSE Schools Foundation
The committee had a lengthy discussion about the proposal from the HSE Schools Foundation, concerned the money requested was for alumni outreach and not programs impacting current students. As a result, the committee provided less than the foundation requested.
The spending proposal next goes to the City Council Finance Committee, and if approved there, will go to the full council for a final vote.

Noblesville Ice Plaza looking for seasonal workers

The REPORTER
The Federal Hill Commons Ice Plaza will return for its third season to offer residents a winter outdoor recreational activity.
The Noblesville Parks Department is looking for seasonal workers to make the temporary ice rink a success. The city is looking to hire a site coordinator and multiple rink monitors.
“We are hoping to find several residents who would be excited to work at one of Noblesville’s newest holiday traditions and a fun atmosphere,” Parks Director Brandon Bennett said.

Each position assists in maintaining the ice rink (applying water, shoveling, scraping and lifting shaved ice/snow), inspects the general condition of facilities and equipment to help ensure participant’s safety, and collects daily ice plaza fees and keeps accurate records. Visit bit.ly/2BT1O7b to apply.
Federal Hill Commons was designed to be a year-round park, and the winter activities both there and across downtown drive more residents to the heart of Noblesville during the holiday season. The Ice Plaza welcomes all ages to participate and rental ice skates range from kid to adult sizes. More information about the Ice Plaza will be announced shortly.

Pros and cons of school

Why the idea of school is a flawed philosophy

Editor’s Note: The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School’s 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

The point of school from pre-school up through high school is to give students a wide range of ideas and classes so they are exposed to anything that they may be interested in doing with their lives.

While this is a very good idea, I believe that it shouldn’t be in effect through high school. In elementary and middle school, it is perfect because then the students can be exposed to everything, but in high school, what you do and how you do in school matters in the long term. While there are flaws in school, like this and others, there are also good things about school, like the social development aspect of it.

MICHAEL CRONIN
Sheridan High School Student

I’ll start first with the good things about school. Taking part in school requires the student to be self-disciplined by having to get up and get ready in time for school and by having to do their own work within a certain time frame. This is a key aspect of life that most everyone learned in school.

School also teaches students to work together and to work with people they might not like. In other words, it teaches students how to become better socially. This, as well, is a major aspect of life that is used every day.

Another good thing about school, in my opinion, is the ability to play sports for that school. It gives people the ability to be active and to be better at that sport. For me personally, I play tennis, which isn’t actually a school sport at my school, which is very unfortunate. It is basically just run by one person at a park nearby and we are only able to play against each other because we don’t have enough courts.

And one last good thing about school for me is that school can be fun. Only sometimes.

Now the bad things about school. To continue on my point earlier, the idea of school is to give kids a wide variety of classes so they get exposed to things they may want to do in the future such as literature or science.

But, as a high school student, I feel as if I have already been introduced to everything that I might like to do in the future. Because I have already been introduced to some topics that I am not interested in, I feel as if I should have the option not to take those classes in high school. All it does is add stress to my life when I know my future won’t be based around it.

Another bad thing is the stress, like I just mentioned, as well as anxiety that is built up through a class that I don’t even want to be in but am forced to take. For example, I do not want to be in speech, but it is a required class. I am already good at talking to people, so why do I have to take speech? All it does is get me anxious and stressed.

All in all, the idea of school has many good aspects as well as one major downside. Personally, I love school, and I always have. I really enjoy being able to get out of the house and get together with my friends. It’s just all of the stress built up through classes that I have to take but I won’t use seems miserable, and I believe we should have the opportunity not to take them.

Obituary

Trace Daniel Bulger
d. October 23, 2019

Trace Daniel Bulger, 23, died on October 23, 2019, at home with his family in Noblesville. Trace’s first name means courageous, battler, or brave, which are qualities that have always defined him. Now and forever, Trace will battle for his friends and family to join him in heaven.

Trace is survived by his parents, Dan and Amy, and younger sisters, Shaelen and Maris, as well as many beloved extended family members. He also leaves behind an indelible legacy on the Guerin Catholic High School, Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church, and Wabash College communities.

As a child, Trace was a lover of books and movies, often memorizing all the lines of favorite films like Elf or Shrek. He was called “Trace the Sword Man” or “Sport” as a boy because he loved to play with hand-crafted toy swords and compete in team sports. He was proud of being on a youth football team that won the CYO City Championship in an undefeated season.

As a young man, Trace was gifted with many talents. He excelled as a student, athlete, artist, disciple and leader.

Trace graduated with honors from Guerin Catholic High School and made the Dean’s List at Wabash College.

He was a varsity athlete in football and track & field in high school and a two-time sectional champion. He played both of these sports at the collegiate level at Wabash College as well.

An aspiring Renaissance man, Trace was majoring in Art at Wabash College, sang in the Golden Voice choir at Guerin Catholic, and created his own poetry website. He typically used his gifts in the arts to improve the lives of others, and many friends have artwork, poems, or letters created just for them by Trace. He even created a cooking club at Wabash called Trace’s Munch that invited students and faculty to foster community by joining together in a full meal prepared by Trace.

Inspired by his family, Trace was a deeply faithful young man. He was a Cross Bearer and Eucharistic Minister at his home parish, Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church, and helped at the Newman Center at Wabash College. As a high school student, he served as a leader and Mayor for EDGE, Our Lady of Grace’s junior high youth ministry, and was a part of numerous faith activities, including overnight retreats and the Living Way of the Cross.

In most of his pursuits, Trace was recognized as a leader. In addition to his many talents, he was strong and principled, as well as compassionate and personable. He thrived when others were counting on him and was brave in the face of challenge. He was a fierce but fair competitor. Others gravitated towards Trace because he was both mighty and magnanimous.

Trace also had a youthful innocence about him, and he was unafraid to share his exuberance for the simple things in life. He always looked forward to family vacations, holiday traditions, and cookouts or birthday parties. He loved a good game of cornhole at the lake. He sang in the shower ... loudly. One year he called to tell his mom he was driving around the Noblesville Square with windows open, singing and blasting Christmas music. He loved his dog, Komet, a yellow lab he received as a First Communion gift; Trace would lay in the yard talking to him and taking his picture. He could be found painting or sketching frequently and the borders of his class notes were full of doodles. He was known for writing beautifully touching letters to family members on Mother’s Day, Father’s Day and birthdays. He never seemed too busy to lend a helping hand.

Trace had an incredible experience at Wabash College. He made friends quickly and even became good friends with many of the visiting parents, siblings and grandparents of his Wabash classmates. He was the type of person who would propose having a get-together for his parents to meet his friends’ parents. He was a proud member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity at Wabash, an avid volunteer on campus, and an honorary Sphinx Club Member. Trace loved everything about Wabash College and the brotherhood of that community.

Trace was handsome with striking, beautiful blue eyes, had a kind heart, and behaved with a respectful demeanor. He adored his two younger sisters and was a loving, protective and extremely proud big brother. At many times, the three of them would be heard laughing heartily at silly jokes and antics together while snuggled on a couch. His parents loved him deeply and have been inspired by him again and again and again.

Trace spent the last few years of his life in a battle against a progressive, degenerative, neurological disease. He took on this illness with the same traits he did so many other parts of his life: with bravery, dignity and faith. He never once complained about why it happened to him and always held out hope for a diagnosis, cure, or miracle recovery. He traveled the country and the world to seek a remedy – from the medical to the divine. Even the loss of motor functions and speech could not keep him from sharing powerful moments of humor, hope and spirit with others. He inspired many to prayer and faith through the weekly Rosary at his home for over two and a half years during the illness.

Trace’s many communities rallied around him and his family during this challenging time. Those many acts of support stand as a testament to the spectacular man Trace was and was becoming. Now that Trace’s suffering has come to an end, he has nothing to hold him back from acting bravely and faithfully for all eternity.

Trace wrote these words to his Wabash brothers that echo for us all:

Do not be sad, brethren, for sadness itself is a disease. Instead, be merry and enjoy each day, knowing that my heart is always with you and there it will forever stay.

Visitation and a group Rosary were held on Monday, October 28, 2019 at Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church, 9900 E. 191st St., Noblesville. Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, October 29, 2019 at the church. Burial will immediately follow at Our Lady of Peace Cemetery in Indianapolis.

Mel Featherston: No nonsense with humor

Mel Featherston was the kind of guy who helps make a community wholesome and stable. He passed away last week at the age of 94, one of the last of what has been called the Greatest Generation.

Mel liked to be considered a farmer, but he was more than that. He was above all a family man, a supporter of his church, shrewd businessman, public servant and military veteran. And, he approached it all with a keen sense of humor.

I first met Mel in the 1960s when he was a candidate for County Auditor. As a newspaper reporter, I got to know him well. It was a time of hardball politics in Hamilton County. I didn’t think Mel was interested in playing in that game, but he was not one to cave-in if pressured.

FRED SWIFT
The County Line

Eventually there was a showdown between Mel and Judge Ed New. As in other cases, New issued orders that his wishes be obeyed and the auditor’s office would provide a license plate for a former sheriff’s patrol car which would be used by a court probation officer. Mel got the plate, but reminded the judge that according to law, the car should not go on the road with sheriff’s colors and needed to be repainted.

The judge did not care to wait, and told Mel he wanted the plate or a contempt citation would be issued. Mel hid the plate behind a radiator and said no deal. He was jailed.

That brought wide attention from the news media. Mel conducted an impromptu press conference at the jail’s kitchen window which he approached with his usual sense of humor. He said he was a political prisoner and only hoped he could get out in time to teach his Sunday school class. He was soon released.

Unlike some today, Mel knew how to deal the news media. His opinions and office records were an open book. As a reporter, I appreciated that, and we had great relations. It was a time of informality, and as I look back, it is hard to imagine a public official’s wife now serving a birthday cake to a reporter as Nancy Featherston did on my 30th birthday.

After leaving the public arena, Mel went on to other business and civic endeavors almost too numerous to list, but he remained active until he was 90 or more. I can only say, Melvin Featherston was my kind of guy.

They just showed up: Reflections on community

10+ combines, 13+ semis, 4+ tractors, and grain carts running all across the county, all helping out one family. The pictures showed how a family was being loved.

It was a post on Facebook after the tragic death of one of Hamilton County’s finest young men. Tony Etchison.

People showed up on the football field as well. Hundreds. Even on the football field, respect was paid. The family saw the support and that support won’t go away.

JANET HART LEONARD
From the Heart

Sometimes there are no words to express grief. Sometimes there are no words to express sympathy. You just show up.

Our community has seen more than its fair share of tragedy lately.

You cry with those who are brokenhearted. Let them speak from their crushed spirit. And you listen.

You can’t make it better but your presence can make it easier.

Not all of those who came to harvest the crops for the Etchisons may have personally known the family. But they were farmers. That made them family.

I could not get the Etchison family out of my mind on Thursday. It was like there was a dark cloud over Hamilton County. So many of us watched Tony and his brother, Eric, play basketball for the Noblesville Millers.

I am blessed to live in this amazing community which has always come together during the hard times.

Grief lingers. Grief has its own timetable. The overwhelming waves come and knock you down just when you think you are getting better.

You can’t explain why bad things happen to good people. They just happen.

Sometimes all we can do is be there.

Look at that field full of farmers from all over the county. On that field they were family.

Look at the football field full of Hamilton Heights Husky fans and Noblesville Miller fans.

On Thursday, they all were Tony Etchison fans. And they came together just as our community always does.

Bone density, fitness key concern for women over 50

Note to Readers – Due to my own diagnosis of osteoporosis and the importance of proper treatment, I believe this article bears repeating.

“I knew very little about osteoporosis before I was diagnosed. When I found out I was shocked...”

– Ursula Andress, actress and former 'Bond Girl'

While most of my columns focus on aspects of nutrition and well-being, I digress this time to expound on another topic of personal interest to me – the importance of strength and resistance activity for women over 50. Resistance training can counteract the weakening effects of modern and sedentary living. Obviously, most of us ladies in a particular age category want to look as fit as possible, which is a great goal but not the primary factor I will discuss today.

Sorry to do this, but here

SHARON McMAHON

are some sobering statistics: According to the CDC (Center for Disease Control & Prevention) the latest statistics show that approximately 5 million women over 50 suffer from osteoporosis, and 80 percent of those who suffer from the disease in this country are women. The AAOS (American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons) estimates that 70 percent of those who suffer injuries from falls do not return to their pre-injury status.

While the tendency to suffer from bone density issues is often hereditary, there are activities which can stave off some of those issues. (There are also nutritional objectives which I will save for another time.) Addressing mobility, range of motion, functionality, all of these are critical to our health and well-being. Strength training can also benefit a reduction in blood pressure, lower back pain, arthritic pain – not to mention increasing the ability to lift household items, climb stairs, participate in golf, tennis, etc.

There are many avenues to resistance and strength training which can be achieved by taking classes or working with a personal trainer. Some people prefer to utilize free weights, resistance bands, or exercise machines, or even their own body weight. Those with knee and back issues can effectively benefit from aqua workouts as well. Flexibility is crucial as well to maintain range of motion and balance.

At this point, I will re-emphasize my passion for the importance of maintaining bone density, because without it we set ourselves up for a fall, both literally and figuratively. The pain of broken bones together with the loss of independence is something that we need to address. Having said that, I urge you to meet with your physician to access your risk for osteoporosis and the efficacy of strength and weight training for you.

Studies of postmenopausal women report that strength training can increase bone mineral density in the spine. Before beginning a program on your own or through a supervised class, it is very important to undergo a thorough medical examination to determine which activities are best for you. Your physician should provide you with a medical evaluation of fracture risk, muscle strength, range of motion, fitness and gait.

A stronger body will serve you well physically in the years ahead and boost your confidence in your appearance and energy level. Good advice for those over-50, definitely. Forty-somethings, not a bad idea for you as well!

the way to the final buzzer, but Penn stunned Noblesville by scoring with three seconds left. That made the score 1-1, and sent the game to overtime.

“That’s a well-coached team that fought to the bitter end,” said Millers coach Mike Brady. “Could’ve given up, but they didn’t. And they made it real difficult for us to take the next step that we want to take.”

In high school soccer, overtime consists of two seven-minute periods, with the teams switching sides in between. The score remained 1-1 after the first overtime.

With about a minute and a half left in the second overtime, Chatterton collected the ball at midfield and began driving down the field. The Kingsmen kicked the ball in the other direction, but Ava Bramblett found it and booted it toward the goal. The ball made its way into the goal box, where Anderson kicked it in to give the Millers the lead with 1:11 left. Noblesville held off Penn from that point forward.

“Honestly, I just kept following Jenna’s run,” said Anderson. “I saw her headed up and I knew if I just followed and finished that it would be in.”

“That was us fighting to the end,” said Brady, whose team improved to 16-0-3 for the season and won the program’s third semi-state title. “We had already started talking about penalty kicks, and who was going to take them if it went that far. But our girls weren’t going to give up at that point. They fought.”

Down at Evansville, the Greyhounds also played to a scoreless tie at halftime. But Carmel’s Olivia Fray scored with 14 minutes left to play, and the ‘Hounds held on from there.

Carmel is now 18-0-3 for the season. The Greyhounds also won their record-extending 12th semi-state championship.

The Noblesville girls soccer team won the Class 3A north semi-state at Kokomo last Saturday, holding off Penn in overtime 2-1. The Millers qualified for Saturday’s 3A state championship game and will take on Carmel at Fishers High School.

Carmel earned its spot in the 3A state championship game by winning the south semi-state title last Saturday at Evansville North. The Greyhounds beat Castle 1-0 and will take on Noblesville Saturday at Fishers.

BOYS GAMES

The Noblesville boys soccer team was trying to make it a Millers sweep at Kokomo. But a determined Lake Central team had other plans, beating No. 8 Noblesville 2-1 to end the Millers’ season.

The boys game was also scoreless at halftime. The Indians quickly took the lead at the beginning of the second half, getting their first goal just 18 seconds in. Noblesville tied the game in the 49th minute on a penalty kick by Jack Miller, but Lake Central scored six minutes later to take back the lead, and would keep it until the buzzer.

“They had a game plan for us,” said Millers coach Ken Dolaske. “They knew all of our good players. They had that in the bag. So kudos to Lake Central for playing a really good game. It’s just tough.”

Noblesville finished its season with a 16-3-2 record. Guerin Catholic played the 2A south semi-state against Evansville Memorial at Evansville North. The No. 2 Tigers beat the No. 5 Golden Eagles in a penalty kick shootout to advance to the state championship game.

Memorial scored the first goal during the game’s sixth minute, but Guerin Catholic answered a few minutes later, with Joseph Lafiosca putting the equalizer in the net. That tied the game with 30:10 left to go, and the score remained 1-1 at halftime.

Neither team scored in the second half, so it was on to overtime. The first extra period was scoreless, but the Golden Eagles seemed to have things in hand when Bryce Dolenc scored with 1:01 left in the second OT.

The Tigers answered just 27 seconds later, however, so the overtime ended at 2-2. That sent the game to the shootout, where Memorial won 3-2.

Guerin Catholic finished its season 13-6-3.

Volleyball

Royals power their way to regional title

The Hamilton Southeastern volleyball team gave a large, loud Royals crowd something to cheer about last Saturday night at The Mill.

Southeastern won the Class 4A Noblesville regional, overcoming McCutcheon in four sets – 23-25, 25-17, 25-20, 25-9 – to claim the program’s second regional trophy. The Royals won their first in 2015, and four years later, they are going back to the semi-state.

Southeastern will play Crown Point Saturday in the 4A north semi-state at Frankfort. The match will start at 6 p.m., after the 1A north semi-state between Morgan Township and Cowan, which beings at 4 p.m.

Before they could start thinking about semi-state, the No. 3 Royals had to get past a tough No. 6 Mavericks team that was 32-1 coming into the regional final. McCutcheon edged out Southeastern for the first set, but the Royals turned the tables in the next two sets, then ran away with the fourth set.

“I think we just continued to steady out, and then we just got into our game, which is serving and swinging, and we just calmed down a little bit,” said HSE coach Jason Young. “I think that made the difference for us, and again, we’ve got some kids that have been in that environment before. I think that helps.”

The Royals indeed kept things swinging in the match: Delaney Garner and Abby Weber both hit 18 kills, while Grace Hunter put down 14 kills. Olivia Phillips handed out 24 assists, and Emily Weber dished out 20 assists. Abby Weber served three aces.

On defense, Carly Mills collected 30 digs, and in the process broke a school record for career digs. Abby Weber had 27 digs and Hunter picked up 19 digs. Garner had three blocks.

In the semi-final match, Southeastern cruised past Homestead 25-7, 25-8, 25-15.

Abby Weber hit 13 kills, with Hunter putting down 10 and Garner hitting seven. Phillips handed out 18 assists, while Kyla Berg served three aces. Mills picked up 22 digs, with Lillian Leiner getting 12 and Abby Weber collecting 10. Garner had four blocks; Young credited her with being dominant at the net.

“I thought the kids came out with great focus,” said Young. “I thought our play at the net was really strong.”

Southeastern is 28-4 for the season.

Cross country

Carmel, Noblesville, Fishers, Southeastern qualify for state

It was a rainy cross country semi-state at Shelbyville last Saturday, but the Carmel and Noblesville teams made it through the rain – and to the state meet.

The Greyhounds and the Millers had both their boys and the girls teams finish in the top six, which qualified them for Saturday's state meet at the LaVern Gibson Cross Country Course in Terre Haute. In addition, one Hamilton County individual qualified for state in both the boys and girls meet.

Carmel's boys didn't just qualify, they won. The Greyhounds scored 89 points to take the semi-state trophy, led by freshman Kole Mathison's sixth-place finish. Grant Moon took eighth.

Noblesville was fifth by scoring 169 points. The Millers had the highest-finishing county runner in the boys race, with Travis Hickner taking fifth. Cole Kimmel placed 12th.

Westfield's Kai Connor

finished 13th in the boys race, and qualified for state as an individual. The top 10 runners on a non-advancing team qualify for the big meet in Terre Haute.

In the girls meet, Carmel finished a close second to Zionsville; the Eagles scored 86 points and the Greyhounds scored 95. Brooklynn Edwards led Carmel by placing 16th.

The Miller girls took fifth place, totaling 154 points. Freshman Brooke Lahee led Noblesville with a 19th-place finish.

Hamilton Heights' Maria Mitchell continued her outstanding post-season run as well. Mitchell was the highest county finisher, placing fifth and earning a spot at state.

Mitchell 18:36.6.
Guerin Catholic runner: 29. Bridget Gallagher 19:23.9.

Up at New Haven, both Fishers and Hamilton Southeastern teams qualified for the state meet.

In the boys race, the Tigers finished third and the Royals were sixth. Fishers scored 99 points and were led by an 11th-12th-13th finish from Drew Smith, Will Clark and Jaylen Castillo. Southeastern scored 179 points; Eric Swinson placed 18th for the Royals.

In the girls race, Fishers finished second with 139 points. The Tigers had three finish in a row as well: Hannah Sale was 24th, Abigail Carter finished 25th and Vera Schafer took 26th.

Southeastern finished fourth as a team with 168 points. The Royals had the highest-placing county runner, with Halle Hill taking seventh.
