Westfield Fire Department, Riverview Health launch PulsePoint

The REPORTER
The Westfield Fire Department and Riverview Health announced the launch of PulsePoint, a free citizen emergency response app. Westfield is the first Hamilton County community to adopt this potentially life-saving technology.

An onsite demo of how the app works will be offered at 2 p.m. today at the Westfield Public Safety Building, 17535 Dartown Road, Westfield.

PulsePoint, a smartphone application notifies community members that first responders are responding to a nearby cardiac arrest, which potentially would allow community members to provide life-saving assistance to victims of Sudden Cardiac Arrest until paramedics arrive.

The app also notifies CPR-trained community members the location of nearby AED units. When CPR-trained individuals receive an alert from PulsePoint, it tells them not only where a cardiac arrest event is happening, but also where they can find the nearest AED.

Players, charities win big in Westfield poker tournament

The REPORTER
The Westfield Lions Club's 2019 Fall Poker for Sight Texas Hold 'Em tournament was a resounding success. A near-record 325 players participated, giving the Lions Club charity work a huge boost for the coming year.

Poker Chairman Lion Mike Birk said, "We could not be happier with the participation and enthusiasm with this Fall tournament. It was exciting to see that many players from all over the Midwest come to help out our program."

This is serious poker with each Lions Club tournament paying out $25,000 in total purse, with $10,000 to the winner.

Every year, each of the three qualification rounds is dedicated to a local charity. Round one took place on Friday, with Hoosier Veterans Assistants Foundation's Community Engagement Director Robert White accepting a check for $1,000. For round two, the Special Olympics Winter Games was the recipient of a $500 check from the club. Round three took place on Saturday, with Westfield's own Heart and Soul Free Clinic received a check for $1,000.

Bourff: Much to consider before changing HSE Schools start times

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

There is much medical data to support a later start time for high school students, but Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) Schools Superintendent Allen Bourff told school board members there are other considerations to be weighed as the school district mulls changing start times for students.

During a Tuesday morning work session, Bourff explained how medical studies on sleep patterns of high school students have shown more sleep in the early morning hours is most beneficial to high school age students. Schools have been setting up high school schedules based on adult sleep patterns, not schedules better suited for students of high school age, according to Dr. Bourff.

A survey of high school students in the district shows 46 percent currently sleep six to seven hours per night, and 28 percent sleep five to six hours. A total of 46 percent say they nap after school, with 68 percent responding say they are sleepy during their first two school periods.

When high schoolers were asked whether they would support a high school schedule of 8:55 a.m. to 3:55 p.m. if grades K-4 had a 7:50 a.m. to 2:20 p.m. school day, 60 percent responded yes. The results were a bit different in the two high school buildings: At Fishers, 66 percent said yes, at HSE, 53 percent responded yes to the same question.

There would be several challenges if the secondary and elementary schedules were flipped, with scheduling extracurricular activities being one of them. Another issue would be how this would impact students with part-time jobs after school, since they would be leaving school later than under the current schedule. Other high school students may have family responsibilities to care for younger siblings.

Another aspect of this would be the bus transportation system, and the school board spent a long time during the work session looking at the various options in bus schedules under a flipped start time system.

Bourff

HSE either have already implemented later high school start times or plan to implement such a system next school year.

Dr. Bourff conducted a community meeting on Tuesday at HSE High School to present information to the public about this issue and listen to comments.

During the same work session, the board was presented with a program called "Portrait of a Graduate," aimed at evaluating students on more than standardized test scores.

The program is in the process of being established, and Dr. Bourff told board members he sees this as a partnership between the Hamilton Southeastern Education Association (HSEA) and the school district, with a committee made up of HSEA appointees and some administrators to put this program together.

Administrators say it should be near completion sometime in the spring of 2020 if all goes as scheduled. Bourff says he will ask the school board to vote on a resolution supporting "Portrait of a Graduate," and board members appeared to be generally supportive of such a resolution.

Duke Energy expands campaign to protect its customers from fraud

The REPORTER

With the fourth annual Utility Scam Awareness Week starting Nov. 17, Duke Energy is expanding its campaign to protect its nearly 8 million customers from utility-impostor scammers.

Duke Energy, a founding member of Utilities United Against Scams (UUAS), is reminding customers of tactics used by scammers to steal their money and providing tips on how to avoid these scams.

The UUAS is a consortium of more than 140 U.S. and Canadian electric, water and natural gas companies (and their respective trade associations) that raises awareness of utility scams targeting customers.

UUAS has helped shut down nearly 5,000 toll-free phone numbers used by utility-impostor scammers.

In Indiana, more than 880 Duke Energy Indiana customers have reported scam attempts since the company began tracking reports in June 2015. A small fraction of those customers – about 6 to 7 percent – fell victim to the scams, losing a total of more than $26,500.

Phone scammers posing as utility providers call and insist customers are delinquent on their bills. The scammer typically claims a disconnection is pending, rigs caller ID to make it look like the call is from a utility provider, and demands the money in the form of a prepaid debit card. Common scam tactics include:

- A caller ID display with the customer's utility's name
- A mimicked interactive voice response menu that customers typically hear when they call their utility company
- Threats to disconnect power, water or natural gas service to a customer's home or business within an hour
- Immediate payment demands by prepaid debit card

Customers who suspect they have been victims of fraud or who feel threatened during contact with one of these scammers should:

- Hang up the phone.
- Call the utility provider by using the phone number provided on the bill or on the company's official website, followed by a call to the police.
- Never purchase a prepaid debit card or gift card to avoid service disconnection or shutoff. DO NOT pay over the phone if immediate payment is demanded by a prepaid card to avoid a disconnection. Legitimate utility companies do not specify how customers should make a bill payment, and they always offer a variety of ways to pay a bill, including accepting payments online, by phone, automatic bank draft, mail or in person.

The fourth annual Utility Scam Awareness Week includes a weeklong advocacy and awareness campaign focused on exposing scammers' tactics to help protect utility customers.

The UUAS' Utility Scam Awareness Week campaign theme, "It happened to me; don't let it happen to you," highlights how easy it can be to fall victim to a scam and offers lessons learned from customers who have had this unfortunate experience.

"Scammers' techniques are becoming increasingly more sophisticated, making it harder for utility customers to differentiate between scams and legitimate messages," said Stan Pinegar, state president for Duke Energy Indiana. "This is why we raise awareness and take action throughout the year, and especially during National Utility Scam Awareness Week. Our data show that deception rates have decreased since we began tracking in 2015, but we won't be content until none of our customers lose money to scammers. We'll continue work on their behalf and provide information on how to stay safe."

Duke Energy developed an interactive quiz to highlight common scam techniques and safety tips.

Visit duke-energy.com/stopscams or utilitiesunit-ed.org for more information and tips about how customers can protect themselves from impostor utility scams, or follow along on social media: Twitter @DukeEnergy or @U_U_A_S and Facebook @DukeEnergy or @UtilitiesUnited.

Florida reader thanks local friends after brother's death

Dear Editor:

This past weekend, I attended the Memorial Service and Celebration of Life for my late brother, Michael Baker Kraft, at the Foundry Methodist Church in Washington, D.C. It was glorious send off for a very special man.

My oldest brother led an extraordinary life spanning over 50 years in Washington circles, filled with professional accomplishments, athletic milestones, significant awards in categories too numerous to list, and yet, it was his modesty and humbleness that was most remembered by those who attended his "last hurrah." In the end, some people are ultimately judged by their material possessions or the titles to which they had been known throughout their lives.

My brother was remembered for what he gave back, what he offered, what he extended to those less fortunate, the hungry, the poor, those who did not have much hope: Mike was their advocate, not just with donations and lip service. He frequently would spend time driving a food truck or serving meals at a soup kitchen to those less privileged.

Beyond this, he always had time and a good heart for friends or a friend of a friend to counsel or advise about life in D.C. or life in general. He mentored hundreds. He opened his home to friends and family almost continually. My brothers, cousins and friends of Mike's have all stayed with him. I lived with Mike for four months in 1969 when I went through U.S. Navy Diving training at the Washington Naval Yards on the Anacostia River.

But perhaps, most of all that was felt by those of us who gathered to honor Mike was his pure excitement and life-long passion for all things "Indiana!" He was first and foremost a very proud Hoosier! Our parents, the late Dr. Hal-don Charles Kraft and Mary Baker Kraft were both Fourth Generation Hamilton County Hoosiers. This conveniently made my brother Mike and my two other brothers, Jake and Tim, and me Fifth Generation Hamilton County Hoosiers. I dare say, very few readers of the Hamilton County Reporter are Fifth Generation Hoosiers. Appropriately, at the end of the service, as we were about to slowly walk from the church, "Back Home Again in Indiana" was played. There was not a dry eye among us.

Mike loved Noblesville, returning here as frequently as he could, especially in the '60s, 70s and early '80s before we lost our parents. He purchased several downtown buildings and renovated them and helped revitalize Noblesville in the 1970s. So, his legacy lives on.

From 1944 until 1986, my family lived at Onabend Farm, just two miles south of Noblesville. That is where we grew up and it was an oasis for Mike when he and his wife, Betsy, and daughter, Kate, would find some time to leave D.C. for a "Mid-western fix." Betsy had grown up in Crawfordsville and also had deep Midwestern roots. Coming home to Noblesville and Onabend was a magic elixir for Mike and served to re-charge his batteries before he returned to D.C. to "go forth and do good." That, by the way, was his life-long salutation to everyone upon departing.

I want to thank the Reporter for publishing Mike's obituary. As a result, I have received numerous emails and phone calls over the past two weeks from so many friends and even some people I did not know from Noblesville who just wanted to share their kind, caring thoughts and comments about Mike. For that I am very grateful. And on behalf of Mike's wonderful wife, Betsy Harvey Kraft, and his talented daughter, Katherine Porter Kraft, along with my brothers, Jake and Tim, I want to sincerely thank everyone who contacted me on Mike's behalf. I greatly appreciated your thoughtfulness.

Shaffer wants numbers, tells Brainard to face reality

Dear Editor:

When WISH-TV broke the news that traffic ticket data showed blacks are 18 times more likely to be ticketed by Carmel police than are whites, the official reaction was appalling.

Instead of admitting what the facts showed and presenting a plan to correct matters, the mayor changed the subject.

Blacks constitute less than 3 percent of Carmel's population. The mayor said that figure doubles when black workers commute to Carmel in the daytime.

He cited no data to support that. The TV reporter went to Census Bureau data that suggested a 6 percent black population in daytime.

Even so, doubling the black population doubtless is paralleled by an increase in white commuters to the city as well.

So, the 1-to-18 ratio might be less — or more. But, that is hypothetical speculation. As Charles Eppes, distinguished professor in the Kansas University School of Public Affairs, pointed out, the numbers show a huge disparity that is not inevitable but can be fixed. This logic escaped the mayor.

But, it shouldn't escape Civil Rights leaders, the FBI (which funds Carmel police activities), religious leaders or ordinary taxpayers, whose trust in local government took another body blow.

Fortunately for the mayor, WISH-TV failed to include Carmel Police Department Annual Report figures showing a drop in all warnings of 50 percent since 2014 and a drop in citations (tickets) from 10,000 a year to about 6,000.

Fewer tickets, but 18 times more likely to be issued to black Americans than white. It's time the mayor leaves fantasyland and faces reality.

Fiscal Conservatives questions validity of collective punishment

Dear Editor:

It seems that the Fiscal Conservatives of Hamilton County have done it again.

On Thursday, Nov. 14, four of our board members received notice from State Senator Victoria Spartz, Secretary of the 5th District Republican Central Committee, they are being charged with "not being in good standing."

It is stunning that individuals are now being held accountable for decisions of their group, even if said individuals never participated in the actions that led to the complaint. We would expect that GOP PC's all over the state of Indiana will be receiving similar notice if they are members of MIBOR, Chamber of Commerce or even church groups that have endorsed any Democratic candidates.

Please allow this blog post to serve as our official response — for now.

The Fiscal Conservatives of Hamilton County is a nonpartisan political organization devoted to advancing fiscally conservative candidates to all levels of government within Hamilton County. FCoHC promotes a free market, capitalistic system that encourages reduced government spending and minimal government debt. FCoHC does this through advocacy and education, supporting the creation of balanced budgets and the promotion of private enterprise. Learn more at fcohcindiana.com or email fcohcindiana@gmail.com.

TODAY’S BIBLE READING

I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples. As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father’s commandments, and abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

John 15:1-16 (KJV)

Wrestling begins...

Fishers starts with exciting dual win

The first wrestling meet of the year in Hamilton County was a good one on two levels: It was an exciting dual and it resulted in a win for a local team.

Fishers hosted Franklin Central Tuesday at the Tiger Den. With this being only the Flashes' second year in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference, the rivalry between the two schools is still in the budding stage. But the rivalry is there, and the Tigers got a close victory in Tuesday's chapter, beating FC 35-32.

Fishers was trailing 26-23 with three matches to go, but put the match out of reach quickly with two first-period pins. Miro Bruvold, a 160-pound sophomore, got control of his opponent with 17 seconds left in the first period, and put the Tigers on top. Fellow sophomore Curtis Kearschner was next at 170 pounds, and he took care of business in 1:25, giving Fishers an insurmountable 35-26 lead with one match left.

"It was exciting," said Tigers coach Frank Ingalls, who began his second year with the team on Tuesday. "We had two sophomores get those pins late in the match. We're a young team and I think our young guys are doing great and I'm really looking forward to our young guys helping us get a lot of wins this year."

There were several young wrestlers on the mat, with four sophomores and three freshmen. Those youngsters got a taste of the high school level very early.

"A lot of our young guys, this is the first high school match," said Ingalls. "We had a lot of freshmen out there and I think they're a little star-struck and feeling the strength of a high school wrestler as opposed to a junior high wrestler. A lot of them didn't even have time to think while they were out there. They were just reacting. They'll get better as time goes, once they get used to it."

Fishers does have some experience out on the mat. Leading the way is senior J.D. Farrell, a state qualifier last year at 182 pounds. Farrell wrestled the 195-pound match to begin his senior season, and got it done quickly, with a first-period pin.

Two more semi-state qualifiers are back as well. Junior Tyler Lindamood won with a 10-1 major decision at 138 pounds, while senior Pat Pritchett received a forfeit at 120 pounds. The Tigers also returned two regional qualifiers, juniors Dylan Parodi and Josh Thompson. Parodi was a 15-4 major decision winner.

Fishers' next competition is on Saturday, when it travels to Arsenal Tech to compete in the John Hurre Memorial Invitational.

Huskies win all-county game over Golden Eagles

Hamilton Heights won its first game of the season on Tuesday, beating Guerin Catholic 44-31 in an all-county game at the Eagles Nest.

The Golden Eagles led 15-13 after the first quarter; Olivia Labus helped Guerin out with six points. Meanwhile, Sydney Runyan hit two 3-pointers for the Huskies.

Heights moved ahead by halftime, leading GC 26-23. Bayleigh Runner and Payton Dissett both made a 3-pointer in the second quarter. The Huskies then took over on defense, outscoring the Golden Eagles 13-6 in the third period. Runner kept the offense hot by making three 3s in the second half.

"Bayleigh Runner was really good tonight," said Heights coach Keegan Cherry. He also credited Jillian Osswald, who suffered an injury during the Huskies' Friday night game with Noblesville, with a "gutsy effort," as she played all four quarters.

Runner finished the game with 18 points, including five 3s. MyKayla Moran had eight points.

Cunningham led Guerin Catholic with 13 points, and made three 3s. Kathryn Loso and MT Ford joined Labus in scoring six points.

Heights is 1-3 and hosts Lebanon on Friday. The Golden Eagles are 0-3 and will host Heritage Christian on Saturday to begin Circle City Conference play.

NHS' Justin Roden accepts position at Cincinnati school

Noblesville head varsity football coach Justin Roden has accepted a new position at a Cincinnati school.

Roden, who coached the Millers for the past two seasons, will become the head coach at Oak Hills High School, located on the west side of Cincinnati. Roden was the school's defensive coordinator from 2006 to 2008.

Noblesville Schools announced Roden's departure in a press release on Monday. The release said that Roden's decision was based on personal family needs.

"I want to thank Coach Roden for his service to our Noblesville High School students and to the Millers football program overall, and wish him happiness and success in his new role," said Leah Wooldridge, Noblesville High School athletic director.

Noblesville will begin the process of identifying a replacement for him immediately and will announce their selection at a later date.

Fishers' Ellen Fero signs with Indiana State University

IBCA announces Week 2 Players of the Week

Fishers' Ellen Fero signed a letter of intent to continue her swimming career at Indiana State University.

Two weeks are complete in the 2019-2020 girls basketball season, and four more ladies share honors for the Week-2 IBCA/Subway Player of the Week award.

Bremen Senior Erin Coffel, Northwestern Senior Kendall Bostic, Our Lady of Providence Senior Natalie Boesing, and Columbus East Sophomore Koryn Greiwe have been selected as honorees for Nov. 11 to Nov. 16 in the recognition program coordinated by the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association. Coffel is the honoree for District 1. Bostic is the recipient for District 2. Boesing and Greiwe are co-winners for District 3.

District 3 saw several big performances last week, but Our Lady of Providence's Natalie Boesing might have had the most consistent week. In four games, the 5-11 forward scored no fewer than 24 points and grabbed no less than five rebounds in any single game. She began her week with a 30-point performance in a narrow 55-53 overtime loss at Lanesville. In that game, she added five rebounds, two assists, and two steals. She then helped the Pioneers to a 52-46 overtime win at Corydon Central on Friday evening, scoring 26 points and grabbing nine rebounds (five offensive).

Early Saturday, Boesing continued her strong play with a 24-point, 15-rebound (10 offensive) outing in a 58-33 win against North Central of Farmersburg, only to follow it up that evening with 29 more points and 13 more rebounds (10 offensive) in yet another overtime game, this time a tight 54-48 loss to Crawford County. For the week, the Senior posted 109 points and 42 rebounds (25 offensive) spread across four games.

Koryn Greiwe was equally good in District 3, but she did so in a different manner, exploding for an identical 32 points in consecutive games. Tuesday

Northwestern Senior post Kendall Bostic helped keep the Tigers on the winning path with a pair of impressive road victories last week. In the effort, she was 9-14 from the field, she collected three steals, and she blocked a pair of shots.

Then Saturday afternoon, Bostic was again efficient, going 8-13 from the field and 4-5 from the free throw line, scoring 20 points in a 66-41 win at Carmel.
