Fishers Council delays vote on rezoning proposal

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The Fishers City Council was clearly split on a rezone of about five acres of land just east of State Road 37 near 141st Street Monday night, but the council, at the request of the petitioner, decided to delay action on the request.

The Woods of Britton Apartment complex was eyeing the five acres adjacent to the development for expansion, constructing more apartment buildings. The Woods of Britton currently contains 500 apartment units.

Councilor Todd Zimmerman first came out against the proposal, saying Fishers has only one chance to develop the State Road 37 corridor commercially. His fellow council members Cecilia Coble, Eric Moeller and Selina Stoller all voiced their opposition to the rezone request.

With four "no" votes on the record before the final vote (five votes would defeat the proposal), Attorney Steve Hardin, representing the owners of Woods of Britton, suggested his client would be willing to withdraw the proposed rezoning, as council members mull over the issue, delaying consideration.

The council then voted 9-0 to continue consideration of the rezoning.

Fishers woman receives AARP Indiana award for community service

By LARRY LANNAN

Tish Biggs, a resident of Fishers, has been named by AARP Indiana as the recipient of the 2019 Andrus Award for Community Service. This award is named after AARP's founder Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, and is AARP's most prestigious volunteer tribute.

"I feel humbled and honored to be in the company of those who previously won the Andrus Award," Biggs said. "Facilitating the success of others is my personal mission, and AARP always works to assist seniors to live more productive lives – therefore, a perfect match for my volunteer efforts."

Biggs has been a volunteer for the nonprofit organization for about five years, including work on local Fishers city planning and time working with legislators at the Statehouse.

"Tish has contributed amazing energy, positivity and communication skills to AARP Indiana since her first day with the team," said AARP Indiana State Director Sarah Waddle. "She is a champion for her community and for all Hoosiers through her volunteerism on our Legislative Team."

Biggs holds a PhD in Educational/Instructional Technology from Kent State University. She has worked for Time-Warner Cable, was a local councilwoman in Ohio and has spent time as an educator.

Carmel City Council honors Carter for 24 years of service

The City of Carmel recently honored and thanked Councilor Ron Carter for his 24 years of service to the city. Carter was the catalyst for the creation of the Carmel Farmers Market, a strong proponent of biking in Carmel, and he helped pave the way for the Monon Greenway and the city's vast system of trails and paths. He was a founding member of the Monon Greenway Committee and the Hamilton County Alternative Transportation Taskforce. In addition to his City Council service, Carter served on the Carmel Redevelopment Commission during its early years, creating world class venues such as the Palladium at The Center for the Performing Arts. His dedication, leadership and support helped transform Carmel into the walkable, bike-able vibrant city you see today. (Above) Carter is pictured here with the members of the Carmel City Council: (from left) Jeff Worrell, Tony Green, Bruce Kimball, Laura Campbell, Ron Carter, Kevin Woody Rider and Sue Finkam.

Is taking away the Indiana State Fairgrounds Speedway worth it?

Editor's Note: The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School's 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

As everyone knows, Indiana is the racing capital of the world. Indiana is home to many famous races and drivers of all kinds. According to defensive-driving.com, one of the most famous open-wheel asphalt races is the Indianapolis 500, held in the month of May at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

There are many tracks throughout the state, dirt and asphalt. Throughout the years, Silver Crown, sprint car, micro sprints and midjets have all gained much more fame.

In 1946, the very first Hoosier 100 took place at the State Fairgrounds. According to racingnews.com, in 2019 the state of Indiana came to a decision to take out the mile-long dirt oval at the State Fairgrounds and make it a limestone track for horse racing, meaning the Hoosier 100 has come to an end.

According to floracing.com, in 1946, the beginning of a new racing era entered Indiana. Dirt racing has been around for hundreds of years, and in 1946 the big Hoosier 100 was introduced. The Hoosier was the big USAC race that led right up to the Indy 500. Many known racers, such as A. J. Foyt, Bryan Clauson and Mario Andretti, would run both the Hoosier 100 and the Indy 500. All the past Hoosier 100 drivers can no longer look forward to the annual race held at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. This is due to Indiana believing horse racing is more important than holding the biggest USAC race, the Hoosier 100. Indiana has always been known for its amazing auto racing, but not horse racing.

I was around six when I first learned about the amazing world of motorsports in Indiana. I am now 15 and I still have never heard of a major horse race in Indiana. Indianapolis Motor Speedway, also known as IMS, does have a dirt track, but it is only a quarter-mile, not a full mile. Along with the major size difference, the IMS track does not run very much. There is only one other mile-long dirt oval in Indiana, but it is used for kart racing. There are many people who don't want the State Fairgrounds Speedway and the Hoosier 100 to be taken away. I can proudly say I am not a supporter of the decision Indiana has made.

Indianapolis is still the racing capital of the world and home to some of the best drivers, but Indiana will no longer be home to the famous Hoosier 100. One can only hope Indiana doesn't take away any more of the amazing tracks we have. Hopefully, the month of May will still be as great as it is.

I understand that IMS is still standing and motor racing is still a huge part of Indiana, but the real question is for how much longer. The Hoosier 100 is the dirt race equivalent to the asphalt Indy 500. Does that mean years from now IMS will also become a limestone track for horse racing?

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

When Jocelyn Vare was a candidate for an at-large Fishers City Council seat, she emphasized communicating with the public as one of her issues. On Monday afternoon, Councilor-elect Vare released her plans on how constituents will be able to communicate with her.

“My campaign was rooted in the belief that all residents should be informed and their voices should be heard,” said Vare in a news release. “Until now, the City Council and its activities have been, to a great degree, an unknown for Fishers residents. Carmel Police offers tips to avoid being a victim of package theft

The REPORTER
It's estimated that 56 percent of shoppers will purchase items online this holiday season. That means those purchases will be shipped in packages, delivered to unmonitored porches. Those packages are big targets for thieves.

Here are some tips to keep your packages safe:

- Ship your packages to a secure place. Have your packages shipped to the nearest retail store, your work, or one of many nearby self-service lockers or holding locations. You will know your package is safe until you are able to pick it up.

- Add special delivery instructions, such as leaving the package with a neighbor who will be home or leaving the package out of view on a back porch. Keeping a package out of sight will minimize its visibility to thieves.
- Use shipping apps that will send notifications when packages will be delivered.

These apps allow customers to put deliveries on hold, reschedule deliveries, or re-route deliveries even after the package is in transit.

- Be a good neighbor. Watch for things that are out of the ordinary. Report suspicious people or vehicles to law enforcement immediately.

Buying online is an easy way to shop for gifts. It can also be a safe way to shop. Just take a few easy steps to avoid being a victim of package theft.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him. And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe, And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands. Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him. Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man! When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him. The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God. When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid; And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer. Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Caesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar: When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha. And it was the preparation of the passover; and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

Donald Scott Havens

July 29, 1945 – December 13, 2019

Donald Scott Havens, 74, passed away on December 13, 2019, from complications of Crohn's disease. He passed peacefully surrounded by his loving family at the Richard L. Roudebush VA Medical Center in Indianapolis.

Don was born July 29, 1945, in Elwood, to Alfred and Dorothy (Traylor) Havens. He grew up in Tipton and his leadership skills started early in life, serving as Tipton High School's class President all four years. He graduated from Tipton High School in 1963 and furthered his education at Indiana University in Bloomington. In 1965, Don became a reporter and editor for the Kokomo Morning Times, a position he held until 1967. A Vietnam Veteran, he was called into service for the United States Army in 1967. He was honorably discharged in 1969. His training and experiences in the military helped prepare him for the next four decades of leadership roles in the public and private sectors.

Don returned to Tipton and was a manager with Anixter Brothers, a wire manufacturing company in Tipton. In 1975, Don started Havens Realty, where he was at the helm for over 45 years, continuing to grow the business and further strengthen the local community. He was a founding member of the Tipton Economic Development Corporation, a group created to help strengthen and develop the Tipton business community.

Don spent a total of 20 years in elected office, never losing an election. He served 12 years on the Tipton Utility Service Board. His service record over 12 years as a member of the Tipton City Council solidified his reputation as an outstanding civic leader.

Later in his career, Don was elected to two consecutive four-year terms as Mayor of Tipton, first in 2011 and again in 2015. His experience and leadership as mayor helped guide the continued success of Tipton's economy. For example, working together with fellow city and state leaders, Mayor Don attracted Chrysler FCA to bring operations to Tipton County, a massive investment in the county. Also, Mayor Don was instrumental in the creation of the Tipton Main Street Association, a volunteer organization working to beautify and build a better city. Recent projects have focused on the beautification of the downtown area, with landscaping and flower planting transforming downtown Tipton into a vibrant and exciting center for public gatherings. The Alley project, for example, revamped an empty downtown alley into an engaging gathering place for the residents and visitors to come and enjoy the heart of the city. Additionally, a new irrigation system at the municipal golf course, a splash pad and major renovations to the pubic pool have enhanced the city assets and improved Tipton's "Quality of Place" for the community.

For over four decades, Don consistently served Tipton's best interests, as a member of the Utility Service Board, the City Council, and as Mayor. His career record in government proved him to be an honest, ethical and transformative public servant who positively impacted the citizens of Tipton.

Don loved his family, friends, community and country. Don's pastime pleasures included golf, six-handed hearts, fishing on the French River, reading books, the daily WSJ, watching the news and kibitzing. Don was known for his eloquent writing and speaking abilities, able to clearly and persuasively express himself while remaining polite and respectful.

Don is survived by his wife, Tami Brown; children, Alison Havens and Josh (Marisa) Havens; stepsons, Robert (Tiare) Brown and Patrick Brown; grandchildren, Preston, Levi and Maxwell Allen and Jack Brown, with two more grandchildren expected in February 2020.

Don has two older sisters who survive, Marilyn (Jim) Shaver and Nancy (Richard) Covely; and a niece and three nephews. Don is also survived by his first wife, Lisa Havens (Will Case).

The family would like to thank the staff at the Richard L. Roudebush VA Medical Center for their excellent care during Don's final days.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, December 21, at West Street Christian Church, 132 N. West St., Tipton, with Rev. Linda McKiernan-Allen officiating. Burial will be at Fairview Cemetery in Tipton.

Visitation will be held from 2 to 8 p.m. on Friday, December 20, at West Street with an Elk's memorial service at 8 p.m., and also from 10 to 11 a.m. on Saturday prior to the funeral. Young-Nichols Funeral Home is assisting the Havens family with arrangements.

Herbert Addison Miller

November 23, 1934 – December 6, 2019

"Do you have five minutes?" If you had the good fortune of crossing paths with Herbert Addison Miller, undoubtedly, you would have fallen for this trick at least once. On December 6, surrounded by his family, we said goodbye to our beloved Herb. Now, he can continue his tradition of turning five-minute errands in to daylong adventures with the loved ones that passed before him.

The mold was officially broken November 23, 1934 in West Lafayette. Herb attended West Lafayette High School where he lettered in athletics, was active in Student Council and the arts, and, of course, acted as an official social chairman his senior year. While pursuing a business degree at Indiana University, Herb joined the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity where many of his life-long friendships began. Upon graduating in 1956, Herb continued his pursuit of fun in the most unlikely of places – the U.S. Army. He proudly served our country in Virginia Beach, Va., with the rank of Second Lieutenant, trying once to sneak off base only to be caught after he was struck by lightning! After the Army, Herb moved to Indianapolis to work for Indiana Bell before opening Herb Miller Realty and owning liquor stores throughout the city. In 1971, Herb bought a property in Carmel and co-founded the Carmel Rotary Club, an organization he passionately supported throughout his life.

A legendary host at his treasured Carmel property, Herb always kept the pool open throughout the summer and the fireplace roaring during the Indiana winters. The Miller Ranch was the epicenter of his social circle and a frequent gathering spot for parties, fundraisers and weddings. He and his wife Sue loved to entertain and their homes were generously open to friends and family 365 days a year. For 40 years, they hosted an annual pig roast for their cherished group of friends affectionately named, "The Piggers." Herb and Sue split their time between Carmel and Fort Walton, Fla., where they continued their tradition of sharing their home with all whom they knew.

Herb lived every day to the fullest, never took anything for granted, and was always thinking of others. As a family we will miss him forever, but hope to carry on his legacy and live by his example.

Herb is survived by his wife, Sue; children, Joan Miller (Tim), Tom Miller (Jamie), Kathy Laigaard (Per) and John Heimann; brother, Bill Miller; sister, Marilyn Korn (Bill); grandchildren, Jennifer Triplett (Mike), Amy Powlen (Brad), Sally Schellinger (Nick), Tim Miller, Jr., Chris Laigaard and Michael Laigaard; eight great-grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

A celebration of life will be held at 1 p.m. on Saturday, December 21, 2019 at Woodland Country Club. Please wear red in remembrance of Herb. In lieu of flowers, the family asks for donations to the Donald Swails Educational Fund for Children of Firemen.

Pacers snap Lakers' road win streak

The Pacers earned their fourth straight win the hard way, holding off the NBA's best team in dramatic fashion. Indiana (19-9) snapped a 14-game road win streak for LeBron James and the Lakers (24-4), handing Los Angeles a 105-102 defeat on Tuesday night at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Malcolm Brogdon's jumper with 2:20 remaining tied the game at 100. Dwight Howard then was whistled for a foul jostling for a rebound on the other end, sending Myles Turner to the line. The Pacers' fifth-year center hit both foul shots to put the Pacers in front, but on the other end, he fouled James on a dunk attempt and James hit both free throws to tie the game once again.

Both teams traded misses before Brogdon came through. When the 6-11 Howard switched onto him, Brogdon blew by him for the go-ahead reverse layup with 36.4 seconds remaining.

After a timeout, James missed a step-back 3-pointer over Turner, but Rajon Rondo appeared to bat the ensuing rebound off of Aaron Holiday to retain possession for the Lakers. But after a subsequent replay review, the referees ruled that Rondo's left foot touched down out of bounds while he was touching the ball, giving the Pacers the ball with 11.7 seconds to play.

The Lakers fouled Sabonis with 10.7 seconds left. The Lithuanian big man hit the first foul shot, but missed the second. Out of timeouts, the Lakers pushed the ball up the floor but it never touched the four-time MVP James' hands, as Rondo hoisted and missed a deep three as the buzzer sounded.

While the Lakers were without All-NBA forward Anthony Davis, who missed Tuesday's contest with a mild right ankle sprain, it was an impressive victory nonetheless for Indiana.

"I think this is (our) signature win to this point, as far as opponents we've played," Turner said. "I think that we don't have anything to prove to anybody but ourselves. We know that we're a good team with potential to be a great team."

Sabonis led the Blue & Gold with 26 points on 10-of-15 shooting and also tallied 10 rebounds and four assists. Turner added 16 points, seven boards, and two blocks.

The Pacers got off to a cold start on Tuesday, converting just three of their first 10 shots as the Lakers jumped out to an early 14-6 lead. The Pacers eventually got their offense on track, with Sabonis tallying seven points and reserves Justin Holiday and T.J. McConnell combining for eight in the opening frame.

But the Blue & Gold couldn't keep James and the Lakers out of the paint. James attacked the basket constantly in the opening quarter, either scoring at the rim or drawing the defense's attention enough to create an easy lob to a teammate. All 12 of Los Angeles' field goals in the first quarter came within two feet of the basket as the visitors took a 28-24 lead into the second quarter.

"LeBron was turning the corner and getting downhill and he's about as good as they get when he's going downhill and making that read," Pacers coach Nate McMillan said after the game.

Sabonis provided another spark in the second quarter, scoring seven straight points for Indiana, including a 3-pointer and capped by a thunderous, one-handed dunk that reduced the Lakers' lead to one with 6:30 remaining in the opening half.

But Indiana was unable to get over the hump, as the Lakers continued to make timely shots throughout the quarter to thwart every threat of a Pacers run.

Los Angeles led by two entering the final minute, when James drove and kicked to Avery Bradley for an open 3-pointer. Turner answered with a three of his own on the other end and then forced a James miss at the rim on the other end. Justin Holiday had two open looks at threes before the buzzer to put the Pacers in front, but missed them both, as the Blue & Gold headed to halftime trailing, 52-50.

The Pacers finally surged ahead at the start of the third quarter. Sabonis scored six points while T.J. Warren and Jeremy Lamb — both of whom went scoreless in the first half — added four points apiece as Indiana opened the second half with a 17-6 run to take its first substantial lead of the night.

With James on the bench, the Lakers made a run at the end of the third quarter, reeling off seven unanswered points to tie the game at 76. Aaron Holiday answered, hitting a runner just before the quarter buzzer to give the Pacers a two-point advantage heading into the fourth.

The hosts remained in front for several minutes in the final frame, but the Lakers surged ahead with a 9-0 run midway through the frame, taking the lead on JaVale McGee's dunk at 6:16 and extending it to four points after Alex Caruso's 3-pointer with 5:48 to play.

Four straight points from Warren tied the game at 95, but L.A. moved back in front when James drove and dished to Danny Green in the left corner for the go-ahead three with four minutes to play.

Indiana rallied once again, tying the game at 100 on Brogdon's jumper with 2:20 remaining.

"We were just poised tonight," Brogdon said. "Continued to make plays, continued to get stops, continued to not let them get second-chance points."

Brogdon finished with 14 points, five rebounds, and six assists. Warren (12 points), Aaron Holiday (11 points and four assists), and T.J. McConnell (10 points, four assists, and three steals) joined him in double figures.

James led the Lakers with 20 points, nine rebounds, and nine assists. Howard added 20 points off the bench, going a perfect 10-for-10 from the field.

The Pacers will return to action on Friday, when they host the Sacramento Kings at 7 p.m.
