Jensen announces new Noblesville Police Chief

The REPORTER

On Thursday, Noblesville Mayor-elect Chris Jensen has announced Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department Captain John Mann will serve as Noblesville's new police chief. He will begin serving on Jan. 1, 2020.

"John brings a lifetime of law enforcement experience at every level from the neighborhood patrol to command staff," Jensen said. "I'm proud to have him leading our police department as we work to transform our approach to public safety to ensure Noblesville is one of the safest cities in the country to live, work, and raise a family."

Captain Mann is a nearly 30-year veteran of the IMPD and currently serves as a Captain in the Downtown District, with experience including decade-long stints in operations and arson investigations. Alongside Jensen and Public Safety Director Chad Knecht, Mann will work to achieve administration goals of making a safer

State University with a business degree. He worked his way up the ranks, earning the rank of Sergeant in 2005 and Lieutenant in 2010 before his promotion to Captain in 2016. During his career with IMPD he has served as Commander for the Southeast District as well as an Executive Officer for the Chief of Police.

He was a member of the Indianapolis Police Department SCUBA team for 12 years, before its disbandment in 2006. He holds a Master's Degree in Criminology from ISU and is also a 2013 graduate of the FBI National Academy. He is married with four daughters.

Real Santa coming to town in Cicero

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

Did you know playing Santa Claus pays up to $150 per hour?

John Beaty thought that money could do a lot more good in local communities than in his own pocket, so for the last 10 years he has played the role of Santa only if the money he would have been paid is given to food pantries and similar charities in the community where he appears.

Beaty plays Santa in northern Hamilton County and beyond, and always with donations to the needy in mind.

For the non-Santa portion of his life, Beaty is a union brick mason who is currently helping build a non-denominational church in Fishers that serves 3,000 people.

ter only referred to as Santa – he was making his list of appearances and checking it twice. Good news: Cicero is on the nice list this year. Apparently, the Nickel Plate

Express is as well, since he was recently riding the rails with them on the Reindeer Express in late November.

Help Meals on Wheels get to $50K

The REPORTER

To mark 45 years of providing nutritious meals to homebound Hamilton County residents – not just the elderly, but those with disabilities, mental health issues or even short-term, post-surgical needs – Meals on Wheels of Hamilton County has launched a special donor campaign, "Meet Us at the Table."

Like many non-profits, Meals on Wheels faces the challenge of diminishing funding from both government and private sector sources while the need continues to grow. Last year, Meals on Wheels of Hamilton County served more than 302 individuals 43,000 meals. The money raised from the "Meet Us at the Table" campaign will ensure its services continue into the future.

"It's hard to believe that in this county that is known for prosperity and success, food insecurity exists ... but it does," said Beth Gehlhausen, executive director of Meals on Wheels of Hamilton County. "We all have a seat at the table when it comes to hunger in our community ... and we ask that you help us share in that solution."

While donations of any size are appreciated (as $50 provides meals for one week for a Meals on Wheels client while $210 provides a month of meals), a campaign goal of $50,000 has been set. For the Meet Us at the Table campaign,

Hamilton County named Indiana's fourth 21st Century Talent Region

The REPORTER

Indiana Secretary of Career Connections and Talent Blair Milo recently joined Indiana officials in Carmel to announce Hamilton County as the state's fourth 21st Century Talent Region, a statewide designation awarded to Indiana communities focused on working collaboratively to attract, develop and connect talent.

"Home to more than 330,000 Hoosiers, Hamilton County has been recognized as one of the fastest growing counties in the country, as a 'Best Place to Live and Raise a Family,' and now, as a 21st Century Talent Region," said Secretary Milo. "As a 21st Century Talent Region, Hamilton County continues to collaborate with leaders in and around Carmel, Fishers, Noblesville and Westfield, and to develop the partnerships necessary to further grow the region."

In partnership with the Office of Career Connections and Talent, the Indiana Economic Development Corporation and with technical assistance from CivicLab, the 21st Century Talent Region initiative encourages local governments, businesses, non-profits, and economic and workforce development partners to create and implement a plan to increase educational attainment, raise household income and grow the population in a region. By taking a comprehensive, systems approach, participating regions will identify strategic priorities and projects aimed at helping their communities create a better quality of place, develop and skill up its workforce, and connect talented Hoosiers with businesses seeking to fill high-demand, high-wage jobs.

"The Hamilton County Board of Commissioners understands the importance of workforce development. Attracting and retaining qualified talent in our county continues to be a challenge with a competitive market," said Hamilton County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt. "This prompted the Commissioners to perform a strategic study to understand Hamilton County's specific workforce opportunities. This year-long effort of collaboration with all four Hamilton County cities – Carmel, Westfield, Noblesville and Fishers – as well as the county will help us in developing a creative workforce initiative to assist our employers but also spur continued economic development."

During the event, Secretary Milo presented Carol

Sergi, Director of Workforce Strategy for Hamilton County Economic Development Corporation and its regional partners with the official 21st Century Talent Region designation.

"Preparing our students for the jobs of the future and attracting and retaining qualified talent is an ongoing challenge when we have one of the lowest unemployment rates in the country at 2.7 percent," said Sergi. "This past year it has been an honor to work alongside key workforce partners in the county in a collaborative effort to discover our greatest challenges and bring solutions to Hamilton County's workforce for the future."

Spearheaded by Hamilton County Economic Development Corporation, the region identified key priorities through the 21st Century Talent Region initiative,

*I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. # Come to the Cicero Christmas parade

The REPORTER

Each year northern Hamilton County residents brave the cold and snow to welcome Santa on his sleigh and bring a gift to add to his sack of toys. They know that these presents go to children in the tri-town communities of Cicero, Arcadia and Atlanta who may not otherwise have much under their trees.

Attendees may bring unwrapped toys to the parade, where Santa's elves will collect them along the parade route or drop off toys at the Cicero Fire Department. These toys are given away at the annual King's Treasure Christmas Party, which takes place the following week, is spearheaded by the Cicero Fire Department, Cicero Kiwanis Club and the Jackson Township Fire Department.

The Grand Marshal of this year's parade is Town of Cicero Parks Superintendent Charlie Cambre. As Parks Superintendent, Cambre directs all activities within the Cicero Parks System and since 1991, he has worked diligently to improve the town's parks, park programs and park events for the community. Charlie will be retiring after more than 28 years of service to the town and the community.

Following the parade, children can get a little closer to Santa and have their picture taken with him at the Hamilton North Public Library-Cicero branch. He will greet children, pose for photos, listen to their Christmas wishes, and – if they are good of course – give them a goody bag to take home.

The Christmas parade begins at 1 p.m. at the Hamilton North Public Library, 209 W. Britton St., Cicero. This free event is sponsored by the Cicero Kiwanis Club.

The Holiday Market Place is also open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the library. It's a great place to find that special Christmas gift for friends and family.

SANTA

Though he was only on the train for one weekend this year, Nickle Plate Express Director Dagny Zupin said because he is paid through food pantry donations, they will definitely have him back for events next year.

"I do at least three or four events in Hamilton County each year," Santa said. "I have never, never, never charged. It is always for food pantry donations. For example, I am the Town of Cicero's Santa Claus and I own a concession stand I am setting up there with 100 percent going to the food pantry."

At 1 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 7, Cicero's annual Christmas parade begins its journey at the Hamilton North Public Library, 209 W. Britton St., Cicero. This free event is sponsored by the Cicero Kiwanis Club.

"In the parade, I will be on the fire truck with Mrs. Claus," Santa said. "Then we go to the Santa building and my kettle corn concession stand is right next door staffed with 100 percent volunteers."

During the month of December each year for the last decade, he has raised $5,000 to $7,000. He focuses on Hamilton and Tipton counties, but he does travel to other parts of Indiana to spread Christmas cheer.

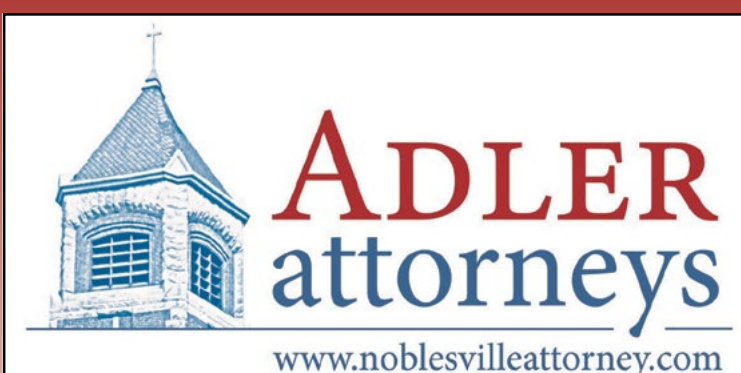

"I go through over 2,000 big candy canes and people donate those," Santa told The Reporter. "So, I see over 2,000 kids each year."

He has never been in the Cicero Christmas parade before, but says he hopes his kettle corn stand can generate over $1,000 to donate.

"I want all that money to stay in Hamilton County," Santa said. "Whatever town I'm in is where that money stays. That's my goal. Furnishing food for hungry people."

A glimpse of a Sandwich Generation Day

I had what could only be described as a Sandwich Generation Day the Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

I started out by going to the grocery store (there was no way I was heading there on my usual day that week, which is Friday). I got home, put away the groceries and some laundry, then checked emails and did my grant consulting work.

Next, I took my youngest son Jacob to the pediatrician's office for a booster vaccine. Even though he can drive, he's not 18 yet so I had to accompany him.

Then it was time to go back home, do more work, and wolf down some lunch so I could be ready to take my mother to a follow-up doctor's appointment.

Thanks to my phone, I worked some more while we were waiting at the doctor's office. Once I got back home after the appointment it was time to work on a grant application, even though most folks were leaving their jobs by then since it was the day before a holiday. One of my clients was having surgery soon and I wanted to be certain he had plenty of time to review a draft of the proposal. Thankfully dinner was cooking all day in the Crock-Pot, so that made meal preparation easier. After dinner, it was time to do my strengthening exercises and hoop dancing, since I knew just the thought of any kind of exercise was going to go out the window over the long holiday weekend. I'm at the age where if you don't do some sort of exercise once in a while, the pounds sneak up on you like a ninja.

As I looked back over my day at 8:00 that evening, I instantly felt wiped out. But I had to laugh. There couldn't be a better illustration of what we sandwich generation members often have to go through.

Granted, not every day is like this for me. But it's not an uncommon scenario, and there are times when things are even crazier than what I just described.

One way I make certain to stay healthy (and sane!) is to keep my Sundays as quiet as possible. In recent years I've called them my Sacred Sundays. While it's challenging to escape all of my responsibilities, I still strive to keep the day as free as possible so I can rest and recharge. And it's done wonders for me. I typically put up my feet and indulge in a cup of tea and a good book for at least a few hours.

I figure the Good Lord took one day off, so we certainly should. And it doesn't necessarily have to be a Sunday.

If you nodded your head in understanding as you read about my Sandwich Generation Day, I encourage you to pick your own sacred time each week to truly escape from it all. Your mind, body, heart and soul will thank you for it.

Nearly 50 youth will benefit from this year's Shop for Kids

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office annual Shop for Kids event (similar to "Shop with a Cop") is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 7.

This year, members of the Sheriff's Office will host nearly 50 less fortunate area youth, ranging in age from 2 to teenagers, on a holiday shopping trip to the Target store in Fishers. Each young person is paired with a deputy, officer, or employee as a caravan of squad cars escorts the shoppers along State Road 37 to the store.

Once there, each child receives $200 to spend on gifts for themselves and their families. Shoppers often purchase important essentials such as winter clothes, boots and school supplies, along with toys, games and other holiday surprises. The morning wraps up with a snack and time to get to know members of the Sheriff's Office.

Funds to support Hamilton County Shop for Kids are raised through donations and events throughout the year. Numerous individuals, businesses and organizations, along with the employees of the Sheriff's Office, pitch in to make each year a great success for area youth.

Over the past years, over 450 deserving young people from around the area have been assisted with more than $50,000 in clothes, necessities and other items provided to deserving children. A special thank you to Todd Green and the Shop for Kids Board of Directors for many hours throughout the year to make this possible.

Santa's hours at Federal Hill Commons Christmas Cottage begin Saturday

The REPORTER

Jolly Old Saint Nicholas will return to the Christmas Cottage at Federal Hill Commons on Saturday, Dec. 7. The Christmas Cottage is the city-run Santa House, which has been moved from the amphitheater stage to next to the Ice Plaza this year. Children are invited to visit Santa to tell him what they'd like for Christmas every weekend throughout December.

Santa also will make appearances during Noblesville Schools' Parent Teacher Organizations Nights at the Ice Plaza on Monday, Dec. 9 (Stony Creek Elementary) and Tuesday, Dec. 17 (Hinkle Creek Elementary).

"We are excited to have Santa return to Federal Hill Commons to visit with area children and enjoy the fun holiday atmosphere with ice skating nearby," said Noblesville Parks Director Brandon Bennett. "The Christmas Cottage offers families a unique private visit with Santa and, as always, Santa is free to visit and parents are welcome to bring a camera to capture memories."

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves. I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth. As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

John 17:13-21 (KJV)

Girls basketball

Trailblazers stay unbeaten with win over APA

By RICHIE HALL
CARMEL - The University girls basketball team has gotten off to an excellent start this season.

The Trailblazers are perfect so far with a 9-0 record and have risen to No. 3 in the Class 2A coaches poll. More numbers: University is beating its opponents by an average of 69-29, and its closest game was this past Tuesday, when the 'Blazers beat Bethesda Christian by 20 points.

University continued its flawless campaign Thursday at the U Center, when it beat Anderson Prep Academy 92-41 in its first Pioneer Conference North Division game of the season. The success of the Trailblazers has turned many heads, including coach Justin Blanding, who said he was actually surprised at the success, "because we got so many young kids."

But University also has four seniors - Lindsey Syrek, Elise Nachlis, Maddi Sears and Lilly Fair - and they are all making their own contributions to the Trailblazers' good start.

"So we're doing a good job there in the leadership category and it's really helping them," said Blanding.

The Jets also came into the game undefeated at 7-0, and were giving the 'Blazers trouble in the first quarter, staying within 8-6 midway through the period.

But University pulled away with a 9-0 run, giving them a 17-6 lead late in the quarter. Sears started the run with a 3-pointer, then Syrek scored on a putback. Jordan Patterson, one of three freshmen in the varsity lineup, added a layin, and Sears finished the run with a jump shot.

"We can score the ball," said Blanding. "Our biggest emphasis is defense and doing things the right way. The first couple minutes, we weren't doing that, so we got after them a little bit. And then once they started doing things the right way, then we started getting some stops and some steals and some things like that."

The Trailblazers led 21-11 after the first quarter was completed. University then stormed through the next two quarters, scoring 30 points in each one. Junior Sierra Hinds went on a 6-0 run all by herself, making back-to-back-to-back layins. Freshman Kelsey DuBois had two rebound baskets, with classmate Payton Seay getting her own putback.

By halftime, the 'Blazers led 51-22. University opened the third quarter with a 12-3 run, then ballooned its lead to 81-32 at the end of three. Syrek scored 14 points in that period alone.

"I think we're a really young team, so we're still putting the pieces together a little bit," said Syrek. "But I think it's coming along more and more every game."

Four players scored in double figures for the Trailblazers, led by Syrek's 26. Hinds added 18 points, with DuBois scoring 16 and Sears adding 11. Nine different UHS players scored at least two points.

Next year at this time, Syrek will be a Division I college basketball player, as she signed to play at the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) next fall. NJIT is located in Newark - not too far from New York City - and is a Division I school that plays in the Atlantic Sun Conference.

"It's a really good school," said Syrek. "I love the coaching staff and I love the school and I'm really excited to go out there next year."

The Highlanders are coached by first-year coach Mike Lane. Syrek said the coach's system "really fits my style of play, or I think my style of play fits into it very well. I think it'll be a good fit for me."

Swimming

Royals sweep Franklin Central

The Hamilton Southeastern swimming team swept Franklin Central Thursday in a dual meet at the Royals' aquatic center.

In the girls meet, Southeastern won 150-36. The Royals won all 12 events, and that included perfect 1-2-3 finishes in six events. Nine different athletes won the individual events: Amelia Vicory (200 freestyle), Kayleigh Witt (individual medley), Molly Pedersen (50 free), Sarah Ballard (diving), DaBin Jung (butterfly), Bri Saple (100 free), Ellie Pedersen (500 free), Makana Goss (backstroke) and Katelyn Kertin (100 breaststroke). The Royals won all three relays, with 1-2-3 finishes in the 200 and 400 free relays.

"Lots of enthusiasm from this group tonight - the entire team stayed engaged throughout the meet," said Southeastern coach Andy Pedersen. "Working off comments from the meet Tuesday evening, starts and turns showed improvement tonight, and this will need to continue. This group has a true growth mindset right now and that is an exciting situation for the coaching staff."

The Royals boys team won its meet 121-62. Southeastern finished first in eight events, including individual victories for Evan Sellers (IM), AJ Ricafort (diving), Logan Hess (butterfly), Keegan Streett (100 free) and Zack Bostock (breaststroke). The Royals won all three relays as well.

HSE's Davidson named to ISCA Hall of Fame

Hamilton Southeastern girls soccer coach Greg Davidson (left) was named to the Indiana Soccer Coaches Association Hall of Fame during this fall's ISCA banquet. Davidson became the 21st coach to enter the Hall of Fame.

Davidson has been the head coach for the Royals since 1999, where he has led teams to eight conference championships, five sectional titles, five regional titles, two final fours and one semi-state championship, which sent the Royals to a state runner-up finish in 2011.

Prior to coming to Southeastern, Davidson coached the Zionsville girls team from 1996 to 1998, winning three Rangeline Conference titles in three years. He started his career as an assistant coach for the Zionsville boys team from 1994 to 1996. Davidson has won 24 district, conference and county coach of the year awards, was the Indiana Coach of the Year in 1998, and coached the All-American game in 2018.

Davidson has been the ISCA's President since 2012 and also serves as the Indiana girls representative to the national organization. He is one of 10 coaches that represents boys and girls high school soccer on the National Advocacy Counsel for the United Soccer Coaches Association. Davidson has been on the girls high school poll committee for 20 years, has been an ISCA District representative for 13 years and an ISCA board member since 2004.
