Mayor John Ditslear named Sagamore of the Wabash

The REPORTER

Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear was honored with the Sagamore of the Wabash Award during the annual Mayor's Charity Jubilee on Nov. 9. Mayor-elect Chris Jensen presented Ditslear with the award on behalf of Gov. Eric Holcomb, who was unable to attend.

"I was surprised, humbled and honored that Gov. Holcomb thought of me for this distinction," said Ditslear. "I'm proud of the work we have done, the progress we have made and the outstanding reputation that Noblesville has earned. I truly love this city and the people who make up our community, and I thank the citizens for entrusting me with this honor for 16 years as their mayor."

The Sagamore of the Wabash Award is the highest honor bestowed on a citizen by Indiana's governor, and serves as a tribute to those who have rendered a distinguished service to the state. The term "sagamore" was used by the American Indian Tribes of the northeastern United States to describe a lesser chief or a great man among the tribe to whom the true chief would look for wisdom and advice.

The award says Ditslear is "... distinguished by his humanity in living, his loyalty in friendship, his wisdom in council and his inspiration in leadership."

Since taking office in 2004, Ditslear has led Noblesville through tremendous growth and change. The community's population has grown 57 percent to more than 61,000 residents today. By welcoming commercial development and bringing thousands of new jobs to Noblesville, his initiative and leadership guiding that growth have greatly strengthened the local economy – overseeing an increase in assessed value of taxable property by 134 percent to more than $6 billion.

While his time in office is coming to an end, Ditslear has brought about several quality of life initiatives, including a major expansion of trails which has increased to more than 100 total miles. He also has added four new city parks including the purchase of 200 acres for the future Finch Creek Park.

Ditslear oversaw the improvement and expansion of roadways throughout the city including all roundabout intersections in Noblesville. The connection of 146th Street to Interstate 69 as a major traffic artery across the city also led to Simon Property Group's Hamilton Town Center outdoor mall, which helped fuel major commercial growth for both Noblesville and nearby Fishers to set the stage for significant regional development that continues to this day.

Under Ditslear's leadership, the city has focused on strengthening and renovating the historic downtown through façade grants, road and sidewalk improvements and constructing the Riverwalk trail. Noblesville also recently broke ground on the Levinson, downtown's first apartments in more than a century. The $24.3 million mixed-use project, with 83 high-end apartments and a 300-space parking garage, ensures a successful and sustainable downtown for generations to come and is part of the mayor's Noblesville NOW capital improvement plan.

Outside of being mayor, Ditslear was elected to three terms on the Noblesville School Board, and served as a board member for several organizations, including the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce, the Noblesville Boys & Girls Club, the Riverview Hospital Foundation, the Hamilton East Public Library and United Way of Hamilton County. On Saturday evening, it was announced that Ditslear had raised over $1.08 million for local organizations prior to this year through his charity balls.

HSE to buy 40 acres for new school

By LARRY LANNAN | LarryInFishers.com

Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) Schools officials have been on the hunt for a location to build a new elementary school building in Wayne Township, replacing and expanding the capacity of the maxed-out Durbin Elementary School. School officials cannot expand the current Durbin site in Wayne Township due to the lack of water and sewer hookups.

The HSE School Board voted unanimously last Wednesday to purchase about 40 acres of land located at 156th Street and Boden Road in the City of Noblesville. The contract approved by the board calls for a payment of $47,500 per acre to the current owner, which puts the total cost in the range of $1.7 million to $1.9 million.

Superintendent Allen Bourff said the elementary school, if constructed, would need about 22 acres of land, allowing the school corporation the option of constructing another school building on that tract of land in the future.

School corporation attorney David Day said there are long-range plans that call for the possibility of a roundabout construction at the 156th Street and Boden Road intersection. Day also said that, per school Financial Officer Mike Reuter, the school district has sufficient funds to pay for the land without the need of a bond issue.

Bourff added that if the board decides to build an elementary school on the newly purchased acreage, he plans to retain the current Durbin Building and use it for other purposes.

Board Member Brad Boyer asked about the need for a new elementary building in light of the demographer's projection of fewer kindergarten through fourth grade students in the future. Bourff responded that this will not be an additional building, but will replace the current Durbin building and take pressure off nearby elementary buildings with overcrowding issues.

Fishers K9 shot, killed during search

The REPORTER

Fishers police arrested an Indianapolis man and woman last Wednesday following a vehicle pursuit and manhunt.

Shortly after midnight, a Fishers police officer attempted to stop a Cadillac passenger car traveling northbound on Interstate 69 in Fishers. The driver refused to stop and exited the interstate onto Southeastern Parkway. A pursuit of the suspect vehicle terminated near the intersection of 131st Street and Olivo Road. The male driver ran from the car while the female passenger was taken into custody. Officers established a perimeter and an extensive manhunt began.

During the search, a Fishers K9 Officer observed the male suspect. When the suspect refused commands to stop, K9 Harlej was deployed. Shortly after, the officer heard a gunshot and K9 Harlej went missing. After several hours, the male suspect was taken into custody. The suspect was transported to an area hospital where he received medical treatment for a minor leg injury. Both suspects were transported to the Hamilton

Westfield to launch new service recognition program

The REPORTER

Last Thursday, Westfield Mayor Andy Cook announced the City of Westfield will present an award to honor individuals in the community who practice exemplary service. The designation, called the "Westfield Way" award, will be presented monthly as an extension of the city's hospitality initiative.

"A community is not defined solely by amenities or what is built," said Cook. "What truly makes a community great is found in the people – how we serve and support one another. This award will highlight those individuals and organizations going above and beyond."

"We want the people who make this community great to be honored," said Westfield Welcome Director Angie Smitherman. "The hope is that the community embraces this program and works to promote the spirit of hospitality in our city."

The "Westfield Way" award is part of a continuous hospitality effort to better serve all who work, play and live in Westfield. A committee made up of community members and City of Westfield staff will select award recipients from public nominations submitted on the Westfield Welcome website.

For more information about the "Westfield Way" or to nominate an individual for the award, visit westfieldwelcome.com.

Treasurer's Office investigation enters 11th month . . . Special Prosecutor granted 60 more days

The REPORTER

An investigation conducted by the Indiana State Police into allegations of alleged misconduct in the Hamilton County Treasurer's Office is now entering its 11th month.

In December of last year, the Hamilton County Commissioners contacted the Indiana State Police after allegations became public of the Treasurer's Office not charging late tax payment penalties to family members.

Nearly four months into the investigation Hamilton County Prosecutor Lee Buckingham requested a Special Prosecutor be assigned to the case.

The request indicated Buckingham felt the appointment was necessary to avoid the appearance of impropriety.

Buckingham's request was granted by Hamilton County Judge Paul Felix in April of this year. Hancock County Prosecutor Brent Eaton was assigned to oversee the investigation for a court-ordered six-month period.

Now, six months into his assignment, Eaton requested and was granted an additional 60 days to continue his role in the investigation.

In September, Prosecutor Eaton told the Reporter, "I'm hoping things wrap up soon, but I want to be fair, complete and accurate, however long that takes."

HSE Schools gets $100K for energy efficiency

Duke Energy is rewarding Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) Schools for being efficient in the use of electric power. HSE contracted Ameresco to upgrade over 5,700 lighting fixtures at Sand Creek Elementary, Sand Creek Intermediate, and Hamilton Southeastern Intermediate and Junior High. Ameresco replaced the existing fixtures with new energy efficient LEDs fixtures. The project translates into considerable energy and cost savings for the district. "We are pleased to see Hamilton Southeastern School District take advantage of these rebates by upgrading its lighting with more energy-efficient bulbs and fixtures," said Louis P. Maltezos, Executive Vice President of Ameresco. "This project is both a cost saving and an energy saving measure," remarked HSE Energy Manager Bob Rice. Lighting accounts for the second largest portion of energy used in commercial buildings – typically 25 to 30 percent, according to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. It is estimated that in addition to the initial rebate, HSE will reduce its electric bill over $53,884 annually. "I am extremely proud that our district has taken these important steps to conserve energy throughout the district," said Dr. Allen Bourff, Superintendent of the Hamilton Southeastern School District. "We are lessening our

New Smart911 app can better protect residents during emergencies

The REPORTER

Smart911 is now available to all individuals and families in Hamilton County. The free service allows residents to create a safety profile for their household that includes key information they may want 9-1-1 call takers and first responders to have in the event of an emergency.

Schemmer

“Smart911 has been proven to save lives,” said Jeff Schemmer, Executive Director of Hamilton County Public Safety Communications. “The information provided enables us to know exactly where we are going and who we are looking for in a house fire or at the scene of a car accident. Those details save critical time in an emergency.”

When they register, residents will be asked for directions to and photos of their home, medical conditions and photos of their family members, and the make and model of their vehicles. Residents can even add photos of their pets.

“When a citizen makes an emergency call their safety profile is automatically displayed to the 9-1-1 call taker,” Schemmer explains. “This allows them to send the right response teams to the correct location with the accurate information.”

Smart911 also enables citizens to link both home and work addresses to mobile phones, which can be passed on to responders in the field for a more detailed, rapid response.

“Mobile phones currently do not provide an address to the 9-1-1 call taker,” Schemmer explains. “We either get the address for the cell tower your phone is near or the latitude and longitude that requires us to do triangulations to figure out where you’re at. By linking your cell phone to your home address, we’ll be able to save precious time.”

Residents can create their safety profiles at smart911.com. They can also download the Smart911 app at the Apple Store or on Google Play. All information is optional. For more information, contact Hamilton County Public Safety Communications at (317) 776-4401 or HCPSCcommunications@hamiltoncounty.in.gov.

Donald Leo Hensley, 86, Fishers, passed away November 9, 2019. He was born March 22, 1933 in Milan, Ind., to the late John C. and Della Hensley.

Don was a graduate of Milan High School. He proudly served his country in the U.S. Navy, and married Louise A. Teal. Don was the owner/operator of American Asphalt for over 40 years and an avid Colts fan.

Don is survived by his wife of 23 years, Louise A. Hensley; children, Donna Hoyt (Gary), Jacqueline Hensley, Anthony W. Teal (Christina) and Serena Barnes (Lewis); seven grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and several brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews.

Visitation was held on Friday, November 15, 2019, with the service following at Shirley Brothers Fishers-Castleton Chapel.

Memorial contributions are suggested to the American Cancer Society. Condolences: shirleybrothers.com

Nickel Plate locomotive No. 426 getting new life

The REPORTER

The historic Nickel Plate Road locomotive No. 426 hopes to get a new life with the launch of a campaign by the Nickel Plate Express to restore the iconic locomotive.

The fundraising campaign, dubbed Full Throttle, aims to bring the 1953 diesel locomotive back to service in time to support the nonprofit’s Reindeer Ride Express. The popular Reindeer Ride departs from Noblesville’s Forest Park this holiday season.

The 66-year-old diesel locomotive originally served the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad in Frankfort before eventually arriving in Noblesville in 2001 after retiring from freight service. The locomotive boasts its original Nickel Plate Road number and paint scheme.

Noblesville business Noble Coffee and Tea Company is at the forefront of fundraising efforts. The popular coffee shop will roast and sell a special Full Throttle coffee blend to celebrate and support the locomotive’s return. A medium roast with notes of caramel, peanut and chocolate, Full Throttle is available for purchase at Noble Coffee and Tea on the Noblesville square. The company will donate 25 percent of Full Throttle coffee sales to the 426 restoration campaign.

Noble Coffee and Tea co-owner Robyn Littler is particularly excited about this collaboration, as some of her favorite childhood memories involve Nickel Plate train rides with her grandparents, Billy and Lois Poff.

“As supporters of a number of community-minded causes, Noble Coffee & Tea is thrilled to be roasting and retailing the Nickel Plate Full Throttle blend,” said

The 66-year-old locomotive needs approximately $12,000 in new parts and maintenance before it can be placed back into service.

Littler. Cafes or restaurants interested in brewing Full Throttle should contact Littler at robyn@noblecoffee-andtea.com.

The 426 is owned by the City of Noblesville and will be leased to Nickel Plate Express after restoration is complete. The locomotive requires approximately $12,000 worth of new parts and maintenance to return to service on the former Nickel Plate Railroad that runs from Noblesville to Atlanta.

“The City of Noblesville is excited to be part of the effort to help restore the 426 locomotive to its ‘full throttle’ glory,” said Mayor John Ditslear. “We look forward to this new campaign by the Nickel Plate Express in partnership with Noble Coffee so citizens can once again hear the historic 426 rumbling through Forest Park.”

“Having an operable and original Nickel Plate Road locomotive will be an incredible asset for Hamilton County to have once again,” said Dagny Zupin, director of Nickel Plate Express. “We’re thankful to Noble Coffee and Tea for their commitment to leading the way in this preservation effort. The restoration marks an important milestone in the City of Noblesville and Noblesville Parks Department’s efforts to give historic rail equipment a second chance.”

To support the 426 restoration fund with a tax-deductible contribution, visit NickelPlateExpress.com/426 or purchase Full Throttle coffee at Noble Coffee and Tea. Donors at all levels will receive a certificate of contribution to the project, with other donors receiving an NPX T-shirt and certificate – a great Christmas gift for the passionate train fan.

Noblesville adds 35 spaces to downtown’s parking capacity

Former Key Bank lot free for rest of 2019

The REPORTER

The City of Noblesville is partnering with Noblesville Premium Properties LLC to offer additional parking in downtown – and just in time for the holidays.

An agreement was approved Oct. 29 by the Noblesville Board of Public Works for the city to lease 35 parking spaces for public use in the lot located at the southeast corner of 9th Street and Clinton Street – behind the former Key Bank building recently acquired by Darren Ratcliffe of Noblesville Premium Properties. The real estate firm also purchased several other downtown properties earlier this year.

“We appreciate the willingness of Darren and Noblesville Premium Properties to partner with the city and provide additional parking until the Levinson opens in late 2020 with its 300-space parking garage,” said Noblesville Deputy Mayor Steve Cooke.

The city has made the lot free to the public for November and December 2019. Starting in January, the lot will be available to permit holders only through the Noblesville Police Department, but will be free to the public weeknights starting at 5 p.m. and during weekends.

“A successful downtown like ours requires the business community and local government working together to ensure parking is readily available, so we are happy to form this partnership in support of fellow business owners,” Ratcliffe said.

Key Bank’s former ATM machine was removed and new parking spaces were added for the 35 total spaces that will be leased to the city. Five other spaces within the lot will remain with Noblesville Premium Properties as they continue to refurbish the former Key Bank for future tenants. Terms of the parking lease will end on Dec. 31, 2020, when the lot is turned back over to its owner.

HSE Schools to see slight student count increase, then a slight decline

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Jerry McKibben has been the demographer used by the Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) School District for many years, and his latest forecast shows a slight increase in the overall student population in the next few years and a slight decline after that.

But, he also predicts a decline in the kindergarten through fourth grade population as the high school populations grow.

McKibben provided a report to the school board at last Wednesday regular meeting. He said most forecasters were factoring in a recession by this time, but the Federal Reserve has kept interest rates well below 5 percent, which was not predicted a year ago.

This has kept the housing market very hot. In Fishers, there are more existing homes being sold compared to new homes being constructed. He added that the results of the 2020 census, when released in 2021, will provide valuable data to the local school district.

The concept of the “large school effect” was explained, when some families believe their children cannot compete in a large school to participate in extracurricular activities. McKibben says most HSE students in this category end up attending Mount Vernon schools in neighboring Hancock County.

HSE Schools may lose a small amount of the student population over the next 10 years, but will not lose nearly the number of students projected for most school districts in the state of Indiana during that same 10-year period, according to McKibben.

Credit Narcan with fewer opioid deaths

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

Narcan, now available to the general public, is credited for a slight reduction this year in the number of Hamilton County deaths attributed to dangerous opioid drug overdoses.

The county coroner’s office says there have been 20 opioid-related deaths so far in 2019 compared with 22 at approximately the same time last year.

Narcan is a medication used to quickly block the effects of opioids.

It is carried by police and first responders, and is now available at pharmacies.

Overall Hamilton County deaths from drug overdoses are down from 38 last year to 26 so far this year. Heroin, meth and other drugs account for the non-opioid fatalities.

Dangerous and illegal drug use remains a serious problem locally and nationally. A majority of fatalities involve younger males, although some older men and women have been among the victims.

In another attack on the crisis, Deputy Coroner Mark Epperson says the county Drug Task Force is now doing consulting with users, trying to curb fatalities.

Turtle poachers in the U.S.

Editor's Note: The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School's 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

According to an article on national Geographic, com, Will Dillman, an employee at a natural resources department in South Carolina, got a call one day about a turtle trapper. His name is Nathan Horton. He is known for snatching turtles from South Carolina waters and illegally shipping them to Asia. Authorities have known about his actions since 2016.

According to the article, Nathan was found hiding

EMMA COLLINS
Sheridan High School Student

out in a shed. Officers discovered 200 turtles, if not more, in a truck near the location. It was a hot day in South Carolina and the turtles were found malnourished and dehydrated. “Thankfully, these are rare cases,” said Dillman.

There is no exact known number of how many turtle poachers are out there, but natural resources officers are curious to know. The number of them has been increasing in the past few years. It’s known that what they’re doing is illegal, but that still doesn’t stop them.

On Oct. 18, officers found two more turtle poachers who illegally sold more than 4,000 turtles. With this happening, it could cause a dramatic decline in the turtle population. When these people are found, they can be penalized with fines up to $20,000, five years in jail, or both. Dillman ended up only getting fined $4,350 with no jail time.

I personally have a very strong love for turtles. They have always been one of my favorite animals. I find it so sad to see that turtles are such a threatened species when they aren’t even dangerous animals. Yes, having a turtle as a pet is awesome, and that’s okay. As long as the owner is treating it how it should be treated, then there should be no problem. But I think the line needs to be drawn there so people can’t get to the point of taking them from their homes and hurting them.

In the National Geographic article, it was said that poachers used drugs to trap the turtles. I can only imagine how turtles feel when people do this to them.

Turtles are such threatened animals at the moment. They face poachers, pollution in their habitats, and so many other things. I feel that as humans we should act and do more to help all of our wildlife, not just turtles. Almost every animal does something to benefit our earth in a positive way. Animals are a very important part of our ecosystem and we need to start working harder to save them.

Looking at holistic, nutritional tools for good bone health

Note to readers: This is Part II following my most recent article on osteoporosis.

“I knew very little about osteoporosis before I was diagnosed. When I found out I was shocked...”

– Ursula Andress, actress and former 'Bond Girl'

My most recent article on osteoporosis dealt with the importance of strength training and movement in responding to diagnoses of osteopenia and osteoporosis. This article addresses the nutritional aspects of both prevention and maintenance of these conditions. Note: It is imperative that you receive a diagnosis from your physician following a bone scan. Do not self-diagnose these conditions. Early prevention and maintenance can help manage these conditions.

Although there are various pharmaceutical treatment options available, for the purposes of this article I will refer to holistic and nutritional options. Our bones are solid and rigid, but they are very much a dynamic and metabolically active tissue in our bodies. We need calcium to carry out a variety of functions like making our muscles contract. When our bodies need more calcium available in our bloodstream, it gets pulled from our bones. Maintaining a balance between blood levels and bone levels is crucial to maintaining overall health.

In order to absorb calcium, the body requires vitamin D. Mushrooms are an excellent source – other than some supplements, they are the only plant-based source. Wild salmon is another vitamin D source. If you consume dairy products for additional vitamin D make sure that the products are low-fat and environmentally sustainable. Vitamin K is also a vital part of the process of bone formation and maintenance.

SHARON MCMAHON
Be Well

Dark leafy greens, cruciferous vegetables, sauerkraut, soybeans, pickles, pumpkin, pine nuts and blueberries are all good sources of vitamin K.

Zinc, magnesium, and boron each play a role in bone health and are trace minerals meaning that a small amount will suffice. You can find zinc in legumes, nuts, whole grains, dark chocolate (yum!), tofu, hemp seeds and shiitake mushrooms. Look for magnesium in whole wheat, almonds and cashews, dark chocolate (there it is again!) black beans, avocados and tofu. Find boron in raisins, almonds, hazelnuts, dried apricots, peanut butter, walnuts and red kidney beans.

Remember that while supplements can certainly play an important part in your healthy regimen, whole foods are the best option for getting all your nutrition needs met. If you are on any types of medication, be sure to check with your licensed medical practitioner in case there may be any interaction between your medication and your supplements.

As noted in my previous article, weight-bearing and strength training exercise are very important. We want to continuously be able to comfortably and stably support our own body weight throughout our lifetime. It is never too late, or too early, to begin considering how you can make a difference in your aging process and how that effects your quality of life. You can do this!

Mama said there would be days like this

“Janet and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day.”

So I borrowed the title from a children’s book first published in 1972. The title character was Alexander, not Janet.

On Tuesday of this week I found myself caught up in a very bad day ... before noon.

As I headed out to have coffee (a.k.a. therapy) with my bestie, Patrice, I attempted to start my car. It cranked but would not fire.

I pulled the hood release. The hood was frozen

JANET HART LEONARD
From the Heart

shut.

Wonderful. Patrice rescued me and off we went to enjoy some coffee while she allowed me to whine.

My husband, who also let me whine, took me to work. I grabbed a car off the lot. I needed to check on my mom so I headed to Prairie Lakes where she informed me that her electric wheelchair was not holding its charge.

Lovely. This was like taking the keys away from her independence in getting around her new place. I made a call to the service department where we got her chair. They assured me that they would call me back by the end of the day.

While I was talking to my mother, my grandson, Matt, called to let me know his furnace was not working. He lives in my mother’s house.

Oh my goodness.

It was not yet noon. I was oh-so-close to having a “come apart.”

My car had to be towed. It was a fuel pump driver module. The hood finally thawed.

Matt’s furnace problem was a gas valve issue, not the circuit board as first suspected. It took three trips to diagnose and find the right part. He slept at our house after losing the argument that he would be fine sleeping in a cold house. It was 46 degrees in the house, single digits outside.

Mom is being sent a new battery for her “buggy” as she calls it. It took another call the next day to get someone to help me. Somehow, they forgot(?) to call me back to troubleshoot the problem.

I survived that terrible Tuesday. It was not a good day to have a very bad day.

One really good thing happened that day ... it made for an easy column to write this week.

Fishers Youth Assistance Program welcomes two new board members

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Two new board members have been added to local nonprofit organization Fishers Youth Assistance Program (YAP). Real estate attorney Carolina Rashidfarokhi and community volunteer Denise Retzner were each approved unanimously to three-year terms.

Rashidfarokhi is CEO of CP Investments LLC, a local real estate investment company. She has lived in Fishers for five years with her husband, Peyman, and two children.

Retzner, who has volunteered with a number of community, religious, educational and sports organizations, is an 18-year resident of Fishers. She and her husband, Rodney, have four sons who have either graduated or are attending Hamilton Southeastern High School.

“We are so excited to welcome Carolina and Denise to our growing board,” FYAP Board President Leah McGrath said in a YAP news release. “They both bring a wealth of talents and energy to the important work of our early intervention advocates and community donors and volunteers. We believe they can bring new ideas to help our organization connect families to important resources when they are in crisis.”

Fishers YAP works with local school officials and other organizations to help young people in need.

Noblesville’s Ice Plaza opening Saturday

The REPORTER

The City of Noblesville is excited for the return of the Federal Hill Commons Ice Plaza offering residents an outdoor recreational activity this winter. The temporary ice rink, with real ice, will open at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 23 and will close for the season on Jan. 6, 2020. Some holiday hours will apply.

The 56-foot by 100-foot ice rink will be located at the Market Plaza at Federal Hill Commons. From Nov. 23 through Dec. 22, Ice Plaza hours are 5 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Starting on Dec. 23, hours will be extended to 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily for enjoyment during Noblesville Schools’ winter break. The rink will have special holiday hours on Nov. 29 (11 a.m. to 9 p.m.), and Dec. 24 and 31 (11 a.m. to 4 p.m.); and will be closed on Thanksgiving and Christmas.

“Instead of offering sessions, our Ice Plaza allows skaters to enjoy the ice for as long as they want. Admission is all day long, so after skating for a bit, patrons can take a break to visit any of our fantastic nearby restaurants and stores and return to skate some more without having to pay again,” Parks Director Brandon Bennett said.

All ages are welcome to participate and rental ice skates range from kid to adult sizes. Again this year, IU Health Saxony has partnered with the parks department to provide skating aids for children needing extra support while on the ice.

Admission rates are $12 for those ages 13 and older and $10 for those ages 12 and younger. Guests may bring their own skates if they prefer, but skate rental is included in the admission fee. Admission rates of $10 are available for groups of six or more and those patrons participating on themed nights.

Grand Park event earns economic impact award from sports magazine

The REPORTER

Last Friday, the City of Westfield and Bullpen Tournaments received a national sports tourism award. Bullpen’s Amateur Baseball Championships, hosted at Westfield’s Grand Park Sports Campus, was named a 2019 Champions of Economic Impact in Sports Tourism by Sports Destination Management.

“We built Grand Park to be an economic driver for our city and this recognition not only validates our strategy, but celebrates the contributions and partnerships we have created with organizations like Bullpen Tournaments,” said Mayor Andy Cook. “It is a great accomplishment to present a world-class event at Grand Park, a world-class facility.”

“It is incredible to think we have players that have played in the ABC Championships at ages 14, 15, 16 and 17,” said Bullpen Tournaments President Blake Hibler. “Our tournament, Grand Park and Westfield have become a part of their baseball lives and their baseball memories. We are excited to receive this award from Sports Destination Management. We are even more thrilled to contribute to the vision the Mayor and City of Westfield have for Grand Park.”

The Amateur Baseball Championships began at Grand Park in 2016. The goal was to get the top 72 teams in the Midwest to play. It grew in popularity quickly. The first year the tournament hosted 245 teams from 11 states. It has grown into an invitation-only event, in which more than 300 requests come in during the opening week of registration. This year, the event ran 20 days and brought 7,830 athletes playing a total of 1,165 games at Grand Park.

Sports Destination Management is the leading publication with the largest circulation of sports event planners and tournament directors in the sports tourism market. This year’s winners are responsible for contributing more than $700 million to the national economy over the past year.

All winners of awards have been recognized in a special feature published in the November/December 2019 issue of Sports Destination Management.

Heights teachers get new 2019-21 contract

The REPORTER

The Board of School Trustees of the Hamilton Heights School Corporation approved the Hamilton Heights Classroom Teachers Association’s (HHCTA) 2019-21 teachers’ contract at its Oct. 23 meeting.

“The Administrative and HHCTA teams met at the beginning of the school year to negotiate the new Master Contract,” said Kristin McCarty, Hamilton Heights Business Manager. “The interest-based bargaining process went smoothly and together we were able to provide a contract for our teachers that met both teams’ major interests that included respect, transparency, teacher friendly, simplistic, compliant, fiscally responsible and focus on attracting and retaining high caliber educators.”

“For the second year in a row, HHCTA and the administration used the Interest Based Problem Solving Process during the bargaining sessions,” explained Jennifer Luce, HHCTA President. “The process focuses on first creating a consensus of contract objectives followed by small groups of HHCTA and Administration members working together to develop options and designs of a conceptual agreement.”

For the two-year contract, the teacher salary range increases to $37,500-$77,500. Salary increases will be based on 1) an effective or highly effective evaluation rating from the previous school year, and 2) experience (worked at least 120 days).

For the 2019-20 school year, teachers will receive a $500 base pay increase, with a $1,000 step increase. Beginning the 2020-21 school year, eligible teachers will receive a $1,000 step increase.

Teachers who receive Building Teacher of the Year in the preceding school year are eligible for a $1,000 stipend. Any teacher who obtains an additional degree during this contract period (limited to a total of $20,000 using one-time money) will receive a stipend of: $4,000 for a Masters, Ed.S., or Ph.D.; $2,000 for National Board Certification; and $500 for additional licensure.

Other changes include a $1,000 payroll stipend paid to all eligible teachers in December 2019 and 2020. The district 401(a) retirement contributions will increase by $100 and 20 additional HHCTA days were included for Association business and events.

A committee will be formed to review the ECA Schedule and make a recommendation to the Bargaining Committee in the summer of 2021 for consideration in 2021-23 collective bargaining agreement.

Dr. Derek Arrowood, Hamilton Heights Superintendent, credits the approval of the latest contract to a well-defined process, finding common ground, testament to the caliber of personnel working in the Heights district and their passion for students’ overall experience at Heights, and the corporation’s commitment to attracting and retaining high quality educators.

Millers finish busy week with tough win

By RICHIE HALL
NOBLESVILLE - Noblesville's young basketball players got a chance to see what a sectional schedule was like last week.

The Millers finished a busy stretch last Saturday by hosting Greenfield-Central at The Mill. It was a hard-fought game, with Noblesville prevailing 40-36 thanks to some big baskets and big plays in the fourth quarter.

This was the Millers' third game in the past five days, after a loss to Northwestern last Tuesday and a win at Hamilton Heights last Friday. A Tuesday-Friday-Saturday lineup mirrors a sectional schedule, and Noblesville coach Donna Buckley said the team set up that week by design, to have its many young players see what that was like.

"It's good to come out of that week 2-1," said Buckley. "Obviously we learned from each of them. They were all very different games and we learned some lessons from each."

Against the Cougars on Saturday, the Millers learned they can tough out a close win. Noblesville only trailed once (11-9 in the second quarter), but could never shake Greenfield loose, especially in the fourth period, where the Cougars stayed within four points during the final few minutes of the quarter.

The Millers led 32-30 with 2:35 left out of a timeout. They ran about a minute off of the clock, then Kailyn Ely hit a mid-range jump shot to get up 34-30.

The Cougars answered with a pair of free throws. Noblesville took a timeout with under a minute, and again got the big basket that it needed: Abby Haley drove in for a layup.

Haley would later step up again, hitting two free throws to push the Millers ahead 38-34 with 11.2 seconds left. Greenfield's Hannah Ferrell scored on a layin and the Cougars took a timeout, but with 3.4 seconds on the clock, they had to foul right away. Ashlynn Shade was fouled with 0.8 seconds left, and her two free throws sealed the game.

"I thought that Abby was huge down the stretch and really made some plays to put it away," said Buckley. "Kailyn Ely had three mid-range jumpers that were just huge for us and Makenna Mundy had two or three big scores. We made enough plays, especially our older kids to just give us a chance to get it."

Noblesville was in control for most of the game. The Millers scored the first seven points, with Shade pouring in five points after Emily Wood broke the ice with a layin.

Greenfield went on an 11-2 run to take its only lead of the game, but Noblesville blasted off on its 12-0 run that lasted for most of the second quarter and put the Millers on top 21-11 at halftime. Ely nailed a pair of jumpers, Mallory Miller converted an and-1, and Shade hit a 3-pointer.

The Cougars quickly cut that lead to 23-19 in the third quarter; Crystal Peterson got hot, scoring eight points including a pair of 3s. But Noblesville always got the baskets it needed to stay ahead, with Shade and Wood making a couple shots in the fourth quarter to give the Millers a comfortable margin that held during the last few minutes.

"It was a little ugly at times, but it was good for us," said Buckley.

Shade scored 14 points and pulled six rebounds. Miller added eight points, and Haley handed out four assists in addition to her crucial points in the game's final minute.

Noblesville is 2-2 and hosts Brownsburg on Friday to begin Hoosier Crossroads Conference play. The Millers travel to Homestead on Saturday.

EARLIER GAMES

In its first game of the week, Noblesville took on Northwestern at The Mill. The Tigers won back-to-back Class 3A state championships in 2018 and 2019, thus moving them up to 4A due to the IHSAA's success factor.

Northwestern hasn't skipped a beat in 4A, as it was 2-0 coming into The Mill. The Tigers left 3-0, as they beat Noblesville 70-51.

"I thought we definitely had moments where we played pretty well," said Buckley. "Obviously, they're extremely talented. The first 10 points were their two studs and they were layups, and we have to be better than that and not let them get in a rhythm like that. We have to get off to a better start."

Buckley was referring to Northwestern's Kendall Bostic and Madison Layden, who quickly got their team ahead 8-2, and rode that to a 16-9 advantage by the end of the first quarter. Noblesville freshman Shade scored seven of the Millers' points. The Tigers led 37-19 at halftime, with Brooklyn Ely and Haley both hitting 3-pointers for Noblesville.

While Northwestern's lead hovered around 20 points for the entire third quarter, the Millers had some bright spots. Mallory Miller nailed three 3-pointers, and Shade hit a couple 3s as well. That kept Noblesville within 54-38 after three periods.

But the Tigers ran away in the fourth quarter, outscoring the Millers 16-1 to take a 70-39 lead with three minutes left. Noblesville fought to the end, scoring the game's last 12 points.

"We just ran into a really good basketball team and we're not quite there yet, but our schedule's tough for a reason and we just got to keep getting better and these are the games that are going to make us better," said Buckley.

Shade led Noblesville with 15 points, while Miller added 11; both totaled three 3-pointers. Haley and Dani Mendez both scored eight points. Shade and Mendez both had five rebounds, with Shade also making five steals.

"We fought," said Buckley. "We had a lot of grit. I thought Dani Mendez, freshman, came off the bench and just played her butt off and did a lot of really good things." The coach also noted that Shade and Haley "had to play 32 minutes and play hard and handle their pressure and defensively create a lot of pressure for us. I thought they did a nice job."

Noblesville's Mallory Miller goes up to the basket while Hamilton Heights' Shanna Moffatt (3), Sydney Runyan (30) and MyKayla Moran defend during last Friday's Millers-Huskies game.

Last Friday, The Millers beat the Huskies 51-37 at the Heights gymnasium. Noblesville never trailed in the game, scoring the first eight points, then broke things open even more in the second half.

Haley set the tone, as she scored the first basket of the game, a 3-pointer. Wood hit a jumper and Shade nailed a 3 to get the Millers up to the early advantage.

MyKayla Moran got the Huskies on the board with a jumper, the first of her five points in the first quarter. Noblesville led 13-7 at the end of that period, and held a lead of around that margin for the entire second quarter.

But there was a sign of things to come in that period, as Brooklyn Ely hit a pair of 3s. Anna Kiser's jump shot was the final basket of the half, which ended with the Millers ahead 27-18.

Bayleigh Runner quickly took that lead down to 27-23 at the beginning of the third quarter, starting with a three-point play, then hitting a jumper. But after that, it was all Noblesville, as the Millers scored the next 14 points and didn't allow Heights another score in the third quarter.

Miller started things off by making three consecutive 3-pointers. All of a sudden, a tight four-point game became a comfortable 13-point lead.

"Mallory had a big third quarter the other night, too," said Buckley. "We really challenged her. Sometimes she turns down shots, and so we've really been on her about looking to knock down opportunities when she gets it. She's done that. She's played really well, especially in the third quarter the last two games. Brooklyn Ely hit some big 3s. It really definitely opened things up for us."

Ely hit a 3 to finish the quarter, putting Noblesville on top 44-23. Heights opened the fourth quarter with a 3-pointer from Kaylee Rhoton, but the Millers remained in control. Kiser helped out by making 5 of 6 free throws in the first two minutes of the period.

"We really challenged her to get after it in the post and play big," said Buckley. "She did a lot of really good things for us tonight."

The Huskies fought to the end, finishing the game on an 11-2 run. Rhoton drained another couple of 3-pointers during that run. Heights had to deal with adversity when starter Jillian Osswald was injured in the second quarter and had to leave the game.

"Our game plan that was put in certainly didn't call for Jillian Osswald to go out and not be able to play again at all in the second half, so that was a tremendous blow for us," said Huskies coach Keegan Cherry.

"Her and Bailey up top against that 1-3-1, they were having some success once they finally got settled in. But at the end of the day, credit Noblesville."

Balance was the order of the day for both teams. Shade and Kiser both had 10 points for the Millers, while Miller and Ely each hit three 3-pointers for nine points. Shade collected eight rebounds and handed out five assists, while Kiser pulled six rebounds. Haley dished out four assists.

Runner scored 13 points for Heights, with Rhoton adding nine points with her three 3s. Moran led the rebounding with seven, followed by Runner with six.

The Huskies are 0-3 and play another all-county game Tuesday at Guerin Catholic, then host Lebanon on Friday.

Greyhounds win seventh straight football regional . . .

Carmel runs away from Spartans

The Carmel football team spent much of the first half of the Class 6A Regional 2 championship tied up with Homestead last Friday, but a touchdown with 28 seconds left got the Greyhounds ahead.

After that, it was all Carmel. The Greyhounds ran away from the host Spartans in the second half, and clinched a 31-7 victory that gave Carmel its seventh consecutive regional title. It was the only loss of the year for Homestead, which finished the season 11-1.

The Greyhounds will host Merrillville next Friday in the 6A north semi-state. The Pirates beat Warsaw 42-28 to win the Regional 1 championship.

Carmel scored its first touchdown 10 seconds into the game, with Dylan Downing running 67 yards into the end zone on the first play of the game. Spencer Hanna made the extra-point kick.

The Spartans answered a few minutes later, when Jake Archbold caught a 21-yard touchdown pass from Luke Goode with 8:48 left in the first quarter. Gunnar Fry's kick tied the game at 7-7.

That would be the score until the waning seconds of the first half, when Aidan Ellison caught a six-yard TD throw from Christian Williams. Hanna made his second extra-point kick of the game, and Carmel had a 14-7 halftime lead.

The 'Hounds sailed through the second half. Zach White scored on a seven-yard touchdown run with 7:46 left in the third quarter, then Downing picked up his second score of the game on a nine-yard run with less than a minute to go in the period. Hanna made both extra-point kicks, and he finished the scoring early in the fourth quarter with a 28-yard field goal.

Downing led the offense with 112 yards rushing on nine carries, while White totaled 99 yards on 11 carries. Downing also had three receptions.

The victory improved Carmel's record to 9-3. The Greyhounds won their 22nd regional championship, and continue to share the record for most regional titles with Bishop Dwenger. The Saints won their 22nd regional last Friday at Harrison, by the score of 35-21.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ADOPTION OF:)
TYLER STEVEN DAVIS,) Minor Child.)
NOTICE OF ADOPTION TO UNNAMED FATHER
The unnamed putative father of the child born to Jennifer Lopez-Martinez (formerly "Davis") on June 6, 2005, or the person who claims to be the father of the child born to Jennifer Lopez-Martinez (formerly "Davis") on June 6, 2005, is notified that a Petition for Adoption of the child was filed in the office of the clerk of the Hamilton County Court, One Hamilton Square, Noblesville, Indiana 46060.
If the unnamed putative father seeks to contest the adoption of the child, the unnamed putative father file a motion to contest the adoption in accordance with IC 31-19-10-1 in the above-named court within thirty (30) days after the date of service of this notification. This notice may be served by publication.
If the unnamed putative father does not file a motion to contest the adoption within thirty (30) days after service of this notice, the above-named court shall hear and determine the petition for adoption. The unnamed putative father's consent is irrevocably implied, and the unnamed putative father loses the right to contest the adoption or the validity of the unnamed putative father's implied consent to the adoption. The unnamed putative father loses the right to establish paternity of the child under IC 31-14.
Nothing Jennifer Lopez-Martinez (formerly "Davis") or anyone else says to the unnamed putative father relieves the unnamed putative father of his obligations under this notice.
Under Indiana law, a putative father is the person who is named as or claims that he may be the father of a child born out of wedlock but has not yet been legally proven to be the child's father.
This notice complies with IC 31-19-4-4 but does not exhaustively set forth the unnamed putative father's legal obligations under the Indiana adoption statutes. A person being served with this notice should consult the Indiana Adoption statutes. 11/6/2019

Royals get two easy victories at Lake Central Hamilton Southeastern scored two easy wins at the Lake Central Classic last Saturday.

In their first game, the Royals overwhelmed Valparaiso 73-22. Southeastern led 37-15 at halftime, then outscored the Vikings 26-2 in the third quarter. The Royals never allowed Valpo more than eight points in a period.

Jackie Maulucci had an outstanding game, scoring a career-high 27 points, including six 3-pointers. Sydney Parrish added 24 points and became the Royals' all-time leading girls scorer during the game. Parrish also had seven rebounds, while Maulucci dished out five assists and Makayla Hinshaw handed out four assists.

Southeastern beat the host Lake Central 58-23 in its second game. The Royals got off to a strong start, leading 16-2 after the first quarter and 28-9 at halftime.

Parrish led the way with 23 points, and also handed out five assists. Lydia Self collected seven rebounds, while Maulucci dished out six assists, in addition to scoring nine points.

Southeastern is 3-1 and hosts Franklin Central on Friday to begin Hoosier Crossroads Conference play. The Royals will then welcome Fort Wayne Carroll on Saturday in an afternoon game.

Greyhounds cruise past Eagles

CARMEL - Many girls basketball teams across the area are challenging themselves during the first couple weeks of the season.

Carmel is among those teams. The Greyhounds took on perennial powerhouse Heritage Christian last Thursday and scored a big victory, taking control in the third quarter to win 65-46 at the Eric Clark Activity Center.

"We came in with a game plan," said Greyhounds coach Erin Trimpe. "We really wanted to pound it inside and we were stressing to not settle for jump shots and to really see what we can do inside the zone. And I thought the girls did a good job of finding our bigs down low, which opened up our guards a little bit on the perimeter, and our guards started to trap."

The game was close in the first quarter, which ended with the Eagles ahead 15-11. Ariana Wiggins scored seven points for Heritage during that period.

The second quarter opened with Kate Clarke hitting a 3-pointer, her second of the game. Clarke began to take over after that, scoring seven points to start the period and bring Carmel back to an 18-18 tie. The Eagles were still within 25-24 with 2:20 left in the first half, but the 'Hounds finished the half by scoring seven straight points to go into the break ahead 32-25. Bridget Dunn scored five of those points, including a 3.

Carmel rolled through the third quarter, outscoring Heritage 22-12. Clarke added another seven points, while Kiara Gill hit two 3-pointers. Gill finished the game a perfect 4-for-4 from the field, scoring 10 points.

"I thought Kiara Gill came off the bench and just really made the difference," said Trimpe. "She was the difference in the game for us from the moment she stepped on the floor, I don't think she came out. And so that spread the wealth a lot."

Clarke added another five points in the fourth quarter, bringing her game-high total to 25 points, including five 3-pointers. Dunn finished with 16 points (including two 3s), giving Carmel three players in double figures. That balance was important for the Greyhounds, as Trimpe wanted to see her team "spread the wealth" when it came to scoring.

"We know every game Kate is going to be a focus," said Trimpe. "She is a great scorer. She can do a lot of things with the ball, so we were stressing to other kids that they needed to step up."

Last Saturday, Carmel took on Northwestern, the two-time defending 3A state champions at the Eric Clark Activity Center that afternoon. The Greyhounds gave the Tigers a scare in the first quarter, but Northwestern (playing in 4A due to the IHSAA success factor) soon took control of the game and won 66-41.

Carmel jumped out to a 15-6 lead with 1:55 left in the first quarter. Clarke got off to a great start, scoring seven points, including 3-of-3 from the free throw line.

The Tigers came back to get within 15-11 by the end of the period. Northwestern then outscored the 'Hounds 17-5 in the second quarter, taking a 28-20 lead by halftime. The Tigers continued the pressure into the third period, pouring in another 20 points to lead 48-29 going into the fourth.

"They just have so many weapons, and size-wise, they outmatch us," said Trimpe. "We came in with a game plan that I thought we executed really well in the first quarter. In the second quarter, we let them speed us up. We had talked about the tempo of the game needing to be to our benefit, and that fast-paced, turning them over, letting them get fast break points like they did, it just wasn't what was going to win us the game, and we went away from that a little bit, panicked and went into a rush."

Clarke scored 16 points to lead the Greyhounds, including a 7-of-7 performance from the free throw line. Fatima Valiente came off the bench and hit two 3-pointers.

"We saw a lot of good things in that first quarter, especially," said Trimpe. "We can only learn from it and get better, but that's a phenomenal team who really came out and showed us what they've got."

Carmel is 1-2 and hosts Zionsville on Tuesday.

Trailblazers stay unbeaten

University remained unbeaten on the season after the Trailblazers got two dominating wins last week.

All five University starts scored in double figures as the Trailblazers beat Oldenburg Academy 64-23 last Tuesday at The U Center.

Maddi Sears, Sierra Hinds and Kelsey DuBois had 12 points each while Lindsey Syrek and Payton Seay had 11 apiece.

University never trailed, jumping to a 6-0 lead and holding a 13-7 advantage at the end of the first quarter. Syrek had seven points in the opening period.

University turned up the defensive intensity in the second quarter and used it to push their offensive advantage, outscoring the Twisters 24-9 to take a commanding 37-16 halftime lead. Seay had eight points in the second quarter and sparked the defense with seven first-half steals.

Syrek had eight rebounds and DuBois seven.

Last Wednesday, Syrek became the first University player to sign a letter of intent to play Division I college basketball. Last Friday, the New Jersey Institute of Technology signee had 27 points and 13 rebounds to lead the Trailblazers to a 4-0 record with a 68-23 win over Clinton Central.

The contest was never in doubt as University scored the first six points of the game and led 30-2 with three minutes to go in the second quarter.

DuBois had 16 points, six rebounds and five assists as University dominated in the paint. Seay had nine points and nine steals with Hinds adding eight points for the Blazers. Sears (five points) and Arrion Sherrod (three points) rounded out the scoring for University.

University will next be action Tuesday evening when they travel to Shelby County to take on Waldron. The 'Blazers then play at Traders Point Christian on Friday.

Blackhawks drop two games

Sheridan dropped a tough home game to Covenant Christian 53-48 last Tuesday.

The Blackhawks led 13-12 after the first quarter and 27-25 at halftime. The Warriors jumped ahead 36-33 late in the third period, but Sheridan was able to take the lead back by the end of the quarter, 37-36. Covenant got back in front in the fourth period and hung on to get the win.

Allie Delph scored 10 points for the 'Hawks. Taylor Bates grabbed six rebounds, with Delph and Riley Reed both collecting five rebounds.

Sheridan fell to Carroll 46-43 in the Blackhawks' Hoosier Heartland Conference opener last Friday at Hobbs Gymnasium.

Sheridan led 13-4 after the first quarter, but the Cougars came back to tie it up at 22-22 by halftime. The 'Hawks jumped out to a 36-30 lead after the third period before Carroll outscored Sheridan 16-7 in the fourth.

Berkley Williams and Emma Went both scored seven points for the Blackhawks.

Sheridan is 1-4 and will host Elwood on Saturday.

Hamilton Heights' Ryleigh Poe to swim for Eastern Illinois University

Ryleigh Poe, Hamilton Heights’ senior, has signed a letter of intent to swim for the Eastern Illinois University (EIU) Panthers in Charleston, Ill. this fall. EIU is a Division I athletic institution and a member of the Summit League. She is the daughter of Gail Poe.

Poe said it was her visit to the EIU campus that sealed the deal. “EIU has a very high academic standard and the overall atmosphere that the team gave off when we met felt like a perfect fit,” recalled Poe, of her instant connection during this college visit not to mention EIU offers her the pre-med and Spanish classes she needs and the opportunity to swim at the collegiate level.

EIU is ranked the highest independent public regional university in Illinois, according to new data released by U.S. News & World Report. The magazine’s annual 2019 college rankings also list EIU as the third-highest independent public university in the Midwest, which encompasses a 12-state territory including Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin. Rankings are based on schools’ academic reputations, student selectivity, graduation and retention rates, faculty resources and alumni giving.

Poe, who has been swimming since the age of 7, has been a member of the Hamilton Heights varsity girls swim team since her freshman year. She has participated in several swim clubs to build her skill and help give her a more rounded perspective of the sport. She has earned several All-Conference honors, winning the Most Improved Swimmer her freshman year. She credits her family and the many individuals who comprise her swim family for providing the support and encouragement to help her reach her goals inside and outside the classroom.

“Ryleigh has been and will continue to be a very important member of this team,” said Sue Beale, Hamilton Heights Girls Varsity Swim Coach. “Her contributions in the 100 Fly, 500 Free, Medley, 200 and 400 Free relays helped the team win the Husky Invite three consecutive years and earn three conference championships. She is a hard worker at practice and leads by example. She has become and will continue to be a great leader for our girls’ team. We are very proud of her and all that she has accomplished.”

Kurt Ogden, Hamilton Heights Athletic Director, added, “Ryleigh is one of our athletes who has dedicated practically her whole life to the sport she loves. It’s exciting to see that through her hard work, she gets to continue swimming competitively for another four years. We wish her well as she pursues both her athletic and academic goals at Eastern Illinois University.”

Poe, who has set her sights on becoming an ER physician, is a member of the National Honor Society and volunteers for school and community projects whenever possible.

PREVAIL

Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse

www.prevailinc.com

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

– Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

Drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, 14701 Tom Wood Way.
